NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. F. F. Pearce is in Port Hope on business.

Miss Jennie Stevenson has returned after a few months in Wallaceburg.

Rev. J. A. McAmes is attending Bay of Quinte Conference at Belleville this week.

Mr. John Chandler purchased from Mrs. A. Tucker, the property on King street, lately occupied by Mr. Thos. Elliott.

The Property Committee of the Board of the Board of Education have had the maple trees around the school premises sprayed.

The band will give an open-air concert on Friday evening.

Communion services were held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday last.

Saturday the Y.M.C.A. football team of Peterborough, played the Norwood High School team a friendly match. Both teams were in excellent condition and the game was fast and exciting. Peterborough won by a score of 4 to 2.

Early Monday morning lightning struck a large tree in front of Mr. Geo. Duffield's brick residence and then entered the house, and succeeded in doing considerable damage. The occupants escaped with only a severe frightening.

It is rumoured that a wedding will take place in the near future.

Mr. Spaulsberry, who has been managing Mr. R. Stewart's drug store, is about to leave town, having accepted a position in Virginia.

Mr. John Conroy was in Peterborough on Friday.

The trustees of the cemetery have decided to erect a tank and windmill for immigration purposes. It is suggested that the town join with them and secure a windmill of sufficient power to be of use as fire protection.

Geo. J. Sherry was in Peterborough on Monday.

The trustees of the cemetery find that the prices at which lots are sold is not sufficient to keep the cemetery in proper condition, and they have decided to considerably increase the price of lots after the first of August.

Norwood had another very narrow escape last Friday night when fire was discovered in Mr. P. W. Reynolds office, above M. E. Knox's jewellery store about nine o'clock, but luckily it was seen before it got much headway and was promptly extinguished or else a large business portion of Norwood would have certainly been wiped out of existence. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The town football team are practising for a game in Peterborough in the near future.

Mr. J. Turner of Peterborough conducted services in Christ church on Sunday.

We are pleased to learn of the success of Mr. James W. White, one of Norwood's most popular young men, in passing the examination for the degree of Batchelor of Pharmacy.

Mr. George C. Pumming, night operator at the depot, has been appointed day operator at Manvers.

The building of Miss W. P. Williams' new store is progressing rapidly. We learn that Mr. J. S. Spence will occupy it in the near future.

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Foresters are holding their annual excursion to-morrow, Friday. A pleasant time is anticipated in a sail up Rice Lake and the Otonaabee to Peterborough.

We regret very much to announce a sad accident to W. McAuley, having his leg broken, which occurred on the football field during the game between Campbellford's eleven and our home team. Campbellford sent up a strong team and our boys were in fine shape. The game started well with Keene kicking against the hill and the wind. Some neat combination work was indulged in for a short time when Wallace secured the ball at half back, and by a long swift shot scored for Keene. Campbellford tried hard to even up, and after about 12 minutes play found McAuley out on the field and scored.

Then play began in earnest. Keene put shot after shot on Campbellford's goal, which was well defended, till finally Weir passed it through. Still warmer grew the game, while Keene pressed still harder. Jim Quinn and Albert Walsh on the left wing did some pretty combination work and good shooting. But Lancaster at centre half demoralized the forward line by confusing the centre. Will Anderson always placed the ball in the right place for Weir. The ball was held around Campbellford's goal for some time, till finally their back sent it out. It was just then that Will McAuley made a long rush to receive it, meeting the forward man about centre left field. Will made a swing kick with his right foot. The Campbellford man caught his left leg with a strong kick while Will's right foot was in the air. The breaking was heard quite distinctly all over the field. Play was stopped, and Dr. Shaw, who was on the field, directed Will to be carried home, where the leg was set. Both bones were broken about three inches above the ankle. Anything so sad has not happened in our village for many years, as Will is a favourite of favourite with all who know him. Characteristic of him his greatest regret was, not that his leg was broken, but that he could not finish the game. At present writing he is improving as well as can be expected. The secretary of the Campbellford club, Mr. Hubble, has expressed in a very kind letter, the condolence of their club. The Keene boys were never in better shape—the game was all theirs, but the ardour of football will be greatly checked by this unfortunate accident. It is only justice to the Campbellford club to say that a more gentlemanly set of fellows never appeared on our village green.

Miss Maggie and Mr. Jos. Campbell spent Saturday and Sunday at Hillfield, Norwood, the guests of Miss Powell.

Miss Lena Cummings is visiting her sister, Mrs. Will Reid.

Mrs. Alex. Anderson is spending a few weeks in Norwood.

Mr. D. Eason was unable to join the survey party on Monday as he is an invalid with tonsolitis.

Mr. Ed. Porter left on Monday for a trip east. The boys will greatly miss him. His steady strong playing on Saturday added materially to the strength of the steam.

ACCIDENT IN OTONABEE.

A few days ago Mr. James Pallin, the postmaster and blacksmith at Jermyn, had the misfortune to have his right leg broken just above the knee. Mr. Pallin was shoeing a colt owned by Mr. James Laing, M. P., when the colt kicked and broke the limb.

Dr. Harrison of Keene was promptly summoned, and under his care the patient is doing as well as could be expected. During his absence from the blacksmith shop, Mr. Pallin has secured the services of a reliable and efficient man from Norwood, and all work will be promptly attended to.

THE LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The local market has been somewhat quiet during the past week and prices are considerably off.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy on Monday shipped four carloads of export cattle to Montreal for England.

The receipts of fat cattle have been heavy and demand very good. There has been a big drop in stockers.

Hogs continue about the same, there being a very good demand, but supply rather scarce. Select local hogs are quoted at 4 3-4.

Sheep are also a little off, being quoted at 2 3-4.

Messrs. Wm. McNearn and Dave Evans shipped a carload of stockers to Toronto on Wednesday which they purchased from Thomas Choate of Warsaw.

GRAND TRUNK STRIKE.

C.P.R. I know there are others who are feeling the same way. All these things go to show that the public think there is something wrong with the line and that there is more or less risk.

It is time, I think, that the Government should interfere. I may say that only last Saturday I was travelling from Hamilton to Toronto on a crowded train when some passengers were on the platform, and a signal was made to stop the train by people at a way station, which had been left there by some mistake. The signal was taken to mean, by the engineer and the conductor, that a rail had been removed and that an accident was likely to happen, and a very worthy young man of the city of Toronto was so frightened at what was taking place between the officers of the train that he jumped and broke his leg in two places. These are only a few instances of the uneasy feeling that pertains in the country over this strike, and I say it is high time that the Government should interfere and that Parliament should interfere, as it is empowered to do, and bring this strike to an end, and restore public confidence in the G.T.R. I move that the House do now adjourn.

The Prime Minister—I am somewhat sorry that my hon. friend did not give me any intimation that he would bring up this question to-day.

Mr. Maclean—I only saw the paper just now.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The Prime Minister—I do not make any reproach at all to my hon. friend, but I may say that if he had given me any intimation that he was going to bring up this question to-day and asked me to make a statement, I would have been able to bring with me the correspondence which I have upon the subject and of which I would have been glad to give communication to the House. But in the absence of this correspondence I will state to the House from memory what took place, not only after, but before the motion of my hon. friend from Toronto West (Mr. Clarke), who brought up the question the other day. Last week, having read of the strike which has taken place, I placed myself in communication with Mr. Wainwright, the deputy superintendent of the G.T.R., and asked him to put himself in communication with me with regard to the strike that was then taking place. I saw him on Wednesday night and Thursday night as well.

On the following day I was waited upon by a delegation from the Trackmen's Association, and they placed in my hands the terms to which they thought they were entitled from the G.T.R. authorities. Of course I promised them that I would exert my best endeavors to promote their views with the Grand Trunk Railway Company. I intended to see Mr. Wainwright on that day also, but could not do so. But on the evening of that day, which was Friday, I learned that the same committee had placed themselves in communication with some gentlemen belonging to this House, and I thereupon wired to Mr. Wainwright and asked him if this was true, supposing that if it were true, my services would be no longer required. I received an answer from Mr. Wainwright that I was misinformed in some particulars. At the same time [illegible] information that several members of this House had gone to Montreal to interview the Grand Trunk Railway. Therefore under those circumstances, I sent a wire by mail all the statement which was left in my hands by the committee of trackmen. I sent it to Mr. Wainwright with the prayer that he would place it in the hands of Mr. Hays, and I gave what consideration I could as to the prayer [illegible] meeting at the same [illegible] information turned out [illegible] if the matter was not settled, I would be happy to resume—I would deem it my duty to resume the correspondence with the parties concerned. This is the position which, therefore, I took in reference to this matter, and it is all the information I have. It would have been more satisfactory to me if I could at this moment place on the table of the House the whole correspondence and read it so that the House could follow from day to day what took place.

I have only this word to say, as I have only repeated again what I stated on former occasions, that my sympathy personally was strongly with the men who are seeking to better their circumstances from the G.T.R. I have nobody to blame in this matter, I do not want to make any reflections against anybody, but, if at any moment the trackmen consider that I can be of any assistance to them, if there is any good purpose that I can further, and the trackmen apply to me to have the influence of the Government in their favor so that this unfortunate strike may be brought to an end, I shall deem it my duty to exercise this influence so that at the earliest possible moment this unfortunate condition of things may cease.

Mr. George E. Casey (West Elgin) thought that the time had come for Government interference.

Mr. Blair's Statement.

The Minister of Railways and Canals, Mr. Blair, detailed the representations of danger made to him, and the means taken to avert the same. He employed several engineers and arranged that they should start out on Monday morning. They had actually, he believed, left home for the purpose of going over those points on the line to which they had been detailed, when notice came to him on Monday morning, all the public prints contained a notice, that the difficulty was over and the men returned to work, and he therefore recalled the engineers. He had not sent them out since. He had not any information which led him to believe that there was any great urgency in the matter, because as practical men we know that a railway that has been maintained, that is, cared for, and is built up in solidity and strength in every particular as the G.T.R., does not become dismantled and does not fall into a dangerous condition very speedily.

Mr. Casey—Spikes and rails might get loose any time.

The Minister of Railways and Canals—The spikes and rails might get loose, it is true, but the manager of the G.T.R. assured me most positively that he had a sufficient number of men going over every section of the line to see that anything that might occur, accidental or otherwise, was cared for and that there was every assurance given to the public. The House might rest convinced that he would not neglect his duty.

Mr. William B. Ives (Sherbrooke) said the whole matter was in the hands of the Government. The G.T.R., like any other railway in Canada, could, under the act, be controlled by the Department of Railways and Canals. If the track did run down, if accidents did occur and lives were lost, the Government would have to answer to the country for what they did or failed to do in the matter. It seemed to him that when the men were ready to come back to work, and thought the strike was settled and had been disappointed, they now felt, whether rightly or wrongly, that they had been taken in by Mr. Hays, and the head officers of the G.T.R. That disappointment and the feeling which naturally resulted from it rendered the situation more dangerous than it had been at any previous stage.

Mr. A. McNeill said he disapproved of what Mr. Blair had said. It was that the company was as much interested as anyone else in the country with reference to this matter. The principle thus laid down by the Minister was absolutely unsound.

Mr. Powell's Statement.

Mr. H. A. Powell (Westmoreland), after telling how he came to be interested in the matter with Mr. Taylor, said that in accordance with the suggestions of the trackmen's executive, they went over to see Mr. Hays. Continuing, he said: "I shall say very little concerning the interview with Mr. Hays and nothing more than the proposition I am going to state. Mr. Hays took this ground firmly and distinctly. He would not treat with the men so long has they were strikers and would not make any promise whatever to them until they had returned to their employment, except this: He would be willing to meet Mr. Taylor and myself or any other two members of Parliament immediately after their return, whatever place and what time an appointment was made for, and he made the rather peculiar statement that if it was necessary in order to keep an appointment he would walk either to Gananoque or to Ottawa. He would not vary from that or promise anything further than that. We returned and saw the men. After some conversation with the trackmen, I gave expression to my opinion, that probably if they had relied upon Mr. Hays, the best thing to do under the circumstances was to accept his proposition. But I told them that before accepting that they should communicate by telegram with the subordinate lodges and get their assent before they accepted Mr. Hays' proposition." The men accepted Mr. Hays' proposition, and that gentleman was so notified by Mr. Taylor. To that message Mr. Hays made no reply whatever that it was not in accordance with the terms of any agreement. Continuing, he said: "I might say there is no possibility of there being any error on my part as to the agreement being to take back all the men who had gone on strike."

Mr. Powell then read the telegrams and letters which passed between himself, the trackmen, Mr. Hays and Mr. Taylor, and the tenor of them all is that it was agreed that the men were to go back, and after they had ceased to be strikers their differences would be adjusted by the company, with this exception that Mr. Hays' letter to Mr. Powell pointed out that under an order issued all the men who had not gone back within 24 hours were considered by the company as having voluntarily left the company's service, and that the company reserved to itself the right to deal with them as they saw fit. As they had employed a number of others to take their places they could not take back all of them pending a settlement.

In answer to questions by Mr. Ingram, Mr. Powell said: "So far this was the conclusion that the men were to go back. There was no qualification in any way. The men were to go back, and Mr. Hays made no promise whatever, except that if they were to go he then would immediately treat with Mr. Taylor or myself or any other members of Parliament in respect to the grievance that the men had. He advised us, and we so advised the men. I may say that since then these gentlemen applied to me and asked me what it meant. Mr. Lowe came to Ottawa, and I told him plainly that there was no question about an agreement and had not the slightest idea that they would accept Mr. Hays' proposition without notifying the subordinate lodges."

Taylor Backs Powell.

Mr. Taylor referred to his meeting with Mr. Wainwright, and related the subsequent proceedings of Mr. Powell and himself very much in the same manner as had been already done by Mr. Powell. He also gave a number of instances in which men who claimed they had not interfered had been refused by the G.T.R. He also said that he mentioned in the discussion with Mr. Hays at Montreal that every credit was due to the striking trackmen, who were two weeks on strike, and yet not an accident of any kind had happened and nothing was interfered with. There was some little trouble at Kingston, but it was not caused by the trackmen, and he was told by one of the conductors that the trackmen themselves interfered to prevent that trouble.

The debate was continued by Mr. J. Ross Robertson, Mr. Davin, who said it was clear from Mr. Hays' communication there was something more behind it than he was willing or able to admit, and Messrs. E. F. Clarke, McMullen, Bell (P.E.I.), Hughes, Reed, Kendry, Ingram and McHugh until 10.30, when the motion to adjourn was withdrawn.

Obstruction Rampant.

The House then went into committee on the G.T.R. agreement, and the obstructive discussion of Tuesday night was resumed just about where it was left off, and was continued far into the morning.

At 1 a.m. the second clause in the agreement was adopted, after about two hours' discussion. At that time Ministers of the Crown and members of the Opposition were downstairs eating cold meat, pickles and fresh bread with grim determination and utter disregard of possible consequences. The prospects for an all-night session were bright.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at James Lynch's drug store as their giving away to their many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size 50c and $1 Every bottle warranted.

Local Aspect of the Strike.

The Grand Trunk Railway trackmen's strike is still on, and all the local men are out. Notices tacked up on posts around town ask the friends of the trackmen to not go near the Grand Trunk Railway. The reasons for asking the friends of the strikers to not go near the road are not given.

Frogs Galore!

Mr. R. A. Dutton made a shipment of 450 pounds of dressed frogs to New York to-day. This is the second shipment this week—400 pounds having gone forward on Tuesday to the same market. The samples are unusually fine, and are from the frog pens around Chemong.

HIS HAND CRUSHED.

Matthew Clancy Meets With an Accident Yesterday.

Mat Clancy, son of Mr. John Clancy of town, and an employee of the Canadian General Electric Company met with an accident yesterday afternoon, which might have been a great deal more serious than it was.

Clancy, who is employed in the Carbon department, by some unaccountable means got his hand caught in some machinery, getting it severely brushed. Dr. McCullough was sent for and attended to the young man's injuries, and he is now doing nicely.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

There are only six more practices of the Seniors before their game with Markham here on the 23rd. The Peterboroughs will have the fastest team on the field that has represented the Town in many a year.

The certificates are now in the hands of the Secretary for signature and a fee of fifty cents is due from each player for C.L.A. membership.

The Seniors have adopted a new uniform and will this season disport themselves in royal blue and white.

A PRESENTAION.

Mr. A. L. Glover Remembered by his Bible Class on the Eve of his Departure From Town.

Last night Mr. A. L. Grover was pleasantly surprised, while spending his last evening in town at the residence of Rev. O. C. Elliott, when the members of his Bible class in the Park street Baptist church, entered the parlour and Miss Bertha Mowry read the following address:

Peterborough, June 7th, 1899.
Dear Mr. Grover,—It was with deep feelings of sorrow, that we, the members of your Sunday school class, learned of your intended removal from our midst, and the severance of the pleasant relation you have sustained to us as teacher.

We feel that we cannot allow you to go away, without expressing to you our hearty appreciation of your earnest and faithful efforts to lead us into the "green pastures" of God's word, and also to bring us under the guidance and watch-care, of the good Shepherd, Jesus Christ.

We are conscious that, through our thoughtlessness, the work may have many times, seemed without effect, yet we assure you that we have been greatly profited and blessed through your patient, earnest teaching from time to time.

We wish you every success and blessing in your new home, and new work, and we shall earnestly pray, that God will make you as great a blessing to others as you have been to us.

Please accept the accompanying gift as a slight token of our regard for you and we trust it will serve as a reminder of the many pleasant hours spent with your class in the Park street Baptist Sunday School of Peterborough, Ontario.

Miss Jennie Hamilton then presented Mr. Grover with a handsome gold watch-chain and locket.

Mr. Grover appropriately acknowledged the gift.

PERSONAL.

W. J. McDonald of Cobourg, is in town to-day.

Mrs. W. G. Sadine, and Miss Whiteside of Youngstown, Ohio, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Terry, Water street.

Mr. F. Walden, organist of George street Methodist church, was called to Toronto this morning, but will be home on the C.P.R. local to-night in time for choir practice.

The many friends of Mrs. John Lockhart, of Harvey street, who has been seriously ill for some four or five months past, will regret to hear of her continued low condition.

Councillors Neill, Langford and Denne are in Guelph to-day, where they expect to pick up an idea or two in regard to the construction of catch basins.

Messrs. R. B. Caldwell and W. Crooks, Inspectors of the Ontario Bank, are making their periodical visit to the local branch of that institution.

The names of Messrs. J. H. Beer and E. G. Porter, Collegiate Institute graduates, appear in the Globe of Tuesday, as having successfully passed their second year examinations in arts at 'Varsity. Both also took honours in philosophy.

Mrs. C. B. McAllister returned home last evening from Renfrew, where she has been visiting her parents, prior to their departure for Europe. Miss Louise Barnett accompanied Mrs. McAllister back to Peterborough. Both will be "at home" to-morrow afternoon and also on the Friday following.

Miss Scott, who resides at the corner of Rubidge and Hunter streets, has been troubled for years with small boys stealing her fruit, etc. The nuisance has recommenced this summer already in the form of the destruction of flowers, etc. The Chief desires to warn the guilty ones that they will be strictly dealt with if caught and if necessary a man will be placed on guard to watch the place.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Additional local news on second and third pages.

—Last night's storm did further damage throughout the town.

—The trees on Water street, opposite the Ontario Bank, are being trimmed.

Mr. Jos. Cahill is in town for a few days, combining pleasure with business.

—Miss Armstrong, head milliner with Robt. Fair & Co., is in Toronto to-day, making further selections in summer millinery.

—The Childrens' Aid Society has for adoption a bright boy 3 months old. The society is badly in need of Children's clothing.

—Christina Doin, who was brought up before County Magistrate Edmison on a charge of insanity, was again remanded to-day until Tuesday next.

—The Peterborough Bookstore will be closed at 6.30 o'clock each evening during the months of June, July and August and nothing can be got at the store after that hour. Customers should bear this fact in mind.

—Fred McCormick, the George st. photographer, who advertises two pictures for ten cents, was fined two dollars and costs recently for taking pictures on Sundays.

—The excursion to Guelph to-day under the auspices of the East Durham and West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, was well patronized. A special train left the G.T.R. station this morning with about 125 from Peterborough alone on board and about as many more left per C.P.R.

—At the National hotel on Friday night, the result of the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries fight will be received by special wire and reported by rounds. Between the reading of each round the two negro minstrels, who have been in town for the last few days, will render choice music.

DRUGGISTS' EARLY CLOSING.

WILL GET A MEDAL.

Eddie Wall Will be Presented With a Medal on July 1st.

Little Eddie Wall, the ten year old son of Mr. Cornelius Wall, of Ashburnham, who so gallantly plunged into the foaming waters of the Otonabee, in attempting to rescue his brother from drowning, is going to have his services rewarded, but not by the Royal Canadian Humane Society.

It will be remembered that some time ago Mr. J. H. Burnham wrote to the chief officers of the Humane Society reciting the facts of the case and asking that a suitable medal be presented to Eddie for his brave act in attempting to save the life of his younger brother, Joseph. The reply that was received from the Royal Humane Society, was to the effect that it would not be proper to present a medal to Eddie Wall for his attempt to save his brother's life as it was only a brotherly act and one which would devolve upon anyone.

It is pleasing to know, however, that if Eddie Wall's heroism is not appreciated by outside persons, that it is by local people, and that before long Eddie will be the possessor of a very artistic medal, suitably engraved, and not only presented by a citizen of Peterborough, but manufactured by a Peterborough man as well.

Mr. Fred Cook, Peterborough's well known painter, who is a neighbour of Eddie Wall's, has decided to present the little fellow with a medal, and J. G. Tait, jeweller, opera house block, has the contract of making the same. Mr. Cook appreciates very much the young boy's pluck in jumping into the water and says if the Royal Humane Society does not see fit to recognize his bravery, he himself will.

The medal will be about 1 1-2 by 1 1-4 inches. On one side it will be inlaid with gold and on it a sketch of the dam where the accident occurred. Over this a suitable inscription will be engraved. Mr. Tate has had considerable experience in this line of work and will make a good job of this one.

It is the intention to have the medal presented to Eddie Wall at an early date, with appropriate ceremony.

Mr. Cook, who is quite modest over the presentation, deserves every credit for his effort to recognize heroism.

On the Golden Lion Staff.

Mr. Walter Squires has resigned his position in Belleville for a more satisfactory one with Robert Fair & Co., in the dress goods.

HO! FOR MUSKOKA.

The Cheapest Trip ever Advertised to Canada's Great Summer Resort.

The premier excursion of the year takes place on Wednesday, June 14th, when the first annual excursion of the Hastings Court, Canadian Order of Foresters, takes place to Muskoka. The excursion is from all points along the Midland Division from Belleville through to Bracebridge and Gravenhurst. Tickets from Belleville to Lindsay, inclusive, are good to return until June 17th; from other points they are good until the 16th. The return fare from Peterborough is the small sum of $1.45, and proportionately low rates have been arranged from the other points along the line. Passengers can leave on the regular morning train, starting from Belleville at 5.40 a.m., and leaving Peterborough at 8 o'clock or they can take the special which is made up here and leaves Peterborough at 7.35 a.m.; Best's 7.47; Omemee 8.03; Reaboro 8.10; Lindsay 8.20, etc. The boats will leave on arrival of the trains at Muskoka wharf. Eight hours will be spent on the beautiful Muskoka lakes and the returning trains that evening will leave Muskoka wharf at 7 o'clock.

The Hastings citizens brass band will be in attendance and when it is stated that Rev. Father McGuire, of Hastings, is the chairman of the committee, it is a guarantee that the excursion will be the success of the season.

HAVELOCK BAPTISTS.

The Congregation was Formally Recognised by the Church on Tuesday.

The recognition services in connection with the new Baptist Church at Havelock, took place on Tuesday afternoon and evening, when the hand of fellowship was formally extended to the Havelock Baptist congregation.

The council was composed of the following delegates:

Murray street, Peterborough.—Rev. J. Bastow.

Park street, Peterborough.—Rev. O. C. Elliott and J. Rose.

Gilmour Memorial. — Rev. W. A. Gunting and T. R. Mann.

Lakefield.—Rev. E. J. Bridgman.

Warsaw.—Deacon Rorabeck.

Norwood.—Rev. Wm. Peer.

Campbellford.—Rev. J. E. Carew and R. A. Patterson.

Colborne.—Rev. Thomas Watson and Deacon Alger.

The meeting opened at two p. m., Rev. W. A. Gunting being appointed Moderator, and Rev. E. J. Bridgman clerk.

The afternoon meeting was devoted to the examination of the church members, their doctrine, their Christian experience, and general prospects. These were found satisfactory, and in the evening the public recognition service was held.

Opening services were conducted by Rev. C. N. Carew, after which Rev. Mr. Bastow preached an excellent sermon.

Rev. O. C. Elliott offered the Prayer of Recognition. The charge to the church was given by Rev. Thomas Watson of Colborne, and the Moderator extended the hand of fellowship on behalf of the denomination.

The church was organized in April, 1897, with a membership of nine, and at the present time has a membership of about twenty. An elegant little church has been erected at a cost of $800, and altogether the Baptist faith is in a flourishing condition in the little railway village.

SILVER LININGS.

Entertainment Tuesday Night by Mark Sreet Methodist Church Ladies' Aid Society.

Under the auspices of Mark street Ladies' Aid Society, Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A., lectured in Mark street church on Tuesday evening, June 6, taking as his subject, "Silver Linings." The address was eloquent, interesting and helpful, and was much enjoyed by those present. Miss White delighted the audience by two well rendered recitations and Misses Laura and Irene Gray gave a sweetly-sung and pleasing duet. The chair was taken by Mr. M. W. Matchett, who referred to the excellent progress made by the society in paying off the parsonage debt, more than half of Mark street's share of this debt having been paid off in less than a year and a half by the ladies.

Before closing, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the lecturer of the evening and to those who assisted in the programme.

TRACE OF HERMAN CROWE.

It is Said that he Spent a Night at Mr. Leason's Resident.

Thomas Crowe was before Magistrate Edmison this morning, and again remanded until Tuesday.

There are some new developments in the case which if substantiated, will throw considerable light on the mysterious disappearance of Herman Crowe, the son of the prisoner.

Mr. J. Crowe, the Warsaw stage proprietor, states to Mr. George Cochrane, High County Constable, that Herman Crowe, the evening of his disappearance, went to the house of Mr. Leason, of Douro, and spent the night there, leaving in the morning for Peterborough.

The following letter has also a bearing on the subject:

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In your paper of June 5th I noticed a paragraph headed "Word of Herman Crowe." Now with regard to the statements made therein I beg to inform you that the statement made saying that Mrs. Archbold (my wife) was speaking to the lad is altogether wrong. But it is true that on the night mentioned, the choir of St. Mark's church, Warsaw, was returning to Warsaw from Mr. Job Wheeler's, where we had been for practice, and when we left there no one ever saw the lad. But when the first stop was made at Warsaw, some lad jumped off the cab from behind and started to run up the hill past the Anglican church. We all noticed the boy, especially as it was rather late, and spoke of it, and later, when making the last stop at Mr. Henry Smith's house, about three-quarters of a mile the other side of Warsaw, this same boy again jumped off the cab, this time striking along the Peterborough road going westward. In speaking of this occurrence in the village the description I gave to those who saw Herman Crowe last, say it must have been him, as it was how he was dressed when last seen in Warsaw that evening, together with his father, before starting for home. But neither Mrs. Archbold, or myself, or any members of my choir, spoke to the boy.

It is indeed to be sincerely hoped though that this lad was the same Herman Crowe, who is believed to have left home to work for himself in the West. I would rather believe this than the theory that his father has made away with the boy. I have made these statements in order that there may be no misunderstanding, as it has not yet been proved whether this lad was Herman Crowe or not.

Yours very truly,
W. ARCHBOLD.

EFFECTS OF MESCAL.

THE PECULIAR ACTION OF THE DRUG UPON THE BRAIN.

It Produces an Orgy of Vision, With Ravishing Displays of Color, Revealing an Optical Fairyland to the Intoxicated Senses.

The use of opium and hasheesh to stimulate the imagination is not considered a highly moral practice. These drugs should be indulged in, if at all, only under carefully prescribed conditions. But another drug which has come into notice within the last few years, while producing equally delightful visions, seems to be free from some of the objections that may be offered to the first two mentioned. In the judgment of those who have tried it it is more strictly intellectual in its appeal to the senses; its immediate after effects are not so pernicious as those of better known drugs.

The name "mescal" is associated in the popular mind (and in the dictionaries) with a distilled beverage obtained from the agave, whose fermented juice makes another notable drink, Mexico's favorite pulque. But the same word has also been used to designate an entirely different preparation, derived from a certain species of cactus, whose brown and bitter leaves are pressed into a solid button. For many years the Kiowa Indians of this country have been in the habit of paying peculiar homage to five or six related varieties of cactus, no doubt because of their discovery of this property possessed by one of them.

On Saturday nights they are accustomed to combine in one performance the features of a semi-religious ceremony and a mild debauch. A number of them having seated themselves on the ground around a campfire and within a large tent, they swallow three or four mescal buttons apiece and then solemnly await results. Their reveries are attended with singing and the beating of drums by assistants. The Kiowas begin this strange rite with prayer, and at intervals through the night they swallow more buttons, until each man has taken about a dozen.

Lewin, a Berlin scientist, discovered in 1888 that this cactus, to which he gave the name Anhalonium lewinii, contained a poison that might be classed with strychnine, but he did not learn anything of its vision exciting powers. James Mooney, a representative of the United States bureau of ethnology, was apparently the first white man to bring the subject to the attention of civilized folk. His studies of the habits of the Kiowas had made him familiar with the drug, and he had tried it himself while among the Indians of that tribe. In 1891 he brought a quantity of mescal to Washington, and some experiments were made with it there.

Subsequently Dr. Weir Mitchell tried it on himself. Later Havelock Ellis made some tests with himself and several other persons, either artists or poets, in London. Neither Mr. Ellis nor his friends ever took more than three or four buttons. For a beginner that seems to be the correct dose, although for sensitive persons such an amount may prove rather too powerful and rapid in its action.

Although all of the senses are to some extent stimulated by mescal, it was the visual perceptions that were chiefly affected in the cases of Mr. Ellis and his friends. Mr. Ellis himself enjoyed ravishing displays of color—now a succession of hues and then an infinite variety of the tints of one hue. For instance, at one moment he saw in rapid progression scarlets, crimsons and pinks; at another there was a distinct predominance of golden color. The first effect of the drug, however, was the tendency of a printed page at which he was gazing to assume a blue or violet border, and at frequent intervals thereafter he was conscious of an exceptional abundance of this hue. Almost the only after effect which he records was a heightened appreciation of blue and violet.

Again there were great alternations in the brightness of the show. Sometimes the colors were somber and sometimes exceedingly vivid. Indeed there were moments when he seemed to be gazing upon a most dazzling assortment of jewels.

Form was a less conspicuous phase of the display, yet it was not excluded therefrom. There were lace patterns, arabesques, porcelain designs and finally picturesque human figures. Occasionally the sense of smell was excited delightfully.

Most of the visual phenomena were perceived when the experimenter's eyes were closed, but if he raised his lids and looked about him any conspicuous object, like a gas jet, was likely to assume fantastic shapes and constantly changing proportions. It would enlarge and contract with amazing frequency. It has been suggested that the Kiowas have a definite object in keeping a fire blazing before them whenever they indulge in a mescal seance.

The artist on whom experiments were tried had a weak heart and experienced some unpleasant physical sensations. He suffered slightly from nausea, which was relieved when a biscuit was handed to him to eat, and at times he felt severe pains in the neighborhood of the heart. He also reported an oppressive sense of suffocation, singing in the ears, hot eyes and hands and tremors. But he emerged from the ordeal without harm. His visions were a little different from those of Mr. Ellis, but on the whole the excitation of the color sense was the predominant feature. All of the definite forms that he perceived were grotesque and suggested Aubrey Beardsley's conceptions.

The time which elapsed from the first dose to the last perceptible effect of the drug was usually about 12 hours. One might lie down—and he was apt to feel sufficiently indolent after a little to do so—but the subject was not sleepy, and he also found that he possessed a certain amount of intellectual independence. Mr. Ellis says:

"Mescal intoxication may be described as chiefly a saturnalia of the specific senses and, above all, an orgy of vision. A large part of its charm lies in the halo of beauty which it casts around the simplest and commonest objects. It reveals an optical fairyland, where all the senses now and then join the play, but the mind itself remains a self possessed spectator. Mescal intoxication thus differs from the other artificial paradises which drugs procure. Under the influence of alcohol, as in normal dreaming, the intellect is impaired, though there may be a consciousness of unusual brilliance. Hasheesh, again, produces an uncontrollable tendency to movement and bathes its victim in a sea of emotion. The mescal drinker remains calm and collected among the sensory turmoil around him. His judgment is as clear as in the normal state. He falls into no oriental condition of vague and voluptuous reverie. On this ground it is not probable that its uses will easily develop into habit."

ASBESTUS.

Some of the Peculiarities of This Mysterious Substance.

Asbestus is a physical paradox, yet one of nature's most marvelous productions. It has been called a mineralogical vegetable; it is both fibrous and crystalline, elastic, yet brittle; a floating stone, which can be readily carded, spun and woven into tissue. In Germany it is known as steinflachs (stone flax), and the miners of Quebec give it quite as expressive a name—pierre coton (cotton stone). The asbestus mines of Quebec are the most famous in the world, yielding 85 per cent of the entire output, Italy being the only competing country, and there the industry is declining. Although Charlemagne is said to have had a tablecloth of asbestus, which be cleansed by throwing into the fire, it was practically unknown until 1850.

The Italian mineral was then experimented with and some years later put on the market. In 1878 the first Canadian mine was opened, and the product steadily increased until 1890, when 9,860 tons, worth $1,260,000, were mined. There has since been a decline in value, the amount for 1896 being 12,200, worth only $480,000. Asbestus is flexible, noncombustible and a nonconductor of heat and electricity, and on these properties its increasing use depends. It is spun into yarn, from which cloth is woven for drop curtains in theaters, clothing for firemen, acid workers, etc. It is made into lamp wicks and gloves for stokers and ropes for fire escapes. It is felted into millboard to be used as an insulator in dynamos and as a fireproof lining for floors. It is used to insulate electric wires and as a covering to prevent loss of heat from steam pipes. Mixed with rubber it is used to pack steam joints.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

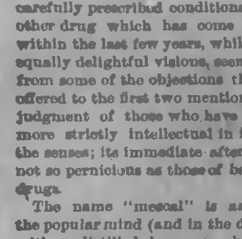
The Latter, Sure.

"I have never yet quite figured out," said the man who has succeeded pretty well, "whether my wife has faith in my ability to do things or whether her faith is in her ability to make me do them."—Indianapolis Journal.

Salt should be taken by everybody at meals, for a sufficient quantity does not exist in our food to supply the needs of the body. Many people do not realize that salt is absolutely essential to health and even life.

A LONG CROOKED ROAD.

Love has a long way to go to reach the heart of the modern up-to-date young man. When he looks for a wife, he expects a good deal. Probably he expects more than he deserves.



He wants good looks, good sense, good nature, good health. They usually go together. An observing man learns that a woman who is physically weak and nervous and incapable, is likely to be ill-natured too. The sweetest temper is ruined by continual sickness.

A woman whose nerves are constantly racked and dragged by debilitating drains and inflammation, cannot be a genial companion or happy wife; and she is totally unfitted to be a mother.

These troubles prevail almost universally among women largely because of carelessness and neglect. There is no need of them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive specific for the weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organism. It cures them radically and completely. It heals, strengthens and purifies. It is the only scientific remedy devised for this special purpose by an educated, skilled physician. It is the only medicine that makes motherhood easy and absolutely safe.

Its sale, through dealers in medicines exceeds the combined sale of all other medicines for women. It acts directly and only on the child-bearing organism. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, heals ulceration and gives the tortured nerves a rest. It does away with the discomforts of the expectant period and makes baby's coming easy and comparatively painless. Thousands of women have testified to its wonderful virtues. All good druggists sell it and honest dealers will not offer inferior substitutes for the sake of a little extra profit. Dr. Pierce has been for thirty years chief consulting physician of the famous Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. His reputation as a skilled specialist in woman's ailments is world-wide.

Miss Lauretta McNees, of Reno (P. O. Box 723), Washoe Co., Nev., writes: "I have discontinued taking the 'Prescription' and will not take any more (at present). Last month I had no pain at all and worked every day without any inconvenience whatever. It was the first time I never had pain during that period. I cannot say too much for your medicines especially the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I know of a lady who took one bottle of your 'Favorite Prescription' and she says she was not sick like she was with her first baby. This was her second baby. She thinks it a grand medicine. So do I."

"I had suffered untold misery for a number of years, with ovarian trouble, an exhausting drain, constipation, painful periods and other annoying troubles," writes Mrs. Annie James, of No. 27 Seventh St., Memphis, Shelby Co., Tenn. "Thank God, my health has been fully restored and I can gladly say I am a well woman to-day. I used six or seven bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and also used the lotion which you advised in the 'Common Sense Medical Adviser.'"

"For years I had been failing in health and kept getting worse and more nervous all the time," writes Mrs. Annie Dulan, of East Stroudsburg, Monroe Co., Pa. "I doctored with two different doctors and they told me that my system was run down and my nerves were weak. I had ulcers of the uterus which were so painful at times that I was afraid that they must be cancers. Indeed I felt discouraged with the treatment, and did not get any better until my nurse advised me to write to you and I did so.

"In May I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' and followed your advice as closely as I could. I took twelve bottles in all, six of each. Thanks to God and the right kind of medicine I feel myself cured and a well woman. I have no bad feeling whatever and can do the work for a family of eight, and feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce has had a lifetime of experience in this particular field. His 1000-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains several chapters devoted to woman's special physiology. A paper-bound copy will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For a cloth-bound copy send 50 stamps.

Good Common Sense

Common sense teaches that a debilitated system cannot be built up by continued purging, which reduces the strength of a body already weakened by disease. Most so-called blood builders are purgatives.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People do NOT act upon the bowels. They renew and enrich the blood and make weak, tired nerves strong. They strengthen and only strengthen from the first dose to the last.

Most people find benefit from a tonic at this season, and thousands of authenticated cases prove Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to be the best tonic medicine known. That is why these pills have a larger sale than any other medicine in the world.

HEALTH BROKEN DOWN.

Mr. John Barley, Lachute Mills, Que., says:—"Up to about seven years ago I had always been a healthy man. At that time my health began to give way, and at last I was left almost a physical wreck and for the last five years have not been able to do steady work the best part of the time, and as the many medicines I tried failed to help me, I had begun to look upon my case as hopeless. Finally a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and now after the use of only five boxes I am feeling well and strong. It is simply marvellous what they have done for me, and I shall always recommend them to my friends."

The same good sense that leads you to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial will prompt you to refuse any substitute an unscrupulous dealer offers. A druggist who says he has "something just as good," or "just the same except in name," is trying to mislead you for the sake of the extra profit the substitute gives him. The genuine packages bear the appearance of the engraving on the left, and may be had of all dealers or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

AN EXCITING BATTLE.

A WICKED ENCOUNTER BETWEEN A MAN AND A BEAR.

It Ended In a Clinch and a Roll Down a Snow Covered Mountain Side—A Close Call, In Which the Man Just Escaped With His Life.

To roll down a snow covered mountain side tightly clasped in the embrace of a grizzly bear is an experience few men pass through and live to tell. But that is what happened to Frank Lecky of Fresno, and when it was all over he had only a few scratches and bruises and a big bearskin to show as signs of his terrible encounter.

"It was the wickedest fight I ever got into," said Frank when telling of his experiences, "and I have been in a good many, going out hunting in the Sierras every winter, as I do.

"This big fight happened up in the Whitney country. It was just a few miles east of the Minarets and in the spot where a fellow is always pretty sure to find big game.

"It was pretty late in the afternoon, and I was all alone in camp, as the other boys had not returned from a deer hunt they started on in the morning.

"I had been dozing in the tent all day, but came out to have a look at the sky. As I glanced along the top of a bluff a few hundred feet from the camp I saw something dark moving about.

"That was enough for me. I got my rifle and started right after it. The kind of game I was going after didn't concern me at all, but I really didn't expect bear, at least such big cantankerous bear.

"Taking a roundabout way through the snow, I soon reached the top of the bluff in order to get a good resting shot and not come upon my game too suddenly.

"Finally I caught a close view of a big dark body moving behind a clump of bushes. It was so large that for a moment I thought I had been stalking a cow and was ready to kick myself. Then a long drawn sniff and a deep growl told me it was bear I was sighting. Instantly I was all excited with interest and strained every nerve to get the beast in line and so plant a bullet in the right spot. The bear, however had a mind to keep his eyes on me and kept moving about as he peered between the branches of the brush.

"Suddenly one of the horses down in the camp neighed loudly and attracted the bear's attention. As the bear turned and exposed his side I fired. Down went the bear like a bag of wheat, and I thought my rifle ball must have gone clean through its brain. Without stopping to consider whether my shot had really been fatal, I rushed forward. As I stooped down to see where the ball struck, the bear jumped up, and then I knew I had only 'creased' it—that is, just grazed its head or spinal cord and knocked it senseless for a moment.

"Before I could swing my rifle forward to get in a shot the bear had knocked it out of my hands and was right on top of me. Somehow I managed to draw my knife and get in a few jabs that did no damage. The bear hugged me tighter and tighter, and I kicked harder and harder and jabbed wildly with my knife. Then we both rolled on the ground, and the bear tried to bite my face, but I kept off his fast clawing blows by hugging tightly against him. I jabbed and jabbed as we rolled over and over, and the bear's face and claws were pretty badly cut and one of his eyes was put out of service. The snow all around was torn up and spattered with blood.

"Before I knew it we were just on the edge of the bluff, and an almost vertical wall of snow lay just below us for over a hundred feet to the bottom.

"This frightened me more than the bear, for I knew what it meant, but before I could think of doing anything we were over the edge and rolling down at lightning speed.

"It could not have taken more than a few seconds, but it seemed to me like years. Now I was on top of the bear, and now underneath. Snow filled my eyes and ears, and I was scratched and wounded and bumped until I thought my end had come.

"It seems to me that I kept striking at the bear as we rolled, or rather shot, downward, for we were going at the speed of a cannon ball. Then there was a sudden bump while I was on top, and the bear gave a moan of pain and let go of me.

"That gave me my chance, and I drove my knife into his heart.

"The skin measured over seven feet. I found out while we were cutting him up that when he struck the rock at the bottom of the hill he shattered his spine. It was just a piece of luck that the bear struck the rock and not myself."

Nerves...

Wasted and Shattered by Worry or Overwork are Revitalized by

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food

"Nerves"—what a world of meaning this word has to scores of thousands of women who, through the strains of social life and the worry of home cares, are fast approaching the grave.

Nervous headaches, dyspepsia, irritability by day, restlessness and sleeplessness by night. Pains and aches in the body, derangements of the organs peculiarly feminine, loss of energy and ambition, despondency and despair.

These are some of the symptoms known to the woman of exhausted nerves. These are symptoms which entirely disappear when Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food is used.

By creating new, rich blood and nerve tissue this great food cures of Dr. A. W. Chase restores and revitalizes the wasted nerve cells, puts new vigor and vitality into the system and frees woman of many ills which are due to exhausted nerves.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food cures by the building-up process, which makes the body round and plump, and restores the glow of health to the pale, sallow cheek.

HIS NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. John N. Babcock's Experience With Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sharbot Lake, Ont., May 29. — No resident of this place is better known to the thousands of tourists and sportsmen who visit us annually than is Mr. John N. Babcock.

Mr. Babcock has had many thrilling experiences, but the narrowest escape he ever had, he tells of in these words:

"After twenty years of pain, caused by Gravel and other Kidney Complaints, I am pleased to be able to state that I have been completely cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. During these years I have spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and remedies, but only Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me."

"Now, how do you stand on this question?" asked the man who had indulged in a long dissertation.

"Exactly as I stood years ago, when it first came up," answered Senator Sorghum. "It's been so long that I forget just exactly how I stood, but I haven't changed my mind a bit, sir; not a bit."

Some of the cod lines used in the fishing industry measure 7,000 fathoms long, or about eight ordinary miles, having 4,680 hooks, the whole costing, in some cases, £300 or £300.

Mrs. Mary Wright, Berlin, says:—"My hair was coming out very fast, in fact it combed out by the handful. Nothing I used did any good until trying Hairene, from the first application of which I noted an improvement, and less than one bottle entirely stopped the falling. It is a clean preparation to use, and a valuable acquisition for the toilet."

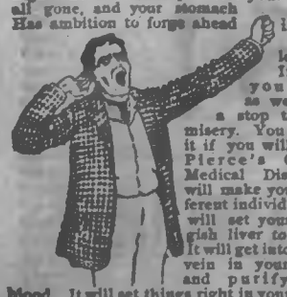
DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.



O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 223), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

MILNER AND KRUGER.

Britain and Boer Separate in a Cordial Manner.

HOPEFUL FEELING PREVAILS.

Result of Their Deliberations Not Yet Made Known to the Public—Sir Alfred Milner and President Kruger Made an Agreement to Delay the Information—Cable News.

Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, June 7.—The conference between President Kruger and the British high commissioner, Sir Alfred Milner, who is also Governor of Cape Colony, was concluded yesterday. The President and the high commissioner took leave of each other in a cordial manner. They have agreed not to publish the result of their deliberations until Wednesday next.

A distinctly hopeful feeling that an agreement has been concluded prevails here.

Was the Conference Abortive?

London, June 7.—A special despatch from Bloemfontein says that the conference between President Kruger and Sir Alfred Milner proved abortive.

WOMEN ELIGIBLE.

May Be Elected Aldermen and Councillors for London.

London, June 7.—During the report stage of the London Local Government bill in the House of Commons yesterday, an amendment, moved by the Right Hon. Leonard Henry Courtney, advanced Liberal, declaring women are eligible as aldermen and councillors, was adopted by a vote of 196 to 161. The vote did not follow party lines, though generally the Conservatives, including most of the Cabinet Ministers, opposed the amendment, while Arthur and Gerald Balfour (Chief Secretary for Ireland) and other Unionists, with a minority of the Liberals, supported it.

DREYFUS HEARS THE NEWS.

He Was Waiting on the Shore of Devil's Island and His Face Was Radiant With Joy.

Fort de France, Island of Martinique, June 7.—When the despatch boat Goeland, bearing the superintendent of the prison and the commander of marine artillery, who were designated by the French Government to notify Dreyfus of the revision of his trial, arrived yesterday from Cayenne at the Isle du Diable, Dreyfus was waiting on the shore. Although endeavoring to maintain his self-possession, he received the official intelligence with a countenance radiant with joy.

THE BEST ON EARTH

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

GERMANY'S NEW TERRITORY.

The Story of the Acquisition Told in the Reichstag.

Berlin, June 7.—The Minister of Foreign Affairs, Baron von Buelow, in the Reichstag yesterday, made a statement on the subject of the German-Spanish treaty for the cession of the Caroline, Ladrone and Pelew Islands. He said that in order to round off the German possessions in the Pacific, and in view of German commercial interests, which had long existed in the Caroline Islands, "we considered it our duty to take care of this group, so that in the event of a change in ownership it should not be lost to Germany." The Minister then read the text of the agreement, which was concluded Feb. 12, 1899:

"First, Spain cedes to Germany the Carolines, Pelews and Ladrone Islands, except the Island of Guam, in consideration of a compensation of 25,000,000 pesetas.

"Second, Germany concedes the Spanish trade and agricultural enterprises in these Islands the same treatment and facilities as to German trade, and concedes to the Spanish religious orders in the Islands, the same rights and liberties as the German orders.

"Third, Spain will establish naval, mercantile and coaling stations in the Carolines, Pelews and Ladrones, and will be allowed to retain them in case of war.

"Fourth, this agreement is to be submitted for the constitutional sanction of the two countries, and is to be ratified as soon as this sanction is given.

"An understanding has also been arrived at with Spain regarding the mutual granting of conventional tariffs, such as correspond with the wishes and interests of German as well as Spanish trade. So soon as the Cortes has sanctioned the sale of the Islands we will immediately submit the necessary bills to the Reichstag, which will have the opportunity of a thorough and practical examination of the matter. Until then we hope the Reichstag will defer its discussion, out of international courtesy."

Piles for 15 Years.

Mr. James Bowles, Councillor, Embro, Ont., writes: "For over 15 years I suffered the misery of bleeding, protruding piles. The many remedies I tried all failed. I was was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and must say that the first application gave relief, after the third day, the bleeding stopped and two boxes cured me completely."

Cheese Markets.

Campbellford, Ont., June 7.—At the Campbellford cheese board held yesterday morning 34 factories boarded 1,660 boxes of white. One thousand two hundred and ninety were sold.

Ingersoll, Ont., June 7.—At the cheese market held here yesterday only 788 boxes were boarded, 731 being offered but refused. May cheese mostly all sold in this district.

Triumphs over the Worst Forms of

KIDNEY... DISEASE

The wonderful success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills adds to the fame of the great doctor whose name is familiar in almost every home as the author of the world famous Recipe Book.

Scores and thousands of grateful men and women have been rescued from the miseries and dangers of kidney disease by this greatest of all kidney cures.

Mr. D. C. Simmons, Mabee, Ont., writes: "My kidneys and back were so bad I was unable to work or sleep. My urine had sediment like brick dust. I was compelled to get up four or five times during the night. I saw Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills advertised and concluded to give them a trial. I have only used one box and am completely cured. I was a great sufferer for 18 years, but my kidneys do not bother me now. I enjoy good rest and sleep and consider Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills a boon to suffering humanity."

"SAVE ALLAN!" "SAVE ALLAN!"

Melancholy Result of a Rafting Party on the Brantford Road.

Galt, June 7.—About five miles from here last night David R. Ronald, aged 21 years, and his two younger brothers, William and Allan, went down to a pond on their father's farm on the Brantford road, and went out for a sail on a raft. Allan, thinking the water shallow, jumped off, intending to wade ashore, but he underestimated its depth and sank. David jumped in to save him and came near drowning, when William, seeing the state of affairs, leaped in, and in obedience to David's command, "Save Allan! Save Allan!" with difficulty carried Allan's senseless form to shore, and by the time he had accomplished the feat brave David had sunk for the last time. It was between two and three hours before his lifeless form was recovered.

Word From Andree's Balloon.

Christiana, June 7.—The slip of paper found inside the cork buoy picked up by two boys on May 14 last on the north coast of Iceland, was inscribed: "Drifting buoy No. 7. This buoy thrown from Andree's balloon July 7, 1897, 10.55 p.m., Greenwich time, 82 north, 25 east. We are at an altitude of 600 metres. All well. (Signed) Andree, Strindberg, Fraenckel."

The balloon thus had only travelled seven hours and fifty minutes when the buoy was thrown out.

Ex-Mayor of Guelph Dead.

Guelph, Ont., June 7.—Ex-Mayor William Stevenson died at his residence here yesterday after an illness of some time. He was mayor of Guelph about 10 or 15 years ago. Mr. Stevenson was 82 years of age.

Mrs. George Porter, residing on Cork street, while hanging out clothes yesterday, received a severe sunstroke. She was taken into the house, but died in a few hours.

Another Stolen Child Sensation.

New Britain, Conn., June 7.—Anna Escholtz, the 6-year-old girl who has been missing since Sunday afternoon, was found about 2.30 yesterday afternoon in a clump of trees about one mile from the place where she was last seen. The child was alone and seemed not to have fared badly. It has not yet been determined whether she was lost or whether she was taken off by someone.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1899 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used. Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. For correct and full information regarding the new invention and NEWCOMBE PIANOS write to our Direct Representative. Easy Prices. Liberal Terms.

ANOTHER CIRCUS!

GOUGH BROS. HAVE A WALK-OVER!

The Greatest Cash Clothing deal on record. The enormity of the transaction a surprise to all. The ebb and flow of good fortune to Gough Bros. brings another boon to those in need of Summer Clothes.

The extraordinary character of this great transaction will be better understood by the statement of the manufacturres themselves in closing the deal:—

"Mr. Gough, your price represents very little more than the Actual Cost of the Cloth and Trimmings."

Overwhelming Montreal Scoop.

Another streak of Good Luck enabled us, last week, to rake in what is, perhaps, the most fortunate scoop of the most Up-to-Date Clothing, which has ever come our way since starting business in Peterborough.

The McKenna-Thompson Co. of Montreal

the Premier Wholesale Clothing Manufacturers of Canada, were in search of a safe outlet for an over production of Spring and Summer Weight Suits. They had to have prompt cash as well as a prompt clearance, in order to secure warehouse room for their winter manufactures. They were willing to stand a pretty big shrinkage in prices to accomplish their object, and Gough Bros' "had the call". We made our little bid, and stuck to it, capturing the whole mangnificent lot of

In commenting most enthusiastically upon the New York engagement of the Forepaugh Sells Combined Circuses, which it may be remarked parenthetically will be seen in all its spring-time glory at Peterborough in two performances Saturday, June 24th. The New York Clipper of May 6 said: "The success of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Combined Circuses under the management of those greatest of arenic chieftains, J. A. Bailey, Peter and Lewis Sells and W. W. Cole, at Madison Square Garden, was nothing short of phenomenal. In fact, its success was the greatest probably ever achieved by any circus in New York. Many eminent men were in attendance at the exhibitions. Among them were General Miles, Admiral 'Jack' Philip, one of the heroes of the war; Senator Chauncey M. Depew, Senator Thomas C. Platt, Col. Robert G. Ingersoll and many others. Senator Depew was present on the last night and enthusiastically said it was by all odds the greatest circus he ever witnessed.

It was the unanimous opinion of the press that the present circus has more than brilliantly taken the place of the Barnum and Bailey Show, which is now a British institution and which will not be seen in this country for several years. The completeness, newness and general excellence of the Forepaugh Sells Circus calls for special commendation. The leading features of this colossal consolidation possess great merit from an artistic point of view.

The act of the performing seals is in itself a very extraordinary feature. The clown band, which burlesques Sousa and his familiar mannerisms, evoked thunders of applause and storms of laughter. The Hanlons, the wonderful thirty-five horse act of William Gorman, the three herds of performing elephants, and the various acrobatic and equestrian feats were duly appreciated. More than one hundred and fifty turns are presented during the course of the evening's exhibition. That the great enterprise was vastly appreciated was demonstrated by the columns of praise given it by the newspapers of the metropolis."

Hats that ARE Hats

There are all qualities of Hats—always have been and always will be.

But it is about GOOD HATS we want to speak just now—the high class hat that can only be bought in THE HAT STORES—the kind that never reaches the departmental or clothing stores.

Selling Hats is our Business...

We buy from the standard makers in immense quantities from two of the largest hat stores in central Ontario and control the most reliable, well known, world reputed makes of both English and American manufacturers, such as Youmans, Stetson, Hawes, Tress, Cooksey, and Christy, while others have got to be content with buying what is claimed to be "just as good."

It's reasonable to suppose that we can therefore give you the BEST HATS that the world produces at as close prices as it's possible to get such goods for—and a better class of goods than those houses that sell only "just as good" in a small hole and corner way.

Just to illustrate this we give Four Examples:

OUR 50c. FEDORA Is made of clear English wool felt and the quality brings 75c. from most dealers. We claim it is the best value in town. If you do not think so we will return your money. We guarantee this.

ENGLISH WILKENSON HATS $1.25 The "Favorite English Wilkenson Hat" made of fur felt, for which there is no special agency in Peterborough, and usually retails for $1.75 for $1.25.

OUR 50c. STRAW HATS We have the best 50c. straw hats in Canada, at least we think so. They come in plain split straw, Swiss, and notch straw, have silk bands, plain and fancy. If you can equal it in value elsewhere you can have money back. We guarantee this.

CRASH AND LINEN HATS Just now we are showing especial values in Mens' Boys' and Childrens CRASH, DUCK and LINEN HATS and CAPS and the prices begin at 20c. for Childrens' Tams and run as highs as 75c. for Mens' Linen Hats. These goods are particularly nice for summer wear.

—STORE NEWS—

The Day

Has nothing to do with the Price of Goods at this store.

Come any day of the week and you will find stacks of Bargains rolling in and out.

You needn't be afraid of having to pay any more on Friday than on Thursday. You get Bargains the one day as well as the other.

If we sell you a Dress or a Blouse at a Bargain Price on Monday, you will find it the same price on Tuesday and the other four days of the week.

We have never yet resorted to the plan of selling goods at a great reduction on a certain day, and then make enough on the other days for the come-down.

"IF NOT, WHY....."

Indicates Kruger's Future If He Does Not Back Down.

MILNER'S BACK TO THE WALL.

Upon Oom Paul's Decision May Depend the Independence of the Boer Republic—The Gravity of the Situation Conceded—Daily Chronicle Deprecates Mr. Chamberlain's Warlike Attitude.

London, June 9.—The Daily Mail says it learns that it was President Kruger himself who suggested the conference, and it claims to have reliable authority for declaring that Sir Alfred Milner, the British high commissioner, has his back to the wall and is supported to the utmost by the Cabinet.

Commenting editorially on the situation, The Daily Mail says: "If we know our Kruger aright, he will back down, and if not, why —— —— ——."

The Daily Chronicle deprecates Mr. Chamberlain's warlike attitude, but does not deny the gravity of the situation, and seriously counsels the Boers to grant reasonable reforms as the only means of preserving their independence against the plots of the stock exchange and the violence of Downing street.

The Standard, which reminds the Transvaal that its independence is not absolute, but is contingent on a faithful execution of the agreement stipulating equal rights for all white inhabitants.

Oom Paul's "Jolly."

The Cape Town correspondent of The Times says: "At the close of the conference, Mr. Kruger declared that he was pleased at the friendly way in which the matters had been discussed, and hoped they would understand each other better in the future."

KRUGER'S STAND.

The Concessions He Offered Were Quite Inadequate.

London, June 9.—The advices received here yesterday from South Africa, emanating from British sources, show more completely the utter failure of the recent conference at Bloemfontein between President Kruger and the British high commissioner, Sir Alfred Milner.

The London afternoon newspapers all refer to the dangerous situation.

A despatch from Matjes Fontein says Sir Alfred Milner's proposals included granting the Uitlanders additional seats in the Rand district, and that President Kruger, under pressure, finally offered three additional seats. The British high commissioner thereupon pointed out the inadequacy of the President's proposals, adding that he had come to the conference in the hope of being able to inform Her Majesty's Government that the President of the Transvaal was prepared to afford such liberal measures of reform as would enable the Uitlanders to help themselves and relieve the Government of their obligations to intervene in order to redress particular grievances.

Throughout, it is added, President Kruger sought to use the franchise proposals as the means of obtaining a promise to settle the differences under the convention by arbitration, and the British commissioner refused to treat the two subjects as interdependent, taking the ground that internal reform in the Transvaal was necessary in any case in order to preserve the independence of the republic, and, as regards arbitration, there were certain questions upon which it could not be admitted, while on other questions arbitration was possibly admissable, provided a suitable tribunal was suggested, not involving the introduction of a foreign power, which the Government would never allow.

Mr. Chamberlain's Remarks.

In the House of Commons yesterday the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, replying to various questions on the subject, confirmed the reports of the failure of the Bloemfontein conference, and also admitted the accuracy of the statements made in the despatch from Matjes Fontein, explaining that the British high commissioner informed President Kruger that Great Britain would not consent to the intervention of a foreign power in Anglo-Transvaal disputes.

With reference to the Jameson raid, Mr. Chamberlain added, the commissioner informed the President that the British Chartered South Africa Company, while protesting against the unreasonable amount of the claim, would consent to submit to arbitration the question of the amount of damages to be paid.

Must There Be War?

London, June 9.—The morning papers are beginning to talk quite seriously of the possibility of war in South Africa. Mr. Chamberlain, in his speech in the House of Commons yesterday, announced that his reply to the petition of the Uitlanders, which had been held back pending the result of the conference at Bloemfontein, would now be presented to the Transvaal. This reply is semi-officially described as "explicit, but conciliatory," but it is believed to be in the nature of a practical ultimatum. The resources of diplomacy are regarded as exhausted with the failure of the conference. Nothing is left, it is felt, but a recourse to force.

Boat Sent for Dreyfus.

Cayenne, French Guiana, June 9.—The despatch boat Goeland was sent to Devil's Island ahead of time by order of the Governor of French Guiana, leaving here at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. This was done on account of the great number of people who proposed to go to Devil's Island on board the Goeland. In addition, the Governor refused to all persons permission to go to the island by any other means of transportation.

Mr. Wallace Is Dead.

London, June 7.—Mr. Robert Wallace, Liberal member of Parliament for East Edinburgh, who, while speaking during the debate on the grant to General Kitchener of Khartoum, was seized with cerebral paralysis, is dead.

The Plague in Egypt.

Cairo, Egypt, June 7.—The total number of plague sufferers at Alexandria is placed at 14, of which two are dead. Four new cases were reported yesterday, but no new cases have been reported elsewhere.

Mataafa Cannot Be King.

Auckland, N.Z., June 7.—At the Queen's Birthday celebration in Samoa it was officially announced that Great Britain would absolutely veto any proposition that Mataafa should ever become king.

Richard Hughes Was Killed.

London, Ont., June 7.—Richard Hughes, aged about 45, a shoemaker residing here, was struck by a Grand Trunk special train last night while crossing the track. He died from the injuries sustained a couple of hours later.

LOCAL ASPECT OF THE G. T. R. STRIKE.

A BROKEN RAIL NEAR BEST'S DISCOVERED IN TIME.

An Accident Might Have Occured if it Had not Been for the Presence of Mind of a Little Boy.

The fact that the Grand Trunk Railway Company can run their trains very little longer without trackmen to keep their lines in repair, and without endangering the lives of the travelling public was clearly demonstrated last night, when the mail trains from Toronto due here at 9 o'clock, had a narrow escape from being ditched by a broken rail.

The spot where the defective rail was disclosed is about half a mile this side of Best's station, and to little Johnny Foster, the ten year old son of Mr. John Foster, of the second concession of Smith, is due the credit of preventing serious consequences. The little Foster boy was walking along the railroad track, and came across a rail broken about six inches from one end. The little fellow immediately ran and got a lantern and red handerkchief with which he stopped the train with its load of human freight, just in time to save an accident. The piece of rail could easily be picked out of its place as there was nothing whatever holding it. Nearly all the passengers got out and looked on while the train passed slowly over the defective rail.

When the mail train reached town word was sent to Lindsay and an auxiliary train sent out to repair the road at that spot.

There was a number of Peterborough people on the Toronto train and they consider they had a close escape from being ditched.

The appended letter gives some interesting details concerning the local aspect of the strike:

Dear Sir,—Five labourers were brought up from Montreal this morning by a Grand Trunk official and two detectives, the former being hired to take the places of the striking trackmen on this division at wages of $1.25 per day from which $2 per week was to be deducted for board furnished by the company.

On being engaged the men were given to understand that the strike was off in Ontario, but on arriving here and finding it was still in full swing, one of them named John Gilmour, declined to take work. He was at once taken in hand by the local strikers and secured a job on the Trent Valley Canal at better wages than he would have earned on the Grand Trunk. The other four men, stepped into the shoes of the gang, which worked on the section south towards Belleville, and are doing scab work under George Clark, of George street, as their foreman. The two detectives are with the Montrealers.

The Grand Trunk expected that there would be fully 150 scabs come up from Montreal and had a boarding car brought here by special train from Lindsay, provisioned for that many men.

Offers have been made to labouring men of the town to undertake the work of the trackmen at $1.50 per day and free board.

Notices have appeared in the city papers stating that Roadmaster Ferguson of the local division had his sections all in charge of competent men. The strikers are in a position to state that he has not a trackman working under him with the exception of the four Frenchmen from Montreal who came up this morning.

Yours truly,
TRACKMAN.

Peterborough, June 9th, 1899.

A public meeting will be held in the Sons of England Hall to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the United Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen. The citizens are cordially invited to be present and express their opinions on the grievances under which the trackmen are suffering.

THE BANK OF MONTREAL.

In another column will be found the report of the annual meeting of that sterling financial institution, the Bank of Montreal, which on perusal will be found to reveal a highly satisfactory condition of affairs in connection with the bank, carrying with it, as shown by the remarks of the General Manager and the Vice-President, the prosperity of the country as well.

The year's profits after allowing for all contingencies totals $1,350,582.65, enabling the profit and loss account to be reinforced by over a million—the big sum of $1,102,792.72 being placed to the credit of that account after the shareholders have drawn a ten per cent. dividend. The increase in the profits during the past year over the year previous amounts to $150,582.65. The general expansion of business is due to the prosperity of the country at large, as evidenced by the words of the General Manager, when he says, "when business is good and the country prosperous very little need be said and I believe that with the present condition of affairs in Canada there can scarcely be two opinions. There is a feeling of buoyancy and elation regarding it that appears to be thoroughly justified by actual facts. There is hardly a branch of trade that is not prospering. The farmers are receiving good prices for their products, the Government shows increased revenues; the railways, increased traffic; stocks of all sorts have appreciated in value, while the future wealth which our mining and forest industries are expected to realize for this country are beyond computation."

The increase in deposits reaches the enormous sum of $5,800,000 as compared with $600,000, the increase of last year, which is another point worthy of attentio nas denoting the prosperity of the general public.

The gratifying statement as a whole is only what might be expected from a financial institution conducted on such lines as is the Bank of Montreal and not the least gratifying portion of it is the cheerful view taken of Canada's future by the directors.

Mr. A. G. Parker, the popular local manager, will have no reason to blush when handing the annual statement to any of the customers of the bank.

THE SENATE.

The Sturgeon Falls Colonization, (Independent) says: — "That the inutility of the Senate, or Upper House at Ottawa, is becoming more and more apparent, is evidenced by the recent acts of the Legislative Assemblies of Ontario and Prince Edward Island, both of which adopted resolutions favouring a reform of some kind in regard to the Upper Chamber; and recent acts of the latter body would seem to prove, not only its uselessness, but that it has developed into a veritable nuisance as well. Its rejection of the Government measure relating to the Exchequer Court, in which it was sought to have a judge versed in the French language preside in cases from the Province of Quebec, in which the persons interested did not understand English, can be excused on no other than purely partisan grounds, as nothing could be fairer or more just than that which the measure sought to obtain. And if the membership of the Senate, as at present made up, is influenced in its actions by the principles and the prejudices of the Conservative chiefs, such acts will not help the latter any, nor raise them in the estimation of the people of Canada. The Conservative party is out of power now, and there it will most probably remain, while it is officered by Foster, Haggart, Montague & Co. * * * And further, these irritating acts of the Senate may be only hastening the day when that political morgue may be cleared off Parliament Hill, or at least a great change wrought in its system."

BINDER TWINE.

It is reported on good authority that the Eastern manufacturers have oversold themselves on the amount of twine manufactured, and are now running off their spindles on rope stock for twine purposes. Prices have been advancing for the past month, and from all indications, the highest figure has not been reached as yet. A prompt cessation of hostilities in the Philippines would have no tendency to lower prices, as it takes some weeks, in fact, months, to get hemp from Manilla, to the factories, and there is no immediate prospect of such good fortune. It is estimated that all the hemp that can be used in this season's harvest is afloat, and from now on it becomes apparent that prices will continue to climb—no one offering to quote an advance figure.—Machinery and Hardware Review.

THE RAINFALL THIS SPRING.

Enquiries have been made as to whether there has not been an unusually heavy rainfall this spring, and the following figures will prove of interest. The rainfall during the months named was in inches and hundredths as appended:

January, 4.50; February, 1.47; March, 5.09; April, 1.24; May, 4.18; June, to date, 2.51.

During the thunderstorm Wednesday rain fell to the amount of one inch and 20-100, greater than the rainfall during the thunderstorm of Monday, when exactly one inch was recorded. On an average, taking one month with another, about three inches, is the usual amount.

LUDGATE TIRED.

Deadman's Island Squabble Wearied Him—Gone to Puget Sound.

Vancouver, B.C., June 9.—Theodore Ludgate says he is tired of waiting for lawyers to settle the squabble over Deadman's Island, and he left for Puget Sound yesterday morning to find a location for a saw mill on the American side. Meanwhile another claimant for Deadman's Island has turned up in the person of John Collier, who says his father purchased the island in 1843.

Wealthy Bachelor Killed by Lightning.

Mitchell, Ont., June 9.—A very sudden call came to Mr. Dan McCarthy of Logan on Wednesday about 6 o'clock in the evening. McCarthy, with a hired man, was filling manure in the stable yard as a storm came up with several heavy flashes of lightning. One flash came very near where the men were working, and Mr. McCarthy remarked that they had better get away from there. The words were scarcely out of his mouth before the fatal stroke came. The current seemed to have struck Mr. McCarthy on the temple, as a distinct mark is made there. Deceased was 58 years of age, unmarried and the well-to-do owner of a 200-acre farm.

Lost on the Edmonton Route.

Seattle, Wash., June 9.—The steamship Laurada is in port from Wrangel, Alaska, with news of the death and suffering of American miners who tried to reach the Klondike gold fields over the all-Canadian route from Edmonton. Several parties reached Wrangel last week from the interior, after spending from 12 to 20 months on the trail in a vain endeavor to reach the gold fields.

They say that no less than 200 prospective miners have lost their lives by drowning, starvation, exposure and freezing during the past winter. Most of these were Americans from the eastern States. Scurvy is now ravaging the miners who are stalled on the trail, and before relief can reach them many others will have died.

Anybody That Can Carry a Gun.

New York, June 9.—It was said at the United States recruiting office yesterday that an order had been received to get as many white recruits for the Philippines as possible. No definite number was stated. The official order reads as follows: "Make all enlistments you can—infantry, light artillery and heavy artillery—for the Philippines. Select men urgent."

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15003 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334.80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

Half Sick Half Well

Many persons have their good day and their bad day. Others are about half sick all the time. They have headache, backache, and are restless and nervous. Food does not taste good, and the digestion is poor; the skin is dry and sallow and disfigured with pimples or eruptions; sleep brings no rest and work is a burden.

What is the cause of all this? Impure blood.

And the remedy?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

It clears out the channels through which poisons are carried from the body. When all impurities are removed from the blood nature takes right hold and completes the cure.

If there is constipation, take Ayer's Pills. They awaken the drowsy action of the liver; they cure biliousness.

HOUSE SAT 27 HOURS.

Costly and Obstructive Fooling of the Conservative Opposition.

INFORMATION BY TELEGRAPH.

The Bill for the Lease of the Grand Trunk Track and Terminals Reported —Why Delay Occurred in Supplying Information—The Minister Explains — Brief Session in Supply.

Ottawa, June 9.—The House yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock concluded the session which commenced at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, after sitting for 27 hours, with the exception of a recess of one hour early in the afternoon. All through the night members of the Opposition rose, one after the other, and occupied the time with speeches more or less relevant to the measure under consideration, the bill confirming the agreement with the G.T.R. for the extension of the Intercolonial Railway to Montreal, and varying from a psychological dissertation upon the phenomena of the human brain, and a phrenological study of the cranium of the Minister of Railways, to a reference to the attendance of certain members of the House at a "leg show" on the previous evening. The Opposition having demanded certain information not in the possession of the Government, Mr. Blair on the previous day wired to Montreal for it, and immediately upon its receipt over the wires laid it upon the table, and Sir Charles Tupper, in whose absence and without whose knowledge the obstructive tactics had been pursued during the night, at once accepted the opportunity of expressing the opinion that the remaining clauses of the bill could be speedily disposed of. The Premier at once met the Opposition half way, and proposed that the committee rise and the House adjourn for an hour, but found himself face to face with an indignant refusal on the part of Mr. N. Clarke Wallace to be silenced and a demand for more information. Sir Charles Tupper, however, interposed with an assurance that Mr. Wallace was mistaken, and agreed that any other information that was desired might be brought down on the third reading. The Premier, who had not anticipated any further demand for information, in view of the possibilities of further obstruction upon the proposal to return to the committee stage if the committee once rose, as at first proposed, amended his proposal, and the committees took recess for an hour. The committee resumed at 8 o'clock, and at 4.30 the bill was reported. The House then went into supply, and the marine and fisheries estimates, which had been under discussion for six days in committee without much progress being made, were also passed, and at 6 o'clock the session of Wednesday was concluded. According to the official records the House did not sit on Thursday, June 8.

Amusing incidents occasionally broke the monotony of the proceedings and aroused sleeping members. While Mr. Macdonald (P.E.I.) was speaking he was interrupted with derisive remarks from the back Government benches, and angrily retorted: "Mr. Frenchy, you had better close up, for if you get my Scotch blood up you'll have to stay here all night." A roar of laughter and cries of "Bon garcon" followed, and good humor was restored for the time.

Mr. Fielding suggested that the bill be passed through committee, and that the demands of the Opposition be deferred until the third reading.

Mr. Foster characterized the proposition as absurd, and urged that all to Opposition wanted was the statement upon which the division of payment had been made.

The debate was then continued until 1.10 p.m. on Thursday. At that hour

Information by Telegraph.

Mr. Blair said he had received a telegram a few minutes ago, dated June 8, under the heading: "Montreal Joint Section, Combined Engine and Car Mileage." Taking the Grand Trunk and the Intercolonial, he would give the percentages of the Intercolonial for the last six months, for which those accounts were available, from a point between St. Lambert and Point St. Charles, which was the first division, and the accounts were made up from November to April last, the percentage of the Intercolonial being: November 12.81, December 10.46, January 9.42, February 10.05, March 11.62 and April 16.81. All this information was made up in different sections, and the next section was from St. Lambert to St. Hyacinthe, which was the general division of the G.T.R., but did not take in St. Rosalie. The Intercolonial percentages were: November 20.90, December 16.20, January 14.88, February 16.19, March 18.45, April 20.78. From St. Rosalie to St. Hyacinthe: November 22.03, December 17.13, January 15.69, February 18.29, March 19.40, April 30.07. On the Chaudiere branch: November 68.39, December 70.98, January 69.65, February 68.62, March 68.64, April 70.81. They would find instead of the combined mileage of the Intercolonial system being only in the neighborhood of 3, 4 or 5 per cent., it averaged over 25 per cent., in fact something like 27 per cent.

He had a statement also showing the actual cash matters as to the line between St. Lambert and St. Rosalie, for which they had acquired a title or lease of half the profits. Between March 1, 1898, and March 1, 1899, $56,183 in the gross represented the amount the Grand Trunk was paid, and of which amount the Intercolonial's share was $18,148. The Intercolonial percentage was 28.40. The total amount paid by the Grand Trunk, including salaries, was $16,961, of which the Intercolonial share was $4,518, and on which the Intercolonial percentage of the whole was 18.91, or nearly 32 per cent. For repairs at stations, operating section and other expenses the Intercolonial share was $18,556. The Grand Trunk, including the Intercolonial, for maintenance, repairs and operating expenses was $73,094 on a percentage over 25 per cent.

The Bill Reported.

This practically ended the struggle. By agreement the committee of the House remained in committee, took a recess until 8 o'clock, when the discussion of the bill was resumed and continued till 10 minutes to 5, when the bill was reported without amendment, and stands for third reading next week.

The House immediately went into committee of supply, and resumed the consideration of the last of the votes for the Marine and Fisheries Department. After an hour's discussion the item for the fisheries serive branch was passed.

The House then adjourned until 3 o'clock to-day.

THE SENATE.

Ottawa, June 9.—In the Senate yesterday afternoon Senator Power moved that when the Senate adjourns to-day it stands adjourned until Tuesday next. After debate, the motion for the adjournment was adopted.

In committee on the bill to further amend the Adulteration Act, Sir William Hingston stated that the bill simply made law of a system which already existed. All prescriptions were now made under the British Pharmacopoeia. The colonies had been endeavoring to secure uniformity in the matter of pharmacopoeia Canada taking a leading part. The bill was reported without amendment.

BLOWN TO BITS.

Two Factories Demolished and a Good Deal of Damage Done—Loss Over $50,000.

New York, June 9.—Thirty-six buildings, comprising almost the entire plant of the Nordlinger-Charlton Fireworks Company at Graniteville, Richmond Borough, were blown to bits yesterday afternoon and the entire fireworks plant practically wiped out of existance. All of the buildings were destroyed within a space of five minutes, and, although the fires which followed lasted for several hours, the wreck was complete within a few minutes after the first detonation. No lives were lost, only three persons were injured, only two of them seriously. The loss on the buildings will probably not amount to over $2,500, as most of the structures were small and cheaply constructed. The loss on material, raw and that made up into fireworks, will amount to over $30,000.

Payne Works Blown Up.

An explosion occurred at the manufacturing plant of the Payne Fireworks Company at Greenfield, L.I., yesterday and resulted in the destruction of two manufacturing sheds and a small magazine. The magazine contained all the goods ready for shipment. One man was slightly injured, although there were several hundred people about the place at the time.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at James Lynch's drug store as their giving away to their many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size 50c and $1 Every bottle warranted.

A BIG SENSATION.

Rev. Father Geoghegan's Case to Be Appealed—Surprising Evidence Promised.

Hamilton, June 9.—The Geoghegan case is to be reopened, and it is said the investigation will be productive of a greater sensation than anything that became known during the hearing of the affair before the court of triers. Mr. P. D. Crerar, who is acting for Rev. Father Geoghegan, has forwarded an appeal against the verdict of the court of triers to Bishop DuMoulin.

Mr. Crerar says in the appeal that the whole accusation of immorality, set up at the recent trial, is denied and new evidence of surprising character will be offered. This evidence, he felt sure, ought to clear his client. According to Mr Crerar, Miss Hore, who made the accusation against Father Geoghegan, has retracted the charges. He claims to have a letter which he received from Miss Hore, and in which she intimates the charges were untrue and were made by her out of spite, because Father Geoghegan had been circulating objectionable remarks about her conduct.

The time for receiving the appeal is not up till June 14.

The Beauty that Attracts Men

Is not so much in the features as in a clear, healthy complexion, and a plump body filled with the vigour and vitality of perfect health. Pale, weak, languid women are fully restored to robust health by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, a condensed food which creates rich, pure blood and new nerve tissues.

Milk Combine for Toronto.

Toronto, June 8.—A proposition from an American syndicate has been made to the Milk Dealers' Association, in which it is proposed to buy up the routes of city milk dealers at the rate of $1,000 cash per each eight-gallon can of milk delivered each day. The quantity of milk delivered daily is about 8,000 gallons, so that to effect the purchase $1,000,000 would have to be expended.

Lost in the River.

Brantford, June 8.—Nelson Horning, recently from Goderich, and employed in the Waterous Engine Works here, was drowned in the river on Tuesday night. He was in the river swimming, when he got beyond his depth, and was carried down the stream. The firemen, with the lifeboat, were called out, but the body was not recovered until about two hours after.

The Storm Caused Death.

Chatham, Ont., June 8.—John Wesson was killed in Harwich township by being crushed beneath a part of a roof of a barn blown off during a storm.

Gus Donovan was struck by lightning yesterday on his farm, con. 5, Harwich, and instantly killed.

Fatally Hot in New York.

New York, June 8.—The thermometer still remains near the 90 point in this city. Seven deaths from the heat were reported during the 24 hours ending at noon yesterday.

Had a Rib Broken.

Niagara Camp, June 8.—Only one accident of any moment has occurred, and the victim is Pte. Heffernan of the 3rd Dragoons, who was tethering his horse when the animal kicked him, and broke one of his ribs. He is getting along all right. The heat was intense yesterday, and there were several prostrations.

They Stole C.P.R. Money.

Trail, B.C., June 8.—J. W. Brewster, formerly Agent for the C.P.R. at this place, and J. H. Sinclair, his assistant, were yesterday found guilty of embezzlement of the funds of the railway company, and sentenced respectively to 15 months and two years and six months imprisonment with hard labor.

FREE MEDICINES AND APPLIANCE

To any honest man who may try them a reasonable time.

If he is pleased with the result, he is to keep and pay for them. If he is dissatisfied, he has simply to return the appliance and remainder of medicine to us, and that ends the transaction without any expense whatsoever. There is no C.O.D. fraud, no deception of any nature.

Our treatment is so sure to give bodily strength, to remove impediments to marriage, to stop unhealthy losses, to bring natural development and tone to every portion of the body, and to restore to weak men the feelings and buoyancy of youth, that we gladly make this offer in good faith.

If you are interested and in earnest, write your name and address in the blank form below, cut out the coupon and mail it to Erie Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

We pay Canadian duty. No delay, no exposure.

ERIE MEDICAL CO.,
66 NIAGARA ST., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Sirs:—As per statement in Peterborough Examiner you may mail to me, under plain letter seal, postage paid, full explanation of your new system of furnishing your Appliance and Remedies to reliable men on trial and approval without expense—no payment to be made in advance—no cost of any kind unless treatment proves successful and entirely satisfactory. Also mail sealed, free, your new medical book for men.

FARMER'S INSTITUTE.

The Excursion to Guelph, Yesterday Proved a Great Success.

The majority of those who took in the excursion to the Provincial Agricultural College and Experimental Farm at Guelph, yesterday, have returned to town. The trip was taken under the auspices of the Farmers' Institutes of West Peterborough and East Durham and about 150 residents in the town took advantage of the occasion to visit the Farm and College. Before reaching Port Hope the number was doubled and the excursion party was therefore a large one.

The visitors state that they were received with the utmost cordiality and shown every attention by the provincial officials. Prof Zavitz took the party over a portion of the farm explaining the experiments which were being conducted, and answering questions as to the success attained in regard to raising certain crops. The stables and piggery were inspected under charge of the farmer and the poultry yards were shown by Mr. Graham. A great deal of interest was manifested in the dairy also.

The party returned last night thoroughly delighted with the trip and with the courtesy shown by the officials.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. John McKee is in town, a guest at the Snowden House.

Mr. R. H. Fairweather is in Toronto to-day on business.

Messrs. W. Buntin and C. LeBrun went up to Toronto yesterday.

Miss Lila Smith has returned from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Turner, Millbrook.

Mr. A. P. McLean has been renewing old acquaintances in Cavan during the week.

Miss Chambers has been visiting at the residence of Mr. Hooper, Emily, for the past week.

The Pedro Club held its last session Thursday evening. Miss Rackham won the lady's prize, consisting of a handsome silver bracelet.

Miss Gillespie, who for many years has been in the employ of Robert Fair & Co., has decided to retire from her position.

Mr. C. D. Barr, Registrar of Lindsay, passed through last evening on his way to Ottawa with a deputation to interview the Government regarding the Lindsay and Mattawa Railway.

June Weddings.

"Happy is the bride whom the sun shines on," will be the happy epigram in the case of numerous matrimonial alliances during this month. SPORTING PASTIMES.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

BASEBALL.

Everything is in good shape for the game to-morrow with the Argyles of Toronto, and should the weather continue favourable a big crowd should witness the event. The price of admission has been lowered to fifteen cents, and the management has also made a very wise move in allowing ladies free admission to the game. It is to be hoped that the ladies will show their appreciation of the kindness the management is extending to them and will turn out in large numbers. A serious evil, the club had to contend with at the previous games, is the practice of boys and in fact men, sneaking through or climbing over the fences. A couple of special constables are being engaged for the afternoon, who will keep a sharp watch on such persons and anyone attempting to scale the fence or crawl through, it will be prosecuted.

There has been a little shake up in the team since last Saturday, which will likely strengthen the local aggregation considerable. Johnston is going to hold down first bag instead of Paxman, while Art Thompson will play left field. Dan McCabe has been suffering from a sore foot during the week, but it is thought he will be in condition for to-morrow's game. Lionel King, who gave every satisfaction as umpire last Saturday, will most likely officiate in that capacity again to-morrow. The team that has been picked is as follows:

Challenges from outside teams continue to come in but strange to say they all ask for games in Peterborough and the local men have not had an offer to play in any outside town. Arrangements have been made to play Bowmanville here on Saturday, the 17th inst., but the management of that team has written to-day asking to have the date changed to the 15th, two days earlier. Cobourg will likely play two games here on July 1st. Other teams are begging for dates.

Pitcher Dan McCabe stepped on a nail a few days ago and is suffering from a rather sore foot in consequence.

Art Thompson is in the game again and this hard hitting outfielder should strengthen the team a lot by his fine batting.

D'Russia is doing such good work in the field that he ought to get a place on the team for to-morrow's game with the Argyles.

Peterborough will not be able to hold Sheridan long. He will soon be in fast company.

WHEELING.

The next run of the C. G. E. Bicycle Club will be to Chemong Park on Saturday, June 10th, leaving the Central Park at 2 p. m. sharp. All the wheelmen of the factories are invited to turn out. Baseball and bathing.

FITZSIMMONS AND JEFFRIES.

The contest between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries will be reported by rounds at the Parlour Restauran to-night.

DRUGGISTS' EARLY CLOSING.

On and after Thursday, June 15th, inst., drug stores will close at 7 p.m. until September 1st.

One store will be found open each evening for the convenience of the medical profession and general public.

Cards will be placed in each store, intimating which place is to be open.

ALMOST FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Galway Farmer is Thrown From a Load of Wood.

On Wednesday evening last, as Mr. Edward Sheahan of Galway, was drawing a jag of firewood from the woods to his home, his horses took fright and ran away, throwing him from the load. The wheels of the wagon passed over his body breaking several ribs and injuring him internally.

The team was caught and on friends going to look for Mr. Sheehan, they found him lying on the roadside, as if dead. They secured mattresses and took him to his home, when Dr Frost was called in and expressed the opinion that his recovery was very doubtful.

The unfortunate victim of the accident has a wife and three small children, who will have the sympathy of the entire township, as Mr. Sheehan is one of the most popular men in Galway.

BIBLE STUDY CONFERENCE.

Young Men's Christian Association Hall—June 12-15.

Arrangements have been made for holding meetings for the study of the Bible in the Y. M. C. A. Hall next week, commencing Monday evening, June 12th, and concluding Thursday, June 15th.

Afternoon and evening sessions will be held each day.

This conference is under the auspices of the Toronto Bible Training School, and in connection with the Y. M. C. A.

Instruction will be given by Revs. Dr. Stewart, Elmore Harvie, D. D., and H. W. Frost, of Toronto.

The programme will include the study of the Epistle to the Hebrews, the Gospel of John, the Abundant Life, and other topics on How to Study the Bible.

The conference will be inter-denominational, evangelical and spiritual.

Local ministers will preside at the sessions.

Bible students, Sunday school teachers and other Christian workers, indeed all who desire a better knowledge of God's word with helpful suggestions as to the best methods of studying it and using it in Christian service, are cordially invited to the Conference.

A Query Answered.

Anxious questioners ask, "Is there no sure cure for corns?" We are glad to be able to tell these sufferers that Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor will relieve them in a day, and extract corns without pain. It never fails.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

An Opportunity to Spend Eight Hours Amongst the Beautiful Scenery of the Muskoka Lakes.

The premier excursion of the year takes place on Wednesday, June 14th, when the first annual excursion of the Hastings Court, Canadian Order of Foresters, takes place to Muskoka. The excursion is from all points along the Midland Division from Belleville through to Bracebridge and Gravenhurst. Tickets from Belleville to Lindsay, inclusive, are good to return until June 17th; from other points they are good until the 16th. The return fare from Peterborough is the small sum of $1.45, and proportionately low rates have been arranged from the other points along the line. Passengers can leave on the regular morning train, starting from Belleville at 5.40 a.m., and leaving Peterborough at 8 o'clock or they can take the special which is made up here and leaves Peterborough at 7.35 a.m.; Beat's 7.47; Omemee 8.03; Reaboro 8.10; Lindsay 8.20, etc. The boats will leave on arrival of the trains at Muskoka wharf. Eight hours will be spent on the beautiful Muskoka lakes and the returning trains that evening will leave Muskoka wharf at 7 o'clock.

The Hastings citizens brass band will be in attendance and when it is stated that Rev. Father McGuire, of Hastings, is the chairman of the committee, it is a guarantee that the excursion will be the success of the season.

Y. W. C. A.

An interesting time is expected at the Club meeting on Saturday evening of this week. The programme will consist of lime-light views picturing scenes in the life of Christ, and instrumental music. The address of the Rev. Mr. Bastow and the solos given at the last meeting of the club were very thoroughly enjoyed.

Mothers meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4.15. All mothers will be made very welcome.

The Montreal Island Belt Line Railway Co., of Montreal, has bought four additional "C.G.E. 1,000" railway motors from the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd.

The Grand Trunk Railway system is arranging to light its new freight sheds and shops at Toronto with electricity, and has placed an order with the Canadian General Electric Co. for two 500 light multipolar dynamos for two 500 light multipolar dynamos with switchboards complete.

The Canadian General Electric Company, manufacturers of electrical machinery and supplies, of 65-71 Front street, Toronto, has leased the building at present occupied by the Bysiop Bicycle Company, King street east, for ten years, with the privilege of a renewal for ten years at the expiration of that time. The new offices will be ready by July 1. The ground floor will be given over for the offices of the company, and the salesrooms will be placed upstairs.

The Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., is installing a 100 light plant for the Beaver Portland Cement Co., Montreal.

The Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., is installing a 25 k.w. 550 volt generator for the Strathroy, Ont., Electric Co.

The Land Security Co., Toronto, has ordered a motor for hoisting purposes from the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd.

The Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., has just received an order from the Rubber Tire Wheel Co., of Springfield, O., for a complete tire welding plant.

The British Columbia Sugar Refining Co. is increasing its lighting plant and has ordered another 500 light dynamo from the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., of its latest multipolar type.

The Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., has an order from the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., for two standard 40-k.w. direct connected generators with Ideal engines, which are to be used for the lighting of their new passenger station at Vancouver, B.C.

The Toronto city council has awarded the contract for electrical apparatus to be used for lighting the new city and county buildings to the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd. The plant consists of one 100-k.w. direct connected unit together with switchboard instruments.

The British America corporation which controls the well known Le Roi and other valuable mining properties at Rossland, B.C. has decided to equip these mines electrically, and has placed their initial order with the Canadian General Electric Co. for three 150-h.p. three-phase induction motors.

The Canada Tool Co., Dundas, Ont., is in receipt of a large order from the Dominion Bridge Co., Montreal, for special machinery. The large punches are to be operated electrically by means of motors directly attached to the machines, and for this purpose an order has been placed with the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., for four enclosed slow speed C.G.E. motors.

The Trenton Electrical Co., Trenton, Ont., expects to have its transmission lines to Belleville, Ont., completed very shortly, when it will be in a position to furnish power to the various manufacturers of that place. R. J. Graham is one of the first to avail himself of this power, and has already contracted for about 50 h.p. He has also placed an order with the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., for one 30-h.p. and one 10-h.p. three-induction motor for operating refrigerating machinery, hoists and fans, etc., in his cold storage establishment.

The Montreal Cotton Co., Valleyfield, Que., is making some very extensive additions to its electric plant. It has at present installed four 600 h.p. three-phase generators, manufactured by the Canadian Electric Co., Ltd., and has just placed an order with the same company for a large 2,000 h.p. generator of the revolving type, together with switchboard panels complete. It has also ordered two 85-k.w. exciters, these having sufficient capacity for furnishing exciting current to the full equipment of generators. Upon the completion of this additional installation the Montreal Cotton Company will have the largest and most up-to-date isolated power plant on the continent.

The Dominion Bridge Co., Montreal, has ordered from the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., a G.E. 1,000 motor equipment with special resistances, to be used for operating the heavy plate rolling machinery.

The London Electric Co., is still engaged in the work of remodelling its power house, and has placed an order with the Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., for a complete marble panel switchboard, consisting of sixteen panels.

The Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., has just received an order from M. E. Keefe, of Halifax, N.S., for a standard 25-k.w. direct driven unit for the lighing of the new elevators which he is erecting for the Intercolonial Railway.

At a meeting held recently of the committee appointed to make the local arrangements for the approaching annual convention of the Canadian Electrical Association at Hamilton, a draft programme was considered and adopted. The dates selected for the convention, subject to the approval of the executive, are the 28th, 29th, and 30th June. The business sessions, as well as the annual banquet, will probably be held in the new Royal Hotel. A sufficient number of papers on a variety of subjects of interest to those engaged in the various departments of electrical work have been promised, and are in course of preparation. Among the features of entertainment will probably be a trip to the Beach over the Hamilton Radial Railway and an evening excursion on the lake, a trip to Grimsby Park over the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Electric Railway, and a visit of inspection to the stations of the Cataract Power Company at St. Catharines and Hamilton. The Hamilton Street Railway Company have very kindly offered free transportation to members of the association during the convention. Everything points to a successful and enjoyable meeting.

Grafton & Co. Fine Clothiers.

Never before in our business history were we taken more by surprise than this season by the unprecedently early and emphatic response to our announcement of new summer goods. As a result of such heavy sales so early in the season we are compelled to duplicate many of the lines of goods, both domestic and foreign, and have had our hundreds of busy employees working day and night to keep our stock fully assorted. As is usually the case in such emergency, buyers are apt to overstep the mark and buy too largely of some of the leading lines; however, you will find on perusal of our list that we have placed them at such marvellously low prices for such high class up-to-date goods that an inspection of our stock will make buying simply irresistable.

To those who have already patronized us this season we extend our hearty thanks. You have responded to our advertisements because you believed them. We are proud of our reputation in this respect, its foundation is as solid as the rock of Gibraltar. Honesty, our standard for the future—the verdict on our past.

Our Clothing goes direct from our factory to the consumer. That enables us to SELL CLOTHING at close wholesale prices. GRAFTON & CO., Manufacturers of Fine Clothing, 387 George street, Peterborough.

THE NIGHT CLERK'S STORY.

A FACE LIKE CHALK.

A very bad attack of the Grippe one year ago last winter left my system in a very weak state and my nervous system completely unstrung. After getting over the dangerous stage of the disease I naturally expected to gain strength, but, unfortunately, did not do so. On the contrary, my blood became weaker. I daily lost strength and vitality, and my nervous system became so weak that it was a constant source of suffering both day and night. I lost appetite, the sight of food nauseated me, the weak state of my system caused shortness of breath and unnatural action of the heart, such as fluttering and violent palpitation, and my face was like chalk. I was in this condition and constantly getting weaker when I b gan taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. I had read the books they distributed and their advertisements in the papers, and thought, "Well, I have taken so much medicine without benefit it is useless to spend any more money. However, I finally made up my mind. It is a forlorn hope; I can but try. If I am not benefited I will not be hurt. So I bought one box and received great benefit therefrom, so continued their use, and to-day am a well man in consequence; my blood is strong, my face has the ruddy hue of health, my appetite has returned, I sleep well, I have not the slightest indications of nervousness or heart trouble, and from a sick, weak, nervous man Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have transformed me in six weeks to full health and strength." I am yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM WILLARD,

WORK AND MARRIAGE

MAY TALENTS THRIVE IN A DOMESTIC ATMOSPHERE?

Is the Ideal Wife the One of Vast Ambitions?—Reflected Fame Is Not Always Satisfying—Foolish Little Mrs. Benedict.

In a recent issue of The Atlantic Monthly somebody gives an interesting if not uncommon view of the artist and marriage.

This writer says: "The imperious need of man is not to love, but to work. If he love happily, his work goes on apace; if he do not love, it still goes on.

"If he marries and loves his wife, he is glad of her presence in the intervals of rest between labor or novel or portrait."

And of woman and love this writer points out: "A primal need of woman's nature is not to work, but to love. She must decide whether to pursue her chosen art or to marry will make her happier."

To sum it all up, the author of these remarks has but subscribed to the old sentiment, "Love is of man's life a thing apart; 'tis woman's whole existence."

I may be neither so learned nor wise as the old writer or the newer one quoted, but the world is spread out before us all, and why may we not all tell of the lessons or facts that we have learned?

Love is not of "man's life a thing apart," neither is it "woman's whole existence"—that is, it is just so much a part of her existence as it is a man's; no more nor no less on either side.

It has been insisted upon times without number that a talented man or a talented woman should remain unwed; that one who is taken up with the pursuit of fame is not calculated to make another happy. Well, we cannot have everything in this world. If our husbands are inventors or scientists or writers or painters, we cannot expect them to be amiable escorts to theaters or dinner parties every evening. We must find our recompense in being "the wife of the famous Mr. Smith."

And now for the other side of the question, for there is another side, and this side is the one that provokes much gossip, and much speculation every time it is dragged forth into the glare of public opinion. Shall a woman pursue her talents after she is married?

Let the life stories of the women who have answer this question. There is no need for me to attempt to.

Perhaps the talented and ambitious woman is quite content to be the "famous Mrs. Smith," while her husband is simply "Mr. Smith, the husband of the brilliant Mrs. Smith." If Mr. Smith is satisfied to have this so, why need the rest of us make comment? But Mr. Smith is not always satisfied, and that is why we comment and many times credit Mr. Smith's rebellion to the arrant imperiousness of man. Poor Mr. Smith! He rather deserves our sympathy. He is a little proud, you know; has a good position, which he has made for himself in the world, and love, you know, is dependent upon a good many things for life, and not the least of these on the part of the proud man is a certain little tactful flattery on the part of the woman he has asked to share his lot. If you call this selfishness and arrogance, then set it down to that, but remember all the while that men have ever been so, and the most of us would not change it all if we could.

My Atlantic Monthly friend mentions Mary Shelley and Elizabeth Barrett Browning as the happy wives of talented men and wisely mentions them as exceptions. These were truly ideal marriages, but it was the intellectual and not the domestic life that formed the ideal.

There have been other happy unions of men and women whose tastes and aspirations ran along harmoniously in the same grooves, but these, too, must be noted as exceptional. They certainly do not belong to the commonplace, else we would not cite them.

Let me tell you a funny little story. At least it is funny now, because both the people concerned in it are young and the honeymoon is not so long past that they have grown indifferent to the small trifles that worry each other every day.

Mr. Benedict is an immensely clever fellow. He looks well to his business affairs and writes stories and poems that meet with ready acceptance. Now little Mrs. Benedict has discovered that a literary man's wife has woes. She has been thinking a good deal about this discovery of late, and one evening not long since she read some of Mr. Benedict's stories and poems and cried. She did not cry because the writings were in a particularly doleful strain, but she cried because—well, she told Mr. Benedict the "because" after dinner, and she reserved her tears until that moment too.

"You are not writing them to me," she sobbed. "You love, or you have loved, some other woman."

Poor Benedict did what he could to comfort her. He declared that she was the only woman he had ever loved or ever would love and finally wound up vowing he would never write another line.

Now, about Mr. Benedict's heart affairs I do not know, but I do know that he will write many more lines; that he can no more refrain from putting on paper his rare and charming thoughts than a bird can cease from flying until its wings are broken, and I am glad of it. It should take more than a woman's whim to kill a man's ambition. But never fear; genius is immortal. It may sometimes be stifled, but it can never be killed.

I do hope that dear little Mrs. Benedict will put by her childishness and praise the next stories and poems that the clever Benedict writes until he concludes that he has discovered the very best critic that the world has ever produced and therefore works to please the little critic at his hearth as well as the big outside public. If Mrs. Benedict does not do this, then she will find her talented husband drifting away from her and becoming more and more devoted to his work. And then it just may happen that she will call herself a "neglected wife" and take no share or pleasure in the fame that comes to Mr. Benedict.

A woman may pursue her talents after marriage—yes, if she can set aside all domestic claims without bringing discord into her own or the lives of others.—Margaret Hannis in St. Louis Republic.

Hairene for the Hair

Mrs. Mary Wright, Berlin, says:—"My hair was coming out very fast, in fact it combed out by the handful. Nothing I used did any good until trying Hairene, from the first application of which I noted an improvement, and less than one bottle entirely stopped the falling. It is a clean preparation to use, and a valuable acquisition for the toilet."

A favorite subject of great painters is a mother instructing a daughter in music—giving the early lessons. Mothers naturally want their daughters to be accomplished musicians. It helps them along in a social way. But the most important instruction a girl gets from mother is that of womanly health. This instruction should begin early. If a girl enters womanhood free from the ailments that usually beset her at this period, she will possess the greatest of all qualifications for social success. Nothing in the world equals good health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes irregularities of girls and women. It strengthens the organs that distinguish the sex. It establishes a vigorous constitution, stops the drains and pains, and is of incalculable benefit in case of prolapsus. For the young girl entering womanhood, for the bride, the wife and mother, for those passing through the "turn of life," it is of untold benefit. It fits the girl to be a wife, and the wife to be a mother. It cures at home all drains, pains, aches and irregularities of women. It is a temperance cure—no alcohol or narcotic in it. Buy it of honest medicine dealers, who do not try to substitute something else to make a little more profit.

Mrs. A. F. Crenshaw, of Panasoffkee, Sumter Co., Fla., writes: "It is with heart-felt gratitude to you and for your kind advice, that I must tell you what your medicine has done for me. After consulting you about my case I took your 'Favorite Prescription' and can say it cured me of female weakness. I was all run-down; suffered with sick headache, pains in the back and bearing-down pains. My health is better now than it has been for three years."

For stubborn bowels, lazy liver and biliousness, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are pleasant in fact as well as name—no griping.

PERIL MADE THEM FRIENDS.

The Wild Beasts Herded Together to Escape a Forest Fire.

An incident of forest fires in the hills of the Descanso neighborhood, in southern California, illustrates the comradeship that common peril brings about among beasts as well as among men. After the flames had completed their work of destruction and spread a pall over the hills a rancher went forth among the charred stumps and smoking brushheaps to look for a number of cattle and colts which he feared had been hemmed in by the fire. He went across gully and ridge in his search, until at last he saw his stock some little distance ahead.

He was more than astonished upon coming up to the group to find not only his cattle and colts, but a deer, three wildcats, a coyote and several rabbits, all alive and apparently in no fear of him. They watched his approach with indifference, the timidity gone from the big eyed deer, no venom in the wildcat's purr and honesty shining in the gray coyote's face. The rabbits sat on their haunches as meek as the pets of children. But the poor coyote was in pain, and as the farmer came close the erstwhile robber of the roost dragged his helpless hind quarters toward the man in mute supplication. The legs of the animal had been frightfully burned.

The rancher was in no mood to make friends of such strange creatures, and at once drove his stock through the smoldering brush, the deer going along with the cattle, the rabbits hopping along at the rancher's heels, the wildcats slouching along behind, and the coyote, unable to follow, whining a pathetic appeal for succor. When the burning field was passed, the deer broke into a run for the distant hills, the rabbits were away like a flash, and the old defiance and snarling leer came back to the wildcats, who scorned to make a show of haste. They walked slowly out of sight.—San Diego Union.

INCREASED THEIR PAY.

Montreal Street Railway Men Get Better Wages.

Montreal, June 8.—The Montreal Street Railway Company has decided to increase the pay of all its men, a sum aggregating $35,000 per annum. The men will also get $1,000 free insurance for accident on or off duty, and half that amount for total disability. Men in the service over five years will receive free uniforms. Motormen and conductors of two years' service will have their pay increased to 15 cents per hour. The increase means that permanent employes will receive $6.50 additional per annum, the increase to conductors and motormen of two years' standing being $35 per annum, and of five years, $49. The increase affects 1,000 men.

Brakeman Best Killed.

Lucknow, Ont., June 8.—A fatal accident occurred at the Grand Trunk station yard here on Tuesday night. Harry Best was instantly killed while coupling cars. He was standing on the cow catcher of the engine, and as the locomotive approached the car he raised the heavy iron drawbar to attach it to the car, but in the dim light at the time he missed the coupler, and the engine and car came together. The body was terribly mangled, the heart and other vitals being torn out. The deceased, who was unmarried, and about 21 years of age, came here from Palmerston some four weeks ago.

Mr. John N. Babcock's Experience With Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sharbot Lake, Ont., May 29. — No resident of this place is better known to the thousands of tourists and sportsmen who visit us annually than is Mr. John N. Babcock.

Mr. Babcock has had many thrilling experiences, but the narrowest escape he ever had, he tells of in these words: "After twenty years of pain, caused by Gravel and other Kidney Complaints, I am pleased to be able to state that I have been completely cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. During these years I have spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and remedies, but only Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me."

Doukhobors Detained.

Quebec, June 8.—The Lake Huron and her 2,300 Doukhobors are at Grosse Isle Quarantine Station, and will be detained in quarantine for three weeks.

On the way out from Batoum one case of smallpox revealed itself, and it was thought best to detain the ship.

A great reception was in store for them had they arrived Tuesday night, Prince Hilkoff, Mr. Evans and Mr. Elkinton of Philadelphia, representatives of the Society of Friends, being here to meet them and distribute funds which had been subscribed for them.

IT'S TOO RISKY
To undergo an operation for Itching Piles when Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is a surer, cheaper, easier way to cure.

Cruel, barbarous methods belong to the dark ages of the past. There was a time when a surgical operation was considered the only possible cure for piles. Not so now. Occasionally there is still found a physician who adheres to this dangerous and expensive method, but to every one who still believes in using the knife, ninety and nine recommend the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. C. M. Harlan, writing in The American Journal of Health, said:

"We know that 'Dr. Chase's Ointment' meets all the requisitions of the highest standard of worth, that it will be held in high esteem wherever it is used, and consequently we endorse it to every reader."

By force of merit alone Dr. Chase's Ointment has won its way into this wide, wide world, until it has made the name of Dr. Chase familiar in almost every home, and won for the venerable discoverer the title of "America's Greatest Physician."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has never been known to fail as a cure for piles. It matters not whether blind, itching, bleeding or protruding, Dr. Chase's Ointment is an absolute and perfect cure.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is the discovery of the author of Dr. Chase's Recipe Book, whose portrait and signature is on every box of the genuine. 60 a box. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

DR. GAUTHIER ENDORSES

The statement that Mr. Major owes his life to . . . . DR. CHASE'S Kidney Liver Pills

Dr. J. T. A. Gauthier, of Valleyfield, Que., writes: "I, the undersigned, certify that the contents of this letter, in regard to the cure of Mr. Isadore Major, by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, is correct."

Here is Mr. Major's letter: "After 20 years of suffering from backache and kidney disease I owe my life to Dr. A. W. Chase. I had tried an endless variety of remedies to no avail, and on the recommendation of a friend began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two pills that night and two next morning gave great relief, and I continued their use until now I am completely cured. My friends are surprised and pleased to see me well again, for I spent hundreds of dollars in vain trying to get cured. Before using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills my back ached so I could not put on my shoes and couldn't lift so lbs. My shoulders were sore, I had headaches and a bad taste in the mouth. These troubles are now entirely gone and what I say I am ready to prove. I have told my friends of my wonderful cure, and many have been greatly benefited by using these pills."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the greatest kidney cure the world has ever known. One pill a dose, 25c. a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

FISH TRADE TRICKS.

HOW THE PROFESSIONALS LOCATE A "BITING" GROUND.

The Secret of Successful Fishing Off the New Jersey Coast—Marking the Good Spots For Future Catches and Dodging Rivals.

"Got the range, Will?"

"Looks like it, Si."

"See the walnut tree on the hill?"

"Yes; stands about west-northwest."

"And the church steeple sou-sou-west?"

"To the dot. No mistake about that."

"How heads Ladomus' cottage?"

"About due west."

"We ought to be nearly over it now, Will. Stand by to let go when I sing out. Steady, now; steady! Let her rip. Now! Now! Bully boy! Right over the middle of it."

That is how the professional fisherman along the Jersey coast finds his favorite "biting" ground. The latter may be 20 or more fathoms deep, and a dozen or more miles offshore; but, with the aid of such landmarks as trees, steeples and beach cottages, lying in various directions along the strand, these crack surfmen seldom make a mistake in "picking up" the ground sought offshore. It's no easy job this finding of some particularly good fishing ground that has no mark on the chart and is only fixed in the mind of fishermen by study of distances from the shore.

It is a well known fact that fish must be sought. They will not, as a rule, come to the fisherman, be the latter professional or amateur. Sea fish, as well as lake fish, like rocky bottom, and it is over this kind of bottom that the best catches are made. It is no easy task to locate a rocky bed along the Jersey coast, and even with ranges or landmarks one is not always certain to find it on another day's fishing trip. The ranges are manipulated this way:

In an ordinary surfboat, such as the majority of the Jersey fishermen use, the beach line that looks so white and extensive close inshore resembles a white thread at a distance of, say, 15 miles from the land. When the fishermen discover a new ground at or about that distance offshore, they generally pick three marks on land—one north, one south and the third directly to the westward. By bringing these three marks to a convergence the happy hunting ground is located.

As a rule these fishermen are a bit selfish when new grounds are discovered. They conceal the fact as long as possible from one another, for business reasons principally, for there is a ripe competition among these beach combers, and it is only by playing possum and keeping a weather eye open that one learns what his rival sometimes knows.

One day last season a reporter was in one of these surfboats 18 miles offshore from Barnegat. The fisherman in charge of the tiny craft was heading for a rocky bottom as far offshore as he dared to go without compass and provisions. When within a mile or so of the ground, another fisherman and his helper were seen at anchor. They were hauling up whacking big bass as fast as they could throw out, and altogether they seemed to be having a glorious time. After the two boats had separated sufficiently to permit a private conversation the professional in charge of the first mentioned craft said to his shipmate:

"Did you mark it?"

"Yes," answered the other. "The pier's to the westward, the life saving station is to the northward and the cottage of that old crank is to the southward."

"That's the way I made it," replied the first speaker. All this seemed like so much Greek to one of the amateurs in the boat who began to ask questions.

"That's a new ground," said the fisherman. "We didn't know that it existed. Yes, they are catching lots of fish. Why don't I go back and try it? Well, I do not like to imitate people—at least I do not care to let them see me copy them. I'll try it some other day."

It may have been professional pride or etiquette, this sharp bit of practice, but in other walks of life it would be called a trick of the trade. It's done all along the beach. Here's another trick of the trade that a surfman at Belmar taught this landlubberly reporter. There's a schooner that takes city folk from Asbury Park offshore to fish. She was anchored ten miles offshore this particular morning over a newly found ground, and there were half a dozen or more surfboats clustered about her. The biting was first class, but presently one of the big fishing steamboats from the Battery was sighted heading down the beach. There was an interchange of conversation on the part of the professional fishermen, but they suddenly pulled up anchors as if one man and began rowing around.

The schooner weighed her bower also and under her headsails and mainsail reached offshore. Naturally the amateurs wanted to know why a shift should be made, especially as the strikes were unusually lively. "That's the Hal Corster coming down," said one of the fishermen in a half whisper, as if those on the steamboat could hear him, although she was fully two miles away. "We have a good ground here, and we don't want her pilots to find the ranges. She'll keep to the southward, and we'll circle around until she gets out of the way. That's how we save our bacon."

And they did save it too. The steamboat kept to the southward for some little distance and finally, being unable to get the ranges or whatever ground her pilots had in view, came about again and stood to the northward, finally anchoring off Long Branch. She had no sooner done so when the fishing schooner and surfboats, after a mental and ocular struggle with ranges, were back in their original positions, with their amateurs fishing like mischief.—New York Mail and Express.

THE BEST ON EARTH

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

A Bloodthirsty Editor.

Piles for 15 Years.

Mr. James Bowles, Councillor, Embro, Ont., writes: "For over 15 years I suffered the misery of bleeding, protruding piles. The many remedies I tried all failed. I was was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and must say that the first application gave relief, after the third day, the bleeding stopped and two boxes cured me completely."

All About It.

"There's one thing about the north pole," asserted the returned explorer emphatically.

The crowd leaned eagerly forward to learn the result of his investigations.

"Yes," repeated the returned explorer, lighting his cigar with great deliberation.

"Er—what did we understand"—it was the man with the inquisitive nose who spoke—"you to say it is, professor?"

The returned explorer threw away his match.

"It is the ice," he explained kindly.

BATTLE WITH SHARKS.

A Desperate Encounter In Which Two Man Eaters Were Slain.

Probably the most desperate fight which has ever been witnessed between a couple of sharks and a human being took place at Havana some time ago.

Several fruit peddlers had boarded a large mailboat, and among them was a swarthy, bare legged young chap noted among his comrades as a clever swimmer. The purser of the vessel was standing by the gangway, holding his child in his arms, watching a couple of sharks that were hanging about the ship. Accidentally the child fell out of its father's grasp into the water. The father immediately jumped overboard and seized his child, and in a moment the sharks were making for the pair.

Seeing the predicament, the bare legged young buccaneer dropped his fruit basket and went over the rail like a flash.

As the first shark turned on its back—the invariable prelude to biting its victim—the young fruit seller rose to the surface, and, with a long, keen edged knife, fairly disemboweled it.

The other was not nearly so easily disposed of. The shark seemed to realize that in the fruit seller he had a dangerous foe and apparently sparred for an opening. Several men on board the vessel blazed away at the monster with revolvers, but the young fellow begged the men to desist, being unnerved by the firing. Fish and man dived alternately, and when the fish did make for its foe the plucky boy dived and plunged the knife in its side.

The water was crimson with blood when the three were hauled safe and sound to the deck of the vessel, and a handsome sum of money was collected for the victor.

Cramps and Colic

Always relieved promptly by Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry.

When you are seized with an attack of Cramps or doubled up with Colic, you want a remedy you are sure will give you relief and give it quickly, too.

You don't want an untried something that MAY help you. You want Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which every one knows will positively cure Cramps and Colic quickly. Just a dose or two and you have ease.

But now a word of proof to back up these assertions, and we have it from Mr. John Hawke, Coldwater, Ont., who writes: "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a wonderful cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps and pains in the stomach. I was a great sufferer until I gave it a trial, but now I have perfect comfort."

Shirt Waist Girls.

Fair as any vernal flowers
That illumine a woodland way
With their brilliancy of color
On a Maytime's perfect day
Are the maidens now before us,
With their wealth of tangled curls,
Whom we designate with justice
Springtime's lovely shirt waist girls.

Man might lose his faith in summer
Were it not for such as these,
Harbingers of rosy Junetime,
With its fragrance laden breeze.
When he sees them come, as blossoms,
On the street, away he hurls
All his doubts of coming mildness,
And he blesses shirt waist girls.

Woman has more trust than man has,
For she'll wear a fine new straw
Ere the last white flake of winter
Has decided when to thaw.
Thus they ever lead men onward
(Those who won't be led are churls),
So at least these maids answer
Who are known as shirt waist girls.

Be the skies or fair or cloudy,
They will somehow look the same
Just a sight to cheer a fellow,
Be he losing at life's game.
And if I'd a choice between them
And the choicest of choice pearls
I had rather see before me
Half a dozen shirt waist girls.

No Mystery

The Sherwin-Williams Paints are not patent paints, nor chemical paints, but pure white lead and zinc and oil and drier and color and nothing else.

These make honest paints that cover most and best, and wear longest.

There is a reason why these are the best paints. This reason is not a secret nor a mystery. It is because by hard study, hard work and patient improvement for thirty years we have made the best paints that can be made—

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS

The prejudice which many sensible people have against ready-mixed paints is due to the number of inferior mixtures sold in cans. No one doubts to-day that paint can be made with the latest scientific appliances better than can be mixed from the raw materials by hand-work and guesswork. The moral is plain. Buy ready-mixed paints in which you have absolute confidence. The paints with the best reputation. The Sherwin-Williams Paints. Send for booklet "Paint Points." Free.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1898 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used, Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. For correct and full information regarding the new invention and NEWCOMBE PIANOS write to our Direct Representative. Easy Prices. Liberal Terms.

(From our own Correspondent.)
Brigade Camp, Niagara,
June 7th, 1899.

The camp opened on Tuesday with a cavalry and infantry brigade. There are about ten battalions of infantry—the 12th, 34th, 36th, 37th, 77th 20th, and 39th Battalions—and more are expected this evening. The cavalry brigade is composed of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, Second and Third Dragoons, and the Governor-General's Body Guard are expected to-morrow.

The Third Dragoons arrived on Tuesday evening about 9.30, A. and D. Squadrons per steamer Columbia, and B. and C. Squadrons on the Cambria.

Soon after the Third Dragoons arrived, Private Robert Heffernan, of C. Squadron, was kicked in the side, breaking one of his ribs, but he was speedily assisted by Dr. Young, and is now doing very nicely.

The trip across the lake, which lasted nine hours, was enlivened by music from different members of the company, particularly Sgt. Burtus of C. Squadron, and Staff-Sergt. Walter Phelan.

The camp ground is situated just back of the town, but the parade ground runs for half a mile along the river, and is much more suitable for manoeuvring than either Kingston or Belleville.

THE GENERAL MANAGER.

Mr. Clouston said:

Following my usual custom I will now proceed to furnish explanations of the important changes in our general statement, as compared with that of the same date last year. I may say that the Directors gave their careful consideration to the request made by one of our shareholders at our last annual meeting, that the Statement should be issued in parallel columns; but they came to the conclusion that it would serve no useful purpose unless accompanied by the explanations which I now propose to give. They have accordingly instructed me to prepare it in the form with which you have been so long familiar, and which is in accordance with the requirements of the Banking Act and our own by-laws.

The only important change in our Liabilities is the large increase in deposits, amounting to about $5,500,000, which arises from no special deposits, but appears to be a general increase in all classes. The increase in deposits in all the banks for the same period amounts to $32,000,000 so we appear to have received our fair share of them. The disposition of this addition to our adventitious capital is shown in the increase of our regular business advances in Canada of $3,500,000, and in the increase in assets readily available held in other countries of $2,500,000 The Loans and Discounts of all the Banks have increased during the year $34,000,000, but of this amount $9,000,000 is represented by an increase in call loans in Canada, a class of loan not made by this Bank. We have, as you will notice, during the last year taken advantage of the high prices ruling for Bonds in the United States and realized about half our holdings, the proceeds being at present employed in short loans in London, New York and foreign markets. It is hardly necessary to point out that the Statement is a strong one, as we hold assets readily available of over 30 per cent., against our Liabilities to the public, and we can draw from foreign sources to meet any large demand without in any way restricting or curtailing our advances in Canada. This reserve carried at low rates, together with the excessive competition in Banking, will explain why our profits do not show a greater increase for the year, notwithstanding the employment of so much more capital. I think, however, that even in that respect the shareholders must be satisfied with the results, which have been arrived at by very conservative estimate.

When business is good, and the country prosperous very little need be said, and I believe that with respect to the present condition of affairs in Canada there can scarcely be two opinions. There is a feeling of buoyancy and elation regarding it that appears to be thoroughly justified by actual facts. There is hardly a branch of trade that is not prospering. The farmers are receiving good prices for their products, the Government show increased revenues, the railways increased traffics, stocks of all sorts have appreciated in value, while the future wealth which our mining and forest industries are expected to realize for this country is beyond computation.

The only very unfavourable feature in sight is the excessive increase in call loans of $9,000,000, most of which I am afraid is occasioned largely by speculative operations, some of them of dubious value. This condition will probably correct itself, and may occasion individual losses to speculators, but should not affect the general prosperity.

We are not singular in our present fortunate position, as there appears to be a universal wave of prosperity sweeping over most of the countries of the world, and in England, the United States, and on the continent manufactories are taxed to the utmost capacity to meet the demands of commerce.

The condition of the United States, from its geographical position, must always have a certain influence upon our own, and I am pleased to note that they are enjoying a state of prosperity to which they have been strangers for many years. The balance of trade in favour of the United States, which last year was thought to have been exceptional, and not likely to be repeated, has still further increased. I doubt if the bank clearings and the Clearing House Bank deposits have ever before attained such figures. The sales of stocks and bonds on the New York Stock Exchange have been without precedent, and the iron production, which is considered by many as the barometer of trade, is on an unheard of scale. To this favourable condition may be added the freedom from financial disturbances, though I regret to say that their financial and currency system still leaves much to be desired.

There is only one other point to which I desire to refer, and it is to correct what appears to be a popular error. In the discussions which have taken place with reference to the establishment of a mint in Canada it seemed to be accepted as a fact by many people that the opposition of the Bankers' Association arose from the supposition that it would interfere with their circulation. The Bankers have no fear on that score, as they know that a safe paper currency, such as they issue, will not be affected in the slightest degree by the coining of a Canadian gold currency. All that it might affect would be the large notes issued by the Government and at present held by the Banks, amounting to about $14,000,000, which, if the Government had to provide funds to retire would cost them $400,000 a year. You have only to look at our neighbours across the line, who have their own gold currency, to see how much of it is in actual circulation, and how little the banks need fear a mint. The question of the undesirability of a mint has been so thoroughly threshed out that I need say no more from the material point of view. But I have seen statements of a sentimental nature that the minting of Canadian gold coins would assist in adding to the importance of Canada, and it should be considered humiliating to be without a gold coinage of our own. I must say I fail to see why. If there is any humiliation at all it appears to me that it would be much more humiliating to mint a coin which would not circulate in our own country, and which directly it crossed our boundary had to be unminted to give it value in foreign markets. I have no hesitation in saying that I consider the best, most elastic and most economical currency for the Dominion is one on a gold basis, but without a gold coinage, such as we now have.

If there are any further explanations required by shareholders I shall be pleased to give them.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT.

Hon. George A. Drummond said:

Gentlemen: The statements laid before you and the explanations now given by the general manager, place you in possession of the information necessary to enable you to grasp the general conduct of your business and estimate the value of your investment.

You will, I am confidantr, agree with the Directors in thinking the results eminently satisfactory and creditable to the management, more especially as they have been achieved in times of great competition among the banks and in face of a steady decline in the value of money.

At the last annual meeting the evidences then available of the advent of better times were noted with satisfaction, and hopes were expressed that they had come to stay, and so far this expectation has been justified. From all sides and with few exceptions, a much improved condition is reported in commercial and financial circles.

The great lumber industry is thriving, the output of deals and lumber for the season having been closely sold up at an average advance in price of 10 to 15 per cent. A comparatively new industry, the manufacture of paper pulp, has opened an apparently unlimited market for a class of timber formerly in little demand. Great mills for the manufacture of this product, and of printing paper from wood, have been establishing and are developing districts formerly little known.

The trade of the port during the past year showed a moderate increase over 1897—447 voyages being made, as against 440 in the previous year.

The quantity of grain exported was 40,000,000 bushels, or 9 per cent of the whole exports from all ports on the Atlantic side.

Butter, cheese, meats, eggs and poultry have all benefitted by the extension of the refrigerator arrangements, and the trade is of growing importance. Much has been done by the intelligent supervision and instructions afforded by officials of the Department of Agriculture, both Provincial and Dominion.

The passenger trade was not so good as in 1897, and the freight rates from Europe have thus been low.

Metals have advanced in prices everywhere, and experts assure us that the time is not distant when Canada will supply her own wants in most metals and enlarge her output of all. The importance of the iron industry and coal production cannot well be exaggerated.

The development of our mining interests goes on with unexampled rapidity; the opening of the Yukon Territory and the continued activity in British Columbia have attracted the attention of the world.

The trade of the port is active, and the customs report a very large increase during the past year in the delivery of goods entered for consumption as compared with the year before, the figures being, in value, $41,267,471, for the year ending May 1, 1898, and $34,240,903 for 1897.

Many lines of home-made cotton goods are reported as now controlling the market against the imported article, and marked activity prevails in many other home industries, though the competition of the United States, in some industries, is keenly felt, and has even been extended to the United Kingdom.

Enormous advances in values have been recorded on the Stock Exchange, and all classes of securities now stand on a very high range of prices.

At the last annual meeting reference was made to the American-Spanish War, and the opinion was expressed that it was not likely to affect prejudicially either commercial or financial interests in this country, and happily this anticipation has been verified.

No question outside of our own work is so closely identified with our interests as the maintenance of the peace of the world, and a word may be pardoned on the political unrest which is the serious underlying factor of the present political situation.

Arising from the thirst for territorial expansion, which has seized all civilized peoples, we have had the Fashoda incident, in which an incautious act, almost a rash word, from the French or English side, might have involved this country in war.

In China we have England and Russia in debate, and endless possibilities opened up in the process of partition of that country, in which nearly every European power is engaged. What with ill defined territories, and the modern contrivance of spheres of influence added, enormously increasing the difficulty of control, it cannot be said that political affairs generally are in a settled condition.

I am no alarmist, but simply present obvious facts as a reason for a prudent and conservative course, even in the midst of widely spread prosperity.

The cordial relations now happily existing between our Mother Country and the United States are matters of sincere congratulation, and nowhere is this friendly political feeling more heartily welcomed and reciprocated than in this country.

Meanwhile it is a matter of satisfaction that the position of the Bank is believed to be thoroughly sound and its resources well in hand.

I will move: "That the report of the Directors now read be adopted and printed for distribution among the Shareholders."

The motion was seconded by Mr. A. T. Paterson.

THE DISCUSSION.

After some remarks by Mr. John Morrison, Mr. John Crawford took exception to the statement made in the General Manager's remarks that the farmers were prosperous, and contended that the prices of hay and oats, two of the largest crops that farmers produced, were deplorably low. He congratulated the Directors on the satisfactory statement they had submitted to the shareholders; it was an improvement on several previous ones. Now that the Rest had reached $6,000,000, or 50 per cent. of the capital, he wanted to know whether the Directors intended that the Shareholders should participate in any profits over the regular 10 per cent. dividend, or whether it was the intention of the Board to add any such profits to the Profit and Loss Account.

The Chairman—Mr. Crawford knows very well that the Board goes out of existence to-day, and it would be quite impossible to pledge their successors in regard to any particular policy. In addition to that, I may say the subject has not been considered, and you can obtain nothing but an individual opinion, which will be of no value. If I were to give my own personal opinion, I would say, looking back over the number of years which you have attended the Bank meetings and given the benefit of your opinion to the Board, I would say it is based on a conservative policy. You yourself in 1873 advocated the policy of the Reserve being beyond 50 per cent.

Mr. Crawford—Excuse me, sir, a misprint.

The Chairman—I thought it would surprise you to hear that. I quite understand that the two are bound up together, and that you spoke at the beginning with reference to 50 per cent. as a Reserve, and the quasi-promise which you invoked that when it reached beyond the 50 per cent. was that we should divide the surplus. Mr. John Crawford, in 1873, said: "I can concur in all that Mr. Murray has said, with the exception of that portion of his speech in which he refers to the dividends. I hope the policy of the Bank will be to restrict the dividends to what they are at present until the Rest amounts to at least 50 per cent. Indeed, I hope it will exceed 50 per cent. before any attempt is made to increase the dividends." I take that to mean in the exercise of what I congratulate you upon, you would like to see the Reserve over 50 per cent. Now, carefully noting that I express my own opinion, and nothing more—in no way pledging any member of the late Board or the future Board—my opinion is, it would be a wise policy to increase the Rest something beyond 50 per cent., if able to do so without decreasing the dividend.

Mr. John Crawford did not repudiate the statement which had just been read, but he was very sorry to hear the Chairman's individual opinion upon the matter to which he had referred. There were many of the Shareholders of the Bank who were only in medium circumstances, and in the interest of these he asked the Directors to look the matter boldly in the face, and see whether they believed that the existence of the security of the institution consisted in having a Rest of $12,000,000 instead of $6,000,000. Many of the best banks in London were perfectly satisfied with $6,000,000. He spoke of the large increase in deposits, some $7,000,000 more than in the previous year, and suggested that if by paying 3 per cent. the Bank encouraged more deposits than it could legitimately employ, it was worth while for the Directors to consider the question of reducing the interest. It seemed to him a very serious matter. He had, he remarked, on many occasions asked that the amount of reserved interest be specifically stated in the report, because it really was a very indefinite expression to say, "Amount Reserved"; it might be that a portion of it was reserved; it did not necessarily imply that the whole amount was.

The General Manager—The full amount is reserved in every case.

Mr. Crawford then went on to speak in favour of comparative statements, and followed this up by asking whether the Directors had discussed any amendments to the Banking Act, which was to be revised next winter, or were they prepared to accept it as it stood at present.

The Chairman replied that the matter had not yet been discussed by the Directors, but he had no doubt that the forthcoming Board would be pleased to receive any suggestions that the Shareholders might desire to offer.

The Chairman then put the motion for the adoption of the report, and it was carried unanimously.

VOTES OF THANKS.

Senator O'Brien moved:

"That the thanks of the meeting be presented to the President, Vice-President and the Directors for their attention to the interests of the Bank."

This was seconded by Mr. G. F. C. Smith and adopted, and was briefly acknowledged by the Chairman.

Mr. R. B. Angus moved:—

"That the thanks of the meeting be given to the General Manager, the Inspector, the Managers and other officers of the Bank for their services during the past year."

In making the motion Mr. Angus said they were all sensible that in the conduct of the large and varied business of the Bank of Montreal, a very high order of ability was required on the part of its officers. In Mr. Clouston they fortunately had a general manager who was well versed in his profession and who possessed distinguished ability. The Directors had already expressed their appreciation of his services and of the great zeal and industry of the Inspector, the Managers and other officers, and he now asked the meeting to join with them in giving voice to sentiment by passing the resolution that he had just moved.

Mr. John Crawford remarked upon the important position of an inspector, and Mr. W. W. Ogilvie, who seconded the motion, expressed the opinion that the Bank of Montreal was singularly fortunate in having Mr. Macnider as chief inspector. There was no man in Canada, from Victoria to Halifax, who knew so much of the character of the merchants and people doing business in this country as Mr. Macnider. He had a number of inspectors under him, he made very wise selections, and he (Mr. Ogilvie) had never yet heard a complaint. The relationship that existed between the General Manager, the Manager, the other officers of the Bank and the 536 employees was very close and encouraging.

The motion having been unanimously concurred in, the General Manager remarked that he had to thank Mr. Angus for the particularly kind way in which he had spoken, of himself (Mr. Clouston) and his services. This was appreciated all the more coming from a man who had occupied the same position and knew the difficulties and trials that a General Manager had to encounter. But his efforts would be useless unless backed up by an efficient staff; and he might say that no General Manager ever had a staff who worked more cordially with him to assist the interests of the Bank than had the General Manager of the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. A. Macnider thanked Mr. Ogilvie and the meeting for the very kind way in which they had spoken of himself and the rest of the staff.

Mr. Donald Macmaster, Q.C., moved:—

"That the ballot now open for the election of Directors be kept open until 3 o'clock, unless fifteen minutes elapse without a vote being cast, when it shall be closed, and until that time and for that purpose only this meeting be continued."

This was seconded by Mr. B. A. Boas, and unanimously agreed to.

On the motion of Mr. John Morrison, seconded by Mr. John Crawford, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Chairman, who acknowledged the same.

THE DIRECTORS.

The ballot resulted in the election of the following gentlemen:

Hats that ARE Hats

There are all qualities of Hats—always have been and always will be.

But it is about GOOD HATS we want to speak just now—the high class hat that can only be bought in THE HAT STORES—the kind that never reaches the departmental or clothing stores.

Selling Hats is our Business...

We buy from the standard makers in immense quantities from two of the largest hat stores in central Ontario and control the most reliable, well known, world reputed makes of both English and American manufacturers, such as Youmans, Stetson, Hawes, Tress, Cooksey, and Christy, while others have got to be content with buying what is claimed to be "just as good."

It's reasonable to suppose that we can therefore give you the BEST HATS that the world produces at as close prices as it's possible to get such goods for—and a better class of goods than those houses that sell only "just as good" in a small hole and corner way.

Just to illustrate this we give Four Examples:

OUR 50c. FEDORA Is made of clear English wool felt and the quality brings 75c. from most dealers. We claim it is the best value in town. If you do not think so we will return your money. We guarantee this.

ENGLISH WILKENSON HATS $1.25 The "Favorite English Wilkenson Hat" made of fur felt, for which there is no special agency in Peterborough, and usually retails for $1.75 for $1.25.

OUR 50c. STRAW HATS We have the best 50c. straw hats in Canada, at least we think so. They come in plain split straw, Swiss, and notch straw, have silk bands, plain and fancy. If you can equal it in value elsewhere you can have money back. We guarantee this.

CRASH AND LINEN HATS Just now we are showing especial values in Mens' Boys' and Childrens CRASH, DUCK and LINEN HATS and CAPS and the prices begin at 20c. for Childrens' Tams and run as highs as 75c. for Mens' Linen Hats. These goods are particularly nice for summer wear.

—STORE NEWS—

The Day

Has nothing to do with the Price of Goods at this store.

Come any day of the week and you will find stacks of Bargains rolling in and out.

You needn't be afraid of having to pay any more on Friday than on Thursday. You get Bargains the one day as well as the other.

If we sell you a Dress or a Blouse at a Bargain Price on Monday, you will find it the same price on Tuesday and the other four days of the week.

We have never yet resorted to the plan of selling goods at a great reduction on a certain day, and then make enough on the other days for the come-down.

COOL SUITS FOR MEN...

We are showing many distinctly novel things in light-weights and light colours, in cool summer suitings. They make up in gentlemanly styles and are worn with great comfort.

The clothes we make always lay close to the collar, with lapels of new design, foreign from ready clothing. We avoid the two extremes—the very high and very cheap. In fact, it's clothes to suit or money back dealing with us.

No More Yukon Charters Until the Boundary Is Settled.

PREMIER STATES THE REASONS.

Government Desires to Keep Its Hands Free, and Not to Incidentally Build Up What Might Prove to Be American Cities—Opposition Objects—Sir Charles' Speech.

Ottawa, June 10.—Mr. Maclean (East York) asked that the Premier lay on the table certain correspondence which he referred to the other day with the G.T.R. Company in reference to the settlement of the trackmen's strike.

The Premier replied that for certain reasons which he deemed important he preferred not to bring the papers down until Monday.

Mr. Sifton laid on the table the evidence taken by Mr. Ogilvie at his recent investigation of charges made against Yukon officials. The rules were suspended, and the evidence ordered to be printed immediately.

On the third reading of the Drummond County bill being called Hon. Mr. Foster suggested that the third reading should be fixed for Tuesday.

The Premier consented to its postponement, on the understanding that both the Drummond County bill and the Grand Trunk lease bill should be passed at Tuesday's sitting of the House. This was agreed to.

On the orders of the day being reached, Dr. Roche called attention to a statement in The Winnipeg Telegram with reference to the improper practices of certain land agents in Manitoba and the Northwest, who are said be in the habit of buting up Government lands and reselling them to the settlers. The case in point was that of a land agent to whom an Icelander applied, and who was induced to buy the land from a third party. A suit was brought by the Icelander against the agent, but it was dismissed, each party paying his own costs.

Hon. Mr. Sifton said he had heard nothing of the matter, but would have it inquired into.

Sir Charles Tupper called attention to the cablegram in yesterday morning's papers with reference to the modus vivendi on the Alaskan boundary.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that there was really no change in the position since the last time he had spoken. A provisional boundary, as the House knew, had been established on the Chilcoot and Chilcat Passes at the summit, and negotiations were proceeding for the establishment of a similar provisional boundary on the Dalton Trail, but he had not yet received official information that negotiations were completed, and until that was done he was not at liberty to make any further statement.

Mr. Prior inquired if the Government had any information that Mr. Ludgate of Deadman's Island had abandoned his project and left the country.

Hon. Mr. Borden said he did not know anything about it.

Mr. McNeill asked if the Government was taking any steps to establish the fast Atlantic service.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: "We are taking steps all the time." (Laughter.)

Railways for the Yukon.

Sir Charles Tupper called attention to the announcement made in the railway committee yesterday morning that the Government intended to adhere to its decision of last year, and not grant any charters for railways into the Yukon. He spoke of the application of the Hamilton Smith syndicate last year, which had proposed to deposit $250,000 as security, and which he understood had spent over $40,000 in surveys, and had their plans now ready to submit to the Government. He considered it of the utmost importance that convenient access should be had to the Yukon territory, and said it was a subject which interested not only Canada, but Great Britain and other countries. The Government certainly owed it to the House that some explanation should be given for its reasons for adopting this policy, which he (Sir Charles) considered adverse to the interest of Canada. There were a number of applications for charters made this year, some to get into the Atlin district, and some, he believed, to Teslin Lake, and he was in hopes that the Government, while not enforcing the prohibition which prevented action being taken last year, would have been disposed to allow these others to be considered by a sub-committee of the railway committee with a view of arriving at a policy which would be best calculated to promote the interest of Canada.

The Premier's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—I am very much obliged to my hon. friend for bringing this question to the attention of the House. There is no question at this moment which in my estimation has so important a bearing upon the future of Canada as the very question which my hon. friend has referred to. I may say at once that it may perhaps seem a little strange to the public at large that we should refuse at this moment to grant any charter to railways to communicate from the waters of the Pacific to the Yukon country. I may also say at once that we do not object and would not object to any scheme to build a railway from waters that are absolutely and without doubt in Canadian territory to the Yukon country, but we have decided objections, and I think my hon. friend will agree with me when he gives his attention more closely to the matter, to granting a charter to a line into the Yukon from the disputed territory between Canada and the United States. At the present time most of the charters which are asked for are to build a railway on the Dalton Trail, that is to say, from Pyramid Harbor towards Dawson City. Pyramid is in the disputed territory. We claim the ownership of it, and they have at present practically possession of it, as they have of the Lynn Canal. Well, if we were to grant a charter—and I believe it is so provided in the bills—our legislation would have to be supplemented by American legislation and we would be providing for communication through territory now practically in possession of the Americans. If we were to do this we would only be complicating the question of determining the boundary between us and the Americans. If we were to grant the charter which is asked for, and on which my hon. friend states a deposit of $250,000 would be made, we would be helping to build up an American city at Pyramid Harbor, and thereby make it all the more difficult for us ever to get back what we claim belongs to us by the establishment of the boundary where we claim it ought to be. At the present time the question between us and the American authorities is with the location of the boundaries on the Lynn Canal. We claim that the boundary is at the entrance of the Lynn Canal and that consequently the whole of the Lynn Canal belongs to us. The Americans claim, on the other hand, that the boundary passes around the Lynn Canal, and that they should have all the shore around it. That is to say, that they should be confirmed in the possession of the Skaguay and of Dyea, which they now hold, and also of Pyramid Harbor. Now, I think it is clear that Parliament acted with questionable wisdom when in 1897 we granted a charter to the British Yukon Company, because this company is acting under a Canadian charter and an American charter, and the consequence is that we have contributed to build up Skaguay, an American city, between which and Seattle there is a great and increasing trade. The American interests have been established there and are increasing all the time, and we have met and are constantly meeting, and will constantly meet, until this question is determined, the antagonism of powerful American interests which have been built up at Skaguay in opposition to our contention for the settlement of the boundary. If we were to grant this new charter from Pyramid Harbor, we would create on the other side of the Lynn Canal another American city, and if there is an American city at Pyramid Harbor and another one at Skaguay it is clear that when we come to the point of settling that boundary these powerful interests will weigh enormously at Washington against our contention as to what is the true boundary. Therefore, under these circumstances, I believe that we ought to retard and delay the granting of these charters from the waters of the Lynn Canal until the question of the boundary has been settled in some way or other, as we believe it will yet be settled by the recognition of our contention of what is the true boundary line. When it is settled, as we believe it will be, that the Lynn Canal belongs to us, and that Pyramid Harbor is ours, then we would be in a position to grant a charter from Pyramid Harbor as being in Canadian territory, and there would be no need for an American charter. It would be better to wait for one or two years and the certainty of having a Canadian city at Pyramid Harbor, rather than build a railway now, and having it made an American city. Under such circumstances I put myself on the judgment of the House, and I call the attention of my hon. friend to this view of the question, which, perhaps, has escaped him up to this moment, that it is advisable in the best interests of Canada as a whole, not to allow more American cities to be built on the Lynn Canal, but to wait until the question of the boundary has been determined. I may say further that if it be determined afterwards by the arbitrators that the Lynn Canal does not belong to us, but that it belongs to the Americans, then the policy of Canada will be to get access to the Yukon, not by the Lynn Canal, but by building railways from the waters of the Yukon down to what is indisputably Canadian waters, through the Cassiar district, the Atlin district and the Yukon district. Our best policy is to wait. That is the view that we have adopted. I know that as a general rule it is perhaps to some extent an invidious task to prevent the building of railways in this country; it may be still a more invidious task to prevent access to the Yukon by the building of railways, but the reasons seem to be so strong and overwhelming in favor of staying our hands and in favor of waiting until we know whether the harbors on the Lynn Canal be Canadian or American, that in the meantime we throw ourselves on the judgment of the House, and on the judgment of the country, as to whether it is not advisable not to allow any more charters to issue for railways to be built on the Lynn Canal until this question has been determined.

Sir Charles Tupper—By the consent of the House I may be permitted to add a single remark. I fail to see how the construction of a railway from one point to another point is going to determine the settlement of a boundary that has to be determined, if it ever is determined, by independent international experts. The only question that can arise is one that would not arise in this case, but might in regard to Skaguay or Dyea. It could not arise in reference to any settlement made now, because, if a commission decided that it was to be Canadian territory from the waters of the Pacific to Fort Selkirk, the question would be disposed of just as completely, whether the railway was in existence previously or not. I would also remark to my right hon. friend that in reference to the proposed construction of a railway from the waters of the Stikine to Teslin Lake, the contract provided that Messrs. Mann & Mackenzie might build this line from Pyramid Harbor to Fort Selkirk. It did not appear at that time that the boundary question was taken into consideration. It was quite as open then as it is now, perhaps more, and I cannot see why authority could be given then and not now. I do not want to say a word further, because I am quite certain that the Right Hon. Premier has arrived at the conclusion which he has, believing it to be a necessary conclusion in the interest of Canada, but it does not appear to me that it conflicts in any way with the ultimate settlement of the boundary. At the same time, I agree with the Right Hon. Premier that the construction of a railway is important for the settlement of that country, and if the ultimate decision on the boundary question should be that Skaguay, Dyea and the Lynn Canal are in United States territory, I quite agree with the Premier that we must then have as promptly as possible a direct communication from a place undoubtedly on Canadian waters through this country to the City of Dawson. As no subsidy is asked, it does not appear to me that the grounds stated are sufficient to prevent the construction of the railway at the present time.

NO PLACE FOR THE LOBBYIST.

Members of the Ontario Legislature must be visited with a mild shock—and not a very mild one either—at the bill presented to the city of Toronto for services rendered the city in connection with the promotion of certain bills, by Mr. C. C. Robinson, a barrister. For its value as a curiosity the bill is here produced.

Having been retained to act as Parliamentary agent to the city in connection with various bills before the Legislature—

Many attendances and consultations with his Worship the Mayor, Mr. Fullerton, Mr. Caswell, Col. Gibson and various members. Attending the House afternoon and night until March 29th every day. Also attending before the Private Bills Committee and watching the various stages of the hotel, chain ferry and other bills;

Fifteen days at $20, $300.

The above bill cannot be regarded as any other than a serious reflection upon the intelligence and uprightness of the members of the Legislature, and marks the introduction of the professional lobbyist into the Parliament Buildings of Ontario. It—or circumstances that give rise to it—is tantamount to a declaration that the honourable gentlemen are so spineless and plastic that a clever manipulator like Mr. Robinson, can work them like the clay is shaped by the hands of the potter. The modesty of the man in assuming such services, and appraising them so highly, must be keenly appreciated by Mr. Caswell and Mr. Fullerton who "undertook" the work of the city in such a clumsy manner that an expert at lobbying placed himself at the disposal of the worthy Mayor of the city. The modest demand for $300 is "not a bill for legal services," but something far above anything so petty—a bill for knowing how to manipulate weak-willed members—in fact, a bill for brains. Even Mayor Shaw, who retained Mr. Robinson, is surprised at the amount of the bill, and will be apt, in case the city refuses to pay it, to regard it as rather a steep price to pay for the friendly services he will naturally expect to receive, as a quid pro quo in reaching the realization of future civic aspirations. Toronto has no need of professional lobbyists. If they have a proper and valid claim upon the legislative functions of the House, it will receive fair and just attention from the members of the Legislature, who are simply insulted by the implication that they can be influenced by other considerations than those associated with an honest discharge of their duties as public representatives.

HON. MR. TARTE MISREPRESENTED.

FALSELY ACCUSED OF MALIGNING THE METHODISTS.

Rev. J. E. Moore Gives him British Fair Play on the Floor of the Conference—Mr. Tarte's Letter.

Considerable political capital is being made out of some remarks made by Hon. J. Israel Tarte, in the House on March 28th, which were in reference to the course the Government had taken in guaranteeing to Mr. Menier, the owner of the island of Anticosti, his civil rights. These remarks have been used as the foundation of a charge that Mr. Tarte insulted the Methodist body by accusing the Methodists on the island with being "wreckers" who had put out lights and done other things to lure vessels to destruction so that they might be plundered. The matter was brought up in the Montreal Conference, and a resolution adopted, demanding a retraction from Hon. Mr. Tarte, and the Bay of Quinte Conference was asked to second the action of the Montreal Conference. When the matter was brought up on Monday Rev. J. E. Moore, Ashburnham, with a desire of seeing British fair play, read from Hansard what Mr. Tarte really did say, and in this there was no utterance such as had been attributed to the Minister of Public Works by some of the speakers at the Montreal Conference.

Thus has Mr. Tarte been again accused falsely, thus again have men anxious to score a political point, borne false witness against a Minister of the Crown. It is somewhat surprising that a Conference should have been asked to approve of a resolution, which condemned in a public man, language he never used, and that no member of the Conference had a copy of the speech alleged to contain the remarks so strongly objected to. Rev. Mr. Moore is to be congratulated in being large minded enough to take the course he took in the interests of British fair play in placing before the Conference the exact language used by Mr. Tarte on the occasion referred to, by reading the official report, (Hansard) of his speech on March 28th:

Mr. Tarte confirms the report in the following letter:

Brighton, June 8th, 1899.

Rev. J. E. Moore, Peterborough:

Dear and Reverend Sir,—I take the liberty of offering you my sincere thanks for the effort you have made to have the words used by me placed before the Methodist Conference. I cannot understand why I am assailed by some of your colleagues in the Methodist Conference. Why should I have meant to insult the Methodist Church, or any other Church? The statement that I made on the 28th of March is the only one that I ever made in Parliament in reference to the colony of Fox Bay. I see that the Rev. Mr. McIntyre has stated that my speech of the 28th of March is an explanation of a former speech. The reverend gentleman is altogether mistaken.

Surely there is no insult to any church in my statement of the 28th of March. There are good and bad citizens in every church. And it is not because there would be at Fox Bay a few Methodists and a few Roman Catholics to whom my statement would apply that the Methodist Church or the Roman Catholic church should feel insulted.

I wish some of the members of your Church would take the trouble to investigate all the circumstances of the Fox Bay incident.

Mr. Menier, instead of being hard on these people, has made the most liberal offers to them. They have never paid a cent for the land they occupy, they decline to obey Mr. Menier's regulations, etc. Will it be said that a foreign capitalist, who has paid $100,000.00 to an English syndicate for Anticosti Island, who has spent very near $2,000,000.00 in improvements, will not enjoy the privilege and the protection of British laws, as far as his rights of property are concerned?

It is the whole question in two words.

I know very well the reverend Mr. Stobo, of Quebec, having lived in that city for eighteen years. He is undoubtedly a well meaning man. But I am well enough acquainted with him to say that he is a man of exaggerated ideas. I am very much afraid that he is the cause that a question of property is now being changed into a religious question.

Thanking you again, I beg to remain,

Very respectfully yours,

J. ISRAEL TARTE.

Those who attempt to make political capital out of every public act of man, even by distorting his utterances or attributing to him what he does not say, will yet learn that there is enough of fair play in the hearts of the public, to at least demand a withdrawal of the accusation or in future cases some scintilla of proof of the reality of the grounds upon which slanderous charges are made. If any think that Hon. Mr. Tarte, were he capable of publicly insulting a prominent religious body, has so far lost his political cunning as to say anything that could be so construed, they do not know the man.

LETTERS ON CHRISTIAN UNITY

NO. 3.

Rev. H. Symonds.

"What the Church ought to possess is a Unity which the eye can see. If she is to be a witness to her Risen Lord, she must do more than talk of unity . . . . Visible unity in one form or another is an essential mark of her faithfulness. Let it be allowed that differently organized branches of the one Church of Christ may exist in different lands, or even in the same land, they must occupy such a relation to each other that their unity shall be manifest to the world. There must be inter-communion, mutual helpfulness—even to a certain extent confederation among them."—Milligan of Aberdeen.

Last Saturday, space only permitted of a short statement of the New Testament view of Christian Unity. The two points then noticed were, first, that our Saviour proclaimed the advent of "the Kingdom of God" an expression which was continually upon His lips, and which underatood either literally or figuratively implies a Society of some kind, either visible or invisible. Then we observed that the institution of Baptism, which whatever else it may be is a visible rite of initiation, and of the Holy Communion, which is a visible sign of fellowship, indicated the intention of our Savior to found a visible Society. The authority, not of either a Roman, or Greek, or Anglican theologian, but of the President of the Methodist Conference in England, was then cited in favour of this view of the meaning of the Sacraments and of the visible nature of the Kingdom of God upon earth. In further support of this view, I should like to quote the unbiassed testimony of the great dictionary of New Testament Greek, well known to all students of the New Testament in the original, compiled by two German Protestant scholars, and translated by Dr. Thayer, of Harvard University, who is I believe, a Congregationalist. The Greek word for "Kingdom" is "Basileia," and under this head we read in the dictionary, that "Jesus employed the phrase Kingdom of God or of Heaven to indicate that perfect order of things, which he was about to establish, in which all those of every nation who should believe in Him were to be gathered together dedicated and intimately united to God and made partakers of eternal salvation."

We must next notice the famous passage in St. John 17, 21, in which our Lord prays for all His disciples, both present and to come. "Neither for these only do I pray, but for them also that believe on Me through their word; that they may all be one; . . . . that the world may believe that Thou didst send me." These last words indicate some outward manifestation of unity, for how could the world believe because of a unity which it could not see.!

When we pass from the Gospels to the Acts of the Apostles we find that everything the Apostles did, was in conformity with the foregoing view of the teaching of Jesus. The three thousand believers of the day of Pentecost, were baptized, the Lord's Supper was administered, and the believers continued in fellowship. No unprejudiced by-law reader could doubt that the Church at Jerusalem formed a Society. As the Gospel spread throughout the Roman Empire, new Societies or branches of the Church were formed, and that these were very largely, if not entirely independent of each other seems to be indicated by the scanty evidence at our disposal. Yet even if independent, they were not separated from the Churches of other places, by Creed, or Organization, or Worship, as is the case today. St. Paul was wont to go up to Jerusalem to report progress after his missionary journeys. On occasion (Acts 15) the whole body of the Church at Jerusalem was assembled to take counsel about a disputed point and this mother Church sent out a letter of instruction and advice, to Antioch, which we are told was circulated by St. Paul in many other churches.

From the Acts of the Apostles we turn to the letters of St. Paul. The first epistle to the Corinthians, gives us a wonderfully clear insight into the customs and wordship of an Apostolic Society.

St. Paul Founded

this Church, but often he left it, others came and by degrees the Church fell into groups of parties, which threatened the very life of the Church itself. When St. Paul heard this, he was deeply grieved, and wrote, "I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgment. For it hath been signified unto me that there are contentions among you." These words need no comment. Further on in the same epistle, St. Paul compares the unity of believers to the unity of the body, which whilst it is composed of many parts, each with its own function, yet these parts are knit together into Unity in Christ. For "as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body are one body, so also is Christ. For in one Spirit were we all baptised into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free." It is for this reason the Apostle clearly indicates that the greatest of gifts is not the speaking with tongues, not the power to work miracles, or to heal the sick, or of prophecy, nay not even the gift of faith, but love. (I Cor.; 12 and 13). The epistle to the Ephesians, however, is that epistle in which St. Paul most fully expounds the unity of the Church. Just as the Epistle to the Galatians vindicates the rights of the individual, who is justified by faith, and has immediate access to the Father, so the Epistle to the Ephesians expounds the rights of the Society. In this epistle the Church is described under four figures, (1) the figure of a temple. We are, says he "built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Christ Jesus, Himself, being the chief corner stone, in whom each several building, fitly framed together, groweth into a holy temple in the Lord." (2) A city. We are no longer strangers or sojourners, without, that is, social rights or duties, mere individuals without any common privileges but we are "Fellow citizens with the saints." In another place the Apostle exorts his converts "to believe as citizens worthy of the gospel of Christ," to catch the full force of these expressions we must remember how close was the

in those old cities, and how highly esteemed when perhaps not more than half the inhabitants had civic rights and responsibilities. (3) Then the Apostle uses the figure of the Family, "We are of the household of God." And (4) the old figure of the body is repeated. St. Paul is eager to see all Christians "grow up in all things unto Him which is the head even Christ; from Whom all the body fitly framed and knit together through that which every joint supplieth, according to the working in one measure of every several part, maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love."

Every figure used to describe the Church implies a combination of unity and freedom. The parts of a temple have their own peculiar beauty and their own peculiar use, but they combine to form one building. The city is made up of individuals with their own particular interests, their own separate lives, and yet all these individuals are bound together into a civic unity. Of the Family it may be similarly shewn that with an individual life of the brothers and sisters, there is also a united life. The body finally has many parts but yet is One Body.

What then is urged as the result of this review of Scripture, is not that the unity of the Church is therein precisely defined. It would be a great and unwarranted leap from the teaching of St. Paul's Epistles, to the statement that unity means, unity of worship, or of goverament. That would be uniformity which is I venture to say, the opposite of unity. Unity is primarily a unity of spirit, but a true unity of spirit must manifest itself outwardly. Unity is co-operation of a variety of forms of energy, all directed to one manifold end. And therefore it is that the Apostle whilst praying the Ephesians to give diligence to keep "the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace," continues "There is One Body" as well as one spirit. "One Lord, one Faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and is all.

Half Sick Half Well

Many persons have their good day and their bad day. Others are about half sick all the time. They have headache, backache, and are restless and nervous. Food does not taste good, and the digestion is poor; the skin is dry and sallow and disfigured with pimples or eruptions; sleep brings no rest and work is a burden.

What is the cause of all this? Impure blood.

And the remedy?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

It clears out the channels through which poisons are carried from the body. When all impurities are removed from the blood nature takes right hold and completes the cure.

If there is constipation, take Ayer's Pills. They awaken the downy action of the liver; they cure biliousness.

FITS SUCCESS PHENOMENAL.

Brilliant New York Engagement of the 4-Paw-Sells Combination.

In commenting most enthusiastically upon the New York engagement of the Forepaugh Sells Combined Circuses, which it may be remarked parenthetically will be seen in all its spring-time glory at Peterborough in two performances Saturday, June 24th. The New York Clipper of May 6 said: "The success of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Combined Circuses under the management of those greatest of arenic chieftains, J. A. Bailey, Peter and Lewis Sells and W. W. Cole, at Madison Square Garden, was nothing short of phenomenal. In fact, its success was the greatest probably ever achieved by any circus in New York. Many eminent men were in attendance at the exhibitions. Among them were General Miles, Admiral 'Jack' Philip, one of the heroes of the war; Senator Chauncey M. Depew, Senator Thomas C. Platt, Col. Robert G. Ingersoll and many others. Senator Depew was present on the last night and enthusiastically said it was by all odds the greatest circus he ever witnessed.

It was the unanimous opinion of the press that the present circus has more than brilliantly taken the place of the Barnum and Bailey Show, which is now a British institution and which will not be seen in this country for several years. The completeness, newness and general excellence of the Forepaugh Sells Circus calls for special commendation. The leading features of this colossal consolidation possess great merit from an artistic point of view.

The act of the performing seals is in itself a very extraordinary feature. The clown band, which burlesques Sousa and his familiar mannerisms, evoked thunders of applause and storms of laughter. The Hanlons, the wonderful thirty-five horse act of William Gorman, the three herds of performing elephants, and the various acrobatic and equestrian feats were duly appreciated. More than one hundred and fifty turns are presented during the course of the evening's exhibition. That the great enterprise was vastly appreciated was demonstrated by the columns of praise given it by the newspapers of the metropolis."

Railway Crash at Chatham.

Chatham, Ont., June 10.—Two freight trains came together here yesterday morning, resulting in a Wabash and a G.T.R. engine being wrecked, besides a box car and a number of buggies. The trains were coming in opposite directions, and while one was crossing from the north to the south track the other crashed into it. The traffic was delayed for about four hours. No one was injured.

CHAMPION JEFFRIES.

California Giant Knocks Out Bob Fitzsimmons.

ELEVEN WHIRLWIND ROUNDS.

Champion of Two Classes, Middleweight and Heavyweight—The New Head of the Pugilistic Fraternity a Trained Athlete—Lanky Bob Went to His Defeat Unfalteringly—The Rounds.

New York, June 10.—James J. Jeffries of California at the arena of the Coney Island A. C. last night defeated Robert Fitzsimmons, world champion in two classes—middleweight and heavyweight—in 11 rounds of whirlwind fighting. He came to the ring a rank outsider and left it the acknowledged master of the man he defeated. Less than a year ago he appeared in New York a great, awkward, gainly boy. To-day he is the lithe, active, alert, trained athlete. At 34 years he has defeated Robert Fitzsimmons, Tom Sharkey and Peter Jackson.

Robert Fitzsimmons, the defeated man, was just as good as when on the crispy morning on the plains of far away Nevada he lowered the colors of the then peerless Corbett. He was just as active, just as clever, just as tricky and just as fearless of punishment. He went unfalteringly to his defeat. He was the aggressor even at moments when he was bleeding and unsteady, and when stunned by the blows he received he reeled instinctively toward his opponent. He was fighting all the time.

The men fought before a crowd of 9,000 persons.

The Fight in Rounds.

Round 1—Both met in the centre of the ring. They feinted, with Fits breaking ground, Jeffries keeping almost in the middle of the ring. Jeffries was evidently trying to get the right over. Fits led left to the head, but Jeffries ducked cleverly. Jeffries led left and fell short. He led for stomach and again fell short. Again he led left swing for jaw, but Fits was out of the way. Jeffries led right for body and left for head, but Fits blocked and got away clear. Fits tried left, landing on neck. Fits essayed a right swing for the neck, landing lightly, and came to a clinch, but broke clear. Jeffries tried a straight left for the jaw, but did not reach, and Fits blocked an attempt at a left hook, shooting his left to the ear as the bell rang.

Round 2—Fits, in middle of the ring, made Jeffries break ground and Fits sent left to body. Jeffries countered with stiff left on the face. Jeffries tried left for the body, but was neatly blocked. Jeff then assumed a crouching attitude, boring with left on body, but was again blocked and they came to a clinch. Jeff landed two lefts on the body and shot the left three times to Fits's face without a return. Fits tried his right for the head, but was short and they came to a clinch, the referee going between them. Jeff tried a left chop for the head, but Fits ducked safely. Jeffries tried a left swing for the head and another for the body, but Fits ducked away from him. Jeff then knocked Fits flat on his back with a straight left on the mouth. The champion was up in two seconds and then the bell rang.

Round 3—Fits looked very determined when he came up for this round, with Jeff on the aggressive. They clinched twice without doing damage. Fits tried a right hook for the body, but failed and it was then seen that he was bleeding from the nose. First blood claimed for Jeff. After another clinch Fits landed a hard left on Jeff's face and repeated it twice. Coming to the centre of the ring, Fits landed a left swing on the jaw and a left hook on the ear. Jeff came back with a left hook on the side of the head and they came to a clinch. After some feinting, Jeff sent both hands to the body and drove Fits back with a left on the chest. Fits endeavored to land a left swing on the head and they came to a clinch. Fits landed a left hook on the head, Jeff countering on the fact just as the round ended.

Round 7—Jeff was a bit slow coming to the scratch and broke ground with a circle of the ring. Fits tried right to head, landing lightly, and Jeff got a bat on ribs. Jeff jabbed his left to ribs and got away clean. Then Jeff endeavored to land a straight left to face, but was blocked neatly and received a left on ribs. Fits was on the aggressive and sent a left far back on the neck. Jeff tried to crowd Fits to the ropes, but Fits got away neatly. Then in a rapid mix-up both swung rights and lefts for the head, landing lightly. Then Fits poked a left to the side of the head and Jeff jumped in with a right hard on the body. Jeff swung his left clear, but Fits got inside of it. He drove his right over the heart, when the gong sent them to their corners. This was Fits's round.

Round 8—Jeff was tardy in coming up and the referee had to wave his hand to him to come to the scratch. Both men rushed matters, without doing damage other than in clinching. Fits sent his left to the ribs and Jeff hooked two lefts to the face. Jeff tried with his right, but Fits countered lightly on the chest. Fits put a straight left on Jeff's bad eye. Jeff came back with a hard left on the body. Fits endeavored to land a vicious swing with his left on the body, but Jeff came back with a blow on Fits's head. Jeff then bored in and sent a straight left to Fits's face, staggering the champion to the ropes. Nothing of any moment occurred during the remainder of the round, and as Fits walked to his corner he smiled at his seconds. This was Jeffries' round.

Round 9—Both came up willingly, with Fits the aggressor, but Jeff sent him back with a straight left to face. Fits missed a left swing for the head and received a hard right on the body; then they clinched, and after the break-away both tried lefts at close quarters, Jeff landing twice. Fits, still on the aggressive, went back once more with a left on body. After another clinch, Jeff put two small left raps on the nose, which made Bob bleed again. Jeff played again for the head smartly with his left, hitting straight, and then with a back-hand blow brought his left in contact with Fits's nose. Fits failed to respond to these and clinched. Jeff threw his right over the heart with all his might, and had Fits guessing when the bell rang. Jeff had decidedly the best of the round.

Round 10—Jeff came up looking confident, and Fits wore an earnest look on his face. The Californian was first to land with a straight left on the body, bringing it up to the head, Fits clinching. Going into the clinch, Fits drove his left hard to the wind. After a lot of fiddling, Fits tried a left swing, but went wide of the mark, but caught the Californian a second later with a left swing on the nose. A straight left from Jeff made Fits's head wobble, and then with a left swing on the jaw, put Fits on his back. Fits was very groggy when he got up in five seconds, and was sent down again with left and right on the jaw. He came up again in five seconds, and Jeff rushed him into the corner, trying very hard to finish the champion, who was groggy. Jeff was too anxious, and failed to finish his man.

Round 11—Fits came up slowly, but assumed the aggressive, Jeff standing off, evidently waiting for a knockout. They clinched three times, coming to close quarters. Jeff put two hard rights over Fits's heart, sending him back, and then sent a straight left to the neck, following with a left on the chest. Fits crowded in, trying his right for the jaw, fell short, but succeeded in blocking the Californian's right return. Jeff then assumed the aggressive and jabbed his left to head. A left on the jaw from Jeff dazed Fits, who stood helpless in the middle of the ring. Jeff looked at him for a second, and then had him at his mercy, swung his left again to the jaw, and Fits went down and out, giving the championship to the Californian. Time of 11th round, 1 minute 32 3-5 seconds.

As soon as Fits was carried to his corner the spectators crowded over the benches and through the ropes, and the police had great difficulty in keeping the ring clear. The partisans of the Californian almost went crazy in the excitement. Fits came to very quickly, and Jeff walked across to the defeated champion's corner, and both shook hands warmly. Judging from the expression on Fits's face, he did not feel much disgruntled with his defeat.

THE STRIKE SITUATION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Promises to See Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, C.T.R. President, About the Matter.

Montreal, June 10.—The committee of striking trackmen, having asked Sir Wilfrid Laurier to intercede with Sir Rivers-Wilson, the Premier replied last evening, saying that he would be most happy to do so.

Mr. Lowe, the organizer, returned yesterday morning from New Hampshire. He stated that the New Hampshire commissioners had notified the Grand Trunk Railway Company that unless the track is properly looked after they will forbid the entrance of G.T.R. trains into that State.

The company claim to have all the men they require.

They Used Revolvers.

Kingston, Ont., June 10.—Wednesday evening a car containing a number of men was left at Lansdowne, guarded by three constables, one a negro. During the night they opened fire on the village with revolvers. One bullet entered the window of G. F. Dean's store, while four or five more lodged in William Burns' stable, shortly after he had left it.

Thursday they worked on the track, while the negro stood guard over them. In the evening a warrant was issued for the arrest of the entire party. Constables McConnell and Consaul, accompanied by 200 men, arrested the whole party.

A special car was run down from here to Gananoque at midnight, returning with 14 men whom the populace of Gananoque had given a warm reception, making it so hot for them that the company thought it wise to withdraw them. They are still here and refuse to return to Gananoque.

The Situation in Toronto.

Toronto, June 10.—The trackmen's strike committee deny that General Superintendent McGuigan's statements of Thursday are correct, and they say that not more than 100 men are working on the middle division and that not a single union man is among the lot. Aided by public sympathy they are still confident of winning.

Men and Women Beguiled and Deceived By Medicines That Have No Value or Merit.

Paines' Celery Compound the only Reliable Medicine and True Life Saver.—It is the Great Deliverer From Sickness and Disease.—Expert Medical Testimony Proves that Paine's Celery Compound is a Scientific Preparation.

Thousands of men and women in Canada are beguiled and deceived by the published statements of many patent medicines and nostrums—in pill and liquid form—that are positively useless in combatting disease. These cheaply compounded remedies, supposed to cure all ills, are frequently so misleading and dangerous that the sufferings and miseries of the sick are increased, and death comes unexpectedly.

Paine's Celery Compound, that marvellous banisher of disease, recommended by the most eminent medical men, is the medicine used by thinking, intelligent and prudent people when sickness comes on and the first symptoms of disease are discovered.

Paine's Celery Compound, the great life giver, purifies the blood, expells the seeds of disease, braces the weak nerves, tones every organ of digestion, gives a natural appetite, sound sleep and permanent health.

Mrs. John Gallagher, a well-known lady of Marbleton, P. Q., writes as follows: "In the winter I had a severe attack of erysipelas, and at the same time my blood was out of order, and I was so weak and run down that I could not stand alone. I commenced at once to use Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking five bottles I was greatly benefitted and seemed to take a new lease of life. I know from experience that Paine's Celery Compound is possessed of all the merits claimed for it, and I will recommend it to all suffering from erysipelas, headache or stomach troubles. I keep some of the Compound at all times in my house, and use it as a family medicine."

A NEW INVENT

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1899 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used. Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. For correct and full information regarding the new invention and NEWCOMBE PIANOS write to our Direct Representative. Easy Prices. Liberal Terms.

The Wartman Fence.

Mr. A. Reid has purchased the right for the township of Smith of Wartman's extending square braced fence which has become so very popular lately with farmers. Those wishing the right to use this fence should call on Mr. Reid, or address Box 876, Peterborough, and he will be happy to call on them.

An Attractive Service.

There will be especially attractive services in the Charlotte street church to-morrow. Miss Myrtle Hendren of Lakefield, formerly soloist in this church, will be present to assist the choir at both services. In the evening the monthly song sermon will be given, dealing with some of our best known hymns. The anthem, "Lead, Kindly Light," by Schnecker, and "Rock of Ages," by Dudley Buck, will be rendered by the choir, as well as a duet, "Forever with the Lord," by Miss Hendren and Mr. A. L. Davis, and a quartette by Misses Hendren and Stephens and Messrs. Skitch and Squires.

RECOVERED THE BUGGY.

Mr J W. Doughty, of Water Street, has an Experience with a Brantfort Buggy

Mr. W. J. Doughty, Water street, agent for the Brantford Carriage Co., had an exciting experience this week, over a buggy which he sold to a party some time ago.

In April last George Reid, who then resided at the corner of Reid and Edinburgh streets, purchased an elegant new top buggy from Mr. Doughty, giving a lien note, endorsed by his wife. Mr. Doughty says he learned afterwards that neither were worth anything. Only a day or so after the purchase of the buggy, Reid skipped out with the vehicle, and for a long time no trace could be found of him. Mrs. T. Lush, corner Dublin and Union streets, held a chattel mortgage on a horse and harness owned by Reid.

On Thursday of last week Mr. Doughty received word that Reid was down in the vicinity of Stirling, and immediately started down after his man. The latter got wind of the fact, however, that he was being hunted down, and drove off into the country. Mr. Doughty, accompanied by Bailiff Harris, on Friday afternoon, after a few days' hot chase, met their man on one of the concession lines in the township of Thurlow. When asked by the bailiff if his name was not Reid, he replied that it was not, but Mr. Doughty was able to identify him, and the man finally gave himself up. Reid admitted everything, and asked to be driven as far as Hastings, to which Mr. Doughty consented. This was the last seen of Reid, although it is said he came on to Peterborough, but left the next morning, fearing further proceedings.

Mr. Doughty came home to Peterborough with the outfit, turned the horse and harness over to Mrs. Lush, and kept the buggy, which was considerably the worse of wear.

Reid is well known in Peterborough, having at one time kept a small grocery here. He had been selling spray pumps down east of late.

RESULT OF EXAMS.

In the Educational Department of the Y. M. C. A.

HERMAN CROWE FOUND.

He is Working for Mr. Sid Bailey of the Third Concession of Emily.

The bottom has fallen out of the sensational rumour to the effect that Mr. Thos. Crowe, of Dummer, had made away with with his son, Herman. The lad is safe and well and his movements since the night he disappeared have been traced to a degree to satisfy High County Constable Cochrane that he is alive and in good health.

Mr. Wm. Leason of Douro, who was reported to have kept the boy until morning, the night of his disappearance, was in town to-day and stated that the lad came to his house at about one o'clock in the morning and asked to be kept until daybreak. He let him in and gave him bed and breakfast after which young Crowe started out towards Peterborough.

At present the lad is evidently working for Mr. Sid Bailey, of the third line of Emily township, as Mr. George Deyell, who resides just a hundred acres away from Mr. Bailey is in town to-day and says that a young fellow giving the name of Crowe came to Mr. Bailey's a couple of weeks or so ago seeking shelter from a shower. On learning that he was looking for work Mr. Bailey offered him a job and the lad is still working there.

Mr. Bailey, himself, saw Mr. Cochrane during the afternoon and assured him that young Crowe is with him on the farm.

BOARD OF TRADE.

A Number of Communications Which Were not Delth With.

Owing to the amount of business which had to be brought before the members at the last meeting on Tuesday, 6th inst., the following communications were not dealt with by the Board, but will, however, receive the attention of the Council within a few days:

INVITED TO ROCHESTER.

The 57th Will Probably Spend the Fourth of July Across the Border.

An invitation has been received by the 57th Battalion to visit Rochester on the fourth of July as the guests of the Second Separate Naval Division of New York.

Lt.-Col. Bell has already taken steps to secure the permission of the Government to take the trip, but if the invitation is to be accepted the ranks will have to be filled up immediately.

It is mooted that some of the non-commissioned officers would like to choose about a hundred picked men from the Battalion for the trip, but for the credit of the town and of the Battalion this would certainly certainly not be expedient. the whole Battalion should go and fittingly represent the town.

With such a trip as this in view the ranks should fill with a rush.

The boys should not mind giving a couple of nights a week to drill between now and July 4th, as our gallant Rangers have always reflected credit on Peterborough and won the highest eccniums for the splendid form they displayed in marching.

It would never do to go to Rochester unless the Battalion was prepared to uphold the reputation which it has won in former years.

IN TARA GROVE.

Rev. Father McColl's Annual Enniskmore Picnic.

The annual picnic under the auspices of St. Martin's church, Enniskmore, will be held on Tuesday, June 20th in that beautiful spot, known as Tara Grove.

The grounds will be open at nine o'clock in the forenoon and a most interesting list of amateur athletic sports will be run off during the day. Dinner will be served on the grounds at 12 o'clock, and supper at five. A dancing platform will be erected and a good string band is to be in attendance.

Admission to the grounds including dinner, 50 cents, children under 13 years 25 cents. The committee of management is composed of Messrs. Wm. Crough, Paul Costello, Cornelius O'Connor, Patrick Crough, John Scollard, Stephen O'Reilly, John Flood and Richard Killan.

HE GOT HIS REVENGE.

IT CAME IN THE WILD RIOT STARTED BY THE CIRCUS MAN.

He Bided His Time, and When It Came the Mexicans Who Had Tortured Him Paid Dearly For Their Unwarranted Brutality.

"I've been mixed up in a good many 'Hey, Rube,' fights in the western states, and I've got myself pretty badly clawed apart in some of them at that," said the settled down Capitol hill man who used to be boss tentman with a circus, 'but the worst 15 minute 'Hey, Rube,' battle I ever got tangled with happened in Mexico. The battle was started to satiate the vengeful spirit of one man, and the nest way with which he brought it off was surely a warning to grasshoppers. This man was in my gang. He joined the show up in the northern part of Starr county, Tex. He was inexperienced, but he was a worker, and he didn't want to do all the talking himself. His head was done up in bandages when he joined the outfit, and I asked him who had been slugging him.

"'Greasers,' he replied shortly, and, as a result of a hard, steely light crept into his eyes when he snapped out the word, I didn't press him for details.

"We had a sort of a half baked 'Hey, Rube,' fight down in the middle of Starr county—we were working toward the south—and I noticed that the new man didn't take any part in it.

"'You've got to do your end of these mix ups,' I told him. 'When you hear the "Hey, Rube," hoot, it's a part of your business to grab the heaviest thing you can swing and rap the first duck that doesn't belong to the show with it. "Hey, Rube," means all hands around, and every man that draws wages from the show is expected to give a club swinging exhibition when that yell goes up.'

"'I'm saving myself for a game that's coming later on,' the man told me with another of those flinty glares stealing into his eyes. 'The show's bound for Camargo, Mexico, isn't it?'

"I told him that Camargo, Mexico, was on the date book; that it was probably the last town the show would appear in before going into winter quarters.

"'That's what I understood when I joined the show, and that's why I took the job,' said the man quietly. 'You just let me out of whatever scraps happen between here and Camargo. When we get there I'll do what I can to keep my end up.'

"Then the man opened up and told me why he had it in for Camargo.

"'A greaser tried to pink me with a knife in the back a couple of months ago over in Camargo,' he said. 'Don't know why. Never saw the gopher before. I was too quick for him and planted a ball in his shoulder. Then about a hundred of his pals hopped me, and they came near kicking me inside out. That's what ailed my head when I joined the show. When they got through with me, the half Injun constables got hold of me and chained me to the floor of a dungeon. I was there for two weeks, on bread and water, when I got the steel out of one of my boots and sawed myself loose. I broke out of the dungeon and swam the Rio Grande to get on American soil. While I was chained one of the guards made it his business to come into my dungeon every day and punch my sore head. Oh, I'm going to have some trouble in Camargo all right That's what I joined the show for.'

"Now, it was my business as one of the responsible men of the show to peach on this fellow and have him fired before the show struck Camargo. But I didn't. A lot of old pals of mine in the circus business had told me of the way they had got the worst of it on many occasions at the hands of the Mexican authorities, and as I had been associating with me in my gang about a dozen of that bunch of fifty and odd bad [illegible] that ever hit up a dirt road and [illegible] I felt that this quiet tentman had a genuine grievance, I just chewed a straw and walked away.

"A huge crowd of half breeds turned out for the show in Camargo. There was but one performance, the night show, and the ranchers for about a hundred miles around had galloped in to take in the show. About three-quarters of the bunch of several thousand in the tent were gaudily bedecked cow handlers. They all had knives in full sight, but no guns. Mexican cow punchers rarely pack guns. They don't fight on the level, and a knife isn't a level instrument to fight with.

"Before the flaps were pulled up for the crowd I noticed my quiet tentman getting a stack of wagon poles, nearly a hundred of them, piled together in a heap. I also noticed that none of the hands, either in my gang or in the other gangs—there were nearly 200 men all told connected with the show—were doing much talking. They seemed to be on edge for something that was going to happen.

"The last act of the 'concert' following the show was about over, and the greasers were leaving their seats, when my quiet tentman hopped on top of the pile of poles he had fixed and gave the 'Hey, Rube,' yelp—gave it like any bull of Bashan. He had put the whole gang of hands next, for they didn't waste a second in taking up the yelp all over the tent. Then they came a-rushing for the poles. Well, I thought I'd keep out of that one. I made for the shelter of a ticket wagon and saw it all from there. The quiet tentman served out all of his poles in less than two minutes, and then the hands began to break. First the constables in their funny blue uniforms and bare feet—20 of 'em—were batted into unconsciousness in less time than I'm telling it. The quiet tentman looked like a devil up in the front of the scrapping. In a spirit of complete defiance he quickly dropped his pole and began to use his fists. He was a six footer and built in proportion, and the way they went down was a caution. Finally his eye lit upon the prison guard who had beat him when he was chained, and, by a curious coincidence at the same moment, the greaser who had tried to stab him heaved in sight. The victim of Camargo dragged one to the other by the scruff of the neck, banged their heads together and then stabbed them both to the heart with one of the guard's knives. That was the last I ever saw of him, but he got away. We got across the Rio Grande in our barges just in time to see five troops of Mexican cavalry pull up on the banks of the Mexican side. The show would have been there yet if they'd been a bit earlier." —Washington Star.

The Correct Answer.

In a recent civil service examination one of the questions asked was:

"What apparatus is required in a well equipped electric lighting plant of 500 16 candle power lamps capacity?"

"None," was the answer of the candidate who won the examination.—Electrical Review.

Why You Yawn.

Have you ever observed at a theater or concert that the people who are most deeply interested appear between the acts to be quite weary of the whole thing, yawning half a dozen times in succession? The reason of this is a physiological one. When your attention is much absorbed in anything exciting or touching, you breathe in a very shallow manner and take into your lungs only half enough air. Consequently, when your attention is relaxed, you have to make up the deficiency. This you do by yawning, which, after all, is only breathing a very deep breath.

If you watch a man at a play and observe that he is greatly moved by some incident, you may feel sure that when the scene ends he will sigh and a moment or two later yawn repeatedly. Of course the yawning, so far from being a sign of weariness, is a proof of the liveliest appreciation.

Very often you will observe the same phenomenon in a girl reading a novel. And by her yawns you can tell when the end of some absorbing incident is reached.

The Dead Irishman.

Some Irish body snatchers had rifled a grave and hid their booty in a corner of the churchyard, when it occurred to a half tipsy fellow, who had been watching them unobserved, that it would be pleasanter to be driven back to the nearest town than to walk. He accordingly secreted the dead man under a hedge and lay down in his place. He was duly transferred to a cart, but when about half the journey was over one of the men who had touched his hand screamed to his friend. "Good heavens, the body is warm!"

Hereupon, in a deep voice, the supposed dead man remarked, "If you had been where I've been for the last two days, you'd be warm too!"

In a moment he was left in full possession of the vehicle!—Sir M. E. Grant Duff's Diary

DIRECT FROM SURPASSINGLY SPLENDID TRIUMPHS AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—These are the same great shows, the gigantic aggregation, the same colossal combination that so startled the metropolis of the country by its overwhelming magnitude, its comprehensive completeness, and its veritable avalanche of novelties and floodtide of innovations when it inaugurated its tour of this season at the Madison Square Garden, New York City. Its tremendous triumph was attested by the unanimous and unqualified praises of the press and plaudits of the people, and patronage only limited by the capacity of the largest temple of amusement in the world.

SPECIAL NOTICE—EXTRA!!!—It is hereby promised without reserve and the promise will be faithfully kept, that the programme of the shows to be presented in this city will be absolutely and exactly the same, man for man, horse for horse, animal for animal, feature for feature and detail for detail as the exhibition that so completely conquered the mighty metropolis.

EXTRA SPECIAL NOTICE—EXTRA!!!—The prices for the great consolidation in New York were as high as $2 per seat. Here only the usual prices charged by merely ordinary shows will be asked. No advance over usual prices in spite of the double shows.

THE GOLD IN THE ORE

HOW IT IS SEPARATED FROM THE BASER METALS.

Details of the Interesting Processes, Alike the Wide World Over, by Which Gold Is Assayed and Mine Values Are Determined.

Imagine a gold mine. You may select many climates—Siberia or Africa, Klondike or Australia, California or India. Situate your mine where you will. So long as it be a gold mine the procedure of assaying is the same all the wide world over. Select a mass of ore weighing, perhaps, 50 pounds, and smash it up. Do not expect to see any gold in it because the precious metal is probably so thinly and uniformly scattered through the quartz that it is impossible to spot a grain together. Continue grinding the ore till it is in the form of powder. This powder is heaped into a cone, which is divided into four parts, of which the sampler takes two whose angles are opposite to one another. Mix these two parts thoroughly and again divide into four; take two portions again, and so on till a sample of convenient bulk is obtained. By this logical method the sample yielded is, on any ordinary calculation of probability, certain to represent accurately the original mass taken.

A certain quantity of this sample is now weighed out, two equal amounts being taken as checks upon each other. The weighing may be done in denominational values of either grams or assay tons. The assay ton is a most convenient invention and is very simply explained. The ordinary ton contains 32,666.6 ounces; if, then, we make a unit (an assay ton) weighing 32.6667 grams, each .001 of a gram will equal one ounce per ton. Thus, no calculation is needed at all to estimate the gold richness of an ore per ton.

Say we weigh out, then, two separate portions of the ore of one assay ton (A. T.) each. With each mix thoroughly bicarbonate of soda, litharge, borax, glass and flour in varying proportions; when thoroughly uniform in color empty the mixtures in fire clay crucibles and strew on the top a thin layer of salt. Put on the lids of the two crucibles and surround them with living coal, coke or burning vaporized bensoline in a crucible furnace. The crucibles are heated till the masses of ore and fluxes are in a state of tranquil fusion—that is, not bubbling or boiling. The white hot fluid is then poured into iron molds and allowed to cool.

On examination, after cooling, the fused masses will be found to consist of: (1) A layer of white substance, which is salt. (2) A slag. This is usually dark in color, often resembling malachite, and is formed by the fusion of the borax and soda with the worthless or earthy matter (gangue) in the ore. (3) A lead button, produced from the litharge, or lead oxide, originally mixed in the charge.

This lead button contains all the silver and gold in the ore. The heat of the furnace drives off from the lead oxide its oxygen, so that pure lead is left; this, in virtue of its weight, percolates downward through the slag during the heating in the furnace, collecting all the gold and silver present, and eventually forms a button weighing, if a proper amount of flour has been added originally, about 16 to 20 grams. The flour has the effect of varying the size of lead button produced and is said to possess a reducing action.

The next step in the process is to get rid of the lead without also losing the gold and silver. This is done by an operation known as cupellation. The cupel is a small round, bone ash cup, which is placed in a sort of fire clay tunnel with one end closed up, known as a muffle. The muffle is heated from the outside, either by burying it with coals or by playing burning gas on every part of it. When the cupel has attained the heat of the interior of the muffle, the lead button is placed in it and the door of the muffle shut, so as to procure the greatest amount of heat possible. When the lead is seen to be melted and fuming, the muffle door is opened to admit the air, which is sucked in by the intense heat.

The oxygen contained in the air oxydises the lead into lead oxide, and the bone ash cupel absorbs lead oxide like a sponge, but refuses to absorb the gold and silver, so that at length there is left in the cupel only a button of the two precious metals. It is to be supposed that two ore samples have been treated similarly both in the crucibles and cupels, but for the sake of convenience it is better to explain the treatment of one only. The bead of gold and silver obtained weighs, let us say .0016 of a gram. This is noted down. The bead after weighing is flattened out in a flatting mill, so as to expose as large a surface as possible to the nitric acid which is then added to it. On heating the silver is dissolved, but, of course, the gold is untouched by the action of any single acid. The remaining pure gold is treated with strong aqua fortis acid, called "parting acid," to drive off any suspected trace of silver and then washed with water.

If the "parting" of the gold from the silver has been successful, the gold is left as a thin, small sheet. From this all moisture is driven off by heat. On weighing the gold may be as heavy as .0007 of a gram. Then, as it has previously been noted that the total gold and silver bead had weighed .0016 of a grain, the weight of silver present must have been .0009 of a gram—that is to say, in one assay ton of 32.6667 grams there are .0007 gram of gold and .0009 grain of silver. It has been stated at the commencement of this article that in an assay ton each .001 of a gram represents in a real tone one ounce. Therefore we have seven-tenths of an ounce of gold—that is, 14 pennyweights (20 dwt. equal 1 oz.)—and nine-tenths of an ounce of silver—that is, 18 pennyweights—to the ton. Quod erat faciendum.

Many minor processes, such as roasting, scorification and inquartation, enter into the work done in an assay; but it has been desirable to make the process as clear and free from complication as possible, and for this reason a simple ore has been selected. Of course the results obtained from two assay tons assayed simultaneously ought to be coincident with one another, and this is why two assay tons have been supposed to be treated together in the above explanation.—Chambers' Journal

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15002 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334.80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

HE GOT HIS REVENGE.

IT CAME IN THE WILD RIOT STARTED BY THE CIRCUS MAN.

He Bided His Time, and When It Came the Mexicans Who Had Tortured Him Paid Dearly For Their Unwarranted Brutality.

"I've been mixed up in a good many 'Hey, Rube,' fights in the western states, and I've got myself pretty badly clawed apart in some of them at that," said the settled down Capitol hill man who used to be boss tentman with a circus, 'but the worst 15 minute 'Hey, Rube,' battle I ever got tangled with happened in Mexico. The battle was started to satiate the vengeful spirit of one man, and the neat way with which he brought it off was surely a warning to grasshoppers. This man was in my gang. He joined the show up in the northern part of Starr county, Tex. He was inexperienced, but he was a worker, and he didn't want to do all the talking himself. His head was done up in bandages when he joined the outfit, and I asked him who had been slugging him.

"'Greasers,' he replied shortly, and, as a a vi of a hard, steely light crept into his eyes when he snapped out the word, I didn't press him for details.

"We had a sort of a half baked 'Hey, Rube,' fight down in the middle of Starr county—we were working toward the south—and I noticed that the new man didn't take any part in it.

"'You've got to do your end of these mix ups,' I told him. 'When you hear the "Hey, Rube," hoot, it's a part of your business to grab the heaviest thing you can swing and rap the first duck that doesn't belong to the show with it. "Hey, Rube," means all hands around, and every man that draws wages from the show is expected to give a club swinging exhibition when that yell goes up.'

"'I'm saving myself for a game that's coming later on,' the man told me with another of those flinty glares stealing into his eyes. 'The show's bound for Camargo, Mexico, isn't it?'

"I told him that Camargo, Mexico, was on the date book; that it was probably the last town the show would appear in before going into winter quarters.

"'That's what I understood when I joined the show, and that's why I took the job,' said the man quietly. 'You just let me out of whatever scraps happen between here and Camargo. When we get there I'll do what I can to keep my end up.'

"Then the man opened up and told me why he had it in for Camargo.

"'A greaser tried to pink me with a knife in the back a couple of months ago over in Camargo,' he said. 'Don't know why. Never saw the gopher before. I was too quick for him and planted a ball in his shoulder. Then about a hundred of his pals hopped me, and they came near kicking me inside out. That's what ailed my head when I joined the show. When they got through with me, the half Injun constables got hold of me and chained me to the floor of a dungeon. I was there for two weeks, on bread and water, when I got the steel out of one of my boots and sawed myself loose. I broke out of the dungeon and swam the Rio Grande to get on American soil. While I was chained one of the guards made it his business to come into my dungeon every day and punch my sore head. Oh, I'm going to have some trouble in Camargo all right That's what I joined the show for.'

"Now, it was my business as one of the responsible men of the show to punch on this fellow and have him fired before the show struck Camargo. But I didn't. A lot of old pals of mine in the circus business had told me of the way they had got the worst of it on many occasions at the hands of the Mexican authorities, and as I had along with me in my gang about the toughest bunch of fifty and odd bad scrappers that ever hit up a dirt road and as, besides, I felt that this quiet tentman had a genuine grievance, I just chewed a straw and walked away.

"A huge crowd of half breeds turned out for the show in Camargo. There was but one performance, the night show, and the ranchers for about a hundred miles around had galloped in to take in the show. About three-quarters of the bunch of several thousand in the tent were gaudily bedecked cow handlers. They all had knives in full sight, but no guns. Mexican cow punchers rarely pack guns. They don't fight on the level, and a knife isn't a level instrument to fight with.

"Before the flaps were pulled up for the crowd I noticed my quiet tentman getting a stack of wagon poles, nearly a hundred of them, piled together in a heap. I also noticed that none of the hands, either in my gang or in the other gangs—there were nearly 200 men all told connected with the show—were doing much talking. They seemed to be on edge for something that was going to happen.

"The last act of the 'concert' following the show was about over, and the greasers were leaving their seats, when my quiet tentman hopped on top of the pile of poles he had fixed and gave the 'Hey, Rube,' yelp—gave it like any bull of Bashan. He had put the whole gang of hands next, for they didn't waste a second in taking up the yelp all over the tent. Then they came a-rushing for the poles. Well, I thought I'd keep out of that one. I made for the shelter of a ticket wagon and saw it all from there. The quiet tentman served out all of his poles in less than two minutes, and then the hands began to break. First the constables in their funny blue uniforms and bare feet—20 of 'em—were batted into unconsciousness in less time than I'm telling it. The quiet tentman looked like a devil up in the front of the scrapping. In a spirit of complete defiance he quickly dropped his pole and began to use his fists. He was a six footer and built in proportion, and the way they went down was a caution. Finally his eye lit upon the prison guard who had beat him when he was chained, and, by a curious coincidence at the same moment, the greaser who had tried to stab him heaved in sight. The victim of Camargo dragged one to the other by the scruff of the neck, banged their heads together and then stabbed them both to the heart with one of the guard's knives. That was the last I ever saw of him, but he got away. We got across the Rio Grande in our barges just in time to see five troops of Mexican cavalry pull up on the banks of the Mexican side. The show would have been there yet if they'd been a bit earlier." —Washington Star.

The Correct Answer.

In a recent civil service examination one of the questions asked was:

"What apparatus is required in a well equipped electric lighting plant of 500 16 candle power lamps capacity?"

"None," was the answer of the candidate who won the examination.—Electrical Review.

Why You Yawn.

Have you ever observed at a theater or concert that the people who are most deeply interested appear between the acts to be quite weary of the whole thing, yawning half a dozen times in succession? The reason of this is a physiological one. When your attention is much absorbed in anything exciting or touching, you breathe in a very shallow manner and take into your lungs only half enough air. Consequently, when your attention is relaxed, you have to make up the deficiency. This you do by yawning, which, after all, is only breathing a very deep breath.

If you watch a man at a play and observe that he is greatly moved by some incident, you may feel sure that when the scene ends he will sigh and a moment or two later yawn repeatedly. Of course the yawning, so far from being a sign of weariness, is a proof of the liveliest appreciation.

Very often you will observe the same phenomenon in a girl reading a novel. And by her yawns you can tell when the end of some absorbing incident is reached.

The Dead Irishman.

Some Irish body snatchers had rifled a grave and hid their booty in a corner of the churchyard, when it occurred to a half tipsy fellow, who had been watching them unobserved, that it would be pleasanter to be driven back to the nearest town than to walk. He accordingly secreted the dead man under a hedge and lay down in his place. He was duly transferred to a cart, but when about half the journey was over one of the men who had touched his hand screamed to his friend. "Good heavens, the body is warm!"

Hereupon, in a deep voice, the supposed dead man remarked, "If you had been where I've been for the last two days, you'd be warm too!"

In a moment he was left in full possession of the vehicle!—Sir M. E. Grant Duff's Diary

THE GOLD IN THE ORE

HOW IT IS SEPARATED FROM THE BASER METALS.

Details of the Interesting Processes, Alike the Wide World Over, by Which Gold Is Assayed and Mine Values Are Determined.

Imagine a gold mine. You may select many climates—Siberia or Africa, Klondike or Australia, California or India. Situate your mine where you will. So long as it be a gold mine the procedure of assaying is the same all the wide world over. Select a mass of ore weighing, perhaps, 50 pounds, and smash it up. Do not expect to see any gold in it because the precious metal is probably so thinly and uniformly scattered through the quarts that it is impossible to spot a grain together. A certain quantity of this sample is now weighed out, two equal amounts being taken as checks upon each other. The weighing may be done in denominational values of either grams or assay tons. The assay ton is a most convenient invention and is very simply explained. The ordinary ton contains 29,166.6 ounces; if, then, we make a unit (an assay ton) weighing 32.6667 grams, each .001 of a gram will equal one ounce per ton. Thus, no calculation is needed at all to estimate the gold richness of an ore per ton.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15002 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334.80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

A FEARLESS SKIPPER

HE HELPED BOSS TWEED TO ESCAPE FROM NEW YORK.

Captain Bryan Got $30,000 For That Job, but Ever After Misfortune and Bad Luck Followed Him Until He Finally Died Penniless.

After losing every cent of the $30,000 which he received for aiding Boss Tweed to escape from the country James Bryan died penniless at his home in New York.

Bryan was a sea captain and was fairly prosperous until the day when he took the fugitive Tweed aboard his ship and carried him away from New York harbor. Then his misfortune began.

Bryan did not know who his mysterious passenger was to be, and he did not care. That was why he was chosen to do the work. He had the reputation of being the most fearless man who ever sailed a ship out of the port of New York. It was his boast that he feared neither man, God nor the devil. On one occasion, when a terrible storm was raging and all shipmasters had been warned not to leave port, he, to use his own words, "sailed out in the name of the devil."

Bryan's widow told the story of that run for liberty with apparent pleasure. She was as proud of the captain's daring as he had been of it himself. She told it just as he had told it to her. She said:

"Bryan had just come into port on the Belle. He found that Michael Murray and John Norton, who owned Norton's point, Coney Island, had already cleared the Frank Atwood in his name and that she was ready to go out.

"He was told that he was to take two passengers to Cuba and that there would be a good thing in it for him. He did not know who they were or what part of Cuba they wanted to go to, and he did not ask any questions. It was not his habit to ask hard questions in such matters.

"He dropped down the bay and lay to off Norton's point. The tug Dauntless was alongside, and, to save time, he did not anchor, the tug keeping the ship steady against the tide.

"The captain went ashore in a small boat, leaving the ship in charge of the mate. They had arranged a signal with a revolving light, which was shown by both the ship and the boat, so that each could tell where the other was in the darkness.

"There was no moon, and the clouds cut off the starlight and made it one of the blackest nights that had ever been known on the bay. A signal light on shore showed the captain where to land, and a few passwords agreed upon beforehand told him that he had found his passengers.

"Two muffled figures stepped into the boat, and they were rowed back to the ship. The passengers went below, and the tug took the ship through the channel and returned. No time was lost in getting out to sea.

"In the morning Bryan recognised Tweed by his pictures, which every one had seen. Tweed told Bryan to keep his mouth shut, and he would be well rewarded. Bryan did keep his mouth shut, and Tweed gave him $80,000 before he left the ship.

"The Frank Atwood had been cleared for some South American port, I forget which, and could not go into Santiago, Cuba, where Tweed wanted to land.

"Bryan ran his ship toward the harbor as though he was going to sail in, and when near shore a small boat rowed alongside. That had been arranged by Tweed's friends in Santiago, and Tweed and his secretary, Samuel Hunt, got into the small boat.

"Then Bryan turned and put out to sea. A Spanish gunboat chased him and fired several shots at him, but could not catch him.

"Tweed went under the name of John Secor and Samuel Hunt under the name of William Hunter. Bryan heard that they had some trouble with the Spaniards when they landed, but a little money fixed it all right.

"The police got wind of the thing some way and were looking for Bryan, so he had to stay away from New York for three years. He lived during that time in Mobile under the name of John Smith.

"Then Tweed's friends fixed things up all right, and Bryan was allowed to come back. He took the $30,000 which Tweed gave him and built the Flying Scud. He sailed her for awhile and sold her for $18,500.

"Then he bought an interest in four or five other ships and sold them out again, but somehow always seemed to lose money on every trade.

"He bought an interest in the Joe Kelly and was shipwrecked in her off San Salvador. Then he bought an interest in the W and H. Witherspoon and was shipwrecked in her off Hatteras. He did not lose a man in either shipwreck, every one of the crew getting off safely, but he lost a lot of money.

"Then he bought a third interest in another ship, and he and the other two owners got into a quarrel, and neither would let the other do anything with her, and she lay over at the Erie basin for a couple of years until the dockage ate her up. She was no good, and the insurance companies would not take her. She was sold finally, and Bryan's share was only $350. The man who bought her took her to sea, and she sank.

"The $350 was soon gone, and Bryan had to go to work for other owners. His last trip was on the Concordia, and it was his worst. She belonged to Simon Howard, who lived in St. Andrews, on the Venezuelan coast. Bryan took charge of her at Charleston and sailed her to West Indian ports and back to Charleston. He was on her 2½ years and never got paid a cent. He seized the ship at St. Andrews for his pay, and she was tied up.

"The matters got mixed up in the courts and dragged along so long that he was most starved. Finally a captain who knew him brought him home.

"Bryan got William J. Sharkey out of the country after the murder of Robert Dunn in 1875. That was when he owned the Flying Scud. He did not have much trouble then. He just took Sharkey with him when he was going to Cuba. He did not make anything out of it either. I understand that Sharkey is living on a plantation in Cuba now."

Bryan died from dropsy after a short illness.

UNEXPECTED HONOR.

The Amusing Predicament of a Southwestern Railroad Official.

They were talking about having a boom at Hardy, Ark., one fall during the administration of President Harrison. The town is situated on the beautiful Spring river and has the Memphis road. The idea of the boomers was to make a resort of the place, either for summer or winter pleasure seekers. About the time the boom was being planned the announcement was made that Russell Harrison, the president's son, was coming west and would pass through Hardy on his way to Kansas City. It was accordingly arranged that speeches should be made while the train stopped, not to speak of an ovation of anvils and fireworks.

For some reason the Harrison party did not pass through Hardy as arranged, but it happened, remarkably enough, that a private coach full of the Memphis road's officials was fastened to the north bound train that reached Hardy about half past 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The youngest member of the party was Mr. B. L. Winchell, the assistant general passenger agent of the road. He was then past 30, but every railroad man in the country who knew Ben Winchell would have said that he did not look more than 20.

Mr. Winchell was standing on the broad vestibule at the rear of the private car as the train rolled into Hardy, when a deafening noise ahead caused him to wonder if the engine had blown up. He leaned over the rail and looked forward. A great crowd was gathered and anvils and cannons were being fired by the dozen. The train stopped so that the crowd was placed at the end of the private car. Cheers were proposed and given with a will, and shouts of "There he is!" "Hurrah for the president's son!" and "How young!" were heard on every side. Then the cannons and anvils were touched off again and some of the skyrockets and Roman candles were fired off in the face of the glaring afternoon sun.

Mr. Winchell was dazed. He did not understand the meaning of it all. He thought that they were advertising the town, but he could not understand the meaning of the shouts and exclamations. Then it struck him that there might be some important personage in a forward car, and he at once went to look. The train started on before he got through, when one of the officials who had got the hang of the situation met Winchell and rushed him back.

"Hang it, Ben," he shouted, "go back on the platform and bow, make a speech—do something, for heaven's sake! You're the president's son."

Winchell didn't understand anything about it, but he went back on the platform and bowed and smiled until he felt like an automaton. Then it was explained to him. The people of Hardy were shocked to learn next day that they had not seen the president's son, and they at once declared all boom proceedings off.—Detroit Free Press.

Probably Not.

It was said of Oliver Wendell Holmes that some of his best jokes were made at times when there was nobody to appreciate them save a chance listener.

One such fortunate listener tells of a reply which she, sitting in a street car, heard Dr. Holmes make to a complaining writer of little wit and less talent.

"I've worked with all my heart on that book," said the young man, who had been treating the doctor to a long account of a recent collection of poetry which he had edited. "I've used my best taste and judgment and research, and I feel confident that nobody could have done the thing better or more thoroughly than I have. And what reward do I get? Harsh criticisms for my omission of a few popular poets and a paltry $100."

"A hundred dollars!" echoed the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table wearily. "Why, I wouldn't have written that book for $1,000, I'm sure!"

The collector of poetry smiled with gratification, but the listener turned to regard a passing dray lest her face should betray her.—Youth's Companion.

Her Sweet Mistake.

A short time since the daughter of a millionaire drove up to the door of a jeweler's shop, went in and selected a turquoise and diamond ring valued at $250. She made out her check for that sum and passed it to the proprietor, who glanced at it and then looked inquiringly up at the young lady and said, "There is some mistake here, I think."

The young lady flushed and asked if the check was not for the right amount. She was told it was, but—

"But what?" she exclaimed frigidly. "Do you mean that my check is not acceptable?"

The jeweler acknowledged that he knew quite well who the young lady was, but explained that the check was not made out just as it should be, and he handed it back. The girl ran her eye over it and then turned a deep crimson.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, "I see!" And then she proceeded to make out another check. She had signed the first one, "Your own sweetheart, Jessie."

A Race of Tailed Men.

Africa is a continent rich in tailed men myths. There is supposed to be a candate race of pygmies somewhere in the uplands of Abyssinia. The Main-Mains are a celebrated case. A good many years ago the French government dispatched a M. Descouret with instructions to explore some of the least known parts of Africa and to ascertain the exact degree of truth in the various stories about the Main-Mains. He describes the people as being mostly under five feet in height, ill proportioned, thin, weak and ugly, with short, woolly hair and with an external elongation of the vertebral column, which, he says, "in every individual, male or female, forms a tail two or three inches long."—Medical Record.

Mowing the Lawn.

The man who shoves the mower
Across the spacious lawn
Now gets up bright and early,
Before the dew is gone.
The noisy thing he pushes
Around and up and down,
Then bolts the waiting breakfast
And hurries off to town.

When daily task is finished,
To home in haste he'll go,
Gulp down the waiting supper,
And then again he'll mow.
The nerve disturbing clatter
Proceeds without delay
Until the darkness forces
A rest until next day.

From side to side he's mowing,
From end to end, and then
He sees that where he started
The grass has grown again.
The mowing knives he sharpens,
The wheels he soaks with oil,
And where he made beginning
Again he starts to toil.

He's at it every morning
Just after break of dawn;
At eve is heard the racket
Of mower on his lawn.
With sleep and peace of neighbors
For months he'll now play hob,
For he's just fairly started
On his all summer job.

There's growling 'mong the victims—
They have no lawns to mow—
And their dissatisfaction
In many ways they show.
They're scowling at the fellow
Who thinks the grass is rank,
And often they're denouncing
That "blazed lawn mowing crank."

According to a Method.

"Why do you always prefer to move into a new flat?" asked the matron in the paisley shawl.

"It saves so much work," replied the matron with the bored expression. "You never have to clean house."

"But you get the new flat dirty after a time, don't you?"

"Certainly. Then's the time to move into another new one."

Hardly.

"At least," said the artist who was engaged in painting a portrait of the president of the Fat Men's club, "this is one picture the critics can't accuse of lack in breadth and color."—Indianapolis Journal.

WEIGHING OF COAL.

The Council to be Petitioned to Have It Done on the Market Scales.

Hearing that Mr. A. J. McClelland, local manager of the Peoples' Coal Company, was interesting himself in the matter of having coal weighed on the market scales before being delivered to customers, a representative of the Examiner called on him and obtained his views as appended:

"Yes," said Mr. McClelland, "I am very much in favour of having all the coal weighed on the market scales, and intend trying to get the town council to pass a bylaw compelling all coal to be weighed there. We have our own scales in connection with our shed, but would prefer to pay the charge, which is a small one, namely five cents a load, as it is more satisfactory, both to ourselves and our customers, as well as all the coal consumers in town."

"Why are you in favour of this?"

"Well, in the first place very few know a ton of coal when they see it, and a coal dealer can very easily take advantage of a customer if he chooses. I do not say any of the coal dealers in Peterborough would do this; would be very sorry to think so—but it has been done in other towns, and if the coal was weighed on the market scales the buyer would be sure he was receiving a ton, and not be trusting to his dealer, or very often his dealer's carters. Again, the Government, town, and a number of the larger consumers in asking for tenders, or prices, specify and compel the coal to be weighed on the public scales. Why should not the smaller consumer be given the same privilege?

"Then again, it would be a source of revenue to the town, as the market scale privileges would be worth from $800 to $1,000 more. In Belleville, where this is in force, the scale rights sell for nearly $1,000 more than the Peterborough rights, and I may safely say that the only way to account for this is the weighing of coal, as their market is very much smaller than ours, and I am told that there are more cattle and hogs weighed here in a week than there in a month, so therefore one can easily see that it must be the weighing of coal that enhances the price of their scale rights. Napanee, Picton, Ottawa and other towns have also adopted this plan, and the results are most satisfactory. I have always been in favour of this, but as we came here strangers, and had to work up our business, I considered it would have been presumption on my part to ask for a change, but now our business is as large as any of the dealers, and I consider I am not pushing myself forward too much in asking for this, as the inconvenience, if there is any, will be just the same to us as the rest, as we are all located about the same distance from the market. I am sure this will meet with the hearty co-operation of all the coal consumers in town. I am very glad you called on me as I intend starting out next week with a petition to the council, and hope to obtain the signatures of as many coal consumers as is possible for me to see, asking the council to pass a bylaw compelling the weigh-of coal on the market scales."

THE HIGH COURT AND COUNTY COURT.

THE PETERBOROUGH SITTINGS OPEN NEXT WEEK.

Chief Justice Armour Will Preside at the High Court and Judge Weller Will be on the Bench for the County Court.

The non jury sittings of the High Court of Justice open on Monday next at 1 p.m., before the Honourable Mr. Justice Armour, Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench.

The following cases have been set down for hearing:

HIGH COURT.

Alexander McNaughton and John Smith, plaintiffs, and Wm. Larmer, et al (infants), defendants. The plaintiffs sue as executors of a "last" will and testament of Thos. Hutchinson, farmer, Cavan, dated May 25th, 1895. It appears that Thos. Hutchinson also made a will dated June 28th, 1898, in which the defendant, Larmer, is made the sole devisee, legatee and executor. The plaintiffs allege that at the time of the 2nd will Thos. Hutchinson was in poor health and was not of sound mind and that he was coerced to execute the last will. They also allege that Hutchinson was similarly influenced to make a sale to Larmer in March, 1897. They ask that the court set aside this indenture of sale and to declare that the will of 1895 is the true will of the deceased. The defendant denies the main allegations of the plaintiffs. He claims that the last will was duly granted and that he is willing to pay to the proper persons or to pay into court the sum of $1000 as mentioned in the indenture of the said sale. S. S. Smith, Port Hope, for plaintiffs, H. F. Holland, Cobourg, for defendants.

Cox vs. Clarkeson—The plaintiff, Edward William Cox carried on business at the town of Peterborough as hardware merchant, under the firm name of Micks & Cox, and the defendant E. R. C. Clarkeson is an accountant in the city of Toronto, and is assignee of the estate of A. E. Micks & Co.

Plaintiff claims that on the 9th day of November, the plaintiff and A. E. Micks had a valuable business and that on the advice and through the influence of defendant and his agent were persuaded to make an assignment for the benefit of the creditors. Plaintiff claims that defendant did not take proper precaution in disposing of the said business but sold it at a sacrifice and that the defendant against protests of plaintiff collusively sold by private sale to A. E. Micks or some person representing said Micks without giving plaintiff a chance to purchase same. The plaintiff claims among other things $3000 damages.

Defendant denies that he was and is not the assignee of said estate. That whatever sale was made of said business was made with knowledge of plaintiff. Stratton & Hall for plaintiffs; D. Parks, Toronto, for defendant.

COUNTY COURT.

On Tuesday, the sittings of the County Court will open before His Honour, Judge Weller.

JURY CASES.

There are two criminal and four civil cases set down for hearing. The criminal cases are:

Queen vs. Edward Allan for theft; and Queen vs. Thos. McGuire, also for theft.

The civil actions are:

Kennedy vs. Ironside.—The plaintiff who is a live stock dealer in the town of Peterborough, seeks to recover off the defendant in Montreal, live stock merchants, the sum of $184.50, being the balance due plaintiff upon a certain shipment of lambs which were delivered to defendant per contract. The defendant in his statement of defence denies the allegations contained in the plaintiff's statement of claim and alleges that if any contract was entered into with the plaintiff for the delivery of said lambs, defendant did so merely as agent for Messrs. Gordon & Ironside and the contract was not a personal one on himself. The defendant claims that there is nothing due to the plaintiff and asks that the case be dismissed with costs. Roger and Bennett for plaintiff; DuVernet & Jones, Toronto, for defendants.

Watley vs. Anglesea—The plaintiff is a labourer residing in the township of Dummer, and the defendant is a farmer of Smith. The plaintiff sues for $200 damages and costs. He alleges that he was falsely and maliciously charged by the defendant before a Justice of the Peace in January last, with having stolen on January 13th. He was admitted to bail and discharged on June 25th. He claims that he was injured in character and put to great expense and sues as aforesaid.

Defendant claims that he overpaid plaintiffs wages to the amount of $1.00 and that the latter refused to work for this. He states that he acted without malice and believed he was pursuing a proper remedy. E. B. Edwards for plaintiff; D. O'Connell, for defendant.

Evans et al vs. Valentine.—Daniel Evans and William McNearn, cattle buyers, vs. Silas Valentine, farmer of Kinmount, Victoria county. Plaintiffs claim that in August, 1898, they bought 35 cattle at the price of $512 from defendant to be delivered by defendant; that they paid $10 in part payment and that they defendant did not deliver said cattle and they claim the sum of $10 and $110 as damages for loss of profit, resulting from alleged non delivery. The defendant Valentine denies that he made the bargain as stated. He claims to have agreed to sell plaintiff 34 cattle for $512 to be delivered at Kinmount and plaintiffs were not there to receive them. He claims also that he sold them at a loss to other parties. Stratton & Hall, solicitors for plaintiff; Hugh O'Leary, Lindsay, for defendant.

NON JURY.

Walsh vs. Reynolds et al.—The plaintiff John Walsh, is a drover carrying on business in the township of Asphodel and the defendants, S. H. Reynolds and John Darch at the time of the making of the alleged contract were carrying on the butcher business at Bowmanville. The plaintiff claims that the defendant entered into a contract with him to supply Walsh, the said plaintiff, with a shipment of hogs at a certain price to be delivered at Montreal at a set date and plaintiff paid defendant $20 thereon, but the hogs, the plaintiff claims, were not delivered. He claims $180 damages for breach of contract, the further sum of $20 and costs of the action.

The defendant admits that a contract was entered into but that the price of said hogs was to be regulated with reference to the price hogs were selling at. The defendants claimed that they notified the plaintiff of their willingness to fulfill said contract and delivered said hogs to Jos. Morgan & Sons, of Montreal as agreed and were paid $5,557.67 thereon. The defendants also set up a counter claim of $48.97. Ruddy & Clarry, Hastings, for plaintiffs; R. Loscomb for defendants.

SAVINGS BANKS IN THE SCHOOL

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir—Public attention should be drawn to the proposal lately made and endorsed by a committee of Trustees that Savings Banks be established in our schools, as has been already done in a few other towns. I have no doubt that the movers in this matter are actuated by good motives, but there should be very careful consideration of all possible results before such a step be taken. Certainly it is well that our children should learn to be economical and saving. But no risks should be run of making them selfish, penurious and mean. There are enough active influences in the world which tend to stifle generosity without our school system lending its powerful influence in this dangerous direction.

It is urged that if this system be adopted children will be able to keep their parents in times of distress. But will the children have the disposition to do this if we practically train them in the opposite direction? Perhaps so, but it seems to some of us a dangerous experiment.

The children of this town don't receive much money to spend in unnecessary ways, which they can put in savings banks, and many of the parents will not wish to be constantly appealed to for small sums which they can ill afford—even to lay by for themselves and their families. At all events there are the beneficiary societies to which many of us belong and to which we have to pay, and there are the Post Office and four other savings banks in town close at hand, so there really does not seem to be a crying necessity for anything more at present.

There seems to be a rage for 'improvements" sweeping over the country at present and there is a disposition to jump at and adopt one thing after another because it seems at first sight to be a good thing and somebody else has done it. Let us be satisfied to go a little more slowly and first see how some of these things work. Yours, etc.,

CITIZEN.

The Excursion Which They Will Run on June 14th to Muskoka

A most enjoyable outing is promised on Wednesday, June 14th, when the first annual excursion of the Hastings Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, takes place to Muskoka. The excursion is from all points along the Midland Division from Belleville through to Bracebridge and Gravenhurst. Tickets from Belleville to Lindsay, inclusive, are good to return until June 17th; from other points they are good until the 16th. The return fare from Peterborough is the small sum of $1.45, and proportionately low rates have been arranged from the other points along the line. Passengers can leave on the regular morning train, starting from Belleville at 5.40 a.m., and leaving Peterborough at 8 o'clock or they can take the special which is made up here and leaves Peterborough at 7.35 a.m.; Best's 7.47; Omemee 8.03; Reaboro 8.10; Lindsay 8.20, etc. The boats will leave on arrival of the trains at Muskoka wharf. Eight hours will be spent on the beautiful Muskoka lakes and the returning trains that evening will leave Muskoka wharf at 7 o'clock.

The Hastings citizens brass band will be in attendance and when it is stated that Rev. Father McGuire, of Hastings, is the chairman of the committee, it is a guarantee that the excursion will be the success of the season.

I. O. O. F. NOTES.

Committees Met to Consider Business—Decoration Day Ceremony.

The joint Committe to arrange the annual decoration ceremonies met on Thursday evening and discussed matters, but will meet again later to complete arrangements.

A committee also met to arrange for the reception of the Oddfellows' excursion coming here on July 1st from Hamilton and Toronto. A committee will meet the excursion trains, and also extend other courtesies to the visiting brethren.

Next Thursday evening, June 15th, Peterborough Lodge, No. 111, will confer the three degrees on several candidates from Millbrook Lodge. Some are also expected from Pontypool and Havelock. Refreshments will be served after the degrees are conferred.

Bro. Green, Hunter street, hopes all members of Peterborough Lodge who have not yet sat for their photos will do so before June 15th, that the work of grouping may then be commenced. The group photo promises to be an excellent one.

Anniversary Entertainment.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. are arranging for a very interesting programme to be given in the building on the anniversary of the opening—Monday, June 19th. Friends, kindly remember this date. Particulars will be given later.

HIS NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. John N. Babcock's Experience With Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sharbot Lake, Ont., May 29. — No resident of this place is better known to the thousands of tourists and sportsmen who visit us annually than is Mr. John N. Babcock.

Mr. Babcock has had many thrilling experiences, but the narrowest escape he ever had, he tells of in these words: "After twenty years of pain, caused by Gravel and other Kidney Complaints, I am pleased to be able to state that I have been completely cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. During these years I have spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and remedies, but only Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me."

The Fray.

And the many miles of paper spinning off the factory reel,
You can see the metal heating for the types that gleam and chink,
You can hear the restless murmur of the swiftly flowing ink.

When a cruel war is over, when the cannon's echoings cease,
There's still a dreaded interval before we get to peace.

BRITISH CHINESE POLICY.

Lord Beresford Denounces the Government for Dilly-Dallying About China—Mr. Broderick's Reply.

London, June 10.—While the House of Commons was in committee of supply, on the Foreign Office vote yesterday, Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, Conservative member for York City, delivered a scathing criticism of the Government's policy of "drifting" in China, during which he said the Government had deceived the people and allowed the open door policy to be finally killed, by permitting Russia to interfere in a purely commercial enterprise like the Shanghai-Kwan Railroad. The Admiral then proposed that the four countries most interested, Great Britain, the United States, Japan and Germany, go to China and offer to take over and organize her army, adding that if Great Britain took the lead he was sure the United States would follow, and asserted he also had a distinct intimation that Japan would join in such a movement.

The Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, the Right Hon. William St. John Broderick, replied, pointing out the difficulties in meeting Lord Beresford's desire, adding that he thought His Lordship was over-sanguine in believing the United States would follow the lead of Great Britain. Germany, he continued, had great interests in China, but she had a thousand times greater interests in Europe. As to treating the Yangtse-kiang Valley like the Shangtung Peninsula, Her Majesty's Government was not prepared to undertake the immense responsibility of governing an inch of that large territory.

"Up to the present," continued Mr. Broderick, "the treaty of Tientsin has been observed. No door has been shut. As regards the Yangtse, we can send gunboats drawing six feet a thousand miles from its mouth. Although we are not prepared to undertake policing this province, constituting one-third of China, we are prepared to control the Yangtse in order to control our trade, and it is an essential part of the Government's policy that in changes occurring in China the protection of our trade was assured. Although it cannot undertake to relieve the Tsung Li Yamen of the responsibility of governing China, the Government is not prepared to let British trade suffer nor pass into other hands. Therefore it is proposed to take the following steps: With regard to the Yangtse, we shall hold the Chinese Government responsible for its undertaking not to alienate to any other power the provinces bordering thereon, and that a connection should be made with the Burmah Railway. The Government will also see, whenever it is desired, that the force on the Yangtse is sufficiently strong to protect our merchants and their trade."

Mr. Broderick also referred to the Anglo-Russian agreement as being a fair compromise.

TRANSVAAL CONSPIRATORS.

The Trial Opens at Pretoria—Testimony of Lieut. Ellis.

Pretoria, June 10.—The trial of the eight alleged former British officers who were arrested at Johannesburg on May 16 last on the charge of high treason in having attempted to enroll men with a view to an outbreak of rebellion, began here yesterday. The charge against Lieut. E. J. Tremblett, Lieut. C. A. Ellis and Lieut. John Allen Mitchell, was withdrawn, and they were called as witnesses for the state. Lieut. Ellis testified that overtures were made to him to hold Johannesburg and the forts until the British troops came. He was given to understand that the co-operation of the military authorities had been secured, and that capitalists were financing the movement; but he deposed he did not know the names of the leaders of the movement. Capt. Patterson, formerly of the Lancers, and Col. R. F. Nicholls, on account of the alleged connection with the military authorities, are being defended at the instance of the Imperial Government with a view of eliciting proof that no British official has any knowledge of the matter.

People are easily frightened when they think that something is the matter with heart or lungs. Off they rush to the physician's office and have themselves examined, no matter how big the fee may be. They do not realise that various forms of heart trouble may be purely sympathetic, and that the organ really breaking down is the stomach. The stomach is usually the last care of man or woman.

When the digestion is impaired, when the blood is poor, when a weakness of body is joined to worry of mind, when consumption is invited by the condition of the lungs and blood, then there is a real scare. What is to be done to purify and vitalize the blood? What will stop that hacking cough and strengthen the weak lungs?

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures ninety-eight per cent. of such cases. It strengthens weak lungs and cures obstinate lingering cough, bronchitis, bleeding of the lungs and kindred ailments, which, if neglected or unskillfully treated, lead up to consumption.

"My wife had hemorrhage of the lungs," writes W. A. Sanders, Esq., of Hern, Mason Co., W. Va. "She had ten hemorrhages, and the people all around here said she would never be well again. But she began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and soon began to gain strength and flesh. After taking ten bottles she was entirely well. If any one doubts the merits of this medicine they may enclose self-addressed envelope with stamp, and I will answer."

Send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his 1008 page Common Sense Medical Adviser, the best medical work published. Cloth-bound 50 stamps.

THE TRACKMEN'S STRIKE.

Mass Meeting in Toronto Sides With the Strikers—Supt. McGuigan States the View of the Company.

Toronto, June 9.—The arrival of General Superintendent McGuigan and the holding of a big mass meeting in the interests of the trackmen were the new developments in the local situation of the Grand Trunk Railway trackmen's strike yesterday. The official said everything was running smoothly on the road, and that they have plenty of men. On the other hand, it was demonstrated at the meeting that public sympathy is with the strikers. It was addressed by Rev. J. B. Kennedy, Mayor Shaw, Ald. Woods, Dr. Lynd, Ald. Graham, Dr. Spence, Messrs. Evans, Clark; Bates, Rev. Father Minehan and others. President Low and P. Mahoney said they were willing to continue the fight, after which a strong resolution of sympathy with the strikers was passed, concluding with the words: "And in order to give effect to this resolution, we also pledge ourselves to do everything legitimate in our power to constrain the Grand Trunk Railway corporation to comply with which we believe to be the just demands of the trackmen."

Supt. McGuigan.

General Superintendent McGuigan was in the city yesterday on a tour of inspection over the line. It was his first visit to Toronto since the strike commenced. In answer to a question regarding the going out of the men he replied: "There is no strike so far as we are concerned. If anyone is on strike it is the politicians."

It was his opinion that the company were masters of the strike ever since it started.

"The road is well patrolled," he said, "and at no time were there less than 600 men employed on the tracks, and now 90 per cent. of the trackmen are working east of Kingston, while on the lines west of that point there are 60 per cent. on duty." Mr. Guigan wired a message to General Manager Hays last night that 75 per cent. of the old hands were now working on the Middle Division. The Northern Division, the officials say, is not in such a good working order. It was given out that unless the strikers returned in a few days all their places would be filled.

Officers Not Needed.

Windsor, Ont., June 9.—Constables Wilson and Lappan of Windsor went to St. Thomas Wednesday evening to accompany the non-union Grand Trunk Railway sectionmen from that town to Windsor. The men, under the protection of the officers, were working along the line yesterday, and the strikers have made no disturbance.

Expectations at Montreal.

Montreal, June 9.—There was nothing new in connection with the Grand Trunk trackmen last night. The executive claim that the men all stay out, and the company say they are getting all the men they require. Chairman Pole says that they expect the Government to take the matter up.

ITCHING PILES. . .

Positively and permanently cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is an absolute cure for piles, and has never been known to fail to cure the worst forms of this disease which has baffled medical skill for ages.

This statement may sound rather strong to persons who do not know the superior merits of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, but it is perfectly true, and heartily endorsed by the grateful testimony of thousands of men and women who have been cured by it after years of suffering, and after trying many preparations and consulting the best doctors.

Mr. H. Bull, Belleville, Ont., says: "I take pleasure in stating that after thirty years of suffering with Itching Piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely cured me. I tried every remedy that was advertised, with little or no benefit, but as I have told different persons affected as I was, Dr. Chase's Ointment made a perfect cure."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine. It is guaranteed to cure any case of piles. For sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

DISCOVERED A NEW TREATMENT FOR NERVOUS DISEASES

In his study of diseases of the nerves, Dr. A. W. Chase found that in nearly every case the cause of trouble was improper nourishment. About one-fifth of all the blood in the human body is found in the brain, and unless this blood is rich and pure the nerves cannot obtain proper nourishment, and become worn out and exhausted.

Nervous depression, nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, loss of sleep and vital force, lack of energy, are symptoms of weak, watery blood and exhausted nerves.

It was as a food for blood and nerves that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food was prepared. Its remarkable success in curing all diseases arising from thin blood and impoverished nerves is proof that Dr. Chase's theory of feeding the nerves and blood is the proper one; stimulants only urge on the tired and worn out nervous system until there comes a complete collapse.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food creates new brain and nerve cells, and makes the blood pure and rich. It restores to the exhausted nerves the vigor of perfect health. 50c. a large box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Barrie Bank of Commerce Escapes Through a Vigilant Ledgerkeeper.

Barrie, Ont., June 9.—An attempt was made early yesterday morning to rob the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, but it failed. Between 1 and 2 o'clock Mr. Hamilton, the ledgerkeeper, who sleeps in the room at the rear of the bank, heard a slight noise at the back door, which opens into the lane next to the Bank of Toronto building. Getting up, he went silently over to the door and heard a key slipped into the lock and turned. The burglar found that he could get no further as the door was barred, and expressed his disappointment with an oath. Mr Hamilton then slipped out into the office to telephone to Alf. Swainland, watchman in the Bank of Toronto. As he did so he saw peering in at a window a well-dressed young fellow, who immediately disappeared.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at James Lynch's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

No Word of Henderson.

Ottawa, June 9.—The missing bank clerk, John H. Henderson, of the Union Bank, has not committed suicide, as has been rumored on the streets. At least that is the report of Detective John O. Grose of Montreal. No one saw him leave at any of the depots, and he was well known. After he spoke to a gentleman in the Russell House at 9.30 Monday morning he disappeared as completely as if the earth had swallowed him.

Horseman Kicked to Death.

Galt, Ont., June 9.—Andrew Harvie of Kirkwell, a well-known horseman, was kicked to death yesterday afternoon by a vicious stallion, which he owned, at the farm of Campbell Scott, about three miles from here. Deceased was about 68 years of age, leaves a widow and grown-up family.

LIBERALS RESOLVED

That South Ontario Shall Have a Clean Election.

HON. JOHN DRYDEN CHOSEN.

Will Run Only on Condition That a Determined Stand Be Made Against Corruption—Minister of Agriculture Declares That It Is Most Demoralizing to Those Practicing It.

Brooklin, Ont., June 9.—At a largely-attended and enthusiastic meeting of the executive of the Reform Association of South Ontario, held here yesterday afternoon, a resolution of confidence in Hon. John Dryden was unanimously passed, and it was decided to invite the Minister of Agriculture to again become the Liberal candidate for the riding. A resolution was also passed expressing strong disapproval of corrupt practices at elections, and putting on record the desire of the leaders of the party that the coming contest shall be a clean election. The Liberals of South Ontario are determined to do all that they possibly can to purge the constituency from the reproach of corruption, and to put down any attempts at bribery with a strong hand. They were strengthened in coming to that determination by a letter from Hon. John Dryden, addressed to Mr. W. H. Holliday, president of the Reform Association, which was read to the meeting.

Mr. Dryden's Letter.

The letter referred to is as follows:

Toronto, June 7, 1899.

Mr. Dear Holliday:

Referring to our conversation this morning in reference to the coming election, during which you were kind enough to say that in your opinion no other name would be nominated among our friends as a candidate, I thought it best to write you that you might state to our friends what my position is.

I cannot consent to accept the nomination except you yourself and others who are leaders of the party in South Ontario are willing to set your faces against the tide of corruption which seems to have been setting in in our country, and which, I observe, is likely to continue on the part of those opposed to us. I think all respectable men ought to do what they can to put a stop to this course. It is most demoralizing and will destroy the integrity of those entering into it.

I did my best in both the elections lately held to conduct a fair and honorable campaign. If I am again to be the candidate I shall take the same ground. Our opponents laughed when they were told that I had no hand in bringing in the persons who were named, but my statements were absolutely true in that regard. I desired, therefore, that you should know the terms upon which I would undertake the leadership of our party for the coming campaign in South Ontario. Yours very truly, (signed) John Dryden.

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

Did Neff Kill Himself?

Galt, Ont., June 9.—J. W. Neff of Davis street, who lived alone and who was found dead in bed Wednesday morning by a neighbor, is supposed to have committed suicide. A post mortem revealed an irritant poison. Nothing could be found that had contained poison, or to show that he had taken it himself. The back door was open, with the key on the outside, and his bedroom window wide open. An inquest will be held.

Shoe Company Goes Under.

London, Ont., June 9.—The Western Shoe Company of this city have assigned to C. B. Armstrong. The creditors' meeting is called for June 12. The liabilities amount to about $20,000. American and Quebec firms are the chief creditors.

His Wonderful Uncle.

A young lawyer who graduated from Cornell a few years ago enjoys the adoration of a 5-year-old nephew. The young man has considerable intellectual power for one of his years, and when he returned from college entered the law office of his father, who has for years sat on the bench.

The little nephew is fond of talking of his hero uncle and never loses an opportunity to eulogise him. Recently he was chattering to his aunt, and the conversation turned to "Uncle Bert."

"Auntie," said the 5-year-old thoughtfully, "I think it's awful nice that grandpa can be in the office with Uncle Bert. He'll learn a great deal more from him."

MANY LIVES HAVE BEEN LOST.

Cloudburst in Texas and a Disastrous Landslide in Arkansas.

Austin, Texas, June 9.—By the cloudburst of Wednesday many people perished, meagre reports placing the number at 35. Yesterday's reports came from San Saba and Manardville, small towns 90 miles north of here in the mountains, saying that both towns had been swept by the raging floods, and were badly devastated. In San Saba eight people were drowned, and the entire town was reported under water last night. The river at that point is one mile wide, and running like a mill race.

At Manardville 18 houses were swept away, and 17 persons were drowned.

Twenty-Eight Buried Alive.

Little Rock, Ark., June 9.—It was reported here last night that a landslide occured at Ross Hollow, and engulfed 28 men, all of whom are supposed to have been killed. Ross Hollow is a pass between two small mountain ranges about 26 miles west of Little Rock, on the line of the Choctaw & Memphis Railroad, now under construction from Little Rock to Howe, I.T.

ALASKAN MODUS VIVENDI.

No Settlement Reached, But an Arrangement Made Which Is to Last for Two Years.

London, June 9.—The correspondent of the Associated Press learns upon high authority that the Alaskan modus vivendi does not imply that the boundary question has been settled, but simply that a temporary boundary has been arranged and will be preserved for two years, which interval will be available for the settlement of the main question at issue.

Pauncefote to the Rescue.

London, June 9.—The Birmingham Post says it is asserted in official quarters that Sir Julian Pauncefote will leave The Hague as soon as the peace conference will permit, and come to London for the purpose of having an interview with Lord Salisbury and Ambassador Choate on the Alaskan boundary question. According to The Post, it is authoritatively said that much difficulty arises from the misinterpretation of a Canadian despatch on the subject, but the proposed discussion of the matter by the Premier and the two ambassadors will probably arrange this.

Election of Conference Officers.

Owen Sound, June 9.—Yesterday the tone of the meetings was high, the discussions were animated, and a spirit of harmony and cordiality prevailed. Hearty welcome was given the conference by the town of Owen Sound. Dr. Carman, general superintendent, in temporarily taking the chair, made a characteristic speech, for which he was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his "eminently able, patriotic, humane, ethical address."

The election of president was quickly transacted, 169 votes were cast, 85 being necessary for election. On the first ballot Rev. Andrew Brown received 88 votes and was declared elected. The other votes recorded were J. E. Lanceley 38, Dr. Chown 15, Messrs. Barkley and Ockley 10 each, G. M. Brown 7, Dr. Inoks 1. Rev. W. J. Smith was elected secretary; Rev. L. W. Hill, Rev. T. Dunlop and Mr. J. Mayor were appointed assistant secretaries.

SLEEPLESSNESS.

Like the other wants of the body, the necessity of sleep is imperative.

Sleep is necessary to repair the system and make it fit for action.

In olden times those who were condemned to death by being denied sleep, soon became raving maniacs.

The practical conclusion is that Sleeplessness is inevitably destructive to body and mind.

There are thousands of people all over this land who are tossing on sleepless pillows night after night, or who pace the bedroom floor, with nerves unhinged, and to whose eye sleep will not come, to whom Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound refreshing slumber.

They renew the worn out nervous tissues and restore the equilibrium of the deranged nerve centres, then "nature's sweet restorer" comes, and sleep is peaceful as a babe's.

Those, too, who sleep in a kind of way, but whose rest is broken into by fearful dreams, nightmares, sinking and smothering sensations, who wake in the morning as tired and unrefreshed as when they went to bed, can have their old, peaceful, undisturbed, refreshing sleep back again by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

To be able to lie down at night and in a few minutes fall asleep—to know no dream or waking until morning—then to bound out of bed full of vigor, freshness, and good spirits, ready for each and every duty that the day may demand—that seems a good deal to expect as the result of using any remedy, but it is just what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been doing and can do for nervous, irritable, run-down, weak, sleepless men and women.

Mr. Chas. Tighe, a well-known resident of Mount Forest, Ont., says:

"Until I commenced using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Yeoman's drug store last November, I was very excitable. The slightest trouble set me trembling all over, and it would be a long time before I could calm myself. My heart often beat so fast that I felt as if I would smother, and my nervous system was so completely unstrung that I could hardly sleep at all. Some nights I got no sleep whatever, and I can assure you it is a bad state to be in, as I went to my work feeling weak and nervous.

"I have taken two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they have relieved every one of my troubles. My heart is all right; I sleep well and go to my work strong and refreshed. They have restored my nervous system to health and vigor, and I appreciate the remarkable good they have done me more than I can tell you."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c. a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

MILBURN'S HEART and NERVE PILLS.

The San Jose Scale.

Toronto, June 9.—A deputation of Niagara fruit-growers waited on Hon. John Dryden and the Premier at the Parliament buildings yesterday morning, to protest against the carrying out of the provisions of the San Jose Scale Act by the destruction of the trees infected with the scale. The deputation was composed of Rev. N. Smith and Messrs. William McLelland, W. H. Lee, James Currie, Jacob Servos, Charles Ball and James Carnochan. These gentlemen pressed their views on the Ministers with earnestness, after which the Ministers promised to consider the matter.

The deputation considered the act a failure, and wished the Government to introduce the hydrocyanic method of destroying the scale, the latter to furnish the tents and apparatus for the work.

GOUGH BROS. HAVE A WALK-OVER!

The Greatest Cash Clothing deal on record The enormity of the transaction a surprise to all. The ebb and flow of good fortune to Gough Bros. brings another boon to those in need of Summer Clothes.

The extraordinary character of this great transaction will be better understood by the statement of the manufacturers themselves in closing the deal:—

"Mr. Gough, your price reoresents very little more than the Actual Cost of the Cloth and Trimmings."

Overwhelming Montreal Scoop.

Another streak of Good Luck enabled us, last week, to rake in what is, perhaps, the most fortunate scoop of the most Up-to-Date Clothing, which has ever come our way since starting business in Peterborough.

The McKenna-Thompson Co. of Montreal

the Premier Wholesale Clothing Manufacturers of Canada, were in search of a safe outlet for an over production of Spring and Summer Weight Suits. They had to have prompt cash as well as a prompt clearance, in order to secure warehouse room for their winter manufactures. They were willing to stand a pretty big shrinkage in prices to accomplish their object, and Gough Bros' "had the call'. We made our little bid, and stuck to it, capturing the whole mangnificent lot of BICYCLE BYLAW.

Text of one Which was Recently Passed in Montreal.

The Town Council has not yet taken up the matter of preparing a bicycle by-law for Peterborough but when they are in a position to do so the appended by-law, recently passed in Montreal, ought to be of material assistances as well as the matter published in the Examiner last week:

At a special meeting of the Council of the City of Montreal, held in the City Hall this twenty-fifth day of April, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, after the observance of the formalities prescribed in and by the act of incorporation of the said City; at which meeting not less than two-thirds of the members of the said Council are present, viz: His Worship the Mayor, Raymond Prefontaine, Esquire; Aldermen Brunet, Marsolais, Stevenson, Jacques, Prenoveau, Ames, Beausoleil, Turner, Dupre, Laporte, Sadler, Archambault, Ouimet, Martineau, Lareau, Gallery, Clearihue, Ekers, Paquette, Gagnon, Dufresne, Roy.

It is ordained and enacted by the said Council as follows:

Sec. 1.—No person shall ride upon a bicycle, tricycle, or other vehicle of that nature, in the streets, squares or highways of the city without having previously paid to the said city a tax or license of one dollar per year for each and every such bicycle, tricycle, or other vehicle of that nature.—Said tax or license shall be payable on the first day of May in each year to the City Treasurer, who is hereby authorized to deliver to the person paying the same, suitable plates not to exceed one thirty-second of an inch in thickness, to bear date May 1st and to run one year from that date; and the said plates shall be attached by the owner of such bicycle, tricycle or other vehicle of that nature, as the case may be, to the outside of the frame-work of the same and held in place by an axle nut or otherwise.

The present section shall not apply to children under ten years of age, nor to persons having paid in an adjacent municipality a tax or license for such bicycle, tricycle, or other vehicles of that nature, provided said persons are bona fide residents in the adjacent municipality aforesaid.

Sec. 2.—All persons riding in the streets, squares or highways of the city, upon bicycles, tricycles, or any other vehicles of that nature, shall not be allowed to ride thereon unless they shall comply with the following conditions:

1.—Not to ride faster than eight miles an hour.

2.—Have attached to their vehicles a suitable alarm bell adapted by use to the rider and be held to ring the same at all street corners, and also to have attached to their said vehicles a lamp which must be lit after sun-set.

3.—Not to ride faster than a horse walk at the intersection of streets or when turning from one street into another.

4.—Every rider shall at all times have full control of the vehicle through the pedals and handle bars.

5.—No bicycle or other vehicle of that nature shall be ridden on any of the sidewalks of the city.

6.—Every rider shall keep to the right of the road.

7.—No rider shall be permitted to carry a child upon a bicycle, tricycle or other vehicle of that nature.

Sec. 3.—It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to engage in racing with bicycles or tricycles, on, over, or through any street, lane, highway or alley, within the limits of the City of Montreal.

Sec. 4.—No person shall throw, or put into, or cause to be put into, or drop in any street, lane, public place or unincloseed public grounds in this city (except in the manner provided by sections 5 and 6 of by-law No. 46 concerning scavengers) any stone, nails, tacks, ice, glass, iron or any other metal, or any straw, paper, parings of fruit or vegetables or any other refuse or rubbish whatsoever.

Sec. 5.—Section 4 of by-law No. 224, intituled "by-law to levy certain taxes" and passed on the 27th April, 1896, is hereby repealed.

Sec. 6.—Every person offending against any of the provisions of this by-law shall be liable to a fine, and in default of immediate payment of said fine and costs, to an imprisonment, the amount of said fine and the term of said imprisonment to be fixed by the Recorder's court, at its discretion: but such fine shall not exceed forty dollars, and the imprisonment shall not be for a longer period than two calendar months; the said imprisonment, however, to cease at any time before the expiration of the term fixed by the said recorder's court, upon payment of said fine and costs, and the said offender shall be liable to the same penalty for each and every day that such violation or contravention shall last, which shall be held to be a distinct and separate offence for each and every day as aforesaid.

ULCERS FOR 35 YEARS

Eleven on One Limb at One Time With Excruciating Pain. All Remedies Tried, and Numberless Physicians Little Benefit. CUTICURA Speedily Cures.

My mother has been a victim to ulcers from varicose veins for thirty-five years. Eleven of these terrible sores have existed at one time on the limb affected. Excruciating pain and intense suffering were endured, with all sorts of remedies on trial and numberless physicians' calls and prescriptions applied, but all practically with but little benefit. However, at last the remedial agent was found in CUTICURA (ointment), which surely proved its weight in gold, alleviating pain and causing healing processes to commence and a cure speedily effected. She has, also, used CUTICURA with marked benefit in erysipelas of the face and eczema. The CUTICURA SOAP, also, has established a record only as the best cleansing, purifying, and healing in its nature, having proved itself a most excellent and valuable auxiliary to the CUTICURA (ointment).

I would remark that this testimonial is entirely unsolicited, being a voluntary contribution for humanity's sake, and the commendation of the CUTICURA REMEDIES to the fullest confidence, being satisfied of their purity, genuineness, and almost miracles wrought.

March 16, 1898. W. T. MORSE, Cabot, Vt.

BASEBALL.

The local baseball team and its supporters were sorely disappointed today, when the Argyles of Toronto, did not put in an appearance as was arranged. Yesterday Secretary Hay received the following telegram from the manager of the Argyles of Toronto:—

Toronto, June 9th.

To R. A. W. Hay, Secretary Peterborough Baseball Club.

We leave for Peterborough at 9 a. m. to-morrow.

H. J. LOGAN,
Manager Argyles, Toronto.

What prevented the team from coming to Peterborough as arranged is not known to the local men, and as the local team has gone to considerable expense and trouble in advertising the game, the Toronto team should do the square thing by putting up for the expenses.

THE WHEEL.

W. Bradburn has issued a challenge to ride E. Smith a five-mile race for a silver cup on Friday next.

SIR WILFRID UMPIRE.

Premier Offers His Services In That Capacity in G.T.R. Strike.

A STRONG LETTER TO MR. HAYS

Mr. James Sutherland Carried to Montreal a Renewed Offer of Prime Minister's Services—Immediate Settlement Desired by Sir Wilfrid—Must Be No Revenge on Individual Strikers.

Ottawa, June 12.—Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., yesterday morning left for Montreal to act as the representative of the Prime Minister in endeavoring to effect a settlement of the G.T.R. trackmen's strike. Sir Wilfrid has been in telegraphic communication with General Manager Hays, who was in New York Saturday and yesterday, but who probably returned to Montreal last evening. Mr. Sutherland's commission contains a renewed offer of the Premier's services as an umpire between the two parties, and it is understood that Hon. Mr. Blair is also willing to do all in his power to consummate an adjustment of the unfortunate difficulties existing. Desire to have this done immediately induced Sir Wilfrid to write a strongly-worded letter to Mr. Hays, which Mr. Sutherland will present to the general manager, and in which the First Minister points out the absolute necessity, arising from regard for public safety and for the interests of both company and men, for an adjustment of the disagreement. Late yesterday afternoon uncorroborated word was received in Ottawa that at Gananoque some hotheads amongst the strikers had precipitated a riot. Sir Wilfrid, who all along has had every sympathy for the men, was pained to hear the rumor. The First Minister, both in his public utterances and in his private negotiations with Mr. Hays, has laid great stress upon the orderliness and moderation of the men. Any display of violence, Sir Wilfrid pointed out yesterday afternoon, would prejudice the men's side of the case. His hope was that the report was untrue. Mr. Sutherland will communicate with Sir Wilfrid immediately after his interview with Mr. Hays, who is expected to accept the Prime Minister's suggestion that he and certain of his colleagues be allowed to arbitrate the matter, and that in the meantime the men, or a large proportion of them, return to work. It will be expressly stipulated by Mr. Sutherland that no vengeance shall be meted out by the company to individual strikers.

Chairman Pole's Budget.

Hamilton, June 12.—Chairman Pole says: "The Government engineers are going over the G.T.R. to-day to see how the road is equipped with trackmen. In this district reports from all points round Hamilton are all in one key. No one returned to work here; same in Toronto; reports from points west and north to the same effect; none returned to work.

"Hamilton Trades and Labor Council are arranging to pay men on strike a weekly allowance, the gifts of the generous Hamiltonians to help the striking trackmen. The public sympathy at all points is intense. Mass meetings to-night at Brantford, others to follow at Fort Erie, Stratford, London, etc."

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson.

Montreal, June 12.—Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, accompanied by his wife, Honorable Lady Violet Wilson, arrived here yesterday from New York, and, being interviewed, the president of the Grand Trunk, while declining to say whether he would interfere in the strike or not, stated that the question at issue would no doubt be considered.

Mead Sent for Trial.

Kingston, Ont., June 12.—William Mead, Gananoque, arrested by G.T.R. detectives on Friday night and accused of being a leader of 150 rioters against men sent to that point to do track work, was before Mayor Ryan on Saturday for hearing. Detectives McLaughlin and Crowe testified as to Mead's actions, and he was sent to Gananoque for trial. Mead said he was innocent.

Car Strike at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., June 12.—The motormen and conductors of the Cleveland Electric Railway Company declared a strike at 4 o'clock on Saturday morning, tying up the entire system, including the Euclid, Wade Park, Cedar, Central, Scoville, Wilson, Broadway, Jennings and Brooklyn Lines.

President Bryan announced that no more conferences would be held with the company unless the officers seek out and treat with the union. The fight is over the recognition by the company of the employes' union, which is a part of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes of America.

Labor War at Buffalo Again.

Buffalo, June 12.—Three hundred freight handlers employed in the Erie freight house struck on Friday last for an advance of one cent an hour in wages. They were getting 14 cents and demanded 15 cents. Yesterday a meeting of the Freight Handlers' Union was held and a sympathetic strike of all the men employed inside of the freight houses was ordered for this morning. This will bring out 1,000 men and will virtually throw three times as many out of work. The officials at the different freight houses say that the demands of the men will not be acceded to, and there the matter rests.

Good Thing for the Men.

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—The final conference between the representatives of the iron and steel manufacturers and the iron and steel workers accepted the wage scale for iron and steel workers as fixed by the recent convention of the Amalgamated Association. This means a general raise of 25 per cent. for some 45,000 men employed in the iron and steel manufacturing industries.

SLIPPERY FILIPINOS.

Gave Americans the Slip and Left the Province of Cavite to Their Enemies—Hot Fight on Saturday.

Manila, June 12.—The Filipino occupation of the Province of Cavite has been broken, and, as the result of the present movement, the Americans now control the important coast towns of Paranaque and Las Pinas, while a long line of insurgent trenches, facing the south line, has been cleared. The insurgents have again proved their facility as dodgers, between 3,000 and 4,000 warriors, who seemed destined so be captured, having disappeared, the majority sliding away under cover of night, after fighting the Americans all Saturday.

The 18th Infantry lost one man killed and six wounded; the 9th Infantry one man killed and five wounded; the 14th Infantry three wounded, and the 1st Colorado Volunteer Regiment 11 wounded.

So far as can yet be ascertained the Filipinos' loss is about 50 killed, about 350 wounded and 20 taken prisoners.

HOT FIGHTING IS ON AGAIN.

Gen. Lawton Sweeps Country Between Manila and Bay Lake South.

Manila, June 12.—At daybreak on Saturday a force of 4500 men, under Generals Lawton, Wheaton and Ovenshine, advanced from San Pedro Macati, sweeping the country between the Bay of Manila and Bay Lake, south of Manila. By noon the country had been cleared almost to Paranaque. The Americans lost two officers killed and 21 soldiers wounded.

The rebels resisted desperately at the stronger of their positions, and left 50 dead in the trenches. Many more wounded were left behind by the rebels in their retreat.

The heat during the day was overpowering, and there were many prostrations of American soldiers from that cause.

Casualties of the War.

Washington, June 12.—Among the reports submitted by General Otis concerning the operations of the army in Manila is one from Col. Henry Lippincott, chief surgeon of the army, for the month of March. Col. Lippincott says: "The long list of engagements between our troops and the Filipinos continuing through the month resulted in the following casualties to our command:

"Killed—Officers, 6; enlisted men, 71. Died from wounds—Officers, 2; enlisted men, 14.

"Wounded—Officers, 18; enlisted men, 485. Total casualties for the month, 596. Total casualties since outbreak, 1,029."

Fire at Mt. Allison University.

Sackville, N.B., June 12.—The immense new residential building of Mount Allison University was completely destroyed early yesterday morning by a fire which started at or near a furnace, which was used on Saturday to burn refuse. A portion of the contents was saved, but Prof. Tweedie's valuable library, lecture notes and college prize were lost, and the housekeeper, Mrs. Munda, was a heavy loser. The building cost $60,000 and has been occupied about two years. The loss is said to be well covered by insurance.

UITLANDERS' VOICE

Unanimously Confirms Proposals of Sir Alfred Milner.

DEMAND EQUAL RIGHTS FOR ALL

The Exodus From Johannesburg Begun—An Assertion in Transvaal Official Circles That Kruger Will Abolish the Dynamite Monopoly—President Kruger's Franchise Proposals Approved.

Johannesburg, June 12.—At the mass meeting of Uitlanders held here on Saturday for the purpose of confirming and supporting the proposals of Sir Alfred Milner, the British high commissioner, a resolution was adopted declaring that "no settlement will be satisfactory which does not provide for the recognition of equal Parliamentary rights for all."

President Kruger's proposals were considered wholly inadequate to satisfy the just demands of the unenfranchised; while Sir Alfred Milner's were indorsed as the irreducible minimum acceptable. The meeting was orderly and was attended by 5,000 Uitlanders. The Government issued a notice advising the enfranchised Burghers to allow the meeting to proceed without disturbance.

The Exodus Has Begun.

London, June 12.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail says that the expected exodus from Johannesburg has begun, and that business is at a standstill.

To Abolish Dynamite Monopoly.

Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, June 12.—It is asserted in official circles here that President Kruger will propose to the Transvaal Raad the abolition of the dynamite monopoly. While the Orange Free State is in the Transvaal, the railway company has sent all its available rolling stock to Johannesburg to be in readiness for a possible exodus of the population.

Oom Paul Playing His Game.

Pretoria, Transvaal Republic, June 12.—After deliberating secretly all the morning the Volksraad on Friday afternoon approved President Kruger's franchise proposals and instructed the Government to draw them up in the form of a law, which will be submitted to the Volksraad.

The Volksraad also passed a resolution of regret that the British high commissioner had not accepted President Kruger's proposals, which the Volksraad "considers in the highest degree reasonable."

ARBITRATION.

The Slow Work of the Drafting Committee of the Peace Conference.

The Hague, June 12.—The drafting committee was in session for three hours on Saturday, although not a single conclusion was reached, with the exception of the acceptance of the British scheme as the basis upon which to discuss the establishment of a tribunal of arbitration.

After the session most of the members of the committee telegraphed to their respective Governments, indicating that the discussion showed the necessity of having their instructions amplified. It is understood that several of the delegates of the smaller powers expressed a wish that the permanence of the tribunal might be made more effective, and even moved amendments in this sense.

The great powers, however, think it impossible, it is understood, to go beyond Sir Julian Pauncefote's proposals. Nevertheless a determined effort is being made to secure the institution of a permanent tribunal. The American and Russian projects have not been abandoned. Sir Julian Pauncefote's will merely be taken as the basis of discussion.

The Brussels conference section met on Saturday, Prof. F. de Maartens of the Russian delegation, presiding.

Major-Gen. Sir John Ardagh, of the British delegates, declared that Great Britain could not bind herself to sign a convention drawn from the Brussels conference of 1874, but must reserve the right of judging of the necessity or expediency of abiding by the stipulations of that conference or this conference in general orders to her armies in the event of war, or of opening a campaign.

Prof. Maartens replied that Russia did not ask the powers to sign a convention on the Brussels conference, but desired the powers to undertake to embody the stipulations now agreed upon in the instructions given troops at the opening of a campaign.

Major-Gen. Ardagh said his declaration was only of a personal character and he would consult his Government on so important a matter.

Rome, June 12.—It is rumored here that Count Nigra, head of the Italian delegation at the peace conference, will propose that the Pope have a permanent seat on the arbitration tribunal.

FAMINE HORRORS IN RUSSIA.

The Peasants Have Now Exhausted Their Last Resources.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—The correspondents of the different newspapers speak more and more strongly of the ever-increasing need of help for the peasants. One of the most prominent workers in the interest reads as follows: "We may say that the distress in these regions has now reached its climax. The peasants have exhausted their last resources.

"In some places the number of scurvy cases has of late doubled, trebled and even quadrupled. In the single district of Stavropol, in the Government of Samara, 5,000 people are now receiving medical attention, and we may reckon the total number of sufferers in the district at not less than 10,000. A large majority of them are women and children. Apart from the want of food, these people stand now in the utmost need of grain for sowing."

Gould and the Killarneys.

London, June 12.—The report that Howard Gould intends to purchase the Lakes of Killarney has brought F. W. Crossley of Dublin to London to interview the Irish Commoners. He is anxious to start a shilling fund to make the lakes and the island public property. He has sent a thousand shillings to the Lord Mayor of Dublin, who will act as trustee

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

The traffic on Rice Lake and the Otonabee river is becoming quite brisk and all the boats have plenty of work ahead of them. Four steamers arrived in port Saturday. They were the Beaver, North Star, Eclipse and Rainbow.

The Beaver and Eclipse made their regular market day excursion trips and brought up a good number of passengers. The Rainbow made her first Saturday trip to Peterborough from the eastern end of the lake. She expects to be up every Saturday throughout the season.

The Star came up to town with an excursion from Roseneath Saturday.

The Eclipse on Monday last brought the Baptist Sunday school excursion from Bewdley to Hastings. On Friday she had an excursion to Jubilee and other points on the lake under the auspices of the Benafort Union Sunday school. The Eclipse will handle the Sons of England moonlight excursion on Tuesday night and on Thursday will leave Keene for Jubilee with the excursionists to the farmers picnic to Jubilee. On Monday she will bring up a scow load of hogs from Harwood to town and on Tuesday she will bring a scow load of cattle.

The Beaver on Tuesday last brought the Church of England Sunday School annual excursion from Bewdley to Hastings. She has been busy towing wood from various points on the lake to Gore's Landing. She has been assigned the contract of bringing the Hastings excursionists to the Farmers' picnic.

Dan Foley, wine clerk at Jubilee Point, came up to town on Saturday and reports matters quite brisk down around the lake. Dan says two of the best excursions that have come to the Point in a long time were held last week. They were from Benafort and Keene. At an exciting game of football between Benafort and Keene the former were victorious by one goal. DanMcAllister of Gore's Landing, was the referee.

Mr. W. J. Macdonald of the Idyl-Wild summer resort, Rice Lake, was in town Saturday, and expects to have his new hotel furnished by the end of next week. The carpenters have finished their work and came up to Peterborough on Saturday. Mr. Macdonald will bring down his new furniture on Tuesday, and will then have everything in tip top shape.

Mr. Al. Talbot of town, spent a few days this week at Jubilee Point, where he had excellent success in fishing.

HIS NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. John N. Babcock's Experience With Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sharbot Lake, Ont., May 29. — No resident of this place is better known to the thousands of tourists and sportsmen who visit us annually than is Mr. John N. Babcock.

Mr. Babcock has had many thrilling experiences, but the narrowest escape he ever had, he tells of in these words:

"After twenty years of pain, caused by Gravel and other Kidney Complaints, I am pleased to be able to state that I have been completely cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. During these years I have spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and remedies, but only Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me."

Hairine for the Hair.

ROBBING NESTS.

Boys Should be Cautioned By Their Teachers and Guardians.

At this particular time of the year boys should be cautioned by teachers, parents, guardians and others against the bad habit of robbing the nests of the beautiful song birds.

Every spring time boys go out and destroy eggs, and sometimes the young birds, with no more feeling than animals, and they go unpunished ten times for every ten offences they commit in this way.

The Government has made a law, and attached a severe penalty for killing birds and robbing their neats, but it is wofully trodden under foot every day of the week.

The remedy seems hopeless, but we think that in the interests of agriculture the Government should appoint special constables during the nesting season to look after boys and punish them—not their parents by imposing a fine—and in time boys would fear to steal a bird's nest as much as they would a horse or cow.

GALWAY COURT OF REVISION.

On the Assessment Roll of the Township of Galway and Cavendish

Members all present, Charles Coben presiding. The necessary statuary declaration of each was made and appended appeals were heard and disposed of:

Moved by James Allen and John Gilmour, that John McGann be assessed as tenant for lot 33, con. A. and also John J. Owens be assessed as tenant for lot 22, con. 10, Galway.—Carried.

Moved by M. Collins and D. Curtin, that lot 30, con. 16, now assessed to John Jackson be taken off Assessment Roll if said lot is found not located, and the clerk is instructed to ascertain such information.—Carried.

Moved by J. Gilmour and M. Collins that lot 12, con. 13, be assessed to Thomas R. White, sr., as this council has nothing to show that said lot was transferred to another party.—Carried.

Moved by James Allen and M. Collins, that lots 1 and 2, con. 17 be assessed to David Conroy.

Moved by D. Curtin and J. Allen, that the Assessment Roll of Galway and Cavendish for the year 1899 be confirmed as revised, and the council proceed to other business.—Carried.

Moved by D. Curtin and M. Collins, that the minutes of last meeting be read and signed.—Carried.

Moved by J. Gilmour and J. Allen, that the collector be allowed to accept the sum of $10 as final settlement for arrears of lots 30, and 31, Con. 12, Galway.—Carried.

Moved by J. Gilmour and D. Curtin, that the sum of $5.15 be accepted from Michael Barry in full of all arrears against lots part 42, 44 and 45, Concession A, Galway, being taxes for 1896.—Carried.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at James Lynch's drug store as their giving away to their many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size 50c and $1 Every bottle warranted.

A Railwayman Hurt.

East Toronto, June 10.—A serious accident befell Samuel Gordon whilst coupling cars in the G.T.R. yard here yesterday morning. He was coupling over a three-throw switch, and in getting out after coupling the cars, tripped over the rails and fell. His right leg was badly mangled, and two toes on the other foot were crushed. He died at 12.30 this morning.

Piles for 15 Years.

Mr. James Bowles, Councillor, Embro, Ont., writes: "For over 15 years I suffered the misery of bleeding, protruding piles. The many remedies I tried all failed. I was was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and must say that the first application gave relief, after the third day, the bleeding stopped and two boxes cured me completely."

LIQUEFIED HYDROGEN.

We Are Now Within 20 Degrees of Absolute Zero—A Wonderfully Far-Reaching Scientific Discovery.

London, June 12.—The man of the hour in the scientific world is Professor Dewar of the Royal Institute of London, who has liquefied hydrogen.

"The discovery," said the professor, "has cost many a weary night during the last ten years, and the amount of money spent upon it has been considerable. Still, I think it was worth it all. We have now got within 20 degrees of absolute zero, which is represented by 499 degrees Fahrenheit and 273 degrees centigrade below zero. The boiling point of liquid hydrogen is 352 degrees below zero, at which it is capable of enormous pressure. Its practical utility, according to the average lay mind, no man can speak about yet."

"Professor Dewar's discovery," said Lord Kelvin, "is an epoch in a marvellous scientific age. It cannot fail to have most far-reaching effects on science in general, because it clears up many hazy ideas of relations between matter and energy, and established that hydrogen belongs to non-metallic bodies. To get within 20 or 22 degrees of absolute zero is an achievement which would have made Davey and Faraday stagger. Its effect on the world of propulsion cannot yet be gauged. Experiments many and varied must be made."

Prof. Dewar's success is already leading to practical results. A company was formed on Saturday with a capital of £30,000 to ascertain whether steel can be cast in a vacuum. If the plan is successful the air bubbles that now cause flaws and weakness will be done away with and a metal will result such as the world has never seen. The results of the experiments may revolutionize the steel trade.

The Attempt to Kidnap Prince George.

Moscow, June 12.—A despatch from Retimo, Island of Crete, explains the rumor of an attempt at violence to Prince George of Greece, high commissioner of the powers. It seems that the leading Mussulmans of the island joined in a conspiracy to kidnap the high commissioner and carry him to Smyrna, there to hold him for ransom. It is believed that, had the attempt succeeded, the ransom demanded would have taken the form of new and unexampled concessions to the Moslem population of the island. The attempt was abortive from the beginning, and eight of the ringleaders in the conspiracy have been banished. Other Mussulmans are leaving the island.

The Boat Worked.

Cherbourg, June 12.—A successful trial was made on Saturday of a new submarine boat, the invention of Capt. Del Passo, which is expected to take the place of the ordinary diving methods. The boat was sunk 16 feet and filled all the requirements of its design

THE OLD WAY.

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dieting a Dangerous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is a very common one at the present time, and many dyspeptics and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others, or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken—in other words the starvation plan is supposed by many to be the first essential.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure has been proven time and again, but still the moment dyspepsia made its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man suffering from dyspepsia, because indigestion itself starves every organ, every nerve and every fibre in the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food, and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted, and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words, the patient eats plenty of wholesome food, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests it for him. In this way the system is nourished, and the over-worked stomach rested, because the Tablets will digest the food, whether the stomach works or not. One of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat or egg.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's Tablets are the purest and safest remedy for stomach troubles, and every trial makes one more friend for this excellent preparation. Sold for 50 cents for full sized package at all drug stores.

Idyl Wyld SUMMER RESORT

RICE LAKE, ONTARIO.

THIS Breezy and Beautiful Island Summer Resort will re-open for the season of 1899 on June 12th, under entirely new and up-to-date management. Important new additions to the building and hotel equipment have been effected. Twenty new Bed Rooms, Sitting Rooms, and Waiting Rooms have been added, and entirely refurnished in modern style. Broad baloonies extend around each of the two new stories erected, afforded picturesque views of the surrounding scenery.

The cuisine will be a special feature—fresh meat, fresh fish, fresh eggs, milk and butter as well as wholesome vegetables and fruit in abundance, necessitated by a robust appetite, sharpened by the ozone and continual breeze of this idyllic spot.

Good bass and maskinonge fishing all along the shore and lake. No charge for Americans fishing—no permits required. Boats and competent guides furnished. The island steam-launch, "Outlet Queen," can be engaged for cruising and sailing parties. The Park is open for excursion parties whether public or private. Tables and seats for picnic parties are all over the grounds in shady groves. Come and spend your summer vacation at Idyl Wyld, and for your life don't miss it.

Daily boat and mail to and from Harwood, Peterborough and Hastings. Parties can be met at either point when requested.

Special rates for families and for the season. Rooms may be secured in advance by letter, telephone or telegram addressed to B. S. MCDONALD, Manager, Harwood, P.O., Ont. W. J. MACDONALD, Proprietor. 120d3m

Did you ever See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

William A. Lillico, Formerly of Emsdale, Killed on the C.P.R. Tracks in Toronto—Man Arrested at Brockville for Pilfering From the Office of Mr. W. H. Comstock, M.P.—Telegraphic Briefs.

A commission will be appointed by the Postmaster-General to investigate into the troubles in the Kingston postoffice.

Fire in the extensive leach houses of the Lang Tanning Company at Berlin on Sunday did many thousands of dollars' worth of damage.

The American Line steamer Paris is doomed. Her boilers have shifted, her false bottoms are gone, and the divers are unable to work.

Death came to little Ida May Fairman, daughter of Horace Fairman of Hamilton, on Saturday, as a result of the burns she received on Friday evening.

David McWhinney, a Kingston boy, looked an unexhausted Roman candle in the mouth and was burned and cut about the face and mouth very badly.

The Bank of England has bought $3,500,000 in American eagles to strengthen its reserves, to which end most of the gold on its way will be devoted.

On Saturday, at Whitby, Mr. Charles Calder was again nominated by the Liberal-Conservatives to contest South Ontario with the Hon. John Dryden.

The third and fourth stories in the residence portion of John Fox's banking establishment of Lucan were slightly damaged by fire on Saturday afternoon.

Seventeen native miners were killed and 30 injured on Sunday in a mine at Kimberley, in Griqualand West, by the explosion, it is supposed, of a dynamite magazine.

Major-General Hutton has arrived at the Niagara Camp. Before leaving London he officially inspected the troops there. The London camp disbanded on Saturday.

The Masonic Hall, Rossland, was destroyed by fire on Friday night. Electric wires are said to have caused the blaze. Most of the contents were saved. Insurance $1,200.

Great preparations are being made for the big review of troops at Aldershot, June 26, by the Queen. The ceremony will take place on Laffan's Plane, and about 14,000 troops will participate in it.

Kennedy Connors of Hamilton is out on $100 bail until Tuesday, when he is to be tried on a charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Georgina Anderson, whom he was escorting home from a party.

A man was arrested at Brockville on Saturday afternoon in the act of carrying off several articles from the office of W. H. Comstock, M.P. He gave his name as McDonald, and says he hails from Calcutta, India.

Archibald Sherlock of Toronto was thrown out of a wagon and received a fracture of the left leg below the knee and several broken ribs, which caused perforation of the lungs. He died on Sunday morning.

A tornado on Friday swept over San Pedro and Alarse, in the Province of Valladolid, Spain. About 150 houses were destroyed, and there was great loss of life. Ten bodies have already been recovered from the ruins.

James Marshall of Toronto on Saturday attempted to take his life by cutting his throat. He had been ill with stomach troubles for nine years. He cut his throat with a razor, but, although 64 years of age, will likely recover.

Michael Hayes, proprietor of the Union Hotel, Toronto, had his skull fractured by a wagon under which he was thrown from his bicycle, while he was attempting to avoid a collision. He died on Saturday afternoon from his injuries.

A despatch from Victoria, Island of Labuan, says the inhabitants of Brune and the intermediate coast of Borneo have hoisted the Sarawak flag. Brune and Sarawak are sultanates on the northwest coast of Borneo, and are both under British protection.

A mass meeting in connection with the trackmen's strike was held on Saturday afternoon in Toronto. There was a large attendance, and sympathy was extended to the men by all the speakers. Clergymen and Mr. Crawford, M.P.P., were the chief orators.

In the Toronto Methodist Conference at Owen Sound on Saturday Rev. E. S. Howe moved a resolution of sympathy with the striking trackmen, but an amendment was moved to refer the matter to a committee. Another motion postponed a vote on the amendment.

Saturday afternoon William A. Lillico of Toronto, formerly of Elmvale, was walking east of the Union Station, on the C.P.R. tracks. He was hard of hearing, and a pumping passenger train was unnoticed. It struck him. He was picked up dead. His arms and legs were mangled and his back was broken. The deceased was 68 years of age and a painter by trade.

The clerical Il Cittadino of Genoa says the Pope has decided to establish a permanent apostolic delegation in Canada. The statement of Il Cittadino is premature. Arrangements to that end, however, are in progress, and if carried out, it is understood Mgr. Zalewski, the apostolic delegate to India, who is now in Rome, will be appointed apostolic delegate to Canada.

The seismograph at Toronto Observatory recorded two earthquake shocks during the past week. The first shock occurred on Sunday night, 4th inst., at 11.28 p.m. It lasted until 7.35 Monday morning. For ten minutes the shock was great, but after that it was slight. The second shock was recorded at 10.07 on Monday morning, and lasted until 12.18 o'clock. It was at its height at 10.15 o'clock.

Jim Jeffries, the new pugilistic champion, who whipped Bob Fitzsimmons on Friday night, is a Canadian by birth. He was born in North Norwich, about ten miles south of Woodstock. His father was a hotelkeeper and moved with his family to California about 16 years ago. Although the winner, he gets the least out of the fight, the Coney Island Club taking $25,000, the defeated Fitzsimmons a like amount, and Jeffries takes $15,000.

Birds and Tuberculosis.

London, June 12.—A bill now before the Local Council provides that all owners of canary birds and other feathered pets secure once every month from the health department certificates of the freedom of their birds from tuberculosis. The bill was framed at the urgent instigation of a number of phthisis experts, headed by Dr. A. Tucker Wise. Numerous cases of consumption have been shown to originate from the deadly tuberculosis germs which breed with such startling fecundity in the wing and tail feathers of these supposedly harmless pets. Investigation has shown that the mucous membrane in the throat of the canary is more adapted to the rapid growth of phthisis germs than the most carefully prepared cultures.

A Yankee Squeal.

Washington, June 12.—Senator McMillan of Michigan, on behalf of his constituents who have invested in Canadian timber lands, has called the attention of the Secretary of State to the pecuniary losses to which they have been subjected by adverse legislation by the Province of Ontario, and suggesting that it be made the subject of effective remonstrance to the Government of Great Britain.

Frank Currie's Suicide.

Bothwell, Ont., June 12.—A young man named Frank Currie committed suicide by hanging himself in his brother-in-law's barn on Saturday afternoon. He was just recovering from an illness caused from injuries received in a gasoline explosion some time ago. His wife and family are in Rossland, B.C.

MARKET REPORTS.

Liverpool Wheat a Shade Higher—U. S. Prices Advance Generally for All Options—The Prices.

Liverpool, June 12.—Wheat futures were steady and unchanged to ½d per cental higher on Saturday.

Chicago, June 12.—The wheat market recovered itself to some extent on Saturday and there was a general advance in prices. The July option rose one cent, the September delivery 1⅛c and the December future 1⅛c. Crop reports from the American wheat fields are improving, and another bearish influence is found in the continued large deliveries of wheat.

PARRY SOUND EXTENSION.

Senators, Commoners and Freemen Had a Jaunt on Saturday.

Ottawa, June 12.—The Senators, members and pressmen were given an outing on Saturday by the joint courtesy of Mr. J. R. Booth and the Minister of Railways and Canals, in the Intercolonial train which was on exhibition here, over the line of the Parry Sound extension of the Canada Atlantic. The trip was highly enjoyable, and many compliments were paid to Mr. Blair on the completeness and comfort of the train, and to Mr. Booth on the excellence of the roadbed, which is undoubtedly one of the best on the continent, as was shown by the fact that for a short spurt the magnificent big engine of the Intercolonial was able to draw the train of six cars at the rate of nearly 70 miles an hour. About 150 members and others took in the trip. Luncheon was served on the way down from Golden Lake, the terminus of the trip, about 90 miles from Ottawa.

BESIEGED THE CAR.

Lindsay Citizens Give Some Scabs a Warm Time at Reaboro.

Mr. Charles Noyes, head of the local executive of the trackmen, states that a very encouraging message was sent out from the Montreal headquarters this morning to the men.

The scab car got into trouble yesterday. Hearing that the residents in the neighbourhood of Beat's station intended visiting the car on Sunday, the men instead of laying over there took the car through to Reaboro, but it was a case of "out of the frying pan into the fire" as several hundred of Lindsay's citizens essayed forth from the town and walking out the track beseiged the car and gave the occupants a warm time.

Stones were thrown and several shots fired from the crowd, but beyond the breakage of the windows it is understood that no damage was done.

AN ADDRESS.

The Good Templars Express Their Appreciation of a Sister

At the conclusion of the weekly meeting of the Good Templars on Thursday evening, the members adjourned to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cooley, when Sister Mary Buntin read the following address to Mrs. Cooley:

Dear Sister Cooley—We, your sisters and brothers in the I.O.G.T., are here tonight to convey to you our congratulations on entering into the new series of life into which you have just entered.

We trust, dear sister, you will still continue a member of our order and exert your most loving and sincere influence to add a staff to help carry on the most needed work in our town, as well as consider such to be a strength and support to himself through life.

We have met, dear sister, as stated before, to extend to you both our most heartfelt congratulations, and to ask you to accept this autograph quilt as a very small token of our love, and we trust you may value it, not only for its intrinsic worth, but for the motive that prompted it.

Again we wish you every prosperity and happiness in your new home, and pray that the hand that has led us thus far may guide and direct us through this life and into life everlasting.

Signed on behalf of City Lodge.
W. DREDGE, C. T.
M. BUNTIN, Rec. Sec.

Bro. Walter Dredge, Chief Templar, at the conclusion of the address, handed Mrs. Cooley a very handsome autograph quilt.

The visitors spent the remainder of the evening very pleasantly, refreshments being served at the close.

DEATH OF W. F. CHAPMAN.

A Former Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The following despatch was received this afternoon, conveying information of the death of Mr. W. F. Chapman:

Special to the Examiner.

Montreal, Que., June 12th.—W. F. Chapman, Assistant-Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., died at the Royal Victoria Hospital of a complication of diseases induced by tuberculosis. He belonged to Gravenhurst, Ont., but was formerly secretary of the local associations at Brantford and Peterborough. He was 35 years of age. His father was a Methodist minister.

Some years ago Mr. Chapman was connected for about nine months with the local association as secretary. During his residence here his physical condition was such as to greatly militate against his work. He made many friends here, who will receive the news of his death with sorrow.

OUR LAWNS.

Those Intending to Enter in the Competition Should Notify the Secretary

The Horticultural Society has revised its prize list, but awards are still offered for the best kept lawns and those intending to compete are asked to notify the secretary on or before July 1st.

The society is to be congratulated on its enterprise in offering these awards for lawns, as this fact more than anything else, probably, has contributed towards the general prettiness which makes the lawns of Peterborough so noticeable.

PUBLIC MEETING OF THE STRIKERS

Many Prominent Citizens Were In Attendance.

MR. J. R. STRATTON M. P. P. PRESIDED.

The Men Received Encouragement From all Quarters — Many Speakers Admire the course of Action They are Pursuing.

A very largely attended meeting was held in the Sons of England hall on Saturday evening, in connection with the strike which the Grand Trunk trackmen have inaugurated. Besides a number of prominent citizens there were a great many trackmen present from points along the Midland division of the G.T.R.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., took the chair, stating that he had been invited by the men to preside over the meeting which had been called for the purpose of obtaining an expression from the citizens generally in regard to the position which the men had taken in striking. Personally, he could say that his sympathy was entirely with the men and he thought in saying this was voicing the sentiments of a very large majority of the citizens. He thought that if a man was not worth any more than 98 cents a day, he was not worth anything. No man could bring up a family in the way families should be provided for on such wages. He was very much pleased to observe the manner in which the men had conducted themselves since going on strike. By so doing they had won the of all classes. They had appointed an Executive, which had presented their case in a legitimate and proper manner. He was glad to see that the members on both sides of the House interesting themselves in behalf of the trackmen, independent of party. This was as it should be and neither side should endeavour to make capital out of it, but rather unite to secure justice for the workingmen. The offer of the Premier of his services in the matter had met with the approval of both sides of the House. A cause that enlists the sympathies of a Premier must certainly have something behind it and he hoped and believed that a speedy settlement was now in view. The men had won the sympathy of the people and no railway could fight for long against the popular will of the public.

Mr. Charles Noyes, chairman of the local strikers committee, stated that one of the principal objects of the meeting was to assist in keeping sympathy alive amongst the citizens generally. He thanked Mr. Stratton for so readily acceding to the request of the committee in presiding during the evening. He was also glad to observe Rev. Messrs. Shorey, Symonds and Davidson present. All in attendance he knew were aware of the men and very little need be said in regard to it. He had been working on the Grand Trunk for 21 years and before that had been engaged in grading the road from North Hastings Junction to Madoc. He had worked at $1 a day for a year and a half and was contented as things were much cheaper then than now and the men always received extra pay for overwork. When the roads amalgamated he had worked for the Midland. The men got $1.10 and the foremen $1.40 and $1.50. This was under the presidency of Senator Cox. When the G. T. R. took the road over the men lost the extra ten cents but the foremen's wages were not reduced. Fortunately by this time he was a foreman. When there was no extra pay for extra work the men began to grumble and on finding that the C.P.R. men had a brotherhood some of them joined it, but others were afraid to do so as the Chief Engineer hearing of it discharged all who had done so. Some two years ago, however, the men went into the brotherhood and since then they have been continually agitating for better times. He, himself, had been the representative of the local branch at the general meeting held in Hamilton, when he discovered that Peterborough had in the brotherhood. He was allowed three votes, which privilege was accorded no other representative. The local branch had 120 members, but he was sorry to say there were one or two traitors. Although the foremen had no grievance they went out on strike when the men did, being willing to sacrifice their $1.50 per day in the interests of justice.

Mayor Davis stated that as Mayor of the town he could assure the men that they had his heartiest sympathy. He did not think that a dollar a day was enough wages for any man. In the council they had passed a by-law, fixing the corporation wages at $1.25 per day and he intended endeavouring to have an Act passed by Legislature enabling towns to fix the scale of wages for every contract which they let, which was not at present allowable. He could understand the difficulty in approaching the question of remuneration for labour. He felt that the men were right in the case of

THE PRESENT STRIKE

The Grand Trunk was making money. Hence the good reason for the men to approach the G.T.R. and say that they should have a share of the prosperity. The company should have promised a raise in wages when approached in such a manner, or at least have signified their intention of doing the right thing by the men as soon as they were able to do so. If they had met the parties, who had been sent to arrange the matter, in this spirit, the strike would never have occurred. As it was the attitude of the men had attracted the admiration of the entire country. A man was entitled to a a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. This was the principle involved. With men getting only 98 cents a day they were unable to send their children to school in compliance with the law and there must be something wrong surely when men were thus made breakers of the law against their own will. When we see the magnificent churches we have, the Sunday school work, the Y.M.C.A. and other Christian institutions it seems that there should be a moral strength brought to the minds of the people, which should manifest itself in cases of this kind by inducing them to step forward unhesitatingly in support of the trackmen. A great difficulty existed in arriving at for labour. When wages began to go down in connection with manufacturing concerns all had to cut in this particular, or they would not be able to compete with their rivals on the market. The only apparent solution of the question was to give the employees a share in the profits of a business. Some manufacturers followed this system, and followed it successfully, and he intended giving it a trial in connection with his own business in the near future.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, in addressing the men stated that they looked back to a past during which they had not been fairly treated, but it must be a satisfaction to them to know that they had given good honest service to the Grand Trunk, no matter how they had been treated. At present the men had decided that the only course was to abandon their work, and take the position in which they now stood, but he assured them that the public generally believed that this was the only remedy which could be applied. He urged the men to control their feelings under all circumstances and congratulated them on having made up their minds to attain their ends by peaceable methods only.

had won for the men the sympathy, which they had elicited from the public. Public opinion was the only tribunal before whom the merits of the strike could be decided. The Grand Trunk would be bound to bow before the opinion and will of the people of Canada. The future was all right. When affairs looked blackest this was the time to show that they were men. He would like to think that the support of the workingmen generally was behind the trackmen in the emergency, and that none of them would allow themselves to be induced to take the places of the trackmen. The attitude of the men had opened many doors to them.

Rev. S. J. Shorey stated that naturally he sympathised with the men that toil, and he would be pleased to have the representatives of the road present on this occasion. It was his sympathy with righteousness and justice which brought him to the meeting. A strike was always an evil, but in this instance it was the lesser of two evils, as the men could not submit to receiving the rate of wages paid them. In the case of railways it was not as in the event of competing concerns, but rather that of a monopoly, and men, therefore, should be able to obtain their rights by means of a strike, which state of affairs would be in the event of the railway being a concern which had to cut wages to compete in business against other similar institutions. Mr. Shorey then moved the following resolution:

"That this meeting of the citizens of the Town of Peterborough desires to express its hearty sympathy with the trackmen of the Grand Trunk Railway in their present efforts to secure from that corporation fair living wages for the important and responsible work they are required to do, and we cannot but express the hope that if the matter in dispute is not amicably settled at once between the parties concerned it may be referred to some competent independent tribunal for arbitration."

In closing his remarks, Mr. Shorey urged the trackmen to carry on the fight by fair means only. The sympathy of the people could only be enlisted through the adoption of such methods, and in gaining the co-operation of the public lay their only hope of obtaining redress of their grievances. As Rev. Mr. Davidson had so aptly expressed it, "The general public was the only tribunal before which such a case could be judged."

Rev. H. Symonds, in the course of his remarks, mentioned that he had always been deeply interested in social questions theoretically, and was now to be present as an evidence that he believed the men to be thoroughly in the right in the course which they were adopting. The meeting ought to be full of encouragement to the men. They had present a representative of Government, a representative of the government of the city, as well as a number of the clergy of Peterborough. His sympathies had always been with the labouring man, but, as a minister, he felt constrained to always try to hold the balance even, and look on both sides of the question. In this case, however, after hearing the representative of the Government, the representative of the city, and the other ministers speak, he felt assured that his sympathies were on the right side. In closing he seconded Mr. Shorey's resolution, and heartily congratulated the men upon the most excellent and admirable spirit shown during the period of strike, which had been one of great trial to them.

Ald. McWilliams stated that it was with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret that he attended the meeting—pleasure at seeing so many familiar faces, and regret at the object which necessitated their assemblage. It seemed strange that in a young country like this, men had to combine to get their rights. He had often observed the hard work which the section men had to do, and found it hard to believe that they were only earning 97 or 98 cents a day. They had his heartiest sympathy.

Mr. F. D. Kerr stated that he merely came to show his sympathy with the trackmen, not for the purpose of speaking. His heartiest sympathy was and he would like to see a resolution go through the House of Parliament to the effect that no railway or other corporation should receive governmental aid unless they consented to pay a fair living wage to their employees. Some might say that the Grand Trunk was just beginning to see better times, and should have a chance, but he had noticed that the labouring men were the first to feel the effects of hard times and the last to experience the benefits of the prosperity. He was glad to see that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the first Minister of the country, had realized that there were other matters requiring the attention of the Government than party affairs, and had stepped in to offer to mediate between the men and the company.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Mr. William Foster, one of the trackmen, asked permission to explain certain matters affecting himself. He stated that he had been blamed for warning the evening express on the Grand Trunk, when a rail had broken a few days ago. He stated that he had discovered the broken rail, and knowing that it would ditch the express to a certainity, he had sent his little son down with a red apron around a lantern to flag the train. If he had done wrong by saving a train load of people from being dashed into eternity he would have to abide by it, as he could never stand by and see such a thing occur.

The chairman congratulated Mr. Foster on his action in the matter, stating that his action was right and proper, and the only one a man could adopt under the circumstances.

Mr. Noyes added that Mr. Foster must have been labouring under a misapprehension if he thought that the men censured him for this. When the men are on strike it was their duty to still guard the public as much as possible.

A labouring man rose to state that he had been approached three times this week, and offered $1.50 per day and board to work on the track, but had refused to take the place of a striker.

Mr. Stratton expressed the hope again that no Peterborough labouring man would take the place of a striker on the track. He presaged an amicable settlement in the near future.

The meeting adjourned after the singing of the National Anthem.

CONFIRMATION SERVICES.

They Were Conducted In All Saint and St. John's Churches Yesterday.

Confirmation services were held in All Saints church yesterday morning and in St. John's in the evening, the Bishop of Toronto officiating.

The flag flying over St. John's church showed that it was a day of special interest to the congregation.

At early communion special services were held for all who were being confirmed in the different churches. The service at 11 a.m. was made particularly interesting by the public baptism of four men in the presence of the congregation. The service was a deeply solemn and impressive one. The rector preached no sermon, remarking that no testimony could be more eloquent than the which they had just witnessed.

In the evening the church began to fill up at half past six, and was crowded long before the hour of service. Owing to the long preparatory walt the bell was stopped earlier, and the prelude played by the organist, Mr. C. J. Rogers, whose work during the day was well performed.

Confirmation candidates assembled early in the evening in the School room, where their dress was arranged and final prayers offered. At precisely seven o'clock the procession entered the church, singing the inspiring hymn, "Forward be our Watchword." The order of the procession being: the vested choir, Bishop's acting chaplain, Rev. A. W. McKenzie; the Bishop of the Diocese, the church wardens, Messrs. Dr. Boucher and R. H. Kells, the confirmation class and the rector. The candidates were 64 in number, 27 men and boys, and 37 women and girls. They were of all professions and alla ges, the great majority being grown up men and women. After the long procession had reached the chancel all the candidates were received in front of the church, and a shortened form of service was begun. The candidates were then formally presented by the rector to the Bishop and in answer to the Bishop's question as to their fitness for the sacred right, they replied that they were.

The preface to the confirmation service was read by Rev. Mr. McKenzie, the Bishop's acting chaplin, after which the Bishop addressed the congregation from the pulpit, taking for his subject, the Nature of Confirmation, to which hhe said there were two sides, the subjective and objective, the former being a solemn ascent to baptismal vows. This was a part which was GENERALLY UNDERSTOOD.

He would dwell upon the other and higher side which was the direct giving of God to the answer of prayer, and the laying on of hands. While the former was the ecclesiastical, this was the Scriptural side, and had its beginning in Bible days. Within a few months of our Lord's ascension the Apostles began the practice of laying their hands with prayer upon the heads of such as had just been baptised, with the result that the Holy Ghost was then and there given to them, (Acts8, 15-16-17). It is true that the Lord Himself, did not publicly ordain this right, but is it possible to suppose they could have made such a departure without instructions from him. As a matter of fact we read not his chief work after his resurrection, being instrumental in things pertaining to the Kingdom of God, individually. At all events God publicly sanctioned it by sending the Holy Ghost. The Bishop then went on to treat with some of that had been made to ordinances showing their frutility. He further said that the Holy Ghost was not only given in confirming his work but was also manifested in baptism, but in that sacrament they had reference to the forgiveness of sins, in the past, while in confirmation the Holy Spirit came into their hearts to strengthen and guide them for their future lives.

He closed his address by expressing his pleasure at the large classes presented to him in this parish and his appreciation of the general work which is being done. As the central parish in this part of the country their influence should be felt throughout all the neighbouring districts. His Lordship then proceeded to ask of the candidates who were standing as to the baptismal responsibility, calling upon the rector to read the list of names, as each name was called, each person answered "I do." After the prayer for the coming of the Holy Spirit the candidates went forward for individual confirmation, kneeling before the Bishop in the sanctuary. This concluded the confirmation services.

During the offertory, Miss Howden of Port Hope, sang beautifully, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

Rev. W. L. Armitage was the recipient of a beautiful white Stole, which he wore for the first time at the confirmation service yesterday morning. It was the gift of the Senior Girls' Guild.

Energy Easily Earned.

D. WARD'S BLOOD & NERVE PILLS

Wasted energy must be made up or the body will weaken and perhaps perish.

For a long time prior to taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills my nerve system was greatly deranged and I was terribly nervous, so much so that in my business (Linesman of the Kingston Electric Light Co.,) my extreme nervousness naturally made the following of my business extremely hazardous. Before taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills my kidneys had been affected for some time. I had constant soreness and stiffness across my loins and the small of my back. My appetite was variable and very poor. I also suffered greatly with constant headaches. I am glad to be able to inform you that Dr. Ward's Pills completely cured me of all the above ailments and made me a well man. I have found no medicine like Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, although I have tried many different kinds. They acted quickly and effectually on my nerve system, making my nerves strong and removing all indications of nervousness. These valuable pills also removed all kidney and back trouble and restored to me a healthy vigorous appetite. I have had no headache since five months ago and feel justified in saying that they are a wonderful remedy. They not only removed nervousness, but gave me healthy kidneys, removed all soreness and stiffness from my back and loins, cured me of headache and gave me a good appetite, consequently I am highly pleased. I know of no medicine that equals Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills for nervousness, chronic headache, sore kidneys and back and loss of appetite. Yours truly, John McCutcheon, 532 Princess St., Kingston, Ont.

ORIGIN OF NONSENSE.

As an Art It Is of Comparatively Recent Date.

As a literary form, manufactured or intentional, nonsense is a comparatively recent art in English. The French in the seventeenth century began the cultivation of a form of verse which they called amphigouri and which in the eighteenth grew into extraordinary popularity. An amphigouri was a bit of rhyme without reason, a meaningless rigmarole in verse. It was not until our own age, however, that nonsense literature was brought to perfection by Lewis Carroll and Edmund Lear, who still hold their ground against all imitators. It was in 1846 that Edmund Lear commenced the publication of those famous little five line nonsense verses which made his first fame.

The form was not original with him. Mr. Lear himself, in the preface of his third book, where he laughs at "the persistently absurd report" that the Earl of Derby was the author of the first "Book of Nonsense," is careful to acknowledge his indebtedness to certain nursery rhymes beginning, "There was an old man of Tobago," which were suggested to him by a valued friend as a form of verse lending itself to limitless variety for rhymes and pictures. "The Old Man of Tobago" is in the "Arundines Cami," which was published in the year 1841 and is said there to be taken from "Gammer Gurton." "Gammer Gurton's Garland" appeared first in 1784 and afterward, with additions, in 1810. The lines, "There was an old woman of Ealing, who jumped till her head touched the ceiling," appeared in the "History of Sixteen Wonderful Old Women, Illustrated by Many Engravings Exhibiting Their Principal Eccentricities and Amusements," which was printed in London in 1821.

THE BEST ON EARTH

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

Is Ben Parrott Insane?

Hamilton, June 10.—The counsel for Ben Parrott, who is condemned to be hanged on June 23 received the following telegram from the Minister of Justice:

"If formal application is made, declaring belief that Parrott is insane, I will name a medical commission to examine him. No time to lose. David Mills."

Yesterday morning the prisoner's father made out the required declaration, and it was sent to Ottawa.

Woman Burned Herself Alive.

SAFE LOCK PUZZLES.

THE TROUBLE THAT IS CAUSED BY LOST COMBINATIONS.

A Remarkable Experience With a Screw Door Safe, Which Defied the Assaults of the Experts For Three Days and Nights.

Once a painter working in the Commercial hotel slipped from his ladder and in falling struck his foot against the knob of the office safe. A few moments later the clerk attempted to open the doors, but found them immovable; the blow had thrown "on" the combination. As usual in hotels where some one is continually on duty close at hand, the outer lock was rarely used. It was last employed so long ago that nobody could remember the exact figures that governed it, and an expert was sent for. In detective stories this individual would have placed his ear against the door, turned the knob a few times, smiled enigmatically and thrown back the bolts, but unfortunately such things don't really happen outside the works of M. Gaboriau. As a matter of fact, five skilled mechanics took turns at trying for some 80 hours, and finally the makers were telegraphed to for the cipher.

The "sticking" of safe doors, as it is called colloquially, is something that occurs now and then in every city, and the most common cause is the sudden death of the man possessing the combination. Some cautious merchant tumbles over with heart disease or apoplexy, and his safe is found locked as tight as a drum. In such cases there is only one thing to do. A hole is drilled through the door, so as to give access to the mechanism, and the lock is then picked with a wire.

As burglars often employ the same process it may be interesting to explain just how it is done. A combination lock consists of a series of disks, or "tumblers," each having a slot on the edge, and when these slots are brought into alignment a bar slides through and operates the bolts. By means of a hooked wire it is comparatively easy for an expert to revolve the disks until the slots are all in their correct positions, and that, in a nutshell, is the whole trick.

The widely prevalent idea that a combination lock may be opened "by ear" is absurd, and the safe sharp who pretends to do it resorts to an ingenious method, called "backing up." He approaches a safe when the combination is "off," and by quietly turning the knob backward can tell by a slight obstruction when the first number is reached. The second is "picked up" the same way, and so on until the cipher is in his possession, when he boldly announces that he can open the doors whenever he wants to. Many a man has been hoodwinked into believing a good lock worthless by this simple dodge.

Sudden death is by no means responsible for all the lockouts. Sometimes one of those strange mental scissions, in which the overtaxed brain itself slips a cog, causes a busy man to forget for the time being one or more of the numbers. He may have opened the safe every morning for years and believed the combination to be as familiar as the face of his wife, but it has slipped away into the mysterious regions of oblivion, and the harder he thinks the less apt he is to recall it.

Some years ago a New Orleans merchant suddenly forgot the second number of his combination. He was in great distress, for he feared a mental breakdown, and, strange to say, he had the missing number associated in some manner with the idea of stopping or pausing.

"It has something to do with standing still," he repeated over and over again to the baffled experts. At last he jumped up with a triumphant whoop.

"I have it," he yelled. "It's 28. Don't you see, two-eight, to wait? I knew it had something to do with stopping."

One of the most remarkable lockouts on record occurred in 1892 in a small town in this state. A general merchant had what was known as a screw door safe, with a time lock, which got out of order. The door in a safe of this kind is circular and screws in, after which an automatic contrivance throws the bolts, which are released at a given hour by interior clockwork. The expert sent for in this particular case made the necessary repairs, but forgot to replace a small bar connecting the clock and the lock. Consequently when he closed the door the bolts flew into position, and there was no way in the world to get them back.

The safe contained a quantity of currency, several fine watches and a lot of diamond jewelry, and the owner was wild to have it opened. Then began a battle royal. The first scheme of the experts was to bolt a long iron bar to the door and then raise the safe by a tackle and let it drop. The theory was that the jar might cause the bolts to fly back long enough to enable the leverage pressure of the bar to start the screw. This was tried at least a hundred times, but without success.

They then determined to break down the door itself. It was composed of many plates of steel held together by a series of small bolts. A beam 25 feet long was swung from a derrick like a battering ram and hurled end on against the front of the safe. Shifts of darkies were engaged to relieve each other at fixed hours, and the blows were timed regularly, two to the minute. It was believed that a vibration could thus be set up that would eventually jar out the bolts, and, incredible as it may seem, the assault was continued unceasingly three days and nights. The blows reverberated through the little town like salvos of artillery, and the whole country around turned out to see the fun. Sleep was impossible, and one exasperated resident had actually applied for an injunction when the plates at last sprung asunder.

The interior was a wreck. The watches had been literally torn to pieces. The diamonds were found wrenched from their settings and the currency reduced to rags by abrasion from flying particles. It had to be sent to the treasury for redemption.

When an expert is called in by a business man who finds himself unable to open his safe, he tries the plan, to begin with, of reversing the numbers given him. It not infrequently happens that the owner has accidentally rearranged them in his mind, and in nine cases out of ten that proves to be the fact. The forgetful man is always ready to take oath that he has made no mistake until it is demonstrated before his eyes that he has.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

For Infants and Children.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

There is no truer, kindlier spirit than that which prompts a woman to aid in the comfort and uplifting of her own sex—mental, moral or physical. We admire as heroines those women who make it a life's purpose to rescue or nurse or teach their unfortunate sisters, but equally admirable is that spirit which impels a woman who has found help and comfort in sickness to use all her influence in bringing the same relief to others.

"I shall be glad," writes Mrs. Benj. H. Fairbanks, of Enosburg, Franklin Co., Vt., in a cordial letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "if my testimony to the success of your treatment will help to influence other women, troubled with the diseases peculiar to our sex, to write you. I am glad to be able to tell you of the great good your medicines have done me. I had been troubled with ulceration and its attendant aches and pains and nervousness several times; and finally made worse by a miscarriage, I wrote you. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' for about three or four months and can truly say, they cured me. I shall never cease to be grateful."

No woman afflicted by such agonizing and discouraging complaints need hesitate to write to Dr. Pierce. She may feel assured, no matter what her circumstances may be, of his respectful, earnest, fatherly sympathy and best professional efforts in her behalf. He stands among the most eminent practitioners of the century in this special field, and his advice will be given absolutely without charge.

A free paper-bound copy of Doctor Pierce's thousand page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the mere cost of customs and mailing only; or for 50 stamps, a heavier, handsome cloth-bound copy will be sent.

Saw How It Worked.

A scientific demonstration which caused some amusement is described in a recent number of The Criterion: "A certain physician had a large Toepler-Holtz machine which gave a spark like a young streak of lightning. His wife was much interested in it and watched the doctor manipulate it until she fancied herself master of the apparatus. One day a party of friends called when the doctor was out, and the good wife seized the opportunity of paralyzing them with her knowledge of science.

"She was a very dignified woman of portly presence, and, after leading them into the office, she began her explanation with all the impressiveness of a lecturer. She spoke briefly of the preliminary manipulation of the machine. 'And then,' she said, laying her hand upon one connection, 'the electricity goes from here to here;' whereupon an angry white spark leaped out from the brass ball indicated with a report like a horse pistol and smote her upon the extended finger, causing her to sit upon the floor with a violence that shook the window panes.

"The guests stood around in expectant attitudes, looking at their fallen hostess in pardonable surprise. Only for a moment did that capable woman leave them in doubt. 'There!' said she, in the most matter of fact manner, as though events had simply followed the usual course. 'You see how it works. Now let's go into the garden and look at the chrysanthemums.'"

HIS SORROW WAS IMMENSE.

But Not Too Great to Keep Him From Talking Business.

The following letter was recently received by the manager of a large German insurance company:

DEAR SIR.—It is with deep sorrow that I take the pen to inform you that my dear wife, Annie Marie, nee Lindner, insured with you—you will find the number in your index—for the sum of marks 3,000, has died suddenly, leaving me in this world in the bitterest despair. This painful blow befell me this very day at 7 o'clock in the morning. Will you try to get for me the amount insured as quickly as possible? The policy bears No. 21761. I am my very seriously and very sincerely that she was a faithful wife and an accomplished mother. So that matters may proceed more rapidly I send you herewith an official certificate of her death.

Her illness has been very short; nevertheless she suffered very much, which rendered my sorrow the more intense.

I trust that you will help me in consoling myself by sending me very promptly the aforesaid amount, especially after having received my formal promise—and I make it to you this very moment—that when the time comes I shall insure my second wife for marks 6,000, double the amount of insurance of the defunct.

My sorrow is immense. However, the prospect that you will hasten to satisfy me sustains me in this terrible trial. In the hope that I shall soon receive the amount insured, I and my children pray you to accept, etc.

A Confusing Order.

"We get ridiculous letters from customers sometimes," said a bill clerk in one of the big wholesale houses. "Here is a fair sample of the manner in which some rural retailers send in an order:

"'Messrs. —— Please send me 600 pounds of sugar as quickly as possible.

"'P. S.—Never mind sending the sugar. I have just found some in the back room.'"—Sioux City Journal.

Hot Water.

Much suffering might be avoided if people could only be made to realize that a cupful of hot water, a hot bath or hot applications of any kind are among the most, useful forms of medication known to the human family, and if resorted to will almost immediately remove any of the violent symptoms of disease.

A WOMAN'S LIFE IN UTAH.

Some of the Mental Anguish That Is Caused by Polygamy.

No Mormon woman will talk from her heart to a stranger, notably and essentially when that person is a gentile, (in Mormondom, every one who is not a Mormon is a gentile,) for she knows by sad experience that this would but increase her sufferings. Of all sacrifices that have ever been exacted of the single, loving heart of true wife and mother in the name of religion, none can equal those of polygamy, which these women were taught would be practiced through all eternity, as it was "the celestial order of heaven," an eternal law.

Under its baneful influence a wife lived in the same house with her husband, surrounded by their children, a lonely, disconsolate woman. The confidence and respect that should have united their hearts, made one their interests, is first defiled and then destroyed. She early learns to be silent and observing. After their evening meal, if she sees her husband make as careful and elaborate a toilet as their circumstances permit, she dares not ask him where he is going. But that fear that ever abides in the heart of every Mormon wife eats, cankerlike, at her vitality

She may try to drive these thoughts away, she may say to herself, "No; whatever other men may do, however they may deceive their wives, my husband will be honest and true. He will not deceive me." Up almost to the hour that she is expected to go to the "endowment house" and place the hand of the second wife in that of her husband she gives her hungry soul this soothing balm. But ultimately she must awaken to the fact that no man can practice polygamy without becoming a hypocrite. Many of these women believe, or try to believe, that polygamy is a revelation from God and consequently must be obeyed.

But if any gentile woman will try to think how she would feel if her husband were to tell her that he is soon to bring into their home a second wife to usurp her place in the family circle, share her husband's affection, come between her and the man who had been her all in all for so many years, that woman will have arrived at a full, perfect, exact comprehension of what a Mormon woman suffers.—Arena.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at James Lynch's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Queer Verdicts.

The recent verdict of a coroner's jury that a man who had been lynched was "frozen to death" recalls another queer verdict in a similar case. A negro had been lynched on the outskirts of a small town. He was found swinging to a limb, with one of his legs broken. After viewing the body the jury returned this verdict: "That the deceased came to his death from a broken leg, which happened to him while he was swinging in the picnic grove."

HOUSE ETIQUET.

HATS PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART IN PARLIAMENT.

A New Member Must Be Escorted to the Table of the House—Old Customs That Are Still Adhered To—Nearly 700 Members, With Seats For Only 350.

When a new member makes his first appearance in the house of commons, he has to be escorted to the table to take the oath by two other members of parliament. This is one of the immemorial usages of the house of commons. It originated in a far remote past when it was really necessary in order to prevent personation that two members of the house should identify the claimant of a seat after a by-election as the person named in the writ of the returning officer.

The precaution has been unnecessary for many a year. But such is the reluctance of the house of commons to part with any of its quaint and antique ceremonies that it is still retained, and though a representative may come to the bar of the house as the unanimous choice of a constituency of 10,000 electors and produce his credentials he will not be permitted to take his seat unless he can get two members to act as his sponsors.

Dr. Kenealy, the famous counsel for "the claimant," presented himself at the bar unattended after his election for Spoke-upon-Trent in February, 1875. The Speaker informed him of the usage of the house, and as he could not get two members to accompany him to the table he was obliged to leave.

It was only by a special resolution of the house, moved by Mr. Disraeli, its leader at the time, that Dr. Kenealy was allowed to take his seat without complying with the usual practice.

When men assemble together in social life, as in a theater or at a meeting, the ordinary custom is to uncover while they are seated and to don their hats as they enter or leave the place.

In parliamentary life that rule is reversed. Members can wear their hats only when they are seated on the benches. As they walk to the seats or rise to leave the chamber they must be uncovered. This custom is the source of much confusion and embarrassment to new members.

The house never fails to show its resentment of a breach of its etiquet, however slight. It will, without distinction of party, unanimously roar with indignation at a new member who, ignorant or unmindful of the parliamentary custom, wears his hat as he walks down the floor of the chamber.

An offending member, startled by the shout which greeted him as he was leaving the chamber with his hat on his head instead of in his hand, paused in the middle of the floor and looked around with a mingled expression of fright and perplexity, "Hat, hat!" shouted the house.

This only embarrassed him the more. He felt his trousers pockets and his coat tails for the offending article of attire. He even looked at his feet to see if he were wearing it at that extremity of his person. It is impossible to conjecture what might have happened further had not Dr. Tanner walked up to the offending member, and amid the loud laughter of the house politely took off his hat and then handed it to him with a courtly bow.

The hat plays many important parts in parliamentary customs. It also contributes occasionally to the gayety of life in the house of commons. No incident is greeted with more hearty laughter than the spectacle of a member, after a magnificent peroration, plumping down on his silk hat on the bench behind him.

The bashful and awkward member generally figures in those accidents, but the misfortune has befallen even old and cool parliamentary hands like Mr. Chamberlain and Sir William Harcourt and has completely spoiled the effect of a few of their most eloquent speeches.

A few years ago Mr. R. G. Webster, member for East St. Pancras sat down after his maiden speech on a new silk hat, which he had provided in honor of the auspicious occasion, and as he was ruefully surveying his battered headgear, to the amusement of the unfeeling spectators, Mr. Edward Harrington, an Irish representative, rose and gravely said, "Mr. Speaker, permit me to congratulate the honorable member on the happy circumstance that when he sat on his hat his head was not in it." The strident call of "Order, order!" from the Speaker was drowned in roars of laughter.

In probably every other legislative chamber in the world each member has a special seat allotted to him. But though there are 670 members in the commons the chamber, strangely enough, was built to accommodate only about half that number, and the only members who are certain of seats are ministers and ex-ministers, the occupants respectively of the treasury bench and the first opposition bench.

The consequence is that on occasions of great interest there is always a scramble for places. A large crowd of members gathered at Westminster in the early morning of the evening on which Mr. Gladstone introduced the home rule bill of 1892, and when, after hours of waiting, the door giving immediate entrance to the chamber was opened at 7 a. m., so mad was the rush for seats that several members were crushed, knocked down and trampled upon.—Chambers' Journal.

MARKET REPORTS.

Liverpool Wheat Advanced, While Chicago Futures Declined Again—U. S. Farmers Sold Old Wheat Freely.

Liverpool, June 10.—Wheat futures advanced ¼d to ⅜d per cental yesterday.

Chicago, June 10.—Chicago's wheat was heavy again yesterday, partially owing to the arrival of the first cars of new wheat at St. Louis, and partly because of the farmers' free deliveries of old wheat, which would seem to indicate little fear on their part of any failure in the incoming crop. The July and September options fell off a cent a bushel. The July delivery, however, recovered half and the September delivery three quarters of the loss before the close.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the padel without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1898 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used. Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. THE FARMERS WHERE LANDS ARE FLOODED.

THEY HELD A MEETING IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER.

Peterborough Members of the House to be Asked to use Their Influence With the Government to Secure Indemnification.

A meeting of the land owners along the banks of the Otonabee river effected by high water was held in the council chamber on Saturday afternoon when the matter of drowned land was discussed and a line of action fully mapped out.

The meeting was well attended, there being in the neighbourhood of fifty persons present. The discussion was lively throughout. One thing that was finally agreed upon was that to recover the land, which had been flooded some forty years, cannot be attempted without destroying navigation in the Otonabee river. This was practically the statement made by Mr. R. B. Rogers, Superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal.

The only remedy that can be obtained is in the matter of the spring freshets, and the evil of these, it was agreed, can be by the erection of additional sluiceways at Hastings to let a greater amount of water off in the spring.

The result of the meeting was that a committee was appointed to press upon the local representatives of the Dominion Parliament the necessity of additional sluiceways and also compensation for the drowned land caused by the high water at all times of the year.

Mr. Wm. Eyere, was on motion asked to take the chair and Mr. W. J. Hall acted as secretary.

The chairman in calling the meeting to order stated that it was not necessary for him to explain the object they were there for, as it was known to those present they were there to do all in their power to take the necessary action to prevent the water of the Otonabee from overflowing their lands. He was glad to be able to state that Mr. R. B. Rogers, Superintending Engineer of the Trent Valley Canal, was with them and would furnish them with any information they might want, as far as lay

IN HIS POWER.

The secretary, Mr. W. J. Hall reported that he had received a letter from Mr. Lang, M.P., stating that he was glad to be able to report that they had got a sum placed in the estimates for the purpose of clearing the channel at Hastings. The secretary also mentioned about Mr. Rogers being present and would likely give much valuable information. The two principle questions to be discussed Mr. Hall claimed, was the advisability of sending a deputation to Ottawa and of putting in additional sluiceway at Hastings.

The chairman asked Mr. Rogers if all the stop logs were out of the sluiceway at Hastings, and what the probabilities are for removing the broken rock in the channel. He also asked the Engineer's views on the advisability of building at Hastings which would allow the water to be lowered much more than the present one.

Mr. Rogers said that the stop logs had been out at Hastings since last fall, and the Government was not anxious for high water any more than the farmers were.

In regard to the channel, there had been an appropriation placed in the Dominion estimates to clear out the channel at Hastings, which would be about ninety feet in width and six feet in depth. He considered that when this channel was cleared, it would lower the water considerably in the river. As to the new sluiceway Mr. Rogers said that it was a matter of only until a new dam at Hastings would be built, as the present one is pretty much gone. If the new dam were built he would recommend sluiceways all across the river.

Mr. John Riddell asked if the water in the route from Peterborough to Hastings could stand to be any lower and not obstruct navigation.

Mr. Rogers claimed that it could not. If the sluiceways at Hastings were lowered any lower than the present ones, it is going to hurt navigation materially. The original bottom of the river bed at Hastings, Mr. Rogers explained, had been lowered one or two feet already.

Mr. Riddell, continuing, claimed that evidences along the river showed that the water in the Otonabee had during the been raised several feet at low water time.

The chairman asked if the cut at Hastings in the channels were six feet instead of three, would it not lower the Otonabee river and Rice Lake accordingly and thereby make navigation hazardous in the Otonabee, to which Mr. Rogers replied that it would.

The chairman then pointed out that there were two kinds of claimants; there were those whose land was effected in the spring time only and there were also those whose land had been under water for many years. It was evident now from what the superintendent of the canal had said that there was no possibility of reclaiming the drowned land, as navigation was to be considered first apparently but steps should be taken to idemnify those injured in this way, for their loss. As for the former class the Government to put in additional sluiceways at Hastings and thereby prevent so much high water in the spring.

Mr. Joseph Clarke claimed that he was down to Hastings on Tuesday, and that he had formed the opinion that if the old dam were taken away, the water in Rice Lake and the Otonabee would be lowered; but as long as the head is high, the land would be flooded. Before the dam was built the land was not flooded. He considered that the Otonabee would of course be then unfit for navigation.

Mr. John Cook agreed with Mr. Clark, that as long as the present dam had been there the land had been drowned. He differed with Mr. Clark, however, in saying if the water in the lake were lowered anymore it would destroy navigation. The channel at Hastings might be dug out twenty feet, but as long as the present dam was there and as long as the sluiceways were no lower than the present ones the water above would be as high as it is now.

Mr. Riddell reminded the secretary of a meeting which was held a few years ago at which a resolution was adopted setting forth the grievances of those who signed the same asking for some remedy at the hands of the DOMINION GOVERNMENT.

He wished to know what answer the Government had made to this.

Mr. Hall explained that the result of the petition to the government was the erection of the new sluiceway at Hastings. He considered that the Government had done very good so far, but it is now found necessary to put in more sluiceways. He considered it was in order now to send another deputation to Ottawa, urging the necessity of putting in these additional sluiceways.

A discussion then took place, in which nearly all present participated, concerning which would be the best method to pursue; to send a deputation to Ottawa or to send a deputation to Messrs. Kendry and Lang asking them to urge on the Dominion Government the necessity of an early construction of additional sluiceways at Hastings.

On motion of J. Throop, seconded by J. Clark, the latter course was adopted and the following committee was appointed for that purpose: Messrs. John Riddell, chairman; Robt. Deyell, J. Throope, T. E. Bradburn, Wm. Eyere, M. J. Johnston, Wm. Yelland, J. M. Clarke, and W. McAllister.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the call of the secretary by order from the above committee.

WATERWORKS EXTENSION.

The Village Mains to be Extended—Meeting of the Council.

The Ashburnham village council has at present under consideration, the advisability of making extensive improvements in their waterworks system.

CATHOLIC FORESTERS.

The Excursion Which They Will Run on June 14th to Muskoka.

A most enjoyable outing is promised on Wednesday, June 14th, when the first annual excursion of the Hastings Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, takes place to Muskoka. The excursion is from all points along the Midland Division from Belleville through to Bracebridge and Gravenhurst. Tickets from Belleville to Lindsay, inclusive, are good to return until June 17th; from other points they are good until the 16th. The return fare from Peterborough is the small sum of $1.45, and proportionately low rates have been arranged from the other points along the line. Passengers can leave on the regular morning train, starting from Belleville at 5.40 a.m., and leaving Peterborough at 8 o'clock or they can take the special which is made up here and leaves Peterborough at 7.35 a.m.; Best's 7.47; Omemee 8.03; Reaboro 8.10; Lindsay 8.20, etc. The boats will leave on arrival of the trains at Muskoka wharf. Eight hours will be spent on the beautiful Muskoka lakes and the returning trains that evening will leave Muskoka wharf at 7 o'clock.

The Hastings citizens brass band will be in attendance and when it is stated that Rev. Father McGuire, of Hastings, is the chairman of the committee, it is a guarantee that the excursion will be the success of the season.

Interesting Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

Lindsay is coming to play the Peterborough Juniors on Friday next. The game should arose much interest, as the Juniors have been training hard for their game against Hastings on June 26th, and the public will have an opportunity of seeing what fine work the younger players are capable of doing. The game does not start until 6.30 p. m. and there will be no charge for ladies.

The Seniors are to practice every night this week and next in order to be in good shape for the Markham match here on the 23rd.

Markham won from Brampton at Markham by 4 to 1 on Saturday. The Peterboroughs will have to do their prettiest to win from the Markhums on the 23rd.

ANGLING.

Those of our readers who are interested in piscatorial matters will be able to appreciate a bit of successful angling, and the district around Pickering has long been noted for the facilities it affords for the favourite spot. There are at present on exhibition in one of the shop windows, Mr. Henry Caverdale's, a pike caught in the Rye at Salton, weighing 23 lbs; a trout caught in the Costa weighing 9 3-4 lbs., and a young one from the same stream, caught with the May fly, weighing 3 3-4 lbs; chub, caught in the Derwent weighing 5 lb. 7 oz.; a perch from the Costa weighing 3 3-4 lbs. All these have been caught by Major and Mr. T. Mitchelson, who are both experts with the rod and line, and the fish having been carefully preserved these cases will make a valuable addition to their interesting and extensive museum.—Malton, Eng., Messenger. Still some of our people have a belief that America is the only country where good fish are caught.

CLEVELAND BICYCLES

The resources of the biggest bicycle concern in the world are behind it. To illustrate the care used in construction. EVERY CRANK is subjected to a strain of 500 pounds by means of a 24 inch lever. EVERY SPROCKET is guaged to the two thousandeth part of an inch insuring absolute accuracy. EVERY CONE is hardened by a secret process and tested by means of a sharp prick punch, the slightest scratch causing them to be rejected. EVERY CHAIN undergoes 28 operations, after each of which it is inspected. To determine the strength it is subjected to a jerk test of 1000 pounds, then run 200 miles under great strain in a bath of oil to insure strength and ease of running.

COOL SUITS FOR MEN...

We are showing many distinctly novel things in light-weights and light colours in cool summer suitings. They make up in gentlemanly styles and are worn with great comfort.

The clothes we make always lay close to the collar, with lapels of new design, foreign from ready clothing. We avoid the two extremes—the very high and very cheap. In fact, it's clothes to suit or money back dealing with us.

Great Britain May Soon Occupy Delagoa Bay.

WOLSELEY'S WARLIKE WORK.

The Commander-in-Chief Arranges for the Transport of an Army Corps—Officers on Furlough Ordered to Hold Themselves in Readiness to Return to Their Regiments.

London, June 13.—It is rumored on the Stock Exchange that England, having purchased Delagoa Bay some time ago, will shortly take occupation, thus surrounding the Transvaal with British territory. A question in reference to the matter was put in the House last evening, but Mr. Chamberlain was absent, and the report is, therefore, unconfirmed. It is not generally credited, being thought too good to be true.

Wolseley's Warlike Work.

London, June 13. — Commander-in-Chief Wolseley has been busy for several days and evenings at the War Office, preparing for eventualities in South Africa. The effective lists of the first-class reserve have been prepared, and transport for the first army corps has been provisionally arranged. The officers on furlough have been warned to hold themselves in readiness to return to their regiments. The general trend of news, however, is more pacific.

A TERRIFIC STORM.

Cyclone in Minnesota and Wisconsin Causes Tremendous Loss of Life—New Richmond Wiped Out.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 13.—A message was received at the Wisconsin Central offices here late last night from Stevens Point, from Mr. Horn, the division superintendent of the Wisconsin Central at that place, in which he says: "At 8.45 to-night we got a message from Robertson of the Omaha, via Marshall, saying that a cyclone had struck New Richmond about 7.30, killing and wounding from 250 to 500 people. We have started a special train with surgeons."

A Terrible Night.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 13.—A special despatch last night to The Tribune from Stillwater, Minn., says: "This was a terrible night for New Richmond, the village being almost wiped out of existence by one of the most severe cyclones that ever visited that locality. It carried ruin and death in its path. The news of the disaster was brought here by a travelling man, who was stopping at the Moffet House in New Richmond when the cyclone struck. He saw the funnel-shaped cloud as it came up the principal street and took refuge in the basement of the hotel, which was completely wrecked, together with every other business house in the city."

SETTLEMENT LOOKED FOR.

Result of Mr. Sutherland's Mission to Montreal Makes for Peace—Meeting of the Chiefs.

Ottawa, June 13.—Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., returned to the capital last evening, after having spent a day and a half in Montreal, where he met General Manager Hays and Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk Railway. The chief whip of the Government informed the two gentlemen mentioned that the Prime Minister had delegated to him plenipotentiary powers in connection with Sir Wilfrid's offer to act as umpire between the company and the striking trackmen. The situation was discussed from every point of view, and Mr. Sutherland will receive to-day the executive of the strikers and will discuss their side of the case. Mr. William Wainwright, general assistant manager of the G.T.R., had an interview with the First Minister last evening, and although the negotiations have not yet culminated in an agreement, it justifiably may be stated that there is a strong prospect of a settlement.

Opposing Stories at Toronto.

Toronto, June 13.—Both sides tell opposing stories of the number of men at work on the G.T.R. tracks, but the men continue confident that they will win the fight.

The earnings of the G.T.R. for the week ending June 7 were made known yesterday, and show an increase of $26,-606 over the corresponding period of last year. All the trains were again on time yesterday, with the exception of No. 6 from Stratford, which was 30 minutes late.

Another special train pulled out of Toronto yesterday, with a party of Government engineers on board. They will inspect the road, and see if it is in a safe condition for public travel. They will first visit the Hamilton branch, and then the main and branch lines of western Ontario.

No Change at Chatham.

Chatham, Ont., June 13.—There is not any change of importance here in the situation of the G.T.R. strike. Ten gangs of men are reported at work between St. Thomas and Windsor. This is about half the usual force.

Methodist Conference Sympathizes.

Owen Sound, Ont, June 13.—Yesterday's debate at the Methodist Conference on the trackmen's strike was again taken up, and the discussion continued until the resolution of sympathy, introduced on Saturday, was carried with one clause changed, but this does not change it in effect.

Eight-Hour Day in Force.

Spokane, Wash., June 13.—Yesterday the suspended British Columbia law prohibiting underground miners working more than eight hours out of 24 came into force.

At the Slocan the miners' union refused to accept a reduction of wages offered by the association from $3.50 to $3 for an eight-hour shift, and every big mine is closed down.

The miners' union at Nelson sprung a complete surprise yesterday, when it ordered out all its members, closing down the Athabasca, Granite and Royal Canadian mines. This leaves only the Hall and Exchequer mines working near Nelson.

Still Another Strike.

New York, June 13.—A strike of 6,000 members of the Children's Jacket Makers' and Knee Breeches Makers' Unions went into effect yesterday.

The West Huron Protest.

Goderich, June 13.—The trial of the West Huron election petition began here yesterday afternoon before Judges Osler and Rose. Joseph Beck is petitioner, and the Hon. J. T. Garrow respondent. The election in question was held on the 8th of December last, and Garrow's majority was 45.

Most of the afternoon was taken up in giving what is called "organization" or "agency" evidence.

The court adjourned till 9.30 to-day.

Farmers Visit the Model Farm.

Toronto, June 13.—Three farmers' excursions were carried to the Guelph Agricultural Fair yesterday by the Grand Trunk. From Centre Simcoe 500 took in the trip, and a big crowd also went from Lambton County. To-day the Farmers' Institutes of East and West Victoria will go from Omemee and other points. The C.P.R. will convey 600 from West York on Friday, the excursion being from points between Kleinburg and Cooksville.

Did the Boy Eat Poison?

Brantford, Ont., June 13.—Richard Holterman, a 6-year-old son of Ald. Holterman, died yesterday afternoon with about half an hour's illness. It is supposed the little fellow had eaten some poisonous weed while playing. Two physicians were called, but could not save him.

Sacrificed an Indian Girl.

Victoria, B.C., June 13.—Miners who have just reached here from the headwaters of the Stewart River tell of a number of deaths from starvation among the Indians. Chief Oaros sacrificed an Indian girl, and the troops have gone from Selkirk barracks to arrest him.

A Big Cannery Burned.

Vancouver, B.C., June 13.—D. J. Munn's splendidly-equipped cannery at Terra Nova, Lulu Island, was burned to the ground yesterday afternoon. Loss $50,000; fully insured.

Elijah Miles Is Dead.

Belleville, Ont., June 13.—Mr. Elijah Miles, aged 81 years, who was for many years publisher of The Chronicle here, died in the hospital on Sunday evening, after a long illness.

Took an Overdose.

Vancouver, June 13.—J. J. Gallagher, a prominent barrister of Woodstock, Ont., addicted to drugs, took an overdose on Saturday and now lies in a serious condition.

A CRISIS IN FRANCE.

The Dupuy Ministry Sends in Its Resignation.

PRESIDENT LOUBET ACCEPTS.

The Cause Was an Adverse Vote in the Chamber of Deputies—Ministers Will Retain Their Portfolios Until Their Successors Are Named—The "Police Outrages" the Subject of the Vote.

Paris, June 13.—The Chamber of Deputies was crowded yesterday, and there was considerable suppressed excitement when M. Vaillant, Socialist, interpellated the Government on Sunday's "police outrages" at the Pavilion d'Armenoville, and demanded to know the instructions the Government gave the police in regard to the Socialists, who, he said, defended the republic against the reactionaries.

The Premier, M. Dupuy, replied, saying the Government acknowledged the services of the police, adding that the maintenance of the Government was impossible without public order. (Applause from the Centre and protests from the Leftists.)

The text of M. Ruau's motion was as follows: "The Chamber is determined to support only a Government resolved to defend vigorously republican institutions and to secure public order and passes to the order of the day."

The Chamber adopted the motion by a vote of 331 to 173.

The Ministers forthwith left the House amid immense excitement, the Socialists shouting "Vive la Republique!"

The Ministry Resigns.

Premier Dupuy has tendered his resignation to the President.

President Loubet has accepted the resignation of the Cabinet Ministers and has requested them to retain their offices until their successors are named. It is presumed that Loubet will summon the presidents of the Chambers to-day in order to consult with them the formation of a new Cabinet.

On leaving the Chamber, M. Dupuy observed to a group of Deputies in the lobby: "We hand over the business to luckier but not to more courageous men."

The general impression is that the crisis will not last beyond Wednesday, M. Loubet having foreseen, it is said, the fall of Dupuy at an early date, having already considered the composition of the new Cabinet.

WHO STOLE THE DOCUMENTS?

Wicked Newspaper Men Got Hold of Hague Conference Secrets.

The Hague, June 13.—The drafting committee of the arbitration committee of the peace conference met yesterday and continued the discussion of the arbitration schemes. The delegates, not having received additional instructions from their respective Governments, the committee adjourned until Friday without further progress.

The discussion as to furnishing the newspapers with abstracts of the proceedings developed a remarkable scene. M. Bernaert, head of the Belgian delegation, on rising to speak, addressed M. de Staal, and in the most pointed manner said that publicity might as well be granted, as certain documents had been published in the newspapers. "Some of these documents," he said, looking M. de Staal full in the face, "were stolen, I have heard, from M. de Staal, but I cannot believe this, feeling sure that the visitors to the Auddolen Hotel are all far too honest to stoop to theft."

M. de Staal received these remarks in silence.

They Will Give Out the News.

The Hague, June 13.—At an adjourned meeting of delegates to the peace conference, under the presidency of M. de Staal yesterday morning, it was resolved to furnish the newspapers with statements of the proceedings of the committees, as well as of the plenary sittings.

It Will Cost Lipton $400,000.

London, June 13. — It is said the America's cup challenger Shamrock will not be launched until the beginning of July, the progress of work on her being retarded by the fact that the designer, W. Fife, jr., is suffering from influenza. According to estimate, the contest, from first to last, will cost Sir Thomas Lipton about $400,000. Sir Thomas Lipton has invited Lady Russell of Killowen, wife of the Lord Chief Justice of England, to christen the Shamrock.

Gone to Seek the Pole.

Christiania, June 13.—The Stella Polare, with the Duke of Abbruzi, nephew of the King of Italy, and his Polar expedition on board, sailed at 11.30 yesterday morning from this port.

Tobacco Growers Find a Market.

Windsor, Ont., June 13.—Essex tobacco raisers have at last found buyers for their product. The Kinpire Tobacco Co. of Granby, Que., gave a contract for the erection of three large warehouses at Kingsville some time ago. The first was completed last week and immediately filled. The prices vary from 4c to 8c per pound. Work is progressing on the other two buildings, and they will soon be ready for the reception of a large quantity.

Christian Scientists Held for Trial.

Buffalo, June 13.—George H. Kinter, a Christian Science healer, and James C. Saunders, charged with manslaughter in the case of 7-year-old Ralph L. Saunders, the son of the latter defendant, who died of pneumonia at the residence of Capt. Semple at Fort Porter, while under Kinter's care, were held yesterday by United States Commissioner Robins for the United States grand jury.

The Express Killed Him.

Strathroy, June 13.—Mr. Tristram Rowe, an old resident of the township of Adelaide, was instantly killed by No. 8 express yesterday afternoon. The old man was hard of hearing. He was struck with great force and thrown quite a distance, and his body frightfully mangled.

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

First Sale of 1899 Held Friday Morning—1,289 Boxes Boarded and Sold.

(Lindsay Post.)

There was a good attendance of citizens at the opening of the Victoria County Cheese Board, held in the council chamber Friday morning at 11 o'clock. President Robertson and officers were on hand, also buyers Whitton, Thos. Watkins, Belleville; Fitzgerald, Hodgson Bros., Montreal; and J. D. Flavelle.

President Robertson, after some congratulatory remarks, asked the board to consider what action should be taken relative to prizes for cheese at the Lindsay Central. He also called attention to the presence of Instructor Ward, who had already visited most of the factories comprising the board; he was doing a good work, not only in instructing the makers, but in giving patrons some needed hints relative to the care of milk before being taken to the factory or creamery.

After a few minutes discussion it was decided to allow the buyers the customary upbeam allowance of half a pound per box.

FACTORIES REPRESENTED.

The following factories boarded the number of boxes placed opposite, the cheese being the last half of the May make:

Red Rock	140

HOW THE BIDDING RAN.

Mr. Fitzgerald opened with an offer of 7 1-2c for selections; Mr. Whitton called 7 5-8c, Fitzgerald jumped to 7 3-4; Whitton raised to 7 13-16c; Fitzgerald then made 7 7-8c, and on Whitton calling 7 15-16c he offered the even 8c. At this figure he selected Star, Mariposa, Bobcaygeon, and North Ops—309 boxes.

Mr. Whitton then offered 7 7-8c for further selections, and was again beaten out by Fitzgerald, who called 7 15-16c and named a number of factories, but all refused holding for 8c.

Mr. Whitton then offered 7 15-16, and Red Rock, Fenelon Falls, Omemee, North Verulam and Lorneville accepted; total 485 boxes.

Pres. Robertson and buyer Flavelle advised the salesmen to sell at 7 15-16c, and so clear the board, as the price was very fair for May cheese. They finally concluded to follow the advice, and Messrs. Whitton and Fitzgerald thus divided the board.

THEN IS INTERESTING.

Instructor Ward was requested by President Robertson to describe how he had found things on his first trip. Mr. Ward said he would not enter into a specific description, but [illegible] affecting the quality of the [illegible] made in the county. The patrons of some of the factories could assist the cheesemaker very much by paying closer attention to the care of their milk—much of it is not delivered in proper condition, and thousands of dollars are being lost and the reputation of the factories injured in this way. The law is just as severe against the careless handling of milk as it is against watering; the offender is liable to a fine of $50.

Another weak spot is in the curing room—some of these are not in proper shape, and it is not the fault of the maker. He had visited several where the temperature was 80 degrees—good cheese could not be turned out in such places.

The return of the whey was another cause of trouble; no doubt some who were interested would disagree with him, but such was honest conviction founded on experience. He felt that the Victoria board would never attain its right position until the practice of returning whey in cans was condemned. It was easy to detect the whey odour on the milk of many patrons, and that sort of milk would spoil cheese.

Buyer Whitton said Mr. Ward had thrown out some sound suggestions. Beyond doubt the whey question had been a drawback ever since cheese factories started, and he thought it was a pity there was not a sink hole into which the stuff could be dumped and so raise the quality of cheese. More importance was attached to whey than was advisable. Lindsay cheese was first-class in many respects, but the whey flavour could frequently be detected. Farmers should take better care of their milk—they should build stands and not compel the drawer to enter yards or stables. Milk should be kept out in the pure air. Again, the milk should be got to the factories an hour or so earlier. Cheesemakers are blamed for much they are not responsible for. The speaker then referred to the case of a maker near Campbellford; the factory was not in condition and the cheese turned out sold so low, that the patrons lost considerable money. They kept the amount of the maker's share; he sued and recovered judgment, the patrons being let in for over $400 costs. If the same thing happened in this county he believed the maker who had to handle whey milk could not be held responsible for bad cheese, as many farmers are deliberately making awill barrels of their milk-cans.

Buyer Fitzgerald pointed out that in Peterborough county there was not a factory returning whey. The verdict of buyers is that the flavour of some Lindsay cheese is not clean.

Instructor Ward said he could bear out the remarks of the buyers.

President Robertson thought there was some truth in the statements made, but he remembered Mr. Cluxton, of Peterborough, saying the Lindsay board was getting ahead of Peterborough. The buyers also on a former occasion made the same statement. Personally he thought if the whey was scalded before being put in the cans it would be all right.

Buyer Whitton—"Victoria cheese is fine as a rule and I don't think there is a better lot of makers in the country, but my employer says English buyers complain of the "bucky" or whey flavour." He did not wish to dictate, but if the Victoria county patrons would remedy the trouble their cheese would be faultless and would command a higher price. If whey vats were kept as clean as milk vats there would be little to complain of, but we all know what the ordinary whey vat smells like, and the stuff does not improve milk cans—it rusts them out in a year.

Mr. Calvert, of Reaboro, described the experience of the Peterborough patrons as being against the return of whey.

Secretary Shine—"The whey matter should have been settled at the annual meeting; contracts are now let."

Mr. Lithgow confirmed buyer Whitton's and Instructor Ward's remarks concerning the lack of care of milk by giving an instance where a patron was troubled with sour milk, and it was discovered that the whey barrel was kept under the milk stand; when it was removed there was no trouble. The whey barrel, the milk can, and the pig stye are often too close together.

The board then adjourned, after deciding to hold the next sale on Monday, June 26th, at 11 a.m.

A Sure Reward When Paine's Celery Compound is Used.

The Only Medicine That is Able to Call a Halt to All Wasting and Dangerous Diseases

If sick people—young and old—acted with greater promptness and decision, suffering, agony and misery would be vastly reduced.

To delay the work of regulating and bracing the nerves and purifying the blood is a serious mistake.

When the blood is sluggish, impure and poisoned, when the nervous system is unbalanced, when digestion is deranged, and the appetite poor and variable, be assured your condition is critical and calls for instant attention before the hot summer weather brings its many added dangers.

At this time the use of Paine's Celery Compound will do a marvellous work for every rundown, sick and diseased man and woman. Its life-giving work first commences with the blood, which is made clean and pure; then the nerves are quickly set in order, digestive vigour is fully restored, the appetite is made natural, sleep is refreshing, and the despondent heart is made light and joyous.

It is well to bear in mind that Paine's Celery Compound owes its origin to the most distinguished physician that this North American continent ever produced, and his great and worthy prescription is publicly indorsed by our best medical experts.

If all distinguished sufferers will start promptly with Paine's Celery Compound they will be astonished and delighted with the speed with which this [illegible] able to call a halt to [illegible] ous diseases. [illegible] of thousands [illegible] hot and [illegible]

MARKET REPORTS.

Wheat Markets Wobbled—Early Advance at Chicago Was Followed by Decline—The Latest Prices.

Liverpool, June 13.—Wheat futures yesterday advanced and closed 1⅝d to 1¾d per cental above Saturday's final figures.

Chicago, June 13.—Wheat futures were active yesterday, opening strong and selling up 1⅜c per bushel above Saturday's final quotations. The rise brought out a lot of selling orders and prices fell off. The big increase in the visible helped the decline and prices closed ⅛c to ¼c below Saturday's last quotations.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 1,482,000 bushels; that of corn has decreased 91,000 bushels, and that of oats has decreased 88,000 bushels. The visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 68,177,000 bushels, against 65,892,000 bushels a week ago, and 66,042,000 bushels a year ago.

NO LICENSES TO SELL.

Premier Greenway's Important Statement to a Prohibition Deputation.

Winnipeg, June 13.—Premier Greenway made an unexpected announcement yesterday afternoon. A prohibition deputation to the number of five or six hundred waited on him in the legislative chamber of the Parliament Buildings. The speakers were: W. R. Mulock, Q.C.; W. W. Buchanan, late editor of The Templar, Hamilton, and Rev. Leonard Gaetz, president of the Methodist Conference. They asked for the greatest measure of prohibition the Government was willing to give.

Mr. Greenway, in reply, made a short but important speech. He remarked that the deputation had said they did not want ante-election pledges, but he had this to say, he had voted for prohibition, and votes taken in this province showed the people wanted it. When in Ottawa he had endeavored to get concurrent legislation in connection with any action taken by Manitoba. Failing that, Mr. Greenway pledged that the Manitoba Government would pass prohibitory legislation to the fullest extent of its power. This means no licenses to sell. Mr. Greenway did not mention when the law would be passed. The House meets on Thursday.

Three at a Birth.

Blackstock, June 13.—There was born on Saturday last at the home of George Wilson, township of Cartwright, near the village of Blackstock, two boys and a girl. The mother of these triplets is now the proud possessor of nine children. She is a woman of small stature, and usually weighs about 120 pounds, the daughter of William Graham of the township of Manvers, being a twin herself. Mr. Wilson is a man of medium size, usually weighing about 175 pounds, and is a farmer. At the time of writing the mother and three little ones are all doing well under the care of Dr. W. A. Fisher. The total weight of the children is 18¼ pounds.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Did you ever See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow-storm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

NEW C.P.R. OFFICERS.

Board of Directors Acted on Monday—Why the Changes Were Made—What Sir Wm. Van Horne Said.

Montreal, June 12.—At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, held yesterday, Sir William Van Horne was elected chairman of the board and Mr. Thomas G. Shaughnessy was elected president. The following directors were present: Sir William Van Horne, Mr. Thomas G. Shaughnessy, and Mr. R. B. Angus, K. B. Osler, Sir Sanford Fleming, George R. Harris and W. D. Mathews.

When the meeting was over, Mr. Shaughnessy authorized the statement that Mr. D McNicoll had been appointed assistant general manager, but he added that the question of providing a vice-president had not yet been dealt with. It is believed, however, that the next vice-president of the Canadian Pacific will be no other than Mr. R. B. Angus, who is already on the board of directors.

Sir William Van Horne made the following statement:

"The reason for the change, from a railway standpoint, was the need of providing for the enlargement of the executive organization of the company, the vast growth of its system and the wide extent of its operations having resulted in an amount of executive work quite beyond the powers of endurance possessed by any two men. As to myself, I am not cutting loose from the Canadian Pacific, and shall take just as much interest in its affairs as I ever did, but I shall now be free from every-day duties and be able to see something of the world, should I feel like it. This is my 42nd year of continuous railway work, and my 18th with the Canadian Pacific, and in all those years I have had but two short holidays, and I have felt for a good while back that I ought to free myself from the daily demands of business, and at the same time make way for the younger men. The present seems a most favorable time for such a change, for the company is in a splendid position in every way, and its prosperous future seems quite assured.

"But," continued Sir William, "one of my chief reasons for asking our directors to permit me to relinquish the duties of the office of president was to secure the well-earned promotion of Mr. Shaughnessy, whose services to the company have been beyond estimation, and whom I look upon as all that could be wished for as the chief executive officer of a great corporation. He is honorable, capable, energetic and fair-dealing, and, although I have known him intimately for many years, I have never yet discovered a fault in him, unless it be injustice to himself. The warmth of my feelings towards him can only be imagined by those who know him well. The shareholders of the Canadian Pacific Company are to be congratulated on having such a man in command."

THE BEST ON EARTH

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

HOUSE OF COMMONS

Discusses Toronto and Ottawa Routes to Georgian Bay.

BOTH ARE CANAL PROPOSALS.

Dr. Sproule's Motion of a Bounty on Beet Sugar Defeated—Mr. Wallace's Motion for T. & G. B. S. C. Papers Passed—Mr. Fielding Brings Down the Supplementary Estimates for the Year.

Ottawa, June 13.—Yesterday's session of the House was not unlike a meeting of the Toronto City Council a couple of years ago. The two rival Georgian Bay ship canals were given an airing, the Toronto scheme being championed by Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, and the Ottawa River project by Mr. Belcourt and Mr. Klock. Dr. Sproule's resolution in favor of a bounty on beet sugar was defeated after an interesting debate.

Bill Introduced.

Mr. Belcourt introduced a bill to amalgamate the Ottawa, Arnprior & Parry Sound Railway Company with the Canada Atlantic Railway Company. The bill was read a first time.

In reply to Mr. Taylor, Hon. Mr. Paterson said that "a Mr. E. S. Brasby," formerly employed at Boston and Portland as a railway customs officer, when he was paid by the railway company, had been appointed to a similar position in Skaguay, where he was paid $4.50 a day by the railway company.

In reply to a question by Mr. Foster, asking what were the working expenses of the Intercolonial for May and June, 1898, the Minister of Railways and Canals (Mr. Blair) gave the figures for those months under the various heads, showing the increased cost of the road on account of the extension into Montreal.

In reply to a question by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper as to who tendered for supplying militia clothing, Hon. Dr. Borden gave the names of the tenderers.

Toronto and Georgian Bay Canal.

Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, in moving for copies of all petitions, applications, correspondence, charter and reports with reference to the Toronto & Georgian Bay Ship Canal Company, spoke of the importance of the project. Next year will see a depth of water of 14 feet from the upper lakes via the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals to the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Atlantic Ocean, and, in view of the large increase in traffic, the Government could now afford to pay some attention to other canal routes.

The motion was agreed to without discussion.

Beet Root Sugar Industry.

Mr. T. S. Sproule (East Grey) moved: "That having regard to the large importations of sugar into Canada for home consumption, amounting to 239,670,038 pounds in the year 1898, at a cost of $4,868,956, and that it has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that the cultivation of the sugar beet in the Dominion is not only feasible but is being successfully grown in many parts of the country at present; Therefore, in the opinion of this House, in order to stimulate the farmers of Canada to engage in the growth of this valuable product and also to encourage the establishment of beet root sugar factories, a bounty should be offered for all beet root sugar manufactured in the Dominion during the next ten years, and that the machinery necessary for such plant not made in Canada be admitted free of duty."

The mover made a strong speech in favor of his motion. The debate was continued by Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. Fielding and Hon. Sidney Fisher, who opposed the motion.

The motion was declared lost.

After recess several private bills were advanced a stage, and Dr. Sproule's bill to amend the Criminal Code, 1892, with respect to combinations in restraint of trade, passed through committee and was read a third time and passed.

The House then proceeded with further consideration of Mr. Poupore's motion with reference to the Ottawa & Georgian Bay Canal, speeches in favor of the canal being made by Messrs. Belcourt and Klock and against by Dr. Sproule, who held that the Toronto route was by far the cheapest and best.

Mr. Casey moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House adjourned at 11.40.

THE SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

The supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year, ending June 30, 1899, were laid on the table by Mr. Fielding. They amount to $2,647,628, of which $453,-910 is capital, consolidated fund $1,003,515, railway subsidies $5300 and unprovided items, 1897-98, $194,800.

A greater part of these votes is for money already spent or obligations incurred. Amongst the most noticeable votes are $10,-000 additional for printing Dominion notes, $21,342 civil government, most of which is for contingencies and a few increases of salaries; for penitentiaries, $11,000 more is required, amongst the items being $2000 gratuity to Mrs. J. H. Metcalfe on account of her husband's retirement from the wardenship of Kingston Penitentiary, $344.60 balance to Mr. Ellbeck, secretary of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary Commissioners.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at James Lynch's drug store as their giving away to their many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size 50c and $1 Every bottle warranted.

DAVIS SHOT HIMSELF.

A Well-Known Resident of Niagara-on-the-Lake Attempts Suicide.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 13.—William Davis, a well-known resident of this town, attempted suicide last night by shooting himself. He placed a 32-calibre revolver behind his ear and fired the bullet into his head. It cleared the base of the brain and fractured the jawbone, and caused other serious injuries, which may prove fatal. The act was committed at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hartley. Davis is a single man and is about 40 years of age. He is fairly well off, and is said to have suffered a financial reverse lately, but this is not confirmed. He has been unwell for a month or more, but his relatives can assign no cause for his rash act.

Crops in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Man., June 13.—In the Provincial Government's crop bulletins issued yesterday the acreage is as follows: Wheat, 1,629,995; oats, 575,136; barley, 189,912; flax, 2,178; rye, 3,217; peas, 1,366; corn, 3,480; buckwheat, 32; brome, 1,930. The total acreage in 1897 was 1,958,026 acres; 1898, 2,910,942, and this year it is 2,449,078. The wheat acreage is increased almost 200,000 acres, with 2,500 more farmers in the province this year.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1898 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used. Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15002 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334.80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

CATHEDRAL WEDDINGS.

Two Marriage Ceremonies Performed at St. Peter's This Morning

GOSELIN-CADIGAN.

This morning at seven o'clock there was a happy matrimonial event solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Mr. Thomas Goselin was united in holy bonds of wedlock to Miss Catheline Cadigan, daughter of the late John Cadigan, of William street.

The bride was attired in blue with white satin insertion and chiffon trimmings, and carried a bouquet of roses. Her travelling costume was a blazer suit, with black satin trimmings.

Miss Lizzie Cadigan assisted the bride, being attired in blue with red satin, and black ribbon velvet trimmings, and carried a bouquet of roses.

Mr. Alphonse Picard assisted the groom.

The happy couple left for Hamilton, where they will be the guests of Mrs. John Burjaw, sister of the bride, for a few days. They purpose to be at home to their friends here by midsummer.

After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the former home of the bride, where a delicious breakfast was served. The bride received a number of valuable presents. The lamp department of the C.G.E. works presented them with a valuable dinner and tea set and also a parlour lamp.

O'KEEFE-CONDON.

At St. Peter's Cathedral this morning at 8 o'clock, Miss Margaret Condon, daughter of Mr. Jas. Condon, of town, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Patrick O'Keefe, an employee of the Canadian General Electric Co.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Archdeacon Casey. Miss Matilda Condon assisted the bride while Mr. Wm. O'Keefe supported the groom.

Miss Condon was the recipient of a very handsome china dinner set from the employees of the Canadian General Electric Works, whilst Mr. O'Keefe was presented with a marble clock accompanied by the following address from the employees of the porcelain department of the Carbon Works:

Peterborough, Ont., June 12.

Patrick O'Keefe, Esq.,

Our Dear Friend—We one and all, your fellow workmen, and the girls of the porcelain works, having learned of your intention to abandon the ranks of bachelors to join those of the benedicts, feel that we cannot let the auspicious occasion pass without expressing to you in some small way the esteem in which you are held by us.

Your genial, thoughtful manner, your consideration for those around you, and ever readiness to do a kind turn for your comrades, has won for you the respect and affection of us all.

We beg to congratulate you and ask you to accept this small token as a souvenir of our best wishes that your future may be full of happiness and prosperity, and that we may long enjoy your companionship as a fellow workman.

On behalf of the undersigned,

J. A. BROWN.

QUIETLY WEDDED.

Nuptials, this Morning, of Miss Fanny Grundy and Captain Augustus.

A quiet wedding took place this morning at the residence of the bride's mother, Water street, when Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's, united in marriage Miss Fanny, youngest daughter of the late Henry Grundy, and Captain Webster Augustus, of Kingston, Marine Inspector

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Richard Spencer Grundy, of Toronto, was attired in a pretty travelling suit of shot green and blue. She was assisted by her neice, Miss Nellie Grundy, of Toronto.

The groom was unattended.

A most bewildering array of handsome presents was received by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus left on the noon train for Prescott, where they will reside during the summer months.

BOARD OF WORKS.

The Recommendations Which Care Made to the Council Regrding the Streets.

The council was called to meet in Committee of the Whole last evening, but after discussing a number of questions, decided to hold a council meeting when the following report was adopted as submitted by the Board of Works:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen—Your Board of Works beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That Mrs. E. Hall be permitted to open Queen street under the supervision of the Town Engineer to make connection with the drain on that street, and that if she so desires the Town Engineer inform her of the amount she should pay under the agreement the town has with Mr. Knox.

2. That the clerk be instructed to write the Grand Trunk Railway Company to put a crossing over the railway track and ditch at Mr. W. J. Martin's.

3. That the petition of the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. and Joseph Mills for a granolithic sidewalk on Hunter street on both sides, from Park street to Belmont avenue, being sufficiently signed, be granted.

4. That John street be graded and a sidewalk constructed on it from old material, the cost not to exceed $10.

5. That William street be graded, the cost not to exceed $10.

6. That a sidewalk be constructed on Parnell street from old material, as asked by M. Ranger and others.

7. That the Engineer be instructed to repair Smith street, west of the Grand Trunk Railway track.

8. That Messrs. Kennedy and Wade be paid the balance coming to them on their sewer contract in accordance with the terms of their contract, if the Engineer finds everything connected with the work satisfactory.

9. That the Engineer be given authority to put in crossings where urgently needed.

10. That, provided a petition sufficiently signed is presented, the sewer on Gilmour street be continued to St. Joseph street.

11. That the Engineer be authorized to procure from Mr. J. A. Aylmer the use of an engine for the stone crusher for a few days at $3 per day for the engine and engineer.

12. That a grant of $10 be made to the Dickson Company towards the cost of extending the drain on London street to the raceway.

13. Your Committee authorized the Town Engineer to accept the amended tender of the Hamilton Bridge Works Company for the bridges over the creek on Dalhousie and Sherbrooke streets at the price of $1075.00 for the two.

14. Your Committee also authorized the Engineer to purchase a brass imprint roller from the Walker Foundry, of Belleville at the price of $8, and to arrange with T. Williams for cleaning the catch basins on the streets.

15. Your Committee recommend that the Town Solicitor notify the Grand Trunk Railway Company to reconstruct the bridge over the creek on Smith street at once, and that they will be held responsible for the bridge.

16. Your Committee gave instructions to have a tarpaulin covering procured for the steam road roller.

17. Your Committee instructed the Town Engineer to notify Mr. S. Belcher not to give James Bogue, sewer contractor, certificates for payment until the work is completed for which payments are made, including the cleaning up of the streets.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. LANGFORD,
Acting Chairman.

The council authorized the payment for the concreting of the bottoms of the cattle pens on the market square.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Cyrus Everett is in town for a few days, the guest of Mrs. R. S. Davidson.

Mr. Wm. Irwin was in Toronto to-day.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams is in Toronto for a day or so.

Mr. F. H. Hamilton is in Buffalo on business.

Mr. George McHugh, M.P., passed through last evening on his way to Ottawa.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor is to visit Galway, on Sunday, the 25th, and will hold Confirmation. It is about six years since the Bishop visited the parish, and there will be between 60 and 70 for Confirmation.

A Detroit exchange says: Mr. H. C. Cowie has been appointed ticket clerk of the Canadian Pacific to succeed E. N. Totten, who followed the fortunes of the Flint & Pere Marquette to their new office.

Mr. R. L. Campbell and her two daughters Ella and Eva of Franklin, Man., left for that place this morning. For the past few months Mrs. Campbell has been visiting at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Lang, No. 502 Water street, and her many friends will regret her return to the west and wish her a safe journey.

Mr. Fred Roy, of town, will look after the photographing for the Canadian Wheelman at the C.W.A. meet in Guelph on July 1st and has also been asked to officiate in the same capacity at the world's meet in Montreal. This is quite an honour for Fred.

A YOUNG CONCERN

The Baby is the youngest concern in the family, but it has its "growing time" as well as its crowing time. One of Baby's first needs is to get out of the confined and oftimes stuffy air of its home into the fresh, clear summer air outdoors. One of our neat and sumptuous baby Carriages fills the bill.

$3.00 to 12.00.

THE NOISY "KID"

Who has grown too big for a Baby Carriage wants to do its own pushing. Some day they'll want to ride a bicycle, but just now a TRICYCLE is good enough—or a GO-CART.

Come and look at our livery of little three-wheeled rigs for boys or for girls. Children's Waggons, Carts, and other wheeled goods—just the thing to keep peace in the house.

FRIDAYS and SATURDAYS we make such special reductions in Go-Carts as will help them to go quickly.

CARPET SWEEPERS

Keep the Carpets and the Rooms clean after the summer house cleaning. You'll make a mistake if you don't see our Bissell Carpet Sweepers and get our prices.

FANS! FANS!!

If the ladies are not mistaken we have the prettiest Fans in Ontario. 30 different kinds at such prices as these :—5c. 7c 10c. 15c. 20c. 25c. 50c. 75c. $1.50.

COUNTY COURT IN SESSION.

Spring Sittings Open Before His Honour Judge Weller—His Address to the Jury—G. T. R. Strike Referred to.

The Spring Sessions of the County Court of the County of Peterborough opened at one o'clock to-day before His Honour Judge Weller.

The following counsel are in attendance: Messrs. E. B. Stone, R. M. Dennistoun, E. B. Edwards, R. R. Hall, R. E. Wood, J. W. Bennet, F. D. Kerr, D. O'Connel of Peterborough; E. A. DuVernet of Toronto.

The Grand Jury is composed as follows: D. W. Henderson, Otonabee, farmer; P. Bullock, Smith; Thomas Curtis, Havelock; Robert Darling, Smith; Robt. Duff, Smith; Richard Girvin, Dummer; A. Gillespie, Peterborough; Joseph Goselin, Peterborough; John Halpin, Peterborough; Thomas Perdue, Ennismore; W. W. Smith, Anstruther; William Dickson, Douro, and W. Davidson, Peterborough.

Judge Weller in his address to the Jurors, clearly explained their duties, and the light in which to view the different cases.

His Honour took occasion to refer to the strike now existing among the Grand Trunk Railway employees, and briefly reviewed the situation. These men His Honour claimed, who have withdrawn their labour from the Grand Trunk Railway, appear to have the sympathy of the public with them, and it would be quite proper, if the Grand Jury thought fit, to offer the strikers their sympathy. He also pointed out to the Jury the gentlemanly manner in which the strikers had conducted themselves by not doing anything to jeopardize the lives of the travelling public, or destroy the property of the railway. It apparently remained with the Dominion Parliament to take hold of the matter and effect a settlement satisfactory to all parties concerned.

The Grand Jury was then sworn and retired to make the necessary inspection of county buildings, and prepare its presentment.

The first case on the list is Watley vs. Eaglesea.

CONTRACT LET.

Work Commenced at the New House of Providence

The contracts were let this morning, for the erection of the new House of Providence, and the work of excavating for the foundation has already commenced.

Richard Sheehy has the contract for the excavating, stone and brick work and Mr. C. Rutherford has the contract for the carpenter work.

STONY LAKE MAIL SERVICE.

Arrangements Made by the Postmaster General in This Particular.

The Postmaster General has authorize contracts to be made with the boats for a daily service, between Lakefield and Burleigh Falls.

The mail will leave Lakefield in the morning until such times as the second boat, which is now under construction, is completed, when it may be so arranged that the mail from Lakefield will go up on the afternoon boat, returning on the following morning so as to enable the cottagers to receive their daily papers the same day as they are issued and have the benefits of the outside mail service as well.

A LEAD PIPE.

Which Mr. J. B. McWilliams Picked up in the Superior District.

On his recent trip to the Lake Superior country, Mr. J. B. McWilliams was fortunate enough to pick up a rare curio in the shape of an Indian pipe made from the lead which is plentiful in that region.

The pipe was found by Mr. J. T. Crumley, of Beaverstone, near the mouth of the French river. Mr. McWilliams will present the pipe to the Historical Society.

A UNION RALLY OF ENDEAVORERS.

HELD IN ST. PAULS CHURCH LAST EVENING.

An Interesting Programme Presented—Officers Elected for the Year—Addresses by Various Speakers.

Last night the local societies held a rally in the Sunday school room of St. Paul's church. The room was crowded and the meeting throughout was most enthusiastic. The programme was so arranged that impromptu Christian Endeavour principles and advance movements, together with the history of the organization were fully presented. Mr. T. H. Martin, the retiring president of the Local Union, presided, and the following prominent C. E. workers took part in the programme. "The History of the Movement," by Mr. M. W. Matchett, of Mark street society; "History of the Local Union," by Mr. Anderson, of St. Andrew's society; "Why Sign the Pledge," by Mr. D. Spence, of George street society; "An Ideal C. E. Prayer Meeting," by Mr. Stubbs, of George street society; "The Tenth Legion," by Mr. J. M. Gowen, of St. Paul's society; "The Quiet Hour," by Rev. O. C. Elliott, of Park street society; "How to Arrange a Programme for a C. E. Meeting," by Mr. Williamson, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.; "A Bird's Eye View of the International Convention to be held in Detroit," by A. J. Johnston; At the close of the meeting Mr. Tovey, of Charlotte street society, the president elect of the Union, was presented. He thanked them for the honor they had conferred upon him and asked for a hearty co-operation to make the work a success. A quartette, rendered by Messrs. Crane, Mein, Dawson and R. Shelton, members of St. Paul's choir, was most acceptable.

NOTES.

The Endeavourers seem to have taken on a spurt. The old time C. E. spirit prevailed at this rally.

Mr. Williamson declared that one should come to a C. E. meeting prepared to have their say unassisted by notes. Joke—Mr. W. had a slip something less than a yard long full of notes to give a two minute talk.

Mr. Matchett started the pace with the old time fire that always characterized his talks.

The Presbyterian Hymnal was used and the tunes were changed somewhat. That accounted for slowness at times in the singing.

Mr. Tovey, the president elect, declared that a younger man should fill the position of president. Poor old man.

Mr. Elliott's talk was most timely. The success of the movement depends upon the individual member taking time to be alone with God. The quiet hour does not mean a whole hour, but a fraction of an hour set aside to be alone daily with the Master.

All eyes are on Detroit. Many would like to go after hearing of the many good things that will take place from Mr. Johnston.

The next rally will be held some time in September, when reports of the Detroit convention will be given by delegates.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mr. G. T. Tovey.
Vice-president—Miss B. Mark.
Secretary—Mr. Joseph McGowen.
Treasurer—Mr. J. Reid.

And the presidents of all the societies compose the executive.

TO-MORROW'S EXCURSION.

To the Famous Muskoka Lake Region—Cheap Fares.

A big crowd from town intend accompanying the Hastings Catholic Foresters to the Muskoka Lakes tomorrow. It will, without doubt, be the most pleasant outing of the year. The excursion is from all points along the Midland Division from Belleville through to Bracebridge and Gravenhurst. Tickets from Belleville to Lindsay, inclusive, are good to return until June 17th; from other points they are good until the 16th. The return fare from Peterborough is the small sum of $1.45, and proportionately low rates have been arranged from the other points along the line. Passengers can leave on the regular morning train, starting from Belleville at 5.40 a.m., and leaving Peterborough at 8 o'clock or they can take the special which is made up here and leaves Peterborough at 7.35 a.m.; Best's 7.47; Omemee 8.03; Reaboro 8.10; Lindsay 8.20, etc. The boats will leave on arrival of the trains at Muskoka wharf. Eight hours will be spent on the beautiful Muskoka lakes and the returning trains that evening will leave Muskoka wharf at 7 o'clock.

The Hastings citizens brass band will be in attendance, and as Rev. Father McGuire will personally superintend all arrangements, the day will be a most delightful one.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Two Cases Disposed of this Morning

Benj. Hobson at the police court this morning pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny, and as he had a very bad record outside of Peterborough, being convicted several times on similar charges, he was given six months in the Central.

A citizen was up on a charge of assaulting another resident of the town. It appears that both men met on Aylmer street, citizen No. 1 being on the wrong side of the sidewalk, with the result that he collided with citizen No. 2. Some choice lanlanguage was used by both men and they finally came to blows. Citizen No. 1 had put in a similar charge against Citizen No. 2. The two cases were dismissed, and the men shook hands in court, each agreeing to give the other plenty of room the next time they met.

DRUGGISTS' EARLY CLOSING.

On and after Thursday, June 15th, inst., drug stores will close at 7 p.m. until September 1st.

One store will be found open each evening for the convenience of the medical profession and general public.

Cards will be placed in each store, intimating which place is to be open.

BASEBALL.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Lindsay Baseball Club on Friday, the following officers were elected for the season of 1899: Hon. President, Jas. Graham; President, Jas. Boxall; 1st Vice-Pres., S. G. Parkin; 2nd Vice Pres., Geo. A. Little; Secretary, T. Burke; Treasurer, R. Menzies; manager, R. Hamilton; managing committee, Dr. Shier, George Denniston, G. Richardson, A. Robinson, J. McAdam, Jas. Lennon, P. J. Hurley, J. D. McNight, A. McCrimmon.

The Bowmanville professional team will play in Peterborough on Thursday next and the game will doubtless draw a big crowd. The Peterboroughs have strengthened their team recently by the addition of several strong batters and should give the Bowmanvilles a great argument. Bowmanville beat the Kingstons the other day.

LACROSSE.

The following players will oblige the secretary by calling in at the Examiner office and signing their certificates: John Mein, D. Boyle, O. Dumble, Robert Gilman, Fred McGrath and George Mein.

McClellan is making a study of the work at inside home and is rapidly catching on to the tricks of the position.

The members of both teams are expected to practice every night this week and next, with the exception of Friday evening, when the Juniors play Lindsay, the game beginning at 6.30 p.m.

The Markham team is practicing very hard for its game here on June 23rd and the local men will have to take the best of care of themselves between now and a week from Friday, if they expect to be able to stand the pace which the visitors will set.

It is rumoured that Fred Lynch will return from the west in the course of a week or so.

THE WHEEL.

WEATHER FROGS.

Small Living Barometers Which Are Imported From Germany.

Attached to a glass sided box seen in a bird store window was a placard marked "Weather Frogs." Within the box, perched on two long wooden rods, placed lengthwise of it and nearer the top than the bottom, like the higher perches in a birdcage, were a number of the weather frogs themselves. Some just then were brown, and one was green. They were little tree frogs of a kind found through Europe, those in the window having been imported from Germany.

When full grown, these tiny tree frogs may be little more than an inch in length. They take the color of whatever object they may be resting on—brown for wood, green if on a leaf; placed in a blue glass jar they will become blue. They may be heard but not seen, so closely in color do they resemble whatever they may have perched upon. They are called weather frogs because at the approach of rainy or changeable weather they jump into the water, at the approach of clear weather they come out again.

In captivity the weather frog is kept in a glass jar or globe, which is covered at the top with a wire screen. Water is put in the bottom of the jar, and at a convenient height is placed something for the little frog to jump up on. The weather frog in captivity is fed on flies in summer and in winter on meal worms. Its food must be alive. Weather frogs sell here at retail for 20 cents apiece. Considerable numbers of them are brought to this country.—New York Sun.

A ST. THOMAS CASE.

The Entire Population Talking of the Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures.

St. Thomas, June 12.—The great wave has reached St. Thomas. The cures wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills are numbered by hundreds here, and the entire population, almost, is talking of them.

Michael Holleran, a farmer living near here, told our reporter, "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from an untimely grave." He was cured of Diabetes, of an aggravated type by a few boxes, after his doctors had failed to even relieve him.

So it goes. Everyone who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills has been cured. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Paralysis, all diseases of the kidneys and the blood yield to their power. They never fail to cure these ailments.

Wood Compressed by Water.

"Have you ever seen a bit of wood that you couldn't burn?" said an old sea captain to me the other day.

"Why, lots." I replied, "the brier root, for instance—at least, if it's good—ironwood, too, and one or two others."

"I don't mean those," he said. "But have you ever seen a lot of common deal that fire had no effect on?" He pulled from his pocket a morsel of what looked like white Norwegian deal and handed it to me. I was surprised at the weight. "Put it in the gas flame," he said.

I did so, but beyond a blackening of the surface there was no effect.

"That bit of wood," went on the skipper, "was part of the gunwale of one of my boats. We were whaling in the South seas and harpooned a big right whale off the Cape of Good Hope. The creature sounded, the rope fouled and the boat was carried down. Probably it was taken half a mile or more below the surface. The whale rose again and was killed, and a portion of the boat was recovered from the line which still hung to it. It was the pressure of the water hardened it like that."—Baltimore Herald.

The Beauty that Attracts Men

Is not so much in the features as in a clear, healthy complexion, and a plump body filled with the vigour and vitality of perfect health. Pale, weak, languid women are fully restored to robust health by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, a condensed food which creates rich, pure blood and new nerve tissues.

West Elgin Particulars

Toronto, June 13.—Particulars containing 252 charges were filed yesterday at Osgoode Hall in the West Elgin petition against Donald MacNish and Sheriff Brown. Lawyer T. W. Crothers of St. Thomas filed the particulars. John G. Nunn is petitioner. The trial takes place June 26 at St. Thomas.

A COLD, STONY GAZE.

HOW EMMA JUCH FROZE AN INDISCREET REPORTER.

An Interview In Which the Sympathetic Newspaper Man Got an Invitation to Retire and the Mendacious One Got the Story.

I never heard the critics accuse Emma Juch of lacking sympathy or fire in her art, but there must be scores of interviewers in this country ready to swear that she was reared on lemon ice. Upon occasions Mme. Juch appeared the personification of joyousness, the very goddess of mirth, but these occur usually when guarantees look bona fide and when there happens to be no other lady soloist on the bill.

Unluckily I encountered the famous songstress at a time when she had lost $500 by the rascality, as she expressed it, of a St. Paul manager; also, as it happened, Mlle. Clementine de Vere was on the programme, strong in her possession of a fresh young voice that thrilled audiences in aria or ballad and won applause of the spontaneous sort that critics call ovation. Mme. Juch received the applause, but not the ovation, and, per consequence, was unhappy.

Hearing that the fair warbler had sustained a financial reverse, the editor of the Minneapolis Journal naturally wanted to know all about it for publication, and I happened to be detailed for the interview. Mme. Juch was at the West hotel. I sent up my card, and despite the somewhat unseasonable hour—it was scarcely half past 10 in the morning—received an invitation to visit the prima donna.

Just as I was about to enter the elevator a reporter for another afternoon newspaper stepped up. He was a rather new man, an excellent fellow, but, as it seemed to me, somewhat lacking in finesse.

"I'm going up to see Emma," he said. "Where are you going?"

"Same errand," I replied. "We'd better tackle her one at a time, hadn't we?"

"Lord, no!" he responded. "We'll both go in at once. You do the talking, and I'll take notes."

The plan didn't suit me very well, but there seemed no help for it. As we entered the apartment, Mme. Juch rose from her lounging chair and took a step forward. She was attired in some sort of loose, white morning gown, with a dash of color here and there that made the thing look as if it cost $1,000. My companion gasped and subsided on a horsehair settee near the door.

Mme. Juch appeared majestic, statuesque, magnificent, if you will, but cold—very cold. She bade me be seated in a refrigerated tone and asked to what she was indebted for the honor, etc. Heaven defend me from the notable who opens an interview that way!

A queer noise reached me from the direction of the settee, and I supposed the other fellow was swinging his arms to keep warm, but I dared not look around.

In as few words as possible I explained the object of the call, threw in a few mild remarks indicative of my belief that the St. Paul manager was a soulless scoundrel, who ought to be lynched, and then I waited.

It is entirely unnecessary to recapitulate the interview. Mme. Juch went over the conditions of her contract and described the treatment to which she had been subjected with some little approach to warmth of expression. She really seemed to be thawing when that unregenerate wretch over on the horsehair settee chipped in. The singer's recital of her financial woes had excited his ire against the man who had defrauded her, and he blurted out, referring to the recreant manager:

"He's a big stiff; that's what he is—a big stiff!"

I shall never forget the expression of acute nausea that enshrouded the usually immobile countenance of the great artiste as she turned, with a cold, stony gaze—a gaze that would freeze liquid air—in the direction of the voice and carefully focussed the other man with her lorgnette. I saw the other man shrink fearfully. He looked just about a tight fit for a bantam's egg when the lorgnette landed.

"Good gracious!" said Mme. Juch in a pained way. "Do you—er—know that person?"

"Never saw him before in my life," I replied. It was a mean thing to do, but the paper wanted an interview, and I hadn't half finished.

"Would you—er—mind leaving the room," said lovely Emma, addressing the other fellow. "Perhaps a detective sort of a person, don't you think?" she added as the other fellow escaped.

I indorsed the opinion and went on with the interview, which lasted another 15 minutes. Then I bowed myself out and hunted the other man, intending to placate him, but he wouldn't speak to me and hasn't since. That chap doesn't appreciate the exigencies of the profession.—Minneapolis Journal.

A Loud Interruption.

"I declare, Maria, this is too irritating to be endured! I told you I didn't want to be disturbed, and here somebody has suddenly sprung a most infernal clatter on me. What does it mean?"

"There wasn't any clatter, my dear."

"What was it, then?"

"Why, I just happened to pass through the room in my new red and yellow shirt waist; that's all."

"Well, don't do it again."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

The Dread of Death.

A man bound hand and foot upon a railway track can see the approaching danger with his open eyes and realize how actual and terrible it is; but when a man's faculties are bound about by cords of disease he feels only by a sort of natural instinct the danger that is coming upon him although he cannot actually see it.

That awful sense of dread, the feeling that death is near at hand is described by a South Carolina gentleman, Thos. G. Lever, Esq., of Lever, Richmond Co., with a truth that everyone who has ever experienced it will immediately recognize:

"I had what the doctors called nervous indigestion," he says: "I took medicine from my family physician for it, but of no avail. In looking over one of the Memorandum Books issued by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., I found a case like mine described exactly. I wrote to Dr. Pierce and made a statement. He sent me a descriptive list of questions, also hygienic rules.

"I carried these out as best I could, but I thought it almost impossible, as I suffered so much with pain under my ribs and an empty feeling in my stomach. At night I would have cold or hot feet and hands alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal with uneasiness as to my condition, thinking that death would soon claim me; always expecting something unusual to take place and having a great dread on my mind. I was also irritable and impatient, and was greatly reduced in flesh.

"I could eat scarcely anything that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, owing to my prejudice against patent medicines, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each I found I was improving. I have to be careful yet at times as to what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any who suffer with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules they would soon be greatly benefited, and with little perseverance would be entirely cured."

It is a very simple matter to write to Dr. Pierce. No charge whatever is made for advice; which will be sent you (in a plain sealed envelope) promptly by mail.

CHAIRMAN SIR W. C. VAN HORNE.

President Shaughnessy of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company — These Changes Now to Be Carried Out.

Toronto, June 12.—There will be great doings done in Montreal to-day, when the regular monthly meeting of the C.P.R. directorate takes place, and where a full attendance of the board has been called. When the board meets to-day one of the most eventful railway changes that has ever taken place in Canada will take place. Sir William will lay down the president's mantle and Mr. Shaughnessy will be unanimously placed at the head of Canada's great trans-continental highway. Sir William Van Horne will maintain his connection with the executive as chairman of the board, a position which will also be created to-day, and which will be similar to the office held by the well-known chairman of the Vanderbilt lines in the United States, Senator Chauncey Depew.

Came to Canada in 1882.

In 1882 Mr. Shaughnessy was appointed to the position of general purchasing agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway. He revised the contracts, as well as the system of buying, and during his first years with the company saved it millions of money. It is also said that he saved the company immense sums on construction contracts. Two years later, in January, 1884, he was appointed assistant to the general manager. In 1889 he was appointed assistant president. In June, 1891, Mr. Shaughnessy was elected a director and promoted to the position of vice-president, which position he held until to-day.

A WRONG IDEA OF... DYSPEPSIA

Throws all the Blame on the Stomach—The Real Seat of Trouble is the Intestines—The Permanent Cure is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is an old idea long since exploded that digestion is confined to the stomach. No modern scientist denies that by far the greater part of digestion and the more difficult part takes place in the intestines. This explains why dyspepsia is never really cured by preparations which merely aid stomach digestion and act only on the stomach.

This fact also explains why Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have been so remarkably successful as a cure for the worst forms of dyspepsia and indigestion.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and give new tone and vigor to the intestines, and make them able to perform their work of digesting the substances on which the stomach has no effect.

Stomach treatment may do well enough for slight indigestion, but if you have chronic indigestion or dyspepsia of a serious nature you can profit by the experience of scores of thousands who have been permanently cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PRESIDENT LOUBET'S REVENGE.

He Receives a Tremendous Demonstration on Sunday.

Paris, June 12.—President Loubet has had his revenge for Sunday's (4th) outrage at Auteuil. When he drove to Long Champs yesterday to attend the Grand Prix he was the hero of a great popular demonstration, expressing itself in one form or another along the whole route from the Elysee Palace to the race course. He remained only a quarter of an hour, just long enough to witness the race, and, having congratulated the owner of the winner, returned to the palace, where he arrived without special incident.

The revisionists and Socialist organs summoned their readers to assemble along the thoroughfares to be traversed by the President and his party, and from the hour of noon thousands of demonstrators set out from Montmartre, Belleville and other working-class quarters, in big organized bands, all wearing a small artificial red flower in the buttonhole, and marched across Paris, taking up positions along the Avenue des Champs-Elysee and the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne.

They gave M. Loubet a tremendous ovation, confining their cries almost entirely to "Vive Loubet" and "Vive la Republique." The President did not hear a discordant cry, although there were one or two scuffles before and after he passed between the police and an occasional hot-headed anti-Dreyfusard, who tried to shout "A bas Loubet," and was immediately pounced upon by a swarm of policemen.

Enquiry at the prefecture of police at a late hour elicited the information that about 80 arrests were made during the day, and ten policemen were more or less seriously injured.

A Good Test.

If you have backache and there are brick dust deposits found in the urine after it stands for 24 hours you can be sure the kidneys are deranged. To effect a positive and prominent cure and prevent Bright's disease, suffering and death, use Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the world's greatest kidney cure.

The Correct Answer.

In a recent civil service examination one of the questions asked was:

"What apparatus is required in a well equipped electric lighting plant of 500 16 candle power lamps capacity?"

"None," was the answer of the candidate who won the examination.—Electrical Review.

Screamed ... WITH.. Agony

From the Terrible Itching, Burning Tortures of ...

Eozema on the Scalp

Some of the cures effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment are more like miracles than anything else. The case recorded here was one of the worst ever brought to the attention of Toronto's best physicians, and when doctors gave up all hope of recovery Dr. Chase's Ointment was successful in producing a perfect cure.

Mr. James Scott, 136 Wright Ave., Toronto, states: "My boy Tom, aged ten, was for nearly three years afflicted with a bad form of Eczema of the scalp, which was very unsightly and resisted all kinds of remedies and doctor's treatment. His head was in a terrible state. We had to keep him from school, and at times his head would bleed, and the child would scream with agony. For two and a half years we battled with it in vain, but at last found a cure in Dr. Chase's Ointment. About five boxes were used. The original sores dried up, leaving the skin in its normal condition. To say it is a pleasure to testify to the wonderful merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment is putting it very mildly."

THE WRITERS.

Ouida recently refused to give facts for a biography of her, saying: "My works are there for all to read. With me individually they have nothing to do."

"One man does not make a newspaper," nor, for that, does one man make a magazine. But when James Payn wrote "Lost Sir Massingberd" for Chambers' Journal that magazine went up 20,000 copies every week.

Count Tolstoi, when he has a great work in hand, writes nearly all day and sometimes far into the night. Even in the summer, during the children's holidays, he rarely leaves his desk to spend a few moments with them.

W. E. Henley, one of the most conspicuous journalists in London and also a poet of no mean quality, has been honored by Mr. Balfour with a pension of $1,000 a year. A like sum was allotted to Tennyson in 1845, and the late laureate lived to draw it 47 times.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Keeping the orchard trimmed adds much to the beauty of the farm.

Well rotted manure from the woodpile makes one of the best top dressings for radishes.

For strawberries select land that has been in cultivation two or three years. Plow deep and harrow well.

Old tin cans with the tops and bottoms taken off are good to set over plants as a protection against cutworms.

On every warm, sunshiny day the hotbed sashes should be opened so as to admit plenty of pure air to the plants.

When set out, if the trees are leaned considerably to the southwest, they will be straight by the time they come into bearing.

Plants that have been growing in pots during the winter may be set in the open ground as soon as the danger of frost is fully past.—Exchange.

SOME SMART ROGUES.

CLEVER SCHEMES BY WHICH JEWELERS HAVE BEEN DUPED.

One Swindler Who Could Make Genuine Sapphires and Another Who Could Produce Gold From Copper and Silver—A Prince's Present.

Some time ago a quietly dressed man entered the shop of a famous Parisian diamond merchant and requested to see the proprietor. On his wish being granted, he drew from his pocket a little packet of blue gems and spread them before the jeweler, asking for a candid opinion upon their merits.

"Sapphires!" exclaimed the jeweler. "Very fine ones. Do you wish to sell them?"

"Do you wish to buy them and as many others as I can make?" returned the visitor quietly.

"Make! I don't follow you!"

"I made those sapphires, but I defy you to discover a flaw in them," explained the visitor, with some show of pride, and he went on to state he had discovered a method of making, not sham gems, but real ones.

The jeweler was incredulous; the gems before him were unquestionably genuine.

"Well, I'll let you have that lot for 50 francs," replied the inventor, "and I can make you any number you like at 5 francs each, and you must know that they are worth from 40 to 60 francs each. The fact is, I want you to enter into partnership with me for the manufacture and sale of these gems. I'll manufacture, and you can sell, and in this way we can work in secret and scoop the market."

The bated breath of the dealer in precious stones was fairly taken out of his body by this noble offer, and he, having bought the sapphires at the price asked, said he would think the matter over and give his decision if the inventor would call next day, and the inventor departed.

No sooner had he gone than the dealer rushed to his testing room and put his newly acquired sapphires to every possible test. What could it mean? They were undoubtedly real! How could he suspect a fraud when the seller had parted with them for less than a tenth part of their rough value? No, his fortune was made.

A few days later he visited the laboratory of his scientific visitor and had some genuine sapphires manufactured while he waited. That clinched the matter. Thirty hours after he signed a deed of partnership with the scientist, paid over the sum of £8,000 in hard cash as first installment of the £50,000 which was the price of half the secret.

Next morning the scientist left his abode with £8,000 on his person, smiling grimly as he looked for the last time round his ostentatious laboratory, chuckling at the thought of how he had set a sprat to catch a whale—that is, 500 francs' worth of genuine sapphires for 8,000 genuine sovereigns!

The idea of manufacturing genuine precious stones and metals at a cost which admits of a profit being made is a notion offering such boundless fortunes to any one who could invent the process that even the most wary business men have been defrauded by persons who have claimed ability to work the wonder. Probably the majority of such fraudulent schemes have been in connection with either the making of gold from some other mineral or minerals or of extracting gold in paying quantities from sources where it exists in the most minute quantities—for example, the oceans. But one of the most audacious and at the same time successful of such swindles was perpetrated in Austria a few years since.

A self styled scientist stated that he had discovered a process by which an admixture of silver and copper could be turned into two-thirds its weight of the purest gold that could be discovered, and as the process was remarkably inexpensive and the admixture was 2¼ of copper with 1¼ of silver the scheme smacked of fortunes parallel only to national debts. This marvelous scheme was put before some of the wealthiest dealers in precious stones and metals, who were previously bound under a penalty not to disclose any of the secrets of the process.

Demonstrations of certain portions of the process were made privately before each of the gentlemen who had been generously invited to become rich by the scheme, and so cleverly were these demonstrations made that the pseudo scientist had but little difficulty in persuading eight men of wealth to form a secret and select syndicate to work his process. With a view to improving his inventions, the scientist occupied in making further experiments all the time which was necessary for him to get in his victims' investments, and then he proved how money making his scheme was by eloping with nearly £10,000.

A well dressed gentleman walked into a Vienna jewelry establishment on one occasion and requested the manager to send an assortment of diamond necklaces and bracelets to Count Something or other at one of the best hotels in the town during the course of the day. The manager, who easily recognized in his customer the personality of one of the first princes in Germany, replied, with an urbanity which might have melted the selfsame diamonds, that the esteemed order should be complied with. He not unnaturally concluded that the prince was traveling incognito, for there could be no question as to who Count Something or other really was.

The jewels were taken to the count's hotel later in the day by the manager himself, who could not do honor enough to the royal customer. During the examination of the jewels the manager let out that he detected the count's identity, whereupon the latter professed intense annoyance and begged the manager to be discreet, as he particularly desired his presence in Vienna to be absolutely secret. He had come unattended with that express intention. Finally, after much indecision, he selected 20,000 francs' worth of jewelry, which he directed should be sent round to the flat of a then famous singer, bearing no indication of whence it emanated beyond being tied up in a particular way. He would be leaving Vienna that evening and on reaching Berlin would forward full remittance.

In dealing with royal personages it is gross impertinence to think of the payment, so the case of jewels was sent as directed, and it was taken in and signed for by one of the servants of the flat, who the same evening eloped with the prince and sought other climates.

The prince, whose personality the jeweler had so smartly detected, was a super at the theater where nightly sang the singer who did not get the diamonds. The maid who did get them was engaged to the princely super, and, as has been seen, she acted up to her engagement and likewise brought her husband a very handsome dot. —London Tit-Bits

Irish Pronunciation.

An amusing example of the Irishman's pronunciation occurs in a story told of the late Dr. Todd, the Irish archæologist, who, although a great scholar, was not above perpetrating a practical joke. The London Spectator tells the story and says:

A very learned Englishman went to Dublin to examine some manuscripts in the library of Trinity college and was of course introduced to Dr. Todd, who one day in conversation told him that there was in Trinity college a curious instance of the survival of a habit dating from the time of the Danes; that at a certain hour of the afternoon—I think 6 o'clock—a porter went the round of the college ringing a bell and calling out in a loud voice, "The Dane's in the hall," when all the students rushed from their rooms to repel the invaders. So the learned but somewhat incredulous Englishman repaired to the college at 6 o'clock, and, sure enough, what Dr. Todd had told him came to pass, which he gravely related on his return to England. The summons of course referred to the dean.

His Feelings Were Hurt.

"I used to think these mother-in-law jokes were fiction," said a young man with a fancy vest and a receding chin, "but I guess they're justifiable."

"Has yours been cruel to you?"

"Yes. I told two or three of these stories about a man's being glad to be rid of his wife's mother, and she said that if I kept on talking in that manner she'd stop paying the house rent and the coal bill and the taxes, and that she'd take her furniture to fix up a home of her own. The idea of threatening a man in that way, in cold blood!" —Washington Star.

Self Confession.

She had been arrested for shoplifting.

"Do you wish to make any statement before sentence is passed upon you?" asked the judge.

"I have nothing to say," was the response.

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION.

In Connection With the Young Men's Christian Association.

At the men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A., on Sunday afternoon, Mr. G. H. Williamson, the General Secretary, gave a brief report of the thirty-third International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of America, recently held in Grand Rapids, Michigan, to which he was a delegate.

Over 750 delegates were in attendance from all parts of the continent, including 30 from Canada, besides visitors from Japan, Hawaii, Norway, and Cape Colony, South Africa.

A large percentage of those in attendance were business men connected with the large industrial concerns of the continent.

Mr. Williamson described the educational exhibit, which presented by means of printed matter and photographs the many features of the work—including the following departments, Physical, Evening Classes, Bible Study and Army and Navy.

The exhibit room was 100 x 260 feet. The partitions which held the exhibits were in length a total of 1000 feet. There were 50,000 sheets of drawings and exercises exhibited.

The Army and Navy Work was presented on the first evening of the convention at a large gathering addressed by Admirals Wadams, Phillips and Higginson, all of whom were connected with the recent war between Spain and the United States. The Y. M. C. A. did great service on the field and at the army headquarters in connection with the war.

"Forces Which Destroy Young Men," was the subject of one of the sessions. Addresses were given by Anthony Comstock, Secretary of the Society for Prevention of Vice, on "Impunity," and Dr. Buckley of New York, spoke on "Patriotism."

J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., spoke on "What Manner of Men Ought we to Be?"

An address on the subject—"Does the All-Round Work of the Association Increase its Religious Efficiency?" was given by Rev. Chas. Erdman, of Philadelphia.

The value of the Gymnasium and other so-called secular agencies were shown to be a source of strength to the religious work under normal conditions.

The work of the International Committee, which was presented at one of the evening sessions, showed the scope and power of Association work—reaching out after all classes, providing special work for coloured young men, Germans, railroad men, college students, and work in foreign lands.

The Convention furnished an object lesson on "Giving." "Christian Stewardship" was a subject ably conducted at one of the closing sessions. Christians who had money should systematically set aside a portion of it to Christian work. Every man should be his own administrator, and give while he lived.

At the closing session, Mr. John R. Mott, Secretary World's Student Volunteer Movement, gave an address on the 200,000,000 young men in foreign lands—following which $8,400 was raised among the delegates to support seven new foreign secretaries. The new men will leave immediately for Japan, India and China.

By a vote of the convention the next gathering will be in Boston in 1901. This will partake of the nature of a Jubilee, as it will be the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the work in America. In connection with this a million dollar endowment fund for the International work will then be set in motion.

AN OVERWHELMING SUCCESS.

Marvelous Triumph of the Forepaugh-Sells Show in New York.

Most welcome indeed is the information that this town is soon to be visited by the greatest circus consolidation this country has ever known. For years the only circuses that exhibited in New York City were the Barnum and Bailey and the Adam Forepaugh shows. For the past ten years they have both been owned and operated by that Napoleon of the arenic world, James A. Bailey. Mr. Bailey also directs the tours of Buffalo Bill's Wild West. Desiring to have the entire control of the tented show business of the country, he set about to form an alliance with his only rivals, the famous Sells Bros. This was finally accomplished by the consolidation of their great show with the Forepaugh establishment. One of the principal objects of this move was to have a show that could successfully follow the Barnum and Bailey exhibition as the only circus that the metropolis would patronize, as New York will have only the very best of everything. When they get what they want they will always pay for it; and while upon that subject it may be well to call attention to the fact that a large proportion of the seats for identically the same performance that will be seen here commanded $2 each during the engagement of the Forepaugh-Sells Consolidation when it opened at Madison Square Garden this spring. The date scheduled for the appearance of the Forepaugh-Sells Federation in Peterborough is Saturday, June 24th.

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

An Agreement Reached in McNaughton vs. Larmer Cox vs. Clarkeson Settled.

At the Non-Jury Sittings of the High Court of Justice yesterday, the case of McNaughton et al vs. Larmer was continued until 4 o'clock, when a settlement with consent of the court was made. The plaintiffs sought to set aside the will of the late Thomas Hutchinson of Millbrook, made in 1897, in which the testator bequeathed his farm to William Larmer, the defendant, who at that time was working for Hutchinson. The bequest was made, however, subject to the payment of one thousand dollars to the children of Margaret McNaughton, sister of the deceased. It appeared that the deceased Hutchinson had in 1895 made another will, leaving the farm, which is situated partially within the village of Millbrook, to the McNaughton children, subject to a few small legacies, and the plaintiff undertook to set aside the will of 1897 on the ground of undue influence on the part of the defendant, and have the estate in question disposed off according to the terms of the first will.

About twenty some odd witnesses had been subpoenaed, and the case gave every indication of being a lengthy one. After five or six witnesses for the prosecution had been heard, an arrangement was arrived at between counsel for plaintiffs and the defendant, and agreed to by the Court. It was in effect that the defendant Larmer shall retain possession of the goods and chattels given to him by the late Thomas Hutchinson, that the farm be sold by public auction on or before October 1st, and after paying all legal expenses in connection with the recent trial, and refunding to the defendant the amount of any debts he may have paid for the deceased, the remainder of the estate will be disposed of as near as possible according to the will of the late Thos. Hutchinson, as made in the year 1895.

E. B. Osler, Q. C., S. S. Smith and F. H. Holland, for Plaintiffs, and Wallace Nesbitt, Q. C., and A. A. Smith, Millbrook, for defendant.

Cox vs. Clarkson was settled out of court.

There being no other cases on the list, the court adjourned.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Mrs Crouthers has an Experience on Jacobs Island.

The storm of last week was felt in Harvey with some severity, and in one case the experience was very nearly of a fatal character. Mrs. Crouthers, at Jacob's Island, was washing the dishes after tea, when a bolt entered the gable end of the house, tearing out, and wrecking a large portion of the end and the roof. Passing through the upper room, it took two of the legs off the bedstead upset things generally, and then passed down the stove pipe into the room below, where Mrs. Crouthers stood. The electric fluid struck the lady on the shoulder, and passed down the side into her foot, tearing her clothes and leaving a burnt mark in its track. She was knocked unconscious and fell on the stove, but it was not very hot. A boy was in the same room and was also slightly stunned. Mr. Crouthers was in the front room, and was only slightly affected, and a child on the bed slept through it all calmly and undisturbed. Mr. Crouthers rushed to his wife at once and took means to revive her, and then went to a neighbour who paddled to Bobcaygeon for medial assistance. Mrs. Crouthers suffered severely with the burn and at first her hearing was slightly affected, but she is now recovering nicely. It might not be amiss to mention that in case of burns, oil is a good thing to cover with, and if there is nothing else, sweet cream gives relief. The object is to exclude air. Cover with oil and an old rag. It is a remarkable fact that portions of the knife blades that were in the dish before Mrs. Crouthers, were melted and disappeared, while indentions are made in the iron handles as if a red hot bar had been placed on them, and had melted the piece out. It was a marvellous escape from from an instant death.

CHURCH NOTES.

CHARLOTTE ST. METHODIST.

The music in the Charlotte street Methodist church on Sunday last was of a special nature and both morning and evening the edifice was crowded.

In the morning the anthem, "Seek ye the Lord" was rendered, the solo being taken in excellent style by Miss Hendren and the obligato solo by Mr. A. L. Davis. In the offertory the solo was very pleasingly taken by Miss Hendren.

In the evening, the anthem was "Lead Kindly Light" by Schnecker, Miss F. Hall taking the solo. A duet which was very creditably rendered was "Forever with the Lord." (Gounod) by Miss Hendron and Mr. Davis.

Dudley Buck's beautiful anthem, "Rock of Ages" was rendered by the choir, the solo being taken by A. L. Davis. During the offertory a quartette, "The Home Land" was given by Misses Hendron and Stephens, and Messrs. Squires and Skitch.

GEORGE ST. METHODIST.

The musical services in the George street church Sunday were especially interesting in character. The choir was assisted by the Rines Bros., evangelists, who have lately come to town. Their voices are very musical and blend in perfect harmony. The duet, "Blessed Jesus, Thou art Mine" was rendered with guitar accompaniment by them and was greatly enjoyed.

A trio is "Gospel Song" was rendered during the offertory by the evangelists, Rines Bros., and Mr. Walden. The voices blended in perfect in per. The voices blended in perfect harmony and the effect was delightful.

At the evening service in the George street church Sunday, the choir rendered the anthem, "Messiah is King" with good effect. The duet passage was excellently taken by Misses Annie and Clara Belleghem.

A "Gospel Song" entitled "Trusting in the Promise of the Saviour" was rendered during the offertory in the George street church by Mr. Walden in a manner which was fully appreciated.

COOL SUITS FOR MEN...

We are showing many distinctly novel things in light-weights and light colours, in cool summer suitings. They make up in gentlemanly styles and are worn with great comfort.

The clothes we make always lay close to the collar, with lapels of new design, foreign from ready clothing. We avoid the two extremes—the very high and very cheap. In fact, it's clothes to suit or money back dealing with us.

A DAY'S FIERCE FIGHT

Americans and Filipinos Clinch With Doubtful Result.

30, MAY BE 60, AMERICANS DEAD

The Insurgents Made a Gallant and Desperate Stand — The Situation Thought to Be Grave—More Troops Ordered to Manila—Gen. Luna Assassinated by Aguinaldo's Orders.

Buffalo, June 14.—A special despatch from Washington to The Evening Times says: "A great deal of mystery is maintained at the War Department concerning the real situation of affairs at Manila. The fact that immediately after the receipt of a cablegram from Gen. Otis yesterday morning the Department ordered two battalions each of the 24th and 25th colored troops, now stationed at the Presidio, and at Fort Logan, to proceed at once to the Philippines, indicates that the situation is regarded as somewhat serious.

"It is generally understood in War Department circles that the 5th Infantry now in Cuba, and possibly the 15th, also on that island, will be forwarded to Manila immediately, and the chances are that the 10th will proceed to reinforce Gen. Otis."

A FIERCE FIGHT.

The American Navy at the Philippines Silences the Rebel Gun at Cavite Viejo.

Manila, June 14.—At daylight yesterday the rebels at Cavite Viejo dropped two shells from a big, smooth-bore gun, mounted in front of the church, into the navy yard. The only damage done was splintering the top of the huge shears on the mole. The gunboats Callao, Manila and Mosquito then proceeded to dismount the gun.

After breakfast the rebels opened fire along the beach to Bakoor.

After silencing the big gun at Cavite Viejo, the gunboats ran close along the shore, bombarding the rebel position. The rebels replied with rifle fire and with the fire of some small pieces of artillery. So vigorous was the enemy's fire that at 9.20 a.m. the gunboat Helena joined the small gunboats mentioned, and the Princeton, Monterey and Monadnock, from their anchorages, dropped occasional big shells among the rebels. This apparently only served to incite the rebels, as they kept up an incessant fire of musketry and artillery near the mouth of the Zapote (not Seapote) River, two miles north of Bakoor. The fire of all seven warships was concentrated on this port shortly after noon, when the upper bay presented the appearance of being the scene of a great naval battle. The rebels were eventually forced to abandon their guns, after holding out for about four hours, only to be confronted by General Lawton's force on land and in their rear.

Gen. Lawton's Hot Fight.

The fighting at Las Pinas continued hotly all day long. General Lawton called out the whole force of 3,000 men, and at 5 o'clock he was only able to push the insurgents back 500 yards to the Zapote River, where they are entrenched. The insurgents resisted desperately and aggressively. They attempted to turn the left flank of the American troops. The American loss is conservatively estimated at 60. The battle continues.

Gen. Otis' Account.

Washington, June 14.—The following cablegram has been received from Otis: Manila, June 13. — Adjutant-General, Washington: Lawton's troops had severe engagement to-day with enemy in entrenchments at crossing Zapote River near Bakoor, Cavite Province; has driven enemy, with heavy loss; our casualties some 30. Insurgents in this southern section not molested until threatened attack in strong force on Manila; now scattered and in retreat; doubtful if they make further stand. (Signed) Otis."

Gen. Luna Assassinated.

Manila, June 14.—Information, believed to be reliable, has reached here of the assassination of General Luna and his aide-de-camp, Lieut. Pasco Ramon, on June 8, by Aguinaldo's guard at the headquarters of Aguinaldo. Luna and Ramon, it appears, went to the Filipino headquarters to confer with Aguinaldo, got into an altercation with the captain of the guards, and one of them drew a revolver. The guards then killed Luna and Ramon with their bayonets.

General Luna had just previous to his assassination been promoted to the rank of Major-General by Aguinaldo. It is said Luna had become so importunate in his demands on Aguinaldo for power and increased authority that the Filipino leader decided that Luna's death was necessary for his personal safety and the Filipino cause. The Major-General's commission was merely a bait to throw Luna off his guard, and render his assassination a comparatively easy matter.

THE G.T.R. STRIKE.

Grand Trunk Trackmen Still Holding Out —A Trackman Makes Grave Charges —Executive Goes to Ottawa.

Ottawa, June 14.—The projected conference between Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., and the executive committee of the Grand Trunk trackmen did not take place last evening, as had been arranged. Messrs. Lowe, secretary of the Trackmen's Association, and Harris, the organizer, were unable to reach Ottawa last evening, and the other members of the executive asked that the meeting be postponed until to-day at 11 o'clock, by which time the two gentlemen in question will be in the capital.

The Situation at Toronto.

Toronto, June 14.—Yesterday brought no change in the local situation of the Grand Trunk Railway trackmen's strike. The men say they are all out and intend to remain out until the company agrees on a settlement. The officials had not heard of any new developments and it was one of the quietest days since the strike commenced.

A letter was received yesterday from a point on the main line of the G.T.R. west of Toronto, written by a trackman, who makes grave charges against the company. The letter is as follows: "You know, I suppose, that the Government officials are going over the road to-day. Well, I will tell you what they are doing. They have got Foreman Scarth and two or three men working between Acton and Rockwood. Some of the men are from Breslau and Morrisburg, and another gang working up from Georgetown. You see, their idea is to pick these gangs up, as soon as the officials pass them, on the first train, and put them off the first place they get ahead of the Government official's car, so as to make out, you understand, that he will say quite a few more men are on than those reported by the strikers. Report to committee, for it is just as I say. Yours truly, one of your best friends. Section Man."

Mead Sent for Trial.

Gananoque, June 14.—Yesterday morning a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Heaslip was given to William Mead, who was charged with being the leader of the riot at the Thousand Island Junction on Friday night. Magistrate Heaslip committed Mead for trial at Brockville at the next Assizes.

SHOOTING AT BUFFALO.

Freight Handlers Open Fire on Iron Ore Handlers With Fatal Effect.

Buffalo, June 14.—A gang of between 30 and 40 men, stevedores and freight handlers, last night about 7.30 o'clock climbed aboard the whaleback Samuel Mather, which was lying at the Minnesota iron ore docks, and opened fire on a gang of about 50 iron ore handlers, who were working in the hold of the vessel. Between 150 and 200 shots were fired. John Mayleck, 30 years old, was shot in the back and is not expected to recover; Joseph Marcek was shot in the shoulder, and Mike Smith received a bullet in the right shoulder. The injuries of the two latter men are not serious. Sixteen of the attacking party were arrested. The trouble was caused by the ore handlers referring to the freight handlers as "scabs."

The strike on the docks has extended to the coal heavers at the Delaware & Lackawanna chutes. One hundred of these men quit work yesterday. The housemen employed by the Anchor Line also quit work.

TORN BY A TORNADO.

New Richmond, Wis., Destroyed by Storm and Fire.

THE KILLED PLACED AT 175.

Three Hundred of the Town's Store Buildings Out of a Total of 500 Wrecked—Search for the Dead Conducted With Frantic Energy —54 Bodies Already Found.

New Richmond, Wis., June 14.—One hundred and seventy-five killed and 400 wounded in Monday night's tornado, is the estimate of casualties received at 11 o'clock yesterday by General Manager Scott of the Omaha road. The storm struck the Omaha at Boardman and followed the track to New Richmond It hissed through New Richmond from south to north and levelled the center of the city. People were penned in and scores buried alive. On the street from the depot, starting with Henry Beal & Company's store through to the Hotel Nicolet, on both sides of the street, every building is gone and only the most incomplete information as to the killed and wounded was obtainable in the morning.

Very Sad Are the Scenes.

Indescribably sad are the scenes of desolation wrought by Monday night's tornado, that has practically swept out of existence the prosperous little city of New Richmond. Out of 500 houses and store buildings, comprising the town, fully 300 were wrecked by the storm or destroyed by fire. Almost every family has one or more members among the dead, injured or missing, and little groups are seen everywhere searching, by the light of lanterns or torches, for loved ones who may be buried in the piles of debris on every hand.

Fifty-Four Bodies Found.

With frantic energy the search has been conducted all day, and up to 9 o'clock last night 54 bodies had been found, although the number of dead certainly will reach 100 or more. These have for the most part been taken to the Catholic and Congregational Churches, which, although in the very edge of the storm's path, miraculously escaped its fury. In these temporary morgues the sights are such as to touch the hardest heart, as the grief-stricken living recognize in bodies, horribly mangled and often dismembered, the remains of missing dear ones. The wounded found temporary asylums in the uninjured dwellings on either side of the path of the storm, where doctors and nurses from nearby cities and towns are doing heroic work without sleep or rest. As many as possible of the injured, whose chances for recovery are considered good, are being sent to St. Paul and Minneapolis, where they will have better care.

ANOTHER HORROR.

Twelve Dead Bodies Counted in a Herman Street.

Omaha, Neb., June 14.—A tornado struck the town of Herman, Washington County, last night and wrought fearful destruction. A conductor on an evening train from Sioux City, Iowa, says not a building is left standing in the town and that he counted 12 dead bodies in the streets. The fatalities will probably number 50 or more. The entire eastern portion of Nebraska was being swept by a terrific rain, wind and electric storm last night. The streets of Omaha were flooded and the play of lightning was fearful.

The Duke of Orleans in Turin.

Turin, June 14.—The Duke and Duchess of Orleans are at the Hotel de l'Europe here, and will remain in this city for some days.

More Galicians for Canada.

London, June 14.—The steamship Brazilian left Hamburg yesterday with 800 Galicians on route for Canada.

TRANSFIXED WITH PAIN.

How aptly that sacred type of womanhood the gentle Virgin Mary is depicted in religious art as the Mother of Sorrows transfixed with seven swords. Sometimes when we stop to consider the sorrows and sufferings which are continually borne by so many thousands of our American women, it seems as if the gentler sex had been particularly chosen to endure the most poignant miseries of human kind.

Countless suffering women throughout this land will feel an eager sympathetic heart-throb in reading the frank and earnest letter of Mrs. Josie R. Clark, of Enterprise, Mo., addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y.

"Your kindness to me I can never forget," she says. "I cannot express half my feelings of gratefulness to you. I had despaired of ever getting well, I had been in bad health for twelve years. Had aches all through me, numb hands, cold feet, everything I ate distressed me; my bowels were constipated. I was very nervous, depressed and despondent. When I first wrote you I thought I could never be cured. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and my health is now good. You have my honest recommendation to all sufferers. I think there is no medicine in the world as good as Dr. Pierce's."

This matchless "Discovery" contains no alcohol like many of the "sarsaparillas" and tonics which are so freely sold. It induces no morbid craving for false stimulants; but gives true and lasting strength. Every woman should possess a copy of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page Common Sense Medical Adviser. A free paper-bound copy will be sent for 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only; or a cloth-bound copy for 50 stamps.

If suffering from any lingering obstinate disease write to Dr. Pierce and get his advice. It will cost you absolutely nothing. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

JUG-HANDLED.

Our evening contemporary, the Review, makes an attempt to cover the political corruption of its party by magnifying the allegations against the the Liberals. It ridicules Mr. Dryden's letter, in which he asked his friends to assist in "putting down the tide of political corruption, which," he says, "seems to be setting in in the country." This position would not be so bad if the Review did not inferentially claim political purity for its own party by completely ignoring the rampant corruption that pervades the ranks, and characterises the methods of its own party. Our contemporary asks if Mr. Dryden can cite any case where Ontario Conservatives were ever guilty of such election frauds. We have only to go to South Ontario, and the election trial that unseated Mr. Calder. The bribery proven in this case was undoubted and of the wholesale variety. It took only two days of the trial to prove twelve charges, and no doubt investigation beyond the point deemed by the judges sufficient to unseat Mr. Calder, would have revealed corruption of a most unblushing kind. We did not hear Mr. Calder deplore the corruption that unseated him, and call upon his friends to put down corruption in future contests. We had the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Whitney, assailing the Liberals, and accusing them of corruption, but uttering no word of condemnation, but inferentially proclaiming the purity of his party by his violent assaults upon his opponents. When Dr. Lackner was a candidate in North Waterloo, the Mail and Empire made a martyr of him, and asked that he be elected on grounds that should have rather condemned him—because he had been unseated—for corruption practised by Conservatives. It is the apex of hypocrisy for the Review, and the other Conservative organs, to denounce in vaguely general terms the alleged corruption of Liberal party workers, while they practically condone the deeply stained guilt of their own party, and make martyrs of those Conservative members elect whom the courts have unseated for corrupt acts. We heard no word of condemnation from any Conservative newspaper of the wholesale bribery that took place in the General Dominion Election [illegible] under the eye of a member of the Conservative Government. [illegible] was Minister of Railways and Canals when a Government railway, the Intercolonial, was [illegible] engine of the grossest corruption. A deliberate scheme was [illegible] which Liberal employees of the Government railway—the people's railway—were sent to distant points, so that they could not vote, and passes, representing the value of tens of thousands of dollars, issued to employees who would vote Conservative. Yet we heard no denunciation of an act of bribery and of corruption by which the property of the people was used to stifle the voice and defeat the will of the people. Hypocrisy could not go further than the pharisaic claim of purity practically put forth by Conservative leaders and journals. Hon. Mr. Dryden takes the bold, manly stand of publicly recognizing the existence of corrupt practices on the part of subordinate and over-zealous party workers and of calling upon the local party leaders to set their faces against it. By way of contrast to this manly attitude, Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition, is guilty of the arrant hypocrisy of condemning the means by which Mr. Calder lost votes in South Ontario, and tacitly approving, instead of condemning, the corrupt means by which he gained votes; in a word, as the Globe puts it, the "Whitney doctrine is that a Conservative unseated for bribery is the victim of a conspiracy, and that a Liberal unseated for bribery is a public criminal." Before the Review can afford to laugh at a manly demand by a public man to put a stop to corrupt practises at elections, and read lectures on political purity to its opponents, it should not forget that the leaders, as well as subordinate workers, of its party have a record which no whitewash can cover, and no hypocritical professions of political purity, obliterate.

MANCHESTER'S MUNICIPAL SOCIALISM.

Corporation Ownership an Operation Extensively Practised.

A corespondent of The Chicago Record writing from Great Britain, says—"The City of Manchester, which furnishes the most advanced example of municipal socialism, has made a new departure by adding manufactories of soap, tallow, oil, glue and fertilizers to its garbage and sewage department. The city government now owns street car lines, gas, electric light and waterworks, ice factories, 15 markets, baths and public laundries, slaughter houses, technical schools, art galleries, and workshops for the manufacture and repair of its vehicles, tools and implements. It has reclaimed a large swamp by depositing its street cleanings and the solid matter found in the sewage, and is reclaiming another by which it is expected to add several millions of dollars to the wealth of the corporation. The most novel branch of the city government is a corps of house-cleaners, who can be employed by the occupants of stores, flat houses, office rooms and residences to overhaul and clean their establishments as often as desired. A Manchester woman who desires her house cleaned can telephone to police headquarters and a gang of scrubbers, sweepers, window washers, etc., will be sent at once to take up carpets and relay them, and do her spring house-cleaning in short order and in first-class style, while she goes to London or visits friends in the country."

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dieting a Dangerous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is a very common one at the present time, and many dyspeptics and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others, or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken—in other words the starvation plan is supposed by many to be the first essential.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure has been proven time and again, but still the moment dyspepsia made its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man suffering from dyspepsia, because indigestion itself starves every organ, every nerve and every fibre in the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food, and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted, and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words, the patient eats plenty of wholesome food, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests it for him. In this way the system is nourished, and the over-worked stomach rested, because the Tablets will digest the food, whether the stomach works or not. One of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat or egg.

Koller Boat Came to Grief.

Bowmanville, Ont., June 13.—The big roller boat from Toronto came to grief near this port on Saturday night. Off Port Bowmanville Harbor the anchor line snapped in two, and the big, unwieldy craft drifted ashore and was considerably damaged. Being in shallow water it will be somewhat difficult to reach her with a tug.

Piles for 15 Years.

Mr. James Bowles, Councillor, Embro, Ont., writes: "For over 15 years I suffered the misery of bleeding, protruding piles. The many remedies I tried all failed. I was was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and must say that the first application gave relief, after the third day, the bleeding stopped and two boxes cured me completely."

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Court of Revision and Council Meeting Held May 29th.

At the Court of Revision on Monday, May 19th to hear the appeals against the assessment of 1899, there were two appeals—John Taylor, against over charge on land, and Dumble & Johnston for Mrs. M. Dobbin, also over charge on land. There were several appeals against the assessment of dogs, but the parties not appearing no action was taken, and the court adjourned.

After the adjournment of the court the council went into session, all the members being present. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and confirmed. Accounts were presented as follows: Alex. Turner, clearing snow from drain on Park street, $4.80; R. Sanderson, putting up fence on 10th concession, $2; John J. Burnett, repairs to culverts and roads on south division, $10; R. Rivington, disbursement erecting culvert loop line, $5. These accounts were properly certified to and orders issued in payment thereof.

The committee appointed at last meeting to arrange the matter of work on the boundary line between Monaghan and Cavan, reported, but action in regard to same was deferred until next meeting.

Application was then made through Mr. Hunter by the township of South Monaghan for the renting of the road grader.

Moved by Messrs. Hall and Brown, that the opening of a ditch at Springville be left in the hands of Mr. Bennett, the commissioner for that division.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Bradburn, that each commissioner be supplied with eight short handled shovels for use in filling gravel.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Bradburn and Madill, that the Finance Committee for 1899 be composed of the Reeve and Messrs. Brown and the mover and that they prepare the estimates for the year for presentation at next meeting.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Madill and Bradburn, that the rate of commutation of statute labour be increased to 75c per day, and the clerk is hereby instructed to prepare a bylaw to amend the former one imposing a rate of 50c for enactment at the next session of this council.—Carried.

The committee to arrange with the C. P. R. re guards on crossings, reported progress, and that the work was at the present time under construction.

Council then adjourned until called by the reeve.

A NEW NOVEL.

"When Knighthood was in Flower"—an historical novel which was published last September by George J. McLeod, Toronto—has met with such gratifying sales as to give it special prominence among the books of the year.

Eleven editions have been sold in the few months since its publication, and the publishers announce that the twelfth is now in press.

Such a success has naturally caused many enquiries as to the identity of the author.

The book was published over the nom-de-plume of "Edwin Caskoden," but it has since been announced that the author is Charles Major, a lawyer of Shelbyville, Indiana, who has been for years making a study of the history and literature of the days of chivalry.

The story itself is of the love of Mary Tudor, sister of Henry VIII, for Chas. Brandon, a courtier of the day, and is an admirable picture of life and love in those adventurous days.

Scattered through the pages are epigrams that cling like burrs to the reader's memory.

The book is now being dramatised for Julia Marlowe, who will produce it at once. Of the heroine, Mary Tudor, she has said, "Hers is the only literary character that I have met with in all my histrionic career that deserved a place in a Shakespearean repertoire."

The book is on sale at the Peterborough Bookstore.

OUR BOYS AT CAMP.

Notes From Niagara-on-the-Lake—Field Day This Week.

Niagara, June 11, 1899.

The different battalions and regiments are getting into their drill and towards the end of the week showed a great improvement and will be fully prepared for the field day on Thursday. It is reported that there will be a sham battle on Thursday at Queenston and the review and march past will take place on Friday.

The cavalry will drill on Monday for the first time in brigade under General Hutton, who arrived on Saturday with Lt.-Col. Lessard, P.C.D. Brigadier.

The camp ground is one of the most historic spots in Ontario, in the centre of the camp is the ruins of the building in which the first Upper Canada Parliament was held, and on the river bank on the parade ground is the ruins of old Fort Niagara, from which General Brock left to fight the battle of Queenston Heights. A ball was held on Saturday evening at the Queen's Royal hotel, in honour of the officers of the division, a number of ladies and gentlemen from the American side were present as well. We have had no rain during this camp, as yet, but the breeze from the lake makes it much cooler, and with their helmets on the men do not mind the heat very much.

Trooper Heffernan who was kicked the night the 3rd P.W.C.D. came in is doing very nicely, although he is not out of the hospital yet.

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

What does it do?

It causes the oil glands in the skin to become more active, making the hair soft and glossy, precisely as nature intended.

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and thus removes one of the great causes of baldness.

It makes a better circulation in the scalp and stops the hair from coming out.

It Prevents and It Cures Baldness

Ayer's Hair Vigor will surely make hair grow on bald heads, provided only there is any life remaining in the hair bulbs.

It restores color to gray or white hair. It does not do this in a moment, as will a hair dye; but in a short time the gray color of age gradually disappears and the darker color of youth takes its place.

Would you like a copy of our book on the Hair and Scalp? It is free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor write the Doctor about it.

Address, DR. J. C. AYER.

CHRISTIAN UNITY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir—The English Church divine now discussing Christian Unity kindly invites friendly discussion on any point he has raised. Permit me, then, a little space. He says "Revelation, i. e., the Bible." Is this really what he means. If so he is far from agreeing with other English Church divines high in the Establishment. One of them, writing on the matter says, God has revealed Himself to men in two ways. One of these ways is through the Bible. The second of these ways is through the life and teachings of Christ." Very good, but even this is not saying quite enough. It fails to tell us how we are to know just what Christ has taught, which you will permit me to add for him, only by an infallible Authority, the Holy Roman Catholic Apostolic church. We see then that all English church divines do not admit the truth of the statement, Revelation, i. e., the Bible, nor is it sufficient to say the Bible and what Christ has taught. What then does revelation consist in? It consists in two parts: The Written Word, called the Holy Scriptures, and the Unwritten Word, called Divine Tradition. Are these two parts of equal authority? Yes; because they have been equally revealed by God. Which of these parts was before the other? The Unwritten Word was before the Written Word, with respect both to the Old Testament and the New Testament.

What divine traditions existed before the first books of the Old Testament? The duty of sanctifying the Sabbath; the rite of circumcision, and generally the whole history of religion before the time of Moses, during 2500 years.

What divine traditions existed before the New Testament? The whole system of the Christian religion. Revelation then, is clearly not merely the Bible.

Again he says, "It would be a great and unwarranted leap from the teaching of St. Paul's Epistles to the statement that unity means unity of worship and of government." Strange, indeed, a society without government is a mob. Surely St. Paul, an Apostle, taught what Christ commissioned him to teach. But what would be the use of his teaching if he had no authority to enforce what he taught? And what would be the use of his teaching if at the same time another Apostle, to whom a like commission was given, was teaching a different doctrine in another country. It is on this very point that St. Augustine wrote the clearest things. All the earthly heretics could claim episcopal succession, as the Nestorians and the Monophysite can do so now. But where there is a break of continuity in doctrine and tradition, the mere possession of Episcopal succession, even if proved, counts for nothing and does not save the body that has it from being schismatical and heretical. Outside of the church, said St. Augustine, preaching in the presence of a Donatist Bishop, he may have the sacraments, he may sing Alleluia, he may preach the faith in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; but nowhere, except in the Catholic church, can he find salvation (Serm. ad. Coes., Eccles. n. 6). So it is easily seen by every thinking man that where God receives true worship there should be unity and continuity of doctrine and a principle of government to enforce that doctrine.

Notwithstanding many good things have been said to promote that desire which Christ always desired and which He never ceases to invite, with infinite affection, all men of every race and tongue into the bosom of His church. To help and to promote this desire the following letter will be an interesting study.

READER.

In Scripture the Church is called a body and the body of Christ. It is visible as being a living and organized society and is animated by the invisible vital principle of supernatural life. Those, therefore, who either deny that Christ's Church is a visible body or refuse to allow that it has 'the perennial communication of the gifts of divine grace' are equally 'in a grievous and pernicious error.' The 'connection and union of both elements is as absolutely necessary to the true Church as the intimate union of the soul and body is to human nature,' and as this is the essential constitution of the Church according to God's will, who also determined that it was to last to the end of time, this it must possess at the present day.

"It is obviously of the first importance to determine what Christ wished His Church to be and what in fact He made it. According to this criterion it is the unity of the Christian Church which must necessarily be considered, for it is certain that 'He who founded it wished it to be one.' The mission of Christ was to save not some nations or people only, but the whole human race without distinction of time or place.' Hence as the mission of His Church was to hand down through every age the blessing of this salvation, by the will of its founder it is necessary this church should be one in all lands and at all times.'

"A church which should embrace all men everywhere and at all times was clearly foretold by the prophet Isaias and was typified as our Lord's mystical body, a 'body as Head—a mystical body, the members of which, if separated one from the other, 'cannot be united with one and the same head.' And so another head like to Christ, that is, another Christ, must be invented if besides the one Church, which is His body, men wish to set up another. Furthermore, 'He who made this one Church also gave it unity, that is, He made it such that all who so belong to it must be united by the closest bonds, so as to form one society, one kingdom, one body.' And He willed that this unity amongst His followers should be so perfect 'that it might in some measure shadow forth the union between Himself and His Father.'

"As a necessary consequence in His divine wisdom he ordained in His church unity of faith—a virtue which is the first of those bonds which unite man to God, and whence we receive the name of the faithful.' The nature of this unity of faith must and can be ascertained from the commands and teachings of Christ Himself. The mere possession of the Scriptures is not sufficient to secure unity of belief, 'not merely because of the nature of the doctrine itself and the mysteries it involves, but also because of the divergent tendencies of the human mind and the disturbing element of conflicting passions.' It was necessary 'that there should be another principle of minds in the Christian Church, and it is consequently proper to inquire which of the many means by which Christ, our Lord, could have secured this unity He, in fact, adopted. It is the duty of all followers of Christ not merely to accept His doctrine generally, 'but to assent with their entire mind to all and every point of it, since it is unlawful to withhold faith from God even in regard to one single point.'

To Insure Union

"Christ endowed His Apostles with authority like to His own; and promised that the spirit of truth should direct them and remain with them forever, and because of this commission it is no more allowable to repudiate one iota of the apostles' teaching than to reject any point of the doctrine of Christ Himself.' This apostolic mission was intended for the salvation of the whole human race, and consequently must last till the end of time. The magisterium instituted by Christ in His church was by God's will perpetuated in the successors appointed by the apostles, and in like manner the duty of accepting and professing all that it thus taught is also perpetual and immutable. There is nothing which the church founded on these principles that has been more careful to guard than the integrity of the faith. The fathers of the Church are unanimous in considering as outside the Catholic communion any one who in the least degree deviates from even one point of the doctrine proposed by the authoritative magisterium of the Church.

"'Wherefore Christ instituted in the Church a living, authoritative and lasting magisterium. * * * He willed and commanded under that its teachings should be received as if they were His own. As often, therefore, as it is declared on the authority of this teaching that this or that is contained in the deposit of divine revelation, it must be believed by everyone as true.' The very nature of divine faith makes it impossible that we can reject even one point or direct teaching, as this is practically rejecting the authority of God Himself.

"'Christ commanded all men present and future to follow Him as their leader and Saviour, and thus not merely as individuals, but as forming a society, organized and united in mind. * * * He established in the church all those principles which necessarily tend to make organized human societies and through which they attain the perfection proper to each.' That is, in the Church founded by Christ 'all who wished to be sons of God by adoption might attain to the perfection demanded by their high calling and might obtain salvation.' The church is 'man's guide to whatever pertains to Heaven.

"'This is the office appointed to it by God that it may watch over and may order all that concerns religion and may without let or hindrance exercise, according to its judgment, its charge over Christianity. Wherefore they that the Church has any wish to interfere in civil matters or to infringe upon the rights of the state either know it not or wickedly calumniate it.'

"Besides being the guardian of the faith the Church must afford the means of obtaining the salvation purchased by Christ. The dispensation of the divine mysteries was not granted by God indiscriminately to all Christians, but to the apostles and their successors, and in this way, according to God's providence, a duly constituted society 'was formed out of the divided multitudes of people, one in faith, one in end, one in participation of the means adapted to the attainment of the end and one as subject to one and the same authority.'

"'As no true and perfect human society can be conceived which is not governed by some supreme authority,' so Christ of necessity gave to His church a supreme authority to which all Christians must be obedient. For the preservation of unity there must be unity of government by divine right, and men may be placed outside the one fold by schism as well as by heresy. The nature of this supreme authority can be ascertained from the positive and evident will of Christ on the matter. As he willed that His Kingdom should be visible, Christ was obliged to designate a vice-gerent on earth in the person of St. Peter. He also determined that the authority given to him for the salvation of mankind in perpetuity should be inherited by St. Peter's successors.

"'It cannot be doubted from the words of Holy Writ that this Church, by the will of God, rests on St. Peter as a building on its foundation. St. Peter could not fulfill this duty 'without the power of commanding, forbidding, judging, which is properly called jurisdiction.' It is by the power of jurisdiction that are held together—a primacy of honour, and the shadowy right of giving advice and admonition, which is called direction, could never give unity or strength to any society of men.

"'The metaphorical expressions of the 'keys' and of 'binding and loosing' indicate 'the power of making laws, of judging and of punishing—a power which our Lord declares to be of such amplitude and force that God would ratify whatever is decreed by it.' Thus the power of St. Peter is 'supreme and absolutely independent, so that having no other power upon earth as its superior it embraces the whole church and all things committed to the Church.' As this governing authority belongs to the constitution and formation of the Church as the very principle of unity and stability, it was clearly intended to pass to St. Peter's successors from one to another. Consequently the pontiffs who succeed him in the Roman episcopate receive the supreme power in the Church by divine right, and this is declared fully by general councils and is acknowledged by the consent of antiquity. But though the authority of St. Peter and his successors is plenary and supreme, it is not to be regarded as the only authority.

"'The Bishops, who are the successors of the apostles, inherit their ordinary power and the 'episcopal order necessarily belongs to the essential constitution of the church.' They are consequently not to be regarded as mere vicars of the Roman pontiffs, since 'they exercise a power which is really their own, and are most truly called the ordinary pastors of the people over whom they rule.'

"'For the preservation of unity in the Christian Church it is above all things necessary that there should be union between the Roman pontiff, the one successor of St. Peter, and the Bishops, the many successors of the apostolic college. It is necessary to bear in mind that no prerogative was conferred on the apostles in which St. Peter did not participate, but that many were bestowed upon St. Peter apart from the apostles.' He alone was designated by Christ as the foundation of His Church. To him He gave the

and retaining, and to him alone was given the authority to feed. From this it follows 'that Bishops are deprived of the right and power of ruling if they deliberately recede from Peter and his successors, because by this secession they are separated from the foundation on which the whole edifice rests.'

"'As the divine founder of the Church decreed that His Church should be one in faith, in government and communion, so he chose Peter and his successors as the principle, and, as it were, the centre of this unity. The episcopal order is rightly judged to be in communion with Peter, as Christ commanded, if it is subject to and obeys Peter; otherwise it necessarily becomes a lawless and disorderly crowd. For the due preservation of unity of the faith it is not sufficient 'that the head should have been charged merely with the office of superintendent or should have been invested solely with the power of direction, but it is absolutely necessary that he should have received real and sovereign authority which the whole community is bound to obey.'

"'It is opposed to the truth and is in evident contradiction with the Divine constitution of the Church to hold that while each Bishop is individually bound to obey the authority of the Roman pontiffs, the Bishops taken collectively are not so bound. For it is the nature and essence of a foundation to support the unity of the whole edifice and give stability to it rather than that of each component part. It was through the strength and solidity of the foundation that Christ promised that the gates of Hell should not prevail against His Church—a promise to be understood of the Church as a whole, and not of any certain portions of it. Moreover, he who is set over the whole flock must have authority not only over the sheep dispersed throughout the Church, but also when they are assembled together. Do all the sheep gathered together rule and guide the shepherd? Do the successors of the apostles assembled together constitute the foundation on which the successor of St. Peter rests in order to derive therefrom strength and stability?

"Holy Writ attests that the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven were given to Peter alone, and that the promise of binding and loosing was granted to the apostles and to Peter, but there is nothing to show that the apostles received supreme power without Peter or against Peter. Such power they certainly did not receive from Jesus Christ. Wherefore, in the decree of the Vatican Council as to the nature and authority of the primacy of the Roman pontiff, no newly conceived opinion is set forth but the venerable and constant belief of all ages."

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1898 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used. Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. For correct and full information regarding the new invention and NEWCOMBE PIANOS write to our Direct Representative. Easy Prices. Liberal Terms.

AN INTERESTING EVENT.

Marriage Ceremony of Mr. John H. Garbett to Miss Jennie Gillespie of Town.

The residence of Mr. John Gillespie, 23 George street, was the scene of a pretty and exceedingly interesting event this morning when his daughter, Miss Jennie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. John G. Garbutt, one of Smith's most promising young farmers, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. Torrance of St. Paul's church.

The bride wearing a costume of white organdie muslin was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Gillespie, who was attired in pink muslin. Mr. Harry C. Mann, of Bridgenorth, cousin of the groom, acted in the capacity of best man, whilst little Miss Jennie Gillespie was the maid of honour.

After the wedding ceremony was over an excellent wedding dinner was served, after which the newly married couple left on the G.T.R. 12 o'clock train for Port Hope, where they will take the boat to Rochester, New York and other American cities, returning in about two weeks.

The presents to the bride were both numerous and costly, and included an elegant hall rack, the gift of the staff of Robert Fair & Co., in whose employ Miss Gillespie was for several years. Mr. Robert Fair also remembered the bride by presenting her with a cheque. Other presents were from Toronto and American cities.

Their many friends in Peterborough wish them many years of happy married life.

DARING AERIAL FEATS.

The Hanlon Brothers in their Marvelous and Danger-Defying Feats.

The admittedly great and discerning critic, Col. Franklyn Fyles, of the New York Sun, in commenting upon the intrepidity and marvellous character of the feats of the Four Hanlons, the gymnastic comets, now with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers combined circuses, scheduled to exhibit here on Saturday, June 24th, said in the issue of the Sun of April 21st last:

"Aerial feats are never so attractive in theatres or music halls as in the greater heights that a circus usually affords. Four gymnasts at the Madison Square Gardens, the Hanlons, prove this clearly enough. Two are men and the other are youths apparently. After a tumbling act on one of the stages in the arena, they retire for a few moments and reappear for the most important part of their work. They climb up among the rafters of the Garden, each of the men taking his place on a trapeze hung far from the others. When the apparatus has been set in motion the men swing themselves to a third bar suspended between the first two. Its distance is enough to make the flights seem marvellous to the spectators, so narrow is the margin by which the men save themselves from serious injury, yet the nerves of the spectators are almost as much strained.

CUT IN TWO ON THE RAIL.

THE MANGLED REMAINS OF A TRAMP FOUND ON THE C.P.R.

He is Thought to Have Fallen From a Freight Train or Been Asleep on the Track—Known as "Liverpool Shorty."

A fatal accident occurred on the C.P.R. Railway track in Ashburnham between the diamond and the diamond-house, sometime early this morning, the victim being a tramp, whose real name is unknown to the local authorities, but who was generally styled "Liverpool Shorty." When the 4.42 express arrived at the C.P.R. station this morning, the station officials were notified that parts of a man, badly mutilated, were lying at either side of the track near the canal bridge. Those who immediately went down to the scene of the accident saw a bloody sight indeed. The head of an unknown man of short build and an unknown man of short build and apparently about 35 years of age, laid on the south side of the track, whilst the lower part of the body and the legs was between the rails.

The upper part of the body and arms and neck were badly mangled, the wheels having caught the man at the left side of the neck and cut across his chest diagonally to a point just below the right shoulder.

Coroner Bell was at once notified and after viewing the remains ordered them to be taken to Comstock's undertaking establishment.

"Liverpool Shorty" as the unfortunate man was known as, was seen around the C.P.R. station last night in company with others of his kind to the number of four or five.

They all appeared to be under the influence of liquor to a certain extent and about 12 o'clock were heard in the vicinity of the "diamond" in Ashburnham. Only one of the party showed up this morning and he was not aware of the death of his chum until so informed by a citizen. He said they were all drunk and he had no recollection of how the accident occurred. He himself, appeared to have had a very narrow escape as his clothes were almost torn off his back and he was minus his head apparel.

The remains of the dead man will be interred this afternoon, as no information can be obtained concerning him.

DEMISE OF JOHN HAZLITT.

He Had Been a Resident of Otonabee For Over Fifty Years.

The death occurred this morning in Otonabee of Mr. John Hazlitt, aged 83 years, son of the late John Hazlitt, Esq., also of Otonabee, and brother of Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, of Peterborough.

The deceased was born in the county Armagh, Ireland, but came to Canada in the forties. After a short sojourn he returned to Ireland, and induced the family to follow his example and take up residence in British North America, which they did in 1847, settling in Otonabee, with the exception of Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, who located in Peterborough.

Had the subject of this notice lived until next month the golden anniversary of his wedding with Miss Dick, of Kingston, would have been celebrated. A widow and eight children survive, viz., Mrs. Jos. Howsen of the North West; Mrs. W. Miller, Keene; Mrs. Frank Sanderson, Smith; Mrs John Lancashire, Otonabee; Mrs. John Dickson, Otonabee; Mrs. Roland Johnston, Peterough; Miss Emily Hazlitt, of the homestead; and Thomas Hazlitt of Otonabee.

The deceased did not take an active part in public life, but during his long residence in the county won and held the highest esteem of all with whom he came in contact in either business or social relations.

He was a steadfast Reformer in politics, and was a consistent member of St. Paul's church.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, lot 17, 12th con. of Otonabee, at 2.30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Life in the Old Stand.

We have leased the bakery, confectionery and restaurant business formerly carried on at NO. 426 George street, better known as John Craig's restaurant. We intend to put new life in the old stand and will run it as an up-town store in connection with our down-town business on the corner of King and George streets. Having a first-class baking oven and outfit for turning out good bread, cakes, buns and confectionery, we can give satisfaction to our patrons.

The ice cream parlours, soda water fountain and fruit trade will be properly attended to. Meals and lunch served at all hours promptly. Come and make yourself at home, as you prove us, praise us.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 1899.

THOMAS CROWE DISCHARGED

Herman Crowe, the Supposed Murdered boy, Meets his Father in Court.

The climax in the Crowe criminal case was reached yesterday afternoon, when Thomas Crowe, who was arrested last week on suspicion of having done away with his son Herman, in presence of the court and a number of onlookers, affectionately embraced his supposed lost son and promised to lead a different life in future.

The Crowe case which is a familiar one to the readers of the Examiner, for several days aroused much excitement throughout the country as it was thought that Thos. Crowe was actually guilty of the murder of his son Herman. The subsequent finding of the boy unharmed, in Smith township, gave much relief to the interested parties' relatives and placed Thomas Crowe an innocent man before the public.

When the case came up pursuant to remand, before County Magistrate Edmison yesterday afternoon County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood made a brief review of the fact leading up to the arrest of the prisoner.

It was a family matter which had been largely brought about by the prisoner telling different stories and giving the authorities a great deal of trouble.

The opinion of those whom it was supposed should know, was to the effect that violence had been committed. The information had been laid by relatives of the prisoner, who had been told by him that their lives were in danger, so that he himself had brought about his arrest in such way. The father's fight with the son, the latter's mysterious disappearance and other such matters started the people talking and resulted in the arrest of the prisoner. He suggested that the prisoner be discharged on signing a bond to keep the peace for one year.

Magistrate Edmison took a similar view of the case and expressed the belief that in future father and son would live more harmoniously together. The prisoner was then discharged.

DOURO PICNIC.

In Connection With St. Joseph's Church—To be Held on June 22nd.

O'Brien's beautiful maple grove, one mile south of St. Joseph's church, is the spot chosen for Douro's annual picnic on June 22nd.

Rev. Father Keilty has a most varied programme for the day and the affair, it is expected, will ever surpass the many successes of the past. Arrangements have been made for dancing, music for the same being provided. A list of athletic sports will be run off including a football match. There will also be a merry-go-round on the grounds. Speeches by prominent men will be given during the afternoon.

A large number will drive out from town to attend the affair.

DRUGGISTS' EARLY CLOSING.

On and after Thursday, June 15th, inst., drug stores will close at 7 p.m. until September 1st.

One store will be found open each evening for the convenience of the medical profession and general public.

Cards will be placed in each store, intimating which place is to be open.

THE TRACKMEN'S STRIKE.

A SETTLEMENT SEEMS TO BE IN SIGHT.

Conference of Striking Committee and Mr. James Sutherland M.P. —The Local Situation— Practical Sympathy. Extended.

There seems to be some prospect of a settlement of the G. T. R. trackmen's strike. Mr. A. B. Lowe, Secretary of the Trackmen's Association, went through town to-day en route for Ottawa to attend a conference of the Executive Committee of Trackmen, and Mr. James Sutherland, M. P., who has interested himself in the settlement of the question at issue between the railway and the trackmen.

Last evening as the "scab-car" returned from a trip down the track towards Belleville a large crowd met it with the avowed purpose of endeavouring to persuade George Clark, of George street that he should not have returned to work after having struck with the other sectionmen. Constables McGinty and Stewart joined the crowd, but no hostile demonstration was made other than caterwauling and groaning. The car was taken on up the track to a point opposite Clarke's house, where he took refuge. On the train were four armed detectives who intended to make arrests if any stones were thrown.

It is pleasing to be able to state that none of the striking trackmen were with the crowd, as at the time they were being entertained at tea by a local clergyman.

The local situation is without much change. The strikers and their families continue to enjoy the sympathy of the public, and that has taken a commendably practical shape. The wives of striking trackmen were surprised this morning at receiving a hundred weight of flour each, which it was afterwards discovered, was sent by Mr. William Overend, of the C. P. R. Hotel Those who have profited by his practical sympathy and thoughtful kindness, desire to cordially thank the generous donor for his timely gift. Another evidence of sympathy was shown by a local clergyman, who invited the striking trackmen to his residence last night, entertained them at tea, and a very social hour or two was spent thereafter. An evidence of practical sympathy consisted in presenting to the guests of the evening a sum of money that had been contributed to the funds of the strikers by the members of the congregation. The minister desires his name withheld; but he is too much addicted to similar unostentatious acts of kindness to make a guess at his identity difficult.

DEATH OF MRS THOMPSON.

Third Daughter of Mr. J. Lang M. P. —Buried on Tuesday.

Mrs. Annie Thompson, third daughter of Mr. John Lang, M.P., was yesterday laid at rest in Fife's cemetery, Otonabee. The remains were followed to their last resting place by one of the largest funerals ever held in Otonabee.

The deceased, who died on Monday, had been ailing for about six weeks, not have rallied since the birth of a child early in May. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn her loss.

They have the sympathy of the entire community as Mrs. Thompson was very highly esteemed by a large circle of friends.

PERSONAL.

His Excellency Lord Minto passed through Peterborough to-day on his way to the Niagara Camp.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at James Lynch's drug store as their giving away to their many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. OBITUARY.

Death of William Stevenson, Ex-Mayor of Guelph, and Father of Mrs Chas. McGill of Town.

We clip the following from the Guelph Mercury, which refers to the death of the late Wm. Stevenson, Esq., ex-Mayor of Guelph, and father of Mrs. Chas. McGill of Peterborough. It will be remembered by our readers that Mrs. McGill was to have sailed for Europe last week, but was prevented from doing so on account of the illness of her father.

The Mercury says:

The last scene in the life drama of one of our most valued citizens was enacted on Thursday afternoon, when the remains of the late Wm. Stevenson, ex-Mayor of Guelph, were borne to their last resting place from "Maple-bank," the beautiful home which he built over forty years ago, and in which he has lived ever since. Each member of the family was present. The Rev. J. G. Scott conducted the private service held at the house. The room in which he lay was banked with flowers; pansies, the flowers he loved so well, were placed upon his breast, breathing no sweeter perfume than the memory of the life of him who lay so still, so quiet in the sleep that knows no waking. The casket was covered with tokens of sympathy from those who knew and loved him. At the conclusion of the service he was carried away by his old and valued friends: Dr. Savage, Judge Jamieson, Dr. Mills, O. A. C., Mr. J. D. Hutton, Ex-Mayor Lamprey, and Mr. D. L. Scroggie, after which the cortege proceeded to the Norfolk street Methodist church, at which a public service was held. The pulpit and choir loft, as well as the family pew were neatly draped by fellow members of the church with which he had been so long identified. The deceased in his public, no less than in his private life, was valued as a man of sterling worth, evidenced by the flag flying at half mast on the City Hall for the past three days. He was beloved by his family, children and grandchildren in an uncommon degree. The love which was the warp and woof of his character had begotten a kindred spirit in the hearts of all with whom he had intimate relations, young and old alike. He possessed that quality of heart which is peculiarly that of great natures, child-liveness, never having grown old in sympathy and feeling, and retaining, almost to the last, interest in literature and art, an utmost of all love of beauty and nature.

He had a highly poetical nature and natural artistic instincts, with rich culture of the intellectual faculties, shown in his love of the finest literature from early boyhood, at which time all his pocket money was spent in editions of Shakespeare, Cowper, Pope, Thompson and others. Long poems, having been memorized at that time, and which he had never forgotten, oftentimes delighting his children by repeating. One of his greatest delights in the early and after years of his children's lives was to gather them around him and read aloud by the hour, while they greedily listened to the enchantment of story, poetry or song.

He possessed a fine library, which had been lovingly gathered together as the years went by. For twenty-five years he subscribed for eight or ten magazines of the highest kind, and in which he always found refreshment and delight. His love of art was natural and unforced, but the most pronounced feature in his character was his love of nature (shown by the time and care spent in loving tendance of his flowers) which with him might be called a passion. He greatly grieved over the vandalism of the early days in which the fine old forest trees were ruthlessly destroyed on Grange street. He paid money to have some of the trees left, which still remain as a monument of his love of nature. The Guelph parks stand as another monument of his passion for all things fitting and beautiful, as also of his public spirit, for it was largely due to his endeavours that Guelph possesses so many breathing spaces in the shape of the beautiful little parks scattered here and there throughout its limits. The early years of his life were spent amid the beautiful surroundings of the quaint little English village of Thrumpton, with its fine old baronial hall, over which Lady Byron presides at the present time, and from whom he received, some two years ago, most kind and interesting letters, also a water colour painting of Thrumpton Hall, with photographs of different views of the Park and Hall. He received these evidences of esteem at the time his son-in-law, Gilbert H. MacIntyre, was making a tour of the British Islands, and who visited Thrumpton for the purpose of taking views of that place as a surprise for his father-in-law on his return.

He found his memory green as if he had left but yesterday, owing not only to the character he had borne previous to his departure, but also to the fact that at different times since leaving he has sent relief to old comrades whom he heard were in distress. Mr. MacIntyre called at Thrumpton Hall and was entrusted with the pictures for his father-in-law. A most fortunate and interesting episode was the result of his visit, as he chanced to photograph the home of Mr. Stevenson's boyhood, a fine, quaint old red brick house with a plate let into the side of the wall with the date of erection some hundred and fifty years ago. He also took pictures of the old parish church where Mr. Stevenson had been baptized and which no doubt in looking at revived for him so many tender recollections and made him re-live again the years of his childhood and youth. The dreams of the English boy took shape and embodiment in the building and beautifying of his home and grounds, which for many years in the early days of Guelph was one of the few beautiful homes at that time, and which is the only one now remaining in the possession of the family who built it up.

His genial, kindly nature was an inspiration to all who partook of his hospitality, which was perfect in its simplicity and sincerity and unbounded in its freedom and spontaniety. Of a rare deep nature, he was one of nature's noblemen. Honesty and truth were his watchwords. Purity of heart and life transparent to all who knew him. His right hand knew not what his left did. Loved by the poor as one who at all times carried out the golden rule.

His life has been from first to last a benediction and inspiration.

He has left to his children the memory of a life full of love and truth.

Worth being born to hold in fee."

DEATH OF A HASTING'S RESIDENT

Major Howard Expires While Engaged in his Office.

The death occurred in Hastings on Monday evening of Major Howard, one of Hastings' best known residents. Deceased had been in poor health for some time but his very sudden death came as a great shock to his friends. He was engaged at his duties in his office when he expired without a moment's warning.

Major Howard was about seventy years of age and was one of Hastings' oldest residents. He commanded the local company of infantry at that place and took part in the Fenian raid in 1816. He has been on the retired list for some time, but still continued to take a great interest in the affairs of the Canadian Militia.

Mr. Howard established the first newspaper in the village on the Trent, being the present Hastings Star, and after continuing in the newspaper business for some time he sold out and assumed the agency of the Canadian Express Co., the C.P.R. ticket agency and the Bell Telephone Co., which business he conducted until his demise.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon.

BASEBALL.

The management of the local baseball club is to be commended for the energetic manner in which it is striving to promote the game in Peterborough.

After being put considerably in the hole over the Kingston game, and being stuck for advertising and other expense such as engaging constables for the game which should have taken place with the Argyles on Saturday last, the management has gone to the further expense of bringing the Bowmanville nine to town, for to-morrow afternoon. Although Bowmanville is not as far away as Toronto or Kingston the expense of bringing the team of that town here for a game is just as great, as it is to bring a team from either of the other places. Under these circumstances, those who admire and can enjoy a good game of ball are urged to turn out and help the boys along. The local team regrets very much indeed, the deplorable way in which many people were fooled over Saturday's game, but it is plain to all that the local management was in no way to blame for it. The secretary received word on Friday from the Argyles, stating that they were coming, and received no word to the contrary until about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It is to be hoped that the Bowmanville team is composed of vastly different kind of sports, and their ability to play baseball was never questioned. The local men have been indulging in some pretty hard practicing of late, and are now in the pink of condition. Dan McCabe who has been suffering from a sore foot for the last week, and would not have been able to play in last Saturday's game, is now all right again and will be found in the box as usual. The team will be the same as picked for last Saturday's match.

A notice in yesterday's Toronto World announces a meeting of the Argyle baseball club to discuss important matters. It is to be hoped that the payment to Peterborough of the expense connected with the baseball match that did'nt come off on Saturday, was amongst the important matters

A game of baseball that will excite considerable interest is the one between the hotel keepers of Peterborough and the hotel keepers of Toronto Just who will compose the local aggregation is not generally known but Lem Felcher appears to be the manager and has sent the following communication to the Toronto World:

Sporting Editor, World: The hotelkeepers of Peterborough are particularly desirous of arranging two games of baseball, one in Peterborough, return game in Toronto, against the Toronto bonifaces. Consideration: Two barrels of flour for House of Providence.

LACROSSE.

The Toronto Telegram says: By refusing to postpone the match here next Saturday, the Orillia Lacrosse Club have shown themselves to be pretty small sports. They claim the country has been billed for the match and arrangements made with the railroads. The Tecumsehs offered to pay all those expenses if they would only postpone the match. Toeontos and Capitals play in Rosedale Saturday. Now what chance have the Island Braves for a game? Before it is too late the Orillia team should postpone the game and show they have good sporting blood in them. Certain is it that were the Orillias in the hole the Tecumsehs would do the square thing by the northerners. Brace up there, Boulton R. Kean, and do the right thing in the right place. * * * Orillia is evidently determined to get a name up for this sort of thing, as last year, when the Peterboroughs asked them to postpone the date of a match for one day, on account of the Olympic excursion taking a number of people out of town, the Orillias refused without even giving a reason. Such actions arouse hard feelings.

The Telegram also says: There is trouble in the camp for E. Menary, of the Orangeville lacrosse team. So say some Orillia people, more especially the father of E. G. Curran, of the Orillia team. Mr. Curran, senior, has written to C.L.A. Secretary Hartley, protesting against the playing of Menary in the present match up north. Mr. Curran states that Menary deliberately and viciously struck his son, during the game, inflicting a wound six inches long on the cheek from the ear. He also says the ear was badly cut. He says he has plenty of witnesses to prove it was done intentionally, and does not "propose this brutal player to escape punishment" for his act. He says that his son was never a dirty player. Mr. Curran asks the C.L.A. to look fully into the matter, and that in the case of their not doing so, he will place the matter before the county judge at Barrie. He says he is willing to spend money in order to see justice done. This will come as a surprise to Menary's friends, who have always known him to be a very fair and square player, with none of the tricks about him. In previous matches he has always conducted himself in a most gentlemanly manner, quite the reverse of what Mr. Curran's letter states. There must be a mistake somewhere.

* * Such a complaint coming from Orillia may seem strange to many who know the tactics adopted by that team, but when that white boy "Mary" Curran says that the act was maliciously committed, he has good reasons for making the statement, as no cleaner player ever stepped on a lacrosse field and his word goes a long way with any who have had the pleasure of meeting him.

Early Accidents

Cause Lifelong Suffering. A Case that is Causing Talk.

When a lad about eight years of age I fell into a cellar a distance of ten feet, striking on my head, and causing concussion of the brain. I was taken to a London, Eng., Hospital, the first seven days not recovering consciousness. I am now 25 years old and from the time of my accident until I began taking Dr. Ward's Pills five months ago I had been subject to fainting spells, never being more than two weeks without an attack of fainting. As I grew older these spells became more frequent, lasted longer, and left me with less vitality. I was weak, had no strength or stamina, always very low-spirited and down-hearted; imagined that every thing and every person was going against me, and life only had a dark side for me. My appetite was poor most of the time, but I am now happy to say that, since taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, I have only had one fainting spell, shortly after I began taking them, so I have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Ward's Pills cured me. Before taking these pills I always looked for a fainting spell not more than two weeks apart; now, I would be greatly surprised at a recurrence of these spells. Life is now bright—the constant, morbid, down-hearted feeling is gone, being replaced by a contented, hopeful feeling. I feel like working. My appetite is good, and in every respect I have experienced the health and strength restoring properties of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. They certainly have proved a great blessing to me. Yours truly, (Signed), Thomas Stanton, Brighton, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Doctor Ward Co., Limited, Toronto.

Toronto Live Stock.

Toronto, June 14.—Receipts of live stock at the cattle market yesterday were again large—80 carloads, composed of 1,800 cattle, 450 sheep and lambs, 1,200 hogs and 75 calves. The quality of fat cattle, of which the bulk were for export, was very good. Trade was fairly brisk all round. Several dealers from outside points were purchasing butchers' cattle, and space was more plentiful on the boats for experters. These two facts combined to make the market for fat cattle more active than it has been for the past two weeks. Prices generally remained firm.

YOU CAN'T BEAT 'EM.

THIS WAS JOBSON'S CONCLUSION ABOUT WOMEN IN GENERAL.

It Was Prompted by a Midnight Experience With His Wife, In Which the Revenge That He Had Planned So Well Went Sadly Astray.

Mr. Jobson got home from his office at 4:15 one afternoon not long ago and found a note from Mrs. Jobson saying that she had gone to hear the performance of a long haired pianist and that he'd find his dinner all ready for the girl to serve it.

"That's a good thing, too," mused Mr. Jobson sulkily when he had read the note. "It's a wonder these mattress headed geniuses that come over here to this country and rake in American dollars, hating Americans all the time, wouldn't call their game at an hour that 'ud permit a toiling man's wife to be on hand at home to give him something to eat when he wants it," etc.

The opportunity was too good for Mr. Jobson to miss, so he declined to eat any dinner when the servant put it on the table. Instead he slammed on his hat and went down town.

He wanted to give Mrs. Jobson a lesson. He ate an unsatisfactory dinner at a restaurant and then poked around until it was time for a variety theater to open its doors. He had to watch a lot of poorly played billiard games in order to put in this time and to talk with a lot of bachelors, from whose ways of thinking he had departed.

He was bored exceedingly by theater time. The show bored him still more, but he stuck it out, for he wanted to get home as late as possible, the better to rub it in on Mrs. Jobson. By 11 o'clock he reflected that he had had a pretty poor sort of an evening—his evening paper unread, his favorite pipe neglected for a lot of cigars that gave him heartburn, a poor dinner, idle talk with a slew of men that he didn't want to talk to, and finally a tawdry, cheap variety performance that might have got a laugh out of him ten years before, but was only so much ribaldry to him now.

He took in a couple more billiard games, however, after the show and threw a couple of cocktails into himself, not because he cared to drink, but because he wanted Mrs. Jobson to smell his breath and thus perceive the awful consequences of her conduct.

Mrs. Jobson was comfortably tucked in bed when Mr. Jobson got home about half an hour after midnight. She had not even left a light burning in the vestibule or in the bedroom. She woke up very leisurely when Mr. Jobson started one of the gas jets going. She didn't say anything, however.

Mr. Jobson had expected to find her up, fully dressed and in tears. He was disappointed. He was more disappointed that she didn't greet him with repinings. Mr. Jobson saw that she was likely to go to sleep again and that he wasn't causing any grief at all by being naughty and keeping still. So he cleared his throat and said:

"Did he play the buck dance concerto in Z minor with his hair, and how was it?"

There was a lot of sarcasm in the way Mr. Jobson asked this question.

Mrs. Jobson didn't turn over at all.

"What are you talking about?" she inquired sleepily.

"I want to know if that Dutchman that kept you away from your duty of serving a meal to your husband after his day of grinding labor gave you your money's worth; also if you think you're making any kind of a hit with anybody by these methods, hey?"

"Oh, the recital; that's what you're speaking of, isn't it?" said Mrs. Jobson sweetly. "Well, I didn't go. I had intended to go when I started out shopping in the morning and left the note for you telling you so, but I thought it might annoy you to have me away from dinner, and so, when I concluded my shopping, about 4 o'clock this afternoon, I decided not to go to the recital. The Fourteenth street car that brought me up town passed the car that took you down town. I saw you on the car and wondered why you were going in that direction. I suppose you had to go back to your office to work. It's shameful the way they're overworking you, you poor old thing," and then Mrs. Jobson, who knew that Mr. Jobson hadn't been working at his office, turned over and subsided into dreamy slumber.

"You can't beat 'em," thought Mr. Jobson when he got into bed. He was thinking of women in general.—Washington Star.

Her Turn.

Guests were expected to dinner at little Flossie's home the other evening, and she was in consequence hustled off to bed and milk and bread an hour earlier than usual.

"Here you grown up folks" she sighed as she was laid away, "are going to sit up in your best clothes all evening and eat all those nice things, while I've got to go up stairs with nothing to eat but old bread and milk and go to bed early. Never mind," after a reflective pause. "After a while I'll grow up, and then I'll have all the nice things, and you'll all be dead."—Kansas City Star

A ST. THOMAS CASE.

The Entire Population Talking of the Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures.

St. Thomas, June 12.—The great wave has reached St. Thomas. The cures wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills are numbered by hundreds here, and the entire population, almost, is talking of them.

Michael Holleran, a farmer living near here, told our reporter, "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from an untimely grave." He was cured of Diabetes, of an aggravated type by a few boxes, after his doctors had failed to even relieve him.

So it goes. Everyone who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills has been cured. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Paralysis, all diseases of the kidneys and the blood yield to their power. They never fail to cure these ailments.

The Danger of PILES

Too frequently overlooked, Dr. Chase's Ointment a Prompt and Positive Cure.

The suffering caused by the intense itching and burning sensations of piles is only one of the horrors of this disease, for there is always great danger of piles developing into fistula, one of the most disgusting diseases imaginable.

Even the great danger and expense of an operation are preferable to running the risk of contracting this most loathsome of diseases.

But there is no necessity for a surgical operation for piles. Dr. Chase's Ointment is guaranteed to cure any case of piles, no matter of how long standing, or how aggravated the case may be, so long as piles have not become fistula.

It is only by rare chance that internal treatment will cure piles. But it matters not from what cause they arise, Dr. Chase's Ointment will at once stop the itching and burning, and soon effect a perfect cure.

You can use Dr. Chase's Ointment with fullest assurance that what has cured scores of thousands of cases of piles will cure you. For sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

MONKEY AND BOY.

They Were Equally Concerned In the Jail Delivery.

In the picturesque little town of Lawrenceburg, Ind., there used to be an old stone building that was used as a jail. It could tell many a strange story of the persons it deprived of liberty, but would, if it were wise, be silent concerning one incident that proved to be a joke on itself.

Among the boys of the town was a half witted lad who was particularly incorrigible, and whose constant companion was a little monkey, who attended him as faithfully as Mary's little lamb. One of his mental weaknesses was known to be a confusion of the ideas of mine and thine, and after one very considerable theft the local Sherlock Holmes found footprints of Jocko, the monk, in regions from which the missing articles had disappeared, and so the boy was arrested. There was no law for imprisoning the monkey, so he was not "pinched." The boy was a model prisoner for several days, but was suddenly seised with a desire to have his monkey with him. So earnestly did he beg for this that the good natured jailer had Jocko brought to the cell. That night the lad, who was supposed to be without intelligence, began clawing out the mortar around one of the largest stones in the outer wall. He could not do much with his blunt fingers and weak nails, but the monkey immediately began imitating him. The long claws of the animal soon loosened up enough mortar to enable the boy to pull the stone out of the wall, and before morning both boy and monkey had disappeared.

Be on Your Guard!

BRAIN FAG

Is the result of Overwork and an Exhausted Nervous System. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food creates New Brain and Nerve Tissue.

Business and professional men, accountants, stenographers, teachers, students and all brain workers know only too well what it means to have the brain so tired out that concentration of thought is almost impossible.

One-fifth of all the blood in the human body is found in the brain, and unless the blood is pure and rich the brain becomes exhausted for want of proper nourishment.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Blood Food creates new brain and nerve tissue, and produces rich red blood, "the vital fluid" of the body.

All brain workers quickly recognize the merits of this great food cure, and after a few doses enter on their work with new energy and ambition.

Brain fag is unknown to persons whose brain and nerve have been invigorated by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, which is for sale by all dealers at 50c. a box.

Dr. Chase's New Book, "The Ills of Life and How To Cure Them," sent free to your address. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

MILNER AND KRUGER.

Mr. Chamberlain Says That They May Confer Again.

London, June 14.—Special importance is attached to the Cabinet Council which took place yesterday morning. It lasted a couple of hours and it is believed the Ministers finally determined upon the policy to be adopted towards the Transvaal.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, answering a question in the House of Commons yesterday, said the Government would wait full reports of the recent conference at Bloemfontein, between President Kruger and the British high commissioner, Sir Alfred Milner, before sending the latter further instructions. Mr. Chamberlain points out a policy that would remove all pretext for intervention and suggests a conference between Sir Alfred Milner and President Kruger, in which he leaves Milner a free hand, laying stress upon the matter of franchise in the Transvaal, and instructing the British representative that if his suggestions in this regard are not fairly received he need not urge any further attempt at discussion.

The Pacific Cable.

In answer to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, said the discussion between the Imperial and Colonial Governments with regard to the proposed Pacific cable continued. He added that he was not yet in a position to indicate the terms of the Government's amended offer.

SAN JOSE COMMISSIONERS.

Ontario Cabinet Names Prof. Mills and Inspector Dearness.

Toronto, June 14.—The Ontario Cabinet met yesterday afternoon and heard arguments from Hon. John Dryden urging the appointment of a commission to look into the devastation caused by and to suggest remedies for the San Jose scale.

The idea met with the approbation of the Ministers and two of the proposed commission were named. They are Prof. Mills of O.A.C. and Inspector Dearness of Guelph. Others will be named later.

Toronto Conference Over.

THE DRUMMOND RAILWAY BILL

And the Grand Trunk Agreement Bill Both Passed.

GOVERNMENT MAJORITY 51.

Mr. Fielding's Iron and Steel Bounties Resolution Considered by the House in Committee and Reported—Gradual Extinction—The Commons Makes Good Progress With Public Business.

Ottawa, June 14.—Considerable progress with public business was made in the House yesterday. The bills approving the agreements with the Drummond County Railway Company and the G. T. R. Company were given third readings and passed, the Government majority upon the vote being 51. An amendment by Mr. Foster, providing that no change should be made in the agreement without the consent of Parliament, was declared lost on division. The Minister of Finance introduced his resolutions containing the iron bounties and providing for their gradual extinction, which was received with general approbation by the Opposition and was reported by the committee of the whole.

Proceedings in the House.

Hon. Mr. Blair laid on the table the figures with respect to the Drummond County and Grand Trunk, which he had promised Mr. Foster.

Mr. Sifton introduced bills to amend the acts respecting the Department of the Interior and the geological survey.

Mr. Sifton also introduced an act to amend the Dominion Lands Act. The bill re-arranges the terms of sale of Dominion lands, amongst other things providing that payment may be made in ten annual installments, instead of five, as at present. It also authorizes the issue of script to half-breeds in the Athabasca districts and elsewhere in the Northwest.

Mr. Sifton introduced a bill to amend the Land Titles Act, which provides that territories laid out in the west during the boom may be dealt with as ordinary lands.

Drummond County Bill.

Hon. Mr. Foster, on the third reading of the Drummond County bill being moved, entered into a long and elaborate criticism of the Drummond County deal, comparing the first bargain made by the Government, and which was rejected by the Senate on the ground that it was an improvident bargain, with the second bargain, now before the House, contending that although the second bargain was $494,199 better than the first, so far as the purchase of the Drummond County road was concerned, and $65,795 less on betterment, or a total saving to the country of $559,987, it was still far from being a good bargain.

Mr. Blair followed in a long and exhaustive defence of both bargains, contending that the Drummond County road was worth all that the Government proposed paying for it, and that Mr. Foster was altogether astray in his estimate of the excessive terms paid the Grand Trunk.

Mr. Blair spoke for an hour after recess and was followed by Mr. Borden of Halifax, in opposition to the bill, and Mr. McMullen in support of it.

At 10.15 the members were called in and the House divided on the third reading of the Drummond County purchase bill, which was carried, 91 for to 40 against.

The Grand Trunk Lease.

On the third reading of the bill for the lease of a portion of the Grand Trunk Mr. Foster moved an amendment to the effect that should any change be proposed in the track arrangement under section 40 of the lease the same should have no effect until it had been approved by Parliament.

The amendment was declared lost on division, and the third reading was carried on the same division as the Drummond County bill. The vote was a straight party one, with the exception that Mr. Moore, Conservative, of Stanstead, Que., voted with the Government.

Iron and Steel Bounties.

Mr. Fielding moved the House into committee on the following resolution on the bounties on iron and steel:

That it is expedient to provide that the bounties on steel ingots, puddled iron bars and pig iron made in Canada, authorized by chapter 6 of the Acts of 1897, shall, on the termination of the period therein mentioned be gradually reduced during a limited term until they are extinguished, and that the bounties to be paid for the additional term shall be as follows:

From April 23, 1902, to June 30, 1903, both inclusive, the bounties shall be 90 per centum of the amount fixed by the said act.

From July 1, 1903, to June 30, 1904, both inclusive, the bounties shall be 75 per centum of the amount fixed by the said act.

From July 1, 1904, to June 30, 1905, both inclusive, the bounties shall be 55 per centum of the amount fixed by the said act.

From July 1, 1905, to June 30, 1906, both inclusive, the bounties shall be 35 per centum of the amount fixed by the said act.

From July 1, 1906, to June 30, 1907, both inclusive, the bounties shall be 20 per centum of the amount fixed by the said act.

Provided, however, that if any steel ingots be made from puddled iron bars manufactured in Canada no bounty shall be paid on such steel ingots.

The said bounties shall cease and determine on June 30, 1907.

The resolution was debated at some length and adopted.

Sir Charles Tupper expressed the hope that the Government would extend to Newfoundland the benefits of the iron bounties.

Mr. Fielding said it might cause a little strain to do so, but the Government would consider the matter.

House adjourned at 12.30.

STILL HOPE OF ARBITRATION.

The Attitude of Germany May Yet Be Modified—Important Advance.

London, June 14.—All the special despatches to the London morning papers from The Hague discuss the attitude of Germany, and the correspondents generally agree that it is still possible that the arbitration scheme may be adopted.

An Important Advance.

The Hague, June 14.—The Red Cross sub-committee of the peace conference has reported in favor of applying the Geneva convention to naval warfare. This is regarded as a highly important advance.

Helping China Will Help Themselves.

Tokyo, Japan, June 14.—It is reported that all of the men-of-war captured from the Chinese in the late war between the two countries are to be returned to the Chinese Government. This is part of the policy decided on by Japan to protect her neighbor from the inroads of the powers. It is said that the only requirement to be made is that China invest so many millions in new war vessels to be built under Japanese direction.

Arrested as a Spy.

Paris, June 14.—The Italian general arrested at Nice is General Gillette de St. Joseph. He was examining the fortifications on the frontier, and a number of plans of fortifications were found on him. The General, who owns a villa on the French Riviera, has been suspected and was closely watched of late. He denied having been engaged in espionage, and said the plans were those of a tourist.

Picquart Exonerated.

Paris, June 14.—The Chamber of Indictments yesterday decided that there is no case against Lieut.-Col. Picquart, charged with forgery in the Dreyfus case, or against Maitre Leblois, his counsel, against whom charges were also made in connection with the case. The judgment of the court thus finally exonerates Picquart, who was released from prison, after being nearly a year in confinement.

A POSSIBLE MINISTRY.

President Loubet Said to Be Anxious to End the French Cabinet Crisis Quickly.

Paris, June 14.—President Loubet conferred with the president of the Senate, M. Fallieres, and with the president of the Chamber of Deputies, M. Deschanel, yesterday morning, and impressed them with the necessity of quickly ending the Cabinet crisis. It is believed that M. Poincare will be asked to form a Cabinet. It is understood he is ready to accept the task, and it is even said he has already selected a Cabinet to be composed as follows:

M. Poincare, Premier and Minister of Public Instruction.
M. Delcasse, Minister of the Interior.
M. Bourgeois, Minister of Foreign Affairs.
M. Krantz, Minister of War.
M. Rouvier, or M. Delombre, Minister of Finance.
M. Waldeck-Rousseau, or M. Monis, Minister of Justice.

Young McMillan Pardoned.

Ottawa, June 14.—William M. McMillan, the East Toronto boy convicted by Judge McDougall for arson in 1895, and at present undergoing a 10-year sentence in Kingston Penitentiary, has been pardoned. The Minister of Justice, it is learned here, has just signed an order for his release.

Arrested for Arson.

HALF BLIND FROM ECZEMA

Three Children Afflicted. Whole Bodies and Faces Sore, Raw and Bloody Mass.

Tried Doctor after Doctor for 20 Months Without Slightest Relief. Crying Constantly.

Could n't Sleep. Tried CUTICURA. First Application Gave Relief. Cured in Fourteen Days.

My second child got eczema when seven months old. Three months later my first child got it, and following him, the last one, two years old, fell a victim. For twenty months they suffered fearful agony. Their whole bodies, especially their faces, were so sore and raw that the little ones were blind half the time. No words can describe the suffering of my second child, whose whole body was one bloody mass. He was constantly crying, could get no sleep, and he actually did not look human. I tried doctor after doctor, but none afforded the slightest relief. I decided to try CUTICURA. The first application brought relief in each case, and after fourteen days' treatment with CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA (ointment), the worst case was cured, and the whole neighborhood is surprised at the wonderful effect of CUTICURA. I continue the use of CUTICURA SOAP for the children, because it makes the little ones look splendid.

Nov. 28, 1898. MRS. ANNIE RING, 515 E. 12th St., New York City.

In all the world there is no other treatment so pure, so sweet, so speedily effective for distressing skin humors of infants and children as CUTICURA, greatest of skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies. A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single anointing with CUTICURA (ointment), purest of emollient skin cures, will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep to both parent and child, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure, when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. POTTER D. AND C. CORP., Sole Props., Boston. "How to Cure Baby Humors," free.

BASS AND LUNGE FISHING.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir—I have neither the time nor the disposition to continue a newspaper discussion on this or any other subject, but I must beg a few words in reply to yours of last week.

One might feel inclined to be greatly elated on being complimented on dealing with a subject whose annual value is "estimated" to be "about twenty millions of dollars," but when we realize that you refer to the value of the deep water and all fisheries throughout the Dominion, it sounds like a huge joke, and we may be pardoned if we fail to see the connection, unless it be to give a fictitious importance to the subject under discussion. Why sir, the annual mercantile value of the bass and 'lunge fishing throughout our inland waters is about ninety thousand dollars, or less than one-tenth of one million.

Re your statement that "the Indians in the fall of the year stake out all the beds where the bass and 'lunge are going to congregate during the winter," you seemingly wish to convey the idea that I am stating for a purpose what I know to be untrue.

I beg to say, Mr. Editor, that what I have stated are facts, which if necessary, I am prepared to prove, and any one who states to the contrary simply tells what is not true.

And regarding those mythical "fishing shanties," I have been among the Indians for thirteen years and have never seen or heard of one, nor has anyone else in this part of the country, for the very good reason that they have no existence apart from the inventive mind of your informant.

But you say, "We have it on undoubted authority that sleigh load after sleigh load of fish leave Stony Lake, caaught at a time, etc." This statement, Mr. Editor, gives strong symptoms of a disordered spleen, and that the public may know what a magnificent sample it is, and the nature of the means that are being used to induce the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to make this unnecessary change, I wish to say, that from careful enquiry, I find that all last winter just three lone Indians fished for two days in Stony Lake, and caught in that time six bass and two white fish, and they hadn't "fishing shanties," either, but they must have had all the bass and 'lunge beds staked out, or they never would have known where to go to get such a superabundant catch. This ought to show you what nonsense you're talking.

Perhaps your "undoubted authority" will tell us how many "sleigh loads" there were in those six bass and two white fish.

But sir, your own statement sounds like a huge paradox. First you say "the fish bite freely and are caught by the sleigh load." Now you get nearer the truth and say that "from three to five hundred pounds of fish are brought in weekly, purchased from the Indians." Less than one fish each per week, and you desire, and by such means, to take this last bite from them to give it to "sportsmen" and "summer visitors," but you will not condescend to tell them what you would put them at, nor what you will give them in exchange for this last bite.

The fish beds are to the Indians what the wheat field is to the farmer, and if these are taken from them, in this way, many of them must starve or steal, or be fed at the country's expense.

You mistake my contention when you say I "contend that a handful of people be allowed to continue to deplete our lakes and rivers of the fish," etc.

I contend that the depletion complained of is caused not by the few fish caught by the Indians, but by the artificial conditions established by our canal system with its locks and dams, thus making it possible for our lock and dam caretakers to cause such havoc with the spawn and fry every spring by the raising and lowering of the water when the bass and 'lunge are spawning. This can be proven and the destruction can easily be prevented, and I further contend that our fish can be put to no better use than to provide work and food for our own population. And if this subject deals with interests so valuable, and is fraught with such consequences, why does our gifted M.P.P. not take his constituents into his confidence and hold a few meetings to ascertain their views before trying to deprive them of their fish by this piece of pernicious class legislation?

If anyone is to be given a preference in re those fish, surely the interests of the residents and ratepayers of our own country do not come after either foreigners, or "sportsmen" and summer visitors.

We know that our governments are fully alive to the importance and value of this great subject, as evidenced by their actions, for do not our legislators vote themselves the miserable pittance of six to eight hundred dollars for a few week's work, while to a fishery inspector, who has only four or five oddlakes, with the water stretches between them, to guard by night and by day during the whole twelve months, they pay the magnificent salary of one hundred dollars a year.

This, Mr. Editor, is a question of politics, and if these are fair samples of the statements and arguments used to practically disfranchise us and to induce the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to change the beginning of the close season from April 15th to Dec. 1st, I think it would be wise for the residents and ratepayers to stop and ask, "Where are we at?" Yours respectfully,

A. E. KENNEDY.

In regard to the above letter—the tone of squrrility and cheap sarcasm that pervades it aside—there is no question of the fact that our northern waters are being practically depleted of fish, which might have remained something like their original abundance, had proper precautions and proper enforcement of regulations for the preservation been observed. Nor is there any question, Mr. Kennedy to the contrary, notwithstanding, of the fact that the Indians have followed the practice of staking out beds, occupied by the fish, for purposes of winter fishing. We have the authority of an Indian himself; and if by chance the staking is not literally done, familiar landmarks such as a particular rock or tree or stump, answers the same purpose to indicate location of place desired. There is also no doubt that as a result of winter fishing "sleigh load after sleigh load have been taken out." It may not have been so last year for it was not to be expected that the fish supply of the waters would stand constant, all the year round fishing. It is very probable that the instance Mr. Kennedy cites of the ill success of "three lone Indians" at fishing in Stony Lake, is in line with the facts. That is the essence of our contention, that by winter methods, combined with summer fishing the waters have been emptied of their fish. Thus was killed the goose that laid the golden egg and there are consequently very few fish for either the Indians or summer fishers. If the fish is necessary for a for supply for the Indians, the fact of the latter selling them to middlemen at 2 or 3 cents per pound, a figure that will not represent half so valuable and extensive a food supply as if the Indians consumed the fish directly. This however, they do not do; but are subjected to the importunities of those who pose as their friends and purchase fish at nominal prices from the Indians to resell at a large profit. If the Indians had sold their winter catch of fish directly to the local dealers they might find out, in the difference in price, the material foundation of some of the friendly interest in their welfare so loudly expressed.

In regard to Mr. Kennedy's criticism of the statement that fish bite freely and are caught by the sleigh load, we have only to explain that that was literally true applied a short time ago, but it may be to-day, perhaps, open to objection; for this very practice in the past combined with summer fishing has pretty, thoroughly cleaned our lakes of fish, and if the statement objected to is subject to criticism, it only, as remarked, bears out our contention as to the injurious results of winter fishing.

Mr. Kennedy's contention that the depletion of the waters is caused "not by the few fish caught by the Indians," but by our canal system of locks and dams, will not hold water; and if his general knowledge of the subject he writes about with so much bounce, is on a par with the ignorance displayed by this statement, then he is not to be taken seriously. In a former letter Mr. Kennedy says:

> "Every spring about the first of April, as the ice is beginning to break up, and just when the bass and 'lunge are beginning to look for spawning grounds, the stop logs are put down, and the water is raised from three to five feet on the perpendicular."

This is quite untrue. All the stop logs are taken out in January, and remain out until the water reaches its normal level, and the water is now better regulated in relation to the safety of spawning grounds than it would be in the natural condition. There is to-day, perhaps, a better and more uniform level of water maintained than there has been in the past sixty years, so that we have to fall back upon winter and out of season fishing, in conjunction with summer fishing, as the cause of the depletion of the stock of fishes in our waters. Our object is to preserve the fish supply by procuring such changes in the regulations as will prevent the destruction of our fish preliminary to, and at the time of spawning—something that means the complete depletion of our waters of their fish population.

The subject is pretty well beyond further controversy. Mr. Kennedy professes to be anxious to preserve the fish for food supply for the Indians, and advocates the very plan to destroy the supply altogether—winter fishing and fishing at seasons when the conditions of reproduction are destroyed. Incidentally, he advocates a practice that gives a minimum of value to the fish caught by the Indians—the sale of fish at nominal prices to middlemen, who reap the bulk of the profit. We have shown that winter fishing has almost completely depleted the waters, and if at the present time it is not so extensively followed it is viously been caused by it that there are very few fish left, so that there is a very strong argument for adopting the extension of the close season from April 1st to December 1st.

Those who fish in our inland waters between Bobcaygeon and Lakefield, know from experience that the fish in these waters are becoming an unknown quantity, and that the cause is not the quantity of fish caught during the summer months. They will, therefore, welcome the regulations published elsewhere in to-day's issue looking to the preservation and natural increase of the fish of these waters.

LOCAL LEGAL.

The Globe in its Osgoode Hall reports refers as follows to a case of local interest:

James v. Armstrong.—R. R. Hall for defendants. W. H. G. Armstrong and wife, moved to set aside verdict and judgment for plaintiff for $200 in an action for libel tried before Robertson, J., and a jury at Peterborough, and to dismiss the action on the ground that the alleged libel was privileged, or for a new trial, on the ground of misdirection and nondirection. The plaintiff was a girl of sixteen years, and the alleged libel was contained in a letter written by one or both of the defendants and sent to plaintiff's father and mother, which in effect, charged that the plaintiff was a prostitute. The letter was written in answer to a letter written by the plaintiff's mother to one of the defendants, in which the conduct of the defendant, W. H. G. Armstrong, in regard to the plaintiff's daughter was impugned. The privilege claimed was on account of the letter having been written in answer to the other, and having been written in discharge of a duty owed to the plaintiff's parents. E. B. Stone, Peterborough, for plaintiff, showed cause. Motion dismissed with costs.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. LUKES.

Thirty-two Candidates Confirmed on Monday Evening.

The Bishop of Toronto brought a very successful and encouraging visit to the churches of Peterborough to a conclusion Monday night, when thirty two candidates nineteen females and thirteen males, were confirmed in St. Luke's church.

The church was crowded with a reverent and attentive congregation and the service was, as is usually the case with confirmation services, deeply impressive. The Bishop addressed the candidates upon the subject of the temptations of the world which sprang out of the abuse of pleasures, and business and sorrows of life.

Appropriate hymns were sung by the choir and congregation, and after the offertory Mrs. Parker sang Gounod's "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

After the ceremony the candidates turned to the school house, where the Bishop shook hands with them.

Rev. J. C. Davidson then congratulated the candidates, expressing his good wishes for their welfare. Mr. Symonds then reminded them that they were now full members of the Church, and exhorted them to be loyal to it. A large number of the congregation was present, and all the confirmees then joined one or other organization of the church—the Woman's Auxiliary, the Young Women's Chapter of the Guild, and the Men's Chapter.

KRUGER TO THE RAAD

Transvaal President Asserts That He Does Not Want War.

BUT HE WON'T GIVE UP MORE.

The Dutch Government Remonstrates With the Stubborn Boer, and Warns Him That Disastrous Consequences Are Likely to Follow if He Persists in His Present Policy.

Pretoria, June 15.—The Volksraad has resolved to accept President Kruger's franchise proposals and refer them to the people before putting them into operation. President Kruger, in thanking the Raad, said that in these troublesome times they could not know what was going to happen. England had not made even one little concession, and he could not give more. He reminded the Raad that Germany had always stood by them. War, he asserted, he did not want, but he would not relinquish anything more.

The trial of the alleged former British officers who were arrested at Johannesburg on May 16 last, on the charge of high treason in having attempted to enroll men with a view to a rebellious outbreak, which began here on June 9, terminated yesterday. The prisoners were remanded.

Remonstrance to Kruger.

London, June 15.—The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at The Hague says: "The Dutch Government has sent President Kruger a remonstrance respecting the disastrous consequences that are likely to follow persistence in his present policy."

Blue Book Does Not Contain Threats.

London, June 15.—Though the sensational papers are making much of the blue book on the Transvaal negotiations issued last night, in which the British high commissioner at South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner, practically declared it beyond doubt a case for British intervention in the Transvaal, the reply of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, to the petition of the Uitlanders, removes many apprehensions. The text shows it did not contain threats, concerning which many rumors were afloat, and demonstrates that there is, therefore, still time for the disputants to arrange a compromise, of which signs are not wanting.

A Conciliatory Despatch.

Brussels, June 15.—Dr. Leyds, the representative in Europe of the Transvaal Republic, received yesterday the following conciliatory despatch from Pretoria: "The Government does not make arbitration a condition of concessions. It will continue to make concessions, even as regards the franchise, independently of Great Britain's acceptance or non-acceptance of arbitration."

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

May Not Adjourn Until the Middle of July.

The Hague, June 15.—It is now expected the peace conference will not adjourn before the middle of July, as it is thought the labors of the delegates will not be finished before that time, but there is the additional question of the acceptance by the powers of the decisions adopted by the conference.

The refusal of Great Britain to accept the stipulations of the Brussels conference, if they should be made definite, would not prevent the other powers from pledging themselves to action in the matter. There is no doubt that the Brussels conference sub-committee will reach a practical result, but it is possible some of the powers, while reserving the right to apply the new stipulations when necessary, may not consent to bind themselves forthwith.

Dr. Zorn and Arbitration.

London, June 15.—The correspondent of The Daily Chronicle at The Hague reports an interview he has had with Dr. Zorn of the German delegation regarding arbitration. Dr. Zorn said, "Nothing is lost. We shall continue the negotiations in the most friendly spirit. My personal opinion in no way commits Germany, and I share the general hope of finding a favorable solution."

NOT SETTLED.

Premier Laurier Is Interviewed by the G.T.R. Trackmen's Committee—The Strike Situation Elsewhere.

Ottawa, June 15.—The Prime Minister and Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., were interviewed yesterday morning and afternoon by Messrs. H. F. McKenny, secretary of the United Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen; Organizer Harris and Mr. Lowe, in respect of the possibilities of a settlement of the G.T.R. trackmen's strike. The conference was not productive of any direct results, but there are strong probabilities that an accommodation will be arrived at. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has received from General Manager Hays a reply to his letter entrusted to Mr. Sutherland on Sunday last. Mr. Hays' reply is of a conciliatory nature.

The Road Inspection.

Hamilton, June 15.—The Government inspector passed through here on the G. T.R. yesterday. He was in Superintendent Jones' private car with Mr. Jones.

No Change at Toronto.

Toronto, June 15.—There were no new developments in the trackmen's strike of the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday. Both General Superintendent McGuigan and Grand Organizer Lowe were in the city, and both brought good news to their respective bodies. The men say they are out to win and they will continue the strike.

Last night General Superintendent McGuigan said: "We have enough of trackmen on the entire system to properly look after the tracks. Out of the regular summer staff of 1,000 men on the middle division there are now 600 on duty. On the northern we have not regarded that part so important, but there are probably 100 at work. The places of the strikers who still refuse to return to work will be gradually filled, and if any of the old hands apply for jobs after their posts have been filled by others the company will likely assign them to other duties."

All the lines east of Montreal, he said, were well patrolled, and there were only men out on about six sections. Mr. McGuigan is satisfied with the condition of things, and says he is not losing any sleep over the strike. The trouble, he now claims, is about over, the men having been vanquished. Mr. McGuigan will go east to Montreal this morning.

Three Thousand Men Quit.

Denver, Col., June 15.—The 3,000 employes of the trust smelters in Denver, Pueblo and Leadville walked out at noon yesterday, after having extinguished the fires in the big furnaces and put everything in perfect order for a season of idleness. The strike is due to the refusal of the American Smelting & Refining Company to pay the same wages for eight hours as it has paid heretofore for 10 or 12 hours.

BUFFALO'S BIG STRIKE.

Organizer Joyce Advises the Men to Carry Revolvers.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 15.—Fully 2,500 men are on strike or have quit work along the docks for various reasons and outside of the elevating of grain no work is being done. The freight handlers held a big meeting last night and decided to remain out until the demand of the Erie housemen for an increase of one cent an hour in wages is granted.

At the freight handlers' meeting last night Organizer Michael Joyce advised the men to carry revolvers when they return to work. He said it was absolutely necessary for their own protection.

5,000,000 STARVING.

Frightful State of Affairs in Southern Russia.

INCAPACITY OF OFFICIALS.

Not One Babe Born This Year in the Kazan District Is Now Alive—All Other Harrowing Details Pale Into Insignificance Beside This One—Worse Than in '91-'92.

London, June 15.—While famine is now threatening the southern provinces of Russia, the correspondent of The Times at St. Petersburg wires that the condition of the seven provinces of East European Russia is worse than it was during the famine of 1891 and 1892.

"Quite half a population of 11,000,000," he says, "are undergoing terrible sufferings, starvation and disease; and the authorities everywhere appear incapable and unprepared to deal with the calamity. Money is squandered in absurdly high pay to relief agents, and, owing to the high prices which the Government charges for seed corn, no encouragement is given to peasants to till the ground.

"It is unnecessary to quote the harrowing details received from the relief agents. These could add nothing to the stern significance of the statement made by a Russian of authority in one district in the Government of Kazan, that not one child born there this year is now alive."

CORPSES, MANGLED PEOPLE.

Past Tornado Scenes in the Stricken Town of New Richmond, Wis.

New Richmond, Wis., June 15.—Fully 100 corpses, twice as many mangled people, 40 acres of piles of brick, shivered planks, scattered heaps of household goods, dead horses, through which the wind had driven sharp splinters of board, smouldering fires, where houses stood previous to the cyclone, and in the midst of it all trees as bare of leaves as ever they were in the middle of winter, and for the most part, stripped bare of bark—this is what the funnel of death wrought in the space of three minutes upon the town of New Richmond.

Winona Suffered Heavily.

Winona, Minn., June 15.—A storm broke over this city Tuesday night and did much damage, estimated at more than $200,000.

Nebraska Towns Flooded.

Omaha, Neb., June 15. — Eastern Nebraska and western Iowa were visited Tuesday by an unusually severe storm. The amount of water that fell varied from two to five inches, and many towns were flooded.

Ten Killed at Herman, Neb.

Herman, Neb., June 15.—Ten were killed and about 25 injured in Tuesday night's tornado here. Not a building in the town escaped damage.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

British Colonies Invited to Send Delegates to England.

London, June 15.—The Governments of the British colonies interested in the proposed Pacific cable have been invited to appoint delegates to further discuss with the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the mode of raising the necessary capital and the manner of construction and control of the cable.

Russia Makes a Grab in Corea.

London, June 15.—Though it has not attracted much attention here, recent news from Odessa is of real importance. It appears that Russia has leased from the Seoul Government three ice-free ports on the coast of Corea, probably including Port Lazareff, a really magnificent harbor, on the eastern side of the peninsula. Though the lease is only for 19 years, those qualified to judge are convinced that Russia never will lose her hold on these harbors, her next step being to connect by railway the foothold thus gained on the Corean littoral with Vladivostock. It is believed that Russia will practically apply to Corea the process which has made Manchuria a Russian province.

Carolines Ceded to Germany.

Madrid, June 15.—The Senate yesterday adopted the bill ceding the Caroline Islands to Germany.

THE FARMERS' PICNIC.

Considerable feeling was expressed in town yesterday by the members of the Farmers' Institutes of East and West Peterborough, as well as by some of the members of the agricultural societies of both ridings, at the assumption of the boat managers in styling the excursion down the river to-day. "The annual farmers' picnic" which hitherto has always been conducted by one or other of these societies. The opinion seems to be divided as to the propriety of the boat managers in running an excursion of this nature, assuming to take the place of the farmers annual outing. It is said by some that the boat management has a perfect right to advertise an excursion for farmers if they desire to do so, others again contend that an advantage has been taken of these institutes in leading the public to think that this excursion has taken the place of the annual event, which takes place under the auspices of the farmers. The guarantee of the bona fide of an excursion is the names of the managing committee and if the public would consult this detail of the advertising, no mistake could arise. The boat men will contend that they have a perfect right to advertise the excursion in this manner but the societies will still contend that they were sidetracked in the matter.

FISHERIES OF ONTARIO.

Important Regulations Which Have Just Been Passed by the Government of Ontario.

The Ontario Government have just adopted, upon the recommendation of Hon. A. S. Hardy, Commissioner of Fisheries, a series of regulations in regard to the fisheries of the Province. The regulations contain the following clauses:

Fishing by means of any kind of net, seine, snare, rack, trap or weir, night line, set line, spear, grapnel, negog or nishgan, or by any other means or apparatus whatever, without a fishing lease, license or permit from the Commissioner of Fisheries having been first obtained, is prohibited; but nothing in this section shall prevent angling without a license for any fish except sturgeon. But no sturgeon shall be caught, taken or killed by any means whatever without a license first had and obtained.

No person shall take, catch or kill in any of the waters of this Province by angling, or by any other means, for the purpose of barter or sale, from the first day of December to the fifteenth day of April, both days inclusive, any black bass or Oswego or large-mouthed bass, without a license first had and obtained; provided that nothing in this section shall apply to prevent a bona fide settler residing within five miles of the place from which such fish are caught from taking not more than twelve bass in any one day for the domestic use of himself and his family.

No bass less than ten inches in length, no speckled trout less than six inches in length, no pickerel less than twelve inches in length and no maskinonge less than fifteen inches in length shall be retained or kept out of the water, sold, offered or exposed for sale, or had in possession; but every person who takes or catches any of the fish mentioned of less than the minimum measurement named (which measurement shall be from point of nose to centre of tail) shall immediately return such undersized fish to the water from which they were taken, alive, and in so far as possible, uninjured.

No non-resident, tourist or summer visitor shall take, catch or kill in any one day, by angling in the inland lakes of this Province, or shall carry away a greater number than ten lake trout, any one of which shall exceed three pounds in weight; nor in the alternative, a greater number of lake trout of less weight than three pounds each than in the aggregate shall weigh more than twenty pounds; provided that nothing in this section shall apply to limit the quantity of lake trout (other than speckled or brook trout) to be taken by angling from any inland lake in this Province by a bona fide settler residing within five miles of the lake from which such fish are taken for the domestic use of himself and family.

Subject to the condition contained in the preceding section, no person shall by any means whatever, take, catch or kill, or shall buy, sell, or offer or expose for sale or have in possession any salmon trout, lake trout or whitefish weighing less than two pounds in the round or undressed, or which when dressed weighs less than one pound and three-quarters, or any sturgeon of less than ten pounds in weight.

No person is to catch or kill in any one day by angling a greater number than twelve bass of Oswego or large-mouthed bass, twenty green bass, twenty pickerel, or four maskinonge.

The catch of speckled or brook trout by each angler in one day is limited to an aggregate weight of fifteen pounds, and is not to exceed fifty in number.

The term non-resident, tourist or summer visitor include any and all persons who may during the spring, summer or autumn months, be temporarily visiting, boarding, lodging or domiciled in any locality at a distance of over five miles from his or her usual place of residence at other times of the year.

LAKEFIELD.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. J. L. Madill was in Whitby and Toronto last week.

Messrs. White and Grylls, proprietors of the steamer, Sunbeam, are having a fine new scow built.

Mrs. S. Montgomery is visiting her son, Mr. Wm. Montgomery at Hawkesbury.

Mr. W. C. Mitchell, wife and family, of Kingston, are the guests of Mr. J. L. Madill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingles, of Owen Sound, and Mr. and Mrs. Leary of Peterborough, were in the village, the guests of Mrs. Reynolds.

Mr. Andrew Onderdonk, contractor, on the Balsam Lake section of the Trent Valley Canal, passed through the village last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Abbot leave this week for a trip to British Columbia.

Miss Lewis, of the Y.W.C.A., was in the village on Saturday.

Miss B. Blewitt, of Young's Point, is the guest of Mrs. Jas. Moore.

Capt. and Adjt. Cockburn, Lieut. Tate and Lieut. Haywood of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, left last week for the camp at Niagara. They were accompanied by Messrs. R. H. Alford, W. Fischer and R. Richardson.

H. Moore has returned from Whitney, where he has been working for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, of Bethany, were in the village on Saturday, the guests of Capt. Reynolds.

Mr. J. A. McDonald, of Peterborough, was in the village on Sunday.

R. Graham and son are showing a nice line of white and coloured muslins, lawns, swiss spots, organdies, etc., all new patterns, and at prices from 10 cents upwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and Miss Finlayson were in the village this week.

Miss Nellie Fischer of Peterborough was in the village on Sunday.

Mr. Fred Bates of Peterborough, wheeled out here on Sunday afternoon, visiting his parents.

A great many dogs have been poisoned here during the past four or five weeks, nearly all of them being valuable, and highly prized by their owners for their hunting qualities. An effort is being made to capture the offenders, and if found the full measure of the law will be meted out to them.

The council have erected a large tank on the town hall square, which will be supplied by water by a hydraulic ram, which is placed in position near the electric light station. The water thus stored will supply the watering cart for watering the streets, A watering trough for watering horses will be placed alongside the tank.

The work on the new steamer is progressing very rapidly, the steel frame is now all rivetted together, the boilder and engine placed in position, and the planking nearly completed. It now begins to look as it is, a very handsome boat.

The steamer Sunbeam was busy towing logs the latter part of last week.

The government dredge went up to Young's Point last week and is engaged in dredging out the entrance to the canal.

R. Graham & Son sell the choicest butter, lard, canned vegetables, canned salmon, mackerel, Vienna sausage, fresh herring, kippered herring, tongue, corned beef, etc.

Mrs. Jas. Moore with Messrs. John English, Wm. Cox, jr., and James Mahood, are up at Stony Lake building a cottage for Mr. Charles Armstrong.

Mr. Abel Hendren and Messrs. R. J. Crawford, Joseph Paul and H. Masters are making extensive alteration at "Viamede," Mount Julian, Stony Lake, nearly doubling the former capacity of the house. A steel windmill is being erected to furnish water from the lake, a bath room, with hot and cold water and other modern improvements for the comfort of the guests, are being placed in position by the Ontario, Wind, Engine & Pump Co., of Toronto. The hostess is using every means to make "Viamede" a pleasant and comfortable home for the summer visitors.

Mrs. William Cox has added a new dining room and several bedrooms to "Dulce Domum" at Stony Lake.

Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F., attended the Presbyterian church in a body on Sunday morning and listened to a sermon by the Chaplain, Rev. A. C. Reeves, from the text, Prov. 18; 24, "There is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

The Independent Order of Foresters will attend the Church of England next Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock.

The semi-annual meeting of the West Peterborough County Orange Lodge, will be held in the Orange hall on Tuesday evening, June 20th, at 8 o'clock. A full meeting is required to complete the necessary arrangements for the 12th of July.

The prospects are good for a large turnout to the celebration here this year, several lodges have already sent in the acceptances of the invitation sent out. If the lodges deciding to come would send in their acceptance to the committee, at as early a date as possible, it would facilitate the work of the committee very much.

The committee are perfecting arrangements to make the day a complete success.

DARING AERIAL FEATS.

The Hanlon Brothers in their Marvelous and Danger-Defying Feats.

The admittedly great and discerning critic, Col. Franklyn Fyles, of the New York Sun, in commenting upon the intrepidity and marvellous character of the feats of the Four Hanlons, the gymnastic comets, now with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers combined circuses, scheduled to exhibit here on Saturday, June 24th, said in the issue of the Sun of April 21st last:

"Aerial feats are never so attractive in theatres or music halls as in the greater heights that a circus usually affords. Four gymnasts at the Madison Square Gardens, the Hanlons, prove this clearly enough. Two are men and the other are youths apparently. After a tumbling act on one of the stages in the arena, they retire for a few moments and reappear for the most important part of their work. They climb up among the rafters of the Garden, each of the men taking his place on a trapeze hung far from the others. When the apparatus has been set in motion the men swing themselves to a third bar suspended between the first two. Its distance is enough to make the flights seem marvellous to the spectators, so narrow is the margin by which the men save themselves from serious injury, yet the nerves of the spectators are almost as much strained.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

What does it do?

It causes the oil glands in the skin to become more active, making the hair soft and glossy, precisely as nature intended.

It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and thus removes one of the great causes of baldness.

It makes a better circulation in the scalp and stops the hair from coming out.

It Prevents and It Cures Baldness

Ayer's Hair Vigor will surely make hair grow on bald heads, provided only there is any life remaining in the hair bulbs.

It restores color to gray or white hair. It does not do this in a moment, as will a hair dye; but in a short time the gray color of age gradually disappears and the darker color of youth takes its place.

Would you like a copy of our book on the Hair and Scalp? It is free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor write the Doctor about it.

Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

LAKEWADE.

We are having beautiful growing weather just now. The crops are looking splendid after the many showers of rain lately.

We are glad to report that Lizzie Snelgrove has regained her health again.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Pattison is on the mend after two weeks illness.

Mrs. R. Bannon is very ill at present. Dr. Harding is in attendance.

Mrs. Wm. Dingman fell and hurt herself very badly. She is confined to her bed.

The Sabbath school has been started in the Methodist church at McFaddin's Corners, also at the Methuen school house.

A. Woodbeck, Miss L. Baskin, R. Winters, Miss Pratt and G. McGinnis were the guests of Nellie Dingman on Sunday last.

Rev. C. Lord had a picnic at St. Andrew's church on the 24th for the benefit of the Sunday school. They had a good time and gathered quite a sum of money.

There is a gang of miners working at the Cameron mines. We hope to soon see this place flourish. The head man in this gang is an American.

Mr. J. McGinn has received money for his copper mine. He is looking for the prospectors to come in immediately.

There is also talk of a railway going through from Norwood to Apsley. We hope the road will put in an appearance in the near future.

The Chandos cheese factory is receiving more milk this season than usual.

THE BEST ON EARTH

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

Idyl Wyld SUMMER RESORT

RICE LAKE, ONTARIO.

THIS Breezy and Beautiful Island Summer Resort will re-open for the season of 1899 on June 12th, under entirely new and up-to-date management. Important new additions to the building and hotel equipment have been effected. Twenty new Bed Rooms, Sitting Rooms, and Waiting Rooms have been added, and entirely refurnished in modern style. Broad balconies extend around each of the two new stories erected, affording picturesque views of the surrounding scenery.

The cuisine will be a special feature—fresh meat, fresh fish, fresh eggs, milk and butter as well as wholesome vegetables and fruit in abundance, necessitated by a robust appetite, sharpened by the ozone and continual breeze of this idyllic spot.

Good bass and maskinonge fishing all along the shore and lake. No charge for Americans fishing—no permits required. Boats and competent guides furnished. The island steam-launch, "Outlet Queen," can be engaged for cruising and sailing parties. The Park is open for excursion parties whether public or private. Tables and seats for picnic parties are all over the grounds in shady groves. Come and spend your summer vacation at Idyl Wyld, and for your life don't miss it.

Daily boat and mail to and from Harwood, Peterborough and Hastings. Parties can be met at either point when requested.

Special rates for families and for the season. Rooms may be secured in advance by letter, telephone or telegram addressed to R. S. MCDONALD, Manager, Harwood, P.O., Ont. W. J. MACDONALD, Proprietor. 120dtm

THE HOUSE IN SUPPLY

Progress Made With the Supplementary Estimates.

THE TOPICS OF DISCUSSION.

Postal Service in the Yukon—Enforcement of Quarantine—Disposition of Animals Affected With Tuberculosis—Improvement in the Navigation of the St. Lawrence—The Proceedings.

Ottawa, June 15.—Good progress was made with the supplementary estimates yesterday, a number of items being passed in supply. The postal service to the Yukon, the enforcement of quarantine, the disposition of animals affected with tuberculosis and the improvement of the navigation in the St. Lawrence were the topics of discussion. Considerable opposition to the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway Company's bill was developed on the motion to go into committee, and the motion was talked out. Before going into supply Mr. Mulock read a letter from Mr. McLaughlin, giving a denial to the charges made against him in the House a few days ago by Colonel Hughes, in connection with claims made by his clients against the Government for compensation owing to the flooding of their lands. Colonel Hughes followed with a reiteration of the charges.

Information Given.

On opening, Hon. Mr. Blair said, in reply to Mr. George Taylor, that the Government had not settled any claim of Robertson and other farmers for alleged damage by flooding in reconstructing the Grenville Canal.

Some Information.

Hon. Mr. Tarte, in reply to Mr. Hodgins, said that during the past year 2,960 steel boxes had been purchased from the Ottawa Specialty Company and 784 from the Toronto Office Furniture Company for the Department of Interior and Indian Affairs.

Before the orders of the day were called the Minister of the Interior said that he had inquired into certain charges to which attention had been called by Dr. Roche against a Dominion land officer in Manitoba, but there was no land officer of the name given and never had been.

The Postmaster-General read a letter from R. J. McLaughlin of Lindsay, giving his version of the charges made against him by Col. Hughes of "exacting" money. Mr. McLaughlin ran against Col. Hughes at the last general election, and the charge was that McLaughlin was appointed by the present Government to settle some claims of farmers for flooded lands and had "exacted" 20 per cent. from the farmers.

McLaughlin in his letter asserts that he acted purely as solicitor for the farmers' interested, and denies the charges.

Col. Hughes repeated his charges and considerable discussion followed, in the course of which Mr. Mulock said that Col. Hughes could have a Parliamentary committee to investigate the matter if he wished it.

A prolonged discussion followed on the propriety of reading the letter in the House.

Considering the Estimates.

The House then went into committee of supply on the supplementary estimates brought down night before last, and made excellent progress.

Bills Advanced.

After recess the private bill respecting the Quebec, Montmorency & Charlevoix Railway passed through committee, was reported and stands for third reading.

The act respecting the Canada Accident Assurance Company went through committee, was read a third time and passed, as was also the act to incorporate the Canada Plate Glass Assurance Company.

The House went into committee on the act to incorporate the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway Company, and the discussion on the bill was not completed when the hour for private bills expired. The House then went again into committee of supply on the supplementaries for the current year and passed a large number of items.

Going to Europe.

Mr. T. Chase Casgrain, M.P., left yesterday en route for Europe. He said laughingly that he hoped to be back before the House rose if the redistribution bill was persisted in.

Chief Justice Sir Henry Strong is expected to leave for England in the course of a few days to attend the meetings of the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

Inspection of Petroleum.

Ottawa, June 15.—In the Senate yesterday afternoon the bill respecting the inspection of petroleum and naphtha was considered in committee, the Secretary of State explaining the bill. An amendment was incorporated to lower the temperature test from 90 to 80 degrees, after which the committee rose and reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

RIOTING IN JAMAICA.

Fears That the Outbreak May Affect the Banana Output.

Kingston, Ja., June 15.—Advices from St. Mary report serious agrarian rioting last Saturday and again yesterday on the plantations, in the banana district near Richmond on the north coast of the island. The disturbances are said to have originated in ejectment proceedings brought against tenants. Full particulars are not yet at hand, but it is known that Mr. Melville, an overseer at Llanrumney, and his assistant escaped dangerously wounded, after having fired upon the rioters with fatal results. Fears are entertained that the trouble may spread and affect the banana output.

The Venezuelan Dispute.

Paris, June 15.—A preliminary and informal meeting of counsel engaged in the Venezuelan arbitration took place at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs yesterday morning. The meeting of the Venezuelan commission will be held in the apartment placed at the disposal of the Spanish-American peace commission. The first formal meeting of the commission will take place at 11 o'clock this morning.

Carrie Jones Pleaded Guilty.

New York, June 15.—Carrie Jones pleaded guilty in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court yesterday to the indictment for kidnapping Marion Clark. She was remanded to the Tombs.

Historical Exhibition in Toronto.

Toronto, June 15.—The formal opening of the Ontario Historical Society's exhibition took place last night in Victoria College. A letter of regret from Sir Oliver Mowat was read, and the Hon. G. W. Ross, in an admirable address, declared the exhibition opened. Addresses were then made by Mr. Coyne, Mr. Pattullo, Father Jones, Chief Josiah Hill (a Nanticoke of the Tuscaroras). Among the other chiefs present were: The blind chief, John Gibson of the Senecas, and his young son, Harry Gibson; the head chief of the Onondagas, Chief Peter Powlis of the Mohawks, Chief Ojyteka or J. O. Brant-Sero of the Mohawks, Nicodemus Porter of the Oneidas, and the chief of the Delawares.

Lightning Killed Him.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

25th Gathering Has Begun Its Work in Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 15.—The 25th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada has begun its deliberations. Central Church is the scene and in the handsome school house, next door, the various committees are supplied with room. There are also the assembly clerk's office, postoffice and office for registering. About 400 ministers and elders are expected.

The business before the assembly includes the usual reports of the standing committees. The question of raising a century fund will occupy the attention of the assembly. Among the overtures to be presented to the general assembly is one relating to the question of elder moderators. The overture asks the assembly to frame a deliverance regarding the matter. The church is divided as to the propriety of other than a minister occupying the position of moderator of any of the ecclesiastical courts. An overture is also to be submitted asking the church to take action for the appointment of an executive to represent the church in any emergency that may arise from year to year.

Evening Sederunt.

The sederunt opened last evening at 7.45 and besides the commissioners there were many persons present. Rev. Dr. Torrance conducted the opening devotional exercises and preached an eloquent sermon.

At the close of the sermon the moderator made a short address, referring to his retirement from the office. He spoke feelingly of the death of the late Rev. Dr. Cochrane, chairman of the home mission committee, and the demise of Rev. Dr. King, late principal of the college at Winnipeg.

Rev. Dr. Campbell Moderator.

The election of moderator took up considerable time. There were three nominations, as follows: Prof. Bryce, Winnipeg; Rev. G. M. Milligan, Toronto, and Rev. Dr. Campbell, Renfrew. On the first ballot the first-named was dropped, and on the second Rev. Dr. Campbell was elected by 132 votes to 92.

The induction of the new moderator was conducted by Principal Grant of Queen's University.

A Young Canadian Victim.

Kingston, Ont., June 15.—Roger Richardson of Napanee has been notified that the remains of his son, J. C. Richardson, aged 24 years, were en route from Manila to be interred at Washington. He was a corporal in D. Co., Virginia Infantry. He was a splendid specimen of manhood, weighing 200 pounds. He was attacked by fever in the Philippines, and succumbed.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottle free at James Lynch's drug store. Regular size, $1 and 50c. Every bottle guaranteed.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1899 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used, Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. THE COUNTY COURT STILL IN SESSION.

GRAND JURY MAKES ITS PRESENTMENT.

True Bill Against Edward Allen and Thomas McGuire—Judgement in Watley vs. Anglesia.

At the County Court of the County of Peterborough, which is now in session, the case of Watley v. Anglesia occupied the time of the court until adjournment Tuesday night, when the case was given to the jury.

The plaintiff, who is a labourer residing in the township of Dummer sued the defendant for $200 damages and costs for malicious prosecution. It appeared that Watley, who had been working for Anglesia was overpaid by mistake to the extent of one dollar, which sum he refused to refund to the defendant. Anglesia thereupon laid a charge of robbery against Watley before Magistrate Kearney, of Young's Point and had plaintiff arrested. The case was immediately dismissed and Watley sued for damages as above stated.

Mr. Kearney, the magistrate at Young's Point gave evidence on the matter, and stated that he issued the warrant on the strength of the contents of the affidavit of Anglesia, but would not have done so, had he then known the true circumstances.

The following questions were then submitted to the jury, and answered accordingly:

1. Did Anglesia swear to the information before the magistrate, upon which the warrant was issued? Yes.
2. Was Watley arrested at the instance of Anglesia? Yes.
3. Did Anglesia believe that Watley had robbed him of $1.00 or had stolen $1.00 from him? No.
4. Did he state to the magistrate before the warrant was issued all the circumstances of the case fully and truly? No.
5. What damages did Watley sustain by reason of his arrest? Thirty dollars.

Judgment was entered accordingly by the court. Daniel O'Connell for plaintiff; E B. Stone for defendant.

The grand Jury at twelve o'clock delivered the following presentment: To His Honour, Judge Weller, Chairman of the general sessions of the County of Peterborough.

Your grand jurors beg to present that they have pleasure in concurring with your Honour in congratulating the county of Peterborough upon the lightness of the criminal calendar at this and other courts, showing as it does a freedom from crime in the county, which must be a souce of great satisfaction to all.

With regard to the strike upon the Grand Trunk Railway among the trackmen, our sympathy is with the strikers but trust that good sense will govern their actions in future as in the past, and that life and property may not suffer from violence.

We trust also that the offer of mediation made on behalf of the Premier may lead to a speedy settlement of the trouble between the men and the company.

We have examined the jail and find everything clean and neat and well kept, and are satisfied that the prisoners are properly cared for.

We would urge as many grand juries have before, that the town and county councils proceed at once with the erection and maintenance of a house of refuge for the aged and infirm, instead of having them confined in the common jail.

As the other public institutions in town have been visited by the grand jury of the High Court of Justice, we did not deem it necessary to visit them but have every confidence in their management.

All of which is humbly presented. Dated this 14th day of June 1899.

D. D. HENDERSON,
Foreman.

His Honour thanked the grand jurors on behalf of the county, for the able manner in which they had discharged their duties. He noted what they had said in regard to the strike on the G.T.R., and he had learned that a settlement was now in view. He would ask the clerk of the court to find out to whom the proper officials would be to correspond with, that a copy of the presentment, or the extract relating to the trackmen's strike might be forwarded to the authorities. Referring to the erection of a house of refuge, His Honour stated that he understood the councils were considering its willingness to bear its share in the erection and maintenance of such an institution, and he believed that the town council of Peterborough also had of late expressed its willingness to undertake its share of the expense connected therewith, so that it would have a place for its poor and aged without confining them in the common jail, associated with the worst class of criminals. His Honour thanked the grand jury once again and dismissed them.

The grand jury brought in true bills against Edward Allen for theft and Thomas McGuire on the same charge.

Kennedy vs. Ironsides was the next case taken up, and occupied the attention of the court until late in the afternoon. The case is an interesting one to cattle dealers, as it shows how far the responsibility of the shipments of cattle devolves upon the shipper.

The plaintiff was Mr. H. P. Kennedy, of town, and the action was brought to recover the sum of $134, being the amount of balance claimed by plaintiff on a shipment of cattle to defendant's brother in Montreal but which contract was made by defendant himself.

The evidence showed that the defendant, Alfred Ironside, had purchased a load of lambs to be shipped to his brother at Montreal F. O. B. cars at Peterborough, at a certain price per pound, amounting in all to the sum of $744.12. After the shipment had arrived at Montreal, R. Ironside telegraphed Mr. Kennedy that the lambs were not up to the weight specified, and were in a poor condition. Mr. Kennedy wired back mentioning the fact that any of the lambs that were not up to the mark were what was left over from the last shipment, and were accepted by previous inspection of defendant. Plaintiff, however, received a cheque for $612.52 only, being $134.00 short of the full amount, and which was deducted by R. Ironside for freight, shrinkage, etc.

The defendant claimed that he in making the contract with Mr. Kennedy did so merely as the agent of Messrs. Ironside & Gordon of Montreal and was not responsible for any conduct on their part. It appeared from the evidence of Mr. Kennedy nevertheless that the cheques were always given in defendant's name, and that he (plaintiff) did not know Ironside & Gordon in the transaction at all.

Judgement was given in plaintiff's favour for $134.00, being full amount of claim, with costs. J. W. Bennett and E. B. Stone for plaintiff; E. A. Duvernet, Toronto, for defendant.

The first criminal case on the list was that of the Queen vs. Thomas McGuire for theft.

The information in this case was laid by Cornelius Young, of Young's Point, who claimed that the prisoner had stolen from him a set of carpenter's tools.

The prisoner McGuire had been engaged to do some carpenter work for Young and on leaving his employ took a set of tools with him. These tools, Young claimed, were his, and not the prisoner's, and that the latter knew this at the time. McGuire was arrested on the 17th of April last, and was brought before County Magistrate Edmison, when he elected to be tried by jury. He accordingly came up for trial yesterday.

Prisoner as a defence alleged that the tools were his, and not Young's, and that he had given the latter an order on a hardware merchant at Lakefield to get the same. Believing that they were his he had therefore a perfect right to take them.

The case was given to the jury at twelve o'clock, and at half-past one they returned a verdict of not guilty. The prisoner was accordingly discharged.

County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, for the prosecution; Daniel O'Connel for the prisoner McGuire.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

Messrs. Warde & Hall have disposed of their store and tinware business to Messrs. Cinnamon & Everson, which firm has stores in Oshawa and Lindsay, as well as financial interest in several other concerns in Ontario. Mr. Everson is now in town engaged in taking stock in the business just purchased. The new owners propose to carry a heavy assorted stock of all lines of hardware and should do well in Peterborough. Both Mr. Cinnamon and Mr. Everson are active business men and the Examiner welcomes them as good citizens to Peterborough.

At St. Joseph's

At St. Joseph's, Douro, a large congregation attended mass on Tuesday June 13th, in honour of St. Anthony of Padua. Forty-four people went to confession and communion. He is called by Pope Leo XIII. "not only the Saint of Padua, but the Saint of the whole world." He was a native of Lisbon, where he was born in the year of grace, 1195. After belonging to the order of St. Francis for 10 years, he died June 13th, 1231.

The advance guard of the American summer tourists, who annually visit our back lakes, arrived in town yesterday and registered at the Snowden. They were about 30 in number and came from different American cities. They left for Buckhorn and other points in the afternoon.

BIBLE CONFERENCE.

Helpful Address at the Meetings—Good Interest Manifested. Two Stores Now.

The Bible Conference held under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A., began its first session Tuesday afternoon with Rev. J. G. Potter in the chair. There was a good attendance including several of the resident ministers of the gospel, and leading members of the different churches. The opening address was by Rev. Wm. Stewart, D.D., Principal of the Toronto Bible Training School, who spoke on the "Names of God in the Old Testament" bringing out the full meaning, and making a strong practical application. Mr. H. W. Frost of the China Inland Mission followed with a clear and earnest exposition from Ephesians 6: 10-17, of the "Christians Conflict Equipment and Victory." At the close of the meeting not a few expressed their appreciation of the benefit they had received from the instruction given.

In the evening notwithstanding the extreme heat a goodly number again assembled. Rev. Dr. Torrance presided and conducted the opening devotional exercises. The first speaker was Mr. Frost, who chose as his theme, "Christ our High Priest" as set forth in the Epistle to the Hebrews. He proceeded to open up his subject in a beautiful and striking way, but owing to indisposition he had to stop in the middle of his address. Dr. Stewart then gave a practical and suggestive talk on "Bible Study," indicating the state of mind and heart in which it should be conducted, and showing different methods in which it must be carried on. His suggestions were pointed and practical and they cannot fail to be of great value to students of the Word of God.

The Bible Conference was continued at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon and evening. Rev. Elmore Harris gave an excellent study on the Book of Hebrews. His evening lecture was on the "Characteristics of the Four Gospels." Rev. Dr. Stewart also gave an address in the evening on "How to Study the Bible."

To-day at three o'clock Dr. Stewart's subject is "Messianic Prophesy." To-night's session will be of special interest to all Sunday School workers. Dr. Stewart will take up the lesson for next Sunday at the meeting to-night, which will be the closing one of the session.

The members of the Legislature who have signified their intention of going are as follows:—Messrs. Aylesworth, Barber, Blezard, Brown, Burt, Carpenter, Commee, Douglas, Guibord, Hill, Holmes, Breithaupt, Mutrie, Pettypiece, Richardson, Truax, Barr, Beattie, (Leeds), Colquhoun, Dempsey, Eilber, Fox, Hoyle, Jessop, Joynt, Kidd, Little, Lucas, Monteith, W. H. Reid, (Durham), and Marter. Representatives of of the city daily newspapers and a number from other Canadian cities, as well as Buffalo, will be present. Others who will join in the excursion are:—Mr. E. E. Sheppard; Prof. Lochead, of the Agricultural College, Guelph; Mr. T. W. Gibson of the Bureau of Mines; Mr. A. E. Dyment, M.P., and Mr. L. Moffet of the Ottawa Colonization Society. Hon E. J Davis and perhaps one or two other members of the Government will represent the Cabinet.

BRILLIANT NUPTIAL EVENT AT ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURH IN MISHAWAKA

Proves the Most Dazzling Society Function Ever Prepared in This City—Grand Reception Follows Ceremony at the Home of the Bride—Many Guests Participate.

(South Bend, Indiana, Times.)

June, the pretty month of roses, may annually awaken tender memories in the hearts of men and women who at some period of their careers may have selected it as the month in which to pledge one unto the other at Hymen's altar love's tenderest tokens and eternal fidelity. But the June of '99, aside from any other features that may mark its presence, has already produced its crowning event in the local social realm that was destind to create impressions agreeable of contemplation and enduring in effect. For two happy hearts at least this event is encompassed dy a halo of blissful recollections, which time, its sorrows and its pleasures, will never erase.

In the quaint old church of St. Paul's Tuesday evening, the scene was laid. Scores of invited guests came to witness the ceremony that was to prove the most brilliant ever performed in Mishawaka—a ceremony that sealed solemn vows and united in matrimony's holy bonds Mr. Charles Allan Way Ostrom and Miss May Clasby Jernegan.

Long before 8 o'clock, the hour announced, St. Paul's Episcopal church was filled, while around the entrances and upon the lawns those who were unable to gain admission awaited the arrival of the bridal party. Expectancy increased as time elapsed and not until 8.40 o'clock did the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, executed upon the church organ by Rev. Hamilton D. B. MacNeil, rector, announce the coming. The bridal party were ushered in by Carroll and Harris Ebarhart, the pillow carriers.

Next came the maids, Florence Jernegan Stevenson, of Salt Lake City, wearing a gown of white organdie, high neck, trimmed in satin ruching on organdie flounces, bodice same, lace yoke, court veil; Miss Adah Wheeler, of South Bend, clad in a simple gown of white organdie, high neck, beautifully trimmed with laces, veil same; Miss Grace McMichael, wearing an attractive costume of white taffeta, trimmed in white ruching, bodice decollete, heavily scrolled rushings, court veil. Next came the maid of honour, Miss Catherine M. Niles, handsomely gowned in white liberty silk over white taffeta; skirt trimmed in white silk rushing, bodice decollete, entire white silk applique, court veil. The maids of honour entered by the right aisle, each carrying a single rose while the maid of honour carried a bunch of American beauty roses. The ushers, Messrs. J. H. Jernegan, brother of the bride, of Ann Arbor, H. S. Collete and Charles J. Delano, Indianapolis, entered by the south aisle.

Then entered the flower girl, Miss Helen Hubbard, of Indianapolis, attired in white organdie, wearing on her head a short veil and wreath, bridal roses and smilax fastened on her gown and carrying a mass of roses to scatter before the bride, groom and attendants. The flower girl had a companion in Master Billy Dodge, ring bearer, and god-child of the bride, being attired in an elaborate court costume of Louis XIV style.

Leaning upon the arm of her father came the bride. She wore a beautiful costume of white satin mousselaine, with court train; skirt trimmed in pearl and chiffon flounces; applique duchess lace bodice, yoke of duchess lace, Bertha front, in pearls and applique; she wore satin mitten sleeves and long bridal veil reaching to bottom of train. She carried no flowers but a dainty white marriage vow book.

Arriving at the sanctuary they were met by the groom, his best man, Mr. John F. Bressler, of South Bend, and the officiating minister, Right Rev. John Hazen White, Bishop of the Michigan City diocese. The bride was given away by her father, and beneath an arch roses and evergreens, while the keys of the organ spoke softly and scarcely audibly, Bishop White performed the full Episcopal double ring ceremony in a most solemn manner.

Following the ceremony there came a grand reception at the hospitable home of the bride's parents, 221 East Second street. This proved one of the most fascinating and elaborate affairs in the history of Mishawaka society. The beauties of the palatial residence were supplemented by the graceful floral decorations by Treanor & Rettic. The front parlour appeared bewitching in its garb of white roses and festooning of green; in the library and reception room pink was the predominating colour, while red roses and evergreen lent to the spacious dining room the soft glow of incandescents shed through tinted shades, harmonizing with the other decorations cast a mantle of light over the surroundings, forming a delightful scene that rivalled the artistic and was made perfect by the sparkling attire, beaming countenances, joyous hearts of the scores of guests and the entrancing strains of the Elbel orchestra floated through the apartments and over the lawn.

An exquisite collation, consisting of pine apple ice, chicken patties, olives, a dainty sandwich, wine jelly, coffee, ice cream, bride's cake, groom's cake, and pink and white wafers, was served by Mrs. T. B. Davenport, the Elkhart coteress, while Miss Mary Booth and Mesdames J. A. Roper, M. V. Beiger and D. W. Beiger were the assistant hostesses. The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Bertha Tromp and Master Gordon Roper.

The bride is a beautiful accomplished and amiable Mishawaka girl — the only daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Edward Allan Jernegan. She is a graduate of the local High school class of '99, and a member of the Ladies' Knickerbocker Guild, who occupied seats in the choir at the marriage ceremony. The young lady has for years been a favourite in social circles of two cities, and her departure will be a matter of universal regret among her scores of friends and acquaintances.

The groom is a son of Mrs. E. K. Ostrom, of Peterborough, Canada, and a young man of sterling worth. He was for years connected with Reid, Murdock & Co., Chicago, but recently acquired the responsible and remunerative position as general manager of the Bull Hill and Straub Mountain Gold Mining Co., at Cripple Creek, Colorado, an association owning claims that are proving decided winners. He was a member of St. Paul's vestry. He has many friends here and in South Bend, who are unanimous in extending to him and his charming bride most sincere congratulations and earnest wishes for a future of success and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ostrom left on the 11.50 p. m. train on the Lake Shore, for Put-in-Bay, where they will sojourn until Sunday, after which they return to Mishawaka for a week's stay. They will be at home after July 14th, at the Windsor Hotel, Denver, the head office of Mr. Ostrom being located in that city.

Among the guests who attended the reception were, Mrs. Maria Fitch, Mrs. Louise C. Palmer and daughter, Miss A. C. Hartwell, Bishop and Mrs John Hazen White, Michigan City; Mr. and Mrs. M. Sherman Jernegan, Mrs. Jno. Wagener, Detroit; R. H. Jernegan, Ann Arbor; Mrs. R. T. Vanpelt, Chicago; H. S. Collette, C. J. DeLano, Mrs. W. W. Hubbard and daughter, Indianapolis; Mrs. Charles Johnston, Grand Rapids; Miss Florence J. Stevenson, Salt Lake City; Misses Gertrude Clark Laura Richard and Della Bunton, Elkhart; Mrs. W. R. Bramwell, Chicago, and several score from South Bend. Illness unfortunately prevented the expected presence of the mother, sister, and a brother of the groom.

There was a lavish display of valuable wedding presents, among them being china pieces presented to the bride's great grandmother, Mrs. Clasby, on the occasion of her marriage in 1803. The latter will be a highly-treasured souvenir.

LACROSSE.

The Juniors meet the Lindsay lacrosse team on the P.A.A.A.A. grounds to-morrow and as an experiment the management has decided to call the game at 6.30 in the evening, thereby giving all who are busy during the day, an opportunity of seeing the Juniors play. The local team will be composed as follows: Goal, D. Boyle; point, Ed. Dillon; cover point, Geo. Mein; defence field, John Comstock, Harry Morgan and Watley; centre, Fred McGrath; home field, H. Overend, F. Whitcroft and H. Ayers; outside home, W. Mowry; inside home, T. Dineen; field captain, Terrot Glover.

Smith turned out for his first practice with the team last night and should have no trouble in catching a place on the Juniors for the Hastings match.

Bogart, who will play at centre for the Seniors this season, is expected in town on Wednesday next.

Beaverton would like to play here on July 1st. As the date is taken the Checkers will have to wait a few weeks longer for a game.

Tweed wants the lacrosse, baseball and football teams of town to play three teams from Kingston on July 3rd.

All members of the club signing certificates are expected to deposit half a dollar with the treasurer, Mr. Fred Sullivan.

THE WHEEL.

Wes. Milburn has issued a challenge to R. Sheppard for a friendly race on the Nicholls Park track for some suitable prize, the race to be best two out of three heats.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The City of Peterborough left the Wolf street wharf at 8 o'clock this morning with quite a number on board for the farmers picnic at Jubilee Point.

—Owing to the threatening state of the weather the Sons of England band did not have an opportunity of playing out in Victoria Park.

—The Bowmanville baseball team arrived in town this morning and are playing the local men this afternoon on the P.A.A.A. grounds.

—The 3rd Dragoons will leave Niagara-on-the-Lake for Port Hope, at 5.30 a.m., on Saturday, per steamer Columbia.

—The Park street Baptist church Sunday school will hold its annual picnic on Dominion Day, at Jubilee Point. The steamer, City of Peterborough has been chartered for the day.

—Mr. F. W. Miller will leave on Tuesday with the 49th battalion band of Stirling, for a two weeks' camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake. Mr. Miller will take along ten of the Sons of England band to assist the band of the 49th Batt.

TWO CASUALTIES.

Fractures in Both Cases—Both Patients Doing Well.

A small son of Mr. S. Weir, of Ashburnham, was run over by a wheel yesterday and had his shoulder blade broken.

Miss E. Stewart of Otonabee, stumbled and fell this morning, whilst in the door yard and broke her wrist. She was driven to town where the fracture was reduced.

WHY?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir.—Is it correct that the town, having apparently no use for the stone crusher and steam roller propose presenting them to the Victoria Museum as curiosities of corporation management? Our streets are not much to boast of just now.

Yours truly,
PAUL PRY.

THE "SCAB TRAIN."

It is Again Met by a Crowd of Sympathisers With the Strikers.

The "scab train" arrived in town yesterday evening with foreman Clarke on board and was met at the station by a couple hundred sympathizers of the strikers, who, while they did not use any violence would have made it rather unpleasant for the deserter, had he have made an appearance. After backing the train away down to London street Foreman Clarke was gotten out of the car and hustled home unharmed.

An Important Question.

Members of St. John's, All Saint's and St. Luke's churches are reminded of the meeting in St. John's school house to-night called for the discussion of the division of the Diocese of Toronto.

S. O. E. Moonlight Excursion.

The moonlight excursion held per steamer, Eclipse, on Tuesday night, was a most successful affair. The band of the order left its rooms on Hunter street at about 8 o'clock, and marched to the wharf rendering choice music all the way down. The steamer and scow was crowded with men, women and children, who were eager to take advantage of the first affair of its kind this season. Excellent music was furnished on board for dancing and the excursion party was conveyed four or five miles down the river, returning at 11.30 o'clock. It is the intention of the Sons of England to run another moonlight down the river at an early date, when the people of town may have another opportunity of spending a most delightful evening.

—The anniversary musicale will be held in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Monday evening, June 18. An excellent programme will be presented.

Suffering caused by Piles

Is Quickly Ended when

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is applied

Besides the intense agony caused by the itching, burning sensations of piles, there are other symptoms which produce restlessness and at times excruciating pains known only to the victim of piles.

What would one give to be free of this terrible disease? And yet there is a cure—a positive cure—which does not cost much and is not painful or difficult to apply.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is, so far as is known, the only absolute cure for blind, itching, bleeding and protruding piles. It gives relief at the first application and affords a perfect cure in the most aggravated cases.

Mr. Isaac Foster, Erieview, Ont., says: "I was troubled with itching piles for two years and could not sleep at night. I was half crazed and tried everything. Finally seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised I tried it and found it good. After a second application I found relief, and one large box cured me. Have never been bothered since, and I can recommend it to all suffering from the same trouble."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is for sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Important Railway Rumors.

Winnipeg, June 14.—A rumor that bears considerable puritance is that the Provincial Government will grant concessions to either McKenzie & Mann or the C.P.R., but will build west from the Portage itself, and give running powers to the company that offers the best terms.

William McKenzie of Toronto had an interview with the local Cabinet Minister this morning, when arrangements were completed for the construction of the branch railway from Burnside to Gilbert Plains.

ADJOURNED TO TORONTO.

The Third Day of the West Huron Election Trial.

Goderich, Ont., June 15.—The third day of the West Huron election trial saw the end of the case, as far as Goderich is concerned. A great many witnesses were examined, but nothing new or startling was developed. A large number of the charges in the particulars were either abandoned or dismissed. The result of the trial will no doubt largely depend upon the view which the judges take as to the proof of the agency of Walter Vanstone and John T. Linklater, neither of whom has been examined as a witness.

Two dollars grant to have been the ruling price, as quite a number of voters admitted receiving that sum. Mr. M. G. Cameron of Goderich recognized the portrait of Sullivan, which is on exhibition in the case, and admitted having been in his company, though introduced to him by a prominent Conservative. Mr. Cameron stated that he knew of no wrong-doing on the part of Sullivan. No proof was forthcoming of the payment of money to the Blazes Club, or Sons of Rest, and the charges under that head were dismissed. The trial stands adjourned till Saturday at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, and an order has been issued commanding the attendance of Linklater then and there.

Nearly Burned to Death.

Barrie, June 14.—Lottie Fraser, the 11-year-old daughter of R. J. Fraser, was nearly burned to death last night. She set fire to some paper in the stove, and then, to make it burn more quickly, poured on kerosene. Her clothing caught fire, and before it was extinguished the child had been badly burned from the knees to the shoulders. The child's mother had her hands terribly burned in putting out the flames. The same little girl on Saturday last was nearly drowned by falling into a vat in the tannery.

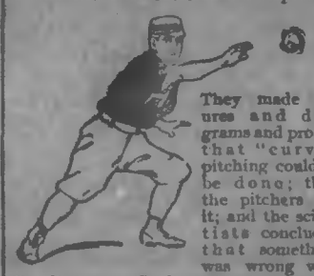
West Elgin Election Case.

Toronto, June 14.—In the particulars of the West Elgin election case, W. T. R. Preston and Alexander Smith are said to have promised money to two men. One Duncan Bole is charged with keeping a polling booth in an irregular manner. Sheriff Brown is accused of misconduct.

The particulars conclude with the request that a long list of persons be disqualified from voting.

THE BASE-BALL CRANK.

It ought to interest a great many people besides base-ball cranks to know that when a ball "curves" through the air first one way and then another after leaving the pitcher's hand, it does what scientific men once declared was impossible.



They made figures and diagrams and proved that "curve" pitching couldn't be done; then the pitchers did it; and the scientists concluded that something was wrong with the diagrams. In face of facts some scientific "certainties" become mighty uncertain.

Consumption, scientists once declared, was incurable; now they see it cured every day by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies and vitalizes the blood; drives out the poisonous elements; supplies the life-giving red corpuscles; stops the accumulation of morbid deposits; heals and builds up the lung tissues; puts good solid muscular flesh on to the frame; and imparts fresh nerve-force and vital energy. It is the most perfect cure ever discovered for throat and bronchial affections, wasted, run-down conditions; and all diseases due to impoverished blood.

It is the invention of an educated and experienced physician. Dr. Pierce has been for nearly thirty years chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and his medicines are recognized standard remedies.

"Some five or six years ago I had a bad cough and got so low with it that I could not sit up long at a time," writes Mrs. Mattie Gray, of New London, Union Co., Ark. "We called our family physician, and he told my husband that I had consumption. All of our neighbors thought so too. I had pains through my chest and spit up blood. I commenced with your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and had only taken it two or three days when I felt like a different person. I took four bottles of the medicine and it cured my cough. I have not been bothered since, until a short time ago I took cold and commenced to cough again; I got a bottle of the 'Discovery' and it relieved me at once. I think it is the best medicine in the world. It saved my life. I don't think any one would die of consumption if they would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I recommend it to all my friends, and tell them what it did for me."

"About six years ago my health began to fail," writes Miss Mollie Buttry, of Sneedville, Hancock Co., Tenn. "I was weak and nervous, had catarrh in the head, and indigestion—everything I ate hurt me and caused me to have palpitation of the heart. My lungs were weak, was troubled with asthma a great deal, and was so despondent I did not take any interest in anything. I tried several doctors, and every kind of medicine I could hear of, but nothing seemed to do me any good only for a little while at a time. About one year ago I was almost a skeleton and had almost given up ever being well again. A friend advised me to write to Dr. Pierce about my case, and I did so, and followed the advice he gave me. I began at once to use the medicines that he prescribed—'Golden Medical Discovery,' three bottles, and the 'Favorite Prescription,' one bottle, and the little 'Pleasant Pellets.' I can truly say they did me great good. I can now eat anything I want, work all day, sleep well, and I weigh one hundred and twenty-three pounds—nearly as much as I ever weighed in my life."

It would save doctor bills for any family to have a copy of Dr. Pierce's splendid thousand-page free book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," explaining the laws of life and health in clear and interesting language, with many valuable suggestions and recipes for curing common ailments by simple home-treatment. It has over three hundred illustrations and colored plates. A strong paper-bound copy will be sent absolutely free, on receipt of 21 cents in one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N.Y. A handsome cloth-bound, beautifully stamped copy will be sent for 50 cents. This popular work describes in plain English information for the young of both sexes, both male and female, married, not hereto-fore published at one dollar, for the non-professional masses.

NEWSPAPER FIGHTING LAW.

Ottawa Reporter Committed for Contempt of Court.

Ottawa, June 14.—A Journal reporter, W. E. Askwith, was nominally committed to jail by the Police Magistrate yesterday for contempt of court. The Journal, to prove allegations that the License Commissioners were not doing their duty, published a list of saloons in which a reporter had obtained liquor on Sunday. The police were nettled and found out who he was and subpoenaed him to give Police Court evidence. Accordingly, under The Journal's advice, the reporter refused to answer, the newspaper claiming that its object was to show the laxity of the authorities, and not to pick on a few saloonkeepers out of many who broke the law. The magistrate committed the reporter for contempt. The Journal has applied for a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that the Ontario general law of evidence exempts a witness from incriminating himself. The License Act, on the other hand, says a witness must answer. Pending the appeal the magistrate has allowed Mr. Askwith to be a prisoner at large.

WEST HURON ELECTION TRIAL.

Bribery Charges Proved, But Agency Yet Unestablished.

Goderich, June 14.—A lot of testimony, mostly on the Wingham charges, was taken yesterday in the West Huron election trial here. Nearly all the charges were proved as regards bribery, but the question of agency has to be proved. Mr. Garrow repudiates all knowledge of the doings of alleged agents. Walter Vanstone and T. Linklater, alleged agents of Mr. Garrow, did not answer their subpoenas, and the former is said to be far away in the Western States. The latter has not been located, though he was subpoenaed, and calls were hourly made for him.

A VILLAGE DESTROYED.

The Bay of Islands Settlement Wiped Out by Forest Fires.

St. John's, Nfld., June 14.—The village of Bay of Islands, a settlement on the western coast of Newfoundland, forming part of what is called the French shore, was destroyed by forest fires yesterday. Sixty-nine houses were burned to the ground, and 57 families rendered homeless. The French and British warships on the coast are affording assistance to the destitute people until other steps can be taken to relieve them.

Burglars at Wiarton.

Wiarton, Ont., June 14.—Yesterday between 3 and 4 o'clock a.m., W. G. Ames & Co.'s banking office was attacked by burglars. The combination of the vault was destroyed, a hole drilled through the door, and nitroglycerine introduced. The explosion, however, did not destroy the lock, and when the vault was opened last evening by an expert from Goldie & McCullough of Galt the cash and securities were found intact. The Union Bank of Canada here kindly supplied funds for the day's business.

Doctors said Incurable

But the Notary, Mr. Lemire, was cured of Kidney Disease in two months by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is only when thoroughly convinced of the superior merit of a remedy that public men will give their sanction.

Mr. E. H. Lemire, Notary Public, 1692 Notre Dame Street, Montreal, tells of his remarkable recovery from a severe attack of kidney disease. When doctors had failed, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills saved his life. He writes: "I give this statement, first because it is only just that the merit of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills should be made known, and again in order that others may profit by my experience. For years I suffered with kidney disease which doctors pronounced incurable. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I have used for two months, I am completely cure'. They helped me from the first, and the cure is now perfect."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly on the kidneys, and through their combined influence on the kidneys and liver, cure the most complicated diseases of these delicate organs. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

MORGAN'S RIFLEMEN.

We Had Some Famous Marksmen In Revolutionary War Times.

At Fredericktown, Md., and Lancaster, Pa., the men of Cresap's company gave exhibitions of their astonishing skill with the rifle. After shooting by turns at a piece of paper the size of a dollar nailed on a blackened board 60 yards distant and generally hitting it or shooting very near it they varied the amusement by shooting in a prone position from their breasts, sides or backs and by running a short distance and then firing, to show that they were equally certain of their aim when maneuvering as in battle.

Finally one of two brothers took a piece of board only 5 inches broad and 7 inches long, with a similar piece of paper centered on it for a bullseye, and held the board in his hand while the other brother shot through the paper. Positions were then reversed, and the second brother held the board. The spectators were more astonished than pleased at this performance, when, to their horror, one of the men placed the bit of board between his thighs and, supporting it thus, stood smilingly erect while his brother shot eight bullets successively through the board. This shooting was done offhand at a distance said to have been "upward of 60 yards," though it was probably not over 40 yards.

The bystanders were assured that there were more than 50 men in the company who could perform the same feat and that there was not one but could "ping 19 bullets out of 20 within an inch of the head of a tenpenny nail." To show the absolute confidence that they had in each other's marksmanship some of the riflemen offered to stand with apples on their heads while others shot them off at a considerable distance, but the sensible townspeople refused to witness such foolhardiness. —Harper's Magazine.

A ST. THOMAS CASE.

The Entire Population Talking of the Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures.

St. Thomas, June 12.—The great wave has reached St. Thomas. The cures wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills are numbered by hundreds here, and the entire population, almost, is talking of them.

Michael Holleran, a farmer living near here, told our reporter, "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from an untimely grave." He was cured of Diabetes, of an aggravated type by a few boxes, after his doctors had failed to even relieve him.

So it goes. Everyone who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills has been cured. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Paralysis, all diseases of the kidneys and the blood yield to their power. They never fail to cure these ailments.

Speechless With Rage.

"Strong emotion," says Darwin, "interrupts the steady flow of nerve force to the muscles." This prevents the proper working of those muscles which are used in speaking; hence the stumbling and incoherence of the speech. "The voice sticks in the throat," to use the words of Virgil. In some cases speech is for a short time impossible, as is seen where a person is said to be "speechless with rage." The hoarseness of the voice is due partly to the fact that passion causes an overaction of all the organs, partly by the fact that for generations harsh and fierce sounds have been made use of to terrify opponents in quarrels, and so have come to be associated instinctively with anger. Possibly the fact also has its influence that the utterance of sounds such as those referred to is in some way or the other a relief to the feelings.

A Good Test.

If you have backache and there are brick dust deposits found in the urine after it stands for 24 hours you can be sure the kidneys are deranged. To affect a positive and prominent cure and prevent Bright's disease, suffering and death, use Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the world's greatest kidney cure.

ODD FISHING IN CALIFORNIA.

Boy Angles on Horseback and Gets Pen and Ink From Fishes.

"Hi, there!" shouted a boy, very much out of breath, who had run up from the beach at San Diego, Cal., where the big rollers were piling in with a mighty roar.

"What is it?" yelled a stableman.

"Squids, millions of 'em. They're jest in the surf. Can't you lend me a horse?" gasped the boy.

"Is that so?" said the man. "Why," looking around, "here's a couple of ponies waiting. Jump on, and I'll go with you," and forthwith the two sprang into the saddles and dashed down to the beach.

"You can hook 'em right ashore," said the boy, and, leaping off the pony, he picked up from the beach where he had previously laid it, a bamboo rod about nine feet long that had a large hook at the end. Thus equipped, he moved down to the water's edge

It had been blowing a heavy southeaster, and great waves were coming in, piling up long black masses of kelp that wound away like serpents over the sand. Here and there, just on the borders of the waves, were strange, uncanny looking creatures six or seven feet in length, with long, fingerlike tentacles and black, staring eyes. Some were high, dry and helpless; others were half in the water, waving their suckerlike tentacles as though imploring aid, while out in the waves others could be seen, either driven in by some large fish or beaten in by the sea.

"What good are they?" asked the stableman, who had never seen the animals.

"Good?" repeated the boy. "Why, it's fun catchin 'em, and I can sell the eyes and pen for 50 cents. Jest look at 'em, will you?" and, digging his feet into the reluctant broncho, he urged him into the surf, where, reaching down, he hooked on to something. A big wave splashed over his back, drenching him from head to foot, but he held on to the squid, and the broncho, though visibly alarmed at the hideous looking creature, dragged it out high and dry on the beach, where it lay pumping ink and water, its long arms coiling about like snakes.

After various excursions into the surf the boy, having with the aid of the stableman hauled the animals above high water mark, began to secure his treasures. Each squid had a pen—a long, opal tinted, translucent object, the model of a huge pen and holder 18 or 20 inches in length. This was found extending from the tip of the tail to the neck of the animal and served as a support, something like a backbone. But the squid is a squid, not a backboned animal. Next the huge eyes were taken out and the eyeball secured, which, after drying, resembled a pearl almost as large as a marble. Then the young fisherman produced a bag of ink from the body of the animal, which he said was india ink. This was true, and at one time this sepia was the only india ink known. The pen of some species of the animal is the cuttlefish bone of commerce, given to canary birds. These treasures the young fisherman later sold to tourists and curiosity dealers.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes, "Four bottles of Electric Bitters cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, sat rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates the liver, kidneys and bowells, expels poisons, helps digestion and builds up the system. Only 50 cents. Sold by James Lynch, Druggist. Guaranteed.

No Ugliness In Nature.

No natural object can be ugly, repulsive, uninstructive or unentertaining if we see it as it is and have knowledge of its place and purpose. It may lack what artists call the elements of grace. Its colors may be dingy. But, then, how soon we tire of too pronounced brilliancy! The ugliest weed, on the other hand, is not always ugly. Think of the brilliant beetle or gay butterfly that may rest upon it.

A turtle rooting in the mud of a ditch, itself the color of the soiled water that surrounds it, is so beautifully adapted to its home and habits that we forget the lack of pleasing color and are impressed with the more suggestive beauty of adaptation. We cannot center a thought upon the object before us—a serious, prolonged, truth desiring thought—and there and then only will the symmetry of nature's handiwork become apparent. Such recognition on our part repays us as fully as floods of color delight the unthinking eye —Lippincott's.

Yellow New York.

We know of no city in all this land, not excepting Hoboken or Jersey City, which is less national in its feelings, its ideas and its aspirations than New York. It has never yet done anything really national. There was not public spirit enough in the well to do classes of the town to even build the pedestal of the Liberty statue. The same classes waited years and went begging all over the country to raise a fund for the Grant monument—a duty which, in 1885, they claimed as their peculiar privilege. But New York is New York. There is none like it, nor shall be till our summers have deceased. It is yellow and it continually doth bark.—Washington Post

The Truth of It.

From what we know of men, we should say that when an aged man speaks of having spent hundreds of nights in walking the floor with his sick children he probably got up only once in the night in all his life, and that was to hand a child a cup of water, the child and cup being in the same room as himself.—Atchison Globe.

THE JEWEL CASKET.

Spinels, olivines, pearls and diamonds are favorite stones for the enrichment of gold bolt clasps, which come in both solid and openwork styles.

The craze for jeweled hatpins and hair ornaments of every description continues to be as strong as ever. The spider is the latest "lucky" hatpin device.

Superb stones appearing in a few fine rings just now are "orange" diamonds, whose name exactly defines their magnificent golden hue. These gems, when absolutely clear and flawless, are both rare and costly.

Chains much in favor and intended to be worn at the throat or on the wrist are very slender and flexible. They are provided with a jeweled slide, often in round button form, and each end terminates in a pendant of a large and handsome pearl, diamond or ruby.—Jewelers' Circular.

The Tables Turned.

Birds, we know, are sometimes trained to fire off pistols, as well as to perform other unusual feats, but it is not often that a wild bird in the woods shoots a man with his own gun, as related in "South American Sketches" by Robert Crawford.

A pavo del monte, a bird of Uruguay not unlike the turkey, had been winged by a hunter. It fell to the ground, but was at once on its feet and ran away.

Throwing his gun hastily aside, the hunter started in pursuit, and a game of hide and seek ensued.

In one of its doublings and turnings the bird passed over the gun, which was lying on the ground, and its foot chanced to strike against the trigger of the undischarged barrel, the hammer of which, in the hurry of the moment, had been left at full cock.

There was a loud report, followed by an exclamation of pain from the man. The bird escaped, and the luckless hunter had an ugly wound in the fleshy part of his leg to remind him for weeks afterward of the adventure.

THE MAGIC LAMP.

'Neath a moonlit sky in the days gone by,
As the ballads of old relate,
When a lad was bold and his lady shy
He would wait at the postern gate.
For she feared as he strummed her a drowsy lay
He would waken the sire that slept;
So she fastened her casement, hid in spray,
And out to the postern crept.

Now, I know not that postern gate of yore,
I see not the casement's light,
But I've watched with the crowd at the dingy door
That leads to a stage bedight.
The hoofs of the manager's horses stamp,
For they long for the great man's "Home!"
While the others must wait by the gutterin lamp
Like the poor at the gates of Rome.

The fairy who danced in the spangled dress
Must change, for the night wind's cold,
Though I fear me she loses her comeliness
In her overcoat warmly rolled.
It's sometimes a mother that waits this same
Great goddess who charmed the shrine,
And you hear with a shudder her Christian name
Pronounced as "Matildar Jine."

And it's sometimes a youth with a big cigar
And a hat at an evil rake.
It's a youth who is feared by Matilda's "mar;"
Hence she comes for Matilda's sake.
He is dressed in a vast Newmarket "mok,"
Where the seaming is overlaid,
And the goddess familiarly calls him "Jack;"
For she isn't a bit afraid.

And it's sometimes a dear little gallery boy,
Who dreams in his dizzy heights,
Is would be the hope of his highest joy
To speak to the girl in tights.
But the painted curtain falls, alas,
And the dancers fade from view,
So he waits in the glare of the stage door gas
To watch till his girl comes through.

Whist Too.

"We shall decline the Geezers' invitation to their card party," wheezed Mrs. Gazzam.

"That's odd," replied Mr. Gazzam "You enjoy playing so thoroughly."

"But I shouldn't enjoy it tomorrow night, for I'm so hoarse I can't speak above a whisper."

A Successful Operation.

They sawed off his arms and his legs,
They took out his jugular vein,
They put fancy frills on his lungs,
And they deftly extracted his brain.
'Twas a triumph of surgical skill,
Such as never was heard of till then;
'Twas the subject of lectures before
Conventions of medical men.
The news of this wonderful thing
Was heralded far and wide,
But as for the patient there's nothing to say,
Excepting, of course, that he died.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15002 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334 80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

WARSAW

Address and Presentation.

On Monday evening, the 12th inst., a number of the friends of Miss Mabelle Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards assembled at the residence of the latter to spend the evening with their only daughter previous to her departure for the North West. About an hour had been devoted to social intercourse when the Rev. Mr. Hyde requested Miss Edwards to present herself in full view of the whole company. As she stood conversation suddenly ceased. Then Miss Bertha L. Kidd read the following address, and Mrs. Wm. Payne presented to Miss Edwards one dozen solid silver teaspoons, one solid silver pickle fork, gold lined, and one solid silver shell, gold lined.

To Miss Mabelle Edwards—

Dear Friend—'Ere you take your departure from our midst to your future home in the great North West a few of your intimate friends and associates desire to express their regret at the prospect of losing your useful and always welcome help in all that pertains to the temporal and spiritual welfare of the members of the human family. Whilst expressing our regret on account of your approaching separation from us your coworkers and associates, yet we assure you our regret is not altogether sad in its nature as we are acquainted with the circumstances which is the cause of your departure from our midst, and which we believe will tend to your future welfare—hence this separation brings to us a source of joy. With all our heart we wish you and your intended partner a long, happy and prosperous life.

As a slight token of our respect and regret at the severance, not of friendship, but of distance, we desire to present you with a tangible token of our love and esteem, believing that in your distant home, as often as your eyes behold, and your hands handle these tokens of our love and esteem, they will remind you of the loving friends you have left behind.

Our parting prayer is that God, our Heavenly Father may bless you and yours with every good and perfect gift and when our days are numbered and the battle of life is completed, may we all meet again in that bright and happy land, where parting shall be unknown.

Signed on behalf of the donors—
BERTHA L. KIDD,
MRS. WM. PAYNE,
REV. R. HYDE.

During the reading of the address Miss Edwards was deeply affected. Her father, also deeply moved, replied on behalf of his daughter, thanking the many kind friends for their good wishes so well expressed, and also for the very valuable and useful presents which had just been handed to his daughter.

Conversation, vocal and instrumental music then became the order of the evening and the inner wants were likewise well looked after. About midnight the company bade good bye to the departing ones, thence making their way to their respective homes.

The Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society in connection with the Presbyterian church intend holding an ice cream and strawberry social on or about the first of July.

At the Baptist church, Warsaw, on last Thursday evening a pleasing event took place, when Miss Mable Edwards was presented with an address of esteem and a handsome silver card receiver. Mr. Walter Kidd read the address and Mr. Herb Kidd made the presentation. Miss Edwards has been connected with the choir for some time. She leaves on Friday for Lathbridge, Alberta, where she is to marry Mr. John Nicol, formerly of Norwood.

The address was as follows:

Warsaw, June 8th, 1899.

Dear Miss Edwards,—We, the friends of the Warsaw Baptist church have met upon this occasion of your departure from us, in order in some small degree to reveal our appreciation of you, and to express our sincere regret at your departure. We are conscious of the fact that our loss will be serious.

We shall miss you in our social fellowship. Your beaming countenance, tender spirit, and winsome ways have ever made us happy, and have bound us to you by ties which now gives us pain to sever. As a church we have ever been blessed by your presence, for your Christian life, although possessing becoming modesty yet as the semi-hidden rose has cast its fragrance on all about it, making us feel happier and better because of your being with us.

The service you have rendered in our choir has been invaluable and it is with much reluctance that we part with you.

Yet as we do so, we wish you the choicest blessing God can bestow, and pray that your future shall be as radiant with brightness; that you shall find in your new home and circle of friends the fullest happiness.

And now our dear sister as we part with you we ask that you will please accept this small gift, not for its intrinsic value, but as a little memento for our affection for you.

Signed on behalf of the church,
EMMA KIDD,
FLORENCE KIDD,
GRACE KIDD.

The secretary has received notice of a large and representative collection of the Flora and Fauna, and many interesting curios of Florida, which is being prepared for the Victoria Museum by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nesbitt, formerly of Peterborough, now of Eau Gallie, Florida, of which the following appears in "The Florida Times Union and Citizen" of May 12: "Mrs. W. J. Nesbitt is preparing a collection of Florida specimens for the Victoria Museum and Historical Society, of Peterborough, Ont. The collection when completed will be a valuable addition to the museum."

Note by Editor.—It is to be hoped that the perusal of such a list will stimulate into similar action, the hundreds of others who are possessed of articles that would if contributed represent valuable additions to the shelves and cabinets of the museum. It is probable that the owners of such articles may be as much interested as those who have already made gifts or loans of articles, but procrastination or forgetfullness has prevented the manifestation of their interest by action in the way of place of Mr. Hay, the indefatigable secretary. Verb. sap.—bis dat qui cito dat. tary. Verb. sap.—his dat qui cito dat, especially when the Victoria Museum is only fairly getting on its feet, and making what is is hoped, will prove but a beginning in gathering in its spoils.

HURRAH FOR CHEMONG

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Now that the summer is here and that all bicycle riders are looking for the best roads to the coolest and most enjoyable resorts, it strikes me as funny if some of us don't start and advocate the building of a bicycle cinder path to Chemong. A path could surely be built for about three hundred dollars, a hundred of this could almost be collected from the cottagers out there who ride wheels, as in rainy or dry weather the path would be just the same. The proprietor of the hotel might also be asked for another hundred as it would tend to make the park popular by the crowds going out and might increase the number of guests in his house, and then surely the other hundred could be collected from the bicycle riders of our town, both young and old, both male and female. For what could be more delightful than a six mile spin to Chemong up, down, hill, over a good path early in the morning, late in the afternoon, or in the cool evening. The road is a good road but the hills are very difficult to ride, and they are few who are able to enjoy a ride there and back, but with a good cinder path almost any rider would be able to enjoy the short trip. And what nicer spot could we go to? a fine shady park, situated as Chemong park is, on the shores of a lovely lake, where the boating, fishing, swimming is so good. And I believe the Sons of England band is to give open air concerts there this year twice a week, which should be very enjoyable in the evenings to any who are fond of music. Hoping that someone who is interested in bicycle riding may take the same idea that I do, and encourage the thing along, and that we may soon have good cinder path as other towns have, I am Mr. Editor with thanks for so much space.

Yours truly,
BICYCLE.

New Department Added.

This is a growing time, and the Spot Cash Grocery Co. is bound to keep right in line with the spirit of the times. Last week two new departments were added to their store, viz., liquors and mineral waters. The large and convenient wine vaults, which have been so long established in these premises, have been stocked with carefully selected brands of ales, wines and liquors. Popular lines of mineral waters will also be found on sale, which with the other regular departments of groceries and fruits well maintained, ought to make business hum at the Spot Cash.

THE GREAT CANADIAN PROJECT

Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Minister of Public Works of Canada, has sent a letter to the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce on the Georgian Bay and Montreal canal project, in which he says the Georgian Bay canal has been receiving a good deal of attention at the hands of the Canadian public men for some years, but the enterprise is of such magnitude as to make it necessary to look carefully into it. During the last three years the St. Lawrence river has been safer than ever before. He also states that the Government is "completing what is known as the Trent Valley system, which consists of works of lockage destined to bind between themselves splendid water stretches; and the Toronto Board of Trade and a great many far-seeing public men believe that the construction by the Government of a railway connecting Collingwood with Toronto would shorten the distance between the great lakes and the St. Lawrence route, and thereby develop a very large traffic, and I must say that we on this side of the ocean cannot understand the reasons why the English underwriters have increased their rates in a way so detrimental to the interests of the Dominion." Mr. Tarte winds up by saying that he hopes the Chamber of Commerce will pardon him for entering into these considerations; but he has thought that perhaps they would be of some interest as there is such a large trade between Liverpool and the Dominion.

The Souvenir Range

With Aerated Ovens.

In "Souvenir" Stoves and Ranges the Fresh air is taken over the oven doors (see cut) and passes through a circulating-flue underneath a plate which is attached to the top oven plate, thus becoming heated, after which it is discharged into the oven.

The heated fresh air then creates a literal whirlwind in rotating from the top to bottom of oven, carrying all the impure air out of the oven, at the exit provided, and replacing it continually with heated fresh air.

The air being heated before entering the oven, the temperature is not lowered. The vitiated air passes off into the flues' carrying with it all odors and gases given off by the cooking food.

We carry a large stock of "Souvenir" and "Happy Thought" Ranges —the best stoves in Canada.

NEWS OF THE STRIKES

G.T.R. Trackmen's Representatives Confer With the Premier.

COLORADO SITUATION GRAVE.

Many Mines Already Closed Down—30,000 Men May Be Out in Three Days—Rioting at Cleveland in Street Car Strike—Three Non-Union Men Badly Injured.

Ottawa, June 16.—After holding another conference with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Sutherland yesterday afternoon President Pole and Secretary Harris of the Trackmen's Brotherhood left for home yesterday. Sir Wilfrid now has under consideration the whole arguments of the strikers' executive, and will again communicate with General Manager Hays. Grand Organizer Lowe of the brotherhood returned yesterday morning from a trip through the west. He reports that everything is satisfactory from the strikers' standpoint. He visited all the important towns of the middle division of the G.T.R. and found the men well organized and unanimous.

Satisfactory Interviews.

Montreal, June 16.—The negotiations with regard to the G.T.R. trackmen's strike seem to be at a standstill owing to the absence of Mr. Hays from the city. Organizer Lowe, Chairman Pole and Secretary Harris returned shortly before noon yesterday from Ottawa, and took their old quarters at the St. James Hotel. They are very reticent as to what transpired at the capital. They merely say they were called there to consult with the Government, and the interviews they had with Sir Wilfrid Laurier were of a satisfactory character.

30,000 SMELTERS STRIKE.

Many Mines Closed Down—A Grave Situation in Colorado.

Denver, Col., June 16.—Thirty thousand men in Colorado will be out of work within the next three days unless steps are taken to end the strike of the smelter employes. The Omaha and Grant, and the Globe in Denver, the Bimetallic, and the Arkansas Valley, at Leadville, and the Kiters and the Colorado smelters at Pueblo are closed. The closed works are under guard, but nowhere have the men made any demonstration.

These mines have already closed: The Commodore, Amethyst, Bachelor, Bachelor No. 2 and Last Chance mines, in the Creede district; the Calliope and Hagerty at Ouray, the Carribean and Montezuma near Ophir; the Iron mask and Black Iron at Red Cliff; the Smuggler at Aspen.

The Porter Fuel Company at Durango has closed, throwing 150 men out of work. From all parts of the State come reports that mines are reducing forces. At Leadville 900 men have been discharged. Should the mines close all over the State 5,000 railroad men will be thrown out of employment. Four mines of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, three near Canon City, and one in Pitkin County have been shut down on account of wage differences.

RIOTING AT CLEVELAND.

Street Car Strikers Attack Non-Union Men With Serious Results.

Cleveland, O., June 16.—While the sixth day of the street railway men's strike started peaceably enough, there was serious rioting before night, and three non-union men were taken to hospitals in consequence. The trouble began shortly after noon yesterday near the Lake View car barns on Euclid avenue. A crowd gathered and attacked a car on which several non-union men were riding without police protection. A volley of stones and bricks was hurled at the car, and the conductor was hauled from the platform, when he fired a revolver into the air and took to his heels. The mob then assaulted some of the other non-union men on the car, injuring them quite severely, but the rioters had disappeared when the police arrived.

Soon afterward another car was attacked, apparently by the same mob, which had collected at another place. There were several women passengers in the car, but that made no difference to the rioters. Bricks and stones were hurled through the windows. The women screamed and made a rush for the doors, and all escaped injury. A brick struck the conductor in the face, cutting a bad gash, and a stone which hit him on the head rendered him unconscious. The motorman was hit by a shower of bricks and stones, and was so badly hurt that he had to be sent with the conductor to a hospital. The mob had dispersed when the police arrived.

A little later a third car was stopped by a crowd of men which had been concealed in bushes at the side of the street. Fifteen or 20 men boarded the car and a desperate fight ensued between them and E. W. Newman and C. W. King, the conductor and motorman, both of whom came from Buffalo. Both men were chased from the car and were so badly injured that it was necessary to send them to hospitals.

About 5.30 o'clock a car left the Lake View barns for town. At the corner of Annandale and Wade Park avenues it was stopped by a crowd of men, who began to hurl bricks and stones. A motorman left the car and started to run. He was hit with a brick and badly injured, but he managed to escape and has not since been seen. The conductor stuck to the car. He was finally hit in the temple with a brick and dropped to the floor of the car. The crowd then dispersed. The conductor finally succeeded in running the car back to the barns, when he became unconscious, and he is now in a serious condition.

Buffalo Commerce Hit Hard.

Buffalo, June 16.—The strike of the freight handlers is having a serious affect on the commerce of Buffalo, and vesselmen are much disturbed. A large number of freight boats are idle. But little work is being done along the docks. There are about 25 men at work on the Lehigh Valley docks. The Erie has a number of non-union men at work. Nothing is being done at the Great Northern dock, and but a few men are working for the Anchor Line.

CANADA AT BUFFALO.

Arrangements Will Be Made for the Pan-American Exposition.

Ottawa, June 16. — Hon. Sidney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture for Canada, and who is at present looking after the interests of the Dominion at Paris, in connection with the exposition, received a very interesting pamphlet illustrating the Pan-American Exposition, which will be held in Buffalo from May 1st to November 1st, 1901. In reply he states that as soon as arrangements are completed at Paris he will immediately take steps to have Canada well represented at Buffalo, and show the Americans what Canadians can do.

The San Jose Scale Commission.

Toronto, June 16.—The commission appointed to examine into the workings of the San Jose Scale Act will hold its first sitting in the Niagara fruit district at Niagara-on-the-Lake on Tuesday, the 20th inst., at 1 p.m. The commissioners are Dr. Mills, president of the Guelph Agricultural College; Prof. John Dearness, the well-known Middlesex entomologist, and for several years president of the Ontario Entomological Society, and W. H. Bunting, the well-known fruit grower of St. Catharines. The enquiry will be as thorough as possible, and if it is thought necessary other places throughout the district may be visited. The commission will afterwards visit Essex County.

Ben Parrott Is Sane.

Hamilton, June 16.—Word has been received from Ottawa to the effect that the medical experts who examined Ben Parrott, the matricide, who is condemned to be hanged next Friday, have reported to the Minister of Justice that he is perfectly sane, although it would appear that some one had been coaching him how to act insane. It was discovered by the experts that there was no hereditary insanity in the family. A brother of Parrott had become insane through disease. The hanging, which is to take place on June 23, may be postponed for a few days, as Radcliffe may not be able to get here in time. He is at present in British Columbia.

Mrs. Sternaman Gets Her Money.

Buffalo, June 16.—Mrs. Olive A. Sternaman, the Buffalo woman who was twice tried at Cayuga, Ont., on the charge of murdering her husband, has at last got the insurance money that the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners at first refused to give her because of the alleged uncertainty of the manner of Sternaman's death. Mrs. Sternaman receives the amount of insurance, $900 and interest, making a total of $909.

ANOTHER BIG SCORCH FOR HAVELOCK.

STORES AND DWELLING RAZED TO THE GROUND.

The Origin of the Fire a Mystery But Incendiarism is Suspected.

Special to the Examiner.

Havelock, June 15.

Once again has our town been visited by the dreaded fire fiend. About 3 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke broke out in the rear of the store occupied by Wilson & Copp, and in a few minutes the frame structure was a roaring furnace. The flames quickly spread to the residence of Mr. Ed. Fennell, immediately adjoining, and it too was burned to the ground. Mr. John Turriff, who ran a tinshop some time ago in part of the store, still had his tools stored there, and they too were destroyed, involving a loss of $300. The furniture and regalia of the A.O.U.W., the C.O.F., and the L.O.L. societies, which were situated over the store, were also destroyed, loss, unknown. Mr. Wm. Barlow's bicycle, which was left in the store, had its last scorch. The residence of Mr. Alex. Rose, Mr. R. J. Graham and Mr. E. Fitzsimmons were only saved after a hard struggle.

The contents of Mr. Fennell's house were fortunately all saved, as that gentleman had no insurance placed on them.

The two frame buildings destroyed were owned by Mr. William Mathison, and are insured in the Royal for $1200.

Wilson & Copp's stock, which was totally destroyed, is insured in the Commercial Union and the Royal for $2500.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, but everything points to incendiarism.

Later—Three tramps were arrested about 8 o'clock on a charge of vagrancy, but who were supposed to know something about the blaze. Two of the men, Jno. McCarty, of Lawrence, Mass., and Jas. Herrington, of Rockland, Mass., came in on the early morning express, and were acquitted on paying $4 costs. They were looking for work and accepted a job on the ballast train. The other knight of the road, James McCluscy by name, and no place of residence, came off the local last night. He asserted that he found refuge from the rain in Mathison's barn, where he remained until yesterday morning. As no evidence could be produced to the contrary, and being without funds, he was given half an hour to quit the town.

LOCAL ANGLICANS DISCUSS THE MATTER.

A Meeting Held in St. John's of Representatives From the Three Congregations.

A meeting of the congregations of St. John, St. Luke's and All Saints, was held last evening, in St. John's school house, for the purpose of considering the proposed division of the present diocese of Toronto. There was a fair attendance and Rev. Mr. Davidson was elected chairman of the meeting with Mr. E. A. Peck as secretary.

The chairman briefly stated the object of the meeting and called upon Rev. H. Symonds to further enlarge upon the subject. Mr. Symonds stated that the present proposition which was to set apart the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria, Haliburton, and possibly Ontario from the diocese of Toronto, as a new diocese, was a part of the original scheme of Bishop Strachan for the division of the province into dioceses. The synod of 1869 approved of it by resolution. The Provincial Synod in 1892 also spoke approvingly of the matter, but no further steps had been taken in regard to it. Mr. Symonds gave as his reasons for concluding that the division of the diocese, as proposed would be extremely beneficial in the interests of the church and the whole of the present diocese of Toronto that as at present constituted the diocese was far too large to be properly controlled by one Bishop.

A general discussion which followed and was participated in by Messrs. Bamford, Poussette, Rye and others, concluded by the passage of the following resolution:

"That this meeting is strongly in favour of the establishment of a new diocese to be formed out of the eastern part of the present diocese of Toronto, provided that satisfactory arrangements can be made and recommends the same to the favourable consideration of the synod of this diocese."

An Enjoyable Time Spent at Peterborough Lodge I. O. O. F.

At the regular meeting of Court Peterborough, No. 111, I.O.O.F., last night, about thirty visiting brethren were present from Millbrook, as well as several from Pontypool and Havelock.

Five candidates from Millbrook and two belonging to the local lodge were given their first, second and third degrees by the Peterborough lodge degree team.

After the business of the meeting was over, a most enjoyable time was spent in speech-making, songs, etc., and refreshments were then served.

The affair broke up at about 12 o'clock, after which the Millbrook brethren left for home.

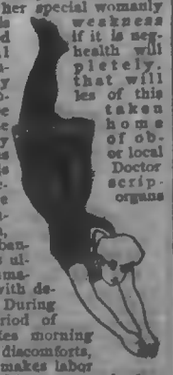
A Dive to Death. The woman who would risk a leap from the masthead of a ship would be considered foolhardy in the extreme. What, then, of the thousands of women who take the dive to certain death by neglecting their health in a womanly way.

When a woman finds that she almost constantly suffers from headaches, weak back, pains in the sides, nervousness, irritability and despondency, she may be certain that all is not well with her special womanly organism. There is weakness and disease there, and if it is neglected her general health will soon break down completely. There is a remedy that will promptly cure troubles of this description. It may be taken in the privacy of the home without the necessity of obnoxious examinations or local treatment. It is Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes the organs that appertain to womanhood, new, clean, well and strong. It banishes pain and cures ulceration and inflammation. It does away with debilitating drains. During the anticipatory period of maternity it alleviates morning sickness and other discomforts, at the critical hour makes labor light. It restores health to women broken down by weakness and disease.



"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 248 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ills. "For three years I suffered continually. Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none, until induced by kind friends to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed 95 pounds. After taking 'Favorite Prescription' I was built up until now I weigh 126 pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing down pains in the lower part of my bowels, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain."

Constipation poisons slowly, but surely. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure speedily and safely.

A BENGAL TIGER.

The Tale of his Capture and Purchase by the 4-Paw-Sells Company.

Last March at Montreal the management of the Adam Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' Circus purchased a formidable Bengal tiger, which had been captured only a few months previously and had been brought to the Canadian metropolis on a ship from Calcutta. The natives in Bengal state that his tigership had destroyed and devoured more than eighty people, including four entire families who lived to bear a charmed life and could not to bear a scharmed life, and could not be exterminated with either spear or bullet.

Finally with the aid of a column of British cavalry, he was run into a huge trap, bound with ropes and throngs, and forced into a strong cage, in which he was conveyed on the ship to Montreal. Col. Peter Sells, general manager of the 4-Paw - Sells Combine in Montreal at the time of the arrival of the tiger, and after three days negotiations, purchased the animal from the captain of the vessel. It was a costly affair, however, as the treasury department of the big aggregation, was obliged to separate from seven thousand good American dollars an unparalleled figure, as the regular prices of tigers range from $1,500 to $2,000—in order to obtain possession of the monster.

During the long voyage from Calcutta, the passengers, officers and crew were in mortal fear of the beast. One day he forced the bars of his cage apart and rushed wildly about the compartment in the hold where his cage sat. Great consternation prevailed. The passengers flew to their staterooms and the sailors skipped aloft. Fortunately the mate was a cool-headed fellow who had had some experience in handling wild beasts. He ordered a couple of sailors to bring out the fire hose, and while the tiger was making terrific leaps towards the hatchway, which he had thus far been unable to clear, a stream of water was turned upon him. Drenched with water instantly, he jumped about in abject terror. Never was an animal more surprised. He defied bullets and steel but succumbed to cold water.

Completely cowed and as meek as the proverbial lamb, he took refuge in his cage. While the sailors covered the opening in the cage with a powerful stream of water, and the tiger lay trembling in one corner, the mate boldly approached and repaired the twisted bars. As soon as the sailors stopped playing on the tiger he became as furious as ever and made desperate efforts to escape, but the bars had been properly adjusted.

Since being [illegible] in Forepaugh and Sells' menagerie, where he is confined in a specially strong cage, he has torn the arms and shoulders of two employees through the steel bars of the lair, and no man can be found among the several experienced and courageous wild beast trainers with the show who is daring enough to enter his den and face him. They believe he can never be subdued. The circus people have named him "Satan."

If any of the ambitious youth of the town would like to attempt the subjection of this famous beast and win everlasting renown—a prize so dear to the juvenile heart—the management of the big dual show may be induced to furnish them an opportunity on the occasion of their now rapidly approaching visit here on June 24th.

HAS THE CLIMATE CHANGED?

Mr. E. F. Payne, one of the chief officials of the Canadian Weather Bureau, has the following in a recent Government publication on a matter which has been the subject of considerable discussion:

A question very frequently asked is whether the climate is not changing, or rather, whether it has not changed in the last fifty or sixty years, and the questioner will usually add that in his opinion great changes have taken place. In support of his assertion he will point especially to the drying up of streams which before the land was denuded of trees would float rafts or boats throughout the summer. He will also point to the same period when there was plenty of snow and good sleighing throughout the winter in Ontario, and speak of the "Good old-fashioned winters of long ago," believing that if there was plenty of snow there could not have been the high temperature experienced at the present time. There are others, and they are mostly to be found in Manitoba and the North-West Territories, who, on the contrary, believe that the winters are colder than they used to be. The most remarkable thing about these people is the change that often takes place in their belief if an abnormal winter occurs; and should two such winters occur in succession their beliefs are often completely reversed.

Whilst our insufficient data will not allow us to assert definitely that there has been no change in the climate of the districts mentioned, or in fact in any other part of Canada during the present century, we may state that our meteorological records covering many years show no such change.

The cause of the popular belief regarding the climate is probably owing largely to the change of environment and defective memory, those going from southern Ontario westward to the prairie lands of Manitoba and the Territories, forgetting, after many years, the conditions during the first few years residence in the latter district, and confounding in their minds the climates of the two localities. Undoubtedly since the denudation of the land of the trees upon it many streams have completely disappeared, but this is most probably owing to the rain water formerly held entangled in the vegetation and entering the streams slowly, now making its way to the river beds as quickly as it falls. This sudden swelling of the waters is the cause of frequent floods, which were unknown before the forests disappeared. Going back as far as our data will take us, there is no perceptible change in the total snowfall of Ontario, but where it is not sheltered by trees the depth is quickly reduced by bright sunshine in the open country, even in exceedingly cold weather, whilst in wooded districts it remains practically unchanged.

Mrs. J. M. Watson and Mrs. Henry drove to Hastings on Saturday and remained over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herrington drove to Marmora on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Code and family left for Owen Sound on Tuesday morning, where they will reside in the future. They take with them the best wishes of the whole town. Mr. Code has for many years been councillor, and has always taken a deep interest in the prosperity of the village. In Mr. Code's removal, Havelock loses one of its best and most popular townsmen.

Rev. H. McQuade leaves for Manilla on the 20th, where his pastoral duties will be during the next year. Mr. McQuade has been in Havelock during the past four years, and has made many friends. Mrs. McQuade will be much missed in the church circles. His successor here is Rev. J. C. Bell of Wellington.

Many Methodist church members attended Conference at Belleville last week.

A number of our citizens drove to Marmora on Tuesday to attend the laying of the foundation stone of the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Mr. Stillman occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church here on Sunday. Mr. Stillman has been ordained at the Methodist Conference lately held at Belleville, and goes next week to British Columbia to work as a missionary.

The Town's Talk.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes, "Four bottles of Electric Bitters cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates the liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion and builds up the system. Only 50 cents. Sold by James Lynch, Druggist. Guaranteed.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Fresh Proposals for Permanent Arbitration in the Air.

London, June 16.—The correspondent of The Times at The Hague, remarking upon the "changed outlook," says: "Today (Thursday) there is a fresh proposal in the air, which may safely be attributed to Sir Julian Pauncefote.

"This consists in making The Hague the seat of a permanent bureau, composed of the resident ministers of foreign states, with the Dutch Foreign Minister president. It would have the advantage of dispensing with salaried officials, and I venture to predict that the plan will be favorably received on all sides and contribute to the success of arbitration."

M. Poincare Accepts.

Paris, June 16.—M. Poincaire informed President Loubet yesterday morning that he would accept the task of forming a Cabinet. He will take the war portfolio, in addition to the presidency of the Council.

There is still some doubt whether M. Poincaire will succeed in forming a Ministry. He wishes MM. Ribot and Barthou to join him, but the Radicals object to their presence in the Cabinet. It is understood that Delcasse will remain as the Foreign Office.

Label Them "Dangerous."

All the imitations of, and substitutes for, Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry.

More than ever this summer, dishonourable and disreputable pharmaceutical concerns are flooding the market with cheap and worthless preparations designed to be imitations of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Some of these are even labelled "Extract of Wild Strawberry," "Wild Strawberry Compound," etc., in the hope that the public may be deceived by the name and led to purchase them, thinking they are getting the genuine Dr. Fowler's.

Are you ready to risk your health —perhaps your life—to these no name, no reputation, likely dangerous, so-called Strawberry Extracts?

For more than forty years now Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been recognized by both the people and the medical profession as the standard remedy for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Summer Complaint, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and all fluxes of the bowels of chilldren and adults.

You can always rely on it in the time of need to do just what is claimed for it.

But the imitations—what is their record, where the guarantee that they will cure?

Think well before you take any one of them. Ask your druggist for DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY, and we are confident you will not be refused that reasonable request.

New Ontario Excursion Leaves Collingwood for Sault Ste. Marie.

Collingwood, June 16.—The members of the Algoma excursion party reached Collingwood shortly after noon. The majority of the party left Toronto at 9.40 a.m., in charge of Mr. James Conmee, M.P.P., two special parlor cars being attached to the regular train for their convenience. There are in all about 80 in the party, including Hon. George W. Ross and Hon. R. J. Davis, representing the Cabinet. These gentlemen are accompanied by Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Davis. The others present include the following members of the Legislature: Messrs. B. M. Aylsworth, Dr. J. Barr, Walter Beatty, Thomas Blezard, John Brown, D. Burt, E. C. Carpenter, E. A. Colquhoun, R. A. Campbell, James Conmee, W. R. Dempsey, John Dickenson, Henry Elliot, S. J. Fox, O. Guilbord, W. J. Hull, J. W. Holmes, W. H. Hoyle, Dr. E. Jessop, R. L. Joynt, George M. Kidd, E. A. Little, H. Monteith, Andrew Pattullo, W. H. Reid, John Richardson, R. E. Truax, James Tucker, G. F. Marter, J. McLaughlin. Mr. Howard Annes is the official press agent.

Messrs. Farwell, Loughrin, Barber and Graham, M.P.P.'s, as well as Hon. J. M. Gibson, are expected to be in the party later on.

Collingwood's Reception.

At Collingwood station the train was met by Mayor Chamberlain and the council of the town and several hundred citizens. They were escorted, headed by the Collingwood Band, to the Grand Central Hotel, where an official luncheon was tendered, and this was followed by short speeches by member of the council and several of the leading members of the Legislature.

After the luncheon the party left by the steamer City of Collingwood, on the stormy waters of Georgian Bay, for Sault Ste. Marie, which place will be reached by noon to-day.

Idyl Wyld SUMMER RESORT

RICE LAKE, ONTARIO.

THIS Breezy and Beautiful Island Summer Resort will re-open for the season of 1899 on June 12th, under entirely new and up-to-date management. Important new additions to the building and hotel equipment have been effected. Twenty new Bed Rooms, Sitting Rooms, and Waiting Rooms have been added, and entirely refurnished in modern style. Broad balconies extend around each of the two new stories erected, affording picturesque views of the surrounding scenery.

The cuisine will be a special feature—fresh meat, fresh fish, fresh eggs, milk and butter as well as wholesome vegetables and fruit in abundance, necessitated by a robust appetite, sharpened by the ozone and continual breeze of this idyllic spot.

Good bass and maskinonge fishing all along the shore and lake. No charge for Americans fishing—no permits required. Boats and competent guides furnished. The island steam-launch, "Outlet Queen," can be engaged for cruising and sailing parties. The Park is open for excursion parties whether public or private. Tables and seats for picnic parties are all over the grounds in shady groves. Come and spend your summer vacation at Idyl Wyld, and for your life don't miss it.

5 M.P.'S FOR TORONTO

The Redistribution Bill is to Be so Amended.

REASONS FOR THE DECISION.

More Postoffice Reforms—Mr. Mulock's New Bill Deals With Registered and Late-Mailed Letters — Sir Henri Joly's New Grain Standards Measure—The House in Committee of Supply.

Ottawa, June 16.—Since its introduction in the House of Commons the redistribution bill has been considered by the members of the Administration, with the result that it has been decided to give Toronto five members in place of four, as was the original intention. The rapid growth of the city and the fact that the municipal boundaries will be the limits of the city, as represented in the House of Commons, have caused this decision. At present thousands of Torontonians are voting in East and West York.

Giving Toronto but 200,000 of a population, the unit for the city would be 40,000, as against 32,700 in the rural municipalities. The tribunal of judges provided for will subdivide the city into five ridings. In order to maintain the proportion of representation it will be necessary to diminish the number of rural municipalities by one. This will probably be done by uniting two ridings in the eastern portion of the province. The change in respect of the representation of Toronto is expected to meet with favor from the Opposition, as well as from the supporters of the Administration. The bill will come for its second reading to-day.

A Postal Act Amendment.

On the opening of the House Hon. Mr. Mulock introduced a bill to amend the Postoffice Act, and in doing so explained that one of the changes was that "sample" copies of newspapers for non-subscribers, which now pay 1c per pound, will pay the same rate as is charged on papers mailed to subscribers, and may contain circulars and accounts, such as may now be sent to subscribers. Another change is that railway mail superintendents may be appointed from clerks who have served in the railway mail service for ten years, "either on the road or in the office," instead of "on the road," as at present. Provision is made for charging a small fee for despatching letters after the regular hour for closing the mail, and for issuing registered letters up to $25 value at a rate which will be just sufficient to protect the department from loss. The bill was read a first time.

Questions and Answers.

Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick said, in reply to Mr. Taylor, that Hon. P. A. Choquette was assigned as Superior Court Judge to the District of Quebec.

In answer to a question put for Mr. Casgrain, Hon. Mr. Blair said that while A. A. Macdonald, late assistant manager of the Intercolonial, was under suspension Charles Bellean, chief train despatcher, acted in his place and received $43 a month in addition to his regular salary of $83.

Grain Inspection.

Sir Henri Joly withdrew his bill to amend the General Inspection Act and introduced the new bill agreed on by the grain growers' and buyers' deputations, the provisions of which have already been given. He explained that No. 1 hard would contain 75 per cent. of red fife, instead of two-thirds, as at present, and that the bill provided for inspection east of Manitoba when necessary.

The House in Supply.

The House then went into committee of supply, taking up the item of $20,000 for a lighthouse to replace the lightship at present in use at the Upper Traverse, St. Lawrence River. A long debate ensued, which lasted all the afternoon and part of the evening, after which the item passed.

A vote for $11,000 for public buildings, Ottawa, provoked a discussion on the question of lighting the buildings with electricity, the Opposition contending that the price paid by the Government, $3 per light per year, was excessive.

The item was passed, and, after a few more votes had been agreed to, the House adjourned at 12.20.

THE SENATE.

Ottawa, June 16.—In the Senate yesterday afternoon Hon. David Mills introduced a bill to amend the act relating to penitentiaries. The bill, he explained, provides that in cases where penitentiaries in another province are more convenient to incarcerate a convict than the penitentiary of the district in which he was convicted, the convict may be incarcerated in such penitentiary. The bill gives the Governor-General-in-Council power, where an officer who has been promoted from a position where he would have been entitled, under the Civil Service Act, to receive a gratuity, to a position where he was entitled to a retiring allowance, to give him both. It also provides for the removal of insane persons. There were numerous persons who had been committed to asylums after having been adjudged irresponsible in criminal trials, for whom he did not think the Federal Government was responsible, though the Dominion was responsible for all prisoners who went insane after conviction.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked for some information, but the Minister of Justice suggested that it would be better to discuss the bill when it was printed. The bill was read a first time.

Hon. David Mills, in moving the second reading of the bill respecting loan companies, said that objection had been taken in some quarters to the Federal Parliament dealing with this question at all. It seemed to him rather late in the day to urge this objection, when the Federal Parliament had been doing so for so long. He saw in some newspapers the statement that he had given up his old views of the constitution, and his old espousal of provincial rights. He was not aware of any change in his views, for he had never held that all power was bound up in lieutenant-governors of provincial legislatures. There was nothing in this bill which subverted any provincial right.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell complimented the Minister on his speech. He had been glad to hear it, for he had told the Minister privately that his fear was that when he accepted the portfolio of Justice, that he was so much a provincial rights man that he would lean against the Dominion.

The bill was read a second time.

A ST. THOMAS CASE.

The Entire Population Talking of the Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures.

St. Thomas, June 12.—The great wave has reached St. Thomas. The cures wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills are numbered by hundreds here, and the entire population, almost, is talking of them.

Michael Holleran, a farmer living near here, told our reporter, "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from an untimely grave." He was cured of Diabetes, of an aggravated type by a few boxes, after his doctors had failed to even relieve him.

So it goes. Everyone who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills has been cured. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Paralysis, all diseases of the kidneys and the blood yield to their power. They never fail to cure these ailments.

Famine in German East Africa.

London, June 16.—Advices received here from East Africa show famine is prevailing in the German possessions, owing to the drought, which also prevails alarmingly in the British Protectorate. Hundreds of women and children are dying of starvation, and the resident whites are wholly unable to cope with the distress.

India and Countervailing Duties.

London, June 16.—The House of Commons last evening, by a vote of 293 against 152, rejected a motion proposed by the Right Hon. Sir Henry Hartley Fowler, Liberal member for East Wolverhampton and former Secretary of State for India, praying the Queen to disallow the proposal of the Indian Government to impose countervailing duties upon sugar.

Is This Report True?

London, June 16.—An irresponsible news sheet publishes an alleged despatch from Saratowa, Russia, asserting that the Niagara, an American-built steamer, was wrecked in the River Volga during a storm yesterday, with a loss of 190 lives. There is no confirmation of the statement, however, from any other source.

The Presbyterian Assembly.

Hamilton, June 16.—Considerable time was occupied at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church yesterday morning in the receiving of reports.

The receiving of applications of Presbyteries for the reception of ministers was referred to a committee.

Rev. Dr. Warden presented the report of the committee on Sabbath school publications. It showed that all these publications, including The Teachers' Monthly, Home Study Quarterly, Primary Quarterly, Home Study Leaflet and Primary Leaflet, were now on a self-sustaining basis.

Nearly all the afternoon was taken up in discussing the report of the committee on the century fund presented by Rev. Dr. Warden. He said that if each member contributed $5 for two years the amount would be raised. The report was referred to a committee, which was instructed to report next Tuesday.

At the evening session the report of the eastern section of the home mission committee was presented by Rev. Mr. McMillan of Halifax. It stated that there are 258 fields of work, in which the same number of missionaries are laboring. There was an increase of three fields during the year. The number of settled congregations is 182, vacant 13, ordained missionaries in charge 20. For this year's work he said $12,000 is required.

Rev. Dr. Warden presented the report of the western section of the home mission committee. There are 182 mission fields, including 267 preaching stations. This year $37,000 will be needed.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottle free at James Lynch's drug store. Regular size, $1 and 50c. Every bottle guaranteed.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales in practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1899 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used, Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty to cast in the plate. CHEMONG PARK SUMMER RESORT.

THE ENJOYABLE SEASON AUSPICIOUSLY OPENED.

The Booking of Guests Encouraging Large—Marked Development in Hotel Management—Attractions and Amusements of the Park.

June is always the pleasantest month of the year, and the middle of the month is usually made the date for the opening of the summer resorts. Preparations for this event have been in progress during the past month on an extensive scale at the Chemong Park Hotel Summer Resort, with the result that many marked improvements are discernable, which cannot fail to be appreciated by the guests of this popular resort.

There is perhaps no place in Ontario more favoured in its environments and nearness to rural beauty, than Chemong Park, and just now the foliage and varied growth of the country side is at its greenest and freshest. In addition to what Nature has done for the spot, the artificial attractiveness bestowed upon it this year under the new management of Mr. Brown, lends a charming interest to the scenery and surroundings.

The hotel premises have been renovated and freshened by a thorough over hauling from cellar to dome. But the chief improvement is in the efficient staff of the house. Such a competent service has been provided as shall guarantee entire satisfaction to the most particular of guests. Mr. George H. Brown, the affable lessee, of course assumes executive control, and is well assisted by his practical wife, who is known to be a most competent and painstaking house keeper. Miss Gallagher, late of the Quinte Hotel, Belleville, has charge of the dining room. The new and pleasing arrangement of the tables and furniture can be seen at a glance, and ample evidence exists that the dining room will be conducted up to date. Miss Rough, formerly of town, is housemaid. Miss Minnie Johnston, of Lewiston, N. Y., is cook, and last year filled an engagement with the Albany Conservative Club of Toronto. Mr. T. Easton, formerly of the Bay of Quinte Hotel, an experienced summer resort man, will pay special attention to the wants of the guests. Mr. J. White of town, has charge of the bar, and dispenses cooling and refreshing liquids like a veteran in the business. An attentive hostler looks after the stabling and comfort of horses and conveyances. Courteous attention and every service calculated to contribute to the pleasure of guests is given.

ATTRACTIONS IN THE PARK.

The extensive stretch of lawn has been well trimmed and kept in fine condition—its beautifully cealn,green velvety appearance furnishing a harmonious ground work for its surroundings. A fine lawn tennis court is in readiness, and a golf ground is being laid out, as well as a place for quoits. At the boat house shuffle boards and bagatelle boards have been installed, principally for the amusement of ladies and children. A small steam yacht will be run in connection with the hotel for the convenience of fishing and pleasure parties. The gymnasium for improving the muscles and developing the limbs, has been made additionally interesting. There are twelve bath houses situated near the water edge, affording abundant facilities for bathing for both sexes. Besides these, there are various other attractions provided, so that the varied tastes and inclinations of the guests may be indulged in to their heart's content.

Mr. Jno. Pope, the obliging caretaker of the park, gives special attention to a splendid boat livery, where comfortable canoes and skiffs are always available.

The grounds are always open for private picnic parties, and for Sunday school and society excursions. Facilities for heating water and making tea are all in readiness, free for the using. Tables have also been erected and swings hung for the convenience of the patrons of the park. The large pavilion makes a splendid dancing floor as well as affording a fine view with abundant shelter and shade.

Mr. Brown has been very industriously engaged in securing new features of attraction for his summer resort. Arrangements have been made with Mr. Gliddon, bandmaster of the 57th Batt. band, to give a series of open air evening band concerts, during the season, the first of which takes place on Wednesday next, 28th June. So—

Come along and get you ready, you tourists out to shine;
Don't forget to take your lady, for the trip will be so fine,
That you know would forget it, however you may try,
So that "time myself at Chemong" will have to be the cry.

SALVATION ARMY WEDDING

CAPT. WM. CARTER WEDS CAPT. GERTRUDE HICKEY.

Ceremony Performed by Major Hargrave—Big Audience at the Barracks Last Night.

Last night was an unusually interesting one in the history of the local Salvation Army corp, it being the first wedding here under the direction of the Army officers for some time. The event had been extensively advertised for some time previous, and a very large audience was present to witness the occasion. It might be mentioned that only staff officers from staff captain up, are empowered to perform such an important ceremony, and they are granted this privilege by special Act of Dominion Parliament.

The two army officers who were being united in the holy bonds of matrimony, were Capt. Wm. Carter of Campbellford and Capt. Gertrude Hickey, formerly of Sydney, Cape Briton.

After a grand street parade headed by a

A Full Band,

the service in the barracks was opened by song in the usual manner.

Capt. Tuck of Millbrook, offered prayer, which was followed by another sacred song accompanied by the band.

Adjutant Aikenhead then introuced Major Hargrave of Montreal, who was present to perform the marriage ceremony.

Major Hargrave made a neat reply, expressing his pleasure at being present, it being his first visit to Peterborough in the capacity of Provincial officer.

The band rendered a choice selection before the event of the evening took place. The marriage ceremony contains of course of the usual state covenants but a good many Army Covenants have to be agreed to.

Capt. French of the local corp, assisted the bride whilst Wendal Green bandmaster, performed a like duty for The Groom.

The costumes of the bride and groom were the regular Army apparel, with the exception of a white sash which each wore.

Capt. Aikenhead who has for some time intimately known Capt. and Mrs. Carter, spoke a few words as to their stirling qualities and their loyalty to the Army.

The newly married Capt. made a suitable reply after which he and his bride rendered a duet very pleasingly.

The services concluded in the regular form.

The barracks had been very elaborately decorated for the occasion, with flags, bunting and evergreens. On a big motto across the front were the words, "United in Jesus." Among the other beautiful decorations was a lovely flower bell, the gift of Mrs. Alderman John Sawers.

During the service last night Adjutant Aikenhead was agreeably surprised by being presented with an elegant new bicycle, the gift of the local corp.

An Entertaining Programme Presented Last Evening.

A very successful entertainment was held last evening in All Saint's church under the auspices of the members of the Boys' Brigade. The musical portion of the programme was participated in by Miss Brown, Miss Bullen, Miss Staunton, Miss Pollock, Mrs. Layfield and Miss Brundrette, Mr. A. Kingscotte, G. W. Mulligan and members of the choir.

The second part of the programme consisted of a play entitled "The Plot of Potzentansend," given by ten boys, members of the Brigade, which certainly was very well given. The boys are to be congratulated upon the success which attended their first attempt in this line.

The piano used on this occasion was a Whaley-Royce, kindly loaned by Mr. Mulligan.

WHEN IS DOMINION DAY TO BE CELEBRATED?

SHALL IT BE ON SATURDAY OR ON MONDAY?

The Question Should be Decided at Once and an Understanding Arrived at.

This year the first of July falls upon a Saturday. As Canadians we all desire to fittingly celebrate an occasion of so much sentimental as well as actual interest to the people of the Dominion. To properly observe the day we should be in a position to lay aside all care and be free from all distracting demands of business. Now Saturday is a very busy day, both to business men and to the hundreds of farmers that visit our market, and it is in this sense unfortunate that the First of July should fall upon that day this year. In Port Hope and numerous other places, Monday has been selected as the day. The secretary of the Lacrosse Club has received letters from Beaverton, Marmora and Tweed asking for a game in Peterborough 'on Dominion Day, (July 3rd.)' However, what ever day is selected should be distinctly defined, and a general agreement amongst our business men arrived at. Because, if the matter is left undecided there will be a conflict of action in regard to the observance of the day, and an injury to business interests. An understanding is necessary, to be made publicly known, whether Saturday, 1st, or Monday, 3rd, is to be celebrated. If Saturday is chosen, that fact should be made known publicly. In that event the merchants of the town might have a thousand or so hand bills printed announcing the fact that Friday preceding the first of July would be the market day. These bills should be freely distributed on the market on Saturday, so that farmers can act accordingly. Thus the usual Saturday's business crop could be reaped a day in advance.

If Monday is decided upon as the day, the Mayor should be asked to issue a proclamation calling upon citizens to observe that day. In his usual spirit of obliging compliance with the wishes of the public, he would, no doubt, gladly consent to issue such a request.

Whatever course is taken, no time is to be lost. The merchants interested in the matter should move at once before our bands are all engaged for outside places, which are celebrating on Monday, and before the public make arrangements for observing one day or the other.

It is unfortunate that we shall not have on Dominion Day a big demonstration of some kind to attract people to town, instead of permitting them to go elsewhere for their pleasure on the holiday of holidays to Canadians. At any rate we can do the next best thing, and come to some definite understanding as to the day to be observed, so that the confusion and cross purposes of those who will observe either day at will, will be avoided.

A Good Act.

In order to encourage early closing during the hot summer months and to show their usual appreciation of the movement, messrs. henry & co., grocers and liquor merchants, will close their store at 7 o'clock every evening, commencing on Monday, June 19th, except Saturdays. The hearty co-operation of the customers of the firm is needed to help the clerks enjoy an extra hour's recreation in the cool of the evening. By a little thinking, orders can be sent in a little earlier in the day, and the firm will guarantee that the goods are delivered promptly.

LOCAL BALL PLAYERS BEAT BOWMANVILLE.

A GOOD GAME ON THE P. A. A. A. GROUNDS.

The Score was 11—6 and one Innings—Peterborough Batted Wilcox Throughout—McCabe's Home Run.

Those who witnessed the game of baseball yesterday afternoon on the P.A.A.A. grounds, between the local nine and the swift Bowmanville aggregation, were amply repaid for their admission fee and the unpleasness of the rather cool atmosphere which prevailed towards the latter half of the game. The home team after a faultless game of ball was victorious by a score of 11 to 6.

The visitors arrived in town on the morning train from Kingston, where they had been playing their return match with the team of that place, and registered at the Oriental. The downpour of rain that occuured in the forenoon, made the chances for a good game of ball rather gloomy, but by 3 p.m., the weather was all that could be desired and a fair sized crowd was on hand when the game started. Of course the usual number of small boys and a certain class of young men took their positions on the roofs of buildings close by the grounds, or tried the old game of sneaking over or through the fences.

The game from start to finish was characterised by brilliant plays, more particularly on the part of the home team, and their victory over a team of Bowmanville's reputation put their backers in good humour to say the least.

McCabe who has been somewhat disabled of late, as usual dished up curves for the home team and puzzled the visitors at the bat to no small extent. He succeeded in retiring ten men and held them down to 8 hits. His batting was exceptionally good, and when in the eighth he placed the ball over the fence making a home run and bringing in two men who were on bases, he was wildly applauded. Parnell at short stop made a very good record, as out of five chances no errors are placed to his credit. His fielding is quick and always sure. The same may be said of Sheridan, who out of 8 chances made only one error. Graham behind the bat caught a faultless game and succeeded in holding McCabe in excellent style. Melrose at second gave a good account of himself and made a very pretty catch in the fourth. Thompson in left field had two nice flies come his way which he landed safely. Although he reached first, five times however, he failed to get all the way around. Johnston on first did all right too, his batting was very good and only one very glaring error did he make. Grady at centre field was not called upon to do anything the whole day.

For the visitors that old Veteran McGarry was in good form. He played first for a change and did it well. Wilcox who occupied the box did excellent work at first but in the latter half of the game was batted all over the field. The team on the whole was much heavier than the local men.

Lionel King in his usual efficient style umpired the game in a most impartial manner.

The visitors went to bat with Malone at the plate. He sent out a grounder to first base, and was out. McGarry followed with a drive to centre field and reached first. Stapleton sent a pretty one to Sheridan at third, who threw to first, putting the batter out. Bennett then placed a good one, reaching the home bag in safety and at the same time bringing McGarry in. Wilcox placed one in right field, and Bennett crossed the home plate. There was now two runs in, with Wilcox on second, and two men out, when Jordan came to bat. He sent out a pretty one, and Melrose on second made an excellent catch. These two runs were the only ones scored by the visitors until the 8th innings.

Sheridan was the first one to face Wilcox's curves, and fanned the wind thrice. Parnell reached first, as did also Graham. Dan McCabe stood at the plate, and the crowd waited impatiently to see the result. He found the ball, shattering the bat at the same time but Donovan who ran for him, arriving at first too late. Thompson's fly to third was caught by Bennett, retiring the side with two men on bases.

Hamilton failed to reach first, in the second; Chambers was caught out by Parnell, whilst Mingeand placed a nice one in Sheridan's hands, retiring the side.

D'Russia fell a victim to Wilcox's curves; Johnston reached first on a beautiful one to left field, and was brought in by a pretty three base hit by Grady. Sheridan placed one out in the field, and Grady arrived home. A wild throw by the catcher to third gave Sheridan a chance to get home, which he took advantage of. Graham was caught out by Stapleton at second. The side went out by Parnell's failure to reach first.

The third innings was a whitewash for the visitors, only McGarry reaching first.

McCabe and Melrose made the circuit in the third, D'Russia, Johnston and Grady going out.

Another whitewash was administered to the visitors, Jordan being put out in trying to steal second. Hamilton caught out by Parnell and Chambers being caught out very nicely by Sheridan.

Peterborough was retired in quick order, it being their second whitewash. Sheridan and Graham were put out at first, and Parnell was caught out in the field.

McGarry, Malone and Mingeand went out in an instant, and the local men went to bat again. Dan was the only one to make a run in this innings. Thompson and D'Russia were left on bases. Stapleton now went out at first, Bennett failed to locate Mc Cabe's curves and Wilcox was fielded out, making Bowmanville's fifth consecutive whitewash. Peterborough was treated to the same dose next, the victims being Sheridan, Parnell and McCabe. In this game the first base on balls occurred, Graham gaining first in that manner, whilst for the first time Dan McCabe three times swiped in vain at Wilcox's curves.

In the seventh, Jordan and Hamilton were left on bases. Chambers and Malone succumbed to Dan's pitching, and Mingeand getting out on first, making six whitewashes.

Peterborough failed to score in the seventh, Melrose, Thompson and Johnston getting out in short order.

The visitors managed to get in two runs in the next innings, McGarry and Stapleton doing the necessary. Parnell made a beautiful catch from Hutchinson's bat in this innings.

The next was the last innings for the home team, and they managed to pile up four more runs, making victory a sure thing. It was now that Dan McCabe sent the sphere over the north end fence, making a home run and bringing in two others. Grady went to bat first and was struck out. Sheridan reached first, and on an error got to second. Parnell placed a nice one, making first and bringing in Sheridan. Graham repeated this, and got to first. Dan kept his eye on the ball from the moment it left Wilcox's hand, and landing it over the fence, touched every bag on the diamond, and brought in Parnell and Graham. Melrose and Thompson failed to do anything, and Bowmanville went in for their last innings. Chambers and Mingeand soon went out, but Melrose and McGarry scored. Stapleton got to first but Wilcox died at the plate, putting an end to the game, as Peterborough was ahead by 11 to 5, without the additional innings.

Miss Fairweather deserves great credit, being a beginner this season; she put up a splendid game throughout.

LACROSSE.

The Lindsay lacrosse team arrived in town this morning, and registered at the Oriental. They play the Peterborough Juniors on the P. A. A. A. Grounds this evening, and as the game is to start at 6.30 o'clock it should be well patronized, as almost everyone is free from business at that hour. Ladies are admitted free to this game.

FOREMAN CLARKE INJURED.

A Steel Rail Fell on his Foot Bruising It Badly.

George Clark, No. 781 George street, late section foreman on one of the local lines is off duty these days; not however that he is in sympathy with the local strikers but owing to a disabled foot.

It will be remembered that Clarke turned traitor to the trackmen and resumed work. Yesterday he was engaged in moving some steel rails when one of them fell on his foot bruising it quite badly.

Dr. King was summoned and dressed the wound but it will be several weeks before Clarke will be able to resume work.

Suffering caused by Piles

Is Quickly Ended when

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is applied

Besides the intense agony caused by the itching, burning sensations of piles, there are other symptoms which produce restlessness and at times excruciating pains known only to the victim of piles.

What would one give to be free of this terrible disease? And yet there is a cure—a positive cure—which does not cost much and is not painful or difficult to apply.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is, so far as is known, the only absolute cure for blind, itching, bleeding and protruding piles. It gives relief at the first application and affords a perfect cure in the most aggravated cases.

Mr. Isaac Foster, Erieview, Ont., says: "I was troubled with itching piles for two years and could not sleep at night. I was half crazed and tried everything. Finally seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised I tried it and found it good. After a second application I found relief, and one large box cured me. Have never been bothered since, and I can recommend it to all suffering from the same trouble."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is for sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

INDIANS DOING WELL.

The Northwest Red Men Are Becoming Good Farmers.

Ottawa, June 15.—The annual report of the Northwest Mounted Police Department was laid on the table yesterday afternoon by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The report of Col. Herchmer is dated Dec. 20, 1898, and gives some interesting details of the work of the force during the year. With respect to the Indians the commissioner says: "We have had no trouble with the Indians this year. A growing inclination to make money, fostered by the Indian Department, who have given them every opportunity, has kept the able-bodied men of most bands at work and between freighting and haymaking and the gathering of crops most of their time has been fully occupied. They have sold a great deal of hay at good prices and have also, particularly in the north, sold a number of splendid steers, besides supplying their reserves with beef. They pay great attention to their cattle, and their steers are probably as good as those disposed of by the best farmers in the country; and if the department only continues in this wise policy of frequently changing the bulls, only buying the best, they will soon be very rich in good cattle."

Jack Roach to Be Extradited.

Boston, June 15.—John T. Roach, who was arrested here two weeks ago, charged with aiding in the robbery of the Dominion Bank at Napanee, Ont., in 1897, was brought before United States Commissioner Fiske yesterday and held in $7,000 bonds. He will be taken to Canada when the necessary extradition papers have been passed upon by the Secretary of State.

Christian Church Conference.

Brougham, Ont., June 15.—The 74th annual conference of the Christian Church of Ontario met in this place yesterday afternoon. The following officers were elected: President, Rev. C. H. Hainer, Stouffville; secretary, Rev. W. P. Fletcher, Toronto; treasurer, Mr. W. W. Truell, Orono. Nearly all the churches are represented.

He Fooled The Surgeons.

All doctors told Ranick Hamilton, West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. The Filipinos Are Now in What Strongly Fortified Town Ready for Another Battle—More Fighting.

Manila, June 15.—The Filipinos retreated several miles southward after yesterday's engagement, to the strongly-fortified town of Imus. The shelling of the American warships drove the rebels from Bacoora, so the Americans control several more miles of coast. Gen. Lawton, with his staff and a troop of the 4th Cavalry, started to ascertain the nature of the insurgents' position. He rode five miles along the coast to Bacoora without discovering the enemy and found the town full of white flags, but there were no soldiers there. The women and children who had fled to the woods during the bombardment were camping in the ruins of their homes. The shells had almost knocked the town to pieces. The big church was wrecked and many buildings were ruined. Even the trees and shrubbery were torn as by a hail-storm. Several hundred women and children came into the American lines for refuge and the road from Bacoora was covered all day long with processions of them on foot and in carts, driving animals and carrying goods on their heads.

The appearance of the battlefield testified to the fierceness of yesterday's fighting. The trees along the river between the lines are almost torn down by bullets. The American officers estimate that 100 were killed and that 300 were wounded during the engagement. The next battle will probably be fought at Imus. The American troops will soon control the coast of Cavita.

HAVEMEYER ON THE SUGAR TRUST.

President of the American Company Blames It All on the Tariff.

Washington, June 15.—Mr. Henry O. Havemeyer, president of the American Sugar Refining Company, was examined by the industrial commission yesterday in connection with its investigation of trusts. His testimony related almost wholly to the sugar industry, and he opened with a vigorous attack upon the customs tariff, which he declared was the "mother of all trusts," becoming such by providing "an inordinate protection to manufactured articles."

He asserted that a tariff of ten per cent. was as high as any tariff should be. He contended that sugar was discriminated against in the tariff in the interest of the Louisiana cane growers, the beet sugar makers and the sugar growers of the Hawaiian Islands. To these interests, he contended, the United States contributed $34,000,000, which was taken out of the pockets of the people. He thought Congress should have put an internal revenue tax on the American production of sugar. The representations made in Congress concerning the trust, he declared, were untrue, and if it was a fact that the people suffered from trusts they must blame the protective tariff system, of which the trusts were merely the machinery.

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

A Ten-Year Lighting Contract.

Hamilton, June 14.—At a joint meeting of the special electric lighting committee and the Board of Works last night, the offer of the Cataract Power Company to light the city for a term of years at the expiration of the present contract was considered. The company's offer was: $85 a lamp per year up to 425 lamps; from that number to 500, $82.50 a lamp. It was figured out that at those rates a saving of $2,500 a year would be effected. The present contract rate is $91 a lamp per year. After discussion, it was resolved to enter into a ten-year contract on the agreement that, if at the end of five years the contract price was not satisfactory, the contract could be terminated by giving a year's notice. Manager Lyden agreed to put in 400 lights at $85 each yearly.

Canadian Vocalists Will Sing.

London, June 14.—The following Canadian artists will appear at the reception to be given to Princess Hall, Piccadilly, by Lady Strathcona, on the eve of Dominion Day: Mme. Albani, Mlle. Beatrice La Palme, Miss Maud Cousineau, Miss Jardine Thomson, R. De Lafroix.

Four Years for Christiani.

Paris, June 14.—Baron Christiani, who assaulted President Loubet with a cane at the Auteuil races, June 4, was sentenced yesterday to four years imprisonment, and also to pay the costs of the trial. Christiani listened unmoved to his sentence.

Hints to Fishermen.

Toronto, June 14.—Recent regulations issued by the Fisheries Department at the Parliament Buildings provide that no one shall take fish, save by angling, without a license; that no one shall take any fish for sale between Sept. 1 and April 15 without a license; that bass less than ten inches and speckled trout less than six inches shall not be taken, but, if caught, shall be returned to the water. One day's catch of speckled trout is limited to 15 pounds.

Owen Sound Boy Drowned.

Owen Sound, June 14.—As the tug Rover was proceeding with dredge No. 2 to Byng Inlet yesterday Thomas Young, a lad about 19 years of age, fell overboard about 14 miles down Owen Sound Bay and was drowned. The body was not recovered. Young's parents are residents of this town.

ALASKA BOUNDARY.

Satisfactory Temporary Arrangement of the Question.

London, June 15.—The United States ambassador here, Mr. Joseph H. Choate, has just received from the Foreign Office a communication on the Alaska question which, it is understood, is a satisfactory temporary arrangement of the affair.

The officials of the Foreign Office, while unwilling to discuss the details, assure the Associated Press that the Alaska difficulties are practically smoothed over until the meeting of the high commission in August.

VANLUVEN HELPED PEOPLE.

Loaned Them Public Money and Then They Went Back on Him.

Kingston, Ont., June 15.—The report of the select committee appointed to inquire into the affairs of Vanluven, the late treasurer of the County of Frontenac, is made public. The evidence of a number of witnesses goes to show Vanluven was in the habit of loaning money freely.

R. J. Gowdy, in his evidence, says that in an interview Vanluven stated to him that his (Vanluven's) financial condition was such that he was afraid he would be arrested if he divulged the names of parties owing him, and that he was threatened with arrest if he divulged the names. When he asked for money from his creditors they simply snapped their fingers in his face. He also stated that there were county officials for years back that owed him money.

Lightning Struck Tottenham.

Tottenham, Ont., June 15.—Yesterday afternoon a terrific electric storm passed over and centred its violence in this town. Mr. A. J. Mercer's implement warehouse was struck, several holes being made in the wall, the ceiling crushed down, the floor raised and two chimneys wrecked. Mrs. McLean, who was in the building at the time, was considerably stunned. The Town Hall was also visited and the Maple Leaf Hotel got a shock, but no fire started. A dozen trees in the village were also struck.

Kipling Sails for Europe.

New York, June 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Rudyard Kipling sailed for Europe yesterday on the Teutonic.

MR. JOHN R. SMITH,

A well known gentleman of Lake Stream, N. B., speaks willingly of the good effects of Laxa-Liver Pills.

Week by week and month by month the demand for Laxa-Liver Pills steadily increases.

The old-fashioned, nauseating, griping purgatives are being rapidly superseded by these easy-acting, non-irritating little fellows.

If you're troubled with biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, constipation, liver complaint, muddy complexion, blotches or pimples—just take a Laxa-Liver Pill or two before retiring—

They'll work while you sleep without a gripe or pain—make you feel better in the morning.

Mr. John R. Smith, Lake Stream, Kent Co., N.B., says: "From personal experience I willingly testify to the good effects derived from the use of Laxa-Liver Pills for sick headache and constipation."

When you find Laxa-Liver Pills do you good, do not hesitate to recommend them to your friends and neighbors, as a reliable remedy deserves to be widely known. Sold by all druggists at 25c. a bottle or 6 for $1.00.

WAYS OF WOMEN.

A woman always has the last word—and incidentally about 90 per cent of the preceding conversation.—Chicago News.

Some women are like the ostrich. They think a gay hat will divert the public mind from a frayed skirt binding.—Chicago Record.

Wearing gloves of kangaroo and shoes of antelope skin, the up to date golfing girl shouldn't have any trouble bounding over the links.—St. Louis Republic.

A New York woman filled up with wine and smashed things around in a lively manner because of a newspaper story that she had traded the urn in which were the ashes of her deceased husband for a plaster of paris image. The "storied urn" started her upon an animated "bust," as it were.

Me and Human Nature.

"I have been trying for nearly a year," he said, "to get a chance to ask you to be my wife."

"Ah, Francis," she replied, "I am glad to know that you are persevering, and I shall not let your constancy of purpose go unrewarded. I will be yours."

"Oh, but I suppose I ought to have explained first," he made haste to answer, 'that now the chance is offered I haven't any desire to accept it. What a queer thing human nature is, isn't it? People are always longing for that which they do not possess, and when they finally get it, or have a chance to get it, they don't want it."

She was too busy looking hard at nothing to reply.

A Problem.

"I hardly know," said the corn fed philosopher, "whether it be better for a man to remain single and disappoint several women for a time or marry and disappoint one woman for life."—Indianapolis Journal.

Doctors said Incurable

But the Notary, Mr. Lemire, was cured of Kidney Disease in two months by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is only when thoroughly convinced of the superior merit of a remedy that public men will give their sanction.

Mr. E. H. Lemire, Notary Public, 1650 Notre Dame Street, Montreal, tells of his remarkable recovery from a severe attack of kidney disease. When doctors had failed, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills saved his life. He writes: "I give this statement, first because it is only just that the merit of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills should be made known, and again in order that others may profit by my experience. For years I suffered with kidney disease which doctors pronounced incurable. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I have used for two months, I am completely cured. They helped me from the first, and the cure is now perfect."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly on the kidneys, and through their combined influence on the kidneys and liver, cure the most complicated diseases of these delicate organs. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WEAK RULERS.

They Have Seldom Retarded the Progress of a Nation.

It is a curious fact that several conspicuous examples of nations thriving under weak rulers are to be found in history.

To begin with, the Roman empire undoubtedly reached its highest level of commercial and military prosperity during the first 400 years or so of the Christian era, and yet the majority of its rulers during this period displayed very little administrative ability, and many of them were not only weak, but absolutely vicious. In this case, however, it may be taken that the accumulated energy which had been growing up for centuries found its last expression during the rule of the later emperors and that Rome developed rather in spite of them than because of them.

We have another striking example in Russia under Ivan the Terrible, who was undoubtedly the most unmitigated savage that ever occupied a European throne. Yet under him Russia developed in every way as she had never developed before. In fact, it is not too much to say that Ivan the Terrible made possible the work of Peter the Great.

The last century of the French monarchy saw its throne occupied by men of small ability and generally considerable vices, whose alleged greatness—as, for instance, Louis XIV—was due to their ministers and not to themselves. Yet during this period France undoubtedly became the most powerful of the continental nations.

In English history we have a striking example in the reign of the infamous Charles II, the greatest scoundrel who ever sat on the English throne. In his reign the value of the mercantile marine doubled, the excise revenue nearly trebled and, perhaps most eloquent proof of all, land round the great cities more than trebled in value. So, too, with the first four Georges. They were all weak and most vicious, and yet it was during the period covered by their reigns the British nation took its final form and laid the foundation of all its subsequent triumphs. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Queer Hiding Place.

The fancy for secret drawers and out of the way hiding places is a curious trait with many people. A Chicago electrician tells that while following up the wire of an electric bell in a North Side house his search led him behind a door. Kneeling down, he rested his hand on the wooden knob fastened in the wall to prevent the door handle from touching the plaster and was surprised to find it yield to his grasp. A slight pull disclosed the fact that it was the handle of a secret drawer which was almost filled with jewels, watches and money.

Hearing an exclamation behind him, he looked up to find the lady of the house bending over him, apparently horror stricken. Without speaking he closed the drawer and resumed his search for the wire, and, though neither mentioned the incident, the lady kept her eyes on him until he finished his work and left the house.

A Singular Contest.

In the days of the younger Pitt Orlando Wray, a then leader of fashion, backed himself against another dandy, believed to be Viscount Croghan, to tie cravats at a guinea a time. The match took place at Tunbridge Wells. George Selwyn was judge. The rival bowmakers sat back to back facing mirrors, and their valets handed them the cravats. It is related that Viscount Croghan's chief valet fainted, either from excitement or fatigue, at the fifty-ninth cravat. The contest lasted about nine hours, and Wray won it after a most exciting finish. A considerable amount of money was wagered on the contest, and one of Wray's supporters won 800 guineas on it.

A Good Test.

If you have backache and there are brick dust deposits found in the urine after it stands for 24 hours you can be sure the kidneys are deranged. To effect a positive and prominent cure and prevent Bright's disease, suffering and death, use Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the world's greatest kidney cure.

A BLOOD STAINED HORSE.

The Effect It Had in Subduing a Party of Ruffians.

For sheer, cool nerve and absolute, inspired genius in dealing with men, commend me to Clarence King, the geologist, if a story that is told about him be true. Mr. King, the tale runs, was in the field all one summer with a government expedition. The field happened to be in the far west, and the men he was compelled to employ as assistants were a band of cheerful ruffians, half breed desperadoes and "greasers" scampa. Bad as they were, they worked well, and they were indispensable.

One night one of them deserted. Mr. King knew what that meant. It meant a stampede and an empty camp if the deserter were allowed to go unpunished. He chose a companion on whose silence he could depend, mounted and took the trail. On the third day the deserter was overtaken, captured and landed in a convenient fort. The runaway had subsisted for the three days of his liberty on such game and birds as he could kill. His horse was white, and as he rode often with prey slung to the saddle, the animal was streaked and stained with blood.

The man being in safe keeping, Mr. King and his companion rode back to camp leading the crimson streaked horse, with all the deserter's belongings strapped to his back. They spoke no word of the missing man to his former companions, but dismounted in grim silence. The men endured the pangs of curiosity as long as they could. Then they sent a committee to Mr. King to make inquiries about the fugitive. Mr. King gave a meaning glance at the blood stained horse and made answer briefly.

"He is gone," he said impressively. "He is gone where anybody else who tries to desert will go too."

Half breeds and "greasers" gasped, and from that day on no one of them all ever tried to desert.—Washington Post.

No Jay Rows in Theaters.

The reason why Washington has no street letter J is perfectly to be understood, for J and I are written so much alike that endless confusion would result. There is another place where the letter J is slighted, and not at all because of its similarity to I. None of the plans of the house to be seen in box offices shows a row of seats lettered J. Theater patrons don't mind sitting with the gods in the gallery, nor yet in row 18, but sit in the "jay" row they will not, and for that reason there is no row marked with that letter.—Washington Post.

READ THE PROOF!

GENTLEMEN,—I have for a long time needed something to make blood and build up my system. My blood was watery and thin, lacking strength and vitality. Last January a friend said:—"Why not try Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills? They will supply the oxygen your blood needs and give you health and strength." I told him I was very skeptical as to any benefit that could be derived from any proprietary medicine and had no faith in them. There the matter rested until four months ago, when reading so much about what Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done for so many people with impoverished blood, I concluded to give them a trial. I have taken four boxes and my unbelief so far as Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are concerned has been entirely removed. They are a splendid blood builder and strength restorer, and an invaluable medicine for weak, enervated people. This has been my experience, they having given me strength of body and strong healthy blood.

UNCLE MART AND THE INJUN.

An Adirondack Guide's Tale of Aboriginal Unreliability.

"Never heard tell of my uncle, Mart Moody?" said the grizzled Adirondack guide from Long lake. "Well, Uncle Mart was about the biggest drunkard and liar in the county, but he was one of the best hunters in the state—a regular Ramrod, as you say. One time he goes up to my Aunt Minerva, that's his wife, and says:

"'Minerva, me and the Injun, Captain Sybell, are going out to get some meat.' 'All right,' says my aunt, 'but be careful, Martin, and don't let that heathen steal your clothes off your back.' Uncle Mart just laughed and said he'd be back soon; they was only goin down the lake a bit, and he could take care of the Injun. So off he goes, and the Injun, who was waitin for him in his canoe, sez: 'Hurry up, Mart; I tank thar was big deer in the water.' So they paddled down the lake slowly and never spoke a word till they got down by the ledge near the aldera. Then the Injun looked at Uncle Mart and said, 'I tired,' and, taking his paddle out of the water, he knocked Uncle Mart's powder horn overboard, accidental like.

"Uncle Mart was mad as a hornet and says, 'You pesky Injun skunk, take care what you do.' But Captain Sybell said soft like, 'Don't ye car', Mart; I go down and get it.' With that he jumped overboard, and Uncle Mart laid back and thought of home and Aunt Minerva, who was a mighty fine woman. Bimeby it struck him that the Injun had been in the water a powerful long time. He calkilated it was nigh onto ten minutes or more, so he just looked over to see what he was doin, thinkin he might be drownded. What do ye think he saw down in the water? Thar there water was as clear as rum, and what do ye think he saw? Why, that there pesky Injun was a-scrum on the bottom smilin and pourin the powder out of Uncle Mart's powder horn into his own. You can't trust Injuns."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Fagging at Eton.

The system of fagging exists at Eton, as at nearly all large public schools, but it is practiced now in a much modified form.

Shortly described, it may be said to be the acknowledged right of older boys to exact from the younger boys (their fags) certain services—menial and otherwise. Its origin is obscure. It may have arisen as an economy when schools were poor, as it must save expense and labor for the younger boys to black boots, make tea and boil eggs for the elder ones.

But Eton is now exceedingly wealthy, its endowments being nearly £31,000 a year, and there can be no reason why, because a lad is young, he should have to wait upon his schoolmate as his servant and be exposed to the chance of very great tyranny. In the latter end of the last century the fagging at Eton was so cruel and excessive that it is reported that often a young fag would be kept up waiting on his master till 1 o'clock in the morning, and, being from lack of time prevented from getting his own lessons for the next day, would receive a thrashing from the master for the omission. Many instances of heartrending bullying and cruelty practiced by the big boys on their fags were reported, but fagging at Eton has been greatly reformed.—Chautauquan Herald.

Macaroni is taken from a Greek derivation which means "the blessed dead," in allusion to the ancient custom of eating it at feasts for the dead.

To be honest, as this world goes, is to be one man picked out of ten thousand.—Shakespeare.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15002 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334.80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

CHRISTIAN UNITY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I am grateful to "Reader" for his exposition of the views of his Church in regard to the question of Christian Unity, widely as they differ from my own. In replying, my aim will be simply to explain more clearly my own position.

I am not writing as the spokesman of anyone but myself. No doubt "Reader" will consider that a strange statement. But it is as hard for a Roman Catholic to understand the position of an Anglican, as it is for an Anglican to understand the position of a Roman Catholic. No doubt there are limits to the freedom of an Anglican, but the circle of his liberty is a large one. Hence it is the easiest thing in the world to show that on even important subjects there is diversity of opinion amongst us.

In reply to his question, I answer yes, I meant what I said. The Bible is the source of revelation. Our 6th article of religion says: "Holy Scripture containeth all things necessary to salvation; so that whatsoever is not read therein, nor may be proved thereby is not to be required of any man, that it should be believed as an article of faith, or thought requisite or necessary to salvation."

As in any sense equal to Scripture, we entirely reject tradition, and upon grounds which we believe to be with regard to the question of the primacy of St. Peter, the following statements will explain my position. I think they will be endorsed by Protestants in general, but they do not by any means include all that is to be said on the subject.

(1) The "power of the keys" undoubtedly indicates authority. It was however, a metaphor much in use among the Jews, and applied to the Rabbis. Amongst them it had not the significance given it by the Roman Church, nor does the New Testament support such an interpretation.

(2) St. Paul emphatically denied his dependence upon St. Peter, and the missionary work of St. Paul exceeded that of all the rest of the Apostles. He describes himself as pre-eminently the Apostle of the Gentiles.

(3) The Fathers of the Church, men unquestionably in full and undisputed membership with the Catholic church in their time, are greatly divided in their interpretation of the words, "Thou are Peter and upon this rock, I will build my Church." Thus St. Augustine held different opinions at different times of his life. He says that the confession of St. Peter was the Rock, i.e., the Divinity of Christ is the foundation truth of the Church. His words are super hanc petram, quam confessuses, aedificabo ecclesiam meam. At one time he thought the Rock was Peter, but later on he said that it was Christ. "Petra enim, est Christus, quem confessus Simon." St. Ambrose said, that not Peter, but the faith of Peter, was the foundation of the Church. St. Chrysostom says, "Upon this rock, that is upon the faith of this confession." Hilary Cyril of Alexandria, Basil, and other men of unblemished repute have held the same view.

"Reader" misunderstands me when he supposes that because I argue that unity of government is not to be found in St. Paul's Epistles, therefore I advocate a society without government. I do not believe in the old Stuart doctrine of the divine right of kings, but I am not therefore an anarchist.

In conclusion let me say, that I greatly appreciate "Reader's interest in this discussion. It is only thus that we can come to understand each other. At present the methods as well as the results of study of Protestant theologians, are so diverse from those of the Roman Catholic, that there is not much hope of any immediate reconciliation. But we ought never to despair, either of men or of the truth. No one who honestly thinks and reverently studies, thinks or studies in vain. The course of this world is under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, who gives manifold tokens of His presence amongst Catholics and Protestants. We can sow seed, and water it, but the result is of God.

THE BIBLE CONFERENCE.

The Closing Session Last Evening in the Y. M. C. A.

The Bible Conference in connection with the Y. M. C. A. which began on Tuesday afternoon, concluded last evening.

There was a large attendance, Association Hall being well filled. Rev. J. G. Potter presided. The evening's programme consisted of an able exposition of the Sunday school lesson for next Sunday, which was given by Rev. Dr. Stewart.

At the conclusion of the address references of appreciation of the Conference were made by Rev. M. Potter and Mr. G. H. Williamson on behalf of the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Stewart replied on behalf of the delegation from the Training School.

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dieting a Dangerous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is a very common one at the present time, and many dyspeptics and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others, or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken—in other words the starvation plan is supposed by many to be the first essential.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure has been proven time and again, but still the moment dyspepsia made its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man suffering from dyspepsia, because indigestion itself starves every organ, every nerve and every fibre in the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food, and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted, and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words, the patient eats plenty of wholesome food, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests it for him. In this way the system is nourished, and the over-worked stomach rested, because the Tablets will digest the food, whether the stomach works or not. One of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat or egg.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's Tablets are the purest and safest remedy for stomach troubles, and every trial makes one more friend for this excellent preparation. Sold for 50 cents for full sized package at all drug stores.

A little book on cause and cure of stomach diseases mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

A DELIGHFUT TRIP.

Father McGuire's Excursion to Muskoka was a big Success.

The excursion to Muskoka, gotten up by Father McGuire of Hastings, was termed by those who had the pleasure of taking it in, as one of the most enjoyable outings that has been held in many a day.

The excursion train when it arrived in Peterborough had on board a number of Campbellford and Hastings people and were joined here by about twenty-five or thirty citizens of Peterborough. All along the route, excursionists were picked up including pleasure-seekers from Young's Point, Lindsay, Orillia and other points.

The fact that the trackmen have been on strike for some time caused many to imagine that quick time could not be made, and that it would be late when the train arrived at its destination. Such was not the case, however, and the extraordinary part of the whole affair was that the train was actually ahead of time, at almost every station, including Muskoka wharf where the boat was taken.

At Gravenhurst the party was met by the band of that place, which together with Hastings' excellent musical organization in that line, made things most enjoyable. The sail up the beautiful waters of Lakes Muskoka and Rosseau is described by those who were on board as being most delightful and the scenery unsurpassed. The local excursion was joined by another one from Fort Cartier and the two boats kept together in the trip around the lakes. Lake Rosseau is said to resemble Stony Lake very much but the twenty-five or thirty beautiful summer hotels on this and Lake Muskoka attract many hundreds of pleasure seekers to that region.

The excursion party took the train for home at 6 o'clock in the evening and arrived in Peterborough at ten o'clock.

Father McGuire is indeed to be congratulated upon getting up such a delightful trip at such a low fare, and the next trip to that region from this district will be more largely patronized.

THE VETRANS' VISIT.

The appended letter, which speaks for itself, has been kindly given to the Examiner for publication:

Lem Felcher, Esq.,

Toronto, June 12th, 1899.

Dear Sir,—I write to say that everything promises well for our outing to Peterborough on the 28th, several veterans from other place have signified their intention to join us at Peterborough, and as the tickets are going nicely here a good crowd may be looked for. In order that no mistake may be made as to the make-up of this society I beg to state that "Her Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans Society" is composed of officers, non-commissioned officers and men who have served in the British army or navy and who have been honourably discharged therefrom. Officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Auxiliary forces are accepted as honourary members on payment of $1 per annum and any loyal British subject can become an Honourary Patron on payment of any sum of not less than $1. Should any one desire to join this society on the occasion of our visit to Peterborough on the above terms I shall be pleased to place their application before this society and they may be initiated on that occasion. The society has a benefit and an honourary branch. This society was organized with a view of giving every old servant of the empire an opportunity to have an honourable burial. H.R.H. Prince of Wales, H.R.H. Duke of Connaught, H.R.H. Duke of Saxe Cobourg Gotha, H.R.H. Duke of York, Duke of Wellington, Duke of Fife, Duke of Somerset, Duke of Devonshire, Duke of Norfolk, Duke of Westminster, Marof Lorne, Lord Wolsely, Lord Roberts, V.C., Lord Minto and many other British noblemen and general officers are life members of this society. In the ranks of this society are men who have taken part in almost every campaign for over 60 years past, Capt. Tom Newton, R.N., 87 years of age, the oldest, wears the medals for Navarino and the Crimea. Next is Sergt.-Major Canthin, 62nd regiment, medals for the Sutlez campaign and the Crimea, Indian Mutiny, China and Abasinia, Ashantee Afghan, Zulu, Egypt, the Soudan Chitral, one member, George Richardson, 34th Regiment, has the honour to wear that greatest of all honours, the Victoria Cross. I cannot state definitely what programme will be arranged until next week. I will let you know as soon as possible.

Yours faithfully,

JOHN R. GRAY,

Secretary.

Mr. Mulock Explains the Fair Redistribution Bill.

MOVES THE SECOND READING.

In Doing so, the Postmaster-General Describes the Effects of the Conservative Gerrymander Bills in 1882 and 1892—How Liberals Were Hived—Toronto's Fifth Member.

Ottawa, June 17.—On the question of the redistribution bill the members of the Opposition are split in two camps since Mr. Mulock made the announcement yesterday afternoon that the Administration had decided to amend the measure so as to give the Ontario capital five members instead of four, as was the original intention, and as is the case in the present House. No confidence will be betrayed by stating that several Conservatives yesterday afternoon, after the Postmaster-General had made his statement, expressed the belief that the measure was now one which it would be poor policy to oppose, for, as one of them said, "What sting there was has been taken out of it by this new resolution of the Government." Gentlemen holding the same views as those of the member mentioned are not, though, in a large majority in the Conservative ranks. The leader of the Opposition, an irreconcilable of the irreconcilables, is determined to see nothing good in the measure as amended, and this afternoon he took an hour to say so, after the Postmaster-General had succinctly explained the measure.

Mr. Mulock Explains.

The Hon. Mr. Mulock, in moving the second reading of the bill respecting representation in the House of Commons, said it had not been the custom in the Canadian Parliament to make changes in the constituencies except in the session immediately after each decennial census, but every such redistribution since Confederation had taken place while the political opponents of the present Government were in office, and on each occasion, especially in 1882, the redistribution had been made in such a manner as to be unfair to the Liberal party in Ontario and to stifle a fair representation of public opinion in that province. He, therefore, thought the Liberal party was justified in undoing to a great extent the evil that had been done. The chief abuse of the power vested in Parliament to redistribute, and to which the present bill directed itself, arose under the act of 1882. This redistribution act of 1882, ished, but his figures embraced the time when it was a constituency—Muskoka and Parry Sound, North Ontario, South Ontario, West Ontario, North Oxford, South Oxford, Peel, East Simcoe, Welland, North Wellington, Centre Wellington, North Wentworth, South Wentworth, South York, East York, West York was not affected by the gerrymander of 1882. It is the same constituency which it was prior to that legislation.

Mr. Mulock, in answer to a question by Mr. McNeill as to how the bill affected North Bruce, said it will leave it with the judges.

Mr. McNeill—The Minister is satisfied to leave that to the judges?

Mr. Mulock—The Premier authorizes me to say that there will be no objection to naming the judges before this bill becomes law. (Government cheers.)

Mr. Mulock then took up the 46 constituencies, the names of which he had read, and dealt with the results in them at the general elections of 1892, 1897, 1891 and 1896, and said that, by adding together the majorities obtained by Liberals and Conservatives in all these elections, it showed that the general election of 1882 the 46 constituencies gave a Liberal majority at the polls of 8,574. The election returns gave for these 46 seats 15 Conservatives and 31 Liberals. If the distribution had been a fair one the Conservatives would have 10 and the Liberals 36. In the general election of 1887 there was a Conservative majority of 5,647, and a Liberal majority of 10,957, but the Conservative party had 22 seats and the Liberals 24, whereas, on a proper representation, the Conservatives would only have had 16 seats and the Liberals 30. In the general election of 1891 in the same constituencies Conservative majorities aggregating 8,661 carried 15 seats, while Liberal majorities aggregating 13,515 had 31 seats. By a proper redistribution act the Conservatives should only have had 10 seats and the Liberals 36. In the election of 1896 he omitted three constituencies, North Simcoe, Monck and North Wentworth and Brant, which had been united into one constituency. In 43 constituencies there were Conservative majorities of 3,184 and Liberal majorities of 12,412. The election returns gave 17 Conservatives and 26 Liberals, but a fair proportion, based on the majorities given at the polls, would have been 10 Conservative seats to 33 Liberal, or a rightful Liberal majority in Parliament of nine. In other words, the gerrymander caused a loss to the Liberal party of 14 votes on a division in Parliament.

Mr. Mulock then went on to deal with while professing to be for the double purpose of equalizing the representation and providing for six new seats in Ontario, four of which the province was entitled to under the census, and two caused by four small ridings being united—Cornwall with Stormont, and Lincoln with Niagara—was really framed in such a manner as to "hive" the Liberal vote in certain constituencies and strengthen the Conservatives in others, so that a fair representation of the two parties in the Province of Ontario had been rendered impossible in the Federal Parliament. The bill of 1882 did not even accomplish an equal representation by population, as, while the unit of population was 20,904, a number of constituencies were left considerably below that unit, while Liberal constituencies which had twice, and in some cases three times, as large a population as the unit, were left with only one representative, where they should have had two and sometimes three.

The only fair representation was an adherence to county boundaries, within each province, and in advocating the representation by population, the Liberal party had not meant an equalization of the population of each constituency some time past, they meant that each province should have an equal representation in the Dominion Parliament, based on its population as a province. Taking the Redistribution Act of 1882 as a basis, as well as the act of 1892, representation by population had never been an important factor in redistribution acts. In 1882 out of 92 constituencies, 30 of them were below 19,000 population, and 24 were above 22,000. The unit was 20,904, and he thought that 19,000 as a minimum and 22,000 as a maximum was a fair estimate. On this basis 64 out of the 92 constituencies were unfairly represented, either by having too large or too small a population. He then challenged contradiction to his statement that "you will not find in any province or in the territories that in any period of time from Confederation to this moment any due regard has been paid to the principle which it was pretended governed the Redistribution Act of 1882, namely, that the ridings were to be equalized in population."

He then devoted some time to proving by figures, the accuracy of which could not be challenged, that the Redistribution Act of 1882 produced a representation of parties in Parliament that a fair redistribution bill would not have produced; that the continuance of that act during the elections of 1887 and 1892, and up to the last general election of 1896, produced the same unjust results. From 1882 down to the present time the Liberal party had been unjustly treated as the result of the Redistribution Acts, and that if the redistribution bill of 1882 had been upon fair lines, many gentlemen who have occupied seats since then, and many of those in the House, would never have been elected. Had it not been for the gerrymander act of 1882 and the subsequent one of 1892, there were several members in the House who would never have been returned.

The bill now before Parliament did not propose to do complete justice to the people, but it proposed to do away with the most glaring injustices of previous redistribution acts. The present measure would not affect the ridings east of the County of Ontario. The bill affected some 43 constituencies in Ontario. It affects the following constituencies in certain respects, in doing away with the "hives" and in abolishing constituencies which do not correspond to counties (Bothwell and Cardwell) and bringing the constituencies of Haldimand, Welland, Lincoln and others into their proper limits.

The bill affects the following constituencies, namely: Bothwell, North Brant, South Brant, North Bruce, East Bruce, West Elgin, South Grey, East Grey, North Grey, Haldimand, West Huron, East Huron, South Huron, Kent, West Lambton, East Lambton, Lincoln, East Middlesex, West Middlesex, North Middlesex, South Middlesex—Monk is abol-

DEADLY FIRE DAMP.

Two Explosions in the Caledonia Mines, Cape Breton.

11 DEAD BODIES RECOVERED.

Many Still Thought to Be in the Mine—The Mine on Fire—Brave Men Volunteer to Fight the Flames—Names of the Known Dead—A Sad Scene — Flooding the Mine.

Halifax, N.S., June 17. — The first catastrophe in connection with the Dominion Coal Company's collieries, of which H. M. Whitney is the head, occurred yesterday morning at the Caledonia mines, in the principal colliery, by an explosion of fire damp. About 60 miners were imprisoned. Of this number, it is supposed about half escaped by running along another passage. Of the remainder, it is believed all perished.

At 10 o'clock 10 dead bodies had been recovered. The names of those recovered are: Thomas Johnston, brother of John Johnston, assistant manager of the Dominion Coal Company; Neil McDonald of Pictou, John Doyle, sr., and John Doyle, jr., father and son; Stephen McCormick of Sydney mines, Alex. McDonald of Cape North, William Simpson, Malcolm McAuley, two Gillies, men, father and son. Donald Martin's body had not been recovered, and there are others missing.

Heartrending Scenes.

The scenes at the mouth of the pit where the bodies are being brought up are heartrending in the extreme. One hundred volunteers went down into the mine to fight the fire raging and to rescue the bodies of their companions. The brave men were led by the chief officials of the collieries.

It appears that a slight explosion occurred about 9.30 yesterday morning. Manager Brown and Underground Manager Thomas Johnston went down to investigate, and about an hour later a terrific explosion followed. Johnston was among the killed, and Brown was brought up unconscious, but will likely recover.

The first explosion took place at 8.55. This was followed by another at 5 o'clock. Every effort is being made to extinguish the fire, but without success up to the present. The volunteers who were in the pit all had to come to the surface, being unable to get near the fire for smoke and gas.

Caledonia is a part of Glace Bay. It is the principal colliery in the Dominion and averages 2,500 tons per day.

Senator McKeen formerly owned this mine, and sold it to the Dominion Coal Company. It is equipped with the most modern machinery made. The air compressor is the largest in Canada. Five hundred and fifty men and boys are employed on the day shift, and 150 at night.

Men have returned to the mine, and are now pumping in water.

NOT YET SETTLED.

The Grand Trunk Strike Still in Progress—Rioting at Cleveland—Other Important Strikes.

Ottawa, June 17.—There is no foundation for the story sent out from Ottawa that the Grand Trunk strike has been settled. The Premier stated yesterday that he had heard of no settlement. Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., who is acting with Sir Wilfrid, stated the same thing. H. F. McKenny, Grand Secretary of the United Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen, said that the story should be contradicted at once, as it was not true, and no friend of the workmen would have published it.

Two Stories in Toronto.

Toronto, June 17.—The striking Grand Trunk Railway trackmen in Toronto, although they passed another day without any settlement being arrived at, are just as confident of victory as the day on which they laid down their tools and refused to work.

On the other hand, the officials say that they are experiencing no trouble whatever and have a sufficient number of men on duty to properly patrol the system. It was given out yesterday that several more of the trackmen had returned to work and were engaged at the old scale.

More Rioting in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., June 17.—At the noon hour, when the big factories let out their men, trouble was experienced all over the city. At the corner of Wood and St. Clair streets several hundred factory girls bombarded passing cars with stones. Only two arrests were made. Shortly after noon two large stones thrown from a roof crushed down through a Wade Park car on Perkins avenue, narrowly missing the motorman. Two strikers, John Murphy and J. J. Cox, were arrested. The first attempt to open the South Side line failed, the rioters being too strong, and no adequate police force being available. Three thousand people were concerned in the melees.

Strike at Smelting Works.

Hamilton, June 17.—About 40 workmen at the Smelting Works struck yesterday morning, being dissatisfied with a new boss who was appointed over them—Peter Peterson of Tonawanda. There was no trouble about wages. It is said a number of other hands will quit to-day.

Strike in Rossland Camp.

Rossland, B.C., June 17.—About 80 men employed in the Stemwinder and Brooklyn mines in Deadwood Camp, owned by D. D. Mann and other eastern capitalists, have quit work, because of the eight-hour law reducing the day's receipts.

Harkness Made a Break.

Windsor, June 17.—The police of Toledo, O., have Albert Harkness in custody, on the charge of embezzlement. He is from Windsor, and is held by the Singer Manufacturing Company. Harkness decided he would return to Canada with the officials and was started off to the Detroit boat. At the docks he was met by an attorney and advised not to go without the necessary extradition papers. Suddenly Harkness broke away. He was captured after a hard chase, and is now in jail awaiting the necessary papers.

THE INTERCOLONIAL PAYS.

According to the statement brought down in Parliament by the Hon. Mr. Blair on Tuesday, the revenue from the Intercolonial Railway for the ten months which have elapsed of the present financial year exceeds the expenditure by $62,576. This emphasizes the statement made by Mr. Blair in the course of a speech a few weeks ago that the surplus for this year will be more in amount than all the surplus for the last twenty years, the latter amounting to only $49,568. This fact is to be attributed to better management, greater economy and the extension of the line to the commercial metropolis of the country, Montreal. Since this was accomplished there has been as the Montreal Herald points out, noteworthy increases in the earnings of the Intercolonial. In the financial year ending June 30th, 1898, for example, there was an increase in the gross earnings of no less than $253,772, although the extension had only taken place on the first of March, 1898. In the present year the receipts for the first ten months have exceeded the receipts for the whole year 1896-97—the year previous to the extension—by about $3,706, leaving two full months in which to pile up further increase. At the average already obtained for this year these two months will probably show receipts of about $600,000, which will represent the excess, about 20 per cent, over the year 1897. It is plain, therefore that the influence of the extension is already being felt to the manifest advantage of the Government railway, and hence to the advantage of the whole country. Although the Opposition divided the house on Tuesday on the extension arrangements, there is little doubt that people of all shades of political opinion regard the move as one of sound business. The position taken by at least one Conservative journal, the Toronto World, when this subject was first broached, has been justified by experience. The World then said:

"To place the road on a permanently paying basis can only be done by giving the railway an opportunity to obtain its full share of export freight. The connection with Montreal was a national necessity that was forcing itself each year with increasing strength upon the management of the Intercolonial, and the agreement with the Drummond Counties road is the effort of the Ottawa Government to bring this about. We do not propose to discuss the merits of the deal with the Drummond Counties road, but we certainly believe that by bringing the Intercolonial to Montreal the Government has put it in a position that increases its earning power [illegible]

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If both the Presbyterians and Methodists decide to raise million dollar end of the century funds, is it not possible that the giving spirit of the next century will be proportionately weakened?

The Mail and Empire objects to the protection given by the Ontario Government to the sturgeon, on account of its voracity. The organ should sympathize with the sturgeon, the root meaning of its name, signifying a stirrer up of mud.

British imports increased in 1898 to the extent of £96,000,000. The exports decreased by £160,000. It must puzzle the balance of trade theorists to understand how Great Britain continues to exist. Yet the fact is her prosperity is greater than ever before.

It is reported that the Czar of Russia is greatly disappointed with the abortive result of the peace conference. At the same time several millions of the Czar's subjects are disappointed, to put it mildly, at not being able to get enough bread to stave off death by starvation.

The Filipinos must be a tough race. The Americans have been crushing them with defeat after defeat, yet the vanquished bob up serenely, at frequent intervals as fresh as ever. There's something British about the Filipinos—they don't know when they are licked.

If Sir Alfred Milner remains firm and President Kruger also remains firm there is a possibility of blood letting in the Transvaal at no distant date, for it is pretty certain that Mr. Chamberlain will not yield. The British government must either shirk their duty of protecting its subjects which it is not in the habit of doing or take practical steps to give them redress.

Both sides of the House of Commons were agreed regarding the proposal to wipe out the iron bounties. The Opposition, an exchange thinks, is getting wisdom or it would have opposed this step away from straight protectionist principles. We have here another evidence that instead of the Liberal party having adopted protection the Conservative leaders are abandoning it.

The Globe says that the Opposition obstructed the Drummond Counties Railway bill so that the House was kept in session for 27 hours at a stretch. When it came to the vote Mr. Moore of Stanstead broke away from the Opposition, and the Government scored the handsome majority of 51, more than two to one. The obstruction was simply a waste of time. There is absolutely no public feeling against the measure.

Glorious News

THE WORKMAN CASE.

Dr. Workman Denounces the General Superintendent's Ruling.

In an interview with the Toronto Star, Rev. Dr. Workman said: "Dr. Carman's ruling utterly misrepresents the action of the Conference. In order, if possible, to get an official pronouncement from the church, I asked last year to have a committee appointed to investigate my published teachings, with a view towards securing justice for myself and towards satisfying the mind of the church. When therefore Dr. Carman represents the action of the Conference in appointing a committee at my own request, as holding over my character for a year from one Conference to another, his declaration is false to the fact. My character was not called in question. As a matter of justice I asked for this investigation, because, after, advising with my friends, both on and off the Board of Victoria University, I knew of no other means of getting my teachings officially examined. A committee was appointed, not to try me, but to investigate my teaching; and while there is no disciplinary regulation or act respecting the formation of such a committee, there is nothing whatever in the discipline against it; so that in my judgment the conference had a perfect right to grant me this investigation, as well as a perfect right to receive the report of the committee. In excluding this report Dr. Carman was opposed by the great body of the conference, who refused to assume any responsibility for statements made in his ruling, because it falsified the action of the conference. So Dr. Carman is alone, and must be held responsible for putting a wrong construction upon the proceedings of the previous year."

the Quebec constituencies affected in detail, amid a running fire of questions, causing him to lose his temper.

Mr. Mulock next referred to the Province of Quebec, merely saying that the bill proposed to return to certain counties in that province a number of municipalities that had been detached from them from time to time, and was passing on to the Province of Prince Edward Island, when Mr. McNeill said that he would like to ask whether the judges are to take into consideration the increase of population since the last census, or whether the increase or change of population during the last eight years was to be left out of consideration altogether.

Mr. Mulock—The bill contains the matters that are referred to the judges. The census deals with the subject of population. This is a measure proposed to be passed in the year 1899. It ought to have been passed in the year 1899. The judges will sit as if they were sitting in 1899, having before them the census of 1891, the map of the provinces, the history of the country, and such other circumstances as they may deem a proper guide to aid them in arriving at a fair judgment. The letters patent appointing the commissioners shall direct them in making the divisions to consider the distribution of population according to last census of Canada, the public convenience and such divisions as appear to them best calculated to do substantial justice.

Continuing, Mr. Mulock said: The bill restores the county lines to the Province of Prince Edward Island. That island is entitled to five members, and the counties have until very lately been represented each by two. A change was made. Portions of one county were detached and given to another, and the number of members reduced from six to five. It is now proposed to restore to each county those portions of the county necessarily belonging to it, and to give representation accordingly, one to King's, which has the smallest population, and two each to the other counties, whose population greatly exceeds that of King's. He then moved the second reading of the bill.

Sir Charles Tupper.

Sir Charles Tupper said that the Postmaster-General had exhibited greater frankness than the First Minister, who, with great plausibility, endeavored to make it appear that the measure was a very innocuous one, while the Postmaster-General had quite freely admitted that it was really a measure for destroying the Conservative party in Ontario, if that could possibly be done. After referring to the redistribution bill of Sir Oliver Mowat, he advised the Government to abandon the pretext of following county boundaries, and to acknowledge that the only principle underlying this measure is the great cardinal principle, the only principle which they knew anything about, the principle of obtaining power by means fair or unfair, and by taking such advantage as will enable them to strangle certain constituencies when an appeal has again to be made to the electorate. That was the only "principle" there was in this bill. The bill was so gross in its unfairness that the hon. gentleman and his colleagues have been obliged to change it already. In reply to Mr. Mulock's remarks about the 1882 redistribution bill, Sir Charles said that if the Conservative party owed the power under which they governed the country from 1882 down to three years ago to the gerrymander act, no person ought to be so thankful as the hon. gentlemen opposite. Suppose the bill of 1882 had not passed, and suppose the hon. gentlemen opposite had come into power, where would Canada be to-day? The National Policy, which is the life-blood of the country, and which these hon. gentlemen now admit is the great source of life and vitality for this country, would have been swept away. Where would preferential trade have been? There would have been no preferential trade. Where would the Canadian Pacific Railway have been? It would have been wiped out by the hon. gentlemen opposite, who, by a resolution only two years before 1889, declared that the work ought to stop at the foot of the Rocky Mountains.

It was a humiliating position for a Liberal Government that they were driven to the humiliating confession that nothing remained for them to do but introduce this gerrymander bill, the one great effort of a Liberal Government to signalize the last year of the century. Was it not a confession in favor of the redistribution bill of 1882?

When he had criticised Sir Wilfrid's remarks in introducing the bill he had challenged the constitutionality of the measure, and had pointed out that Sir Wilfrid closed his speech without any reference to the authority upon which he was introducing a redistribution bill in 1899, based on the census of 1891. The British North America Act expressly stated that the Federal representation of the several provinces was to be readjusted "after each decennial census." The Conservatives had always accepted the constitutional view of the matter. The redistributions of 1887 and of 1893 were to correct mistakes merely, and Mr. Laurier's comments on the latter bill showed it was thus understood and accepted by both sides of the House.

Resuming after recess, Sir Charles Tupper claimed that only dire necessity could explain the constitutional violation, the absurd anomaly, of introducing within a year or so of the decennial census a redistribution bill based on the census of 1891, despite the great changes throughout the country. It was merely for party gain. The fact was, the Government had so dorged its supporters through the mire of unpopular legislation that many of them were afraid to go back to their old constituencies, and demanded the assistance of this gerrymander. There was the iniquitous Yukon deal, as to which The Winnipeg Tribune of a recent date said that many Liberals in the Commons were secretly rejoiced at the Senate's action in throwing it out, and thus saving a bang-on to it. So, in view of this, the Government was determined to pack the jury before going to trial. He believed this redistribution bill would not become law. We had a second chamber in this country to guard against hasty, ill-advised, unconstitutional legislation. Moreover, in 1882, the leader of the Liberal party in the Senate, Mr. Scott, moved the six months' hoist to the redistribution bill, and every Liberal in the Senate voted for that motion. Could the Liberals to-day plead in face of that that the Senate had no right to interfere with a redistribution bill. He did not believe that such a gross violation of the constitution in the interests of party could become law.

Mr. Paterson Replies.

Mr. Paterson, Minister of Customs, in his reply, characterized Sir Charles Tupper's remarks regarding the Upper House as a shameless speech, addressed to the Senate gallery, but he did not believe the Senate could be influenced in that way.

At the close of his speech, it being 10 minutes to 12, Mr. N. Charles Wallace moved the adjournment of the debate. Lost by 23 to 18.

After further remarks about adjournment and obstruction, Col. Prior moved the adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned at 12.38 a.m.

Anti-Trust Bill Passed.

Lansing, Mich., June 16.—The House last night passed the Byers Anti-Trust bill, which was passed in the Senate several weeks ago. If constitutional, the act will very effectually shut out of the State all trusts and combinations.

Each tender shall specify the numbers of the claims and fractions tendered for, and also the amount of bonus offered for each claim and fraction. The tender may be for the whole lot or any one or more of the claims and fractions, and must be accompanied by an accepted cheque in favor of the Minister of the Interior for ten per cent. of the amount offered, one-half of the remainder to be paid into the Department of the Interior at Ottawa or to the Commissioner of the Yukon Territory at Dawson, within thirty days of notice of acceptance of tender, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

Entries for the claims and fractions will be granted in accordance with the Placer Mining Regulations on acceptance of tender.

The entries will be subject to the usual royalty and the provisions of the said Regulations from time to time in force, except as to representation provided for by Clause 39, which will not be required.

The claims and fractional claims for which entries may be granted shall not include any portion of the bench or hill claims for which entry may have been previously granted.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

JOHN R. HALL, Secretary.

Department of the Interior, Ottawa, 27th May, 1899.

A PRIZE

FOR EVERY CORRECT ANSWER

We ask not one cent of your money. In the accompanying illustration is represented in outline the picture of Napoleon. Find the picture, mark it, and return to us, and to each of our patrons who interprets this puzzle correctly, we will give a beautiful Heavily Plated Heart Bangle NETHERSOLE BRACELET, as illustrated.

In making this marvellous offer we have no desire to pose as public benefactors. It is purely a business transaction in order to put sample packages of Pineapplated Lime Fruit Powder into the hands of the public. This powder is put up in 10 cent packages, with sufficient in each to make ten glasses of lime fruit cordial—a most delicious, refreshing and delightfully pleasant drink, and all who are awarded one of our Bracelets we require to distribute for us, among friends, 20 sample packages. In order that our goods may not fall into the hands of unappreciative people, we require you to collect from each person you leave a sample with, 5 cents, half the selling price of same. After distributing the 20 packages you return us the money. We will then give you for this service, absolutely free, and in addition to the Bracelet, which was awarded you in the first place, a Solid Gold Shell Ring, beautifully engraved, and to all who return this puzzle within three days from when same first, we will send with the Ring, also free, a splendid Stimulating Ruby, Emerald or Sapphire Genuine Tiffany Style Stick Pin. To many this offer may seem impracticable. To all such we say it is certainly worth investigating; the risk is nothing, as we ask none of your money. We have been in business in Toronto for ten years, and have never failed to fulfil every promise religiously. Our business is a legitimate paying enterprise, carried on upon the broadest principles of co-operation, and conducted by men of experience and business ability. We are far-seeing enough to know that the greater inducement we offer the quicker our goods will become popular, and we are liberal enough in our views to offer inducements to stimulate our industries which have never been attempted or approached by any similar company. Our business is conducted throughout on the highest basis of honor. Regarding our responsibility, we refer you to any mercantile agency. We simply ask you to intersperse our Picture Puzzle and send us your addresses. We will reward you the Bracelet and send you, postage paid, the 20 sample packages of Lime Fruit Powder. Distribute them according to instructions and we will give you also the Solid Gold Shell Ring and Pin. Could any proposition be more fair? Avail yourself of this great offer while you have the opportunity, or someone else will cut out the Picture Puzzle, and it will not likely appear again. Mention this paper.

SETTLED BY A COMPROMISE.

The Life Insurance Bill Passes the Banking and Commerce Committee.

Ottawa, June 17.—When the banking and commerce committee met yesterday morning to continue deliberation on the Government life insurance bill all the excitement of the last two days had vanished, and there was an air of expectancy.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, in a brief speech, proposed the following compromise: That the present 4½ per cent. basis should be extended to 1909, instead of 1907; that then the first reduction to 4 per cent. be brought into force, and that the time for the final reduction from 4 per cent. to 3½ per cent. be extended from 1913 to 1918. This would give the companies a little longer time to collect funds to meet the requirements.

Hon. George E. Foster simply said that he accepted the proposition. If they could agree by each giving up a little, it made the basis very much stronger. It seemed to him that if the compromise was accepted the difficulties were not insurmountable.

Mr. Britton, on behalf of policyholders, accepted the compromise.

Mr. Wood did likewise.

Mr. Macauley, president of the Sun Life, had at one time made up his mind to fight this matter in the Senate. Now he would accept is only because the Finance Minister would do nothing better. He was not satisfied, but would withdraw opposition.

The preamble of the bill was then adopted.

Mr. Fielding said they had now disposed of the principle of the bill, and he was willing to accept amendments in respect to minor clauses.

The bill was reported as amended.

Never Thought of Rounds.

"That fellow laid for him," said the man who had been reading the sporting news, "and gave him a solar plexus blow in the fourth."

"Why can't you be more explicit?" asked the professional pugilist languidly. "How am I to know whether you mean the fourth paragraph, the fourth chapter or the fourth act?"

A FILIPINO ATTACK.

The Philippine Insurgents Repulsed at San Fernando.

AGUINALDO SAID TO HAVE LED.

How Gen. Luna Was Killed—A Spanish Officer, Just Brought In by U. S. Troops, Says Luna Threatened Aguinaldo's Life and Struck the Blow That Led to His Killing.

Manila, June 17.—After cutting the railroad and telegraph at Apalit, seven miles south, for the purpose of severing connection, the rebels attacked General McArthur's lines at San Fernando at 4.30 yesterday morning. They met with an unexpectedly warm reception and were repulsed with a loss of 75 killed, 30 prisoners and many wounded.

The rebel force, estimated to have numbered 5,000 men, advanced stealthily from the jungle north of the city and then divided, with the evident purpose of surrounding the Americans. The outposts of the Iowa Regiment discovered the enemy and retired to their lines, where the entire division waited in an entrenched position.

The Iowa Regiment and the Kansas Regiment received the first shock of the attack. Reserving their fire until the enemy was within 500 yards, the first volley of the Americans hit the rebels, who returned the fire wildly, the rest of their line failing to advance. The Americans, who thoroughly enjoyed the novelty of the situation of awaiting an attack, sallied forth, and the insurgents thereupon turned and fled. The American losses were 14 men wounded, and the majority of them are only slightly hurt. General Funston's Brigade of Kansas and Montanas, and General Hale's Brigade, the 17th Regiment and the Iowa Regiment, constituted the force engaged.

Aguinaldo is reported to have personally conducted the attack, and preparations were made for several days to bring forward troops from Candaba, and others from Dagupan were transported by rail. Along the front of the Kansas Regiment 29 rebel dead were counted.

The first news of the Filipino advance was reported by a telegraph operator, who was sent to the bridge at Apalit to ascertain the cause of a break in one of the wires. He was compelled to beat a hasty retreat under fire.

A Spanish officer, who has been a prisoner in the hands of the rebels, and who was released by Aguinaldo, has come through the lines to Manila. He claims to have been a witness to the assassination of General Luna. According to his story, the relations between the two Filipino leaders have been strained to the breaking point because of Luna's attempt to assume control of affairs, and the final rupture was forced by Aguinaldo issuing secret orders to the Provincial Governments. Luna thereupon sent to Aguinaldo, demanding copies of the documents, and Aguinaldo replied curtly that Luna was a general of the army and that the civil government did not concern him. Luna, on opening the reply at his headquarters, in the presence of his officers, exclaimed hotly: "He will be dead tomorrow."

One officer, who was friendly to Aguinaldo, hastened to warn him, and Aguinaldo called together 20 trusted soldiers, fellow-townsmen of his, and stationed them around his house, with instructions to kill anyone attempting to enter, regardless of rank. Luna appeared the next day and saw Aguinaldo at the window. A member of the guard said: "Aguinaldo has gone to inspect the troops."

Luna then exclaimed, "You are a liar," drew his revolver, struck the guard and tried to force an entrance into the house. Before he could use his revolver one of the guards bayonetted him, another shot him in the back and others stabbed him. In all he had 20 wounds. Luna's aide-de-camp was killed in the same way.

THE LEGISLATORS' TOUR.

Important Statements Made at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., on Friday—The Town En Fete.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 17.—Mr. F. H. Clergue, the American capitalist who is father of the huge local wood pulp and other industries, said last night his company will at once erect here an extensive sulphite pulp mill. When the new plant is completed the shipments of pulp to paper mills in all parts of the world will cease and the complete manufactured article will be turned out on the spot. The present works employ 1,000 hands.

Mr. Clergue made the still more important statement that he had just completed a contract, under which his company would supply Krupp, the German gunmaker, with nickel steel for a period of five years. By a new process he had turned out here in Sault Ste. Marie nickel steel of the best armor plate quality at a cost of $15 per ton, though the United States navy paid $400 per ton for a similar article.

The occasion of these announcements was a public meeting in honor of the legislators who are touring Algoma. Both Mr. Clergue and Mr. Conmee, M. P.P., asserted that for the further development of Algoma Government aid for a railway to connect the main line of the C.P.R. near Missanabie with the Soo was needed, in order to facilitate the bringing of nickel ore and spruce to this centre.

Hon. E. J. Davis admitted the importance of the construction of the line, but made no definite promise.

Mr. Marter, M.P.P., on behalf of the Opposition, said he would do all he could to help the enterprise.

The town is en fete in honor of the visitors.

CANADA OVER THE OCEAN.

Colonies May Yet Get Their Wishes in re the Pacific Cable.

London, June 17.—(Toronto Globe Special.)—Mr. W. T. R. Preston and Professor Mavor left last night for Cracow, Galicia. Yesterday morning Professor Mavor appeared before the Lords' copyright committee and presented the views of Canada on the copyright question in a very effective manner.

There is excellent reason to believe that the demands made by Canada and other colonies on behalf of the Pacific cable scheme will be conceded by the Government at the forthcoming conference with Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, that is if the colonies are really satisfied with the prospects of the enterprise.

New York a City of Auctions.

New York is the city of auctions. There are 800 reputable auction houses and three times that number of auctioneers in New York, and they do a yearly business of about $75,000,000. This does not take into consideration the transactions of scores of small auctioneers who devote themselves entirely to the wants of the east side.—New York Herald.

Stirrups were unknown to the ancients. They were first used in the fifth century of our era, but were not in common use even in the twelfth century.

What is Scott's Emulsion?

It is the best cod-liver oil, partly digested, and combined with the hypophosphites and glycerine. What will it do? It will make the poor blood of the anæmic rich and red.

Some Changes of Local Interest

On Monday the new time table of the Grand Trunk Railway will go into effect. The following changes of local concern are noted:

The train to Belleville will leave here at 11.55 instead of 12.05.

The Lakefield train will leave here at 12.10 instead of 1.30.

The afternoon train from Lakefield will arrive in Peterborough at 5 o'clock instead of 4.

The summer train service to the back lakes will commence on Monday. An extra train will leave here for Lakefield at 6.30 in the evening and arrive in town again at 7.55.

BAND AT VICTORIA PARK.

The 57th Batt. Band Rendered Choice Music.

Notwithstanding the rather cool state of the weather many persons took advantage of the 57th Batt. band concert in Victoria Park last night.

The electric lights had since the last concert been put in the central band stand and added materially to the comfort of the players. The music was as usual of high order and shows every indication of careful training by a competent teacher. Among the selections rendered was that old favourite, "Soldiers of the Queen," which was highly appreciated by those present.

CLOSING MEETING.

Of the Saturday Club for the Summer Months.

A union open meeting of the members of the Y. W. C. A. and Saturday Evening Club, will be held in the parlours this evening at 8 o'clock. A short address on Y. W. C. A. work abroad, very choice vocal and instrumental music, together with the reading of the reports giving a summary of the work during the last three months, form a programme of exceptional interest and enjoyment. As this is the closing meeting of the club for the summer months, every member should make a special effort to be present. All interested in association work are most cordially invited. A silver collection will be taken at the door.

Mothers' meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4.15. All mothers are made very welcome.

AN OFFICIAL CAR.

Inspector Brady of the C. P. R Passed Through Peterborough To-day.

A rather funny looking locomotive was at the C.P.R. station this morning. It was an official car, but it is car, engine and everything else combined. The cabin is in front over and around the boiler, while the engine and fireman are behind. It is built solely for inspecting the road and had on board, Mr. Brady, Supt., of Smith's Falls and Mr. Drinkwater.

The car left Montreal on Thursday and is on its way to Toronto. About 45 miles an hour is the usual rate of speed.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.

The firm of J. J. Turner & Sons have just received the following further batch of commendatory letters:

Montreal, Que., June 15, 1899.

J. J. TURNER & SONS,

PEAT INDUSTRY IN THE NORTH COUNTRY.

MAYOR DAVIS RETURNS FROM BALSAM LAKE.

He is Much Pleased With What he Saw of the Work—Extensive Buildings Have Been Erected.

Mr. A. L. Davis has just returned from the scene of the Trent Valley Peat Fuel Company's operations on the Balsam Lake division of the Trent Valley Canal. He was accompanied by Mr. W. J. Sims, the manager of the company, and spent a very interesting day at the works.

In an interview, kindly accorded the Examiner this morning by Mr. Davis, he stated that he found quite an extensive plant on the ground, which will enable the company to manufacture the peat fuel on a large scale this season. On the property there is erected a huge store house 40x100 feet in size, a power house, 24x30 feet, a compressing building, two stories in height and in size 30x40 feet, an office 18x24 feet, and another storehouse 30x50 feet. The buildings are all very substantially erected and the power house and compressing building are roofed and sheeted with metal. The dredge is already working, taking out 1200 yards a day which when dried will be reduced to 300 tons of the substance known as peat fuel. There are three compressing machines with a capacity of 168 tons a day. It is expected that the plant will be in full operation by the beginning of July and that the fuel will be for sale during that month.

In answer to a query, Mr. Davis stated that the dredge works its way through the vast bog which is about three miles wide and extends as far as the eye can reach. The peat is thrown up into receptacles on scows and afterwards carried away on cars to the drying grounds. After the moisture evaporates the peat is taken to the drying house and run up on conveyers into the hopper of a machine which crushes it, before is passed into the compressors, from which it emerges in marketable shape.

How large a force have you employed on the work, Mr. Davis?

About thirty men at present, was the reply, but before long the number will be doubled.

Regarding the comparative merits of coal and peat fuel, Mr. Davis stated that at a recent test made of the fuel by the Gurney Stove Co. in Toronto, it was proven that the peat is in every respect equal to hard coal and is in fact superior for baking purposes.

Concerning the price, Mr. Davis said, "I expect that the price will be somewhere in the neighbourhood of four dollars a ton."

A JUNE WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Mary Gillespie and Mr. H. A. Newton.

On Wednesday last a very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. A. Gillespie, No. 33 Division street, when her step daughter, Miss Mary J. Gillespie, was united in marriage to Mr. H. A. Newton, of Otonabee.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Andrews of Keene, the bride being assisted by her cousin, Miss J. Lancaster of Otonabee.

Mr. John McIntyre of Keene, was the groomsman.

The bride was tastily costumed in organdie muslin of a mauve shade, the bridesmaid being in blue flowered organdie.

Among the guests (were the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gillespie of Hamilton.

The presents which were received were numerous and very handsome.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton have taken up their residence in Otonabee.

PERSONAL.

Miss Gertrude Wood of Millbrook, is the guest of Mrs. C. B. McAllister.

Mr. Walter English left last evening for Rochester, where he will act as judge of the canoe races.

Mrs. Harry Phelan and Master Nagle, with the former's sister, Mrs. J. Friel, of Ottawa, are spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. N. St. C. Gurd, of Sarnia, formerly of Peterborough, was married on Wednesday to Miss Wilkinson, of Brantford.

Mr. H. Reynolds leaves town tomorrow night for Montreal, where he will enter the service of the Royal Electric Company. During Mr. Reynolds' stay in Peterborough, he has made many warm friends and his services at point on the local hockey team last winter were of great value, indeed.

MYSTERIES OF SLEEP

SOME QUEER WORKINGS OF "NATURE'S SOFT NURSE."

Instances of Slumber Under Extraordinary Conditions—Why We Can Awaken at a Set Time—How Sleep Is Ruled by Habit.

One of the most remarkable facts to be found in the history of sleep consists in the utter inability to resist its onset in cases of extreme fatigue. Several remarkable instances are given in which persons have continued to walk onward while sleep has overcome them, the automatic centers of the brain evidently controlling and stimulating the muscles when consciousness itself had been completely abrogated. It is recorded that at the battle of the Nile, amid the roar of cannon and the fall of wreckage, some of the overfatigued boys serving the guns with powder fell asleep on the deck. Dr. Carpenter gives another instance of allied kind. In the course of the Burmese war the captain of a frigate actively engaged in combat fell asleep from sheer exhaustion and slept soundly for two hours within a yard of one of the biggest guns, which was being actively worked during his slumbers.

It is a matter of common medical knowledge that extreme exhaustion in face of the severest pain will induce sleep. Here the imperative demand of the body—a demand implanted, as we have seen, in the constitution of our frames—asserts its influence, and even pain, the ordinary conqueror of repose, has in its turn to succumb. One of the most extraordinary cases in which the overruling power of sleep was ever exemplified was that of Damiens, condemned for treason in Paris in 1757. He was barbarously tortured, but remarked that the deprivation of sleep had been the greatest torture of all. It was reported that he slept soundly even in the short intervals which elapsed between his periods of torture.

Among the Chinese a form of punishment for crimes consists in keeping the prisoner continually awake or in arousing him incessantly after short intervals of repose. After the eighth day of such sleeplessness one criminal besought his captors to put him to death by any means they could choose or invent, so great was his pain and torment due to the absence of "nature's soft nurse." Persons engaged in mechanical labor, such as attending a machine in a factory, have often fallen asleep despite the plain record of pains and penalties attending such dereliction of duty, to say nothing of the sense of personal danger which was plainly kept before their eyes.

One of the most interesting phases connected with sleep is that in which a determination, formed overnight, that we should wake at a certain hour acts true to the appointed time. In certain instances with which I am acquainted the idea acts perfectly, in others it acts occasionally, and in other cases, again, it fails completely. The explanation of this habit depends on what one may term a "dominant idea," or an idee fixe, as the French term it. There is something akin in this waking notion to the "dominant idea" with which a hypnotist may impress his facile subject. If we substitute for the hypnotist the individual himself, or mayhap the idea of the friend who has been impressing upon him the necessity for sounding the reveille at a given hour in the morning, we can discern the rationale of the action with a fair degree of clearness.

The dominant idea in the shape of the necessity for awaking at a certain time is impressed on the brain and is probably transmitted to those automatic or lower centers which rule our mechanical acts which are responsible for the visions of the night and which are capable of carrying out, either in the entire absence of consciousness or in the exercise of a subconscious condition, many complex actions. Through the hours of sleep the dominant idea remains impressed on these lower centers. The head of the business sleeps on while the night watchman is awake, and so prompt to the time or shortly before or after it, the desired result is attained and the slumbering brain is awakened to the full measure of its activity.

That sleep is ruled by the habits of the individual is extremely evident. An instance is given in which a person who had taken passage on board a warship was rudely awakened by the morning gun, which startled him exceedingly. On succeeding mornings the gun woke him at first sharply and then much more quietly, until at length he slept on without being disturbed at all in his slumbers by the report. It is also notable that when a special habit of life has become part and parcel of the daily routine sleep is liable to be disturbed by even the slightest appeal which ordinarily wakes the individual in the exercise of his profession, while noises of much more grievous character fail to effect that result. The doctor wakes on the slightest agitation of his night bell, while the click of the needle awakes the tired telegraphist when a loud noise might fail.

Sir Edward Codrington was serving in the early days of his naval experiences as signal lieutenant to Lord Hood at the battle of Toulon. His duty was that of watching for and interpreting the signals made by the lookout frigates, and in this capacity he remained on deck for 18 or 19 hours out of the 24. Exhausted with the strain of watching, he went below to obtain sleep, and reposed soundly, undisturbed by any ordinary noise. Yet whenever a comrade lightly whispered in his ear the word "signal" he at once awoke, ready for duty. The cause of sleep is as yet a matter of scientific debate. In the present state of our knowledge there can be no absolute certainty in the matter.—"The Ape of Death," by Dr. Andrew Wilson, F. R. S. E., in Harper's Magazine.

THE SCALING LADDER.

How It Is Used at Fires In Very High Buildings.

The most promising pupils among those admitted to the school of instruction at the New York fire headquarters are said to be those who have served an apprenticeship in professions that have called them aloft. Sailors, painters, roofers and steeple climbers have the advantage of their pireliminary training. The first thing that a neophyte is called upon to learn is how to handle the scaling ladder.

This bit of apparatus is a long, well seasoned tongue of timber with short crosspieces passing through it. It terminates at the top with a long hook, which has three or four ratchetlike projections on its undersurface and weighs from 20 to 45 pounds. There is a special knack in handling it dexterously, and many a time a man who is slight and small of stature can manage a ladder which a Goliath would find difficulty in handling.

"There is no piece of apparatus in the fire department," says one who has made a study of its methods, "which, skillfully handled, can be made to serve more purposes than this scaling ladder. The longest extension ladder in the department measures 90 feet, but the man with the scaling ladder can go up 14 or 15 stories without becoming exhausted. At fires before an extension ladder can be put in position one fireman can push a scaling ladder into a second story window, scramble up and go from story to story to the very roof. He is followed by a second fireman, who takes his ladder with him story by story, and this fireman by a third, until by the time the first man has reached the top there is a completed chain behind him, down which the rescued may be carried and the fireman himself escape."—New York Tribune.

SMITHERS' RETORT.

His Sarcastic Reply to the Private Boarding House Landlady.

Mr. Smithers is a somewhat fastidious young man who is looking for a new boarding place. Smithers can't abide the regulation boarding house, and always tries to live with a private family. He is now convinced that an "ad." which solicits boarders for a "nice private family" is often a snare for a stuffy double flat, inhabited by one small family and 24 boarders.

Smithers called one day last week at a place with a glowing description just on the flank of Michigan avenue's aristocracy.

"Hum! Suspiciously like a boarding house," thought Smithers as he took in the dimensions. A collarless negro servant who opened the door confirmed his suspicions, but he had gone too far then to back out. A sharp nosed, snippy landlady came in with a top lofty air.

"Er—ah, I believe I am mistaken," he began. "I supposed I should find a private family. By the advertisement—hu-m"—

The laughter and the familiar boarding house hum of 14 clerks and ten lady stenographers came up from the dining room in the basement. The mistress of the conglomerate "private family" drew herself up proudly. "You are entirely mistaken, sir," she asserted in a grasping, $7 a week voice. "This is not a boarding house, although we have a few friends living with us."

Smithers sniffed the air. There was a distinct odor of prunes and corned beef.

THE FEAR OF A MOUSE.

One Instance Where It Made a Lunatic of a Woman.

A mouse has long been known to be the bitterest enemy of womankind. Just why the average run of femininity should fear such a helpless, harmless little creature cannot be explained.

During the civil war a famous female spy was betrayed through the instrumentality of a mouse. The woman was masquerading as a boy and succeeded admirably in deceiving the enemy until one evening while dining with a party of men at a farmhouse a black mouse jumped from a cupboard to the table, almost in the face of the supposed boy. With a shrill feminine shriek the spy threw up her arms and rushed across the room, and, springing on a couch, went into hysterics from sheer fright. The men, of course, suspected her and, rather than be searched, she confessed, but by the aid of the loyal old farmer and his wife she made her escape in the night.

A well known woman physician of Chicago says she can do any kind of surgical work without a tremor, but the sight of a mouse turns her strangely ill and thoroughly "unwomans" her.

Another woman has such a terror of mice that she recently went insane through fright at one of the wee creatures. The woman was sweeping her cellar when a mouse darted out from an old barrel and ran about her feet. She tried to step on it and beat at it with her broom, calling piteously to her little boy to help her. But the boy, thinking she was in fun, frightened the terrified mouse toward the woman whenever it tried to get away. At length the boy rushed at it in earnest and the mouse darted under the woman's skirts and she fell to the floor insensible, only to lose her mind when at length consciousness returned to her.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE SCALING LADDER.

How It Is Used at Fires In Very High Buildings.

The most promising pupils among those admitted to the school of instruction at the New York fire headquarters are said to be those who have served an apprenticeship in professions that have called them aloft. Sailors, painters, roofers and steeple climbers have the advantage of their pireliminary training. The first thing that a neophyte is called upon to learn is how to handle the scaling ladder.

This bit of apparatus is a long, well seasoned tongue of timber with short crosspieces passing through it. It terminates at the top with a long hook, which has three or four ratchetlike projections on its undersurface and weighs from 20 to 45 pounds. There is a special knack in handling it dexterously, and many a time a man who is slight and small of stature can manage a ladder which a Goliath would find difficulty in handling.

"There is no piece of apparatus in the fire department," says one who has made a study of its methods, "which, skillfully handled, can be made to serve more purposes than this scaling ladder. The longest extension ladder in the department measures 90 feet, but the man with the scaling ladder can go up 14 or 15 stories without becoming exhausted. At fires before an extension ladder can be put in position one fireman can push a scaling ladder into a second story window, scramble up and go from story to story to the very roof. He is followed by a second fireman, who takes his ladder with him story by story, and this fireman by a third, until by the time the first man has reached the top there is a completed chain behind him, down which the rescued may be carried and the fireman himself escape."—New York Tribune.

SMITHERS' RETORT.

His Sarcastic Reply to the Private Boarding House Landlady.

Mr. Smithers is a somewhat fastidious young man who is looking for a new boarding place. Smithers can't abide the regulation boarding house, and always tries to live with a private family. He is now convinced that an "ad." which solicits boarders for a "nice private family" is often a snare for a stuffy double flat, inhabited by one small family and 24 boarders.

Smithers called one day last week at a place with a glowing description just on the flank of Michigan avenue's aristocracy.

"Hum! Suspiciously like a boarding house," thought Smithers as he took in the dimensions. A collarless negro servant who opened the door confirmed his suspicions, but he had gone too far then to back out. A sharp nosed, snippy landlady came in with a top lofty air.

"Er—ah, I believe I am mistaken," he began. "I supposed I should find a private family. By the advertisement—hu-m"—

The laughter and the familiar boarding house hum of 14 clerks and ten lady stenographers came up from the dining room in the basement. The mistress of the conglomerate "private family" drew herself up proudly. "You are entirely mistaken, sir," she asserted in a grasping, $7 a week voice. "This is not a boarding house, although we have a few friends living with us."

Smithers sniffed the air. There was a distinct odor of prunes and corned beef.

"Well, I must say," he remarked as he turned up his coat collar and fled down the steps, "that it smells like a boarding house, madam."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Human Eye Faster Than the Pen.

"You read 1,000 miles," is the calculation of a clever individual fond of details. The eyes of the average busy man, in reading alone, travel 1,000 miles, which is equivalent to an "ocular trip" a third of the distance across our continent. Even the busiest man probably travels with his eyes 19 miles of type yearly, and there are doubtless many readers who travel six times the distance. If you read a yellow backed novel, your eyes have traversed from a mile to a mile and a half of type. The busiest pen cannot keep up with this pace. With ordinary use, your pen has not traveled as far as from New York to Albany.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Bald Statement.

"It's hard to be happy once you've got a reputation for saying sarcastic things," remarked the sad eyed man.

"What's the trouble?"

"I've lost another friend. I complimented him on being the most cool headed person I ever saw. He took it as an allusion to the fact that he is totally bald."—Washington Star.

He Was Scared.

The doctor looked at him.

"You are a dyspeptic," he said.

Then he put his ear to the patient's heart and gravely added:

"A high liver."

"Heavens!" cried the startled patient. "'Tain't as high as that, is it?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A NIGHT OF MISERY.

RIDING IN A LOCKED BOX CAR WITH TWO SCARED MULES.

An Experience Which, According to the Victim, Made Sherman's Definition of War Seem Like the Description of a Sunday School Picnic.

"Well," said the Footprint to Slug Seven as he settled down on his stool and began to throw in a handful of type, "if I didn't have a time of it getting down here out of those mountains."

"Been up in the mines?" inquired Slug Seven.

"Yep," replied the Footprint. "Just came out. Footed it from Angels to Milton yesterday and rode into Stockton on a side door sleeper last night. A side door sleeper," continued the Footprint, "is not the most comfortable mode of traveling. Personally I prefer to ride on a red cushion, but the heartless and exorbitant demand of the railroad trust for spot cash compelled me to walk or come as freight. I came as freight."

"Sure," said Sing Seven.

"The unpleasant feature of the trip,' continued the Footprint, "was the base betrayal of confidence on the part of the brakeman with whom I negotiated for an undisturbed passage. For a cash consideration of six bits and a drink of liquor he verbally contracted to waybill me from Milton to the division end at Stockton. We went up street to take the drink and—well, you know how one word brings on another. By train time the $4 I had sunk in my jeans had been fished to the surface and sent across the bar for red liquor.

"The brakeman was full when he started for the yards. So was I when I started after him. The brakeman confided to me on the way through the yards that he owned the whole train and I could ride anywhere and any way I wanted to. I told him that I was surrounding at least a quart of Milton whisky and if it was all the same to him and he had a nice, dry, empty box car I would be shipped as an unbroken original package. He agreed, and we went over where the train was standing made up to find that empty. The brakeman ran a door open, gave me a hurried boost in and ran the door shut and locked it. After a bit I struck a match to look about and what do you suppose that cuss had done?"

"Give it up," said Sing Seven.

"Billed me as live stock, by gum! Fact! There I was locked in a box with two mules, both loose, and all of us good to keep company to the division end. What was that Sherman said about war? Said it was hades, didn't he? Well, it ain't. It's only an imitation. The real, orthodox, rose colored hades is to spend a night in a locked box car with two mountain ranch mules.

"It isn't a long run from Milton in, and I concluded, after the train had bumped along about three miles and those scared mules had begun to charge around and kick a rat-a-tat-tat-tat on the sides of the car, that the only plan of campaign left to me was a flank movement and a sudden mounting of one of the animals. It wouldn't be a dream of pleasure on that mule's back, but it would be safer than dodging four rapid fire hind heels unlimbered for action. I got on the mule all right, and after a little bucking he steadied down tolerably well. The animal was evidently scared to death and seemed to take comfort in being straddled by a rider.

"Well, I was just chuckling to myself over the state of affairs in the live stock department of the Espee railway and figuring that another hour would see us in the division yards, where my friend the brakeman would open the door, when the train stopped, evidently at a siding, as I knew we weren't near a station. We bumped about a bit and I took a double wrap in the mule's ears; then we stood still while some other cars were bumped about and then I heard two short toots of the whistle and a rumble that gradually grew fainter. The train had pulled out and we were side tracked.!

"We staid there till morning, too, and I rode that son of a jackass, with a backbone like the ridge of a church roof, up and down and around that car every weary minute of all that weary night. To quit riding meant to go to sleep, fall off and have the liver and high lights and half tones trampled and kicked out of me by two scared mountain mules.

"I estimate that I rode that mile and miles and three furlongs in that car and the car traveled 17 miles before being side tracked. The remaining three miles of the 20 between Milton and Stockton I made on foot, thus completing a journey of 156 miles 3 furlongs in a straight line between two given points that are but 20 miles apart, a mathematically impossible feat, accomplished by one jackass with the aid of two relatives on the male side of the house."

The Footprint sighed as he paused to bite off a chew of tobacco, and Slug Seven took advantage of the opening to remark that a man who had traveled so far under such circumstances must be dry.

THEIR FIRST HORSE CAR.

The People Were So Delighted That They Rode All Day.

"I made the survey for the street car lines in the City of Mexico," said the civil engineer, "and when we got the tracks down and the cars running we had a laughable time. Young men of the first families not only ventured to act as drivers and conductors, but insisted on taking those places without wages. The thing was like a new toy to children. People paid fare or withheld it, just as they saw fit, and some would ride around for half a day. The Yankee superintendent of the lines was in a sweat all the time, but it was kicking against a stone wall.

"The tracks were single ones, with switches here and there for the cars to pass, but such little things didn't bother the drivers. Some of them would start the mules on a dead run and go clear to the end of the line, and others would pull out on a switch and go to sleep or indulge in games with the passengers. I guess it was two months before the drivers consented to give up their siesta hours. At 12 o'clock precisely the mules were brought to a halt, no matter where the car was, and the driver would walk off to eat, sleep and smoke and be gone two hours. No Mexican ever hurries. Most of the complaints received were to the effect that the cars went too fast. Even after we got things somewhat systematic, Don Pablo Chora, the president of the road, returned from a trip one day to say to the manager:

"'Ah, senor, but I am afraid we shall never get our people to accept this enterprise.'

"'What is wrong now?' was asked.

"'Why, one of our greatest merchants paid his fare to be taken to the Alameda in 20 minutes, and, lo and behold, the driver cut the time down to 15! We shall be ruined by moving folks around too quickly. Let us tie up the legs of the mules and take the whips away from the drivers!'"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

DOWN EAST CURIOSITY.

One Instance In Which It Was Not Satisfied.

It takes a down east man to ask questions, but once in awhile one of them finds his match. Jonathan overtook a gentleman who was traveling on horseback, notwithstanding the fact that he had lost one leg. His curiosity was awakened, as he rode alongside of him, to know how he chanced to meet with such a misfortune.

"Been in the army, I guess?" was the anxious inquiry

"Never was in the army in my life,' the traveler returned.

"Fit a duel, p'haps?'

"Never fought a duel, sir."

"Horse throwed you off, I guess, or something of that sort?"

"No, sir, nothing of the kind.'

Jonathan tried various dodges, but all to no effect. At last, almost out of patience, he determined on a direct inquiry as to the nature of the accident by which the gentleman had come to lose his leg.

"I will tell you," said the traveler, "on condition that you will promise not to ask me another question."

"Agreed, agreed!" exclaimed the eager listener joyfully.

"Well, sir," remarked the gentleman, "it was bit off!"

"Bit off!" cried Jonathan. "Waal, I declare; I'd just like to know, powerful well, what on arth bit it off!"—Christian Endeavor World.

A Famished Cat's Prudence.

At Osage City Mrs. C. A. Stodard was cleaning up her garret when by some means the family cat got into an old trunk filled with clothing and was shut in tight and fast. Just 20 days later Mrs. Stodard was in the garret again and heard the cat's feeble cry from the trunk. When the lid was lifted, the cat had just strength enough to climb out. It had torn the clothing in the trunk all to pieces in its clawing and had gnawed the sides nearly through in several places. But perhaps the most singular circumstance was found in the manner in which the cat took care of itself after securing liberty. Mrs. Stodard set before it a big dish of milk and a big dish of water. It would lap a little of each and then lie down for a few minutes, when again it would partake sparingly of the milk and water, and this proceding it continued through the whole afternoon. If that cat had been a human, doubtless it would have swallowed all that was placed before it at one gulp.—Kansas City Jonrnal.

Eat Sand For Dyspepsia.

The English, according to Science Pour Tout, have adopted quite an original plan. In many houses, on the table by the side of the pepper box and the salt box is placed a sand box—a little receptacle filled with very fine sand, as fine as flour, which is sprinkled over all the food. A medical journal has advised dyspeptics to adopt this remedy The sand, mingling with the alimentary mass, renders it less compact and makes digestion more easy This has become the fashion, and since the English have begun to eat sand it is certain that French snobs who imitate their neighbors across the channel like monkeys will soon be devouring it. Besides, gravel for digestive purposes has been in use by ostriches for a long time.

CLEVER MILITARY TRICK.

The Stratagem by Which Sir Francis Vere Defeated the Spanish.

When Philip II debated the question of coercing with fire and sword the Dutchman, who did not like the taxes which they themselves did not vote, the Duke of Alva counseled violent measures, for in his eyes the rebels were only "men of butter." Nevertheless he found that these men, so fond of cows and bens, could hold his veterans at bay, finally overcome them in the field, and after 80 years leave poor Spain "a broken backed tiger."

Indeed in time of war country folk with baskets of eggs and butter excited no suspicion even to alert sentinels. Taking advantage of this fact, Sir Francis Vere determined to recapture from the Spaniards the Zutphen sconces, or forts, by a stratagem. In 1591 he picked ont some lusty and handsome young soldiers and dressed most of them like the Gelderland egg women and the rest as Boers. With bundles of vegetables, baskets of eggs and butter, but also with daggers and pistols inside their clothes, they were ferried across the river by twos and threes. They sat near the gate of the fort being already at the break of day, chatting and gesticulating, as if in some tremendous argument about the rise or fall of market prices.

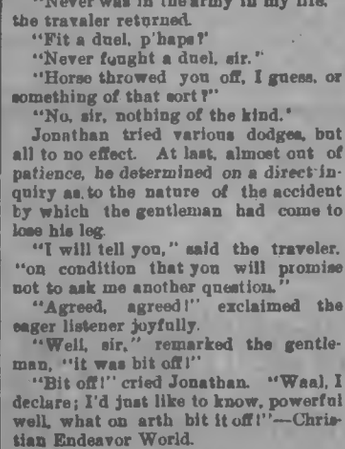
Then, according to arrangement, Vere sent some cavalry forward, as if approaching, and the pretended country people ran in feigned terror toward the fort The gates were at once thrown open to receive them. They all streamed in, threw off their disguises, and in a few minutes were in possession of the forts of the town, where the gallant Sir Philip Sidney afterward lost his life by being more rash and less shrewd than the veteran Vere.—Harper's Bazar.

Confidence in the Ministry.

Rome, June 16.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday passed a vote of confidence in the Ministry by a majority of 164. The various Catholic associations that were disbanded after the riots last year have been allowed to resume, the Government believing they act as a check to Socialism.

The Souvenir Range

With Aerated Ovens.



In "Souvenir" Stoves and Ranges the Fresh air is taken over the oven doors (see cut) and passes through a circulating-flue underneath a plate which is attached to the top oven plate, thus becoming heated, after which it is discharged into the oven.

The heated fresh air then creates a literal whirlwind in rotating from the top to bottom of oven, carrying all the impure air out of the oven, at the exit provided, and replacing it continually with heated fresh air.

The air being heated before entering the oven, the temperature is not lowered. The vitiated air passes off into the flues' carrying with it all odors and gases given off by the cooking food.

We carry a large stock of "Souvenir" and "Happy Thought" Ranges the best stoves in Canada.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Spring Fever.

On days like these a voice comes from the fields—
A winsome voice, borne on the tempered breeze—
That bears the wak'ning music of the brooks,
The op'ning chorus of the great shade trees.
It fills me with desire to roam abroad,
To start afield at breaking of the dawn.
Cooped up indoors, my work seems dull and flat;
I'm very tired; I stretch and gape and yawn.

Who hears that voice of spring without a thrill?
Who would not rather that his lot were cast
With field and meadow, babbling brook and dell,
Than with an office job that holds him fast?
I would a-fishing go or picnicking—
A hammock have on shady lawn,
A girl, a book, a pipe, most anything
Save sitting here to stretch and gape and yawn.

I yearn to wander 'mongst the ancient hills,
To cull wild flowers from the brink of streams,
To list the story of the murmurous rills
And lull my drowsy soul to pleasant dreams.
I want to loaf, to run away, to shirk,
To dose away the hours in nature's lap—
In other words, I want to dodge my work,
And—ah-h-h—I think—I'm going to take a nap!

—Philadelphia North American.

Not His Idea.

"Look at that man Funston!" exclaimed one member of the Cuban army. "He has the right idea. A soldier would rather fight than eat."

"A soldier would rather fight than"—the comrade who was on his way to get his rations broke off in the middle of his remark and exclaimed: "There you go! Always getting the cart before the horse!"—Washington Star.

"Rushin the Season."

You kin bet I've had some pleasure
You could never, never measure,
An I'm feelin w'at my brother calls "O. K."
Though ma didn't know I did it
(If she knew it, she'd forbid it),
Yet I took my shoes an stockin's off today.

In the springtime I was hatin
To give up my dandy skatin
An my rubber boots an shinney stick an sleigh,
But I realise my folly,
An at school I'm mighty jolly,
Ver I took my shoes and stockin's off today.

W'en a bully, purty scrappy,
Makes my recess most unhappy
I kin sass him an kin quickly run away;
I kin guy him with a snigger;
He can't ketch me, though he's bigger,
For he has his shoes an stockin's on today.

But I'll tell you in conclusion
There will be a slight confusion
If a lickin mars the pleasures of the day,
An I fear that I'll be rattled,
For at noon my sister tattled
That I had my shoes an stockin's off today.

Her Ideal.

She was a large woman with a wide, firm mouth, shaded by an incipient mustache. "When I marry," she said in heavy tones, "the lucky man must have the advantage of a military education."

"Why so?" inquired her dearest friend.

"Because he will then know the value of implicit obedience to orders."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Postaster's Perils.

[The Boston Globe says, "Funston, again, is a name that doesn't rhyme without an effort." Let's see your effort.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

As, hopeless, through the alphabet
Today the rhymester wriggles,
Stern visaged fate gives way, I guess,
To fun and all but giggles
To see the "poet" paralyzed
By Funston and by Diggles.

The dialect man may start out with
A line beginning "Oncet on
A time there was"—and find the roll
Of heroes has a Dunstan,
But 'tis a rocky road he climbs
Who seeks a rhyme for Funston.

Dejected postasters pale
At prospect of the "wiggles"
They can't "get on," while fame—who ne'er

So take your love and go.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15002 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334.80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

A NIGHT OF MISERY.

RIDING IN A LOCKED BOX CAR WITH TWO SCARED MULES.

An Experience Which, According to the Victim, Made Sherman's Definition of War Seem Like the Description of a Sunday School Picnic.

"Well," said the Footprint to Slug Seven as he settled down on his stool and began to throw in a handful of type, "if I didn't have a time of it getting down here out of those mountains."

"Been up in the mines?" inquired Slug Seven.

"Yep," replied the Footprint. "Just came out. Footed it from Angels to Milton yesterday and rode into Stockton on a side door sleeper last night. A side door sleeper," continued the Footprint, "is not the most comfortable mode of traveling. Personally I prefer to ride on a red cushion, but the heartless and exorbitant demand of the railroad trust for spot cash compelled me to walk or come as freight. I came as freight."

"Sure," said Slug Seven.

"The unpleasant feature of the trip,' continued the Footprint, "was the base betrayal of confidence on the part of the brakeman with whom I negotiated for an undisturbed passage. For a cash consideration of six bits and a drink of liquor he verbally contracted to waybill me from Milton to the division end at Stockton. We went up street to take the drink and—well, you know how one word brings on another. By train time the $4 I had sunk in my jeans had been fished to the surface and sent across the bar for red liquor.

"The brakeman was full when he started for the yards. So was I when I started after him. The brakeman confided to me on the way through the yards that he owned the whole train and I could ride anywhere and any way I wanted to. I told him that I was surrounding at least a quart of Milton whisky and if it was all the same to him and he had a nice, dry, empty box car I would be shipped as an unbroken original package. He agreed, and we went over where the train was standing made up to find that empty. The brakeman ran a door open, gave me a hurried boost in and ran the door shut and locked it. After a bit I struck a match to look about and what do you suppose that cuss had done?"

"Give it up," said Slug Seven.

"Billed me as live stock, by gum! Fact! There I was locked in a box with two mules, both loose, and all of us good to keep company to the division end. What was that Sherman said about war? Said it was hades, didn't he? Well, it ain't. It's only an imitation. The real, orthodox, rose colored hades is to spend a night in a locked box car with two mountain ranch mules.

"It isn't a long run from Milton in, and I concluded, after the train had bumped along about three miles and those scared mules had begun to charge around and kick a rat-a-tat-tat-tat on the sides of the car, that the only plan of campaign left to me was a flank movement and a sudden mounting of one of the animals. It wouldn't be a dream of pleasure on that mule's back, but it would be safer than dodging four rapid fire hind heels unlimbered for action. I got on the mule all right, and after a little bucking he steadied down tolerably well. The animal was evidently scared to death and seemed to take comfort in being straddled by a rider.

"Well, I was just chuckling to myself over the state of affairs in the live stock department of the Espee railway and figuring that another hour would see us in the division yards, where my friend the brakeman would open the door, when the train stopped, evidently at a siding, as I knew we weren't near a station. We bumped about a bit and I took a double wrap in the mule's ears; then we stood still while some other cars were bumped about and then I heard two short toots of the whistle and a rumble that gradually grew fainter. The train had pulled out and we were side tracked.!

"We staid there till morning, too, and I rode that son of a jackass, with a backbone like the ridge of a church roof, up and down and around that car every weary minute of all that weary night. To quit riding meant to go to sleep, fall off and have the liver and high lights and half tones trampled and kicked out of me by two scared mountain mules.

"I estimate that I rode that mule 186 miles and three furlongs in that car, and the car traveled 17 miles before being side tracked. The remaining three miles of the 20 between Milton and Stockton I made on foot, thus completing a journey of 156 miles 3 furlongs in a straight line between two given points that are but 20 miles apart, a mathematically impossible feat, accomplished by one jackass with the aid of two relatives on the male side of the house."

The Footprint sighed as he paused to bite off a chew of tobacco, and Slug Seven took advantage of the opening to remark that a man who had traveled so far under such circumstances must be dry.

THEIR FIRST HORSE CAR.

The People Were So Delighted That They Rode All Day.

"I made the survey for the street car lines in the City of Mexico," said the civil engineer, "and when we got the tracks down and the cars running we had a laughable time. Young men of the first families not only ventured to act as drivers and conductors, but insisted on taking those places without wages. The thing was like a new toy to children. People paid fare or withheld it, just as they saw fit, and some would ride around for half a day. The Yankee superintendent of the lines was in a sweat all the time, but it was kicking against a stone wall.

"The tracks were single ones, with switches here and there for the cars to pass, but such little things didn't bother the drivers. Some of them would start the mules on a dead run and go clear to the end of the line, and others would pull out on a switch and go to sleep or indulge in games with the passengers. I guess it was two months before the drivers consented to give up their siesta hours. At 12 o'clock precisely the mules were brought to a halt, no matter where the car was, and the driver would walk off to eat, sleep and smoke and be gone two hours. No Mexican ever hurries. Most of the complaints received were to the effect that the cars went too fast. Even after we got things somewhat systematic, Don Pablo Chora, the president of the road, returned from a trip one day to say to the manager:

"'Ah, senor, but I am afraid we shall never get our people to accept this enterprise.'

"'What is wrong now?' was asked.

"'Why, one of our greatest merchants paid his fare to be taken to the Alameda in 20 minutes, and, lo and behold, the driver cut the time down to 15! We shall be ruined by moving folks around too quickly. Let us tie up the legs of the mules and take the whips away from the drivers!'"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

DOWN EAST CURIOSITY.

One Instance In Which It Was Not Satisfied.

It takes a down east man to ask questions, but once in awhile one of them finds his match. Jonathan overtook a gentleman who was traveling on horseback, notwithstanding the fact that he had lost one leg. His curiosity was awakened, as he rode alongside of him, to know how he chanced to meet with such a misfortune.

"Been in the army, I guess?" was the anxious inquiry.

"Never was in the army in my life," the traveler returned.

"Fit a duel, p'haps?"

"Never fought a duel, sir."

"Horse throwed you off, I guess, or something of that sort?"

"No, sir, nothing of the kind."

Jonathan tried various dodges, but all to no effect. At last, almost out of patience, he determined on a direct inquiry as to the nature of the accident by which the gentleman had come to lose his leg.

"I will tell you," said the traveler, "on condition that you will promise not to ask me another question."

"Agreed, agreed!" exclaimed the eager listener joyfully.

"Well, sir," remarked the gentleman, "it was bit off!"

"Bit off!" cried Jonathan. "Waal, I declare; I'd just like to know, powerful well, what on arth bit it off!"—Christian Endeavor World.

A Famished Cat's Prudence.

At Osage City Mrs. C. A. Stodard was cleaning up her garret when by some means the family cat got into an old trunk filled with clothing and was shut in tight and fast. Just 20 days later Mrs. Stodard was in the garret again and heard the cat's feeble cry from the trunk. When the lid was lifted, the cat had just strength enough to climb out. It had torn the clothing in the trunk all to pieces in its clawing and had gnawed the sides nearly through in several places. But perhaps the most singular circumstance was found in the manner in which the cat took care of itself after securing liberty. Mrs. Stodard set before it a big dish of milk and a big dish of water. It would lap a little of each and then lie down for a few minutes, when again it would partake sparingly of the milk and water, and this proceding it continued through the whole afternoon. If that cat had been a human, doubtless it would have swallowed all that was placed before it at one gulp.—Kansas City Journal.

Eat Sand For Dyspepsia.

The English, according to Science Pour Tout, have adopted quite an original plan. In many houses, on the table by the side of the pepper box and the salt box is placed a sand box—a little receptacle filled with very fine sand, as fine as flour, which is sprinkled over all the food. A medical journal has advised dyspeptics to adopt this remedy The sand, mingling with the alimentary mass, renders it less compact and makes digestion more easy This has become the fashion, and since the English have begun to eat sand it is certain that French snobs who imitate their neighbors across the channel like monkeys will soon be devouring it. Besides, gravel for digestive purposes has been in use by ostriches for a long time.

CLEVER MILITARY TRICK.

The Stratagem by Which Sir Francis Vere Defeated the Spanish.

When Philip II debated the question of coercing with fire and sword the Dutchman, who did not like the taxes which they themselves did not vote, the Duke of Alva counseled violent measures, for in his eyes the rebels were only "men of butter." Nevertheless he found that these men, so fond of cows and hens, could bold his veterans at bay, finally overcome them in the field, and after 80 years leave poor Spain "a broken backed tiger."

Indeed in time of war country folk with baskets of eggs and butter excited no suspicion even to alert sentinels. Taking advantage of this fact, Sir Francis Vere determined to recapture from the Spaniards the Zutphen sconces, or forts, by a stratagem. In 1591 he picked out some lusty and handsome young soldiers and dressed most of them like the Gelderland egg women and the rest as Boers With bundles of vegetables, baskets of eggs and butter, but also with daggers and pistols inside their clothes, they were ferried across the river by twos and threes. They sat near the gate of the fort being already at the break of day, chatting and gesticulating, as if in some tremendous argument about the rise or fall of market prices.

Then, according to arrangement, Vere sent some cavalry forward, as if approaching, and the pretended country people ran in feigned terror toward the fort. The gates were at once thrown open to receive them. They all streamed in, threw off their disguises, and in a few minutes were in possession of the forts of the town, where the gallant Sir Philip Sidney afterward lost his life by being more rash and less shrewd than the veteran Vere.—Harper's Bazar.

Confidence in the Ministry.

Rome, June 16.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday passed a vote of confidence in the Ministry by a majority of 164. The various Catholic associations that were disbanded after the riots last year have been allowed to resume, the Government believing they act as a check to Socialism.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Spring Fever.

On days like these a voice comes from the fields—
A winsome voice, borne on the tempered breeze—
That bears the wak'ning music of the brooks,
The op'ning chorus of the great shade trees.
It fills me with desire to roam abroad,
To start afield at breaking of the dawn.
Cooped up indoors, my work seems dull and flat;
I'm very tired; I stretch and gape and yawn.

Who hears that voice of spring without a thrill?
Who would not rather that his lot were cast
With field and meadow, babbling brook and dell,
Than with an office job that holds him fast?
I would a-fishing go or picnicking—
A hammock have on shady lawn,
A girl, a book, a pipe, most anything
Save sitting here to stretch and gape and yawn.

I yearn to wander 'mongst the ancient hills,
To cull wild flowers from the brink of streams,
To list the story of the murmurous rills
And lull my drowsy soul to pleasant dreams.
I want to loaf, to run away, to shirk,
To dose away the hours in nature's lap—
In other words, I want to dodge my work,
And—ah-h-h—I think—I'm going to take a nap!

—Philadelphia North American.

Not His Idea.

"Look at that man Funston!" exclaimed one member of the Cuban army. "He has the right idea. A soldier would rather fight than eat."

"A soldier would rather fight than"—the comrade who was on his way to get his rations broke off in the middle of his remark and exclaimed: "There you go! Always getting the cart before the horse!"—Washington Star.

"Rushin the Season."

You kin bet I've had some pleasure
You could never, never measure,
An I'm feelin w'at my brother calls "O. K."
Though ma didn't know I did it
(If she knew it, she'd forbid it),
Yet I took my shoes an stockin's off today.

In the springtime I was hatin
To give up my dandy skatin
An my rubber boots an shinney stick an sleigh,
But I realise my folly,
An at school I'm mighty jolly,
Fer I took my shoes and stockin's off today.

W'en a bully, purty scrappy,
Makes tay recess most unhappy
I kin pass him an kin quickly run away;
I kin guy him with a snigger;
He can't ketch me, though he's bigger,
Fer he has his shoes an stockin's on today.

But I'll tell you in conclusion
There will be a slight confusion
If a lickin mars the pleasures of the day,
An I fear that I'll be rattled,
Fer at noon my sister tattled
That I had my shoes an stockin's off today.

Her Ideal.

She was a large woman with a wide, firm mouth, shaded by an incipient mustache. "When I marry," she said in heavy tones, "the lucky man must have the advantage of a military education."

"Why so?" inquired her dearest friend.

"Because he will then know the value of implicit obedience to orders."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Poetaster's Perils.

[The Boston Globe says, "Funston, again, is a name that doesn't rhyme without an effort." Let's see your effort.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

As, hopeless, through the alphabet
Today the rhymester wriggles,
Stern visaged fate gives way, I guess,
To fun and all but giggles
To see the "poet" paralyzed
By Funston and by Diggles.

The dialect man may start out with
A line beginning "Once on
A time there was"—and find the roll
Of heroes has a Dunstan,
But 'tis a rocky road he climbs
Who seeks a rhyme for Funston.

Dejected poetasters pale
At prospect of the "wiggles"
They can't "get on," while fame—who ne'er
O'er euphony now higgles—
Inscribes upon her scroll the names
Of Funston and of Diggles!

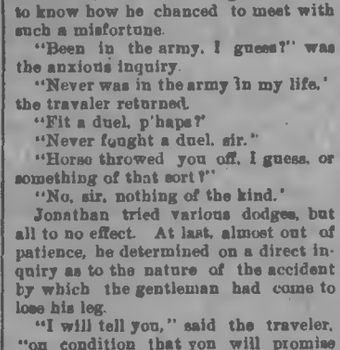
The Souvenir Range

With Aerated Ovens.



In "Souvenir" Stoves and Ranges the Fresh air is taken over the oven doors (see cut) and passes through a circulating-flue underneath a plate which is attached to the top oven plate, thus becoming heated, after which it is discharged into the oven.

The heated fresh air then creates a literal whirlwind in rotating from the top to bottom of oven, carrying all the impure air out of the oven, at the exit provided, and replacing it continually with heated fresh air.

The air being heated before entering the oven, the temperature is not lowered. The vitiated air passes off into the flues' carrying with it all odors and gases given off by the cooking food.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 95/100 dollars ($1264.95) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 15008 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334.80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

AN OLD LAND MARK.

The Gilmour Street Elm Tree Comes Down.

The enormous elm tree, which has stood in the centre of Gilmour street, since the present site of the town was cut up into building lots, has at last succumbed to the advancing strides of civilization.

The sewerage system is responsible for the fall of the tree. Mr. James Bogue secured the contract to construct a sewer through Gilmour st., and the town council gave him the option of tunnelling under the tree or removing it and he chose the latter course, consequently the fine old tree is down and will soon be converted into firewood.

A curious circumstance occurred when the men were cutting the roots of the tree preparatory to taking it down. Contractor Bogue noticed that as the work advanced towards the tree water began to enter the excavation freely to such an extent that he finally decided the water mains must have burst and he accordingly notified Supt. Henderson to that effect. The presence of the water, however, was accounted for before the waterworks superintendent arrived, as when a telephone lineman climbed the tree to cut off a limb, which might interfere with the wires, a jet of water spurted forth, much to the astonishment of everyone and, on examination, it was found that the heart of the tree had rotted out and the trunk was filled with water. The tree, as will be remembered, was a big one and as the hollow, which was about 20 inches in diameter, extended upwards for a distance of fully 30 feet, the amount of water it contained can be imagined. A branch broken off near the top of the tree gave the rain an opportunity to enter.

The fall of the old tree was so carefully manipulated that no wires or trees were injured in the least.

Contractor Bogue states that if he had known the tree was hollow, he would never have taken it down, but would rather have converted it into an observatory and put a set of stairs inside it.

John Williams Pays a Two Dollar Fine

John Williams is a browney looking gent, apparently of Indian descent. He has been doing the streets of Peterborough, dressed out in a new ready-made suit of clothes and wearing a broad and innocent smile on his visage. He claims Trenton as his home and says that he has just returned from the shanties in the back country. He had considerable money about him some days ago, but fifteen dollars is the extent of his wealth now.

Yesterday evening he got the worse of liquor and began to make himself obnoxious on Water street. When the Chief and P.C. McGinty attempted to place him under arrest he became indignant but was soon lodged in the police station. He appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning and paid a $2 fine. He will leave town at once.

Your camping orders will receive the most careful attention and the best groceries, liquors and temperance beverages at reasonable prices are for sale at the Spot Cash Grocery.

A Good Act.

In order to encourage early closing during the hot summer months and to show their usual appreciation of the movement, messrs. henry & co., grocers and liquor merchants, will close their store at 7 o'clock every evening, commencing on Monday, June 19th, except Saturdays. FARMERS' INSTITUTE ANNUAL MEETING.

MR. EDWARD ELLIOTT AGAIN RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Reports Presented For the Year—The Financial Statement—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, was held in the town council chamber at one o'clock this afternoon with the president, Mr. E. M. Elliott in the chair. There was a fair attendance and much interest was manifested in the proceedings.

The president in opening the proceedings begged to be excused from making any very lengthy remarks in view of the very excellent report the secretary had prepared. Referring to the recent excursion to the Agricultural College, Guelph, the president regretted very much the fact that a strike was in progress at the time, which caused many to stay at home out of fear that the roadbed was not safe. However, the excursion was a success both financially and otherwise, and those who had any prejudices against the Agricultural College, had come away with decidedly different views.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and on motion adopted.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The secretary, Mr. W. M. Collins, presented his annual report, which was as appended:

To the Members of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute:

Gentlemen,—On behalf of your Board of Directors, I beg leave to present for your approval, the annual report of the Institute for the year 1898-99:

Our regular weekly meetings were held as usual, the first at Peterborough County Council Chambers on Nov. 29th, when interesting addresses were given by the delegates—first, Major J. Shepherd, of Queenston, on "Country Roads, and How to Build Them;" second, by T. G. Raynor, B. S. A., on "Clover Culture." In the evening a meeting was held in the town hall, North Monaghan, when Major Shepherd took as his subject, "Four Reasons why we Till the Soil." T. G. Raynor spoke on "Agricultural Education." J. McCaig, B. A., explained very fully, "Sheep in Ontario." R. Vance of Ida, and John Crow of Dummer, also gave short but interesting addresses on general farm topics.

The next day and evening two meetings were held at Lakefield, when Major Shepherd spoke on "The Planting and Care of Orchards." T. G. Raynor gave an address on "Selection and Cross-breeding of Animals. E. Hawthorne of Dummer, the present Warden of the county, took up for his subject, "Ensilage and the Silo." George Matthews, Sr., of the George Matthews Pork Packing Company, read an excellent paper on "The Best Hog for the Export Bacon Trade," who was followed by R. Cookburn of Lakefield with a paper on "Poultry on the Farm."

At the evening meeting F. J. Lillicrap, Reeve of Lakefield, presided, when we had a bumper house. The chairman welcomed the farmers to the village in a neat speech, and then called for Major Shepherd to give his address, "Three Historical Days on the Niagara River." T. G. Raynor spoke on "Evolution in Agriculture."

The supplementary meetings were held at Bridgenorth on the 20th, and at Lakehurst on the 21st January, when the deputation sent us were A. C. Hallman of New Dundee, and J. E. Orr of Fruitland, who delivered able addresses on their particular lines. Messrs. G. J. Galvin and G. W. Fitzgerald gave addresses and W. C. Wilson, read a very valuable and instructive paper. We cannot speak in too high terms of the gentlemen who composed our delegation, as they are able and willing to instruct the farmers by imparting to them new and advanced ideas in relation to their business. While some of the farmers take a great interest in attending these meetings to receive instruction and interchange ideas and experiences still there is a large number who are careless and apathetic, thinking that they know all about their own business, but as a rule these are the men who are behind as regards any improvements in their methods.

We would suggest that the very best men should be selected as a Board who will represent the different municipalities in which meetings are to be held, as on them, to a large extent, depends the success or failure of these meetings. It is expected that every director will put forth his best efforts to help to increase the membership, and thereby make the Institute what it is intended to be—a genuine farmers' club.

At the regular and supplementary meetings it was thought advisable to run an excursion to the Experimental Farm in June, and your secretary corresponded with the executive of the East Durham Institute, asking them to join in with us, each sharing alike in the guarantee, or profits, if any accrued. We held a joint meeting in Peterborough, and made the arrangements with the Grand Trunk Railway, and signed a contract to run an excursion on June 8th, which has been done, and would have proved a great success only for the fact that the trackmen's strike was still on, which prevented a great many from going through fear as to the condition of the road, and others would not travel on the line through sympathy with the men, while quite a number went by the C. P. R., who reduced their rates to meet ours. Although we have not yet got a complete settlement with the company, we will have enough to pay our expenses, after meeting the guarantee.

The financial statement of the excursion cannot be given in the past year's business, as the financial year closes on May 31st by the Institute rules.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. M. ELLIOTT, President. W. COLLINS, Secretary.

The report was on motion adopted.

W. J. GREEN, A. J. N. TERRILL, Auditors.

The report was adopted.

Suggestions as to what points at which to hold meetings was the next order of business. It was thought advisable to hold the meeting at Buckhorn instead of Lakehurst, and to also hold a meeting in Ennismore in the afternoon, in addition to the usual meetings at North Monaghan, Peterborough and Lakefield.

Of course the board really makes the arrangements for these meetings, the general meeting making the chance suggestions.

The election of directors to the Board resulted as follows:

North Monaghan—Messrs. T. Rightmyer, T. M. Hunter, Thos. Brown, and G. W. Bennett.

Otonabee—Messrs. Dawson, Kennedy, R. Hambridge, S. Matchett.

Smith—Messrs. G. W. Fitzgerald, Geo. Elliott, Geo. W. Mann, Jas. Davidson, J. J. Stoddard, H. C. Garbutt, and E. M. Elliott.

Lakefield — R. H. Braden, G. F. Galvin and R. J. Dench.

Harvey — Messrs. Robt. Shaw, and Andrew Shearer.

Ennismore — John Telford, Paul Costello.

Peterborough — Messrs. R. H. Leary, E. B. Edwards, and T. E. Bradburn.

The meeting then adjourned, after which the meeting of the Board of Directors for the election of officers was held.

The following officers were elected:

President—E. M. Elliott, re-elected.

Vice-president — R. Q. Dench.

Secretary-treasurer—W. M. Collins.

The board confirmed the annual meeting's suggestions as to the time and place where to hold meetings.

The board then adjourned.

LOCAL BUSINESS INCREASING.

A Common Subject Among Local Merchants.

A dominant topic in business circles just now is the frequent discussions among our local merchants on the condition of trade. Is business increasing? Is there a healthy competition? Is there a tendency to go too low in prices? Is anybody making any money? These and other questions are being freely exchanged between merchants; and it is a healthy sign—indicating that they are not indifferent to the relative position of local trade.

It is gratifying to note that so far as Peterborough is concerned, the demand is as brisk as if the season was beginning. Although competition is sharp and active, it seems to be a generous competition. This should be the animating spirit of every business, without which it droops and languishes.

During a short interview with Mr. Conway, the manager of Grafton & Co's clothing store on George street, some facts were noted which are interesting to our readers. On being asked how he found trade, Mr. Conway replied:

"Better than ever. Our sales have been creeping up during the past two years especially at an encouraging rate. This year it now looks as if it were to pull up to a twenty per cent. increase."

"Do you attribute this to a renewal of prosperity in the country, or to any special course?"

"To both. There is certainly a betdemand for goods this year than last, and I think the same thing is happening all over the country. A private letter just received from the head office gives a very encouraging outlook for business at our branches throughout Ontario. But there is another reason that may be of interest to you."

"What is that?"

"There are many more people buying ready-to-wear clothing than ever before. Men in the best ranks of life, who couldn't be induced to wear a suit of clothes that wasn't made to their measure, are adopting themselves freely to the better grades of ready-made garments."

"What is your experience with regard to Thursday Bargain Days, Mr. Conway?"

"We have found them good factors in increasing trade. We have been running bargain days now for over a year, and know that they increase the weekly sales. Last Thursday we ran special leaders of similar lines of goods as we did a year ago, and our sales this Thursday turned nearly twenty per cent. better."

HEADACHES

Accompanied by Indigestion and Constipation cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

From Bath, Ont., comes the particulars of a remarkable cure effected by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Mr. Jos. Gardiner was for forty years the victim of indigestion, constipation, and violent headaches. Nothing seemed to have the desired effect until he began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they effected a complete cure. Mr. Gardiner writes:

"I have been troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation, would go for two weeks at a time. At intervals I would be taken with violent headaches. I spent dollars and dollars in vain, and was finally advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me permanent relief. I would not be without them for anything."

WHEN ARTHUR WAS PRESIDENT.

He Once Had to Climb Through a White House Window.

An amusing story is told of President Arthur regarding an occurrence which happened during the last year of his occupancy of the White House. He was one of the most princely chief executives who have filled that high office. He entertained lavishly and dined out quite frequently. President Arthur kept late hours, and the ushers who were on duty at the White House at times went to sleep, depending on the noise of the carriage wheels and the horses' hoofs to wake them before the president could reach the door. One night a dinner was given in General Arthur's honor by the governor of the Soldiers' home, and it was 2:30 in the morning before he returned. The four ushers and policemen went to sleep, three of them in an anteroom just east of the private dining room and the fourth went to the basement to indulge in a short nap.

While the guardians of the peace were asleep snow began falling, and the president's carriage sped noiselessly to the mansion, and of course the ushers slept on. No footman was on the box, and, on finding the doors locked, the president rang the bell, but failed to receive any response. After trying for several minutes to arouse some one he raised one of the windows and climbed in. Finding the men asleep, the president took the carriage robes and spread them over the men and retired. Before daylight the slumberers awoke and were startled to learn the president had found they were negligent.

"The jig is up, boys," remarked one of them, as they anticipated dismissal when the president reached his desk. Finally they mustered up courage enough to apologize, to which General Arthur replied:

"Things are coming to a pretty pass when the president of the United States is compelled to climb in the window of his own house. Return to your duties and do not let it happen again." The fourth man, who wanted to square himself, entered the president's office with great trepidation and humbly apologized. "So you were asleep, too, were you? I did not know it, but as long as you are manly enough to confess I will overlook it this time."

A VERY QUEER DEAL.

IN A FAMOUS GAME OF DRAW POKER IN OLD DAKOTA.

The Dealer Gave His Rival Four Jacks and Himself Four Queens. When the Show Down Came, the Jacks Had Turned to Aces.

In the northwest they still talk about the last poker game that Major Edwards and Stanley Huntley played together. They were pioneer editors of newspapers in Dakota in the old territorial days. Huntley had just sold his paper in Bismarck for $2,500 cash and was coming east. He and the major had sat in many a quiet game together, and Huntley went over to the major's office to say goodby and play one last game. The major produced the cards, locked the door, and the two faced a green table.

The major had the reputation of being a skillful dealer, and Huntley's previous experiences had taught him that cards sometimes appeared in the major's hand on a show down whose legitimate existence could only be accounted for on the hypothesis that the age of miracles had not passed. So he had fortified himself for this farewell game not only with the $2,500 which he had received for his newspaper property, but also with four large but not overworked aces.

There was no limit, but for an hour the game went along quietly enough. The major was out $300 or $400, but, as both players remarked, the game was "young yet." At last a jack pot for $50 came and remained. Back and forth across the table went the deck. Neither man could get openers. Each time the deal passed the pot was sweetened $40. At last there was $380 on the table. The major dealt. Huntley looked over his cards and found four jacks.

As has been said, the major was a slick dealer, and when a big pool was at stake and it was his deal he generally managed to give his opponent a good stiff hand, while taking care that he himself had one just a shade better.

So, when Huntley found the four jacks in his hand it seemed to him that the time had come to precipitate his four aces into action. The jacks were retired unostentatiously, and with a faint—a very faint—shade of disappointment in his voice Huntley announced:

"I can't break it."

The major was still examining his cards with that hesitating air that some people always believe means "studying out a straight." Finally he said:

"I'll have to break it for $500. It's a big pot."

Huntley looked mournful and said "I'll stay. Gimme a card."

"None for me," announced the major briskly, as he threw over a card and laid down the deck. "I'll bet you $500."

"I'll raise you $500," said Huntley.

"Five hundred more," said the major.

"When I sat down," said Huntley, "I had $2,500 in my pocket. I'll raise you the full amount of that on this one hand. If I lose, I'm broke."

The major took another look at his hand and replied:

"I haven't got as much as that in cash. I'll make out a bill of sale of the building and plant, newspaper and all, and put that in the pot. If you win, you can hold it till tomorrow, when I'll settle."

"Go ahead," said Huntley.

The major wrote out the bill of sale and threw the slip of paper into the pot on top of the big pile of greenbacks. Both men had emptied their pockets.

"Now I'll call you," said the major.

"Fours," said Huntley, and he laid down his four one spots. The major never flinched. He examined the aces, one after another. Then he laid down his hand and said briefly:

"You win, Stanley. All I had was four queens."

The next day the major redeemed his bill of sale and Huntley came to New York and began to write the "Spoopendyke Papers," which were first published in the Brooklyn Eagle. He's been dead for years now.

About two years after the famous poker game Major Edwards was visiting New York, and he looked up Huntley. They dined together at the Astor House. After coffee and when the cigars had been lighted the major said:

"Stanley, of course when gentlemen like you and I play poker together there's never any question about the game being straight. But there's one thing that's been puzzling me for two years, and I want to ask you about it."

"Go ahead, major," said Huntley puffing his cigar.

"Stanley, why in thunder did you refuse to open that last jack pot when you had four jacks in your hand?"

"Major," returned Huntley thoughtfully, laying down his cigar, "who dealt that last hand?"

"I did, Stanley," said the major.

"Well, then, major, since four aces won the pot, how in thunder could it have been a straight game?"

"That's so," said the major reflectively. "Let's get a cab and go to some theater."

A ST. THOMAS CASE.

The Entire Population Talking of the Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures.

St. Thomas, June 12.—The great wave has reached St. Thomas. The cures wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills are numbered by hundreds here, and the entire population, almost, is talking of them.

Michael Holleran, a farmer living near here, told our reporter, "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from an untimely grave." He was cured of Diabetes, of an aggravated type by a few boxes, after his doctors had failed to even relieve him.

So it goes. Everyone who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills has been cured. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Paralysis, all diseases of the kidneys and the blood yield to their power. They never fail to cure these ailments.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

J. S. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Texas, writes: "I have been prescribing your medicines for the last eighteen years in the Coffee County Poorhouse and Asylum. Your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are the best medicines for the diseases for which they are recommended, that I ever used. They saved my wife's life at the time of 'change of life'. I also cured the worst case of lunacy that we ever had with your 'Favorite Prescription'. The case had been under the doctor's care for three years. I gave your medicine and the patient became well. This was nine years ago, and she is still in good health. I have been recommending your medicines to many. I have told our druggist that if the people came back and said Dr. Pierce's medicines did not give satisfaction, to give them back their money and charge it to me. I have not once been called upon to refund. I think I have guaranteed seventy-five or one hundred cases."

THE ROYAL BOX.

Of the present rulers of European empires and kingdoms only one-third ascended the throne by direct hereditary right.

Queen Victoria's fondness for the poetry of Longfellow has more recently led her to the study of Emerson, a volume of whose essays she is now seldom without.

The Prince of Monaco is now worth $10,000,000 and has more in prospect. The prince takes $350,000 a year from the gambling tables at Monte Carlo. He pays no taxes; police, drains, electric light and government socials are all paid from the profits of the tables.

Queen Wilhelmina goes to bed at 11 and gets up very early. Her first toilet is a quick one, for it is merely a preparation for a brisk walk in the park. On these excursions she wears a rough woolen "manto" like those of the Friesland peasants. When she comes in, she has a cup of chocolate and then makes an elaborate toilet.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottle free at James Lynch's drug store. Regular size, $1 and 50c. Every bottle guaranteed.

HIGH TONED BOOK AGENTS.

Men Who Only Sell Volumes Worth From $50 to $500.

"There is a distinct upper class of book agents who never come in contact with the general public," remarked Mr. Charles H. Meyers. "I have been interested in art publications for a number of years and know most of the tiptop salesmen in the country. They handle books that range from $50 to $500 in price and only call on people who figure on certain select lists. These lists are the result of the cullings of years, and, combined, they represent nearly all of the high class book buyers of the United States. Each publishing house has its own collection of names, and they are valued highly.

"I call to mind one firm that failed and went out of business several years ago and its roster of buyers was considered its very best asset. It was purchased for something like $5,000. The class of books handled by the agents to whom I refer would greatly astonish the everyday patron of the shops. They are printed in very limited editions, and every refinement of mechanical art is lavished on their preparation. Sometimes the edition numbers only 25 or 30, and as soon as it is off the press the type is taken down and distributed. The illustrations are frequently water color paintings or artists' proofs of etchings, and it is quite common for the vignette letters to be tinted by hand.

"Such books are never advertised, but are easily disposed of to the inner circle of rich connoisseurs. The agents who take the orders are the princes of the business. I know one who makes easily $10,000 a year, and they are nearly all well to do. They are continually on the go, but if you were to encounter one of them at a hotel the chances are you would never guess his vocation. What are the topics of the books they sell? Oh! They range from Shakespeare's comedies to Walton's complete angler—a little of everything."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Poet's Impressions of Nilsson's Singing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20, 1870.

I went at 1 o'clock today to hear Nilsson. She sang in concert at Steinway hall; t'other artists were Vieuxtemps, the violinist; Wehli, pianist; Brignoli, tenor, and Verger, baritone.

Mlle. Nilsson singeth as thou and I love. She openeth her sweet mouth and turneth her head o' one side like a mocking bird in the moonlight, and straightway cometh forth the purest silver tones that ever mortal voice made. Her pianissimo was like a dawn, which crescendo'd presently into a glorious noon of tone, which then did die away into a quiet gray twilight of clear, melodious whisper. She sang nothing mean or light or merely taking. Handel's "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," solo; a duet with Brignoli, by Blangini, and a noble solo, a scena from Ambroise Thomas' "Hamlet" (the insane song of Ophelia), with "Home, Sweet Home," for encore—these were all.—"A Poet's Musical Impressions," by Sidney Lanier, in Scribner's.

He Walked.

Time, 11 p. m. "They tell me your gait was esteemed one of the finest in the regiment."

"You flatter me."

"No; Lieutenant Wagstaff said you marched magnificently."

"The lieutenant may not be a good judge."

"I fancy he is. To my mind there is nothing that makes a man more presentable and really attractive than a graceful walk. My curiosity is greatly aroused. May I ask a favor of you?"

"Certainly."

"Then I would like to see you walk."

And she handed him his hat.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Speech and Hands.

A professor who has made a study of children says he has discovered why the majority of the people are right handed. Infants use both hands until they begin to speak. The motor speech function controls the right side of the body, and the first right handed motions are expressive motions, tending to help out speech. As speech grows so does right handedness.

Pimples And Boils.

The nasty little pimples that come on the face and mar the beauty, as well as the painful boils which often cause so much suffering, are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface. When you take a bottle or two of Burdock Blood Bitters these all disappear, because the impurities which caused them are completely removed from the system by the powerful blood purifying properties of B.B.B.

Miss Agnes Bowman, Perry Station, Ont., writes: "I have been a sufferer from boils and pimples on my neck and face for many years. Last December I began taking Burdock Blood Bitters, and after finishing two bottles they all disappeared and have not bothered me since."

TEST THE KIDNEYS

And if they are diseased use the world's greatest kidney cure

Dr. A. W. CHASE'S Kidney-Liver Pills

It's a simple matter to test the kidneys. You need not consult a doctor. By asking yourself three questions you can determine whether or not your kidneys are deranged.

First: "Have you backache, or weak, lame back?"

Second: "Do you have difficulty in urinating or a too frequent desire to urinate?"

Third: "Are there deposits like brick dust in the urine after it has stood for twenty-four hours?"

In its earlier stages kidney disease is readily cured by a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, a preparation which has made Dr. Chase famous throughout the world for his wonderful cures of diseases of the kidneys.

If you have kidney disease you can take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with perfect confidence that what has proved an absolute cure in so many thousands of cases will not fail you.

So long as the cells of the kidneys are not completely wasted away, as in the last stages of Bright's disease, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will give them new vigor and strength and make them strong, healthy and active. One pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

VENEZUELAN ARBITRATION.

First Meeting of the Commission at the French Foreign Office.

Paris, June 16.—The first formal meeting of the Venezuelan arbitration commission opened yesterday morning. The arbitrators, counsel and others were received by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, in the apartment in which the tribunal will sit. These are the rooms used at the meeting of the Spanish-American peace conference and during the Behring Sea arbitration. Altogether there were about 40 persons connected with the tribunal present.

Delcasse Welcomed Them.

The proceedings opened at 11.20, when M. Delcasse briefly welcomed the tribunal in French.

Prof. de Martens replied, thanking the French Foreign Minister for his welcome and for the hospitality extended to the arbitrators. Referring to the work being done at The Hague in the matter of arbitration, he said the peace conference sought not merely to arrange a settlement of conflicts but the avoidance of conflicts, and expressed the hope that the present tribunal would have the result of promoting the welfare and prosperity of the two countries interested.

The arbitrators will meet four days a week, and the days off will be Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Sir Richard Webster announced that counsel had arranged he should speak first, then two Venezuelan counsel, next Great Britain, with possibly two counsel; then Venezuela and next Great Britain. The final speech was to be made by Venezuela.

The British Case.

Sir Richard then opened the British case and spoke until 1.15 p.m., when the commission adjourned for luncheon.

Sir Richard occupied the remainder of the day in an explanation, with the aid of the map on the wall, of the geographical difficulties of the dispute, and concluded the opening stage of his speech shortly before 4 o'clock, when the tribunal adjourned, Prof. de Martens saying he hoped to be able to hold the next meeting on the coming Wednesday.

He Fooled The Surgeons.

All doctors told Ranick Hamilton, West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklan's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by James Lynch, druggist.

A Purely Personal Fire.

There was a smell of fire in the house, the deep gray odor of burning cloth. The man of the house began nosing about to find out what caused it. He prides himself upon his keenness of scent. He went across the room.

"Hum! It grows stronger," he said. When he had his nose flat up against a brick and plaster wall, it was stronger than ever. He backed off. "No; it's somewhere over here." At the door to the hall the odor was very pronounced. He rushed down stairs into the dining room. The odor was there too. He hurried down cellar. It was overpowering.

He put his hand into his coat pocket for a match. He found the fire by his sense of touch and went up stairs and poured a glass of water into his pocket. Since then he carries his matches in a box and is disposed to be incredulous when stories of incendiaries are narrated. He says conflagration, like charity, begins at home.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

1,300 LOST IN BATTLE

Serious Depletion of the Filipinos' Army of Defence.

DEAD, WOUNDED, CAPTURED.

A Reconnoitre in the Direction of Imus—Capt. Cable, of Wheaton's Staff, Reports the Bacoor Section Practically Without Food—Major-Gen. Otis Orders Out Rice and Beef.

Washington, June 16.—General Otis cabled yesterday the following: Manila, June 16.—Adjutant-General, Washington: Success of Lawton's troops in Cavite Province greater than reported yesterday. Enemy, numbering over 4,000, lost in killed, wounded and captured more than one-third; remainder much scattered; have retreated south to Imus, their arsenal; of five pieces of artillery three captured. Navy aided greatly on shore bay, landing forces occasionally. Inhabitants in that country rejoice at deliverance, and welcome with enthusiastic demonstrations arrival of our troops. Otis.

A Reconnoitre.

Manila, June 16.—Captain Cable of General Wheaton's staff, with three companies of the 21st Regiment, reconnoitered in the direction of Imus yesterday. The rebels, who were apparently expecting an attack, retired, leaving behind them 20 Spanish prisoners, who joined the Americans. The rebels have probably gone to the mountains along the lake. According to native stories, the rebels carried 100 dead and 300 wounded through Bacoor after the recent battle. The natives are now flooding into Bacoor, and it is probable there are many soldiers in plain clothes among them. The whole section is practically without food, and Major-General Otis has ordered the distribution of rice and beef to the inhabitants.

Refuse to Credit Stories.

Many people still refuse to credit the stories of the assassination of General Luna by the guard at Aguinaldo's headquarters, though the reports to that effect are most circumstantial and from good sources. But rumors of assassinations and disasters from the rebel camp are so frequently printed in the local papers that they have come to be regarded with indifference. The latest is that the Governor of Cebu has been killed by natives because of his friendship to Americans. A prominent commercial man with exceptional means of learning of the Filipinos' movements claims to know General Luna is still alive, adding that if he is dead and if his death occurred a month ago people would have expected a collapse of the revolution to follow. The failure of the Filipinos to follow up the peace negotiations strengthens the impression that their overtures were merely to gain time and in order to lure the Americans to show their hands.

Interview With Gen. Luna.

The Independencia, a revolutionary organ, of May 20, a copy of which has just been obtained, prints an interview with General Luna showing the arguments he used to keep up the spirits of his followers. He represents the Filipino cause as prospering, "because the Americans have gained only a hundredth part of Luzon by hard fighting," and says the women and children tilling the fields within the American lines give the proceeds of their work to support the Filipino arms. He is said to have further remarked: "More Americans will be killed by ambuscades, surprises and disease than in battles. I detest war, but we cannot accept peace at any price but independence. The Americans suffered for their independence and in their hearts they appreciate why we resist them."

MR. GREENWAY TO VISIT OTTAWA.

Meeting of Manitoba Legislature Postponed Till July 6.

Winnipeg, June 16.—The adjourned session of the Legislature, which was to have been resumed yesterday afternoon, was further adjourned until July 6. This course has been deemed necessary by reason of a telegram received yesterday morning from Ottawa, informing Mr. Greenway that it was of urgent importance that a delegation comprising himself and Mr. McMillan, who recently went to Ottawa on a mission regarding the school lands, should visit the Capital again at once. The telegram did not give any particulars as to why they should go, merely stating that it was important. The Ministers at once held a conference and decided that it might be to the advantage of the province to delay the session a little longer and allow a delegation to proceed to Ottawa. Accordingly an adjournment until July 6 was agreed upon. While in Ottawa the Premier and Provincial Treasurer will probably renew their efforts to procure from the Dominion Parliament the necessary powers to enable the Provincial Legislature to enact prohibitory liquor legislation. It will be recalled that the Premier intimated to the temperance delegation which recently waited upon the Government that this was essential before intra vires legislation could be passed.

It is understood that railway matters are receiving the attention of the Government and will in due course of time be given to the public. Mr. Greenway will visit his home, Crystal City, this week and will leave for Ottawa in company with Mr. McMillan next Monday.

At the session of the Masonic Grand Lodge, John Leslie of Winnipeg was elected Grand Master and Dr. Thornton of Deloraine was elected Deputy.

Storming the Winning Post.

William IV of England, who was bred to the sea, had no particular predilection for horse racing, but he so far interested himself in the sport as to take up his brother's stud to run out the engagement of George IV. Just previous to the first appearance of the royal stud in his name the trainer sought an interview to know what was the royal pleasure—how many horses the king would send down. How the trainer must have stared when he heard the sailor king, as if giving a command for a three decker to fire a broadside, order the whole stud—upward of 100 horses—to be let off at one shot for a single race!

"Send down the whole squad!" said the king. "Some of them, I suppose, will win."

A MILITARY TATTOO.

Functions at Niagara Camp to Entertain Lord Minto, the Governor-General, and Minister of Militia, Dr. Borden.

The trial of the four Lyndeners for burglary of Fair's cigar store at Brantford has been fixed for Friday, June 23, before the judge alone.

The farmers' excurrion from Stratford and points north to the Agricultural College, Guelph, by the Grand Trunk on the 13th inst., was participated in by 4,000 people.

D. J. Walker, clerk of the County of Frontenac for many years, was dismissed by the County Council at Thursday morning's session. The excuse given was that he had outlived his usefulness.

During the violent thunderstorm on Wednesday night the barn of Martin Myers, five miles northeast of Teeswater, was struck by lightning, and with its contents was burned to the ground. Four calves were cremated.

At the Niagara camp on Thursday night there was a staff dinner to Lord Minto, the Governor-General, and Hon. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, followed by a levee by His Excellency, during which the officers in camp were presented to him. A military tattoo was then played by all the bands in camp, the fireworks man doing the honors during the march past.

Edward Gray, a negro, who was released at New Orleans on Wednesday night from jail, after a year's confinement, because the authorities could find no evidence against him, was lynched by a party of men on Thursday morning early. AN OPERATION EVADED.

MR. R. A. SIZIE, OF INGERSOL, ONT., TELLS HOW I WAS DONE.

Symptoms of Appendicitis—The Way They Were Relieved—The Sufferer Now Well and Working Every Day.

From the Chronicle, Ingersoll.

In February, 1898, Mr. R. A. Size was taken very ill, and was confined to his home for several weeks. We heard that he was to go to the hospital to have an operation performed, but the operation never took place, and as he has started to work again and in apparently good health, we investigated the case and found that he has been using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Mr. Size is a highly respected citizen of Ingersoll, having resided here for over thirty years and has been a faithful employee at Messrs. Partlo & Son's flouring mills for over nineteen years. When asked by a Chronicle reporter whether he would give an interview for publication, telling the nature of his disease and his cure, he readily consented. Mr. Size gave the details of his illness and cure as follows:

"In February I caught a heavy cold which seemed to settle in my left side. The doctor thought it was neuralgia of the nerves. It remained there for some time and then moved to my right side, in the region of the appendix. We applied everything, and had fly-blisters on for 48 hours. They never even caused a blister and did the pain no good. The doctors came to the conclusion that the appendix was diseased and would have to be removed. The pain was very great at times, and there was such a stiffness in my ankles, also in my hand, and pain all over my body. The day and date was set for an operation, and I was reconciled to it. About a week before I was to go to the hospital my wife was reading the Chronicle. She read an account of a man who had been cured by the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills. The symptoms of the disease were so much like mine that she become interested and wanted me to give the pills a trial. I had little faith in the pills but as my wife seemed to be anxious that I should take them, I consented. The day for the operation had now arrived, and I told the doctors that I did not think that I would go to the hospital for a while as I was feeling better. I continued the pills, and was greatly surprised and pleased with the result. I continued to improve, and have long since given up all idea of an operation. When I started the pills, I was unable to walk, and suffered something awful with the pain in my side. It was just five weeks from the time that I started the use of the pills, until I was able to walk again and I had been doctoring three months before that, and I have been working ever since. Altogether I have taken sixteen boxes of the pills, and they have done me more good than all the doctors medicine I ever took in my life. I have now every confidence in Dr. William's Pink Pills and think that they are the best medicine in the world to-day. Certainly had it not been for them, I would have had to go through the ordeal of an operation and perhaps would not have been living now. I hope that by making this public it will be of benefit to others, as it was through one of these articles that I first learned of the unequalled qualities of the pills.

The public is cautioned against numerous pink coloured imitations of the famous pills. The genuine are sold only in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the words, "Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People." If your dealer does not have them they will be sent postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE SHACKLES OF MISERY.

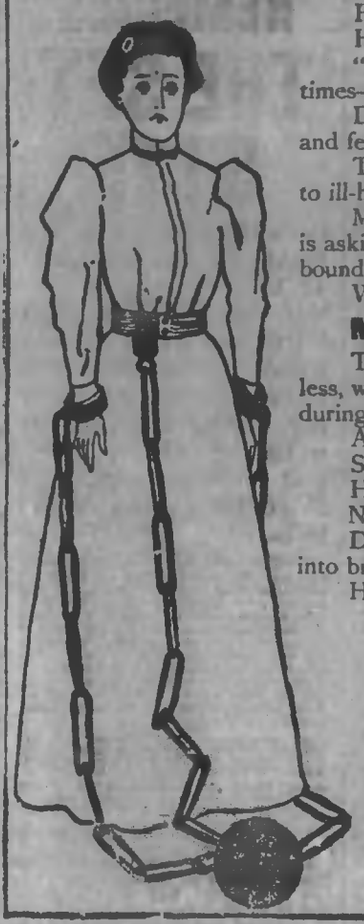
Many a woman who should be strong and healthy, full of life and energy is bound by the shackles of ill-health.

She is nervous, easily startled, cannot sleep—

Feels weak, worn out and lacks ambition—

Heart palpitates and head throbs—

"All gone" feelings and sinking sensations come over her at times—



Dark circles under the eyes, pallor of the countenance, hands and feet cold and clammy—

These are some of the links in the chain that binds a woman to ill-health.

Many a tired, nervous, run-down, despondent wife and mother is asking if there is anything can shatter the shackles and give the boundless blessing of health again?

We answer that there is—

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Thousands of weak, debilitated, pale cheeked, nervous, sleepless, weary, worn-out women and girls have tested this remedy during the past year.

And the result—

Strength returned and cheeks got rosy—

Heart beat regular and sleep became refreshing—

Nervous spells and faint spells came back no more—

Despondent, melancholy, don't-care-to-live feelings changed into bright and happy hopefulness.

Here is a statement from Mrs. W. J. Barr, 306 Cooper St., Ottawa, Ont., and it's worth the reading:

"For years my life has been made miserable by heart and nerve trouble. My heart used to distress me terribly, I would have short, sharp pains through my heart, and then it would start and beat so hard that I would have to stop whatever I was at and sit down. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills helped me from the first, and I gradually gained health. When I had used four boxes I was completely cured. The heart pains, palpitation, nervousness, etc., have disappeared, and restful sleep and healthy appetite have been restored to me. My whole system is so toned up and invigorated that I can now do a heavy day's work, whereas before I took the pills I could scarcely do anything."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all druggists, or sent by mail. T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

A DARK SHADOW.

I never saw my mother's face;
God drew a shadow o'er my baby eyes,
And there it lies,
Unchanged by time or place:

But I have felt her loving breast
Breathe heart sore sighing for the joys I miss
And felt her kiss
Upon my eyelids pressed.

I never saw God's lovely world.
But I have listened to the whispering trees
And felt the breeze
That spring's sweet leaves uncurled.

I never gazed upon a rose,
But I have laid the flower against my cheek
And heard God speak
And mysteries disclose.

And he has made me understand;
Though dark the shadow that now holds me blind,
God is behind.
Unseen I feel his hand

And know that from my darkened eyes
The lifelong shadow will be rolled away
One solemn day.
Oh, rapturous surprise!

My happy lips e'en now must sing.
These eyes, unclosing in the streets of gold,
Will first behold
The face of Christ, my King.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1899 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used. Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. LETTERS ON CHRISTIAN UNITY

NO. 4.

"All the anarchy and half the social errors of our time spring from placing the individual at the centre of all things. No view can be more flagrantly false. It is impossible to resolve the world into a multitude of isolated men. A man who had grown up alone would not be a man. Man in a word is made by and made for Fellowship." — Westcott. Social Aspects of Christianity.

The object of the present letter is to see what support can be found in reason, i. e., from the observation of the phenomena of human nature and human history, for such a doctrine as Christian Unity.

Human nature is obviously social. Our social instincts manifest themselves very early in our life time, and continue until death. The baby in arms smiles joyfully whenever those whom he knows come near him. Little children always want some other little children to come and play with them. Friendship, marriage, parentage, with the willing acceptance of its responsibilities, points to the natural sociability of man. Men and women, again, are continually uniting in all sorts of societies for the promotion of common objects, and although these associations are voluntary and not compulsory, they not the less indicate that Fellowship is natural to man, and that to realize his own capacities and powers he must associate himself with others.

But there are some forms of social union which do not appear to be voluntary, which were not invented by men, but which came into existence by the operation of natural laws. Such are the Family, the Tribe, the Nation. It is true that in the last century some philosophical writers sought for the origin of Society in a social contract. They supposed that once upon a time men were simply scattered, unorganized units, and every man's hand was against his brother, that by degrees they saw how unsatisfactory was this condition of things, and decided to combine for their mutual good. I do not think any philosophers or historians now hold this view of matters. The fundamental objection to it is the fact of the Family. Some thirty years ago, Frederick Denison Maurice, then Professor of Moral Philosophy in the University of Cambridge, wrote as follows: "Many writers begin with considering mankind as a multitude of units. They ask, How did any number of these units form themselves into a Society? I cannot adopt that method. At my birth I am already in a Society. I am related, at all events, to a father and mother. This relation is the primary fact of my existence." Society, it may be confidently stated, is not a human invention, or a human contrivance. It was not made by man nor can it be destroyed by man. It is of the law of his being that he stands related to other beings. The Apostle Paul was simply stating a universal truth when he wrote that, "No man liveth to himself alone."

The family is often and truly described as a circle. But it is very easy to see that many family circles soon come to be related to one another. The eldest son marries, and a new family circle is inaugurated, but it has connections with the circles from which it sprang. The other members of the family marry and new and interrelated circles are formed. The tribe or clan is a group of such families, and the nation is but an expansion of the clan. But the tribe and the clan and the nation were no more the invention of men than the Family. Out of the fact of national life springs the enobling sentiment of patriotism, the sacrifice of self for public defence or for the public good.

But whilst the nation is made up of a number of family circles, it does not destroy those circles, but it includes them, and becomes the bond which prevents the separate families from becoming isolated and as we say "clannish."

* * *

Even the suggestions of this brief notice help us to see how the study of human nature and of human history demonstrate that fellowship, unity, sociability, mutual helpfulness, and the like, are natural to man, and support the teaching of Scripture, regarding the fellowship of Christians. If it be true that in affairs of this world, it is wrong for a man to think of his own gain alone, or his own happiness, if it be his duty to give a portion of his time and talents and money to social objects, how much more is it wrong for him to suppose that in the affairs of the Spirit he has nothing to do but to seek to save his own soul.

But we cannot rest here. The family circle leads on to the idea of the National Circle, and we are logically bound to go on to a larger circle, the circle of the whole human race. Here again the study of humanity convinces us that there is such a thing as a common human nature, and we shall easily understand that where there is a common human nature, there may be and must be common interests.

The Family, the Nation, the Race. These seem to be the three main circles of society. But what organization is to bind together all men into an outward and visible Universal Society. The Family has its own laws of fellowship, so has the nation, but can we say the same of the Race?

* * *

At this point we must come back to Revelation. The Universal Society is the Church of Christ, wherein as St. Paul said, "there is neither Jew nor Greek, barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free, but all are one in Christ Jesus." The goal of the Christian Church, is not the destruction of the Family or the nation, but their inclusion in a wider circle, limited only by the limits of the human race. The Church is the Kingdom of God upon earth. But God reveals Himself as Father. The whole human race is a Family, and the Church is designed to be the means whereby the members of the Family may realise their unity, and fellowship and brotherhood.

SOME MILITARY NEWS

Capt. Birdsall will act as adjutant of the 40th Batt. at their camp of instruction at Niagara in place of Major Harry Fowlds, who recently received an injury to one of his eyes and is undergoing treatment in the Toronto Hospital.

Dr. H. A. Turner of Millbrook, has been transferred from the Durham field battery to the position of Surg. Major of the 46th Durham Battalion. The vacancy was caused by the fatal accident which last fall befell the late Dr. Corbett of Port Hope. Dr. H. A. Turner is a son of Dr. Henry Turner, for many years Surg. Major of the 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons.

The 46th Batt. will this year wear elegant new helmets. Through the efforts of Col. John Hughes and other officers, grants were obtained from the various municipal councils throughout the county of Durham for that purpose. The last helmets were purchased by the late Col. A. T. H. Williams, at his own expense, amounting to about $300.

The advisability of accepting the invitation to the 57th Battalion to visit Rochester is being considered by the officers of the local crops. If the invitation is accepted, however, it behooves every young man in town to enlist at once, if he has not already done so, and put in some solid training so that when the time arrives, the 57th will do credit to the town.

The 3rd Dragoons will arrive home from their two week's camp at Niagara this evening and varied and interesting will the stories one may expect to hear of their camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Major H. S. Greenwood, of the 3rd Dragoons, has been unfortunately detained at home from Niagara, owing to important official duties. This will be much regretted by the non-commissioned officers and men, as well as his fellow officers, as the Major is deservingly popular among all.

We hear that Capt. Garvin of the Dragoons, who has to-day completed his first camp as quartermaster, is receiving great praise from all ranks for the obliging and efficient manner in which he has discharged his onerous duties. Of all the positions at military camp the quarter-master has the most to contend with.

Mr. Walter Morris who left Peterborough some twelve years ago, is home renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Morris since his departure from Peterborough has served several years in the American army, having fought in two Indian campaigns, and took part in the late Spanish-American war.

Capt. C. H. Winslow of the Millbrook company, 46th Batt., was in town to-day.

Mr. George Ames, of the firm of Rich. Hall & Son, was in Millbrook this week, where he took several orders for military uniforms.

DOINGS IN COUNTY COURT.

THE LIST OF CASES AT LAST FINISHED.

Samuel Willison Gets Costs Against the Town - Other Cases.

The County Court continued in session until one o'clock yesterday, when the docket was cleared.

The criminal case against Edward Allan fell to the ground. Prisoner was charged with having stolen five dollars from W. G. Booth of Burleigh. He was arrested on the 7th of April last, and elected to be tried by jury. Since that time he has refunded to Booth the money, and the case was allowed to drop.

R. E. Wood, for prosecution; E. B. Stone for prisoner.

Evans vs. Valentine.—This is an action brought by Messrs. David Evans and William McNearn, cattle buyers, as plaintiffs, against Eli Valentine, an owner of a ranch in the township of Lutterworth, Victoria. The plaintiffs state that they bought from defendant in August last 35 cattle for $512.00, to be delivered at Kinmount on the 6th day of September last, or in case for any reason the plaintiffs sent word to the defendant not to deliver the cattle a week or two weeks later, and the plaintiffs paid to the defendant $10 in part payment. The plaintiffs claim that they sent word by a messenger to the defendant not to bring the cattle in on the 6th of September, and the defendant acknowledged that he did get a message not to bring the cattle in, but it was not from the messenger that McNearn especially sent, but through another party. On this statement of facts the Judge directed a non-suit to be entered for the defendant against the plaintiffs.

Stratton & Hall for the plaintiffs; Hugh O'Leary, Q .C., of Lindsay, for the defendant.

The plaintiffs have instructed a Notice of Appeal to be given against the decision.

Queen vs. Willison.—This is an appeal of Mr. Samuel Willison, of town, against a certain conviction made be Police Magistrate Dumble in December last, whereby Willison was convicted of having in November last kept a junk shop without having a license, contrary to the provisions of Bylaw No. 713 of the town of Peterborough, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

The evidence showed that the defendant kept a regular second hand store, comprising among other things furniture, drygoods, hardware, stoves and tinware, but there was no evidence that he bought and sold rags, bones or scrap iron. The bylaw restricted junk dealers from buying junk from children under sixteen years of age. His Honour Judge Weller quashed the conviction with costs against the town, upon two grounds, namely, that Mr. Willison did not keep a junk shop, but kept a second-hand store, and that the Bylaw was invalid, inasmuch as it restricted a junk shop dealer from purchasing junk from children under fifteen years.

Stratton & Hall for Samuel Willison; E. B. Edwards for town.

This finished the cases on the list, with the exception of the non-jury case of Walsh vs. Reynolds, which was adjourned until Monday next.

AN EXPLANATORY LETTER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir—In your weekly of the first of June you publish an article giving an account of the "Fowler Farm" near Cobourg, which article is a gross injustice to Mr. Fowler and his family, where it is stated that the "wine cellar helped to dissipate a fine property." The wine cellar never existed. The company's dairy is exactly where Mr. Fowler's dairy was, which turned out just as good butter as ever did the company. Mr. Fowler's fine property drifted into the hands of the Loan Company when he mortgaged it for $25,000 to build the Chemong Railway, which he intended to extend to Haliburton, wishing to give your town direct communication with the lumber district and so feed your mills. And he would have done so had not he been disappointed in the branch and your town authorities, which had promised to help when that was done and failed to keep their promise to him, after drinking his wine and eating his dinners. He would have lost all then had he not sold it to the C. & P. R. R., from which he got $27,000 for that and for giving up the building of the Belleville road, upon which he raised bonuses and spent considerable time and money. Then he finally dissipated that in bringing you what is now known as the C.P.R., as he was undoubtedly the means of doing the pioneer work and bringing it forcibly before the public. It was no sooner sold to the G.T.R. by the solicitor of the company for $42,000 and closed down than a new charter was got and the road was pushed by the C.P.R. Out of the sum realized Mr. Fowler got $2,000. As his money alone floated the concern, his family rightfully think he was shamefully robbed when he was down. Now that the town of Peterborough has shared too well by the dissipation of Mr. Fowler's fine property must they also be a party to stealing his good name. I have said naught of the Millbrook railway, which he gave you, and it was the first permanent open door Peterborough had. I claim, without fear of contradiction, that he did more for this town than any other man living in it. His work is not to be computed by the money it cost him, to say nothing of his energy and far-sightedness, but by what it would have cost you had no one came to the rescue. When in Cobourg, he broke up, fretting his heart out that they and not his dear ones are alone benefitting by what he did so bravely, thinking his children would never be obliged to work as he had. Kindly print this and oblige his surviving daughter.

The Juniors played their first home game last evening, on the P.A.A.A. grounds when they easily defeated Lindsay by the score of seven goals to one. The Lindsay boys were a well built lot of young fellows but they played no combination and consequently were completely at the mercy of the Juniors who flitted about amongst them giving a very pretty exhibition of the game.

At the beginning the local team was a bit wild in the passing, but once they settled down they gave the visitors' defence a warm time of it. Mein and Dillon played a remarkably steady game for the Peterborough defence but it was hard to form an estimate of the rest of the field as the game was played with ten men on a side which tended to spoil the work on the home.

The teams were composed as follows:

Lindsay—Goal, Primeau; point, McKay; cover point, Gilloghy; defence, Dusty, Bunting; centre, Stanton; home field, Elliott, Bell; outside home, Burke; inside home, Primeau; field captain, Brown.

Peterborough—Goal, Dineen; point, Dillon; cover point, Mein; defence, Comstock, Watley. centre, Ayers; home field, Overend, Whitcroft; outside home, Mowry; inside home, Morgan; field captain, Glover.

Referee—John McCabe.

The Peterboroughs scored six goals before the visitors got one. The scoring was done by Morgan (4), Ayers, Whitcroft and Overend.

Having beaten the Lindsay team on its own grounds on the 24th, the Juniors did not have to put on their best team to win last evening. When they play against Hastings, Boyle, McGrath, McClellan, McWilliams, Hamilton and others will figure on the team, tending to strengthen it greatly.

Practices will be held every evening next week.

The game next Friday promises to be a winner. In 1897 Markham beat Peterborough out in the race for the championship, but this year it is expected things will be different. Peterborough has the strongest team which ever represented the club in the C. L. A., and the chances are that the boys will give the Markham team the game of their lives on Friday next.

Look out for June 26th, for the Juniors will meet Hastings on that date in the championship series.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

The steamers Eclipse, Beaver and North Star are in port to-day.

The Eclipse and Beaver brought up their regular Saturday load of passengers, whilst the Star had an excursion from Centretown to Peterborough. It was the annual outing of the Foresters of that place, and the boat was taken at Webber's Landing.

The Eclipse has a busy week ahead of her. She will among other things bring up a quantity of live stock to town, as well as a load of grain.

The Beaver is having a new wheel placed on her shaft this week. On Tuesday she had an excursion from the Wilson settlement. The boat was taken at Hastings and the day was spent at Idyl Wild.

A monster picnic, comprising a number of public schools around the lake, was held at Lee's Point on Friday.

On Wednesday the English church Sunday school of Hastings will run an excursion to Peterborough.

The City has now commenced her work for the season, and is in command of Henry McDonald. Sandy Smith is the fireman.

Both the Eclipse and the City are burning coal this season.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Imperial Government Expected to Give Substantial Aid.

CANADA'S CHOICE IS MADE.

Sir Sandford Fleming Will Be Asked to Represent the Dominion at the Coming Conference—Glace Bay Disaster —Sympathy Expressed by Lord Minto and Mr. Chamberlain —Trade Returns.

Ottawa, June 19.—News from London warrants the belief that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, have reconsidered their decision to do nothing more towards aiding the Pacific cable scheme than to guarantee £20,000 a year for 20 years, to be used towards making up any deficit which might follow the working of the line. Representations which Sir Wilfrid Laurier promptly made to the Imperial authorities were in the direction of showing that what was more necessary to the carrying out of the project was active financial aid in its initial stages. Reluctance to enter into any commercial enterprise, which has always been characteristic of the Imperial Government, seems to have been the cause of the action of Lord Salisbury and his colleagues, but now, thanks to the efforts of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the whole question is to be reviewed at a conference to be held in London and to which the Canadian Administration has been asked to send a commissioner. Of course, the Canadian Government on receiving this intimation did not need a moment's thought before settling on Sir Sandford Fleming as their representative. Sir Sandford is facile princeps on the whole question of Pacific cable communication, and it is believed here that his able exposition of the situation, in a letter directed to Lord Salisbury after the receipt of the Imperial Government's offer, had much to do towards inducing their new attitude. Sir Sandford, in the letter referred to, showed that the offer of £20,000 a year for a term of years was a very left-handed method of encouraging a great Imperial enterprise. The action of the British Government is taken here to indicate that, thanks to Sir Sandford, the Imperial Government will at least consider the question of uniting with the colonies in defraying the initial cost of the cable. The bugbear of "creating a precedent," a phrase which is replete with horror for the average British statesman, seems to have greatly worried the members of the Imperial Government but if anybody can convince them that this is a most opportune time for taking a new departure in the direction of aiding an Imperial commercial enterprise, Sir Sandford Fleming is that man. Sir Wilfrid Laurier to-day will offer Sir Sandford the honor of acting as Canada's representative at the coming conference, and it is tolerably certain that he will consent to place at the disposal of his country and of the empire his unrivalled knowledge and the results of his deep research.

WATER HAS REACHED FLAMES

And Conditions Are Better—Many Messages of Sympathy.

Halifax, June 19.—The conditions at Caledonia colliery, which was set on fire by Friday's explosion, were reported to be more favorable yesterday. Water has been pumped into the pit almost continuously, and steam is now issuing from the shaft, showing that the water has reached the flames.

The ten bodies of the victims of the disaster were buried yesterday. The entire population of the town and surrounding country turned out to attend the funeral, which made a sad and impressive spectacle, weeping women and children and sorrowing men congregating about the graves, where touching references to the tragedy were made by the officiating clergy.

Numerous telegrams of condolence have been received, among the being messages from Her Majesty the Queen, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, Hon. W. S. Fielding (Minister of Finance) and Sir Charles Tupper, in whose county the disaster occurred.

Messages of Sympathy.

The Governor-General, Earl of Minto, has wired the following messages to Mr. Donkin, manager of the coal mines at Glace Bay, C.B.:

"His Excellency the Governor-General is deeply grieved to learn this morning of the terrible accident at the Caledonia mines. Please convey His Excellency's heartfelt sympathy to families of those who lost their lives in this disastrous calamity, and His Excellency would be grateful to hear further particulars at your convenience.

"(Signed) Major Drummond,
"Governor-General's Secretary."
"Ottawa, June 17, '99.

"Mr. Donkin, General Manager Dominion Coal Company, Glace Bay, C.B.:

"His Excellency has just received the following from the Secretary of State for the Colonies: 'Have noticed with regret newspaper reports of explosion at Caledonia mines. Please report particulars. Trust efforts of rescuers will be successful. (Signed) Chamberlain.' His Excellency will be glad to receive and to transmit early report, as desired.

"(Signed) Major Drummond,
"Governor-General's Secretary."

The Trade Returns.

Ottawa, June 19.—The trade figures of the Dominion for the 11 months ending May 31 show an increase in the aggregate trade of $14,710,360 over the same period of last year.

While the imports exceed those of the same period last year by over nineteen million dollars, there was a decrease of over four million in the exports, although last month showed a slight increase in the export trade.

The duty collected shows an increase of nearly three million dollars. The details are as follows:

TEN OF THE CREW DROWNED.

British and German Steamers Collided—Latter Was Sunk.

Bremen, June 19.—In a collision off Friedrichshaven, between the German steamer Artushof and the British steamer Mautilius yesterday, the former was sunk, ten of her crew being drowned.

Another Collision.

Rosario, June 19.—The British steamer Castillian Prince, Capt. Coull, from London, and the Amphitheatre, Captain Maloney, for Sunderland, from Buenos Ayres, have been in collision. The Castillian Prince arrived here in a badly damaged condition. The damage to the Amphitheatre is unknown.

Fifteen Were Drowned.

Stettin, June 19.—The steamer Goelitz collided with the passenger steamer Bluecher in the River Oder, off Zuelchow, three miles north of Stettin, yesterday. The Bluecher sank in three minutes, and 15 persons are known to have been drowned. Among the passengers were a number of school children, not all of whom have been accounted for.

MR. MACNISH RESIGNS.

The Liberal M.P.P. for West Elgin Disclaims His Assembly Seat.

Toronto, June 19.—Mr. Donald Macnish, M.P.P., for West Elgin, has vacated his seat. His return is protested by the Conservatives.

The following notification was received at the Parliament Buildings on Saturday morning, and notification given to the registrar of the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall:

To the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, Toronto:

Dear Sir—I, Donald Macnish, member-elect to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario for the electoral division of West Elgin, do hereby disclaim all my rights or title to sit or to vote as such member or in any manner to act as such member.

(Signed) Donald Macnish.

Rhodes Has Active Enemies.

London, June 19.—The Pall Mall Gazette says that a petition has been prepared against the bestowal by Oxford University on June 21 of an honorary degree upon Cecil Rhodes. The petition bears many important signatures, including that of the head of a great college. The signers were influenced by the crisis in the Transvaal and by the fact that Lord Elgin and Gen. Lord Kitchener are also to receive degrees.

END OF G.T.R. STRIKE.

Mr. James Sutherland's Negotiations Were Successful.

MEN RETURN TO WORK AT ONCE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Pleased With the Result—The Arrangement Arrived at —Official Statements by the G.T.R. Company and by the Men's Executive—The Strikes in Other Places.

Ottawa, June 19.—Success has crowned the efforts of Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., who spent almost the whole of last week in negotiating a settlement of the Grand Trunk trackmen's strike. The chief Government whip returned to Ottawa from Montreal last evening, and is well pleased with the result of the conference between General Manager Hays, President Pole of the Trackmen's Association, and himself. The arrangement arrived at is that all of the strikers shall return to work this morning, and that within 30 days Mr. Hays will discuss the whole question with a committee of five men representing the trackmen. None of the strikers is to be refused employment unless he has been guilty of acts of violence or of having used menacing language towards the new men or the foremen and others who refused to go out. Mr. Pole agreed that this was fair, and was more than satisfied when Mr. Hays promised that the case of any man whose services may be dispensed with will be heard, either by the superintendent or by Mr. Hays himself. The company will furnish free transportation in all such cases. Mr. Hays also stated that from information that he had received he believed that there would be found to be few cases of any overt acts having taken place. In addition to the question of wages there are other matters to be dealt with, such as pay for overtime, and it is probable that the conference between Mr. Hays and the five representatives of the trackmen will be protracted. The Prime Minister, when he received news yesterday of the settlement of the difficulty, was greatly pleased.

The Official Statements.

Montreal, June 19.—The Grand Trunk trackmen's strike has been called off. This is the result of the negotiations carried on here between Mr. Hays and Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., who represented Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the matter.

How the Executive Puts It.

The trackmen's executive issued the following yesterday:

"An amicable arrangement has been made between the Grand Trunk Railway Company and the trackmen. All the men are to resume work to-morrow morning. Certain details which are not formally closed will be adjusted in 30 days between the G.T.R. management and a committee of the trackmen."

The G.T.R. Statement.

The following is the official statement of the Grand Trunk re the strike:

"The company are to restore to their former positions in the railway company's service all the foremen and trackmen who have not been guilty of acts of violence during the period the men have been on strike, applications for positions to be made in the usual form. If a man is refused employment, he shall have an appeal to the general superintendent and general manager and decisions in appeal to be rendered within 15 days after the return of the men to work.

"We will also within 30 days, and not exceeding 40 days, meet a committee of five of our employes representing the trackmen to discuss the questions of increased compensation and other matters which they may desire to take up at that time."

Buffalo's Labor War.

Buffalo, June 19.—A secret meeting of representatives from the Coal Heavers' Union, the ore handlers, elevator men, marine firemen, freight handlers and grain shovellers, was held on Saturday night, and a proposition was drawn up, demanding an increase in wages. This proposition will be submitted to the Erie Company by a committee to-day. Should the company again refuse to grant the increase, the committee is to report back to the different unions and a general strike of all men employed along the docks will at once be ordered.

Quiet Sunday in Cleveland.

Cleveland, June 19.—There were no new developments in the strike of street railway men yesterday, principally for the reason that the company made no attempt to operate cars, except on the Euclid avenue line.

THE GERMAN TARIFF.

Proceedings in German Reichstag Interest Canadians Just Now.

Berlin, June 19.—Baron Heyl Zu Hernsheim, National Liberal, has given notice of his intention to introduce the following amendment to the Anglo-German commercial treaty bill:

"The most favored nation treatment shall apply only to those parts of the British Empire which grant to the subjects and products of Germany the same advantages as are granted to the subjects and products of the most favored nation."

The Reichstag discussed the proposed modification of the tariff of 1879, by which ad valorem duties will be levied upon imports from countries where German goods pay ad valorem instead of tariff duties. The modification also provides that dutiable goods from countries where Germany does not receive the most favored nation treatment shall be subjected to an additional duty up to 20 per cent., and goods on the free list up to 40 per cent.

DREYFUS ON THE WAY.

It Is Expected He Will Reach France Before Saturday.

Paris, June 19.—A despatch from the Cape Verde Islands announces that the French second-class cruiser Sfax, carrying Capt. Dreyfus, has passed en route for Brest, where she is expected before Saturday next. It is understood that Capt. Dreyfus will be landed by night, and that a special train will be in waiting to take him to Rennes, where the court-martial is to be held.

A MID-ONTARIO CATTLE MARKET.

SOME OF THE LARGEST STOCK RAISERS OF THE SECTION.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy's Big Farm and the Cattle Which are Fed on it—A Series of Articles.

The Weekly Sun, in an article appearing under the heading of "A Mid-Ontario Cattle Market," makes the following interesting local references:

Montreal in the east and Toronto in the west are the two great centres of the live stock trade for Ontario and western Quebec. It is to these cities that drovers take their cattle, sheep and hogs for sale, and it is in these cities that market prices are fixed for the country tributary thereto.

A movement is now under way which has for its object the creation of another market at a point between the two cities named. The place spoken of this purpose is Peterborough—one of the smartest manufacturing towns in Ontario, and in which there already exists the nucleus of an industry such as it is proposed to build up.

"Peterborough is," said Dawson Kennedy, one of the best known farmers of the Province, "exceptionally well situated for the purpose of forming the centre of such a trade as proposed. The town is on the main line of the two great Canadian railway systems.

The Matthews' Pork Packing establishment has made it the principal market for live hogs for a large section of country. We are in a district, a large portion of which is suited only for stock raising, but is admirably adapted for that line of production. Fifteen miles to the north marks the limit within which wheat can be profitably raised in that direction, but for sixty miles northward there is land that seems specially designed for the maintenance of live stock—abundance of water, shelter, and nutritious grasses. There are already ten men in Peterborough, who give their whole time to the purchase of cattle, hogs and sheep, and their operations cover the territory between Garden Hill on the south west, Cobourg on the south east, Cannington on the north west, and Tweed, Stirling and even Pakenham to the east. One of these buyers, H. P. Kennedy, bought no less than 8,000 head of stockers last year, the market for the same being found in the western States, principally about Omaha, and in Iowa."

Dawson Kennedy is a feeder, and few farmers in Ontario carry on operations on a more extensive scale. Last season he turned out 87 fat cattle, and this season he has turned off 56 head, ranging from 1,300 to 1,400 lbs. in weight, besides 400 head of yearlings. For five years past Mr. Kennedy has finished between 50 and 60 head on the average every year. He has 150 acres of land, which last year produced 145 tons of hay, 210 tons of ensilage, and 2,300 bushels of oats and 300 bushels of peas. But all this stuff did not begin to meet the demands of his cattle, and 100 tons of mill feed were purchased in addition.

Nothing Like Corn.

[illegible] Mr. Kennedy [illegible] there is no crop equal [illegible] But there is [illegible] You remember what [illegible] when left temporarily [illegible] agricultural papers [illegible] sawdust? [illegible] a good time [illegible] the farmers [illegible] corn [illegible] in Ontario [illegible] cattle will thrive." It is so with ensilage. The more there is on the cob the better the feed. Compton's Early, Salzer's North Dakota and Old King Philip are all good varieties for this section. We are this year mixing Crompton's Early and Leeming. We do not like a variety that gives a heavy stalk, as then we get too much acid. We get from ten to sixteen tons to the acre and the feed, as I say, is excellent. Well saved pea and oat straw is also good—better than timothy hay in fact."

In Mr. Kennedy's principal barn the system of feeding is admirably arranged. The silo opens near the centre of the stable in the basement. Alongside is a chute through which the cut straw is shot down from the main floor of the barn above. Between the two is a feed box in which the silage and cutstraw are mixed in the proportion of half and half. To this mixture is added a meal made of peas, barely, corn, oats and a little flax—"Otonabee" mixture. The quantity of meal added depends in a measure on the amount of corn in the silage, but the usual allowance is about nine pounds to each animal. The feed when prepared is run along a tramway, between two rows of feeding cattle, and passed out as the truck moves along. On the main floor of the barn again is a water tank. This is kept filled by a windmill, and the water is allowed to run into troughs that extend along in front of the stalls in which the cattle are fed. The convenience of the arrangements will be better understood when it is stated that one man last winter was able to handle not only 56 head of fatteners, but from one to two hundred of stockers as well.

29 Fat Bulls.

John Convey, who lives a little east of Hastings, is another big cattle feeder. He has 29 bulls, ranging from a little over to a little under three years old in the stable now. These are about ready for market and average over 1,400 lbs. They are mostly Durhams and Ayrshires, but there are a few Holsteins and Polled Anguses in the lot. One Holstein weighs between 1,600 and 1,700 and a Polled Angus goes over 1,700 lbs. Mr. Convey turns off 35 to 40 head of fat cattle every year. He has usually depended on mixed grain for his meal, but he has used corn mainly and has fed clover and turnips in addition.

Mr. Convey is also a large feeder of hogs and he has succeeded, despite the high price of the coarse grains, in feeding, at a profit. He has a small boiler that cost $40 for use in winter feeding. When the water in this boiler is hot, steam conveyed from it through a rubber tube will bring water in a barrel standing alongside to the boiling point in twenty minutes. Mr. Convey's practice in winter to fill this barrel two-thirds full of water, bring it to the boiling point and add 45 quarts of corn meal. This made a thin porridge. To the porridge was added chopped clover and the whole was then fed to the hogs.

"There is no cheaper ration made up," said Mr. Convey. "I kept track for a short time the cost of feeding in this way. I had then 160 hogs and I found that to feed them it cost $2.60 per day for meal and the only additional cost was for ten bushels of cut clover."

This means that Mr. Convey fed at a cost of about 2c per day for each hog. That must have meant making bacon at a cost of a little less than 2c per lb.

Mr. Convey is feeding 200 hogs now. The pigs have the run of a nine-acre pasture lot and are fed in addition whey and corn-chop. Mr. Convey gets 3,000 lbs of whey from the cheese factory per day at Hastings, and from the 1st of May to the 10th of June he fed about 2,600 lbs of corn-chop in addition. He buys 60 to 70 tons of coarse grains in a year; he bought 30 tons of corn in one deal.

KIPLING AND MELVILLE.

What the Great Author Wrote to the Great Ring-master.

During the recent illness of Rudyard Kipling in New York, telegram upon telegram and letter upon letter, were received by him until they numbered into the thousands. Though they varied in grammatical construction the sentiment was similar. They breathed affection, sympathy and hope. To answer individually all of these communications was a herculean task that Mr. Kipling was advised not to attempt. He contented himself with the publication in one of the New York papers of a general letter.

Perhaps the only exception Kipling made was in the case of Mr. Frank J. Melville, the equestrian director of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers combined circuses. To Mr. Melville the author wrote an autograph letter which the circus man has filed away in the family archives to be cherished by Melville posterity. Kipling and Melville were unknown to one another except through the long-distance agency of fame. The circus man had read Kipling; in fact he ranked him just a few degrees below Browning, for be it known that Melville was Boston born and bred.

Now Kipling is way above Browning and the rest and all because of "The White Man's Burden."

Melville is satisfied that he is the "white man" Kipling had in mind when he took his typewriter in hand and ground out the rythmic lines that have made nations talk. Consequently the feeling of the circus man for the author. It was quite natural perhaps for Melville to write Kipling during the latter's sickness. He hoped for the author's recovery and incidentally thanked him for taking up his (Melville's) cause and speaking so mightily with his pen. When Kipling became convalescent he indited the appended letter to Melville:

New York, Feb. 20, 1899.

My dear Mr. Melville,—"Accept my profound thanks for your warm words of condolence. Relative to the "White Man's Burden" I must confess it to be merely an imaginary flight. Though I sympathize fervently with you I cannot refrain from feeling elated to know that the 'shoe fits' in at least one instance. I trust that at some future time I may have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance.

Very sincerely,
RUDYARD KIPLING.

Melville opines that he is bearing the white man's burden in adjusting the numerous, vigourous and versatile kicks of the three arenic primma donnas with the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers combined circuses. It is all a case of wanting the centre of the stage, which in this instance means the centre ring. Miss May Davenport is the English star of the trio. She has ridden before "His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales," a fact on which she bases her right and title to the centre ring.

Miss Marietta Corriea speaks only French—which Mr. Melville does not understand—but he is convinced by her gesticulations that she thinks she has some claim on the favoured centre arena.

Miss Emma Stickney, just plain American, is the daughter of "Bob" Stickney. "My father was the champion rider of the world," she says, and therein lies the foundation for her demands. Mr. Melville's sympathies are, quite naturally, with Miss Stickney, but he is a firm believer in the maxim which relates to Sheol's fury and a woman scorned and he is not playing favourites. He has surmounted the difficulty by giving the center ring to each of the riders in rotation.

Miss Davenport will no doubt be the local favourite when the Forepaugh-Sells aggregation strikes the town on Saturday, June 24th.

CHARGED WITH SMUGGLING.

Samuel Gallagher of Toronto Caught by a U. S. Customs Officer.

Lockport, N.Y., June 19.—The customs officials at Lewiston, on Niagara River, think they have made a great capture, the result of which will be to break up a gang of medicinal smugglers who have caused the officers on the river front much annoyance of late. Saturday morning Customs Officer Brasser saw a man named Samuel Gallagher (brother of J. Albert Gallagher, druggist, Toronto,) with a valise land from a rowboat at Lewiston from Queenston, and placed him under arrest. The satchel was found to contain 200 ounces of phenacetine, 100 ounces of sulphinal and 50 ounces of antipyrine. The goods cost about $78 in Canada, but are worth much more here. Gallagher's home is in Toronto. He claims to be a dental college student, 20 years old, and had taken this way to get money for another year in college. He was brought to Lockport by Officer Brasser, arraigned before United States Commissioner Pound on the charge of smuggling drugs into the country, and pleaded not guilty. He was held in $1,000 bail and remanded to jail.

Force Demonstration at St. John's, Nfld.

St. John's, Nfld., June 19.—It is understood that the coming visit of Admiral Bedford with the British warships Crescent, Proser, Pine and Quail to this port, where he will meet Commodore Giffard's squadron, composed of the Comus, Alert, Buzzard and Columbian, is intended as a demonstration in force against the French squadron, consisting of the Isly, Troude and Fulton, in view of the determination of the British Government to bring the fishery dispute to an issue this season.

He Fooled The Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by James Lynch, druggist.

THE CHARGES FAILED.

Messrs. Wade, Norwood and McGregor Exonerated by Commissioner Ogilvie at Dawson City.

Dawson, May 26 (via Vancouver, June 19.)—(Toronto Globe Special.)—The adjourned royal commission met on May 17 to investigate the charges made against Messrs. F. C. Wade, H. H. Norwood and J. C. McGregor. The charges in each instance completely fell through, Wade and McGregor being fully exonerated in connection with the waterfront deal. They received no money, directly or indirectly. Nellie Cashman refused to substantiate the statements against Mr. Norwood. Commissioner Ogilvie declares the gentlemen named completely exonerated by the evidence, and, the commission is closed.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1899 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

Big Bargains now on hand in slightly used. Upright and Square Pianos of the various makes taken in part exchange for the famous NEWCOMBE PIANOS. Every NEWCOMBE PIANO has a new registered scale and the warranty is cast in the plate. For correct and full information regarding the new invention and NEWCOMBE PIANOS write to our Direct Representative. Easy Prices. Liberal Terms.

INCALCULABLE GOOD,

AN EXPRESSION OF FAITH.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills have done me an incalculable amount of good. I think they are the best, surest and quickest acting cure for nervousness, unhealthy action of the heart, insomnia or sleeplessness, anemia or impoverished blood, loss of appetite, general debility and ill-health. For nine years, before I commenced taking Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, my heart was weak and in an unhealthy state. Its action was so much impaired that I could not walk across the street without suffering great distress, my heart fluttering and beating so rapidly that I could scarcely breathe, causing faintness, loss of strength, and leaving my nerves all unstrung. My sleep was very much disturbed, I had no appetite and there was little strength or vitality in my blood; I was always excessively nervous.

I have now taken three boxes of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills and since taking them I have not been away from my business an hour. Before taking these pills it was a frequent occurrence for me to be away from business. As a result of taking Dr. Ward's Pills my heart is perfectly healthy and strong and gives me no distress or trouble whatever. They removed all nerve trouble, made my nerves strong and gave me healthy sleep. These pills also made my blood rich and strong and gave me a healthy appetite. Dr. Ward's Pills have given me perfect health, restoring my lost strength, in place of continual ill-health, weakness, heart trouble and nervousness. In justice I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful medicine. Signed, Miss N. Millward, Walton St., Port Hope, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 5 boxes for $2.00 at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by THE DOCTOR WARD CO. Limited, 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

TRUTH ABOUT THE TRANSVAAL.

Situation Is Full of Trouble—Sir Alfred Milner's Plain Speech and Its Inevitable Result—Three Ways Out.

London, June 19.—Mr. Henry Norman, the London correspondent of The New York Times, in his cabled letter yesterday dwells at great length upon the Transvaal situation. In part, he says: "The unexpected publication on Thursday of Sir Alfred Milner's long despatch of May 4, every word cabled as of extreme urgency, added enormously to the gravity of the situation in the Transvaal. Hitherto the high commissioner has maintained a scrupulously cautious attitude, and has even subjected himself to hostile criticism by throwing cold water on the acts of the Uitlander population in the Transvaal. Now he puts the whole case logically, convincingly and even passionately. The situation is worse. It appears, than the country had supposed.

"The case for intervention, Sir Alfred Milner says, is overwhelming. He adds: The spectacle of thousands of British subjects kept permanently in the position of helots, constantly chafing for redress, does steadily undermine the influence and reputation of Great Britain and the respect for the British Government within the Queen's dominions.'

"The seriousness of the crisis is shown by the fact of the British Government publishing such a despatch as this, which, from another point of view, is also unprecedented. Sir Alfred Milner, as high commissioner for South Africa, is an independent official, responsible only to the British Government, but as the Governor of Cape Colony he is supposed by the constitutional theory to act upon the advice of his Government, which at the present moment is Afrikander, or English-speaking Dutch. Yet, in this despatch, he states that 'language is frequently used which seems to imply that the Dutch have some superior right, even in this colony, to their fellow-citizens of English birth. Thousands of men, peaceably disposed, and, if let alone, perfectly satisfied with their position as British subjects, are being drawn into the disaffection and there is a corresponding exasperation on the side of the British.'

"It is impossible to exaggerate the seriousness of such an incident in a British colony. Were Sir Alfred an excitable or inexperienced man, his recall would be inevitable. He is, however, the exact contrary, and commands profound and universal respect and confidence. Therefore, The Saturday Review is well advised when it says that the Transvaal question can now be settled only in one of three ways: First, by the sacrifice of Sir Alfred Milner; second, by the immediate admission of a large number of Uitlanders to the franchise; or, third, by the armed intervention of Great Britain. The first is inconceivable, the second is improbable, and the third, in the absence of the other two, is certain.

"Nevertheless, I repeat what I said last week, that war is not in sight. Already President Kruger has begun to move. He now denies that the arbitration of a foreign power was made a condition precedent to the extension of the franchise, which it certainly was. He also offers to increase the number of reports from the gold field districts, and adds that participation in the Jameson raid be no bar to enfranchisement."

Burghers Back Kruger.

Johannesburg, June 19.—A meeting of 4,000 burghers at Pardo Kraal on Saturday endorsed President Kruger's attitude regarding the franchises and the deprecated war. There were no disturbances.

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dieting a Dangerous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is a very common one at the present time, and many dyspeptics and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others, or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken—in other words the starvation plan is supposed by many to be the first essential.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure has been proven time and again, but still the moment dyspepsia made its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man suffering from dyspepsia, because indigestion itself starves every organ, every nerve and every fibre in the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food, and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted, and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words, the patient eats plenty of wholesome food, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests it for him. In this way the system is nourished, and the over-worked stomach rested, because the Tablets will digest the food, whether the stomach works or not. One of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat or egg.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's Tablets are the purest and safest remedy for stomach troubles, and every trial makes one more friend for this excellent preparation. Sold for 50 cents for full sized package at all drug stores.

A little book on cause and cure of stomach diseases mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

SUMMER RESORTS.

The Resting Place that "Age cannot wither nor custom Stale."

Buckhorn House,
HALL'S BRIDGE P. O., ONT.

THE ceaseless loveliness of nature's ever-changing panorama is seldom more appreciated than at this ragged and romantic spot. Here's where you get the air and fish to fatten on! Granite rock, grove and glen, 'Far from the busy haunts of men," where no electric fans are needed—where balmy sleep comes without coaxing—where robust appetites put on their summer spurts.

New additions have been made to the hotel this season. A1 table board, comfortable beds, airy rooms—no night mares. Special sport with rod and gun. Guides and boats at rock-bottom rates. Parties met at Lakefield and Peterborough when notified. Rates $1 to $1.50 per day.

TOURISTS AND SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE.

Burleigh Falls Inn,
BURLEIGH FALLS P. O., STONY LAKE.

A Quiet Nook 'mong the Lakes and Islands.

NOW open for the Summer Season of 1899. The aim of the proprietor will be to make the visits of guests as pleasant as possible. At Burleigh Falls Inn the most languid tourist will find his lassitude disappear like magic in the clear air of this high-land district standing 550 feet above the level of Lake Ontario. No region offers so many facilities for health and rest, or sport and pleasure with rod and gun. This fact has made this marvellous lake region the most popular Summer Resort in Canada for Americans as well as Canadians. It is the best ground for gamey fish in Ontario.

Daily Mails—Daily Steamboats—and Telephone connection. Post Office in the Inn.

Special rates by the week or for the season. Rooms may be secured in advance by letter or telegram. Address GEORGE F. GRETTON, Proprietor, Burleigh Falls, P.O., Ontario, Canada.

VICTORIA HOUSE
SUMMER RESORT.

THIS new and delightfully situated Summer Resort on the main shore of Stony Lake overlooks McCracken's Bay and is embowered within beautiful shade trees. The tide of travel in this direction is steadily increasing. Health and good sport await the tired city denizen in this lovely spot. Situated at an altitude of 500 feet above Lake Ontario, the air is invigorating and pure. The waters of the lake are well stocked with fish, affording interesting sport with rod or trawl. In the varied scenery and environments all tastes can be suited. No fishing permits required. Canoes, row boats and guides always available. Steam yacht for cruising and pleasure parties. Never-failing spring of sparkling water near the grounds. This season nine additional rooms have been added and many other important improvements. Special rates for families and monthly boarders. Write to JOHN MORGAN, Warsaw P.O., Ont.

ENLARGED—REBUILT—REFITTED—REFURNISHED.

Idyl Wyld SUMMER RESORT
RICE LAKE, ONTARIO.

THIS Breezy and Beautiful Island Summer Resort will re-open for the season of 1899 on June 12th, under entirely new and up-to-date management. Important new additions to the building and hotel equipment have been effected. Twenty new Bed Rooms, Sitting Rooms, and Waiting Rooms have been added, and entirely refurnished in modern style. Broad balconies extend around each of the two new stories erected, afforded picturesque views of the surrounding scenery.

The cuisine will be a special feature—fresh meat, fresh fish, fresh eggs, milk and butter as well as wholesome vegetables and fruit in abundance, necessitated by a robust appetite, sharpened by the ozone and continual breeze of this idyllic spot.

Good bass and maskinonge fishing all along the shore and lake. No charge for Americans fishing—no permits required. Boats and competent guides furnished. The island steam-launch, "Outlet Queen," can be engaged for cruising and sailing parties. The Park is open for excursion parties whether public or private. Tables and seats for picnic parties are all over the grounds in shady groves. Come and spend your summer vacation at Idyl Wyld, and for your life don't miss it.

Daily boat and mail to and from Harwood, Peterborough and Hastings. Parties can be met at either point when requested.

Special rates for families and for the season. Rooms may be secured in advance by letter, telephone or telegram addressed to B. S. MCDONALD, Manager, Harwood, P.O., Ont. W. J. MACDONALD, Proprietor. 120d3m

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

The individual who fulfils his promises gains public confidence, and thus holds one of the strongest levers to success. The same is true of institutions, and in this connection the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, has a record in which it can take a pardonable pride.

Instead of over-estimating the profits on its investment policies, the management of the Company has wisely based the calculations on the proper earning power of money, having due regard to contingencies that are bound to arise. As a result of this the holders of matured Endowment policies are from time to time being agreeably surprised, and not disappointed, in the results of their policies.

The following letter speaks for itself and bears the eloquent and substantial evidence of the fact that the Sun Life of Canada keeps faith with its policy holders:

To the District Manager:—

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge with thanks receipt of cheque for twelve hundred and sixty-four and 80/100 dollars ($1264.80) from The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to cover Policy No. 16002 on my own life.

This amount represents a return of all premiums which I have paid to the Company and three hundred and thirty-four and 80/100 dollars ($334 80) besides, or about 4½ per cent. compound interest on my investment. In addition to this the Company has carried my risk for thirteen years for nothing, all of which is very satisfactory.

As announced a few days ago in the Examiner, Mr. Roland Fairbairn McWilliams has been admitted into the firm to be known as Poussette & McWilliams, the senior partner of which is the well-known local Queen's Counsel, Mr. A. P. Poussette, whose many years' experience in the courts has won for him the reputation which he at present enjoys. Mr. McWilliams brings to the firm unbounded energy, combined with such a knowledge of the law as must be the result of such reading as gave him the remarkably high standing which he has always taken in his examinations. When at Toronto University he took the honour course in History and Political Science, and carried off first class honours each year in each subject. He also took the work of the Faculty of Law, as well as the Faculty of Arts at the University, taking the degree of LL. B., in the former, and B. A., in the latter, completing this course at the same time as he took his first year at the Law School, Osgoode Hall. In the examinations held at the close of each year of a three years course at Osgoode, Mr. McWilliams took first class honours each year, only four in a class of seventy being able to take this standing. Whilst attending the Law School Mr. McWilliams was at the same time studying in the office of Mr. R. C. Clute, Q. C., who has an established reputation throughout the Dominion. A singular coincidence exists in the fact that in entering Mr. Poussette's office, Mr. McWilliams takes the apartments occupied thirty years ago by his namesake, the late T. M. Fairbairn, Esq., formerly the Reform member for the local riding in the Ontario Legislature.

HIS OVERCOAT STOLEN.

Ald. Henry Best Done up by a Thief in Toronto.

The Toronto World says: Henry Best, a traveller, on his way home from Owen Sound to Peterborough, lost his spring overcoat Saturday afternoon. He was waiting for the train for the east to leave and spent the time in the smoking room. His coat and satchel were on the seat beside him. He got up to make some enquiries about the train and when he returned the coat was gone. Mr. Best visited police headquarters and reported his loss. He also furnished the police with a good description of a man who he believes is the thief, as he noticed him acting suspiciously a short time before the theft.

IS THE STRIKE OVER?

The Toronto Papers Say so but the Local men are Still out.

Notwithstanding the report in to-day's Toronto papers to the effect that the G.T.R. trackmen's strike is at an end, and that the men were to return to work this morning, enquiries made at the local G.T.R. station do not confirm this statement.

None of the local men reported for work this morning, and the situation so far appears unchanged. The reason assigned by the local trackmen for their continued absence from the company's employ, is that they have received no official word from their executive, notifying them to resume work.

NO LOGS EXPORTED.

Government Inspector Has Stationed Officers in the North to Prevent Shipments of Logs to the U. S.

(Toronto Globe).

Mr. J. B. McWilliams of Peterborough, Superintendent of Woods and Forests for Ontario, was in the city for a short time on his way home from an official trip through the Georgian Bay District. Superintendent McWilliams' mission in the north was to enforce the Ontario Government's regulations prohibiting the exportation of logs from Ontario to the United States, and while there he stationed Government officers at a dozen or more points to prevent any infraction of the law.

"Some of the American lumbermen," said Mr. McWilliams, "are moving their logs to Meldrum Bay, at Manitoulin Island, and storing them there for the present, in the belief that there will be a change in the regulations making the export of logs free. All the timber which can be exported at present is that cut on patented lands, on Indian lands, or that which was cut prior to May, 1898, some difficulty was experienced through the mixing of logs which were cut several years ago, or within the past year on the free lands, and those that come within the regulations, and this complication was arranged by a decision permitting the export of the quantity of logs owned by the lumberman, which were not affected by the duty. This ruling prevented the expense of sorting the logs, which would have been costly for the Government and lumbermen alike.

"People are beginning to see the advantage of the regulations," continued Mr. McWilliams. One American firm has a mill erected at Byng Inlet, and will saw there 34,000,000 feet of lumber. Others are making arrangements for sawing their logs in Canadian territory. Consequently the settlers in all of the districts will assist the officers in their work, and no trouble is anticipated."

ACCIDENT AT MILLBROOK.

Mr. Martin Pethick has a Narrow Escape.

As the 9.40 express from Toronto was drawing into the Millbrook station on Saturday night, Mr. Martin Pethick, a farmer living in the township of Cavan, had a very narrow escape from serious injury.

Mr. Pethick was driving a colt, and not being aware of the approching train, until it was within about twenty feet of him, it looked for a while as if a fatality was imminent. The animal and front wheels of the buggy got free of the track, but the locomotive crashed into the rear half of the vehicle with its occupant. Mr. Pethick was fortunately thrown to one side, but the buggy was completely demolished. His escape was most miraculous.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN MORE SERIOUS.

Accident to Mrs Thomas Rehill This Morning.

Mrs. Thomas Rehill, No. 149 George street, met with a slight accident this morning and it is a wonder indeed how she escaped more serious injury.

Mrs. Rehill was walking along Hunter street in front of the post office when a chisel fell from one of the workmen's hands on the scaffold about 30 feet above, striking her on the head. Fortunately the chisel struck her sideways and it did not cause such a wound as if it had fallen point downwards. She was conveyed home in a hack and her injuries attended to.

The workmen have ropes placed around underneath the scaffold to avoid people passing below but even this does not prevent many from doing this.

LACROSSE.

Friday's game on the P. A. A. A. grounds against Markham promises to be very close and exciting. The town police will be present to prevent the spectators crowding on the field, and those on the grand stand can therefore expect to have a full view of the play at all times. The covered grand stand is reserved for ladies and their escorts only.

Burns and Lewis will arrive from Sherbrooke this afternoon, and will play in Friday's game. These men have played with both Cornwall and Sherbrooke in the Big League, and have made names for themselves. The former has secured employment at the Canadian General Electric Works, and the latter will work at the Auburn Woollen Mills. Lewis is acknowledged to be one of the best point players in Canada. He is coloured and is a brother of Albert Lewis, who used to figure on the Port Hope team in its palmy days. Burns is a home player of equal ability. Both will be permanent residents of Peterborough.

"Bud" Bogart, the Varsity centre fielder, arrives on Wednesday to play that position for the Peterboroughs this year.

Hastings plays the Juniors here on Monday.

The Rochester team finds it is impossible to play here on the fourth of July.

Practices are called for both seniors and juniors for Tuesday and Wednesday, as well as to-night.

The strongest team which ever represented Peterborough, will be on the field on Friday against Markham.

A host of amateur photographers have volunteered to take snap shots of the gentlemen (?)who ornament the fences, instead of paying an admission fee at the gate.

GOLF.

In the second round of the contest amongst the beginners of '99 in the ladies gold club, the following draw was made. This round is to be played off by Wednesday next:

Miss K. Hall vs. Miss L. Dennistoun.
Miss Belcher vs. Miss Fair.
Mrs. Garvin vs. Miss G. Dennistoun.
Miss W. Carnegie vs. Miss Kempt.
Miss E. Rackham vs. Mrs. R. S. Davidson.

In the contest for the Culverwell trophy, in the second round which is to be played off by Wednesday, the following were drawn against one another:

Mrs. Dennistoun vs. Miss D. Hamilton.
Miss Fair vs. Miss A. Hall.
Miss Fairweather vs. Miss Carnegie.
Mrs. Greenwood vs. Mrs. F. J. Rogers.
Mrs. Stratton vs. Miss L. Hall.
Miss L. Dennistoun vs. Miss G. Dennistoun.
Miss Boucher vs. Mrs. Campbell.
Mrs. Davidson vs. Miss K. Hall.

THE WHEEL.

Fred Mosier has expressed his desire to meet Wes. Milburn in a friendly race on Friday night on the Nicholls Park track. The race to be 1-2, 1 or 2 miles.

R. Shepherd wishes to notify Wes Milburn that he would have been most happy to accommodate him or his right bower, F. Mosier, if he had only taken his challenge up a couple of weeks ago, when he flunked so completely before the committee. Let either of these Cleveland gentlemen go over the Road Race Course, or its equivalent on the park in the time that I have done, says Mr. Shepherd, and I will only be too happy to set another figure for them to aspire to. I am not racing for the sake of notoriety, or racing's sake, and I have all the neckties I wish for.

BASEBALL.

The local baseball team is considering the advisability of going to either Lindsay or Uxbridge this week. Cobourg will be here for two games on Dominion Day.

COURT CHEMONG MEMBERS ATTEND CHURCH.

REV. S. J. SHOREY ADDRESSES INDEPENDENT FORESTERS.

At the Evening Service in the George St. Methodist Church on Sunday —Seventy Members in line

The members of Court Chemong, No. 520 Independent Order of Foresters, accompanied by a number of visiting brethren from lodges in the vicinity of Peterborough, attended divine worship at the George street Methodist church last night, where a special sermon was delivered to them by the pastor, Rev. S. J. Shorey.

The Foresters to the number of 70 or more, assembled in the Canadian Order of Foresters' Hall on Simcoe street, from which place they marched to the church.

Rev. Mr. Shorey took his text from Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians—"For as the body is one and hath many members, and all the members of that one body being many, are one body, so also is Christ."

Great force and clearness had been shown by Paul, the speaker claimed, in describing the

that existed between the many people of the earth, as well as between the various nations. The highest aim of an individual is not attained by his thinking of himself entirely but by exchanging ideas and opinions, and associating himself with people of various opinions. Selfishness defeated itself; therefore, to overcome this, is by not looking after ourselves entirely, but by looking after the interests of others as well. We then become one body, and if one member of that body suffer, we all suffer, whilst if one member rejoice, we all rejoice. The welfare of the nation, the speaker considered, depended entirely upon the condition of the people which go to make up the nation. The same principal might be applied locally—what is of benefit to our community is of benefit to us individually, and the exchange of opinion and the privilege of discussion has a tendency to forward our own interests as well as the interests of the Dominion, where we form one large and grand body. Nor does it stop at this, but goes on in the form of Imperialism. Even then we should not continue the selfish principle of considering ourselves only, but we should consider other nations. By endeavouring to promote their well-being, we are proportionately helping ourselves. Perhaps we have not done much in this particular line in the past but the present Peace Conference was instanced by the speaker as a striking illustration of a step in the direction of bettering ourselves by closer relations with our fellow beings.

The speaker here turned his remarks to the subject of the existing strike on the Grand Trunk Railway, and he thought that while we may not know all the details which caused the cessation of work among the trackmen, still the sympathy of the public shows that we value the free-thinking individuals to the single corporation. He claimed that if the management of the G. T. R. would show some desire to exchange opinions with these men and take an interest in them in this manner, thereby gaining their loyalty, the trackmen and other such employees, would feel a mutual interest in the affairs of the road, and this would be better for all concerned. Kindly discussion, and should be used in dealing with these matters. When this principle is applied the interests of all are guaranteed.

The speaker did not think that there could be but one single member in church life. You will always find variety in church life, and while many members of churches fall fighting their honest opinions, though they differ with ours, they have done their duty. Separate churches do not necessarily detract from their common object. There should be no antagonism, but the utmost sympathy, between these churches. The speaker erred in words of high appreciation to the letters that have been appearing in the Daily Examiner on Christian Unity, yet he could readily understand that the great body of Christian people prefer variety to uniformity. There may be a time in the future when men can all think more alike than at present, but we could not all be served by any one church now in existence. No church has ever lived, and the speaker did not think that any church would ever be, that could set forth all the rights of Christianity. Every church, however, disclosed some and these many churches in this manner are fulfilling their duty in Christianizing the world.

One Principle,

Turning his remarks to the benefits to be derived from being a member of an organized body such as he was then addressing, the speaker declared it was a product on the part of man to realize moret han he otherwise could the underlying principles of the word of God in trying to provide for their wives and families. He had often seen the profit of an organization of this kind, each member's well being, being secured when they combined together. The strong bore the infirmities of the weak thereby obeying the word of God. During the last three years the I.O.F., had paid out in benefits the sum of two million, seven hundred thousand dollars. This was an example indeed of the brotherhood of man, but we are not yet ready to realize this, nor did the speaker know when we would be, but organizations of this kind are making advancement in that that way. We may best promote the interest of our own nation not by selfishness towards ourselves but by looking after its common interest, the nation in turn might help itself by assisting others, but he did consider that all the nations of the earth could be formed of for no Government could adequately administer its affairs. Not only do good to you, but do good to those that persecute you, was the motto, and do not forget that your brother man needs the most sympathy in the conflict, when it is going ill with him, for it is then he begins to imagine that he is not a member of the grand brotherhood of man.

He had spoken to them not merely as Foresters but as men. They were men before they were Foresters and would be men after they had ceased to be Foresters. Manhood is the essence out of which we all should be made, and by it we shall attain victory. In conclusion the speaker pointed out that there was a larger brotherhood than that of Foresters, the brotherhood of man, which we should all be members of. As Foresters they should ask God to assist them in the discharging of their duties so that we shall be together forever more in peace and triumph.

On returning to their court room the members of the Lodge passed the following resolution:

"The unanimous thanks of Court Chemong, No. 520, I. O. F., is tendered to the Rev. S. J. Shorey for the excellent sermon preached for the Independent Order of Foresters, and also to the Trustees and managers of George street Methodist Church for their kindly reception and accommodation. Signed on behalf of the Court."

JOHN HETHERINGTON, D.H.C.R.
A. ALLISON, C.R.
J. W. BUYERS, Rec.-Sec.

In the morning over 20 members drove out to Lakefield and joined Court Lakefield, where fully fifty members of the order marched from the Sons of England hall to the English church where Rev. Mr. Warren preached a poverful sermon to them, touching on the broad, imperial nature of the Order and giving the figures of membership at about 150,000 with a surplus of over $4,000,000 and benefits paid out amounting to $6,000,000.

During the evening the music by the choir was of high order. The anthem, "Holy Father, Great Creator," by Lambilotte was excellently rendered. During the offertory Mr. G. W. Mulligan rendered a solo, "Life's Memories" in excellent style.

PROTECT THE TREES.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir—In your issue of Saturday you print a little article referring to the removal of that stately elm tree on Gilmour street. The tenor of the article is generally commendatory of the removal of the tree and of the manner in which it was done. I wish to enter a protest in both cases. In the first place the removal of the tree was unnecessary and a wanton destruction of a magnificent tree that represented perhaps a century or a century and a half of growth. It's of no use arguing as to whether or not the tree was an obstruction. In one sense it was; practically it was not, for there was sufficient width of roadway on each side to accomodate all the traffic of the street. The sewer could have been tunnelled under the tree safely and easily, for the spreading roots formed a strong arch which would have kept the tree in position, and the contractor is no doubt somewhat punished by the extra expense of felling the tree, if he has to bear the cost, for the damage he and the town authorities who gave him full swing, have done to the street. Your reporter, or whoever loaded him up the wrong way, or whoever contributed the little article referred to, states that the tree "succumbs dto the advancing strides of civilization"—vandalism is the correct word. On this continent everything is new and raw except the everlasting hills and the few stately and venerable trees that have survived the ravages of the civilized (?) vandal, and to cut down one of those wantonly and without adequate reason is an outrage. All over the country similar trees are being laid low to the deep regret of all who have an eye for the beautiful and a regard for the venerable. These trees are priceless, because money cannot replace them. We can imagine a farmer whose early life has been spent in subduing the trees of the forest being indifferent to the fate of a grand old tree, but that the aesthetic aldermen, who are supposed to have finer tastes and more culture should destroy such a tree is proof that unconsidering utilitarianism and indifference to the beauty of the town are paramount in their minds.

What adds insult to injury is the statement in the article referred to "that the fall of the tree was so carefully manipulated that no wires or trees were injured in the least." This is, permit me to say, rankly false. A beautiful elm standing on the street side on the dividing line between the properties of Mrs. Fairweather and Mr. Yokom's was practically ruined and that one would think almost wantonly, or if not wantonly, at least, by criminal carelessness. The sewer contractor, Mr. James Bogue, in preparing to fell the tree, had most of the large limbs on the south side sawn off to prevent injury to the telephone and electric wires. One long limb, projecting at right angles, was left on the north side, which the contractor refused to remove. The engineer in charge of sewer construction, Mr. S. Belcher, and the sewer inspector, Mr. Bartlett, both pointed out the danger of injury to the splendid row of trees on the northside of the street standing parallel to the line of fall of the tree. A resident of the street also pointed out that injury would result if the limb in question was not removed, and the response the contractor made was that he would "saw no more limbs off if they brought down all the trees on the street." Besides, the tackle used was fastened to an elm further west in such a position as to draw the top of the big elm directly into the line of trees on the north side. The result was that when the tree fell the very limb which the contractor refused to remove crashed into the beautiful thrifty young elm about a foot in diameter, with a splendid spreading plumy top, and at least two-thirds of this top was shorn off, and the remaining branches stripped almost bare by the smaller branches of the falling tree, and in addition a big gap was made in the branches of a fine maple further to the west. If the callow reporter or the person who loaded him up calls this "careful manipulation" in taking down the trees then English language has lost its meaning. Of course the telephone and telegraph wires were saved, things that if slightly or even greatly injured, could be replaced for a few dollars in a few hours. But no, the coarse spirit of utilitarianism must save a few paltry wires (whose poles, a double line on the street, are a greater obstruction and deformity than a dozen elm trees) and a magnificent elm tree growing on the street side, which money cannot replace, must be, in a practical sense wantonly (as I think I have shown) injured and mutilated, its symmetry forever destroyed, to such an extent that it will not recover for years. If the town fathers permitted the removal of a venerable land mark unnecessary and against all considerations of good taste and sense of the beautiful, the least they could have done was to see that no damage was done to the beautiful trees growing in the vicinity. Of course the unsightly cedar snags that, as roosts for wires, double line the south side of Gilmour street must be saved because it would cost a dollar or so to restore a broken wire. Gilmour street has suffered enough by these poles. A few years ago when the electric wires were being put up a splendid thrifty, sound ash about eighteen inches in diameter, standing on the south side of the street, was cut down because some of the branches were in the way of the wires. The outrage was reported to the Council, but nothing was done to secure compensation or punish the offenders, though the Tree Planting Act provides effective punishment for the destruction or injury of street trees. The Councillors evidently seem to think that cedar poles are more desirable for shade than living trees. Do corporations and contractors own the town? Nothing was done in case of the ash tree destroyed by the electric light people, and nothing has, so far, been done in the matter of the practical destruction of the tree I have shown, was most carelessly injured, because it was destroyed by an action taken contrary to the protests of at least three persons, two of them officials of the town. The Police Magistrate, the County Attorney, the town Solicitor, the Mayor and Aldermen know that an outrage has been committed, whether intentional or accidental, they have very good means of judging, yet nothing is done. Consequently citizens who take pride in their places of residence and beautifying the street in front of them for the benefit of the whole town and for its beauty, must tamely submit, must suffer in silence the unredressed wrong of the destruction of a tree, which if not done maliciously, could have been avoided by half an hour's work, at a cost of less than ten cents.

What is the sense of the Council planting, at considerable expense, elm trees in public places in the town, as has been done this spring, if the destruction of trees that have been growing for a quarter of a century is placidly permitted?

The fine tree almost totally destroyed was grown from a seed started in a flower pot by the late Mrs. Andrew Douglas, and has been carefully tended and guarded for the past twenty-five years, an dto have it smashed in a few seconds is outrageously wrong.

I thank you for space for this letter, which is not written solely as applying to the case under consideration, but as affecting the relation of the Councillors and officials and persons employed to the preservation of the general beauty of the town, and to the observance of the respect due the wishes, tastes and rights of the citizens who pay the taxes. If the moral character of the individual citizen, taken collectively, determines the moral quality of the state, so does the principle of the protection of a single tree represent the safety and integrity of the street trees of the town at large.

To be utilitarian is wise, but to be utilitarian at the expense of beauty and comfort of citizens is not desirable. We, as a town, should avoid, by judiciously mingling the useful and the aesthetic, coming under the characterization of brusque, but beautiful John Ruskin, when he says:

"And yet people speak in this working age, when they speak from their hearts, as if houses and lands and food and raiment were alone useful, and as if sight, thought and admiration were all profitless; so that men insolently call themselves Utilitarians, who would turn, if they had their way, themselves into vegetables * * men who look to the earth as a stable and its fruit as fodder; * * hewers of wood and drawers of water who think that the wood they hew and the water they draw are better than the pine forests that cover the mountains like the shadow of God, and the great rivers that move like His eternity."

Yours truly,
ARBOR.

SALT RHEUM TORTURES

Die away before the magical effect of

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The tortures of Salt Rheum are almost beyond human endurance, and as the flesh becomes raw, and the itching and burning increase, the suffering is so intense as to almost drive one crazy.

In desperation salves and ointments are applied, only to give rise to further disappointment and despair.

But there is hope. There is assurance that you can be cured just as scores and hundreds of others have been by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. John Giroa, of Aultsville, Ont., writes: "For seven years I was a sufferer from Salt Rheum, and my hands were so bad I had to wear greased gloves. Nothing seemed to help me, but I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and one box cured me completely. There is not a trace of the Salt Rheum left."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has effected most miraculous cures in all parts of this great Dominion. Could you have better assurance that it will cure you? For sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

NO CHINESE IN LEADVILLE.

Two Pigtailed Celestials Who Were Tabooed by the Town.

Every well known nationality except the Chinese is represented in Leadville. Only two Celestials ever entered the camp, and the story of their short stay is unique and interesting. There wasn't much of a demonstration on their arrival, for it was late at night when they climbed down from the roof of one of the coaches into the busy streets and hastily surveyed the strange surroundings.

Word was whispered about in the dives with which the street was lined, and soon the pigtails were encompassed with a quiet and gentlemanly mob of perhaps a hundred miners and hoboes. Scarcely a word was spoken, but as soon as the luggage of the passengers and the mails were taken from the boot of the Concord the China boys were assisted to the seats they had just vacated, the driver was given a tip and the distinguished arrivals were whirled out of town in much quicker time than they had entered it, for it was a down hill pull to Malta, the nearest settlement down the gulch. There they were left to shift for themselves as best they might.

What means of communication with each other these strange little people have I know not, but the news of the reception that was tendered to the first representatives of their race to visit Leadville traveled rapidly, and the fact soon came to be understood by them, in all localities where they congregated in Colorado, that they were not wanted. I later queried a Chinaman in an adjoining town as to whether he had ever been in the great mining camp, and his reply was characteristically laconic: "I no go Lead-v-i-l-lee. Lead-v-i-l-l-ee too muchee likee hellee!"—Santa Barbara.

A ST. THOMAS CASE.

The Entire Population Talking of the Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures.

St. Thomas, June 12.—The great wave has reached St. Thomas. The cures wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills are numbered by hundreds here, and the entire population, almost, is talking of them.

Michael Holleran, a farmer living near here, told our reporter, "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from an untimely grave." He was cured of Diabetes, of an aggravated type by a few boxes, after his doctors had failed to even relieve him.

So it goes. Everyone who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills has been cured. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Paralysis, all diseases of the kidneys and the blood yield to their power. They never fail to cure these ailments.

Just a Little Fib.

"Seeing the name of the painter, Alfred Stevens, in the papers reminds me of a neat little faux pas made by a would be art connoisseur in Paris a few years ago," said a gentleman who owns a few masterpieces himself. "It is hard to realize that a man with the thoroughly Anglo-Saxon name of Alfred Stevens is not English or American, and, in fact, there is a ring to the name that suggests the United States. As a matter of fact, Stevens is a Belgian master, pronounces his name 'Stayvens' and is as far from English in his style as it is possible to be.

"Stevens is a prominent figure in Parisian art circles and is greatly respected. In one of the American salons of Paris a newly arrived young lady, with art aspirations, was discoursing learnedly on painters and painting when some one chanced to ask whether she had met Alfred Stevens.

"After a moment's hesitation the young lady replied: 'No, I don't believe I ever met him, but he has relatives in Bridgeport, Conn., and I have seen him there several times. I think he is one of your cleverest young painters, don't you?'"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

MURDER IN HIS SOUL.

PITIFUL PLAINT OF THE MAN WHO IS BORED BY STATISTICS.

One Victim of the Fiend Who, on Every Possible Occasion, Flings Figures at You Frees His Mind and Warns His Tormenters.

"I don't think I have a reputation for being a bloodthirsty man," said the leather dealer from New England, "but down in my heart I have the feeling that I shall break loose some day and do murder. It is a man who will be my victim. I shan't break his neck or shoot him through the head, but I shall prolong his agonies for hours and get revenge for all I have suffered. You see, it has been going on for years—my sufferings—and no matter how patient a man is, he reaches the dead line at last. The man I refer to is the man who is always chucking statistics at you. He is to be found on every train and steamboat—in the office of every hotel—aye, even at the newly made grave of a friend. I have been one of his victims for 20 years, but I can't last much longer. Inside of the next 12 months you'll read in the papers of some one being torn limb from limb by a wild eyed man who looked like a hunted tiger, and that wild eyed man will be me.

"I start from Springfield to run over to Boston," continued the leather man with a touch of pathos in his tones. "I am only comfortably seated with my newspaper or magazine when the man on the seat in front turns and inquiries at what speed the train is traveling. I can't tell him, nor would I if I could. He hopes that I can't, for he has a little speech all ready. He smiles in a patronizing way and says:

"'My dear man, we are traveling at the rate of 43 miles, 4 rods, 2 yards, 1 foot and 5 inches per hour. Should this train, traveling at this rate, strike a stone wall 19 feet and 7½ inches thick the force of the impact would be exactly equal to the force of a wave 11 feet high and half a mile long breaking on a sandy beach with a pitch of three inches to the foot.'

"Well, what can I say to that?" asked the New Englander. "I am as helpless as a man on a raft in midocean. I can't dispute him, and your statistician is a man who can't be scowled down nor turned aside. He has come to stay, and the only way you can get rid of him is to leap from the train. I was going down to Fall River one day, when an old tooth began to growl and ache. I was getting mad and nervous about it, when along came the statistician and began:

"'Did you ever figure up the amount of arable land occupied by the hills and mountains of the United States? Well, it's an interesting bit of knowledge. I find that if all uncultivated hills and mountains were leveled off we should be the gainer by 81,994,317 acres of productive soil. Our farming population could be trebled. Our annual products would amount to exactly $612,838,249.17 more than at present.'

"He was going on to tell me just how many more turnips, potatoes and pumpkins could be raised and how many more gimlets, screwdrivers and corkscrews would be needed to supply the market, when I told him I had the toothache and didn't care to talk. He was bluffed for half a minute, and then he came back at me with:

"'The toothache, eh? Toothache is caused by the cold air striking an exposed nerve. You probably never gave a thought to it, but there are exactly 5,500 nerves radiating from your gums, and the exposure of any one of these causes pain. Speaking of teeth, do you know what the strength of the jaw is? It is computed, sir, that when a full grown and healthy man shuts his teeth down as hard as he can on a pine board he is exercising a force of one horsepower. Every time you bite into a sandwich you use force enough to open a door. Should you yell "Police!" at the top of your voice the air pressure would be sufficient to lift one of your shoes seven inches high. When you sneeze, you waste power enough to pull a turnip out of the ground, and the force of a hearty laugh would drive a brad awl half way through a raw potato.'

"I had to listen to that sort of talk for an hour," said the leather man, "and I was mad all through when I got to Fall River. I was looking for a tooth foundry to have the old thing jerked out when I met a benign looking old gentleman on the street who asked me if I had ever computed the quantity of tears shed in the United States every year. I told him to go to and be hanged, but he laid his hand on my shoulder in a fatherly way and asked me to remember that the quantity was exactly 34 barrels, 22 gallons, 3 quarts and a pint. Before I could get away from him he added that this amount of water would run a ten horsepower engine 17 hours and 18 minutes, and that the energy wasted in the weeping of the tears would plant 9½ acres of corn.

"I have had statistics shot at me and pumped into me and driven through me until I have come to have murder in my heart. I never could see why I should be selected out of all men in a car or a crowd, but it is invariably the case. I was in New York a month ago. I was riding on an elevated train and glancing over the daily paper when a man walked the length of the car to crowd in beside me and say:

"'My dear sir, has it entered your mind that we are traveling at the rate of 16 miles an hour, and that if this train should be suddenly stopped dead still each one of us would be flung forward a distance of 33 feet 9½ inches?'

"I got away from him by leaving the train," said the New Englander, "and I wanted to kill him as I went. As I said in the beginning, the last straw has been placed on the camel's back. For 40 long years I have had statistics hurled at me almost daily and it is time that I dabbled my hands in blood. I start for Boston today, and you just paste it in your hat that the man who sits down beside me and begins to tell me how many eyes and legs the house fly has, how fast lightning travels or why a mud turtle can't fly is going to get six months in the hospital as fast as I can give it to him!"

Gordon's Courage.

Sir W. H. Russell, the veteran war correspondent, tells this characteristic story of Gordon:

During the Crimean war there was a sortie, and the Russians actually reached the English trench. Gordon stood on the parapet, in great danger of his life, with nothing save his stick in his hand, encouraging the soldiers to drive out the Russians.

"Gordon," they cried, "come down! You'll be killed!"

But he took no notice, and a soldier who was near said:

"It's all right; 'e don't mind being killed. 'E's one of those blessed Christians!"

Children Cry for

CASTORIA.

Physicians as a class are opposed to what they call "patent medicines." It is not often they openly endorse them. Now and then, however, some doctor, who has been the eye witness of a remarkable cure by the use of Dr. Pierce's remedies, feels it a duty to tell what he knows. Dr. Joseph Pike, of Lost Springs, Marion Co., Kansas, is such a man. He writes: "I am using a good many of your medicines in my practice. Ten years ago I had a patient who was badly affected with scrofula. Her mouth and throat were in an awful condition, and there were lumps on the outside below the jaws the size of a hen's egg. Other doctors said it was a fatal case. I felt confident that none of my remedies would benefit her. It came to my mind that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended for such cases, so I went to the drug store and bought one bottle and gave it to her to use as directed. Five bottles cured her, and she is well to-day."

For more than thirty years Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has enjoyed a far larger practice than many physicians who charge large fees for advice. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made without alcohol, and is a preparation based upon his extended experience with disease. It is a temperance medicine, pure and simple, and without alcohol, whiskey, sugar or syrup to preserve its properties, keeps perfectly in any climate for any length of time. Others may imitate the remedy; they cannot imitate its cures. Let no one talk you into using an imitation medicine as a substitute for Dr. Pierce's. Sick people who cannot visit Buffalo may consult Dr. Pierce by mail. He gives free, fatherly advice for treating and curing diseases of a chronic, obstinate and lingering nature. No charge is made for such consultation.

PEN AND BRUSH.

Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, engaged an Arab servant during his recent oriental trip, and the man has become Mr. Gibson's regular valet in New York.

Emile Zola, during his stay in England, has become deeply interested in the controversies between high church and low and reads all that he can regarding the matter.

Max Nordau has become a most ardent advocate of Zionism. He is in Holland lecturing on the subject, and to show that he is not doing it for money the admission fee to his lectures is 4 cents.

There is no foundation for the report that Edmond Rostand, the French dramatist, author of "Cyrano de Bergerac," has become mentally deranged. On the contrary, he is in excellent health and is now engaged in writing a new play.

Thomas Bailey Aldrich, since inheriting a fortune, has been criticised for writing less than theretofore. "This is unjust," he says, "for, though I do not have to produce so much, I give the time to careful consideration of what I do write. I work just as much as ever."

Prosperous Marine Trade.

Farmer (who has never seen the sea before to fisherman on the Great South bay)—Who's all this here water belong to?

Fisherman (patting his chest)—Us, me man, to us.

Farmer—Heow much d'yer charge fer it?

Fisherman—Oh, we generally charges 10 cents a gallon.

Farmer—Cheap enough. I'll take a gallon of that hum with me for me old woman. But what kin I put it in?

Fisherman—Go over there to the tavern, and they'll lend yon a jar.

Farmer gets his jar and has his gallon of water put in and leaves it at the railroad station while he goes for a walk. On his return he finds the tide at low ebb. "Gosh," he says, "don't they do a big trade!"

Twain Wasn't Well.

Here is a story of Mark Twain, whose after dinner speeches are unique. At a dinner to which he was invited his name was associated with the toast of "Literature" by an orator, who referred with great eloquence to Homer, Shakespeare, Milton and—Mark Twain. In response the humorist thanked the speaker for his kindly references and excused himself from making a longer speech by saying, "Homer is dead, Shakespeare and Milton are no more, and I—I don't feel very well myself."

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottle free at James Lynch's drug store. Regular size, $1 and 50c. Every bottle guaranteed.

SOUTH PERTH ELECTION.

Particulars Filed in the Protest—Cross-Petition Is Also Entered.

Toronto, June 17.—Particulars in the South Perth election protest were filed yesterday at Osgoode Hall. The return of Nelson Monteith, Conservative, M.P.P., is challenged, on the usual grounds. There are 69 charges; 106 votes are objected to. John Broderick, as deputy-returning officer at Mitchell, is charged with having refused a voter a ballot for one spoiled, and with having counted the spoiled ballot. In the bribery charges it is alleged that sums of from $5 to $10 were paid.

Counter Charges.

The Conservatives reply with particulars of alleged wrongful acts of agents of the Liberal candidate, Valentine Stock. Eighteen votes are objected to. Personation and intimidation are alleged. There are 24 counter charges. Alexander Smith of Toronto, James Vance of Ingersoll, Frederick Dutton of Mitchell, John Eisler of Logan Township, and William McDougall of Edmonton figure in connection with the bribery charges. The trial takes place at Stratford, June 29.

Tortured by Itching

Women are almost driven insane.

Instant Relief in Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

One of the most distressing symptoms imaginable is the almost unbearable itching which is an accompaniment of Leucorrhea or whites. The nerves are irritated by the poisonous discharge, and the result is an itching which is only rendered more excruciating by rubbing or scratching.

Especially at night, when the body is warm, the patient is tormented beyond the powers of human endurance. Sleep or rest is out of the question. Nervousness, irritability and despondency are a natural result.

In these offices there are on the file thousands of letters from grateful women who have found in Dr. Chase's Ointment a quick and certain cure for this itching to which women are subject.

During the expectant period many women suffer similar agony from itching of the parts, or itching piles, which are absolutely cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The first application of this great discovery of Dr. A. W. Chase will afford prompt relief. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WELL KNOWN WOMEN.

Some London papers refer to the wife of Lord Curzon as the "Leiter of Asia."

Mrs. James A. Garfield, widow of the president, spent the greater part of the winter in southern California.

Mary Anderson, now Mrs. Navarro, has grown a trifle thinner since she reigned the queen of the stage in this country, but she appears in the best of health. Her husband appears short beside her.

Mrs. Sarah Storey of Philadelphia is chief companion, which is the supreme head of a woman's national organization known as the Companions of the Forest, which has 40,000 members and 500 circles.

Lady Cook & Co. have gone into the stockbroking business in London, the motto of the firm being, "Never sell what you haven't got; buy at the lowest figure; be satisfied with quick returns and small profits."

Mrs. Schuyler Hamilton, Jr., who died recently in New York from an overdose of morphine, taken to relieve a fit of great nervous depression and intense physical pain, was a daughter of General Mercer of Maryland.

Adelina Patti is not the only person in artistic life with the title of Baroness Cederstrom. Mrs. Hartmann, a famous Swedish actress, is in private life a baroness of the same name. Her husband and Patti's are cousins.

Mrs. McKinley is a great dog fancier and owns the largest St. Bernard in the world. Its name is Washington. A special servant is appointed to take care of the pets of the president's wife, and the dogs are groomed every morning.

Mrs. Barbara Moon of Rolvenden, England, has the distinction of being the only baby that was present at the battle of Waterloo. She was born in Gibraltar in 1811, and her father, a sergeant, took her and her mother to Belgium with him, and they were on the field during the fighting.

Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, whose round the world mission for the W. C. T. U. is well remembered, has returned to Boston to live after an absence of 15 years. Mrs. Leavitt was elected honorary life president of the world's W. C. T. U. at its first convention in Boston, November, 1891.

Mrs. Daniel Manning will go to the Paris exposition in 1900 as the president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. This society has appropriated $4,000 for her expenses. She will also take a prominent part in the dedicatory exercises of the Lafayette monument, to be held on United States day, July 4, 1900.

Mrs. Annie Besant is said to have renounced England altogether and to have adopted eastern customs of living as well as thinking. She is reported as sitting cross legged on a carpet, living and eating like any Bengali in Calcutta and dressing in a modification of the native costume. She is starting a school and college at Benares for Hindoo boys.

What Presidents Cost.

Presidents "come high, but we have got to have them." It costs us $114,865 a year for a chief executive.

His salary is $50,000 and "found," as our western neighbors say. The president's finding is rather comprehensive, covering about every possible requirement of a family. His private secretary, the clerks, doorkeepers, messengers and steward and three other servants cost us $33,865 a year. Then there is a contingent fund of $8,000 a year, which the president may use according to his discretion.

In furniture and repairs to the White House the sum of $16,000 more, to be used by the direction of the president, is provided by the nation and is always expended. For fuel alone $3,000 is allowed, and for necessary repairs to the greenhouse there is $4,000.

Altogether the presidential "finding" annually amounts to the snug sum of $64,865, nearly $15,000 a year more than his salary. The two aggregate $114,865.—Boston Journal.

THE COBRA AND THE HARE.

Rider Haggard's Startling Adventure on the Transvaal Veldt.

Once, many years ago, I was riding in search of small game upon the veldt in the Transvaal when a hare jumped up before me. Halting the horse, I shot at it from the saddle and with the second barrel broke one of its hind legs and injured the other. Springing from my horse and without reloading the gun, I ran to catch it, but as it could still travel faster than I did I saw with chagrin that it would reach a hole for which it was heading (in Africa these hares go to ground if pressed) before I was able to overtake it. Presently it came to the hole, but instead of bolting down it sat quite still upon the hither side. Thinking that the animal was expiring, I crept up cautiously and stretched out my hand to seize it.

The next instant I received one of the sharpest shocks that I can remember to have experienced, for on the other side of the hole, within about four feet of my face, like some child of an evil magic, there rose up suddenly the hugest cobra ("ringhals," I think the Boers call it) that I have ever seen. The reptile, which appeared to me to be about six feet long, stood upon his coiled tail and, puffing out his horrible and deadly hood, flickered his tongue and spat upon me. There was no reason why he should not have struck me also, since for the moment I seemed paralyzed and did not move. Recovering myself, I sprang backward and began to search in my pocket for a cartridge to put into my gun, whereon the great snake, sinking down again, with a single swift movement vanished into the hole which was between it and me.

Now, as the "ringhals" had gone, I thought that at any rate I might as well secure the hare, which all this while, petrified with terror, had been crouching by the top of the hole. So once again I leaned toward it. It heard me and tried to run away, but was evidently too weak. Then it looked first back at me and next at the burrow down which the snake had vanished, and, seeming finally to decide that the mercies of a cobra are greater than the mercies of man, it uttered a scream and followed the reptile into the hole. I stood by and listened. Presently from under the earth came the sound of a rush and a scuffle, followed by another pitiful scream. Then all was still.—Rider Haggard in Longman's.

AVERY'S ROCK.

The Niagara Falls Tragedy Which Gave the Spot Its Name.

A few men still live about Niagara Falls who remember the woeful incident which gave a name to Avery's rock, a point usually of interest to the tourist. On Friday, July 19, 1858, Joseph Avery, a German, was on the river above the cataracts in a small skiff with a companion. In some way they lost control of their boat, and it went over the falls with Avery's companion. Avery himself jumped or fell out and succeeded in clinging to a log which had become jammed against a rock not far above the brink of the falls.

It was evening when this happened, and Avery passed the night on the log, having made himself more secure by tying himself to it with a piece of stout cord which he had in his pocket.

In the morning the man was seen, and thousands quickly gathered on the shores. A hugh placard was held up where it could be seen by Avery, on which, in gigantic letters, had been printed the words, "We will save you."

All day the people on shore strove to make their word good. Many devices were tried in vain. One boat was let down into the current by ropes, but this was swamped immediately. Another followed, but the lines became hopelessly entangled in the rocks, and it had to be abandoned. In the afternoon a raft was sent down, but the raft stuck fast in the rocks. There seemed no way in which Avery could be reached, and meanwhile his strength was fast failing.

At last, held securely by ropes, a boat ventured out to him, guided by a daring navigator, who had almost reached the log when Avery, who had unlashed himself and was eagerly awaiting a chance to spring into the boat, jumped for it; but, being weak from hunger and terror, he missed his clutch, fell into the swift current and in an instant was swept over the falls.—F. A. Acland in Youth's Companion.

THE BEST ON EARTH

So Says Robert Meikle about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5.—Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means had failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it every time."

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Meikle they will cure you. Try them.

A Bank of Brides.

Simla, the summer capital of the Indian empire, is a pretty pine treed place well up in the foothills of the Himalayas. A feature of Simla life is the annual fair held by the native hills people, an attractive item of which is a "bank of brides" in an amphitheater, where sit numbers of young women who thus calmly announce that they are candidates for hymeneal honors.

Some of these aspirants to matrimony so patiently awaiting a choosing are quite pretty and have intelligent faces, but those of Mongol caste must needs linger long for a partner, if personal beauty enters into the equation.—Exchange.

It's Well It's So.

"When one breaks an engagement," suggested the bud, "I suppose it is the proper thing to return the engagement ring."

"If it were not," replied the girl who had been out three seasons, "some girls would have to have their engagement ring fingers lengthened."

CHARITY IN HOLLAND.

How to Aid the Poor Without Pauperizing Them.

The difficult problem of assisting the poor without pauperizing them seems to have been successfully met by the Dutch. A model in miniature exists of a community where those who have lost their hold on prosperity are restored at least a semblance of self support, family ties are preserved, education is afforded the young, and, in short, the utmost possible is made of the most unpromising material.

The poor colonies of Holland, four in number, are not, as might be supposed, a government institution, though at one time co-operation with the government was attempted which resulted quite injuriously to the undertaking. These colonies owe their origin entirely to a Society of Beneficence ("Maatschappy van Veldadigheid") organized in 1818 to meet the exigencies of destitution entailed on Holland in common with the rest of Europe by the wars of the Napoleonic era.

The necessitous individual forced to enter on life as a beneficiary of the society is provided with a home for himself and his family; also with the immediate necessities of living and, above all, with work, from the proceeds of which he begins to repay in small weekly installments the advances made to him. Wages such as are current at the time in the neighborhood are paid weekly, and there is deducted from them as an installment on the debt house rent not exceeding 20 cents, 1 cent infirmary fee for each inmate of the home, 4 cents for a clothing fund and a sum amounting to 10 per cent of the gross earnings for a reserve fund against family emergencies. A valuable contribution to each household is the ewe sheep provided by the colony and also to be paid for by due economy. Its milk, equal to goat's milk in quality, supplies food, and its wool is woven into garments.

The family, it will be observed, is always maintained in its entirety, the importance of the family life being, as is known, ever highly esteemed in Holland, while the large infusion of Jewish blood into the Dutch is believed to have also a strong and favorable influence upon the system.—North American Review.

Sir Roderick's Luck.

"Foiled!" she shrieked. "The boy shall be mine!"

"Caramba!" hissed Sir Roderick. 'What shall I do?"

Clearly he was balked in his design to possess himself of the heir of Pelton manor.

Upon the morrow the circus would have arrived. There was no time to lose.

As for borrowing a neighbor's child to take to the show, the neighbors' children would all be in use.—Detroit Journal.

Youthful Recklessness.

The natural exuberance of youth often leads to recklessness. Young people don't take care of themselves, get over-heated, catch cold, and allow it to settle on the kidneys. They don't realize the significance of backache—think it will soon pass away—but it doesn't. Urinary Troubles come, then Diabetes, Bright's Disease and shattered health.

A young life has been sacrificed.
Any help for it? Yes!

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

These conquerors of Kidney Ills are making the rising generation healthy and strong.

Mrs. C. Grisman, 305 Adelaide St., London, Ont., says:

"My daughter, now 13 years old, has had weak kidneys since infancy, and her health as a consequence has always been poor. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills have removed every symptom of kidney trouble, and restored her to perfect health. I am truly thankful for the great benefit they have conferred upon her."

GLEANINGS.

The last issue of the London (England) Directory, it is said, weighs 11¼ pounds.

A bottle head whale 14 feet long was recently captured in the Trent river, England, 40 miles inland.

A society has been formed in Vienna for the purpose of testing inventions and providing means to those who have them not for applying them practically.

A San Francisco man who died not long ago with pleurisy was found to have had three-quarters of an inch of a needle in his heart, which had been there long enough to rust.

A circus elephant needing surgical treatment was recently chloroformed in Peru, Ind. The anæsthetic was given through the trunk by means of a trouser leg slipped around it and packed with cotton.

In Europe physicians no longer prescribe medicines for their patients in the form of pills. All medicines which are not liquid are compounded into tablets or cachets. Capsules are also out of date on the continent.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes, "Four bottles of Electric Bitters cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, sat rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates the liver, kidneys and bowells, expels poisons, helps digestion and builds up the system. Only 50 cents. Sold by James Lynch, Druggist. Guaranteed.

THE CATERPILLER PEST.

It Was Introduced on This Continent Less than Two Decades Ago.

The arrival on this continent of the species of caterpillar which has caused such destruction in this vicinity this spring is a matter of less than two decades.

The moth from which these caterpillars sprung was in 1880 brought to this continent by a French savant, residing at Medford, a suburb of Boston, his object being to cross it with the silk worm and so originate a robust silk-producing hybrid for America. The scheme failed, and the caterpillars liberated by a gale from their netted enclosure, spread slowly over the adjacent country. In nine or ten years they swarmed in irresistible herds, sweeping clean orchards, gardens, groves and street trees. When the impulse of transformation in July drives them to shelter they huddle under whatever affords security, and casting their hairy coats, they change into pupae or a chrysalis. In August they evolve into moths, which deposit myriads of eggs to hatch out in the following spring. These egg clutches are not unlike fish spawn coated with shellac, and in 1891 at Medford, "eight brimming cart loads were removed" by a small official force and destroyed, but the nuisance was not abated.

In 1892 the State of Massachusetts, abandoning reliance on individual effort, opened an official contest with the moth, and the State Board of Agriculture tried method after method for extermination. Arsenical spraying failed to take effect, and the only sure remedy for destruction was found in banding the tree trunks some feet from the ground with wide strips of coarse bagging, or "burlaps." The caterpillar is typically nocturnal and prefers at sunrise to crawl from his night forage in the foliage down the tree trunks to sheltered spots a few feet from the ground. A large force of men going back and forth among the trees, working along and twining back like a farmer ploughing his field, scrutinize these burlaps and destroy their contents. About the middle of July these pupae are hunted for and destroyed, and from September onward the egg bunches on the trees, boughs and twigs are searched for by an exactly ordered system till every square rod of territory within certain limits has been gone over. Where the eggs are not easily reached by hand they are smeared by means of long poles with a "creosotic compound," very destructive, whilst those that can be hand-picked are burned with petroleum.

The results so far in Massachusetts have more than justified the outlay. Backed by insufficient appropriations and a working force at no time adequate, the State Board of Agriculture has held down the pest, so that since the first outbreak it has never obtained sufficient headway there to seriously affect the region within which these operations kept it penned. Pictorial literature warning against the pest, is officially circulated throughout Massachusetts. "Never," we are authoritatively assured, "has extermination looked so sure as it looks to-day." The organized agricultural and horticultural interests of the State are awake to the danger, and non-official searching for eggs and pupae goes on continuously with organized effort.

AT NIAGARA CAMP.

Niagara, June 14, 1899.

The cavalry and infantry are both getting down to the higher class of movements. The cavalry drilled in brigade on Monday and to-day and the infantry to-day also. Saturday the cavalry formed a screen from from Niagara-on-the-Lake to St. Catharines to repulse a supposed enemy coming by way of the Welland canal. The G.G.B.G. and 2nd dragoons will advance and support the 3rd P.W.C.D., acted as a reserve at Virgil.

To-morrow there will be a field-day, both infantry and cavalry and a rendezvous at Queenston Heights. The G.O.C. General Hutton will be umpire in chief.

On Friday there will be a review of the division, both cavalry, infantry, and 2 gun detachments of R. C. artillery. The artillery arrived from Kingston yesterday morning to act as horse artillery, the gunners being mounted, instead of on the guns. The troops will be reviewed by His Excellency, Lord Minto, and a grand levee will be held in the evening at division headquarters, when all the officers of the division will be presented. The G.O.C. General Hutton complimented C squadron, Peterborough, on their fine horses, saying they were the finest in the brigade. Pte. R. Heffernan of C squadron, who was kicked the night the 3rd dragoons came in has been discharged from the hospital and on light duty.

A Good Act.

In order to encourage early closing during the hot summer months and to show their usual appreciation of the movement, messrs. henry & co., grocers and liquor merchants, will close their store at 7 o'clock every evening, commencing on Monday, June 19th, except Saturdays. The hearty co-operation of the customers of the firm is needed to help the clerks enjoy an extra hour's recreation in the cool of the evening. By a little thinking, orders can be sent in a little earlier in the day, and the firm will guarantee that the goods are delivered promptly.

HOME FROM CAMP.

The Third Dragoons Arrived in Town on Saturday Night.

The members of the local Squadron of the Third Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, arrived home on Saturday evening from their two weeks' camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

The men left camp at eight o'clock in the morning per Steamer Columbian, and arrived at Port Hope at two o'clock in the afternoon. A wait of three hours or more occurred at Port Hope before entraining for Peterborough. As "C" Squadron marched down from the Grand Trunk station to the drill shed in Ashburnham, they were curiously viewed by the citizens, and they certainly bore the marks of hard work in the blazing sun.

The Millbrook Squadron came by rail from Port Hope, instead of marching, as they did in going to camp.

The work of the Dragoons in camp was highly spoken of by Lord Minto and Major-General Hutton.

IN MEMORIAM.

A Memorial Service held in the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday.

At the men's meeting at the Y.M. C.A. yesterday afternoon reference was made to the life and work of the late W. F. Chapman, a former secretary of the Association, whose death occurred in Montreal on Monday last. A goodly number of young men were present, many of whom bore testimony to the helpfulness of the life which had just closed.

Mr. Williamson, general secretary, presided and conducted a song service, which consisted of hymns appropriate to the occasion, among others, "The Sands of time are sinking," "Who, who are these," "Shall we gather at the river," and "Nearer my home."

After reading the lesson for the afternoon which was II. Cor. 5th chapter, prayer was offered.

Mr. J. W. Bennett who was president of the Association during Mr. Chapman's term of office here, was the first speaker and gave a condensed account of his life, which for the most part had been devoted to Association work.

Mr. Chapman, Mr. Bennett continued, was a man of splendid intellect and possessed of information on a wide range of subjects, but greatest of all he was a man of remarkable spiritual qualities. He was generous and self-sacrificing. He was not worldly. He placed no value on money only as far as his actual personal needs demanded. He desired no more. He was a humble man. Of the scores who had been helped by him he spoke of none. His deeds spoke louder than his words.

He was consecrated to his work and in the face of great physical suffering at times most intense, he was most patient and perserverying. He was in a word a Christian gentleman.

Sheriff Hall spoke briefly along similar lines, emphasizing what Mr. Bennett had pointed out. His remarks were summed up in one reference, "a man in Christ."

Mr. Chapman was a manly man, he was also a brotherly man and he was a Christ like man.

In closing the meeting the secretary in announcing the closing hymn, "Must I go empty handed," said such did not refer to the late W. F. Chapman as the latter he believed was used in the conversion of hundreds. He taught all the example of a life of personal effort.

CHURCH CHIMES.

At the Murray street Baptist church yesterday Mrs. Dr. Scott sang with good effect, "Abide with me." In the evening the anthem was, "Pray for the Preaching of Jerusalem."

The anthem by the choir at Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday morning was, "I will praise Him," the obligato solo being taken by Mr. A. L. Davis and the duet very pleasingly taken by Miss F. Hall and Mr. W. Squires. In the evening the anthem was "The Lord is my light," by Bentow, the baritone solo being taken in fine form by A. L. Davis. The offertory hymn was "Lord Remember Me."

The morning anthem at the George street Methodist church, "Praise to Thee"—Simper, was nicely rendered.

Miss Wightman sang in St. Paul's church at the morning service. Her selection was "Oh, rest in the Lord," from Elijah and was excellently rendered.

The evening anthem at St. Paul's was Gounod's "Glory to Thee my God this night."

The Anglican Synod opens to-morrow in Toronto. The representatives from the parish of Peterborough are Messrs. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., Barton Earle and H. Rush.

Rev. J. C. Davidson is tendering a reception to the confirmation candidates at the rectory at 8 p.m. All are invited who were confirmed at St. John's or All Saints churches.

At the evening service in St. John's Mr. H. Morphet sang very beautifully the solo, "Two Cities."

"C" squadron of the Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons will attend divine service at St. Luke's church next Sunday evening. Rev. H. Symonds, Chaplain of the regiment will preach.

St. Luke's Y.W.C. will give a garden party on Mr. Strickland's grounds on Tuesday, June 27th. The 57th Batt. band will attend and supply music. Admission 10c, refreshments on the grounds.

In making announcement last night in St. John's of the concert by the 57th Batt. band and fete in the beautiful grounds of St. John's on Thursday evening. Rev. Mr. Davidson spoke of the pleasure it gave the congregation to co-operate with this excellent and progressive organization, the band, which has recently made very gratifying progress. At the same time he referred to the social character of the entertainment which should be its chief feature. If the mere making of money for even church purposes, were the sole object, he felt that religion would thereby be degraded.

T. C. S. Old Boys.

The Peterborough old boys of Trinity College school, Port Hope, will meet in the Oriental to-night at 8 o'clock, when several important matters will be discussed. As there are quite a few old boys of the T.C.S., in Peterborough, there should be a big turn out.

A BRILLIANT SCHEME.

Gen. Joubert, Boer Commander-in-Chief, and His 20,000 Men

WOULD OVERRUN CAPE COLONY.

In Two Weeks After a Declaration of War With Great Britain the Transvaal Authorities Would Be Able to Dictate Terms of Peace—Again, a Brilliant Scheme!

London, June 20.—The St. James Gazette yesterday afternoon claimed to have received from an absolutely reliable source at Pretoria, capital of the Transvaal, the plan of campaign which will be followed by General Joubert, commander-in-chief of the Boers, in the event of war between the Transvaal and Great Britain. General Joubert's force, it appears, will consist of 20,000 men armed with Mauser rifles, in addition to 46 quick-firing guns and 1,000 artillerymen, most of them drawn from the German and Dutch armies.

With these troops and help expected from the Orange Free State, Joubert expects to take the offensive immediately after the declaration of war, enter the Orange Free State and march on Kimberley, the British diamond mining centre in West Griqualand, which forms four of the 70 divisions of Cape Colony. Kimberley is about 160 miles northwest of Bloemfontein. In his march on Kimberley Joubert will use the railroad as far as available, expects to capture the town with slight loss and blow up the De Beers diamond mine.

Simultaneously, it is added, the railroad from Cape Town to Buluwayo will be destroyed by Boer sympathisers and agents in Cape Colony, who will also destroy the Port Elizabeth-Pretoria line, south of Bloemfontein, to prevent British troops from using it.

Finally, immediately after Kimberley is captured, General Joubert will advance on Cape Town, the capital of Cape Colony, through the western provinces, where the Dutch predominate and are expected to join the Boers. Joubert calculates he will be master of Cape Town a fortnight after the declaration of war and that he will then be able to dictate terms of peace.

Warlike Preparations.

London, June 20.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "The Government has forwarded a battery of heavy guns to Kimberley for the defence of the diamond fields. There is great activity in the Cape Imperial command, and munitions of war are being sent northward in large quantities."

KAISER HOLDS THE REINS.

Peace Conference Delegates Marking Time Until His Will Is Known.

The Hague, June 20.—Dr. Zorn, the member of the German delegation to the international peace conference, who was despatched Friday by Count von Munster, the chief German delegate, after a conference with his colleagues, to inform Emperor William personally of the condition of affairs in regard to the board of arbitration question, returned to Scheveningen yesterday from Berlin. It is said, however, that owing to the absence of the Emperor, Dr. Zorn was only able to consult with the officials of the German Foreign Office. Dr. Zorn is discretely reticent regarding his mission, but it is understood he obtained the impression at Berlin that all hope need not be abandoned of effecting an understanding regarding the organization of an arbitration board by amalgamating the various schemes. It is understood that Emperor William will reach a decision this week. Matters, therefore, remain unchanged, and the drafting committee will not meet until the Kaiser's decision is known.

The general desire of the conference favors an established arbitration tribunal, recourse to which shall be optional. It is believed that if Germany declines to participate, the other powers will still achieve some such result before separating. They may decide upon a draft scheme, pending Germany's decision.

GOT THE WRONG NEGRO.

Bloodhounds Ran Down a Man, But He Was Proved Innocent.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 20.—As a result of an assault by a negro yesterday at Soddy, Tenn., a mining town in the upper end of this county, Miss Mirtis Bell, 18 years old, daughter of J. A. Bell, superintendent of the Soddy mines, is in a critical condition.

News of the crime spread rapidly and hundreds of citizens scoured the woods and surrounding country. Yesterday bloodhounds were placed on the trail. The dogs captured a negro in the afternoon on Walden's Ridge. He denied the charge and was taken by the mob to the home of Miss Bell. The trembling negro was dragged into the presence of the girl with a rope around his neck. She was lifted on the pillow and said: "He is not the man."

The negro was released. The search continues.

YANKS HARD PRESSED

U.S. Reconnoissance Roughly Handled Near Manila.

GENERAL WHEATON IN DANGER.

A Battalion of Apparently Friendly Filipinos Attack the 4th Infantry Returning From Imus—Five Killed and 25 Wounded—Rebel Loss Heavy—American Volunteers Are Tired of the War.

Manila, June 20.—A battalion of the 4th Infantry, which left Imus, where General Wheaton is in command, yesterday morning to reconnoitre toward Peres das Marinas, where it was believed most of the rebels who escaped from Paranaque and Bacoor had fled, was attacked by apparently friendly natives in the rear, which brought on a sharp engagement, lasting several hours. It resulted in five Americans being killed and about 25 being wounded. The loss of the rebels was very heavy.

The battalion soon exhausted its ammunition and at 2.30 in the afternoon General Wheaton and his staff, with the 2nd Battalion, two mountain guns and one field piece, went to reinforce the troops attacked. General Wheaton was fired on in a road and had a narrow escape. Later the 3rd Battalion was ordered to the front and formed on the Das Marinas road. Heavy firing on both sides followed, the artillery being freely used. The enemy was located in the woods at 4 o'clock, showing signs of retiring, as the rebels were being pressed very hard. One gun of the 5th Artillery, in an advantageous position, did great execution.

The fighting was still in progress at 5 o'clock, at which time the Americans had secured a quantity of Filipino arms, which had been abandoned in the woods. The scene of the fight is over 20 miles from Manila.

They Want to Quit.

Washington, June 20.—The following cablegram has been received by the Adjutant-General from General Otis at Manila: "All volunteer organizations here desire to muster out San Francisco."

Reinforcements Arrive.

Manila, June 20.—The United States transport Sherman, which sailed from San Francisco May 24, with 1,200 men and 75 officers, under command of Brigadier-General Fred. D. Grant, has arrived here after a smooth voyage. One private died after the transport's arrival.

BACK AT WORK.

The Grand Trunk Trackmen's Strike Is Now a Matter of Domestic History.

Toronto, June 20.—The G.T.R. strikers in Toronto yesterday morning received an answer to their telegram of Sunday night asking for further news to confirm the report of the settlement. The following is the message which arrived at 10 o'clock:

"Clawbar. Settlement all right and agreement signed by Hays on Saturday.
"(Signed) W. Pole."

In accordance with the previous telegrams telling the strikers to return to work, several of the local members started at noon. It is expected that more will commence this morning. Out of the 80 trackmen in Toronto not more than 20 will return. The remainder have all got better jobs, and have no intention, so they say, of going back. Sectionmen who were in the city yesterday from Scarboro, East York and Wesson, all say that the strikers in their districts have commenced work again.

Hamilton Trackmen at Work.

Hamilton, June 20.—The G.T.R. trackmen here returned to work yesterday, but it is reported that only two out of seven gangs south of here on the northern division of the road are at work.

HESPELER WEAVERS ON STRIKE.

Nearly 200 Workers Quit Because of an Alleged Injustice.

Hespeler, Ont., June 20.—At 1 o'clock yesterday noon the entire staff of weavers employed in the A. W. Brodie mills here, numbering nearly 200, went on strike. The trouble arose over fines inflicted for darning their cloth, which work was performed by a staff of girls who were paid ten cents an hour for doing the work, which amount was deducted from the weavers' wages, and which in some instances amounted to quite a large sum. The weavers claim that this is a hardship at the present scale of wages paid. They are willing to bear half the cost of darning, but think Mr. Brodie should pay the other half. It is their intention to appoint a committee to wait on the mill management to-day to see if better terms or a fairer tariff cannot be arranged. The strike is creating a considerable amount of excitement in town.

Cleveland Tracks Greased.

Cleveland, Ohio., June 20.—The Street Railway Company and their striking employes held no conference yesterday. Early in the morning men and women set to work greasing the tracks at the corner of Pearl street and Clarke avenue, and at the corner of Scranton avenue and Clarke avenue, and also at the corner of Jenning avenue and Clark avenue. The tracks were so well greased with soap, oil and other substances that the operation of cars was effectually prevented. The company yesterday opened two new lines, Central and Scoville avenues running cars at six-minute intervals. There has been rioting.

Labor Situation at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 20.—The committee appointed by the striking freight handlers to wait upon the different railroad companies and demand 15c an hour for regular work and 20c for overtime, called upon the different superintendents yesterday afternoon and in every case were met by an absolute refusal to grant the increase. The committee reported to a turbulent meeting of the strikers held in Fillmore Hall last night. On a vote being taken there was a big majority in favor of continuing the strike, and it will go on.

CRAWFISH PROGRESS.

Our American cousins do not appear to making a much greater success of the expansionist, imperialistic "horizon-busting" policy in Cuba and the far east Philippines than they are making of home government, judging by results in both cases. In Cuba the news received indicates that there is a practical condition of anarchy existing. This will not be improved if the American troops are withdrawn and sent to the Philippines, where they are badly needed, and where it looks as if Uncle Samuel had "bit off mor'n he could chaw." A "vigorous" campaign has been waged there for months. Time after time the insurgents, according to the carefully censored despatches sent out, have been crushed; yet it turns out that the Americans occupy less ground now than they did four weeks ago. And all this crawfish progress in subduing the Philippines has cost about one hundred and fifty millions of dollars, not to speak of the twenty millions paid Spain for the Islands. So much for the success of the "foreign" policy of the United States. The recent outrages in Georgia, where negroes were horribly mutilated and roasted alive; the recent hanging by a mob of a sick negro for a crime of which he had been acquitted by a jury, and the reign of terror in Kentucky, where a feud exists, and is being fought out between two "first" families, show that a century or more of popular government has not sufficed to civilise the people of the United States, even skin deep. The following despatch, describing the condition of affairs in this portion of Kentucky, would not discredit the Fiji Islands, before they were uncannibalised:

"The Bakers are in possession of the country and the Howards and the Whites hold the town. Every man carries two Colt's pistols and a Winchester rifle. The Howards and the Whites are using smokeless powder, and it developes that the assassin of Tom Baker used smokeless powder. There is no travelling to the north of Manchester, where the Bakers are the thickest."

Of course the United States is a big country, with a heterogenous population, but it is not in the newer states, but in the oldest settled states that barbarism still holds possession most tenaciously. One would not be surprised so much if the home government would try to make the United States a safe country to live in before attempting to extend the graces of civilization to people who, at their worst, have seldom been guilty of worst forms of barbarity than have recently disgraced certain portions of the United States, within the the sound of the church-going bell. An individual with a swelled head achieves easy success in making himself ridiculous, and national swelled head is equally successful in accomplishing absurdities.

This season's output of gold in the Klondyke is estimated at twenty millions of dollars. That is equivalent to four dollars a head for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. Marvellous when we think that this "mass of money" was scraped from a bottom of what a generation ago was regarded as an inaccessible iceberg.

It is scarcely, says the London News (Independent), fair political fighting—or it would not be considered fair in anything but politics—to try to discredit the Finance Minister because he opposed Confederation. Men often oppose things that they honestly accept and make the most of when they become accomplished facts. There are not many men who do not change their views on something or another in the course of a generation.

INDUSTRIAL TYRANNY.

The Trail of the Trust -The Creation of High Tariff Customs.

(Montreal Witness).

An incident strongly illustrative of the change in business methods caused by the establishment of trusts in the United States and the effect thereof on Canada occurred in this city within the present week. A representative of the amalgamated wire trust being in town, the members of the Hardware Merchants' Association held a conference with him as to terms and prices for supplying the trade here. He gave them to understand without circumlocution that prices were fixed, without possibility of abatement, according to the company's schedule for cash at thirty days. That was all he had to say, and the hardware men have no recourse but to comply. Nor indeed have they any interest in objecting as it is the consumer, and not they, who pays the price thus arbitrarily imposed by foreigh monopoly. It is worth noting that this company is capitalized at ninety million dollars and owns not only all the wire manufacturing plant in the United States, but also owns iron mines, makes the pig iron and converts it into steel billets. In fact, it controls the whole business from the ground up all over the continent, for Canada has no concern that can compete with it, and no hope of establishing one. Like conditions prevail in other lines of manufacture controlled by trusts, but this is the first instance where the foot of a United States monopoly has come down flat on the Canadian consumer. This means that the farmers of this Dominion and all those companies which use wire extensively will have to pay prices regulated solely by monopolistic greed of dividends. But the farmers will be the greater sufferers, as the companies, telegraph, street railway, telephone and the like, can recoup themselves out of charges levied on the public, while the prices farmers get for their produce are fixed in markets open to the competition of the world.

A MID-ONTARIO CATTLE MARKET.

SOME OF THE LARGEST STOCK RAISERS OF THE SECTION.

John Brackenridge of Hastings, between Norwood and Hastings, is perhaps the biggest hog feeder in Ontario. He turned off between ten and twelve hundred last year and will turn off at least an equal number this year. Mr. Brackenridge is a breeder as well as a feeder. He keeps purebred Tam, York and Berk hogs, and brood sows from the country for six to eight miles around are taken to his stables for service. Mr. Brackenridge buys most of the product of the sows so served.

"There is money in blood," he said. "For the get of our own boars we pay 25c to 50c per cwt. more than for inferior stock. All three of these breeds [illegible] when the Bacon, as in the case of our animals, has the proper length. The Duroc Jersey is no good; the Chester Whites—we have Chester Whites of a pretty good length in this section—are fairly good; but the Suffolks are wholly useless. No matter how light these may be, they are always too fat for market."

Speaking about prices and production, Mr. Brackenridge said: "A man is not justified in raising hogs when he sells under four cents; but he is alright, even at the present high price of coarse grain, if he can get that figure."

Knows When to Sell.

Mr. Brackenridge is a careful student of the market. He got a lot of his stock off when prices were at the top notch last year, and he has a lot now which promise to be ready about the time high water mark is reached again this season.

Mr. Brackenridge, like Mr. Convey, has got feeding down fine. His hogs have the run of the pasture field. In one corner of that field he has a movable tank and storage room for grain. In the tank he empties the whey, purchased from a neighbouring cheese factory, as it is brought home, and in the feed room he keeps his coarse grains. Chop is mixed with whey in the tank, and the mixture is conveyed by pipes to two great troughs, each 30 feet long, when the pigs assemble for their feed. Half a ton of chop a day and 60,000 pounds of whey a week in the amount of this sort of feed being used now. In addition dry whole corn is scattered over the feed lot and the hogs are left to scratch for it like laying hens. After the season is over, the pasture will be ploughed up and as the result of the rooting by and droppings from the hogs, will be in splendid condition for next year's crop.

Mr. Brackenridge has sold only 100 bushels of coarse grain in seventeen years. His purchases of coarse grains are now averaging about 4,000 bushels per year. As a result of all this the yield of his farm per acre is well on to double the average of the section.

Neither Mr. Brackenridge nor Mr. Convey speak of going out of hogs themselves. They know too well how to make money, even at the present low range of prices. The former says, however, that there has been a reduction in the number of sows sent to hog by his neighbours during the last eight months. Others in Peterborough also speak of the reduction in breeding.

In a Peculiar Position.

Peterborough seems to occupy a somewhat peculiar position in regard to dairying and stock raising. It is one of the group of big dairying counties of eastern Ontario—a group of which Hastings and Leeds and Grenville are the centre. Dairying there has been, and is still, mainly along the line of cheese production, and so far very little is heard of any proposal looking towards a change in the direction of butter. This is perhaps accounted for by the fact that while there are a few big feeders like the Kennedys and Conveys, most of the cattle intended for beef purposes appear to be sold as stockers.

As J. J. Herron of South Monaghan, puts it, "Buyers are offering such prices for young cattle—$15 for a beast running 500 pounds—that people can hardly keep anything in this shape on the farm."

So long as such prices can be had for yearlings, many people Peterborough way will probably be satisfied to let others furnish the finished product in beef, while they confine their finished product to cheese.

Beef Considerations Coming In.

Still the improvement in the demand for beef cattle, which in York, Simcoe and Ontario Counties is causing a change from cheese to butter is making itself felt even in Peterborough and the northern part of Northumberland, but the change is taking a somewhat different turn there from that which is noticed in counties further east.

"Our people are," said Frank Bonnycastle of Campbellford, "not only trying to have their calves well advanced before the chese season commences, but they are changing their style of breeding. Heretofore Ayrshires have formed the foundation of most of the dairy herds in this part of Ontario. There is now a great demand for Shorthorn bulls for the purpose of crossing on Ayrshire cows. Our people are beginning to develop something like Prof. Shaw's double-purpose cow—a cow that will give a big flow of milk and still produce a good beef steer. They find the Shorthorn-Ayrshire cross the nearest approach to this double purpose animal they can get."

J. J. Herron of South Monaghan, adds to this that people in his section are quitting Jerseys and breeding their Ayrshires up with Shorthorn crossing.

"They find," he says, "that the Durham is the best general purpose cow the farmer can get."

"Few about Westwood are for Holsteins," said John Lancaster. "The Durham-Ayrshire cross is coming in. From this you get quantity and quality in the cheese as well as the big beefing steers.

M. S. Osborne of Hastings, says he can send his milk to the cheese factory, and still produce good steer calves. He has his calves come early, before the cheese season opens, and even when the cheese season does open he keeps a little milk at home, to which is added some chop for cold feed.

KIPLING AND MELVILLE.

What the Great Author Wrote to the Great Ring-master.

During the recent illness of Rudyard Kipling in New York, telegram upon telegram and letter upon letter, were received by him until they numbered into the thousands. Though they varied in grammatical construction the sentiment was similar. They breathed affection, sympathy and hope. To answer individually all of these communications was a herculean task that Mr. Kipling was advised not to attempt. He contented himself with the publication in one of the New York papers of a general letter.

Perhaps the only exception Kipling made was in the case of Mr. Frank J. Melville, the equestrian director of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers combined circuses. To Mr. Melville the author wrote an autograph letter which the circus man has filed away in the family archives to be cherished by Melville posterity. Kipling and Melville were unknown to one another except through the long-distance agency of fame. The circus man had read Kipling; in fact he ranked him just a few degrees below Browning, for be it known that Melville was Boston born and bred. Now Kipling is way above Browning and the rest and all because of "The White Man's Burden."

Melville is satisfied that he is the "white man" Kipling had in mind when he took his typewriter in hand and ground out the rythmic lines that have made nations talk. Consequently the feeling of the circus man for the author. It was quite natural perhaps for Melville to write Kipling during the latter's sickness. He hoped for the author's recovery and incidentally thanked him for taking up his (Melville's) cause and speaking so mightily with his pen. When Kipling became convalescent he indited the appended letter to Melville:

New York, Feb. 20, 1899.

My dear Mr. Melville,—"Accept my profound thanks for your warm words of condolence. Relative to the "White Man's Burden" I must confess it to be merely an imaginary flight. Though I sympathize fervently with you I cannot refrain from feeling elated to know that the 'shoe fits' in at least one instance. I trust that at some future time I may have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance.

Very sincerely,
RUDYARD KIPLING.

Melville opines that he is bearing the white man's burden in adjusting the numerous, vigourous and versatile kicks of the three arenic primma donnas with the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers combined circuses. It is all a case of wanting the centre of the stage, which in this instance means the centre ring. Miss May Davenport is the English star of the trio. She has ridden before "His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales," a fact on which she bases her right and title to the centre ring.

Miss Marietta Corriea speaks only French—which Mr. Melville does not understand—but he is convinced by her gesticulations that she thinks she has some claim on the favoured centre arena.

Miss Emma Stickney, just plain American, is the daughter of "Bob" Stickney. "My father was the champion rider of the world," she says, and therein lies the foundation for her demands. Mr. Melville's sympathies are, quite naturally, with Miss Stickney, but he is a firm believer in the maxim which relates to Sheol's fury and a woman scorned and he is not playing favourites. He has surmounted the difficulty by giving the center ring to each of the riders in rotation.

Miss Davenport will no doubt be the local favourite when the Forepaugh-Sells aggregation strikes the town on Saturday, June 24th.

The Souvenir Range

With Aerated Ovens.

In "Souvenir" Stoves and Ranges the Fresh air is taken over the oven doors (see cut) and passes through a circulating-flue underneath a plate which is attached to the top oven plate, thus becoming heated, after which it is discharged into the oven.

The heated fresh air then creates a literal whirlwind in rotating from the top to bottom of oven, carrying all the impure air out of the oven, at the exit provided, and replacing it continually with heated fresh air.

The air being heated before entering the oven, the temperature is not lowered. The vitiated air passes off into the flues' carrying with it all odors and gases given off by the cooking food.

We carry a large stock of "Souvenir" and "Happy Thought" Ranges—the best stoves in Canada.

NERVOUS... DEPRESSION

Means Impoverished and Exhausted Nerves—Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food Restores and Revitalizes the Nerve Cells.

People who suffer from Nervous Depression and Exhaustion frequently look healthy and strong. They alone know the thousand distressing symptoms which make their lives miserable.

The lack of nerve force results in a slow and sluggish action of the heart, impaired digestion, headache, despondency, and a fear to venture, loss of energy, sleeplessness, incapacity for mental labor or business.

With these symptoms there is usually melancholy and fear of death, which tends to increase nervousness, but there is every reason to be hopeful if the right treatment is used. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food contains all the nutrition required to create new brain and nerve tissue. It imparts to the nervous system that life-giving principle which sends a thrill of new strength and vigor through the system.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will cure by the building-up process, which enables the body to laugh at disease and weakness. Free cut and fac-simile signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on every box of the genuine. 50c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

REPARATION.

A Strange Coincidence in the Life of a Fireman.

"Soon after I entered the fire department," remarked a hostler of the city fire department, "it was my hard luck in responding to an alarm to run over and terribly injure a small boy, who was playing in the street. It was an unavoidable accident, but just the same it had its effect upon me, and for a time it preyed heavily on my mind and probably would have done so until today had it not been for the sequel, which righted up matters somewhat.

"I kept myself pretty well informed as to the condition of the boy, and was extremely happy when I saw him on the streets again and to all appearances fully recovered from the injury which I had inflicted upon him. Well, time passed along, and, the boy's family having moved from the house where he resided and where we took him after the injury, for awhile I did not see him, though I occasionally heard from him.

"One rather rough night about a year afterward our company responded to an alarm in the northwestern part of the city. On arriving at the fire I was sent to one of the upper rooms of the burning building to rescue some children who were in the room and who were terribly frightened, as they had good reasons to be, for they were in considerable danger. There was a light burning in the room, and the moment I entered it I recognized the little fellow that I had driven over and injured. If there ever was a little fellow who was carefully wrapped up in bedclothes and with his little sister taken down stairs and to a place of safety, you can bet it was that boy and girl. The same look of fright was upon his face, which I had not forgotten, but I don't think my face looked as bad as when I had picked him up in my arms before. I was supremely happy in being able to return some good for the ill I had done him."

KNIFE DUELS IN SPAIN.

They Are Something Appalling in Their Barbarous Brutality.

The frequency of bloody knife duels in the cities of southern Spain is something appalling to foreigners. Among the lower classes every man carries a murderous knife, the blade of which is usually 12 or 14 inches long and of razorlike sharpness. It is called a faca. The entire man and boy population carry whistles, pito de carretilla. These whistles are used for the purpose of announcing that a street fight with knives is about to begin. Everybody within hearing when a whistle blows rushes to the scene and is sure to witness the serious maiming if not the killing of one or both combatants. Statistics indicate that for every 100,000 inhabitants there is an average of one death per day resulting from these knife duels.

I was about 9 years old when I first witnessed a pelea or faca fight. I had been to my father's place of business and was returning home when I heard the shrill notes of a pito de carretilla, then another and another. I saw men and boys running toward the intersection of two streets, and I was quickly among the eager and rapidly gathering throng. Although I had never witnessed a street duel, I was well aware of the meaning of the blasts upon the whistles and knew that two men were sure to engage in deadly combat. I was among the first to arrive upon the scene.

This is what I saw:

Two men of about equal age and physical proportions were engaged in tying their left legs together at the ankles with their handkerchiefs, and they tied them most effectively. Each was bareheaded. I can remember even now the deadly hatred with which each scowled at the other. Each took off his coat and placed it carefully upon his left arm. There was a moment's pause—it was the supreme moment—and then both men drew their murderous knives from their sheaths, and each began striking, plunging and slashing at his opponent, each parrying and guarding as much as possible with the arm protected somewhat by the coat which hung upon it.

As the men were tied together it was impossible for the fight to be long continued, and in a very few moments both combatants had fallen. It was found that one had received 17 wounds and the other 14, but both were living. So stretchers were brought from the Hospital Noble, which was near at hand, and the wounded men were carried there. The sequel of this pelea was unique in the particular that the combatants were placed upon cots which brought them near each other, and the result was that as soon as they revived sufficiently they renewed their fight, and both were killed.—Anglo-American Magazine.

A ST. THOMAS CASE.

The Entire Population Talking of the Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures.

St. Thomas, June 12.—The great wave has reached St. Thomas. The cures wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills are numbered by hundreds here, and the entire population, almost, is talking of them.

Michael Holleran, a farmer living near here, told our reporter, "Dodd's Kidney Pills saved me from an untimely grave." He was cured of Diabetes, of an aggravated type by a few boxes, after his doctors had failed to even relieve him.

So it goes. Everyone who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills has been cured. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Paralysis, all diseases of the kidneys and the blood yield to their power. They never fail to cure these ailments.

THE HEADACHE HABIT.

Some Excellent Advice About Periodic Headaches in Childhood.

The headache habit rarely becomes established before the age of seven years, and not often earlier than fourteen. Prior to the latter age headaches are usually of irregular occurrence, and directly traceable to fatigue, nervous excitement or overeating.

Periodic headaches, occurring at somewhat regular intervals of from two to six weeks, have characteristics of their own. The pain is located at a particular point, often just over one eye. At the beginning of the attack the child is frequently pale and the expression worried, while later the face is flushed. The eyes are extremely sensitive to light. Before and during the attacks the whole nature of the child is changed. He is dull, drowsy, listless or irritable. Vision is frequently double or otherwise disordered. Often after sleep the child will waken with all the symptoms gone. Days of wholesome, pleasurable excitement are marred by the occurrence of a prostrating attack of recurring headache.

The above description will create a mental picture of a disorder which has proved the bugbear of the whole childhood of many a reader.

The best treatment for the periodic headaches of childhood is preventive. It is noticed that in nearly every case one parent or the other has suffered in like manner. This fact should put parents on their guard when a child has headache from slight provocation. The younger the child is when such headaches begin, the more painstaking and persistent should be the care taken to prevent the establishment of a headache habit.

Care in the quality and quantity of food is of vital importance; in every case. The child needs plenty of wholesome food, and is often benefited by some light nourishment between meals. He will then be less apt to overload the stomach, or to eat too quickly at meal hours. The supper should always be a light meal. Butter and cream are articles of food at once nourishing and digestible, and a craving for them is not to be discouraged.

The hours of sleep should be long; ten hours are not too much for any child.

Periodic headaches are most common to children who are much with their elders, and with books, and who are led to grasp at mental problems suitable only for older persons. At the beginning of school life the child is placed under an unusual strain, mental and physical. To offset this he should be encouraged to take part in outdoor sports and games. If a tendency to headache is developed, he should be directed to outdoor life and play and away from too much reading and school work.

It is presumed that every modern schoolhouse is thoroughly ventilated. It is to the credit of nearly all teachers that they are alive to the importance of fresh air.

THE FASHION PLATE.

Canotier is a weave of French dress goods much used for bathing and yachting costumes.

On all fashionable gowns for the summer yoke and guimpe effects are constantly increasing.

Very tempting are the sets of collars, cuffs and blouse fronts, formed of the finest hand embroidered bishop's lawn, linen batiste or French muslin.

Some of the gray tints among taffetas, china and faille silks and in crepe de chine veiling, henrietta cloth, drap d'ete, barege and vicuna are exceptionally beautiful.

In choosing a transparent black dress for best wear for the summer black net and black lace are equally fashionable, but unless one can afford very handsome laces net is the better choice.

Dull finished crepe de chine, lusterless bernani, india crape cloth, henrietta cloth, drap royal, nun's veiling and carmelite are the fabrics most fashionably used this season in preparing mourning outfits.

Insertion trimmed French organdie is greatly favored. It is much less wiry than formerly, but has more dressing than india silk mull, and for this reason it is preferred where flaring flounces and ruffles are to form a portion of the trimming.

Among the new fitted blouses for evening wear is a model formed of white mousseline brilliante over primrose yellow silk. A shaped reverse of shirred mousseline adorns one side of the front, and three lovers' knots in wide black velvet are arranged at intervals on the other.

Long drooping ostrich plumes in black, in white or in a handsome mixture of black and white are an important feature of the latest high class millinery. From 5 to 12 of these beautiful plumes are arranged around the crowns and brims of large summer picture hats of milan, leghorn, satin braid or chip.—New York Post.

The Ways of Nature.

A story is told of an attempt to introduce the mongoose into Jamaica to kill the rats which ate the cane plantations. After having performed this duty it multiplied very rapidly and proceeded to kill all the snakes and lizards as well. It next attacked the birds (learning to climb trees in the process) until the poultry and wild birds disappeared. Then arose the "ticks," or "chigoes," which the birds used to keep down, and the island groaned under a fresh plague. The ticks, however, finally attacked the mongoose, which began to decline; the birds began to reappear and attacked the ticks; snakes and lizards were seen once more, and in the end the cane plantations were devastated as much as ever by rats.—San Francisco Argonaut.

How to Get Plump and Rosy.

Nature meant every woman to be plump, rosy and well developed, and if she has become pale, weak and nervous. Dr. A. W. Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes, "Four bottles of Electric Bitters cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates the liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion and builds up the system. Only 50 cents. Sold by James Lynch, Druggist. Guaranteed.

A NEW INVENTION!

The Newcombe Piano Has It.

It consists of a Patented Practice CLAVIER or STOP which diminishes the tone when required and saves wear on the Piano; it also does away with the old way of having to press down the pedal with the foot in order to soften the tone when running the scales or practicing. Oftentimes the young pupil on the piano cannot press down on the pedal without throwing themselves out of the proper position when they should sit erect. This invention in the NEWCOMBE PIANO will enable children to begin two years earlier on the piano. In addition to the above, the NEWCOMBE PIANO is the finest made in Canada. Children often complain about practicing; they like it if they have a NEWCOMBE PIANO. 1898 styles are gems of art, containing every late improvement; they possess that beautiful full sweet tone which lights the singer, and so pleases every musical ear. Organs of every description at Wholesale Prices.

STRIKERS BACK AT WORK.

The Local Trackmen Are Again at Their Duty.

The local strikers having received word to the effect that satisfactory arrangements had been reached between their representatives and the Grand Trunk authorities, went to work, this morning, their switch keys and implements being returned to them. The whole system is therefore once more under the careful surveillance of the trackmen.

SIXTY-TWO YEARS A QUEEN.

Victoria Acceded to the Throne June 20th, 1837.

To-day is the sixty-second anniversary of the Queen's accession to the throne—a longer actual reign than that of any sovereign of ancient or modern times. The occasion was recognized in town to-day by floating the flag from the staff over the Sons of England Hall.

THE ARBITRATION.

To Settle the Amount of Ground Rent Which is to be Paid for the Market Square Block.

The first meeting of the arbitrators to decide as to the value of the land in the market square block owned by the town and occupied by the stores on George, Charlotte and Simcoe streets, was held yesterday afternoon.

The lease of the land held by the owners of the stores is about to expire and the arbitrators will settle the amount of the ground rent to be paid for the next twenty years.

Mr. William Langford is the town arbitrator, Mr. Thomas Cahill acts for the property owners, and these two have chosen Mr. E. H. D. Hall as the third arbitrator.

The town solicitor, Mr. E. B. Edwards, is acting for the town, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for the tenants.

Only the preliminaries were arranged yesterday, when it was decided that the evidence offered by the town, as to the value of the land, be brought on first.

The arbitrators have adjourned until Monday afternoon.

THE JUNE SESSION OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL

MR. WARDEN HAWTHORNE'S OPENING ADDRESS.

Referred to the Committee of the Whole Council—A Visit to the Chemong Bridge to Arrange For its Rebuilding on Thursday.

The county council met in June session to-day at 2 o'clock. There were present, the Warden, Mr. E. Hawthorne presiding and Messrs. Forster, Fitzgerald, Shaw, Eastland, Anderson, Peck and Pearce.

The Warden's Address.

After routine, the Warden delivered the following address:

To the Members of the County Council:

Gentlemen—It gives me much pleasure to again greet you on your assembling together for the transacting of business affecting the county.

The promising state of the growing crops and the prosperity of the rural population evinced by building operations throughout the country is a matter for congratulation and a good indication of better times.

It is a source of great satisfaction that notwithstanding the almost unprecedented state of high water that all our bridges have escaped serious injury, and we may feel assured that if the present levels are maintained we need have no apprehension as to high water in the future.

My attention has been called by Mr. Pearce to the state of Taylor's Mill and Crow river bridges in Belmont re flooring, who will report to you as to their present requirements. The matter of bridge flooring I think should receive more attention from this Council, for instance the Burleigh bridge, erected only about ten years, will have to be re-floored during the coming season. If it had been originally floored with cedar I venture to say it would have lasted twice as long. Whilst it may be advisable to floor bridges with pine where traffic is heavy, country bridges should be floored with cedar, because the flooring rots out before it is worn out.

The thanks of this Council are due our representatives in parliament, Messrs. Lang and Kendry in securing a grant of ten thousand dollars towards the rebuilding of the Chemong Lake bridge. The grant is of such a substantial amount that immediate action can be now taken without burdening the county to the extent anticipated.

My attention has been called by Mr. Shaw to the approaches on the Harvey side of the Gannon's Narrows' ferry. The high water has washed out a portion of the approach, and it is at present dangerous for public travel. The question as to whether the county or the municipality of Harvey is liable for maintenance should be decided at once so that immediate action may be taken.

A resolution of the Council of the United counties of Northumberland and Durham in reference to the maintenance and care of the Bensfort bridge, and also in reference to a grant for repairs of a road between Cavan and North Monaghan will be submitted to you. General satisfaction is expressed as to the action of this council when in special session we assumed our share of the maintenance of this bridge.

The committee who have had in charge the consolidation of the By-Laws have completed their labours and will report to you at this session of the Council and submit for your approval some slight changes to by-laws. This has involved on our esteemed clerk, Mr. Pearce, a large amount of additional labour and deserves recognition.

I have been notified by Mr. P. W. Reynolds, treasurer of the Norwood Board of Education that there was a serious mistake made in the statement of the amount claimed by the Board from the County for the County's share of the cost of the maintenance for 1898. Mr. Reynolds claims that there is still due to the Board $223.24, the particulars of which claim will be submitted to you.

I have received a petition from residents of the Township of Cavendish praying that a new school section be established in Cavendish.

This Council I think should have a new arbitration to adjust the amount payable by town to the county towards maintenance of court house, jail and registry office.

The Auditors' report and the estimates for the year will be laid before you, and I feel assured that they will receive as careful consideration from you as their importance demands.

On motion of Messrs. Pearce and Peck, the Warden's address was referred to the committee.

A motion by Messrs. Fitzgerald and Forster, was agreed to that the council in a body visit the site of the Chemong Lake bridge to inspect the situation and decide upon steps to be taken for the erection of a new bridge.

Mr. Anderson suggested that the town council and the council of Enniskmore, from whom some assistance was to be expected should be invited to join the county council in the visit also the local representatives, Messrs. Stratton and Blezard, who also might be expected to assist in getting a grant from the Provincial Government. The date of the visit was fixed for Thursday morning, and it was also understood that the town council and the council of Enniskmore be invited.

46TH GO TO CAMP.

Capt. Johnston's Company Left This Morning for Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Capt. Johnston's company of the 46th Durham Battalion, left for Port Hope, per special G.T.R. train this morning at 7 o'clock. Capt. Johnston has as usual a full company and judging from the appearance of the men as they marched to the station, they will succeed in maintaining their reputation as banner company of the gallant 46th. The boys will take the boat at Port Hope for Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Three members of the company not being aware of the train's early departure arrived at the station too late. They went on the noon train however.

Mr. F. W. Miller accompanied by twelve members of the Sons of England band, neatly attired in the uniform of the 49th Hastings Battalion, left on the morning train for Belleville where they will join their Battalion, and take the boat at that point for Niagara-on-the-Lake. The boys intend playing with the regimental band of Stirling.

A Good Act.
